

In one sense no reported case can ever be obsolete while the laws and judicial usages of English-speaking countries are what they are: that is, no man can say beforehand that any given case, however antiquated or trifling it may appear itself to be, may not at some time have its use to the modern practitioner or text-writer. Every citation in the books is part of the history of the law and no part of that history can be absolutely insignificant.—(Sir Frederick Pollock, Bart., LL.D., Corpus Professor of Jurisprudence in the University of Oxford.)

Accurate knowledge of the present state of the law upon any subject involves necessarily the history of the development of the law upon that subject, which can only be attained by following down the decisions touching upon it. — (Francis M. Scott, Justice, Supreme Court, New York.)

The law is the last interpretation of the law given by the last Judge.

The enunciation of the most elementary principle of law is frequently met by a demand for "an authority in support of that proposition . . . ." No time spent upon providing oneself with a precedent is ever wasted even though the book may have to be judiciously hidden from view until required —(The Hon'ble Sir Cecil Walsh, Kt., K.C., Ex-Offg., Chief Justice, Allahabad High Court.)

The last Judicial Interpretation of the law is the Law on which your case hangs.

To correctly appraise a Judicial decision, it is important to know later applications of its rules to varying states of facts by way of extension or qualification. — (S. Shepard, Chief Justice, Court of Appeal, Washington ( U. S. A.))

PREFACE

( Reprinted from First Volume )

We have great pleasure to place before the public the second edition of the A. I. R. Manual containing all the unrepealed Central Acts of India (of all-India importance), amended up-to-date, together with the case-law relating to each Act.

Since the last edition was published in 1946-1948, vast additions and changes have taken place in the statute law of this country.

Out of the 502 Central Acts included in the first edition, 145 Acts have been repealed, and 236 new Acts have been passed besides 331 repealing and amending Acts, 69 Acts of provincial application and 76 Appropriation Acts. Though the Acts of provincial application and the Appropriation Acts have not been included in this edition, all the amendments have been incorporated and all the 236 new Acts above mentioned have been included in this edition. In addition, there have been 16 Adaptation Orders passed in consequence of Independence and the new Constitution and the adaptations made by all these Adaptation Orders have had to be incorporated.

These figures are by themselves enough to show the importance of this edition to the legal profession as well as to the Courts in India.

The scheme of the publication is given at the beginning of this volume. It will be seen that the main features of the first edition have been retained in this edition. The Preface to the first edition (which is reprinted in volume I) may be read as part of this Preface, in this connection.

In conclusion we wish to place on record our sincere thanks to the following gentlemen for their assistance in bringing out this edition: Messrs. D. W. Chitaley, B.A., LL.B., W. W. Chitaley, B.A., LL.B., V. S. Balkundi, B.A., LL.B., R. G. Dhoble, B.A., LL.B., V. B. Bakhale, M.A., LL.B., D. H. Zadgaonkar, B.A., LL.B., K. S. Bakre, B.Sc., LL.B., D. R. Rajandekar, B.A., LL.B., V. #### STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The importation into one of the sea-ports of British India of a cargo of horses from Australia, which proved to be infected with the tick disease—a disease very fatal to cattle and capable of being conveyed by other animals, such as horses, themselves immune from it—led to an examination of the existing legal powers of the Government to prevent the importation of live-stock liable to be affected by infectious or contagious disorders. As these powers were found to be defective, it has been decided, in consultation with the Governments of Madras, Bombay and Bengal, to take the necessary powers. Instead of amending the Indian Ports Act (X of 1859), it is thought preferable to proceed by way of self-contained Act.

character, and empower the Governor-General in Council to regulate, restrict or prohibit the importation into British India by land or sea of any live stock which may be liable to be affected by infectious or contagious disorders. The Bill confers necessary powers on officers of Customs at every port, and enables Local Governments to make rules for detention, inspection, disinfection or destruction of such stock, and for the guidance of officers appointed under the rules.

It is not intended to interfere with the inland trade, except so far as to prevent the removal of live-stock, the importation of which has been prohibited, from one part of British India to another."

[THE] LIVE-STOCK IMPORTATION ACT, 1898
(ACT IX OF 1898)***

[12th August, 1898.]

An Act to make better provision for the regulation of the importation of live-stock.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for the regulation of the importation of live-stock which is liable to be affected by infectious or contagious disorders; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind. 1898, Pt. V, p. 282.

It has been declared to be in force in the Sonthal Parganas by the Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation (III of 1872), S. 3.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and merged states by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

It has also been extended to the States merged in the State of Punjab: See Punjab Act V of 1950, S. 3 [15-4-1950].

1. Short title and local extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE LIVE-STOCK IMPORTATION ACT, 1898.

[a] Substituted for the former sub-section, by the Live-Stock Importation (Amendment) Act, 1953 (XL of 1953), S. 2 [16-12-1953]. [b] The words "except the State of Jammu and Kashmir" were omitted by the Jammu and Kashmir (Extension of Laws) Act, 1956 (LXII of 1956), S. 2 and Sch. [1-11-1956]. [c] The word "and" and sub-sec. (3) were repealed by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1914 (X of 1914).

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) the expression "infectious or contagious disorders" includes tick-pest, anthrax, glanders, farcy, scabies and any other disease or disorder which may be specified by the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] by notification in the <sup>a</sup>[Official Gazette]; and

(b) "live-stock" includes horses, kine, camels, sheep and any other animal which may be specified by the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] by notification in the <sup>a</sup>[Official Gazette];

*[(c) "import" means the bringing or taking, by sea, land or air, into the territories to which this Act extends.]

[a] Inserted by Live-Stock Importation (Amendment) Act, 1953 (XL of 1953), S. 3 [16-12-1953].

3. Power to regulate importation of live-stock.

(2) A notification under sub-section (1) shall operate as if it had been issued under section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1875, and the officers of customs at every port shall have the same powers in respect of any live-stock or thing, with regard to the importation of which such a notification has been issued, and the vessel containing the same, as they have for the time being in respect of any article the importation of which is regulated, restricted or prohibited by the law relating to sea customs and the vessel containing the same; and the enactments for the time being in force relating to sea customs or any such article or vessel shall apply accordingly.

[a] The Central Government has prohibited the import into India of equine species of animals including horses, asses and mules of any breed, age or sex from Pakistan, Afghanistan or Goa, by land, air or sea : see S. O. 2776, D/- 9-12-1959 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1959, Pt. II-Sec. 3 (ii), p. 3458. [b] Substituted for "the bringing or taking, by sea or land," by the Live-Stock Importation (Amendment) Act, 1953 (XL of 1953), S. 4 [16-12-1953]. [c] Substituted for "the territories to which this Act extends," by the Jammu and Kashmir (Extension of Laws) Act, 1956 (LXI of 1956), S. 2 and Schedule [1-11-1956].

Note.—Next section empowers the State Government to make rules for detention, inspection, disinfection or destruction of imported live-stock and fodder affected by infectious or contagious disorders. That section also empowers the State Government to provide for punishment for the breach of any rule. The punishment may extend to a fine up to one thousand rupees.

4. Power for State Government to make rules.

(1) The <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may, <sup>A</sup>[" * * "] make rules<sup>b</sup> for the detention, inspection, disinfection or destruction of imported live-stock, and of fodder, dung, stable-litter, clothing, harness or fittings appertaining to imported live-stock or that may have been in contact therewith, and for regulating the powers and duties of the officers whom it may appoint in this behalf.

(2) In making any rule under this section the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may direct that a breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

[a] The words "subject to the control of the Governor-General in Council" were omitted by A. O. 1937. [b] For the Live-Stock (Import) Quarantine Rules, 1944, see (1) Bom. Govt. Gaz., 1944, Pt. IV-A, p. 27. (2) Pt. St. Geo. Gaz., D/- 18-7-1944, Pt. I (R. S.), p. 2. (3) Cal. Gaz., 22-9-1944, Notifn. No. 3711 Vety. (4) 1952 : Trav. Co. Gaz., 12-2-1952, Pt. I, p. 135.

5. Protection to persons acting under Act.

No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

SCHEDULE I.

SCHEDULE II.—[Repealed]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Certain practical difficulties have arisen in the working of the Local Authorities Loans Act, 1879 (XI of 1879), and it is proposed to amend that Act so as—

1. to remove all doubts as to the competency of Port officers to borrow under the Act.
2. to make it clear that in the case of loans raised under section 7 of the Act (i. e. loans raised in the open market) the Government of India can (a) by rule delegate the power of sanction to Local Governments; (b) direct that the unexpended balances of such loans shall be applied in the reduction of the debt of the local authority concerned, or utilised in carrying out works which the local authority is legally authorised to carry out; (c) by rule delegate to Local Governments, subject to such conditions as the Governor-General in Council may by rule impose the power referred to in the preceding clause.

At the same time it is considered desirable to take this opportunity of consolidating the existing Acts which relate to loans raised by Local Authorities. Those Acts are as follows :

- (1) The Local Authorities Loan Act of 1879 (XI of 1879) as amended by Act XV of 1885, Act I of 1905 and Act V of 1907. This is the general Act under which local authorities derive their ordinary borrowing powers;
- (2) Local Authorities (Emergency) Loans Act, 1897 (XII of 1897), as amended by Act XI of 1912. This Act extended the scope of the general Act by enabling local authorities to borrow money for certain temporary emergencies, such as famine relief and the prevention of epidemic diseases.
- (3) The Local Authorities Loan Act, 1904 (III of 1904), as amended by Act VIII of 1908, which empowered certain of the more important local authorities in India, (specified in the Schedule to the Act) to raise money by the issue of short-term bills repayable within twelve months. Opportunity was taken to embody in this Act a provision (section 3) enabling local authorities, under certain restrictions, to raise money in order to repay money previously borrowed.

These three Acts, together with their various amending Acts, have been consolidated in the draft Bill, and, if the latter becomes law, will disappear from the Statute-book. The amendments mentioned in paragraph one above have also been provided for in the following manner :—

*Amendment (1).—*This is covered by substitution of the words "any person" for the words "any body corporate, Municipal Committee, or other persons" in the present definition of local authority as given in section 3 of Act XI of 1870—see clause 2 of the Bill [now S. 2].

*Amendment 2 (a).—*This has been provided for by clause (4) (1) (vii) of the Bill.

*Amendments 2 (b) and (c).—*These have been provided for by clause 4 (1) (xv) of the Bill.

In addition to these amendments, opportunity has been taken to reconcile certain discrepancies and to effect certain simplifications in the existing law which are due to the fact that the Acts now in force have been passed at different times to deal with special circumstances. Apart from this the bill makes no change of principle in the existing law, and, in particular, does not affect the borrowing powers conferred on any local authority by any special enactment."

[THE] LOCAL AUTHORITIES LOANS ACT, 1914

(ACT IX OF 1914)*

[25th February, 1914.]

An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the grant of loans to Local Authorities.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the borrowing powers of local authorities; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1914, Pt. V, p. 5, and for Report of Select Committee, see ibid., p. 17.

This Act has been partially extended to Berar by Berar Laws Act, 1941 (IV of 1941).

It has been extended to the new Provinces and Merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

It has also been extended to States merged in the State of :

Bombay : see Bom. Act IV of 1950, S. 3 [30-3-1950].

Madhya Pradesh : see M. P. Act XII of 1950, S. 3 [3-4-1950].

Punjab : see Punj. Act V of 1950, S. 3 [15-4-1950].

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE LOCAL AUTHORITIES LOANS ACT, 1914.

*(2) It extends to the whole of India except *[the territories which, immediately before the 1st November, 1956, were comprised in Part B States.]*

[a] Substituted for sub-section (2), by A. L. O., 1950. [b] Substituted for "Part B States," by 2 A. L. O., 1956. Immediately before the 1st November, 1956, the following were the Part B States in India: Hyderabad, Jammu and Kashmir, Madhya Bharat, Mysore, Pepsu, Rajasthan, Saurashtra and Travancore-Cochin

2. Definitions.

In this Act, "local authority" means any person legally entitled to the control or management of any local or municipal fund, or legally entitled to impose any cess, rate, duty or tax within any local area;

"funds", used with reference to any local authority, includes any local or municipal fund to the control or management of which such authority is legally entitled, and any cess, rate, duty or tax which such authority is legally entitled to impose, and any property vested in such authority;

"prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act; and

"work" includes a survey, whether incidental to any other work or not.

*["The Government" or "the appropriate Government" means, in relation to cantonment authorities and in relation to port authorities in major ports, the Central Government, and in relation to other local authorities, the State Government.]

[a] Inserted by A. O., 1937.

3. Borrowing powers of local authorities.

(1) A local authority may, subject to the prescribed conditions, borrow on the security of its funds or any portion thereof for any of the following purposes, namely:—

- (i) the carrying out of any works which it is legally authorized to carry out,
- (ii) the giving of relief and the establishment and maintenance of relief works in times of famine or scarcity,
- (iii) the prevention of the outbreak or spread of any dangerous epidemic disease,
- (iv) any measures which may be connected with or ancillary to any purposes specified in clauses (ii) and (iii),
- (v) the repayment of money previously borrowed in accordance with law:

Provided that nothing in clause (v) shall be deemed to empower a local authority to fix a period for the repayment of any money borrowed thereunder which, when the period fixed for the repayment of the money previously borrowed is taken into account, will exceed the maximum period fixed for the repayment of a loan by or under any enactment for the time being in force:

*[Provided further that, in the case of loans other than loans made by the *[appropriate Government], no amount exceeding twenty-five lakhs of rupees shall be borrowed unless the terms, including the date of flotation, of such loan have been approved by the *[appropriate Government].]

Section 3 — Note 1

[1] Where a Panchayat Board has borrowed money from the plaintiff for any of the purposes enumerated in S. 3, Local Authorities Loans Act, without the previous sanction of the Local Government as required by the rules framed under the Act, the contract is void but the plaintiff is under S. 65, Contract Act, entitled to restoration of his money and can be permitted to amend his plaint so as to claim relief under S. 65. Where, however, the purpose for which the loan was borrowed without the previous sanction of the Local Government does not fall under S. 3 the plaintiff is entitled to no equitable relief under S. 65. 1942 Mad 111 (112, 113) [AIR V 29].

- (2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorize any local authority—
- (a) to borrow or spend money for any purpose for which, under the law for the time being in force, it is not authorized to apply its funds, or
- (b) to borrow money by means of the issue of bills or promissory notes payable within any period not exceeding twelve months.

[a] Inserted by the Devolution Act, 1920 (XXXVIII of 1920), S. 2 and Sch. I. [b] Substituted for "Local Government" by A. O., 1937. [c] Substituted for "Governor-General in Council," ibid.

STATE AMENDMENTS

MADHYA PRADESH [OLD]

In sub-section (1) of this section, after clause (v) the following clauses shall be inserted, namely:—

- "(vi) the meeting of its establishment charges, in case of temporary unforeseen financial difficulty ;
- (vii) any exceptional expenditure of an urgent and unforeseen character not already provided for in this section;" —C. P. Act, I of 1922, S. 2 [1-3-1923.]

PUNJAB

In sub-sec. (1), after clause (v), insert the following clause, namely :—

- "(vi) any other purpose which the State Government may declare to be a suitable one for which loans may be taken by Local Authorities generally or by a particular Local Authority." —E. P. Act XVII of 1949, S. 2 [29-10-1949.]

4. Power to Government to make rules.

(1) The <sup>a</sup>[appropriate Government] may make rules<sup>b</sup> consistent with this Act as to—

- (i) the nature of the funds on the security of which money may be borrowed;
- (ii) the works for which money may be borrowed;
- (iii) the manner of making applications for permission to borrow money;
- (iv) the inquiries to be made in relation to such loans, and the manner of conducting such inquiries;

5. Remedy by attachment if loan not repaid.

If any money borrowed in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or any interest or costs due in respect thereof, is or are not repaid according to the conditions of the loan, the "[appropriate Government]", if itself the lender, may, and, if the "[appropriate Government]" is not the lender, shall, on the application of the lender, attach the funds on the security of which the loan was made. After such attachment, no person, except an officer appointed in this behalf by the "[appropriate Government]", shall in any way deal with the attached funds; but such officer may do all acts in respect thereof which the borrowers might have done if such attachment had not taken place, and may apply the proceeds in satisfaction of the loan and of all interests and costs due in respect thereof and of all expenses caused by the attachment and subsequent proceedings :

Attachment not to defeat prior charges legally made.

Provided that no such attachment shall defeat or prejudice any debt for which the funds attached were previously pledged in accordance with law ; but all such prior charges shall be paid out of the proceeds of the funds before any part of the proceeds is applied to the satisfaction of the liability in respect of which such attachment is made.

6. Issue of short term bills.

(1) Subject to the provisions of section 26 of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1910<sup>a</sup>, the local authorities mentioned in Schedule I and any other local authority to which the "[appropriate Government]" may, by notification in the "[Official Gazette]", extend the provisions of this section, may, with the previous sanction of the "[appropriate Government]", borrow money by means of the issue of bills or promissory notes payable within any period, not exceeding twelve months, for any purpose for which such local authority may lawfully borrow money under any law for the time being in force :

Provided that the amount of the bills or promissory notes which may be so issued, shall not exceed, when the amount of the other moneys for the time being borrowed by such local authority is taken into account, the total amount which such local authority is empowered by law to borrow.

(2) The "[appropriate Government]" may, by general or special order, regulate the conditions on which money may be borrowed or repaid under this section.

7. Loans not to be effected except under this Act.

Except as provided by or under this Act, no local authority shall, for any purpose, borrow money upon, or otherwise charge, its funds; and any contract otherwise made for that purpose after the passing of this Act shall be void :

Provided that nothing herein contained shall be deemed—

(a) to preclude any local authority from exercising the borrowing powers conferred on it by any special enactment now or hereafter in force; or

- (b) to affect the power conferred on any local authority by any such enactment to charge its funds, by guaranteeing the payment of interest on money to be applied to any purpose to which the funds of the local authority can legally be applied.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Provisions already exist in some of the enactments relating to local authorities for the grant of pensions and gratuities to employees who may be wounded and to the families of the employees who may be killed in execution of their duty. But it is not open to a local authority to grant a pension or a gratuity to an employee or to his family when he has been incapacitated or has lost his life in the service of the State. It is proposed to permit any local authority, which so desires, to grant a pension or a gratuity in such a case; and, in order specially to provide for cases where those who had been in the employ of local authorities proceeded on active service during the Great War, it is proposed that the measure should be applicable in cases of injury, disease or death which have occurred since the 4th August, 1914. The Act will be an enabling Act, the provisions of which can be made applicable by such local authorities as care to avail themselves of it to any case covered by the terms of the Act, the sanction of the Local Government being required in each case."

[THE] LOCAL AUTHORITIES PENSIONS AND GRATUITIES ACT, 1919

(ACT I OF 1919)*

[26th February, 1919.]

An Act to extend the powers of local authorities in regard to the granting of pensions and gratuities.

WHEREAS it is expedient to extend the powers of local authorities in regard to the granting of pensions and gratuities;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1919, Pt. V, p. 18.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and Merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950.]

It has been extended to the States merged in the State of—

Punjab by Punj. Act V of 1950, S. 3. [15-4-1950.]

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE LOCAL AUTHORITIES PENSIONS AND GRATUITIES ACT, 1919.

*(2) It extends to the whole of India except <sup>a</sup>[the territories which, immediately before the 1st November, 1956, were comprised in Part B States].

[a] Substituted for sub-section (2), by A. L. O., 1950. [b] Substituted for "Part B States" by 3 A. L. O., 1956. Immediately before the 1st November, 1956, the following were the Part B States in India: Hyderabad, Jammu and Kashmir, Madhya Bharat, Mysore, Pepsu, Rajasthan, Saurashtra and Travancore-Cochin.

2. Definition.

In this Act, "officer" means any person who has undertaken <sup>a</sup>[service under the Government] and who immediately prior to undertaking such service, was paid and employed solely by a local authority and, but for undertaking such service, would in the ordinary course have continued in such employment; <sup>b</sup>[and, the "appropriate Government" means, in relation to cantonment authorities and port authorities in major ports, the Central Government, and in relation to other authorities, the State Government].

[a] The words "the service of Government" were successively amended by A. O., 1937 and A. L. O., 1950. [b] Inserted by A. O., 1937.

3. Power to grant extraordinary pensions and gratuities.

Notwithstanding anything contained in any enactment or in any rule made thereunder regulating the powers of local authorities, and without prejudice to any powers conferred by or under any such enactment, a local authority may grant a pension or gratuity to any officer thereof who may, since the 4th day of August, 1914, have been wounded or otherwise incapacitated in "service under the Government", and to the widow or child of any such officer who may have died in consequence of injuries received or illness contracted since the 4th day of August, 1914 in the course of such service.

[a] The words "the service of Government" were successively amended by A. O., 1937 and A. L. O., 1950.

Note.—Provisions already exist in some enactments relating to local authorities for the grant of pensions and gratuities in case the officer of the local authority gets killed or incapacitated while in execution of his duty. This Act provides for cases, when the officer gets killed or incapacitated while in the service under the Government. Under this Act a local authority is empowered to grant a pension or gratuity, when an officer is killed or incapacitated while in the service under the Government.

4. Provision as to pensions and gratuities.

(1) Such pension or gratuity may be granted in addition to any pension or gratuity payable to the officer or his wife or child, as the case may be, under any general or special orders of <sup>a</sup>[His Majesty in Council] or of <sup>b</sup>[the Central Government or any State Government], but shall not, save with the sanction of the <sup>c</sup>[appropriate Government], exceed the amount of the pension or gratuity to which the officer or his wife or child would have been entitled under any such orders if his employment by the local authority had been service for the same time and on the same pay <sup>d</sup>[under the Government].

(2) Any pension granted under this Act may be made to take effect from such date subsequent to the 4th day of August, 1914, and subject to such conditions as the local authority may think fit.

[a] These words shall stand unmodified, see A.L.O., 1950. [b] Substituted for "Governor-General in Council," by A.O., 1937. [c] Substituted for "Local Government," ibid. [d] The words "under Government" were successively amended by A.O., 1937 and A.L.O., 1950.

5. Procedure.

Subject to the provisions of this Act, the decision of a local authority to grant a pension or gratuity thereunder shall be made in such manner and shall be subject to such sanction as may be prescribed by any enactment or rule regulating the grant by such local authority of pensions and gratuities:

Provided that in every case the sanction of the <sup>a</sup>[appropriate Government] shall be necessary.

[a] Substituted for "Local Government," by A. O., 1937.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The object of the scheme envisaged in the Bill is to provide for the constitution of a National Volunteer Force for imparting military training to the members of the public with a view to inculcating among them a sense of discipline, security and self-reliance and interest in national service. Military training will be given in camps, which will be set up at convenient places and, wherever possible, in the vicinity of community projects. All able-bodied male citizens between the ages of 18 and 40 are eligible to join the National Volunteer Force.

The Bill seeks to provide the legal basis for the imparting of training, the establishment of training camps and the exercise of disciplinary control over the trainees while in the camps. Matters of administrative details connected with training, remuneration payable to the trainees, issue of stores and the like will be regulated by means of rules to be framed under the proposed Law."

[THE] LOK SAHAYAK SENA ACT, 1956

[15th September, 1956.]

An Act to provide for the constitution of Lok Sahayak Sena for imparting military training to citizens of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Seventh Year of the Republic of India as follows :

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1955 Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 2, p. 508.

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE LOK SAHAYAK SENA ACT, 1956.

(2) It extends to the whole of India.

Note. — A person enrolled as a volunteer under the Act, shall not, on the ground only of being a volunteer be liable for military service. But he may be called upon to undergo such training as may be prescribed and while undergoing such training, shall perform such duties as the prescribed authority may order.

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, —

(a) 'camp' means any place established under section 4 as a camp where any body of volunteers is for the time being undergoing training;

(b) 'Force' means the Lok Sahayak Sena constituted under this Act;

(c) 'prescribed' means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(d) 'superior officer' means any officer, junior commissioned officer, warrant officer or non-commissioned officer, of the regular Army or of the Territorial Army;

(e) 'volunteer' means a person enrolled in the Force under this Act;

(f) all words and expressions used in this Act and not defined but defined in the Army Act, 1950, or in the Territorial Army Act, 1948, shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the said Acts.

3. Constitution of the Lok Sahayak Sena.

There shall be raised and maintained by the Central Government a force to be designated the Lok Sahayak Sena by the enrolment of volunteers in the manner hereinafter provided.

4. Establishment of camps.

The Central Government may establish such number of camps for the purposes of the force as it thinks fit and may close down or re-establish any such camps.

5. Enrolment.

Any citizen of India not below the age of eighteen years and not above the age of forty years may offer himself for enrolment as a volunteer and may, satisfies the prescribed conditions, be enrolled in the prescribed manner by the prescribed authority for such period and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.

6. Duties of volunteers.

No person shall, on the ground only of being a volunteer be liable for military service, but subject thereto a volunteer may be called upon to undergo such training as may be prescribed, and while undergoing such training shall perform such duties and discharge such obligations as the prescribed authority may, by general or special order, direct.

7. Discharge.

Every volunteer shall be entitled to receive his discharge from the Force on the expiration of the period for which he was enrolled, but may prior to the expiration of that period, be discharged from the Force by such authority and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.

8. Offences and penalties.

(1) If any volunteer commits any of the following offences, that is to say,—

- (i) without sufficient cause fails to attend at any place when duly required to do so; or
- (ii) while in camp on duty—
  - (a) absents himself from the camp without leave;
  - (b) uses criminal force or uses threatening or insubordinate language to a superior officer or assaults a superior officer;
  - (c) disobeys any lawful command of a superior officer;
  - (d) neglects to obey any standing, general or other orders by the officer commanding the camp;
  - (e) uses criminal force to, or assaults, any volunteer or any person subject to the Army Act, 1950, or the Territorial Army Act, 1948;
  - (f) knowingly does any act which is prejudicial to the maintenance of good order or military discipline in camp;

he shall be punishable summarily by order of the prescribed authority with fine which may extend to fifty rupees or, in default, by being confined to barracks for a term which may extend to seven days.

(2) Any fine imposed by order of the prescribed authority under subsection (1) may, on application made in this behalf by the prescribed authority to a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the place where the volunteer resides or has a place of business, be recovered in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1895, as if it were a fine imposed by such Magistrate.

9. Liability for causing loss of, or damage to, Government property.

If any volunteer wilfully or negligently causes loss of, or damage to, any property of the Government, the prescribed authority may, after giving him an opportunity of being heard and after making such inquiry into the matter as it thinks fit, make an order requiring him to make good the loss or damage within such time as may be specified in the order or within such further time as may be allowed by the prescribed authority in this behalf, and where the amount thereof as determined by the prescribed authority is not paid within the time allowed, it shall, on application made by the prescribed authority to the Collector of the district in which the volunteer resides or has a place of business, be recovered from him in the same manner as an arrear of land revenue.

10. Presumption as to certain documents.

Where a volunteer is required by or in pursuance of any rule made under this Act to attend at any place, a certificate purporting to be signed by the prescribed officer stating that the volunteer so required to attend failed to do so in accordance with such requirement shall, without proof of the signature or appointment of such officer, be evidence of the matters stated therein.

11. Power to make rules.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules* to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) the authorities by which, the manner in which, the period for which, and the conditions subject to which, any person may be enrolled as a volunteer;
- (b) the training, discipline, duties and obligations which a volunteer has to undergo, observe, perform or discharge under this Act;
- (c) the authorities by which, and the conditions subject to which, a volunteer may be discharged;
- (d) the manner in which, and the conditions subject to which, a volunteer may be called out for training or duties;
- (e) the determination of authorities for the purposes of this Act;
- (f) the officers by whom certificates may be signed under section 10; and
- (g) any other matter which under this Act is to be or may be prescribed.

(3) All rules made under this section shall be laid before Parliament for a period of at least thirty days, as soon as may be after they are made, and shall be subject to such modifications as Parliament may make therein during the session in which they are so laid or the session immediately following.

RULES

91. Power of State Government to make rules.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The bulk of the Law relating to the custody of lunatics and the management of their estates in India is at present contained in the following Acts:—

- (1) The Lunacy (Supreme Courts) Act, 1858 (Act XXXIV of 1858).
- (2) The Lunacy (District Courts) Act, 1858 (Act XXXV of 1858).
- (3) The Indian Lunatic Asylums Act, 1858 (Act XXXVI of 1858).
- (4) The Military Lunatics Act, 1877 (Act XI of 1877).
- (5) The Indian Lunatic Asylums (Amendment) Act, 1886 (Act XVIII of 1886).
- (6) The Indian Lunatic Asylums (Amendment) Act, 1889 (Act XX of 1889).
- (7) Chapter XXXIV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.
- (8) Section 13 of the Prisoners Act, 1900.

The first three of these Acts are based in a great measure on the English Lunacy Regulation Act, 1853 (16 and 17 Vict., c. 70), and the English Lunatics Act, 1853 (16 and 17 Vict., c. 96). These English Acts after frequent amendment are now replaced by the Lunacy Act, 1890 (53 Vict., c. 5), as amended by the Lunacy Act, 1891 (54 and 55 Vict., c. 65). It is in the opinion of the Government of India desirable that the law relating to the custody of lunatics in India should be amended and assimilated with the modern English law on the subject, and the present Bill has been prepared to effect this purpose. Opportunity has also been taken to rearrange and consolidate as far as possible the whole law relating to lunatics.

SCHEDULE I.—FORMS.

SCHEDULE II.—[Repealed.]

The provisions of section 30 of the Prisoners Act, 1900, and much of Chapter XXXIV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, cannot be conveniently inserted in any general Lunacy Act, and they have therefore been left untouched. Sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 471 and the whole of section 472 of the Code of Criminal Procedure which merely regulate the places in which criminal lunatics may be confined and prescribe the manner in which such lunatics are to be visited, have, however, been incorporated in the present Bill. . . . The main features of the Bill are noted below.

Chapter II deals with the confinement of lunatics in asylums in reception orders and covers much the same ground as the Lunatic Asylums Act, 1858. In so far as such reception orders can be made otherwise than on petition the law is left practically unchanged.

Sections 4 to 11 and 18 to 20 however make a considerable change in the law. At present the confinement of lunatics in asylums on the application of relatives and friends can be effected as follows:—

- (a) In Presidency-towns by an order under section 7 of the Lunatic Asylums Act, 1858.

(1) after the person whom it is desired to confine has been found to be a lunatic by inquisition, or

(2) accompanied by the medical certificates specified therein;

an order under section 7 of the Lunatic Asylums Act, 1858, can only be made for the confinement of a lunatic in an Asylum in a Presidency-town, and

(b) Outside the Presidency-towns, only by an order of the Civil Court.

Under the present Bill the procedure prescribed by section 7 of the Lunatic Asylums Act, 1858, has been changed, and where application is made for the confinement of a lunatic (not being a lunatic so found on inquisition) in an asylum the application must be made by petition to a Magistrate and a reception order can only be made by him. The distinction between asylums in Presidency-towns and asylums outside such areas has given rise to administrative difficulties and inconveniences and serves no useful purpose. It has therefore been discarded.

It will be observed that under the Bill reception orders on petition can only be made in Presidency-towns, and in this particular the provisions of Act XXXVI of 1858 have been followed. Local Governments can, however, apply the provisions of the law regarding such reception orders to areas outside the Presidency-towns.

The procedure prescribed for the issue of reception orders is based on the English Lunacy Act, 1890. The manner in which medical certificates are to be given and the method of examination are carefully prescribed in the Act, and every care has been taken to prevent the improper confinement of any person in an asylum on a false allegation of lunacy.

ACT HOW AFFECTED BY SUBSEQUENT LEGISLATION

- Amended by Acts XII of 1916, VI of 1922, XI of 1923, XXXII of 1923, XXXIII of 1923, V of 1926, X of 1927, XIV of 1932, XXXV of 1934, III of 1951, LVI of 1959.
- Adapted by A. O. 1937, A. C. A. O., 1948, A. L. O., 1950, 2 A. L. O., 1950.
- Amended in its application to
  - (i) Bombay by Bom. Acts XV of 1930, XV of 1938, VIII of 1954, NCVII of 1958, LVI of 1959;
  - (ii) Madhya Pradesh by M. P. Act XXIII of 1952;
  - (iii) Madras by Mad. Acts XIV of 1938, XV of 1938, XII of 1941;
  - (iv) Punjab by Punj. Act XXXVII of 1956;
  - (v) Saurashtra by Saur. Act XLII of 1953;

verbal changes of the present Lunacy (Supreme Courts) Act, 1858. It is probable that substantial amendments bringing the law and procedure more into accordance with the modern English law may be desirable, but the Government of India do not think it expedient at present to make any change in this part of the Bill until the High Courts concerned have been consulted.

Chapter V deals with lunacy proceedings in District Courts and embodies with slight changes the existing law as contained in Act XXXV of 1858. It may possibly be desirable at a later stage to assimilate as far as possible the procedure in the District Courts to that which may be finally adopted for the High Courts. Doubts have been expressed whether that Act empowers a District Court to issue orders for the detention of a lunatic in an asylum (see In re Joga Kuar, H.R. 30 Cal 973). This question has now been set at rest by the provisions of clause 70 (1) which is taken from the English Lunacy Act, 1890.

Chapter IX is new. . . . Special attention may, however, be drawn to clause 94 (now S. 93) which penalises the detention of lunatics in asylums in contravention of the Act and also the detention for payment of lunatics or alleged lunatics in unlicensed institutions. This clause is based on section 115 of the English Act. This clause does not prohibit the detention of lunatics by their relatives or in their own houses. The Government of India are, however, of opinion that in the public interest it is desirable that complete control should be exercised over all private institutions where lunatics are confined for payment."

PART I

PRELIMINARY

CHAPTER I

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE INDIAN LUNACY ACT, 1912.

*[(2) It extends to the whole of India <sup>b</sup>[except the State of Jammu and Kashmir].]

[a] Substituted for former sub-sec. (2), by A. L. O., 1950. [b] Substituted for "except Part B States", by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951.]

STATE AMENDMENTS

BOMBAY

By virtue of the provisions contained in Bom. Acts VIII of 1954 and XCIV of 1958, this Act as amended by Bombay Act VIII of 1954 is extended to the whole of the State of Bombay including the transferred territories.— See Bom. Acts VIII of 1954, S. 2 and XCIV of 1958, S. 2.

MADHYA PRADESH

This Act as amended by the Indian Lunacy (Madhya Pradesh Amendment) Act, 1952, as was in force in the Mahakoshal region, is extended to and shall be in force in all the other regions of the State of Madhya Pradesh— See M. P. Act XXIII of 1958, S. 2 and Sch., Part A, item 73.

2. Savings.

Nothing contained in Part II shall be deemed to affect the powers of any High Court <sup>a</sup>[* * *] over any person found to be a lunatic by inquisition or over the property of such lunatic, or the rights of any person appointed by such Court as guardian of the person or manager of the estate of such lunatic.

[a] The words "for a Part A State" were omitted by 2 A. L. O., 1958.

- (7) "medical officer" means a gazetted <sup>a</sup>[medical officer in the service of the Government], and includes a medical practitioner declared by general

Section 3 (5) — Note 1

[1] Unsoundness of mind taken by itself was held not sufficient to bring a person within the meaning of the term "lunatic" as defined by the Lunacy Act of 1858, unless it incapacitated him from managing his affairs, nor was a person who was incapable of managing his affairs a lunatic, unless that incapacity was produced by unsoundness of mind. (175) 24 Suth. W. R. 124 (124) (DB) + (106) 4 Cal. L. Jour. 115 (117) (DB) + (73) 20 Suth. W. R. 55 (56) (DB).

[2] Mere weakness of intellect is not unsoundness of mind. (109) 4 Cal. L. Jour. 115 (117, 118) (DB).

[3] The term "unsound mind" comprehends imbecility, whether congenital or arising from old age, as well as lunacy or mental aberration resulting from disease. (83) 7 Bom. 15 (18).

[4] To find a person lunatic, it is not enough to find that he is of undeveloped mind or incapable of managing a large estate, but it must be shown that he is subject to delusions. (105) 2 All. L. Jour. 154 (155, 156) (DB).

[5] No person can have direct experience of the mind of another and the proper test of insanity is conduct. A person might conceivably have all kinds of mental unsoundness; he might have all kinds of delusions, but if his conduct remains normal, there would be no power under the Lunacy Act to deal with him. 1935 Pat. 423 (424) [AIR V 22] (DB).

[6] In assuming jurisdiction under the Lunacy Act the Court must keep in view the distinction between mere weakness of intellect and "lunacy" as understood in the Act. It is only with lunatics as defined in S. 3 (5) that the Act is concerned. It is therefore the duty of the Court before proceeding further to determine judicially whether the person alleged to be incapable of managing himself or his affairs is really a "lunatic" in this sense. 1930 Lah. 289 (291) [AIR V 17].

[7] Though S. 3 (5) defines "lunatic" as an idiot or a person of unsound mind, the said words have not been defined. Both these terms indicate an abnormal state of mind as distinguished from weakness of mind or senility following old age. A man of weak mental strength cannot be called an idiot or a man of unsound mind. The Act is not intended to protect dull-witted people but only those who suffer from a mental disorder or derangement of the mind. 1957 Andh-Pra. 938 (938, 939) [AIR V 44 C 294]; 11LR (1955) Andh 568 (DB).

or special order of the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] to be a medical officer for the purposes of this Act :

[a] Substituted for "medical Officer of Government", by A. O., 1937.

- (8) "medical practitioner" means a holder of a qualification to practise medicine and surgery which can be registered in the United Kingdom in accordance with the law for the time being in force for the registration of medical practitioners, and includes any person declared by general or special order of the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] to be a medical practitioner for the purposes of this Act :
- (9) "prescribed" means prescribed by this Act or by rule made thereunder :
- (10) "reception order" means an order made under the provisions of this Act for the reception into an asylum of a lunatic other than a lunatic so found by inquisition :
- (11) "relative" includes any person related by blood, marriage or adoption : and
- (12) "rule" means a rule made under this Act.

[a] Clause (13) which had been inserted by A. L. O., 1950 was omitted by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 5 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

PART II

RECEPTION, CARE AND TREATMENT OF LUNATICS

CHAPTER II

RECEPTION OF LUNATICS

4. Reception of persons in asylum.

(1) No person other than a criminal lunatic or a lunatic so found by inquisition shall be received or detained in an asylum without a reception order save as provided by sections 8, 16 and 98 :

Provided that any person in charge of an asylum may, with the consent of two of the visitors of such asylum, which consent shall not be given except upon a written application from the intending boarder, receive and lodge as a boarder in such asylum any person who is desirous of submitting himself to treatment.

(2) A boarder received in an asylum under the proviso to sub-section (1) shall not be detained in the asylum for more than twentyfour hours after he has given to the person in charge of the asylum notice in writing of his desire to leave such asylum.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have added proviso to clause 4 to permit of a person being received into an asylum as a voluntary boarder without a reception order. We regard this provision as one which is likely to be of considerable value. It is based on similar provisions in the English and Scotch law."—S. C. R.

Section 3 (11) — Note 1

[1] A narrow construction should not be placed upon the term "relative." The brother of the wife is related by marriage to the husband of his sister and is, therefore, a "relative" within S. 3 (11). 1918 Cal 353 (354) [AIR V 5] (DB).

Section 4 — Note 1

[1] The Act deals specifically and under separate headings with two branches of proceedings executive and judicial. Any person considering himself aggrieved by an executive order passed by the District Magistrate may apply under part III for a regular inquisition conducted by a judicial Officer. The result of such inquisition is conclusive and overrides and overrules any order which may have been passed summarily by the executive authority. Under this Act the orders passed by the District Magistrate under Part II are purely executive and cannot form the subject-matter of a revision application to the High Court. 1924 Lah 55 (57, 58) [AIR V 11] : 4 Lah 1 : 24 Cri L Jour 664 (DB).

STATE AMENDMENTS

ANDHRA PRADESH

Same as that of Madras.

MADRAS

In sub-section (1) of section 4 for the words and figures "save as provided by sections 8, 16 and 98," the words, figures and letter "save as provided by sections 8, 16 and 98 of this Act and by section 39-A of the Prisons Act, 1894" shall be substituted.

—Madras Act XIV of 1938, S. 3. [25-10-1938.]

*Reception orders on petition5. Application for reception order.

(1) An application for a reception order shall be made by petition accompanied by a statement of particulars to the Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the alleged lunatic ordinarily resides, shall be in the form prescribed and shall be supported by two medical certificates on separate sheets of paper, one of which certificates shall be from a medical officer.

(2) If either of the medical certificates is signed by any relative, partner or assistant of the lunatic or of the petitioner, the petition shall state the fact and, where the person signing is a relative, the exact manner in which he is related to the lunatic or petitioner.

(3) The petition shall also state whether any previous application has been presented for an inquiry into the mental capacity of the alleged lunatic in any Court; and if such application has been made, a certified copy of the order made thereon shall be attached to the petition.

(4) No application for a reception order shall be entertained in any area outside the Presidency-towns unless the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] has, by notification* in the <sup>A</sup>[Official Gazette], declared such area as an area in which reception orders may be made.

Manipur, see Manipur Gaz., 17-6-1959.

Uttar Pradesh, see U. P. Gaz., 1911, Pt. I, p. 496.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have made two alterations in clause 5 which call for attention. In the first place we have provided that if either of the medical certificates which are filed with a petition is made by a relative, assistant or partner of the lunatic or of the petitioner this fact must be stated in the petition. We have not thought it expedient to follow the English law in absolutely debaring particular relatives of the petitioner from granting medical certificates as we think that such a drastic provision might cause grave inconvenience in this country . . . . . If, however, the drafters who certify to the insanity of the alleged lunatic are relatives or partners or assistants of the lunatic or the petitioner, this fact will be brought prominently to the notice of the Court in virtue of [s. 5 (2)]. We have further provided that when any petition is made to a Magistrate for a reception order the Magistrate shall be furnished with information of any previous enquiries which have been made in any Court into the sanity of the alleged lunatic and the result (if any) of such enquiries."—S. C. R.

6. Application by whom to be presented.

<sup>A</sup>[(1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (3) the petition shall be presented by the husband or wife of the alleged lunatic, or, if there is no husband or wife or the husband or wife is prevented by reason of insanity, absence from India or otherwise from making the presentation, by the nearest relative of the alleged lunatic who is not so prevented.]

(2) <sup>b</sup>[If the petition is not presented by the husband or wife, or, where there is no husband or wife, by the nearest relative of the alleged lunatic, the petition] shall contain a statement of the reasons why it is not so presented.

and of the connection of the petitioner with the alleged lunatic, and the circumstances under which he presents the petition.

(3) No person shall present a petition unless he has attained the age of majority as determined by the law to which he is subject, and has within fourteen days before the presentation of the petition, personally seen the said lunatic.

(4) The petition shall be signed and verified by the petitioner, and the statement of prescribed particulars by the person making such statement.

[a] Substituted for the original sub-section, by the Lunacy (Amendment) Act, 1926 (V of 1926), S. 2. [b] Substituted for "if the petition is not so presented, it," ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Clause 6 of the Bill as it originally stood laid down that no petition should be presented by any person under the age of 21, and in this respect the Bill followed the English law. The law of majority in India, however, differs materially from the English law, and in view of this we have amended the Bill so as to provide that no person shall file a petition under this section unless he has attained the age of majority as determined by the law to which he is subject."—S.C.R.

7. Procedure upon petition for reception order.

(1) Upon the presentation of the petition the Magistrate shall consider the allegations in the petition and the evidence of lunacy appearing by the medical certificates.

(2) If he considers that there are grounds for proceeding further, he shall personally examine the alleged lunatic unless for reasons to be recorded in writing he thinks it unnecessary or inexpedient so to do.

(3) If he is satisfied that a reception order may properly be made forthwith, he may make the same accordingly.

(4) If he is not so satisfied, he shall fix a date (notice whereof shall be given to the petitioner and to any other person to whom in the opinion of the Magistrate notice should be given) for the consideration of the petition, and he may make such further or other inquiries of or concerning the alleged lunatic as he thinks fit.

[Compare : Lunacy Act, 1890 (53 & 54 Vict., C. 5), Sect. 6.]

8. Detention of alleged lunatic pending inquiry.

Upon the presentation of the petition, the Magistrate may make such order as he thinks fit for the suitable custody of the alleged lunatic pending the conclusion of the inquiry.

9. Consideration of petition.

The petition shall be considered in private in the presence of the petitioner, the alleged lunatic (unless the Magistrate in his discretion otherwise directs), any person appointed by the alleged lunatic to represent him and such other persons as the Magistrate thinks fit.

10. Order.

(1) At the time appointed for the consideration of the petition, the Magistrate may either make a reception order or dismiss the petition, or may adjourn the same for further evidence or inquiry, and may make such order as to the payment of the costs of the inquiry by the person upon whose application it was made, or out of the estate of the alleged lunatic if found to be of unsound mind, or otherwise as he thinks fit.

Section 10 — Note 1

[1] It is the duty of the Magistrate passing a reception order to follow with great care the provisions of the Act and to show the greatest care in the proceedings. 1936 Sind 156 (157) [AIR V 23] : 29 Sind L R 431 : 37 Cri L Jour 1082 (DB).

(2) If the petition is dismissed, the Magistrate shall record in writing his reasons for dismissing the same, and shall deliver or cause to be delivered to the petitioner a copy of such order.

11. Further provisions as to reception orders on petition.

No reception order shall be made under section 7 or section 10, save in the case of a lunatic who is dangerous and unfit to be at large, unless—

- (a) the Magistrate is satisfied that the person in charge of an asylum is willing to receive the lunatic, and
- (b) the petitioner or some other person engages in writing to the satisfaction of the Magistrate to pay the cost of maintenance of the lunatic.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have amended clause 11 of the Bill so as to make it the duty of a Magistrate to call for reasonable security for the payment of the costs of the maintenance of a lunatic admitted into an asylum on petition, and we have further provided that before any lunatic is sent to an asylum on a reception order founded on petition the Magistrate must be assured that there is some asylum of which the person in charge is willing to receive the lunatic. We have at the same time reserved full power to the Magistrate to commit dangerous lunatics to asylums without any restriction."—S. C. R.

*[11A. Power to appoint substitute for the person upon whose application a reception order has been made.

(1) The Magistrate may, subject to the provisions of this section, by order in writing (hereinafter referred to as an order of substitution), transfer the duties and responsibilities under this Act of the person on whose petition a reception order has been made to any other person who is willing to undertake the same, and such other person shall thereupon be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be the person on whose petition the reception order was made, and all references in this Act to such last-mentioned person shall be construed accordingly :

Provided that no such order of substitution shall release the person upon whose petition the reception order was made or, if he is dead, his legal representative from any liability incurred before the order of substitution was made.

(2) Before making any order of substitution, the Magistrate shall send a notice to the person upon whose petition the reception order was made, if he is alive, and to any relative of the lunatic to whom, in the opinion of the Magistrate, notice should be given; the notice shall specify the name of the person in whose favour it is proposed to make such order and the date, which shall be not less than twenty days from the sending of the notice, upon which any objection to the making of the order will be considered.

(3) On such date or any subsequent date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the Magistrate shall consider any objection made by any person to whom notice has been sent, or by any other relative of the lunatic, and shall receive all such evidence as may be produced by or on behalf of any of such persons and such further evidence, if any, as the Magistrate thinks necessary, and may thereafter make or refrain from making an order of substitution :

Provided that, if the person on whose petition the reception order was made is dead and any other person is willing and, in the opinion of the Magistrate, fitted to undertake the duties and responsibilities under this Act of such first-mentioned person, the Magistrate shall make such an order.

(4) If in proceedings under this section any question arises as to the person to whom the duties and responsibilities under this Act of a person upon whose petition a reception order has been made shall be entrusted, the Magistrate shall give preference to the person who is the nearest relative of the lunatic, unless, for reasons to be recorded in writing, the Magistrate considers that such preference would not be in the interests of the lunatic.

(5) The Magistrate may make such order for the payment of the costs of an inquiry under this section by any person who is a party thereto or out of the estate of the lunatic, as he thinks fit.

(1) When an arrangement has been made with any foreign European State with respect to the reception of lunatics in asylums in <sup>b</sup>[India], the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] may, by notification in the <sup>a</sup>[Official Gazette], direct that reception orders may be made under this Act in the case of any lunatic or class of lunatics residing in the territories in India of such foreign European State, and shall in such notification specify the <sup>a</sup>[State] or <sup>a</sup>[States] within which such reception orders may be made.

(2) On publication of a notification under sub-section (1), the provisions of this Act as to the making of reception orders on petition and for temporary detention in suitable custody shall apply in the case of such lunatics, with the following modifications, namely:—

(a) an application for a reception order may be made by petition presented by such officer or agent of the foreign State in which the alleged lunatic ordinarily resides, as may by general or special order be approved by the <sup>a</sup>[State Government] in this behalf;

(b) the functions of the Magistrate shall be performed by such officer as the <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may, by general or special order, appoint in this behalf, and such officer shall be deemed to be the Magistrate having jurisdiction over the alleged lunatic for all the purposes of the said provisions;

(c) for the purposes of sections 5 and 18 (1), the expressions “medical officer” and “medical practitioner” shall include such person or class of persons as the <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may specify in this behalf;

(d) the Magistrate may in his discretion extend the period prescribed by section 19 within which the alleged lunatic must have been medically examined; and

(e) sections 6 (1), (2), (3), 11, <sup>c</sup>[11A] and 34 of the Act, shall not apply, and with such other modifications, restrictions or adaptations as the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] may, by notification in the <sup>a</sup>[Official Gazette], direct for the purpose of facilitating the application of the said provisions.

(3) A reception order made under this section shall be deemed to be a reception order made under section 7 or section 10, as the case may be.

13. Powers and duties of police in respect of wandering or dangerous lunatics and lunatics cruelly treated or not under proper care and control.

(1) Every officer in charge of a police-station may arrest or cause to be arrested all persons found wandering at large within the limits of his station whom he has reason to believe to be lunatics, and shall arrest or cause to be arrested all persons within the limits of his station whom he has reason to believe to be dangerous by reason of lunacy. Any person so arrested shall be taken forthwith before the Magistrate.

(2) Every officer in charge of a police-station who has reason to believe that any person within the limits of his station is deemed to be a lunatic and is not under proper care and control, or is cruelly treated or neglected by any relative or other person having the charge of him, shall immediately report the fact to the Magistrate.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have amended clause 13 so as to give the Police should be bound to arrest such the police discretionary power as to the arrest lunatics in all cases."

14. Reception order in case of wandering and dangerous lunatics.

Whenever any person is brought before a Magistrate under the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 13, the Magistrate shall examine such person, and if he thinks that there are grounds for proceeding further, shall cause him to be examined by a medical officer, and may make such other inquiries as he thinks fit; and if the Magistrate is satisfied that such person is a lunatic and a proper person to be detained, he may, if the medical officer who has examined such person gives a medical certificate with regard to such person, make a reception order for the admission of such lunatic into an asylum:

Provided that, if any friend or relative desires that the lunatic be sent to a licensed asylum and engages in writing to the satisfaction of the Magistrate to pay the cost of maintenance of the lunatic in such asylum, the Magistrate shall, if the person in charge of such asylum consents, make a reception order

[1] There is no law which authorizes the police or a Magistrate in the exercise of police duties, or an officer in command of a cantonment, in consequence of a bona fide belief that a person is dangerous by reason of actual lunacy, to put him into confinement in order that he may be visited and examined by medical officers, and to keep him in confinement until such officers can feel themselves justified in reporting whether the person is a dangerous lunatic or not; a fortiori this cannot be done in the case of a bona fide belief of danger from impending lunacy. (83) 9 Cal 341 (354); 9 Ind App 152 (PC).

for the admission of the lunatic into the licensed asylum mentioned in the engagement :

Provided further that if any friend or relative of the lunatic enters into a bond with or without sureties for such sum of money as the Magistrate thinks fit, conditioned that such lunatic shall be properly taken care of, and shall be prevented from doing injury to himself or to others, the Magistrate, instead of making a reception order, may, if he thinks fit, make him over to the care of such friend or relative.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Clause 14 has been modified so as to leave fit to the discretion of the Magistrate to send the lunatic to a medical officer instead of calling in medical officer to examine the lunatic ; further, under the clause as amended it will be unnecessary for the Magistrate to send the alleged lunatic for medical examination if, when such lunatic is produced before him, the Magistrate should think it unnecessary to proceed with the enquiry. We have further amended this clause so as to admit of a Magistrate sending a lunatic to a private asylum only when the person in charge of such asylum consents to receive such lunatic."

15. Order in case of lunatic cruelly treated or not under proper care and control.

(1) If it appears to the Magistrate, on the report of a police-officer or the information of any other person, that any person within the limits of his jurisdiction deemed to be a lunatic is not under proper care and control or is cruelly treated or neglected by any relative or other person having the charge of him, the Magistrate may cause the alleged lunatic to be produced before him, and summon such relative or other person as has or ought to have the charge of him.

(2) If such relative or other person is legally bound to maintain the alleged lunatic, the Magistrate may make an order for such alleged lunatic being properly cared for and treated, and, if such relative or other person wilfully neglects to comply with the said order, the Magistrate may sentence him to imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month.

(3) If there is no person legally bound to maintain the alleged lunatic, or if the Magistrate thinks fit so to do, he may proceed as prescribed in section 14, and upon being satisfied in manner aforesaid that the person deemed to be a lunatic is a lunatic and a proper person to be detained under care and treatment may, if a medical officer gives a medical certificate with regard to such lunatic, make a reception order for the admission of such lunatic into an asylum.

16. Detention of alleged lunatic pending report by medical officer.

(1) When any person alleged to be a lunatic is brought before a Magistrate under the provisions of section 13 or section 15, the Magistrate may, by an order in writing, authorise the detention of the alleged lunatic in suitable

Section 15 — Note 1

[1] The words of S. 15 (1) are wide in their scope. A Magistrate has jurisdiction to direct detention of a person as a lunatic on information contained in official correspondence and a personal presentation of a written complaint is not necessary. 1936 Sind 156 (157) [AIR V 23] : 29 Sind L R 431 : 37 Cri L Jour 1082 (DB).

[2] The words "such relative or person" relate to "or is cruelly treated or neglected by any relative or other person having charge of him." Where an order under S. 15 (1) is passed on the ground that the alleged lunatic is not under proper care or control and not on the ground that he is cruelly treated or neglected, there is no necessity of formally summoning the relatives of the lunatic with whom he is living. It is sufficient if the Magistrate calls and speaks to the relatives, although he does not formally summon them. 1936 Sind 156 (157) [AIR V 23] : 29 Sind L R 431 : 37 Cri L Jour 1082 (DB).

[3] Where an Additional District Magistrate passes a reception order under S. 15, the question of maintenance of lunatic has to be decided under S. 88 either by the High Court or by the District Court. The Magistrate acts without jurisdiction in passing order for costs of maintenance. (38) 40 Pun L R 496 (497).

Section 16 — Note 1

[1] The purpose of S. 16 is to limit the period of detention for the purpose of observation. If before the expiry of ten days, the Magistrate is satisfied with the medical officer's report and the medical officer himself does not require full ten days, there is nothing to prevent him from varying his order and shortening the period of detention. 1936 Sind 156 custody for such time not exceeding ten days as may be, in his opinion, necessary to enable the medical officer to determine whether such alleged lunatic is a person in respect of whom a medical certificate may be properly given.

(2) The Magistrate may, from time to time, for the same purpose by order in writing, authorise such further detention of the alleged lunatic for periods not exceeding ten days at a time as he thinks necessary :

Provided that no person shall be detained in accordance with the provisions of this section for a total period exceeding thirty days from the date on which he was first brought before the Magistrate.

17. Commissioner of Police, etc., to act in the Presidency-town.

All acts which the Magistrate is authorised or required to do by section 14, 15 or 16 may be done in the Presidency-towns *[* * *] by the Commissioner of Police; and all duties which an officer in charge of a police-station is authorised or required to perform may be performed in any of the Presidency-towns by an officer of the police force not below the rank of an inspector.

STATE AMENDMENT

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to the whole of the State of Maharashtra, in section 17—

(a) for the words "in the Presidency-towns" substitute the words "in the areas for which the Commissioners of Police have been appointed";

(b) for the words "any of the Presidency-towns" substitute the words "any of the said areas";

(c) in the marginal note, for the words "in the Presidency-town" substitute "in the area under his charge". —Bom. Act LVI of 1959, S. 3 and Sch. [4-1-1960].

18. Medical certificates.

(1) Every medical certificate under this Act shall be made and signed by a medical practitioner or a medical officer, as the case may be, and shall be in the form prescribed.

(2) Every medical certificate shall state the facts upon which the person certifying has formed his opinion that the alleged lunatic is a lunatic, distinguishing facts observed by himself from facts communicated by others; and no reception order on petition shall be made upon a certificate founded only upon facts communicated by others.

(3) Every medical certificate made under this Act shall be evidence of the facts therein appearing and of the judgment therein stated to have been formed by the person certifying on such facts, as if the matters therein appearing had been verified on oath.

19. Time and manner of medical examination of lunatic.

(1) A reception order required to be founded on a medical certificate shall not be made unless the person who signs the medical certificate, or, where two certificates are required, each person who signs a certificate has personally examined the alleged lunatic, in the case of an order upon petition, not more than seven clear days before the date of the presentation of the petition, and, in all other cases not more than seven clear days before the date of the order.

(2) Where two medical certificates are required, a reception order shall not be made unless each person signing a certificate has examined the alleged lunatic separately from the other.

A reception order, if the same appears to be in conformity with this Act, shall be sufficient authority for the petitioner or any person authorised by him, or in the case of an order not made upon petition, for the person authorised so to do by the person making the order, to take the lunatic and convey him, to the place mentioned in such order and for his reception and detention therein, or in any asylum to which he may be removed in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and the order may be acted on without further evidence of the signature or of the jurisdiction of the person making the order :

*[Provided that no reception order shall continue to have effect —

21. Copy of reception order to be sent to person in charge of asylum.

Any authority making a reception order under this Part shall forthwith send a certified copy of the order to the person in charge of the asylum into which such lunatic is to be admitted.

22. Restriction as to asylums into which reception orders may direct admission.

Subject to the provisions of section 85, no Magistrate shall make a reception order for the admission of any lunatic into "[any Government asylum] outside the State in which the Magistrate exercises jurisdiction.

Reception after inquisition

25. Reception after inquisition.

A lunatic so found by inquisition may be admitted into an asylum—

- (1) in the case of an inquisition under Chapter IV, on an order made by, or under the authority of, the High Court;
- (2) in the case of an inquisition under Chapter V, on an order made by the District Court.

26. Order for payment of cost of maintenance of lunatic.

(1) When any lunatic has been admitted into an asylum in accordance with the provisions of section 25, High Court or the District Court, as the case may be, shall, on the application of the person in charge of the asylum, make an order for the payment of the cost of maintenance of the lunatic in the asylum, and may from time to time direct that any sum of money payable under such order shall be recovered from the estate of the lunatic or of any person legally bound to maintain him:

Provided that if at any time it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Court that the lunatic has not sufficient property, and that no person legally bound to maintain such lunatic has sufficient means for the payment of such cost, the Court shall certify the same instead of making such order for the payment of the cost as aforesaid.

(2) An order under sub-section (1) shall be enforced in the same manner and shall be of the same force and effect and subject to the same appeal as a decree made by the Court in a suit in respect of the property or person therein mentioned.

Amendment of order or certificate

27. Amendment of order or certificate.

If, after the reception of any lunatic into any asylum on a reception order, it appears that the order upon which he was received or the medical certificate or certificates upon which such order was made is or are defective or incorrect, the same may at any time afterwards be amended by the person or persons signing the same with the sanction of two or more of the visitors of the said asylum, one of whom shall be a medical officer.

CARE AND TREATMENT

Visitors

28. Appointment of visitors.

(1) The [State Government] shall appoint for every asylum not less than three visitors, one of whom at least shall be a medical officer.

(2) The Inspector-General of Prisons (where such office exists) shall be a visitor ex-officio of all the asylums within the limits of his jurisdiction.

29. Monthly inspection by visitors.

Two or more of the visitors, one of whom shall be a medical officer, shall, once at least in every month, together inspect every part of the asylum of which they are visitors, and see and examine, as far as circumstances will permit, every lunatic and boarder therein, and the order and certificate for the admission of every lunatic admitted since the last visitation of the visitors, and shall enter in a book to be kept for that purpose any remarks which they may deem proper in regard to the management and condition of the asylum and the inmates thereof.

30. Inspection of criminal lunatics by Inspector-General or visitors.

(1) When any person is <sup>a</sup>[detained] under the provisions of section 466 or section 471 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 <sup>b</sup>[or under the provisions of section 103A of the Indian Army Act,<sup>c</sup> 1911], the Inspector-General of Prisons, if such person is <sup>a</sup>[detained] in a jail or the visitors of the asylum or any two of them, if he is <sup>a</sup>[detained] in an asylum, may visit him in order to ascertain his state of mind; and he shall be visited once at least in every six months by such Inspector-General or by two of such visitors as aforesaid; and such Inspector-General or visitors shall make a special report as to the state of mind of such person to the authority under whose order he is <sup>a</sup>[detained].

(2) The <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may empower the officer in charge of the jail in which such person may be <sup>a</sup>[detained] to discharge all or any of the functions of the Inspector-General under sub-section (1).

[a] Substituted for "confined" by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1923 (XI of 1923), S. 2 and Sch. [b] Inserted by the Army (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XXXIII of 1923), S. 5. [c] See now the Army Act, 1950 (XLVI of 1950), S. 145.

Discharge of lunatics

31. Order of discharge from asylum by visitors.

(1) Three of the visitors of any asylum, of whom one shall be a medical officer, may, by order in writing, direct the discharge of any person detained in such asylum, and such person shall thereupon be discharged :

Provided that no order under this sub-section shall be made in the case of a person detained under a reception order under section 12, or, in the case of a criminal lunatic, otherwise than as provided by section 30 of the Prisoners Act, 1900.

(2) When such order is made, if the person is detained under the order of any public authority, notice of the order of discharge shall be immediately communicated to such authority.

32. Discharge of lunatics in other cases and of European military lunatics.

(1) A lunatic detained in an asylum under a reception order, made on petition, shall be discharged if the person on whose petition the reception order was made so applies in writing to the person in charge of the asylum:

Provided that no lunatic shall be discharged under the provisions of sub-section (1) if the officer in charge of the asylum certifies in writing that the lunatic is dangerous and unfit to be at large.

(2) A person detained in an asylum under a reception order made under section 12 shall be detained therein until he is discharged therefrom in accordance with the military <sup>a</sup>[ , naval] <sup>b</sup>[or air force] regulations in force for the time being, or until the officer making the order applies for his transfer to the military <sup>a</sup>[ , naval] <sup>b</sup>[or air force] authorities in view to his removal to England.

(3) Whenever it appears to the officer in charge of an asylum that the discharge of a person therein detained under an order made under section 12 is necessary either on account of his recovery, or for any other purpose, such person shall be brought before the visitors of the asylum, and on the visitors recording their opinion that the discharge should be made, the General or other Officer Commanding the division, district, brigade, or force, or other officer authorised to order the admission of such persons into an asylum, shall forthwith direct him to be discharged, and such discharge shall take place in accordance with the military <sup>a</sup>[ , naval] <sup>b</sup>[or air force] regulations in force for the time being.

[a] Inserted by the Amendment Act, 1934 (XXXV of 1934), S. 2 and Sch. [b] Inserted by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1927 (X of 1927), S. 2 and Sch. 1.

33. Order of discharge on undertaking of relative for due care of the lunatic.

When any relative or friend of a lunatic detained in any asylum under the provisions of section 14, 15 or 17 is desirous that such lunatic shall be delivered over to his care and custody, he may make application to the authority under whose order the lunatic is detained, and such authority, if it thinks fit, in consultation with the person in charge of the asylum and with the visitors or with one of them being a medical officer, and upon such relative or friend entering into a bond with or without sureties for such sum of money as the said authority thinks fit conditioned that such lunatic shall be properly taken care of and shall be prevented from doing injury to himself or to others, may make an order for the discharge of such lunatic, and such lunatic shall thereupon be discharged.

STATE AMENDMENTS

GUJARAT

Same as that given under Maharashtra.

MADHYA PRADESH

In its application to the whole State of Madhya Pradesh, after section 33, the following new section shall be inserted namely :—

“33-A. Temporary release of lunatics on parole. (1) When any relative or friend of a lunatic detained in, asylum under the provisions of section 7, 10, 14 or 15 is desirous that such lunatic shall be temporarily released and delivered over to his care and custody, he may make an application to the person in charge of the asylum, who shall make an order for the temporary release of such lunatic for a period not exceeding sixty days, unless for any reason he considers that such release is undesirable and such lunatic shall, thereupon, be so released.

(2) No order under sub-section (1) for the temporary release of a lunatic detained under section 7 or 10 shall be passed except on an application of the petitioner on whose petition such lunatic was detained or without the consent in writing of such petitioner :

Provided that, if in any such case, it appears to the person in charge of the asylum that such petitioner refuses, without sufficient reasons, to accord such consent, he shall refer the application made to him under sub-section (1) to the Magistrate who would have jurisdiction to detain such lunatic under section 7 or 10 and such Magistrate may, after making such enquiry as he thinks fit, order the temporary release of such lunatic for the period specified in sub-section (1).

(3) Any order made for the release of a lunatic under sub-section (1) may, on the application of any relative or friend, at any time during the period of his release, be set aside or varied by the Magistrate who would have jurisdiction to detain such lunatic in any asylum under section 7, 10, 14 or 15 on any ground other than that the lunatic was not in a state of mind fit to be released at the time the order for his release was made under sub-section (1). If the order of release is so set aside, the lunatic shall be re-admitted and detained in the asylum.

(4) If a lunatic released under sub-section (1) or (2) is, at any time during the period of his release, found to be unmanageable or dangerous and unfit to be at large, the person who applied for his release may take the lunatic to the asylum, and such lunatic shall thereupon be re-admitted and detained in the asylum.

(5) If a lunatic released under sub-section (1) or (2) does not return to the asylum at the expiration of the period for which he was released and if no order for his discharge has been passed under section 31 or section 33 or if he is, at any time during the period of his release, found to be unmanageable or dangerous or unfit to be at large and the person who applied for his release states by a written application to the person in charge of the asylum that he is unable to bring him to the asylum such lunatic shall be deemed to have escaped from the asylum and may at any time within one month after the expiration of the said period be re-taken to and detained in the asylum in the manner provided in section 36 :

Provided that such a person shall be deemed to be discharged if on or before the expiry of the period for which he was released, the Board of Visitors is satisfied either (a) as a result of investigations conducted by the person in charge of the asylum concerned or (b) on receipt of a certificate signed by a medical practitioner that the person may with safety be discharged."

MADRAS

After section 33, Madras Act XV of 1938, the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

"33A. Temporary order of discharge of lunatic in interests of his health. If the person in charge of any asylum in which a lunatic is detained under the provisions of section 7, 10, 14, 15 or 17, is satisfied that in the interests of the health of the lunatic, it is necessary to discharge him temporarily, the person aforesaid may order such discharge for such period as he may think fit and subject to such conditions as the Provincial Government may by rule prescribe."

— Mad. Act XV of 1938, S. 2. [25-10-1938]; XII of 1943, S. 2. [22-6-1943] and VII of 1948.

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to the State of Bombay, section 33A is inserted after section 33. This new section 33A is same as that given under Madhya Pradesh subject to the following modifications, namely :—

(a) Delete the words "on parole" from the marginal note.

(b) In sub-section (1), for "detained in asylum" substitute "detained in any asylum."

(c) In sub-sections (1) and (3), for the word and figures "or 15" substitute the word and figures "15 or 17".

— Bom. Act XV of 1938, S. 2 [24-6-1938].

SAURASHTRA

Same as that of Maharashtra — Saur. Act XLII of 1953, S. 2 [14-12-1953].

34. Discharge of person subsequently found on inquisition not to be of unsound mind.

If any lunatic detained in an asylum on a reception order made under section 7, 10, 14, 15 or 17 is subsequently found on an inquisition under Chapter IV or Chapter V not to be of unsound mind and incapable of managing himself and his affairs the person in charge of the asylum shall forthwith, on the production of a certified copy of such finding, discharge the alleged lunatic from the asylum.

Removal of lunatics

35. Removal of lunatics and criminal lunatics.

Provided that no lunatic admitted into an asylum on a reception order made on petition shall be removed in accordance with the provisions of this sub-section until notice of such intended removal has been given to the petitioner.

(2) The <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may make such general or special order as <sup>a</sup>[it] thinks fit directing the removal of any person for whose <sup>d</sup>[detention] an order has been made under section 466 or section 471 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, <sup>a</sup>[or under section 103A of the Indian Army Act, 1911], from the place where he is for the time being <sup>a</sup>[detained] to any asylum, jail or other place of safe custody <sup>b</sup>[in the State, or to any asylum jail or other place of safety in any other State with the consent of the State Government of that State].

[h] Substituted for "in British India" by Act XXXVIII of 1920, S. 2 and Sch. I.

*Escape and re-capture36. Order to justify detention and re-capture after escape.

Every person received into an asylum under any such order as is required by this Act, may be detained therein until he is removed or discharged as authorised by law, and in case of escape may, by virtue of such order be re-taken by any police-officer or by the person in charge of such asylum, or any officer or servant belonging thereto, or any other person authorised in that behalf by the said person in charge, and conveyed to and received and detained in such asylum :

Provided that in the case of a lunatic not being a criminal lunatic or a lunatic in respect of whom a reception order has been made under section 12, the power to re-take such escaped lunatic under this section shall be exerciseable only for a period of one month from the date of his escape.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have amended, on the lines of the English Act [i.e. Lunacy Act, 1890], the provisions of the Bill regarding the re-arrest of escaped lunatics. These provisions are contained in [S. 36]. Under this [section] a lunatic who remains at large for more than one month after his escape can only be arrested and admitted into an asylum if fresh proceedings are taken against him under this Act."—S. C. R.

PART III*JUDICIAL INQUISITION AS TO LUNACY*CHAPTER IV*PROCEEDINGS IN LUNACY IN PRESIDENCY-TOWNSInquisition37. Jurisdiction in lunacy in Presidency-towns.

The Courts having jurisdiction under this Chapter shall be the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay.

38. Court may order inquisition as to persons alleged to be insane.

(1) The Court may upon application by order direct an inquisition whether a person subject to the jurisdiction of the Court who is alleged to be lunatic, is of unsound mind and incapable of managing himself and his affairs.

(2) Such order may also contain directions for inquiries concerning the nature of the property belonging to the alleged lunatic, the persons who are his relatives, the time during which he has been of unsound mind, or such other matters as to the Court may seem proper.

[1] The original jurisdiction of the High Court at Calcutta over lunatics extends to all persons, European and Indian residents in Calcutta and to all British born subjects throughout the Presidency of Bengal. The temporary removal to the mofussil of lunatic having his home, his place of business, his family and his servants in Calcutta, is not sufficient to oust the jurisdiction of the High Court over the lunatic. 1920 Cal 329 (330) [AIR V 7] (DB). (Per le non . . . independent et contra.)

[2] Where an alleged lunatic is subject to the jurisdiction of a High Court under S. 37, the District Court has no jurisdiction under S. 62, even though the person may reside within the Local limits of the jurisdiction of the District Court. 1921 Cal 309 (311) [AIR V 8] : 48 Cal 577 (SB).

[3] The original side of the Calcutta High Court has no jurisdiction to direct an inquisition or appoint a guardian of the person or property of an Indian alleged to be a lunatic and not resident in Calcutta. 1932 Cal 91 (92) [AIR V 19] : 58 Cal 919.

[4] Sections grouped in Chaps. IV and V of Part III of the Lunacy Act, confer on the Court certain powers which can only be exercised in respect of the person or property of lunatic so found on inquisition. But these sections do not in terms contemplate or sanction the making of any interim order for the custody or the management of the estate of a person before he is adjudged to be a lunatic. There is no express provision in the Act, authorizing such an order. Nor is there anything in the rules framed by the High Court and embodied in Chap. 30 of the Original Side Rules. 1949 Cal 166 (169) [AIR V 38 C 40] : 1 L R (1947) 2 Cal 163.

and such an order is intended by the statutes to be judicial determination carefully made upon adequate materials. 1934 Nag 27 (27) [AIR V 21] : 30 Nag L R 224 * 1924 Cal 858 (858) [AIR V 11] : 51 Cal 480 (DB) * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42] * 1951 Mad 648 (649) [AIR V 38 C 188] * 1949 All 449 (451) [AIR V 38 C 188] : ILR (1950) All 396 (DB).

[2] An application for inquisition should be verified. ('86) 1866 Suth W R (Mis) 54 (55) (DB) * ('87) 7 Suth W R 267 (267) (DB).

[3] Section 38 does not define the test to be applied to determine whether a person is or is not subject to the jurisdiction of the High Court for the purpose of judicial inquisition as to lunacy. But the proceedings are directed primarily against the person and only secondarily against his property. The right of the Court to learn judicially whether a person is or is not of unsound mind is inferred from the right to his care and custody provided he is insane. Such authority over the person may, unless otherwise directed by statute, be ordinarily exercised in the case of residents within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court. It may also be exercised over non-residents, if there is statutory provision to that effect. 1921 Cal 309 (311) [AIR V 8] : 48 Cal 577 (SB) * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[4] It is only with lunatics as defined in S. 3 (5) that the Act is concerned. It is therefore the duty of the Court before proceeding further to determine judicially whether the person alleged to be incapable of managing himself or his affairs is really a "lunatic" in this sense. The finding has got very far reaching consequences and must be given after very great care and deliberation. 1930 Lah 289 (291) [AIR V 17] * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[5] The bare assertion of witnesses, unsupported by any details of the causes, the course and the treatment of the malady ought not to be accepted as satisfactory proof of insanity. ('74) 22 Suth W R 33 (33) (DB).

[6] What has to be found under the Lunacy Act is that the person is of unsound mind and that the unsoundness of mind is such as to make him incapable of managing his affairs. A person who is incapable of managing his affairs is not necessarily of unsound mind and a person of unsound mind may not be incapable of managing his affairs. The Court must hold that both unsoundness of mind and incapacity to manage his affairs are present and that the latter is due to the former. 1935 Mad 91 (91) [AIR V 22] : 58 Mad 281 (DB) * ('05) 1905 All W N 8 (9) (DB) * 1934 Nag 27 (28) [AIR V 21] : 30 Nag L R 224.

[8] From the mere fact that due to an attack of infantile paralysis when aged three the mental development of a person was arrested, it does not follow that he is of unsound mind. 1935 Mad 91 (91) [AIR V 22] : 58 Mad 281 (DB).

[9] Person of weak memory, on account of paralysis and old age, cannot necessarily be said to be of unsound mind and incapable of managing his affairs. 1926 Cal 155 (157) [AIR V 13] (DB).

[10] The law does not contemplate that a person alleged to be a lunatic should be exposed to the publicity and harassment of a trial unless there is some foundation for apprehending that he is incapable of managing his affairs. ('11) 8 All L Jour 179 (181) (DB).

[11] Mere weakness of intellect not being unsoundness of mind, proceedings under this Act cannot be taken in respect of a person of weak intellect, though he may, from such weakness of intellect, be incapable of managing his own affairs. ('06) 4 Cal L Jour 115 (117, 118) (DB) * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[12] It by no means follows that because a man may have delusions upon one or two points that he is incapable of managing his affairs. ('11) 8 All L Jour 179 (181) (DB).

[13] The elaborate procedure laid down by the Legislature for conducting an inquiry must be strictly followed. The Court should not consider itself relieved of its responsibility by the mere circumstance that some or all of the relatives of the person concerned have declared that he is a lunatic. The Court ought to form its independent judgment. 1930 Lah 289 (291) [AIR V 17] * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[14] A Judge has got a discretion to stop proceedings in an inquisition for proper grounds, as for instance, where the medical evidence shows that further enquiry is unnecessary. A petitioner is not entitled under the Act to have the inquiry conducted so long as he is able to tender witnesses for examination. 1917 Mad 194 (194) [AIR V 4] (DB) * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[16] Where the Judge has prima facie evidence before him, which consists of affidavits and documents filed by consent, there is nothing wrong in his ordering the production of the lunatic, directing his examination by a Medical Officer and adjudging him a lunatic on the strength of the medical report. 1951 Mad 648 (649) [AIR V 38 C 188].

[17] Inquisition — Medical examination, Judge having prima facie evidence before him — Order for producing lunatic and directing his examination by Medical Officer not wrong — Notice should be served on lunatic before making such order — Lunatic served with notice — Inquisition can proceed ex parte. 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

39. Application by whom to be made.

Application for such inquisition may be made by any relative of the alleged lunatic, or by the Advocate-General.

40. Notice of time and place of inquisition.

(1) Notice shall be given to the alleged lunatic of the time and place at which it is proposed to hold the inquisition.

(2) If it appears that personal service on the alleged lunatic would be ineffectual, the Court may direct such substituted service of the notice as it thinks fit.

(3) The Court may also direct a copy of such notice to be served upon any relative of the alleged lunatic and upon any other person to whom in the opinion of the Court notice of the application should be given.

41. Powers of Court in respect of attendance and examination of lunatic.

(1) The Court may require the alleged lunatic to attend at such convenient time and place as it may appoint for the purpose of being personally examined by the Court, or by any person from whom the Court may desire to have a report of the mental capacity and condition of such alleged lunatic.

(2) The Court may likewise make an order authorising any person or persons therein named to have access to the alleged lunatic for the purpose of a personal examination.

42. Rules respecting attendance and examination of females alleged to be lunatic.

The attendance and examination of the alleged lunatic under the provisions of section 41 shall, if the alleged lunatic be a woman who, according to the manners and customs of the country, ought not to be compelled to appear in public, be regulated by the law and practice for the examination of such persons in other civil cases.

[1] The notice contemplated by S. 40 is a notice to be drawn up after there has been an order directing an inquisition. It is notice of such order and of the time and place at which the inquisition is to be held. It is not a notice of the petition. There is nothing in the Lunacy Act about general notices. 1927 Cal 636 (638, 639) [AIR V 14] : 54 Cal 636 (DB) * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[2] Once notice has been served on the alleged lunatic in the manner provided by S. 40, subsequent proceedings may be ex parte and the attendance of the alleged lunatic is not a condition precedent to the disposal of the inquisition proceedings. 1926 Sind 223 (224) [AIR V 13] * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[1] If the alleged lunatic is a person of rank exempted from personal appearance in Court in ordinary civil proceedings, his personal appearance in Court in an enquiry into the state of his mind should be dispensed with. ('06) 5 Suth W R (Mis) 54 (55) (DB) * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[2] It is not intended that the alleged lunatic should be summoned before a public Court as a witness, and subjected to examination as a witness by the vakil of the person on whose petition the enquiry was instituted. ('67) 7 Suth W R 246 (246) (DB) * 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[1] Section 42 in terms refers only to the attendance and examination of the lunatic in Court; but the principle contained in S. 42

43. Power to direct District Court to make inquisition in certain cases.

(1) If the alleged lunatic is not within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, and the inquisition cannot conveniently be made in the manner hereinbefore provided, the Court may direct the inquisition to be made before the District Court within whose local jurisdiction the alleged lunatic may be; and such District Court shall accordingly proceed to make such inquisition in the same manner as if the alleged lunatic were subject to its jurisdiction, and shall certify its finding upon the matters of inquisition to the Court directing the inquisition.

(2) The record of evidence taken upon the inquisition shall be transmitted, together with any remarks the Court may think fit to make thereon, to the Court by which the inquisition was directed.

44. Amendment of finding of District Court if defective or insufficient in form.

If the finding of the District Court appears to the Court directing the inquisition to be defective or insufficient in point of form it may either amend the same or refer it back to the Court which made the inquisition to be amended.

45. Proceedings on finding of Court.

The finding of the Court on the inquisition or the finding of the District Court to which the inquisition may have been referred under the provisions of section 43 with such amendments as may be made under the provisions of section 44, as the case may be, shall have the same effect, and be proceeded on in the same manner in regard to the appointment of a guardian of the person and a manager of the estate of the lunatic as the findings referred to in section 12 of the Lunacy (Supreme Courts) Act, 1958* immediately before the commencement of this Act.

*Judicial powers over person and estate of lunatic.46. Custody of lunatics and management of their estates.

(1) The Court may make orders for the custody of lunatics so found by inquisition and the management of their estates.

(2) When upon the inquisition it is specially found that the person to whom the inquisition relates is of unsound mind so as to be incapable of managing his affairs, but that he is capable of managing himself, and is not dangerous to himself or to others, the Court may make such orders as it thinks fit for the management of the estate of the lunatic including proper provision for the maintenance of the lunatic and of such members of his family as are dependent on him for maintenance, but it shall not be necessary to make any order as to the custody of the person of the lunatic.

47. Powers of manager in respect of management of lunatic's estate.

The Court, on the appointment of a manager of the estate of a lunatic, may direct by the order of appointment, or by any subsequent order, that such manager shall have such powers for the management of the estate as to the Court may seem necessary and proper, reference being had to the nature of

[1] A person seeking to be a manager of the estate of the lunatic under S. 46 cannot rely upon an executive order made by a Magistrate under S. 11 or S. 11A of the Act. the property, whether moveable or immoveable, of which the estate may consist :

Provided that no manager so appointed shall without the permission of the Court—

- (a) mortgage, charge or transfer by sale, gift, exchange or otherwise any immoveable property of the lunatic; or
- (b) lease any such property for a term exceeding five years.

Such permission may be granted subject to any condition or restriction which the Court thinks fit to impose.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have . . . . . provided . . . . . that a manager appointed by the High Court shall have power to lease any immoveable property for any term upto five years without the permission of the Court; we have in this respect assimilated the powers of a manager under the High Court to those of a manager under the District Court."—S. C. R.

48. Power to make order concerning any matter connected with the lunacy.

The Court may, on application made to it by petition concerning any matter whatsoever connected with the lunatic or his estate, make such order, subject to the provisions of this Chapter, respecting the application, as in the circumstances it thinks fit.

Management and administration

49. Power to dispose of lunatic's property for certain purposes.

The Court may, if it appears to be just or for the lunatic's benefit, order that any property, moveable or immoveable, of the lunatic, and whether in possession, reversion, remainder, or contingency, be sold, charged, mortgaged, dealt with or otherwise disposed of as may seem most expedient for the purpose of raising or securing or repaying with or without interest money to be applied or which has been applied to all or any of the following purposes, namely—

- (1) the payment of the lunatic's debts or engagements;
- (2) the discharge of any incumbrance on his property;
- (3) the payment of any debt or expenditure incurred for the lunatic's maintenance or otherwise for his benefit;
- (4) the payment of or provision for the expenses of his future maintenance and the maintenance of such members of his family as are dependent on him for maintenance, including the expenses of his removal to Europe, if he shall be so removed, and all expenses incidental thereto;
- (5) the payment of the costs of any inquiry under this Chapter, and of any costs incurred by order or under the authority of the Court.

50. Execution of conveyances and powers by manager under order of Court.

(1) The manager of the lunatic's estate shall, in the name and on behalf of the lunatic, execute all such conveyances and instruments of transfer relative to any sale, mortgage or other disposition of his estate as the Court may order.

Section 48—Note 1

[1] The use of the word "petition" in S. 48 is used in contradistinction to a "suit" and indicates that matters, properly the subject of the provisions of S. 48, can be brought before the Court by a proceeding other than a suit. The Court having been seized of the matter regarding the lunatic and his estate by means of an original petition under which it is found that the person is of unsound mind and incapable of managing himself and his affairs, it is unnecessary that any further proceedings arising in respect of the matter should have to be prosecuted by means of another original petition. However, S. 48 is not mandatory but is permissible and the Court should refer the parties to a suit in cases which it considers likely to be complex or lengthy or properly matters which should be voiced by way of a suit and which cannot conveniently be dealt with by the summary procedure indicated in S. 48. 1939 Mad 224 (226, 227) [AIR V 26]*1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

(2) Such manager shall, in like manner, under the order of the Court, exercise all powers whatsoever vested in a lunatic, whether the same are vested in him for his own benefit or in the character of trustee or guardian.

51. Court may order performance of contract.

Where a person, having contracted to sell or otherwise dispose of his estate or any part thereof, afterwards becomes lunatic, the Court may, if the contract is such as the Court thinks ought to be performed, direct the manager of the estate to execute such conveyances and to do such other acts in fulfilment of the contract as it shall think proper.

52. Dissolution and disposal of property of partnership on a member becoming lunatic.

(1) Where a person, being a member of a partnership firm, is found to be a lunatic, the Court may, on the application of the other partners, or of any person who appears to the Court to be entitled to require the same, dissolve the partnership.

(2) Upon such dissolution, or upon a dissolution by decree of Court or otherwise by due course of law, the manager of the estate may, in the name and on behalf of the lunatic, join with the other partners in disposing of the partnership property upon such terms, and shall do all such acts for carrying into effect the dissolution of the partnership, as the Court shall think proper.

53. Disposal of business premises.

Where a lunatic has been engaged in business the Court may, if it appears to be for the lunatic's benefit that the business premises should be disposed of, order the manager of the estate to sell and dispose of the same, and the moneys arising from such sale shall be applied in such manner as the Court may direct.

54. Manager may dispose of lease.

Where a lunatic is entitled to a lease or under-lease, and it appears to be for the benefit of his estate that it should be disposed of, the manager of the estate may, by order of the Court, surrender, assign or otherwise dispose of the same to such person for such valuable or nominal consideration, and upon such terms, as the Court thinks fit.

55. Assumption of charge by Court of Wards of land belonging to a lunatic in certain cases.

If a lunatic is possessed of any immoveable property situate beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which, by the law in force in the State wherein such property is situated, subjects the proprietor, if disqualified, to the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards, the said Court of Wards may assume the charge of such property and manage the same according to the law for the time being in force for such management :

Provided that---

(1) in such case, no further proceedings in respect of the lunacy shall be taken under any such law, nor shall it be competent to the Court of Wards or to any Collector to appoint a guardian of the person of the said lunatic or a manager of the estate except of the immoveable property which so subjects the proprietor as aforesaid :

(2) the surplus of the income of such property, after providing for the payment of the Government revenue and expenses of management, shall be disposed of from time to time in such manner as the High Court may direct :

(3) nothing contained in this section shall affect the powers given to the High Court by sections 49, 50 and 51 or (except so far as relates to the management of the said immoveable property which so subjects the proprietor as aforesaid) the powers given by any other section.

56. Power to apply property for lunatic's maintenance without appointing manager in certain cases.

(1) If it appears to the Court, having regard to the situation and condition in life of the lunatic and his family and the other circumstances of the case to be expedient that his property should be made available for his or their maintenance in a direct and inexpensive manner it may, instead of appointing a manager of the estate, order that the property if money or if of any other description the produce thereof, when realized, be paid to such person as the Court may think fit, to be applied for the purpose aforesaid.

(2) The receipt of the person so appointed shall be a valid discharge to any person who pays any money or delivers any property of the lunatic to such person.

Where any stock or Government securities or any share in a company (transferable within "[India] or the dividends of which are payable there) is or are standing in the name of, or vested in, a lunatic, beneficially entitled thereto, or in a manager of the estate of a lunatic, or in a trustee for him, and the manager dies intestate, or himself becomes lunatic, or is out of the jurisdiction of the Court, or it is uncertain whether the manager is living or dead, or he neglects or refuses to transfer the stock, securities or shares, or to receive and pay over thereof the dividends to a new manager or as the Court directs, within fourteen days after being required by the Court to do so, then the Court may order some fit person to make such transfer, or to transfer the same, and to receive and pay over the dividends in such manner as the Court directs.

58. Power to order transfer of stock of lunatic residing out of India and the United Kingdom.

Where any such stock or Government securities or share in a company is or are standing in the name of, or vested in, any person residing out of "[India] and not in any part of the United Kingdom, the Court upon being satisfied that such person has been declared lunatic, and that his personal estate has been vested in a person appointed for the management thereof, according to the law of the place where he is residing, may order some fit person to make such transfer of the stock, securities or shares or of any part thereof, to or into the name of the person so appointed or otherwise, and also to receive and pay over the dividends and proceeds as the Court thinks fit.

*General59. Power to apply property for lunatic's maintenance in case of temporary lunacy.

If it appears to the Court that the unsoundness of mind of a lunatic is in its nature temporary, and that it is expedient to make temporary provision for his maintenance or for the maintenance of such members of his family as are dependent on him for their maintenance, the court may, in like manner as under section 56, direct his property or a sufficient part of it to be applied for the purpose aforesaid.

See under section 74, post.

60. Proceedings in lunacy to cease or to be set aside if Court finds that the unsoundness of mind has ceased.

(1) When any person has been found under this Chapter to be of unsound mind, and it is subsequently shown to the Court that there is reason to believe that such unsoundness of mind has ceased, the Court may make an order for inquiring whether such person is still of unsound mind and incapable of managing himself and his affairs.

(2) The inquiry shall be conducted as far as may be in the manner prescribed in this Chapter for an inquisition into the unsoundness of mind of an alleged lunatic; and if it is found that the unsoundness of mind has ceased, the Court shall order all proceedings in the lunacy to cease or to be set aside on such terms and conditions as to the Court may seem fit.

61. Power of Court to make rules.

The Court may, from time to time, make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Chapter in matters of lunacy.

CHAPTER V*PROCEEDINGS IN LUNACY OUTSIDE PRESIDENCY-TOWNSInquisition62. Power of District Court to institute inquisition as to persons alleged to be lunatic.

Whenever any person not subject to the jurisdiction of any of the Courts mentioned in section 37 is possessed of property and is alleged to be a lunatic, the District Court, within whose jurisdiction such person is residing may, upon application, by order direct an inquisition for the purpose of ascertaining whether such person is of unsound mind and incapable of managing himself and his affairs.

63. Application by whom to be made.

(1) Application for such inquisition may be made by any relative of the alleged lunatic or by any public Curator appointed under the Succession (Property Protection) Act, 1841<sup>a</sup> (hereinafter referred to as the Curator), or by the Government Pleader, as defined in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, or if the property of the alleged lunatic consists in whole or in part of land or any interest in land, by the Collector of the district in which it is situate.

(2) If the property or any part thereof is of such a description that it would by the law in force in any <sup>a</sup>[State] where such property is situate subject the proprietor, if disqualified, to the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards, the application may be made by the Collector on behalf of the Court of Wards.

[6] The first thing which has to be done upon an application for directing an inquisition under R. 62 is that the Judge either with notice to the lunatic or without notice should carefully consider whether the case is one which calls for an order directing an inquisition. If he considers that it calls for an order directing an inquisition then it is his obvious duty to record an order directing an inquisition. When he has once done that he is then, by the combined operation of S. 62 with Ss. 40, 41 and 42 of the Act, to take certain steps with regard to notice. It is only a preliminary investigation which is required to justify an order directing an inquisition. Then, an order having been duly made directing an inquisition, the date having arrived and proper notices having been given, the inquisition itself proceeds. Without an order directing an inquisition the inquisition itself is without jurisdiction. 1927 Cal 636 (637, 638) [AIR V 14] : 54 Cal 836 (DB) + 1930 Lah 289 (292) [AIR V 17].

[8] Factum of lunacy being contested, Court should not base its conclusion on personal observation alone but follow the procedure in S. 62. 1926 Lah 580 (586) [AIR V 13].

[12] An order directing an inquisition into a man's state of mind is a very serious thing and such an order is intended by the statute to be a judicial determination carefully made upon adequate material. 1951 Mad 648 (649) [AIR V 38 C 188] + 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[13] An alleged lunatic has his permanent residence where his paternal home exists and where his family resides and the District Court having jurisdiction over that place can entertain an application for directing judicial inquisition under S. 62. 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[14] Temporary removal of a lunatic to mofussil does not oust the jurisdiction of a High Court over the lunatic. An application under S. 62 in relation to such lunatic must be made on the original side of the High Court. 1955 NUC (Mad) 3889 [AIR V 42].

[15] When the lunatic dies the lunacy jurisdiction comes to an end and the Court must pass some order about the property in the hands of the manager. If the title to the property be in dispute the Court may either decide the issue or ask the manager to file an interpleader suit. But whichever course is followed, the order of the Court will be referable to the jurisdiction exercised over the property of the lunatic under Chap. V of the Lunacy Act and the order must be deemed to be an order under that chapter and according to S. 83 an appeal would be from such an order. 1949 Nag 108 (109) [AIR V 36 C 38] : H.R. [2] An application under S. 63 can be filed by any person and it need not be filed by a person who is interested in the property of the lunatic. No question of title to any property is involved and it cannot be said that an order under the Lunacy Act affects directly or indirectly any claim to property. The case, therefore, does not come within Part 2 of

The provisions of sections 40, 41 and 42 shall regulate the proceedings of the District Court with regard to the matters to which they relate.

65. Inquisition by District Court and finding thereon.

(1) The District Court, if it thinks fit, may appoint two or more persons to act as assessors to the Court in the said inquisition.

(2) Upon the completion of the inquisition, the Court shall determine whether the alleged lunatic is of unsound mind and incapable of managing himself and his affairs or may come to a special finding that such alleged lunatic is of unsound mind so as to be incapable of managing his affairs, but that he is capable of managing himself and is not dangerous to himself or to others.

66. Inquisition by subordinate Court on commission issued by District Court and proceedings thereon.

(1) If the alleged lunatic resides at a distance of more than fifty miles from the place where the District Court is held to which the application is made, the said Court may issue a Commission to any subordinate Court to make the inquisition, and such subordinate Court shall thereupon conduct the inquisition in the manner hereinbefore provided in this Chapter.

[1] After the inquisition has been completed, the Court must record a judicial finding on points mentioned in S. 65 (2) on the materials before it. It is only when these findings have been arrived at as a result of the inquisition that the jurisdiction of the Court to proceed further with the case arises. 1930 Lah 289 (292) [AIR V 17].

[7] The scope of an inquiry under R. 15 of O. 32, Civil P. C. is not the same as that contemplated under the Lunacy Act. Where an application is presented for the stay of proceedings in the suit or in the alternative for the transfer of the suit to the court in which a lunacy petition relating to one of the parties is pending but as on the date of that application the inquiry under O. 38, R. 15 had practically concluded it is not a fit case for exercising the inherent power of the court to grant the application. 1954 Trav-Co 380 (381) [AIR V 41 C 131].

[9] Unsoundness of mind implies some unusual feature of the mind as has tended to make it different from the normal and has in effect impaired the man's capacity to look after his affairs in a manner in which another person without such mental irregularity would be able to do in a matter of his own. If a man is able to understand and answer questions on various matters except those relating to arithmetical calculations, he cannot be regarded as mentally unsound, although he would be held as having a weak or undeveloped mind. 1949 All 449 (452) [AIR V 36 C 168]; ILR (1950) All 396 (DB).

[10] An order declaring a person to be of unsound mind and incapable on that account of managing his affairs is an order of a very serious character. It has the effect of disqualifying him from using his own property in the manner he desires and placing a drastic check on his rights and privileges. (2) On the completion of the inquisition the subordinate Court shall transmit the record of its proceedings with the opinions of the assessors if assessors have been appointed, and its own opinion on the case; and the District Court shall thereupon proceed to dispose of the application in the manner provided in section 65, sub-section (2);

Provided that the District Court may direct the subordinate Court to make such further or other inquiries as it thinks fit before disposing of the application.

Judicial powers over person and estate of lunatic

67. Custody of lunatics and management of their estates.

(1) The Court may make orders for the custody of lunatics so found by inquisition and the management of their estates.

(2) When upon the inquisition it is specially found that the person to whom the inquisition relates is of unsound mind so as to be incapable of managing his affairs, but that he is capable of managing himself and is not dangerous to himself or to others, the Court may make such orders as it thinks fit for the management of the estate of the lunatic including proper provisions for the maintenance of the lunatic and of such members of his family as are dependant on him for maintenance, but it shall not be necessary to make any order as to the custody of the person of the lunatic.

68. Court of Wards to be authorised in certain cases to take charge of estate of lunatic.

If the estate of a lunatic so found or any part thereof consists of property which, by the law for the time being in force, subjects the proprietor, if disqualified, to the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards, the Court of Wards shall be authorised to take charge of the same.

Section 67 — Note 1

[1] A petition to appoint a manager should not be dismissed without enquiry because the counter-petitioner denies the existence of any property belonging to the lunatic. The existence of such property is necessary as a prerequisite to the Court taking action and must be ascertained by enquiry when the existence of such is alleged by the petitioner and denied by the other party. (106) 29 Mad 310 (311) (DB).

[2] There is an inherent power in the Court dealing with lunacy matters to appoint an interim receiver, even though no action may be pending at the time and it makes no difference whether the lunatic has or has not been so found by inquisition. 1937 Cal 735 (737) [AIR V 24] : ILR (1938) 1 Cal 180 (DB).

[3] There is no provision in chapter 5, Lunacy Act, which would empower the Court to appoint an interim curator of a lunatic. 1943 Bom 387 (392) [AIR V 30] (DB).

[4] Where the manager of a Mitakshara family is a lunatic, a manager of the joint family property cannot be appointed because such a manager will obtain no right of management over the joint property. 1955 Andhra 261 (262) [AIR V 42 C 94] (DB).

[5] Although there is no express provision in the Lunacy Act authorising the Court to make any interim order for the custody or the management of the estate of a person before he is adjudged to be a lunatic, the Act is not exhaustive and does not take away the inherent power of a Court to do so. Proceedings in lunacy being civil proceedings in a Court of civil jurisdiction, S. 141, C. P. Code, will apply and the powers for making interlocutory orders under O. 39 and O. 40 must necessarily become available to the Court. This section will also save the inherent powers of the Court. 1949 Cal 166 (169) [AIR V 38 C 40] : ILR (1947) 2 Cal 163.

[6] Under S. 67 of the Lunacy Act the District Judge on coming to a finding that the lunatic is incapable of managing his affairs, is empowered to appoint a manager and to entrust to him for management, the estate of the lunatic. Prima facie therefore he can at this stage take possession of and deal only with such property as is undisputed property of the lunatic and the Court will have no jurisdiction to take possession of property regarding which there is genuine dispute. He has thus jurisdiction to decide disputes relating to title to property. 1957 Madh B 96 (96) [AIR V 44 C 39] (DB).

[2] The Civil Court after making an order adjudging the lunatic to be of unsound mind is junctus officio in cases in which the Court of Wards has jurisdiction. In such cases application should be made to the Court of Wards to assume superintendence and if necessary to appoint a manager. It is only in other cases,

69. Power to direct Collector to take charge of person and estate of lunatic in certain cases.

(1) If the estate of a lunatic so found consists in whole or in part of land or any interest in land, but is not of such a nature that it would subject the proprietor, if disqualified, to the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards, the District Court may direct the Collector to take charge of the person and estate of the lunatic :

Provided that no such order shall be made without the consent of the Collector previously obtained.

(2) The Collector shall thereupon appoint a manager of the estate, and may appoint a guardian of the person of the lunatic.

70. Control over proceedings of Collector.

All proceedings of the Collector in regard to the person or estate of a lunatic under this Chapter shall be subject to the control of the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] or of such authority as it may appoint in this behalf.

71. Power of District Court to appoint guardian and manager and take security from manager.

(1) In all other cases the District Court shall appoint a manager of the estate of the lunatic and may appoint a guardian of his person :

Provided that a District Court may, instead of appointing a manager of the estate of a lunatic, exercise any of the powers conferred on the High Court under sections 56 and 59.

(2) Any person who has been appointed by the District Court or Collector to manage the estate of a lunatic shall, if so required, enter into a bond in such form and with such sureties as to the Court or the Collector, as the case may be, may seem fit, engaging duly to account for what he may receive in respect of the property of the lunatic.

i.e., cases where the Court of Wards has not jurisdiction or perhaps in cases when the Court of Wards does not elect to exercise that jurisdiction, that the Civil Court can make an order appointing a manager. ('12) 8 Sind L R 65 (66) (DB).

[4] Once the Court of Wards has been permitted under S. 68 to take charge of the estate of a lunatic the management of the property of a lunatic in such a case is left to be regulated by the special law governing the Court of Wards. 1952 Nag 54 (58) [AIR V 39] : IILR (1951) Nag 869 (DB).

Section 71 — Note 1

[1] It is necessary for the Court to adjudge, upon evidence, a person to be a lunatic before passing an order as to the management of his property and for the guardianship of his person; it cannot proceed upon an admission made by the person who is alleged to be a lunatic. ## 72. Restriction on appointment of legal heir of lunatic to be guardian of his person.

The legal heir of a lunatic shall not be appointed to be the guardian of the person of such lunatic unless the Court or the Collector, as the case may be, for reasons to be recorded in writing, considers that such an appointment is for the benefit of the lunatic.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Under the present law the legal heir of a lunatic cannot in any circumstances be appointed the guardian of his person. We are informed that in many cases the legal heir is the only available guardian and the most suitable person to whose care the lunatic can be entrusted. We have therefore altered the proviso to clause 71, making it a new clause 72, so as to admit of such an appointment when manifestly to the advantage of the lunatic."

73. Remuneration of managers and guardians.

A guardian of the person of a lunatic or a manager of his estate appointed under this Chapter shall be paid such allowance, if any, as the Court or the Collector, as the case may be, thinks fit for his care and pains in the execution of his duties.

Section 71 — Note 1 (contd.)

[5] If a member of a joint Hindu family under the Mitakshara Law be a lunatic, where it is shown that his property is being wasted, the Civil Courts have power to appoint a manager of the lunatic's share under the Lunacy Act, although no doubt a strong case must be made out for the appointment of a manager. 1929 Nag 93 (95) [AIR V 18] : 25 Nag L R 61 (DB).

[6] Beneficial interest of lunatic in joint property belonging to him along with other owners cannot be ignored in deciding what is property of lunatic. 1917 Mad 691 (691) [AIR V 4] (DB).

[7] Lunatic can adopt during the time when his property is vested in a Manager under the Act. 1917 Mad 265 (266) [AIR V 4] : 40 Mad 660 (DB).

[8] The guardian of a lunatic's person is, in matters connected with the guardianship subordinate to the District Court which appointed him. ('97) 24 Cal 133 (140) (DB).

[9] An order appointing a guardian of the person of a lunatic confers on the guardian unless anything exceptional appears to the contrary a right to the custody of the person of the lunatic, and the Court has power to make an order giving custody of the person of the lunatic to the guardian thus appointed. 1934 Mad 724 (724) [AIR V 21] : 58 Mad 252 (DB).

[10] The Act contains no express provisions as to the place of residence of a lunatic governed by the Act. But it contemplates that he shall reside within the jurisdiction of the Court that has found him to be a lunatic. ('97) 24 Cal 133 (141) (DB).

[11] There is no provision in the Act for assignment of the surety bond executed by the surety along with the manager of the lunatic's estate. But as the bond is executed with a view to being enforced and one of the ways of enforcement is by assigning the bond to the person entitled to recover the amount the proper course would be to assign the bond to the heirs of the lunatic. If there are sufficient circumstances to indicate that some amount is likely to be due from the manager of the estate the proper course would be to assign the bond even before the suit for accounts against the manager is filed. 1945 Mad 80 (90) [AIR V 32].

Section 72 — Note 1

[1] Section 72 operates as a kind of warning that particular care should be exercised by the Court, where a person is entitled to inherit part of the property of a lunatic and would, therefore, benefit by his death, to see that the appointment of such person as the guardian of the lunatic is a beneficial one. A legal heir having a greater interest if the lunatic dies, should not be appointed guardian of the person of the minor in preference to another who is a non-heir. 1934 Rang 164 (165) [AIR V 21] (DB).

[2] The High Court as a Court of Appeal will not take upon itself the duty of deciding who may be the fittest person to appoint as guardian of the person or property of a person who is adjudged a lunatic. That duty should rest with the Courts to which it is entrusted by the Lunacy Act. ('93) 15 All 29 (47) (DB).

[3] Restrictions under S. 72 become inapplicable in cases where near relations only can be appointed guardian of person of lunatic. 1925 Oudh 642 (642) [AIR V 12].

[4] Under S. 72, heir of lunatic may be his guardian—Wife has first claim to guardianship of lunatic. 1917 All 456 (457) [AIR V 4] : 39 All 158 (DB).

[5] Where a Shia Muhammadan who was adjudged a lunatic, had a wife at the time of adjudication but their child had died before adjudication and there was no reason precluding the possibility of further issue of the marriage, held that under the Shia Law the wife was one of the legal heirs of the lunatic and as such was excluded from being appointed guardian of the husband. ('93) 15 All 29 (46) (DB).

74. Duties of guardian.

(1) The person appointed to be guardian of lunatic's person shall have the care of his person and maintenance.

(2) When a distinct guardian is appointed, the manager shall pay to the guardian such allowance as may be fixed by the District Court or the Collector, as the case may be, for the maintenance of the lunatic and such members of his family as are dependent on him for their maintenance.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"In this clause and clause 62 [now S. 59] and elsewhere the words "such members of his family as are dependent on him for their maintenance" have been substituted for the word "family" in view of the decision of the Calcutta High Court in the case of Chandrabati v. Manjy Lal, I.L.R. 23 Cal 512."

— S. O. R.

75. Powers of manager.

(1) Every manager of the estate of a lunatic appointed as aforesaid may exercise the same powers in the management of the estate as might have been exercised by the proprietor if not a lunatic, and may collect and pay all just claims, debts and liabilities due to or by the estate of the lunatic :

Provided that no manager so appointed shall without the permission of the Court—

(a) mortgage, charge, or transfer by sale, gift, exchange or otherwise any immovable property of the lunatic,

(b) lease any such property for a term exceeding five years.

Such permission may be granted subject to any condition or restriction which the Court thinks fit to impose.

Section 74 — Note I

[1] The word "family" does not include a married daughter of the lunatic living with her husband apart from her father, but includes only persons living with the lunatic as members of his family and dependent on him for their maintenance. ('98) 23 Cal 512 (514) (DB).

Section 75 — Note I

[2] Where a manager is appointed of a lunatic's estate, it is he alone who can, with the permission of the Court, alienate any portion of it. The Court has no power to do so. 1919 Lah 45 (45) [A I R V 6] : 1919 Pun Re. No. 88.

[3] The tarwad property is not the individual property of the karnavan. Hence, where a Court appoints a manager for a lunatic karnavan, he does not obtain any rights over the tarwad property. ('12) 23 Mad L Jour 706 (711) (DB).

[6] Sale by the certified guardian without Court's permission is not binding on the lunatic's son's shares. 1916 Oudh 206 (207) [AIR V 3].

[7] In the case of a manager of a lunatic appointed under this Act, although he may have been de facto manager of the family property, he can only make a valid alienation in accordance with the provisions of the Act. ('98) 20 Bom 150 (153, 154) (DB). (2) Before granting any such permission, the Court may cause notice of the application for such permission to be served on any relative or friend of the lunatic, and may make or cause to be made such inquiries as to the Court may seem necessary in the interests of the lunatic.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have amended clause 75 so as to allow a Court to annex conditions and restrictions to any permission granted to the manager of a lunatic to mortgage or lease immovable property of such lunatic, and we have also empowered the Court to make or cause to be made such enquiries as it thinks fit, before granting such permission." —S. C. R.

76. Manager to furnish inventory and annual accounts.

(1) Every person appointed by the District Court or by the Collector to be manager of the estate of a lunatic shall, within six months from the date of his appointment, deliver in Court or to the Collector, as the case may be, an inventory of immovable property belonging to the lunatic and of all such money, or other moveable property, as he may receive on account of the estate, together with a statement of all debts due by or to the same.

(2) Every such manager shall also furnish to the Court or to the Collector annually, within three months of the close of the year of the era current in the district, an account of the property in his charge, exhibiting the sums received and disbursed on account of the estate and the balance remaining in his hands.

77. Proceeding if accuracy of inventory or accounts is impugned.

If any relative of the lunatic, or the Collector by petition to the Court, impugns the accuracy of the said inventory and statement, or of any annual account, the Court may summon the manager and inquire summarily into the matter and make such order thereon as it thinks fit; or the Court, at its discretion, may refer any such petition to any subordinate Court or to the Collector if the manager was appointed by the Collector.

78. Payment into public treasury and investment of proceeds of estate.

All sums received by a manager on account of any estate in excess of what may be required for the current expenses of the lunatic or of the estate, shall be paid into the public treasury on account of the estate and shall be invested from time to time in any of the securities specified in section 20 of the Indian Trusts Act, 1882, unless the Court or the Collector, as the case may be, for reasons to be recorded in writing, directs that such sums be in the interest of the lunatic otherwise invested or applied.

79. Relative may sue for an account.

Any relative of a lunatic may with the leave of the District Court sue for an account from any manager appointed under this Chapter, or from any such person after his removal from office or trust, or from his legal representative in case of his death, in respect of any estate then or formerly under his care or management or of any sums of money or other property received by him on account of such estate.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have amended clause 79 by providing that no relative of a lunatic shall sue a manager appointed under this Chapter for accounts without the leave of the District Court. The object of this amendment is to prevent managers from being harassed by frivolous suits."

80. Removal of managers and guardians.

(1) The District Court, for any sufficient cause, may remove any manager appointed by it not being the Curator, and may appoint such Curator or any other fit person in his place, and may compel the person so removed to make over the property in his hands to his successor, and to account to such successor for all money received or disbursed by him.

(2) The Court may also for any sufficient cause, remove any guardian of the person of the lunatic appointed by it, and may appoint any other fit person in his place.

(3) The Collector, for any sufficient cause, may remove any manager of the estate of a lunatic or guardian of the person of a lunatic appointed by him, and may appoint any other fit person in place of such manager or guardian; and the District Court, on the application of the Collector, may compel any manager removed under this section to make over the property and all accounts in his hands to his successor and to account to such successor for all money received or disbursed by him.

81. Penalty on manager for refusing to deliver accounts or property.

The District Court may impose a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees on any manager of the estate of a lunatic who wilfully neglects or refuses to deliver his accounts or any property in his hands within the time fixed by the Court and may realize such fine as if it were a sum due under a decree of the Court, and may also commit the recusant to the civil jail until he delivers such accounts or property.

82. Proceedings in lunacy to cease or to be set aside if Court finds that the unsoundness of mind has ceased.

(1) When any person has been found under this Chapter to be of unsound mind, and it is subsequently shown to the District Court that there is reason to

[2] When there are a large number of items of expenditure which are questioned and where there also may be necessity for enquiring into the amount of profits likely to have been realised from the estate, sanction to file a suit against the manager or his legal representative as the case may be, should be given. 1945 Mad 89 (90) [AIR V 32].

[3] A lunatic, for whose estate the District Judge appoints a manager cannot be said to be the principal of the manager of his estate within the meaning of Art. 89 of the Limitation Act. 1949 Oudh 51 (52) [AIR V 38 C 10]; 23 Luck 65 (DB).

[1] The word "curator" is used in the Lunacy Act in the sense of a public curator appointed under the Succession (Property Protection) Act of 1841. Hence a person who has not been so appointed can be removed under S. 80. 1933 Lah 626 (627) [AIR V 20].

[1] Even though the fine imposed on the guardian under S. 81 for his contumacious conduct can be recovered as if it were due under a decree of the Court, yet it is doubtful whether the order imposing the fine can be said to have the force of a decree within the meaning of Art. 2, Sch. 2, Court-fees Act. 1934 Lah 853 (853) [AIR V 21].

[1] When an application is made under S. 82 alleging that the unsoundness of mind believe that such unsoundness of mind has ceased, such Court may make an order for inquiring whether such person is still of unsound mind and incapable of managing himself and his affairs.

(2) The inquiry shall, as far as may be, be conducted in the same manner as is prescribed in this Chapter for an inquisition into the unsoundness of mind of an alleged lunatic, and if it is found that the unsoundness of mind has ceased, the Court shall order all proceedings in the lunacy to cease or to be set aside on such terms and conditions as to the Court may seem fit.

83. Appeals.

An appeal shall lie to the High Court from any order made by a District Court, under this Chapter.

It would be most unfair to keep the lunatic's property under management or his person under guardianship if it could be established that he was no longer of unsound mind. 1925 Lah 553 (534) AIR V 12.

(2) The position of a District Judge under the provisions of the Lunacy Act is partly judicial and partly administrative. His function in making an inquisition into the state of mind of a person affected is clearly to satisfy himself as regards such state, and the relatives likely to be interested in the result of his action and to whom notices are issued, are not treated in any way as parties to legal proceedings but rather as amici curiae. ### EXPENSES OF LUNATICS

86. Payment of cost of maintenance in licensed asylums in certain cases by Government.

(1) When any lunatic is admitted to a licensed asylum under a reception order or an order under section 25, and no engagement has been taken from the friends or relatives of the lunatic or order made by the Court for the payment of expenses under the provisions of this Act, the cost of maintenance of such lunatic shall, subject to the provision of any law for the time being in force, be paid by the Government to the person in charge of such asylum.

(2) The paymaster of the military circle within which any asylum is situated shall pay to the officer in charge of such asylum the cost of maintenance of every lunatic received and detained therein under an order made under section 12.

87. Application of property in the possession of a lunatic found wandering.

Any money in the possession of a lunatic found wandering at large may be applied by the Magistrate towards the payment of the cost of maintenance of the lunatic or of any other expenses incurred on his behalf, and any moveable property found on the person of the lunatic may be sold by the Magistrate, and the proceeds thereof similarly applied.

88. Application to Civil Court for order for the payment of cost of maintenance out of the lunatic's estate, or by person bound to maintain him.

- (c) to regulate the <sup>a</sup>[detention], care, treatment and discharge of criminal lunatics;
- (d) to regulate the management of asylums and the care and custody of the inmates thereof and their transfer from one asylum to another;
- (e) to regulate the transfer of criminal lunatics to asylums;
- (f) to prescribe the procedure to be followed by District Courts and Magistrates before a lunatic is sent to any asylum established by Government;
- (g) to prescribe the <sup>d</sup>[Government asylums] within the province to which lunatics from any area or any class of lunatics shall be sent;
- (h) to prescribe conditions subject to which asylums may be licensed ;
- (i) save as otherwise provided in this Act, generally to carry into effect the provisions of the Act.

(2) In making any rule under this section, the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may direct that a breach of it shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

[THE] LUSHAI HILLS DISTRICT (CHANGE OF NAME) ACT, 1954

(ACT XVIII OF 1954)

[The Act printed here is as on 1-8-1960.]

CONTENTS

SECTIONS

1. Short title and commencement.
2. Lushai Hills District to be known as Mizo District.

3. Amendment of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution.
4. Reference to Lushai Hills District to be construed as reference to Mizo District.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Lushai Hills District is one of the six autonomous districts in the tribal areas of Assam specified in Part A of the Table appended to Paragraph 20 of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution. The district is largely inhabited by tribes who are collectively known as "Mizos"—"Lusei" being one of these tribes.

There has, therefore, been a demand that the district should be renamed "Mizo District"; the Hills will continue to be called 'Lushai Hills'—The present Bill is intended to achieve this purpose."

[THE] LUSHAI HILLS DISTRICT (CHANGE OF NAME) ACT, 1954(ACT XVIII OF 1954)<sup>a</sup>

[29th April, 1954.]

An Act to change the name of the Lushai Hills District.

BE it enacted by Parliament as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1954, Extra., Pt. II-S. 2, p. 2.

1. Short title and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE LUSHAI HILLS DISTRICT (CHANGE OF NAME) ACT, 1954.

(2) It shall come into force on such date<sup>a</sup> as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

[a] The Act came into force on 1-9-1954, see S. R. O. 2832, D/- 1-9-1954 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1954, Extra., Pt. II-S. 3, page 1443.

2. Lushai Hills District to be known as Mizo District.

The tribal area in Assam now known as the Lushai Hills District shall, as from the commencement of this Act, be known as the Mizo District.

Note.—Lushai Hills District is largely inhabited by tribes who are collectively known as "Mizo", "Lusei" is one of these tribes. As a result of the demand of the people, the District is now renamed as "Mizo District," the Hills of the area will, however, continue to be called "Lushai Hills".3. Amendment of the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution.

In the Sixth Schedule to the Constitution, in paragraph 20, —

(a) after sub-paragraph (2), the following sub-paragraph shall be inserted, namely :—

“(2A) The Mizo District shall comprise the area which at the commencement of this Constitution was known as the Lushai Hills District.” ;

(b) in sub-paragraph (3), after the words “United Khasi-Jaintia Hills District”, the words “and the Mizo District” shall be inserted ; and

(c) in Part A of the table, for the words “The Lushai Hills District”, the word “The Mizo District” shall be substituted.

4. Reference to Lushai Hills District to be construed as reference to Mizo District.

Any reference to the Lushai Hills District in any law, instrument or other document shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be construed as a reference to the Mizo District.

[THE] MADHYA BHARAT TAXES ON INCOME
(VALIDATION) ACT, 1954

(ACT XXXVIII of 1954)

[The Act printed here is as on 15-8-1960.]

CONTENTS

SECTIONS

1. Short title.

2. Definitions.

3. Validation of action taken in connection with the levy, assessment and collection of certain taxes on income.

4. Continuance of pending proceedings.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Section 13 of the Finance Act, 1950, while providing for the repeal in Part B States of laws relating to income-tax, super-tax and tax on profits of business saved the operation of the local laws in so far as they related to the levy, assessment and collection of such taxes for any period prior to the 31st day of March, 1949. The section, however, provided that the levy and collection of any such arrears should be made by the corresponding authorities under the Indian Income Tax Act, 1922. This latter provision was overlooked by the Madhya Bharat Government which continued to recover the arrears with the aid of their own officers. The present Bill seeks to validate such levy and collection and also provides for the continuance and completion of pending proceedings by State authorities in accordance with the provisions of the relevant State laws."

—Gaz. of Ind., 1954, Extra., Pt II-Sec. 2, page 406.

[2nd October, 1954.]

An Act to validate the levy, assessment and collection in the State of Madhya Bharat of certain taxes on income and on profits of business due in respect of the periods referred to in sub section (1) of section 13 of the Finance Act, 1950.<sup>b</sup>

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifth Year of the Republic of India as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons see Gaz. of Ind., 1954, Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 2, page. 406. [b] Act XXV of 1950, for text of S. 13 of that Act see Vol. VII of this Manual.

1. Short title.

This Act may be called THE MADHYA BHARAT TAXES ON INCOME (VALIDATION) ACT, 1954.

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

- (a) 'Finance Act' means the Finance Act, 1950;
- (b) 'relevant Madhya Bharat law' means any of the following laws which may be applicable in the circumstances of a particular case, that is to say,—
  - (i) The Indore Industrial Tax Rules, 1927;
  - (ii) The Indore Excess Profits Duty Order, 1944;
  - (iii) The Gwalior War Profits Ordinance, Samvat 2001; and
  - (iv) any law in force immediately before the commencement of the Finance Act in that part of the State of Madhya Bharat which corresponds to the territory comprised in the former Indian State of Ratlam, in so far as such law relates to a tax on profits of business;

Preamble — Note 1

[1] The Madhya Bharat Taxes on Income (Validation) Act of 1954 was not ultra vires the powers of the Legislature to enact. The power to pass a validating Act to legalize executive action is implicit in the power to make laws on any item in the legislative lists and hence the Act which validates the assessments made in Madhya Bharat by wrong authorities cannot be challenged on the ground of absence of power in the legislature to enact it. 1959 Madh Pra 195 (200) [AIR V 46 C 63] (DB).

[2] The Madhya Bharat Taxes on Income (Validation) Act of 1954 is not void under Art. 14 of the Constitution on the ground that it has discriminated the Madhya Bharat assesses from the other assesses in Part B States. The classification of those assesses as a separate class is a reasonable classification inasmuch as the differentia on which it had been based had a reasonable relation to the classification. 1959 Madh Pra 195 (201) [AIR V 46 C 63] (DB).

Section 2 — Note 1

[1] Though the Indore Industrial Tax (Amendment) Rules of 1949 are not referred to in S. 2 of the Act as the "relevant Madhya Bharat law" those rules cannot be excluded from that expression. Since those rules are in the nature of an amending Act the modifications made by them have become a part and parcel of the original rules and hence the

(c) 'relevant period' means either of the periods referred to in sub-section (1) of section 13 of the Finance Act, according as the tax is a tax on income or a tax on profits of business.

3. Validation of action taken in connection with the levy, assessment and collection of certain taxes on income.

Notwithstanding anything contained in the first proviso to sub-section (1) of section 13 of the Finance Act, all proceedings taken, assessments made and other acts and things done (including orders made) by or before any officer, authority, tribunal or Court acting or purporting to act under the relevant Madhya Bharat law in connection with the levy, assessment and collection of any tax due under any such law in respect of the relevant period shall be valid and shall be deemed always to have been valid, and shall not be called in question on the ground only that such proceedings were not taken, assessments were not made or acts or things were not done by or before the corresponding officer, authority, tribunal or Court referred to in the said proviso.

4. Continuance of pending proceedings.

If, immediately before the commencement of this Act, any proceedings of the nature referred to in section 3 are pending before any officer, authority, tribunal or Court acting or purporting to act under the relevant Madhya Bharat law, such proceedings may, notwithstanding anything contained in the first proviso to sub-section (1) of section 13 of the Finance Act, be continued and completed in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Madhya Bharat law, and the provisions of the said proviso shall not apply, and shall be deemed never to have applied, in relation to any such proceedings.

[THE] MAINTENANCE ORDERS ENFORCEMENT ACT, 1921 (ACT XVIII of 1921)

[The Act printed here is as on 15-5-1960.]

CONTENTS

SECTIONS

1. Short title and extent.
2. Definitions.
3. Declaration of reciprocal arrangements.
4. Registration in India of maintenance orders made in the reciprocating territories.
5. Transmission of maintenance orders made in India.
6. Power of summary Courts to make provisional maintenance orders against persons resident in reciprocating territories.

7. Power of Court of summary jurisdiction to confirm maintenance order made out of India.
8. Enforcement of maintenance orders.
9. Payment of charges for transmission of sums awarded as maintenance and other costs and charges.
10. Proof of documents signed by officers of Court.
11. Depositions to be evidence.
12. Rule-making power.

Section 2 — Note 1 (contd.)

express reference made to the Industrial Tax Rules of 1927 in the section should be construed as a reference to the Rules of 1949 after the modification. 1959 Madh Pra 195 (200) [AIR V 46 C 63] (DB).

Section 3 — Note 1

[1] The Indore Industrial Profits (Amendment) Rules of 1949, fall within the expression "the relevant Madhya Bharat law" although it is not expressly referred to as such in S. 2 and hence proceedings which had been taken by any officer or authority of the Madhya Bharat Government, purporting to act under those Rules, in connection with an assessment will be cured by reason of the provisions of Ss. 3 and 4 of the defect or illegality arising on the ground that the officer or authority had no jurisdiction in the matter after the enactment of S. 13 of the Finance Act of 1950. 1959 Madh Pra 195 (199, 200) [AIR V 46 C 63] (DB).

Section 4 — Note 1

[1] See Note under S. 3.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Imperial Conference of 1911 passed a resolution that, in order to secure justice and protection for wives deserted by their husbands and children who had been deserted by their legal guardians either in the United Kingdom or in any part of the Dominions, reciprocal legal provisions should be adopted in the constituent parts of the Empire in the interest of such destitute and deserted persons. As a result, the English Act (10 and 11 Geo. V, Ch. 33) [see the English Act printed, post.] was recently passed to facilitate the enforcement in England and Ireland of maintenance orders made in other parts of His Majesty's Dominions and Protectorates and vice versa. Section 12 of the Act empowers His Majesty to extend it by Order in Council to those Dominions and Protectorates which make reciprocal legal provisions. The object of the present Bill, which generally follows the lines of the English Act, is to make such reciprocal provisions by facilitating the enforcement in British India of maintenance orders made in other parts of His Majesty's Dominions and Protectorates and vice versa. That is, read with the English Act the present Bill allows the enforcement of orders for the maintenance of wives and children deserted in England on persons liable under such orders who have come to British India, and vice versa for the enforcement of maintenance orders in favour of wives and children deserted in British India by those liable to support them if such persons have gone to England.

The Bill makes provision for the following classes of cases : (1) Where after the making of a maintenance order the husband (or other person liable for maintenance) has gone from British India to another part of the Empire in which reciprocal legislation is in force ; (2) Where the husband (or other person liable has gone from British India to a reciprocating part of the Empire before the making of any maintenance order ; (3) Where after the making of a maintenance order in a reciprocating part of the Empire the husband (or other person liable has come to British India ; and (4) Where before the making of a maintenance order in reciprocating part of the Empire the husband (or other person liable has come to British India.

As regards cases falling under head (1), clause 5 enables an order made by a Court in British India to be transmitted to the Courts in the other reciprocating part of the Empire to be registered and enforced there. Similarly, clause 4, read with clause 8, enables an order made by a Court in a reciprocating part of the Empire, in cases falling under head (3), to be registered and enforced in British India. In cases falling under head (2), clause 6 authorises the making of a provisional order in the absence of the husband (or other person liable which will have no effect unless confirmed by a Court in the reciprocating country to which the husband has gone, and clause 7 deals with the opposite class of cases falling under head (4).

Sub-clauses (6) and (7) of clauses 6 and 7 (Sub-clause (7) was omitted by the Select Committee) provide for the variation and revocation of orders and for appeals. Clause 3 (2) enables reciprocity, similar to that for which the Bill provides in the case of parts of His Majesty's Dominions, to be established with such Indian States as may pass legislation for the enforcement in such States of orders made by British Indian Courts.

The procedure for enforcing orders registered in a High Court will be the same as that for an order originally obtained in the High Court, but for a Court of summary jurisdiction the method in which orders will be enforced has been left to be prescribed by rules."

[THE] MAINTENANCE ORDERS ENFORCEMENT ACT, 1921

[5th October, 1921.]

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1921, Pt. V, p. 5; and for Report of Select Committee, see ibid, 1921, Pt. V, p. 127.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and Merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

[b] Substituted for "Part A States and Part C States", by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951]. [c] The words "in Part B States or in" were substituted for "in other parts of", by A. L. O. 1950. [d] The words "in Part B States or" were omitted by Act III of 1951, S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951]. [e] Substituted for "His Majesty's Dominion and Protectorates", by Maintenance Orders Enforcement (Amendment) Act, 1952 (XLVII of 1952), S. 2 [30-7-1952]. [f] The words "Acceding States and other Indian States" were omitted by A. L. O., 1950.

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE MAINTENANCE ORDERS ENFORCEMENT ACT, 1921.

*(2) It extends to the whole of India <sup>b</sup>[except the State of Jammu and Kashmir].

[a] Substituted for former sub-section (2), by A. L. O., 1950. [b] Substituted for "except Part B States", by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, —
 "Court of summary jurisdiction" means the Court of a Chief Presidency Magistrate or of a District Magistrate;

"dependants" means such persons as a person against whom a maintenance order is made is liable to maintain according to the law in force in <sup>a</sup>[the reciprocating territory] in which the maintenance order is made;

[a] Substituted for "the part of His Majesty's Dominions", by Maintenance Orders Enforcement (Amendment) Act, 1952 (XLVII of 1952), S. 3 [30-7-1952].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The words 'other than legitimate children' have been omitted from the definition of dependants, and the corresponding words of the English Act, i. e. 'other than an order of affiliation' have been inserted in the definition of 'maintenance order' so as to follow the wording of the English Act."

*["India" means the territory of India excluding the State of Jammu and Kashmir;]

[a] Inserted by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

"maintenance order" means a decree or order, other than an order of affiliation, made by a Court in the exercise of civil or criminal jurisdiction for the periodical payment of sums of money towards the maintenance of the wife or other dependants of the person against whom the order is made;

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The definition of 'maintenance order' has also been amplified to make it clear that such an order includes orders passed by Courts either in the exercise of civil or criminal jurisdiction."

"prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act ;

"proper authority" means the authority appointed by, or under the law of, a reciprocating territory to receive and transmit documents to which this Act applies; and

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Definition of 'proper authority' has been inserted, as it was considered to be incorrect to prescribe by rules the authority of the reciprocating territory, from which communications should be received. The laws passed, or to be passed, in such territories will provide for the proper authority for the transmission of communications."—S. C. R.

*["reciprocating territory" means any country or territory outside India in respect of which this Act for the time being applies by virtue of a declaration under section 3.]

[a] Substituted for former definition, by Maintenance Orders Enforcement (Amendment) Act, 1952 (XLVII of 1952), S. 3 [30-7-1952].

• [ • • • • • ]

[a] Definition of 'States' was omitted by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

If the Central Government is satisfied that legal provision exists in any country or territory outside India for the enforcement within that country or territory of maintenance orders made by Courts in India, the <sup>A</sup>[Central Government] may, by notification in the <sup>A</sup>[Official Gazette], declare<sup>b</sup> that this Act applies in respect of that country or territory and thereupon it shall apply accordingly.]

[a] Substituted for former section, by Maintenance Orders Enforcement (Amendment) Act, 1952 (XLVII of 1952), S. 4 [30-7-1952]. [b] For such declarations, see General Statutory Rules and Orders, Vol. V pp. 2 to 4. See also Gaz. of Ind. 1954, Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 3, p. 2165; Gaz. of Ind. 1955, Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 3, p. 1815, and Gaz. of Ind. 1955, Pt. II-Sec. 3, p. 2268.

4. Registration in India of maintenance orders made in the reciprocating territories.

(1) Where a maintenance order has, whether before or after the passing of this Act, been made against any person by any Court in any reciprocating territory, and a certified copy of the order has been transmitted by the proper authority of that territory to the Central Government, the Central Government shall send a copy of the order to the prescribed officer of a Court in <sup>A</sup>[India] for registration, and, on receipt thereof, the order shall be registered in the prescribed manner.

(2) The Court in which an order is to be so registered as aforesaid shall, if the Court by which the order was made was, in the opinion of the Central Government, a Court of superior jurisdiction, be a High Court, and, if the Court was not, in its opinion, a Court of superior jurisdiction, be a Court of summary jurisdiction.

[a] Substituted for "the States", by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951.]

5. Transmission of maintenance orders made in India.

Where a Court in <sup>A</sup>[India] has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, made a maintenance order against any person, and it is proved to that Court that the person against whom the order was made is resident in a reciprocating territory, the Court shall send to the <sup>A</sup>[Central Government], for transmission to the proper authority of that territory, a certified copy of the order.

6. Power of summary Courts to make provisional maintenance orders against persons resident in reciprocating territories.

(1) Where application is made to a Court of summary jurisdiction in <sup>A</sup>[India] for a maintenance order against any person, and it is proved that that person is resident in a reciprocating territory, the Court may, in the absence of that person, if after hearing the evidence it is satisfied of the justice of the application, make any such order as it might have made if that person had wilfully neglected to attend the Court; but in such case the order shall be provisional only and shall have no effect unless and until confirmed by a competent Court in such territory.

(2) The evidence of every witness who is examined on any such application shall be reduced to writing, and such deposition shall be read over to, and signed by, him.

Section 6 — Note 1

[1] The Act does not confer jurisdiction on Magistrates to award any sum they think fit as maintenance payable to wives and children who are in British India and whose husbands are in England. Powers are limited by S. 488, Criminal P. C. (37) 1957 Mad W N 1127 (1127, 1128.)

(3) Where such an order is made, the Court shall send to the <sup>A</sup>[Central Government], for transmission to the proper authority of the reciprocating territory in which the person against whom the order is made is alleged to reside, the depositions so taken and a certified copy of the order together with a statement of the grounds on which the making of the order might have been opposed if the person against whom the order is made had been duly served with a summons and had appeared at the hearing and such information as the Court possesses for facilitating the identification of that person and ascertaining his whereabouts.

(4) Where any such provisional order has come before a Court in a reciprocating territory for confirmation, and the order has by that Court been remitted to the Court of summary jurisdiction which made the order for the purpose of taking further evidence, that Court shall, after giving the prescribed notice, proceed to take the evidence in like manner and subject to the like conditions as the evidence in support of the original application.

(5) If it appears to the Court hearing such evidence that the order ought not to have been made, the Court may rescind the order, but in any other case the depositions shall be sent to the <sup>A</sup>[Central Government] and dealt with in like manner as the original depositions.

(6) The confirmation of an order made under this section shall not affect any power of a Court of summary jurisdiction to vary or rescind that order:

Provided that, on the making of a varying or rescinding order, the Court shall send a certified copy thereof to the <sup>A</sup>[Central Government] for transmission to the proper authority of the reciprocating territory in which the original order was confirmed, or to which it was sent for confirmation and that, in the case of an order varying the original order, the order shall not have any effect unless and until confirmed in like manner as the original order.

[a] Substituted for "the States," by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951.]

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Marginal heading. — The words 'of summary Courts' have been inserted in the marginal heading to make it clear that the making of provisional orders is confined to summary Courts.

Sub-section (1). — The words 'if such person had wilfully neglected to attend the Court' have been substituted for the words 'if a summons had been duly served on the person and he had failed to appear at the hearing,' to bring the wording of this sub-clause into conformity with the wording of section 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

Sub-section (6). — The words 'or to which it was sent for confirmation' have been inserted after the words 'was confirmed' in the proviso to this sub-clause, as it is proposed that a Court, which has made a provisional order, may vary or rescind that order after the taking of further evidence before the order has actually been confirmed in the reciprocating possession, and also that it may vary or rescind the order after it has been confirmed.

Sub-clause 7 of clause 6 has been omitted following the provisions of the maintenance sections in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. There is no appeal from an order of maintenance under that Code, and this sub-clause would therefore be misleading. In the absence of any provision for such appeal, we do not consider it desirable that there should be an appeal in the cases dealt with under this clause, which are treated as analogous to maintenance cases dealt with under the Code of Criminal Procedure."

7. Power of Court of summary jurisdiction to confirm maintenance order made out of India.

(1) Where a maintenance order has been made by a Court in a reciprocating territory and the order is provisional only, and has no effect unless and until

Section 7 — Note 1

[1] In a case where evidence before Indian Court cannot be tested by cross-examination and introduces matter not mentioned in evidence on which the provisional order is based, the order of the Magistrate for further evidence is desirable. 1928 Bom 117 (121) [AIR V 15] : 52 Bom 262 : 29 Cri L Jour 513 (DB).

[2] Evidence of desertion subsequent to provisional order being relevant to question whether there has been real desertion, can be considered—S. 7 (4) obviously contemplates evidence of this kind. 1928 Bom 117 (121) [AIR V 15] : 52 Bom 262 : 29 Cri L J 513 (DB).

[3] Order confirming provisional order of maintenance of the Chief Presidency Magistrate is judicial and not merely an executive or administrative order. High Court can inter-confirmed by a Court of summary jurisdiction in <sup>a</sup>[India], and a certified copy of the order, together with the depositions of the witnesses and a statement of the grounds on which the order might have been opposed, has been transmitted to the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government], and it appears to the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] that the person against whom the order has been made is resident in <sup>a</sup>[India], the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] may send the said documents to the prescribed officer of a Court of summary jurisdiction, with a requisition that a summons be issued calling upon the person to show cause why that order should not be confirmed, and, upon receipt of such documents and requisition, the Court shall issue such a summons and cause it to be served upon such person.

(2) A summons issued under sub-section (1) shall for all purposes be deemed to be a summons issued by the Court in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction.

(3) At the hearing it shall be open to the person to whom the summons was issued to raise any defence which he might have raised in the original proceedings had he been a party thereto, but no other defence, and the certificate from the Court which made the provisional order stating the grounds on which the making of the order might have been opposed if the person against whom the order was made had been a party to the proceedings shall be conclusive evidence that those grounds are grounds on which objection may be taken.

(4) If at the hearing the person served with the summons does not appear or, on appearing, fails to satisfy the Court that the order ought not to be confirmed, the Court may, notwithstanding any pecuniary limit imposed on its power by any law for the time being in force in <sup>a</sup>[India], confirm the order either without modification or with such modifications as to the Court after hearing the evidence may seem just :

Provided that no sum shall be awarded as maintenance under this section, or shall be recoverable as such, at a rate exceeding that proposed in the provisional order.

(5) If the person to whom the summons was issued appears at the hearing and satisfies the Court that for the purpose of any defence it is necessary to remit the case to the Court which made the provisional order for the taking of any further evidence, the Court may for that purpose send a certified copy of the record to the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] for transmission to that Court through the proper authority of the reciprocating territory, and may adjourn the proceedings.

(6) Where a provisional order has been confirmed under this section, it may be varied or rescinded in like manner as if it had originally been made by the confirming Court, and where on an application for rescission or variation the Court is satisfied that it is necessary to remit the case to the Court which made the provisional order for the purpose of taking any further evidence, the Court may for that purpose send a certified copy of the record to the <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] for transmission to that Court through the proper authority of the reciprocating territory, and may adjourn the proceedings.

[a] Substituted for "the States" by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Sub-clause (4) of clause 7. — We are of opinion that the clause, as it stood, would perhaps not permit of the confirmation of a provisional order, made for example in the United Kingdom, for a sum greater than

Rs. 50 per mensem, which is the limit imposed by section 458 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. The limit for maintenance orders in the case of a wife in the United Kingdom is two pounds a week, and for a fere with such order in revision. Existence of the power of varying or rescinding order of confirmation, even under sub-s. (6) does not exclude revisional powers of High Court. 1928 Bom 117 (119) [AIR V 15] : 52 Bom 262 : 29 Cri L Jour 513 (DB).

child one pound a week. It was considered desirable that it should be open to the Court to enforce provisional orders up to the full amount of provisional order, but not to increase the order beyond that amount. Amendments to impose a limit as aforesaid have been made in this clause.

Provision has been made in sub-clauses (5) and (6) for the transmission of records in the manner as is provided in the proviso to sub-clause (6) of clause 6." — S. C. R.

8. Enforcement of maintenance orders.

(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, where an order has been registered under this Act in a High Court, the order shall, from the date of such registration, be of the same force and effect, and all proceedings may be taken thereon as if it had been an order originally obtained in the High Court in the exercise of its civil jurisdiction, or in such Civil Court subordinate to that High Court as may be named by the High Court in this behalf, and that Court shall have power to enforce the order accordingly.

(2) A Court of summary jurisdiction in which an order has been registered under this Act or by which an order has been confirmed under this Act, and the officers of such Court, shall have such powers and perform such duties, for the purpose of enforcing the order, as may be prescribed.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sub-section (1).—"The words 'in the exercise of its civil jurisdiction' have been inserted after the words 'High Court' to make it clear that, except in the case of orders executed by Courts of summary jurisdiction, which will be orders for the payment of comparatively small amounts, the procedure in execution will be in accordance with the Code of Civil Procedure. The difference in execution procedure in the various High Courts necessitates a double procedure in the Bill so as to cover registration in High Court possessing only appellate jurisdiction."

9. Payment of charges for transmission of sums awarded as maintenance and other costs and charges.

A Court in registering or confirming an order for maintenance in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall direct that the charges for the transmission to the Court, from which the order has been received or in which the provisional order has been made, as the case may be, of the sum awarded as maintenance shall be borne by the person against whom the order has been so made or confirmed, and shall be recovered from him in addition to the sum awarded as maintenance and in addition to, and in the same manner as, such other costs and charges as may be awarded or levied by the Court.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"A new clause 9 has been inserted, as we think that it is just to a wife or other person, in favour of whom a maintenance order is made, that such person should receive the full amount awarded and not be debited with the costs of transmission, and other incidental charges. Such charges should be borne by the person against whom the order is made."

10. Proof of documents signed by officers of Court.

For the purposes of this Act, any document purporting to be signed by a judge or officer of a Court outside *<sup>[India]</sup> shall, until the contrary is proved, be deemed to have been so signed without proof of the signature of judicial or official character of the person appearing to have signed it, and the officer of a Court by whom a document is signed shall, until the contrary is provided, be deemed to have been the proper officer of the Court to sign the document.

11. Depositions to be evidence.

Depositions taken in a Court in any reciprocating territory may, for the purposes of this Act, be received in evidence in proceedings before Courts of summary jurisdiction under this Act.

12. Rule-making power.

The <sup>a</sup>[Central Government] may make rules<sup>a</sup> for the purpose of carrying into effect the purposes of this Act, and in particular may make rules for the levy of the costs or charges for anything done under this Act and for all matters which are directed or permitted to be prescribed.

[THE] MAINTENANCE ORDERS (FACILITIES FOR ENFORCEMENT)

(10 & 11 Geo. V, C. 33).<sup>a</sup>

[16th August, 1920.]

An Act to facilitate the enforcement in England and Ireland of Maintenance Orders made in other part of His Majesty's Dominions and Protectorates and vice versa.

BE it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

[a] Section 7 of this Act is repealed in part by the Justices of the Peace Act, 1949 (12, 13 & 14 Geo. VI, c. 101.)

NOTE.—The Law Commission of India in its Fifth Report (British Statutes applicable to India), 1957, page 69, observes as follows : "This statute provides for the enforcement in the U. K. of maintenance orders made by any Court in any part of "His Majesty's dominions outside the U. K." The statute will remain enforceable in the U. K. even if we remove it from our statute book."

A Bill is introduced in the Rajya Sabha of the Indian Parliament seeking to repeal certain British statutes specified in the Schedule to the Bill, in so far as they extend to, and operate as part of the law of, India or any part thereof; this is one of the statutes specified in the said Schedule—See Rajya Sabha Bill No. XXIII of 1960.

For the operation of this statute in relation to India, and to persons and things in any way belonging to or connected with India, see the provisions of section 1 of the India (Consequential Provision) Act, 1949 (12, 13 & 14 Geo. VI, c. 92), the text of which is given in Vol. VIII of this Manual.

1. Enforcement in England and Ireland of maintenance orders made in His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom.

(1) Where a maintenance order has, whether before or after the passing of this Act, been made against any person by any Court, in any part of His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom to which this Act extends, and a certified copy of the order has been transmitted by the Governor of that part of His Majesty's dominions to the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State shall send a copy of the order to the prescribed officer of a Court in England or Ireland for registration; and on receipt thereof the order shall be registered in the prescribed manner, and shall, from the date of such registration, be of the same force and effect, and, subject to the provisions of this Act, all proceedings may be taken on such order as if it had been an order originally obtained in the Court in which it is so registered, and that Court shall have power to enforce the order accordingly.

(2) The Court in which an order is to be so registered as aforesaid shall, if the Court by which the order was made was a Court of superior jurisdiction, be the Probate, Divorce and Admiralty Division of the High Court, or in Ireland the King's Bench Division (Matrimonial) of the High Court of justice in Ireland, and, if the Court was not a Court of superior jurisdiction, be a Court of summary jurisdiction.

2. Transmission of maintenance orders made in England or Ireland.

Where a Court in England or Ireland has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, made a maintenance order against any person, and it is proved to that Court that the person against whom the order was made is resident in some part of His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom to which this Act extends, the Court shall send to the Secretary of State for transmission to the Governor of that part of His Majesty's dominions a certified copy of the order.

3. Power to make provisional orders of maintenance against persons resident in His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom.

(1) Where an application is made to a Court of summary jurisdiction in England or Ireland for a maintenance order against any person, and it is proved, that that person is resident in a part of His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom to which this Act extends, the Court may, in the absence of that person, if after hearing the evidence it is satisfied of the justice of the application, make any such order as it might have made if a summons had been duly served on that person and he had failed to appear at the hearing, but in such case the order shall be provisional only, and shall have no effect unless and until confirmed by a competent Court in such part of His Majesty's dominions as aforesaid.

(2) The evidence of any witness who is examined on any such application shall be put into writing, and such deposition shall be read over to and signed by him.

(3) Where such an order is made, the Court shall send to the Secretary of State for transmission to the Governor of the part of His Majesty's dominions in which the person against whom the order is made is alleged to reside the depositions so taken and a certified copy of the order, together with a statement of the grounds on which the making of the order might have been opposed if the person against whom the order is made had been duly served with a summons and had appeared at the hearing, and such information as the Court possesses for facilitating the identification of that person, and ascertaining his whereabouts.

(4) Where any such provisional order has come before a Court in a part of His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom to which this Act extends for confirmation, and the order has by that Court been remitted to the Court of summary jurisdiction which made the order for the purpose of taking further evidence, that Court or any other Court of summary jurisdiction sitting and acting for the same place shall, after giving the prescribed notice, proceed to take the evidence in like manner and subject to the like conditions as the evidence in support of the original application.

If upon the hearing of such evidence it appears to the Court that the order ought not to have been made, the Court may rescind the order, but in any other case the depositions shall be sent to the Secretary of State and dealt with in like manner as the original depositions.

(5) The confirmation of an order made under this section shall not affect any power of a Court of summary jurisdiction to vary or rescind that order: Provided that on the making of a varying or rescinding order the Court shall send a certified copy thereof to the Secretary of State for transmission to the Governor of the part of His Majesty's dominions in which the original order was confirmed, and that in the case of an order varying the original order the order shall not have any effect unless and until confirmed in like manner as the original order.

(6) The applicant shall have the same right of appeal, if any, against a refusal to make a provisional order as he would have had against a refusal to make the order had a summons been duly served on the person against whom the order is sought to be made.

4. Power of Court of summary jurisdiction to confirm maintenance order made out of the United Kingdom.

(1) Where a maintenance order has been made by a Court in a part of His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom to which this Act extends, and the order is provisional only and has no effect unless and until confirmed by a Court of summary jurisdiction in England or Ireland and a certified copy of the order, together with the depositions of witnesses and a statement of the grounds on which the order might have been opposed, has been transmitted to the Secretary of State, and it appears to the Secretary of State that the person against whom the order was made is resident in England or Ireland, the Secretary of State may send the said documents to the prescribed officer of a Court of summary jurisdiction, with a requisition that a summons be issued calling upon the person to show cause why that order should not be confirmed, and upon receipt of such documents and requisition the Court shall issue such a summons and cause it to be served upon such person.

(2) A summons so issued may be served in England or Ireland in the same manner as if it had been originally issued or subsequently endorsed by a Court of summary jurisdiction having jurisdiction in the place where the person happens to be.

(3) At the hearing it shall be open to the person on whom the summons was served to raise any defence which he might have raised in the original proceedings had he been a party thereto, but no other defence, and the certificate from the Court which made the provisional order stating the grounds on which the making of the order might have been opposed if the person against whom the order was made had been a party to the proceedings shall be conclusive evidence that these grounds are grounds on which objection may be taken.

(4) If at the hearing the person served with the summons does not appear or, on appearing, fails to satisfy the Court that the order ought not to be confirmed, the Court may confirm the order either without modification or with such modifications as to the Court after hearing the evidence may seem just.

(5) If the person against whom the summons was issued appears at the hearing and satisfies the Court that for the purpose of any defence it is necessary to remit the case to the Court which made the provisional order for the taking of any further evidence, the Court may so remit the case and adjourn the proceedings for the purpose.

(6) Where a provisional order has been confirmed under this section, it may be varied or rescinded in like manner as if it had originally been made by the confirming Court, and where on an application for rescission or variation the Court is satisfied that it is necessary to remit the case to the Court which made the order for the purpose of taking any further evidence, the Court may so remit the case and adjourn the proceedings for the purpose.

(7) Where an order has been so confirmed, the person bound thereby shall have the same right of appeal, if any, against the confirmation of the order as he would have had against the making of the order had the order been an order made by the Court confirming the order.

5. Power of Secretary of State to make regulations for facilitating communications between Courts.

The Secretary of State may make regulations as to the manner in which a case can be remitted by a Court authorised to confirm a provisional order to the Court which made the provisional order, and generally for facilitating communications between such Courts.

6. Mode of enforcing orders.

(1) A Court of summary jurisdiction in which an order has been registered under this Act or by which an order has been confirmed under this Act, and the officers of such Court, shall take all such steps for enforcing the order as may be prescribed.

(2) Every such order shall be enforceable in like manner as if the order were for the payment of a civil debt recoverable summarily ;

Provided that, if the order is of such a nature that if made by the Court in which it is so registered or by which it is so confirmed, it would be enforceable in like manner as an order of affiliation, the order shall be so enforceable.

(3) A warrant of distress or commitment issued by a Court of summary jurisdiction for the purpose of enforcing any order so registered or confirmed may be executed in any part of the United Kingdom in the same manner as if the warrant had been originally issued or subsequently endorsed by a Court of summary jurisdiction having jurisdiction in the place where the warrant is executed.

7. Application of Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

The Summary Jurisdiction Act shall apply to proceedings before Courts of summary jurisdiction under this Act in like manner as they apply to proceedings under those Acts, [ * * * ].

[a] Certain words were repealed by the Justices of the Peace Act, 1949 (12, 13 & 14 Geo. VI, C. 101), S. 46 (2) & Sch. VII, Part II.

8. Proof of documents signed by officers of Court.

Any document purporting to be signed by a judge or officer of a Court outside the United Kingdom shall, until the contrary is proved, be deemed to have been so signed without proof of the signature or judicial or official character of the person appearing to have signed it, and the officer of a Court by whom a document is signed shall, until the contrary is proved, be deemed to have been the proper officer of the Court to sign the document.

9. Depositions to be evidence.

Deposition taken in a Court in a part of His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom to which this Act extends for the purposes of this Act, may be received in evidence in proceedings before Courts of summary jurisdiction under this Act.

10. Interpretation.

For the purposes of this Act, the expression "maintenance order" means an order other than an order of affiliation* for the periodical payment of sums of money towards the maintenance of the wife or other dependants of the person against whom the order is made, and the expression "dependants" means such persons as that person is, according to the law in force in the part of His Majesty's dominions in which the maintenance order was made, liable to maintain, the expression "certified copy" in relation to an order of a Court means a copy of the order certified by the proper officer of the Court to be a true copy, and the expression "prescribed" means prescribed by rules of Court.

[a] For an instance of an affiliation order see the Affiliation Proceedings Act, 1957 (5 & 6 Eliz. II, C. 55), sections 4 and 5. See also the National Assistance Act, 1948 (11 & 12 Geo. VI, C. 29), ss. 42 and 44.

11. Application to Ireland.

In the application of this Act to Ireland the following modifications shall be made :

(a) The Lord Chancellor of Ireland may make rules regulating the procedure of Courts of summary jurisdiction under this Act, and other matters incidental thereto :

(b) Orders intended to be registered or confirmed in Ireland shall be transmitted by the Secretary of State to the prescribed officer of a Court in Ireland through the Lord Chancellor of Ireland :

(c) The expression "maintenance order" includes an order or decree for the recovery or repayment of the cost of relief or maintenance made by virtue of the provisions of the Poor Relief (Ireland) Act, 1839 to 1914.

12. Extent of Act.

(1) Where His Majesty is satisfied that reciprocal provisions have been made by the Legislature of any part of His Majesty's dominions outside the United Kingdom for the enforcement within that part of maintenance orders made by Courts within England and Ireland, His Majesty may by Order in Council extend this Act to that part, and thereupon that part shall become a part of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends.

(2) His Majesty may by Order in Council extend this Act to any British protectorate, and where so extended this Act shall apply as if any such protectorate was a part of His Majesty's dominions to which this Act extends.

This Act may be cited as THE MAINTENANCE ORDERS (FACILITIES FOR ENFORCEMENT) ACT, 1920.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The mass of persons domiciled in this country may roughly be divided into (1) Hindus, (2) Muhammadans, (3) European British subjects, (4) persons to whom the Indian Succession Act applies.

In the present state of law, the ages at which persons belonging to these classes respectively attain their majority may be stated as follows :

1. By the Hindu sastras, except those prevailing in Bengal, the end of the sixteenth year is the limit of minority; in Bengal the end of the fifteenth year is deemed to be the limit of minority, according to the Hindu law as understood there.

By Bengal Regulation XXVI of 1793 and Madras Regulation V of 1804, the minority of Hindu proprietors of estates paying revenue to Government was extended, in the case of such persons in each presidency respectively, to the end of the eighteenth year.

By Acts XL of 1858 and XX of 1864, for the care of the persons and property of minors in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal and in the Presidency of Bombay, respectively, it was enacted that, for the purposes of those Acts, every person should be deemed to be a minor who had not attained the age of eighteen years. European British subjects are excluded from the purview of the Acts. The effect of those Acts clearly was, for the purposes of those Acts, to alter the Hindu law as to the age of majority in the cases of persons to whom the Acts applied, and in course of time the question was raised in the Calcutta High Court as to whether the Acts did not similarly affect the age of majority of Hindus subject to the ordinary original jurisdiction of that Court, and was decided in the affirmative. This opinion was not, however, accepted by other Judges of the same Court before whom the question arose, and the matter having been by one of them expressed to be in a complicated and unsatisfactory state was the other day referred to a Full Bench of the Court, which decided that a Hindu resident in Calcutta, who had no property in the mofussil, attained his age of majority on the completion of his fifteenth year, and refrained from deciding what was the effect of the Acts upon persons resident in Calcutta and possessed of property in the mofussil.

In Bombay it has been decided that, notwithstanding Act XX of 1864, a Hindu resident in the mofussil came of age on attaining sixteen years, so as to be able to prosecute a claim by suit.

In a case which came before the late Sadr Diwani Adalat of Bengal, it was held that, according to the Jain law, majority begins on the completion of sixteen years.

2. By Muhammadan law, the end of the fifteenth year, or the attainment of puberty, is the age of majority; but Muhammadans are, equally with Hindus and other British subjects in this country not being Europeans affected by the Regulations and Acts already noticed.

3. European British subjects not domiciled in this country come of age at twenty-one, and it has been held that they and their legitimate descendants, even though domiciled in this country, do the same, so far as regards their capacity to contract. This opinion has been questioned in a recent case.

4. The class of persons to whom the Indian Succession Act applies includes Europeans by birth or descent domiciled in British India East Indians or Eurasians, Jews, Armenians, Parsis and Native Christians. The Indian Succession Act defines a minor to be a person who has not completed the age of eighteen years, and defines 'minority' to be the status of such a person. In the case of Hollo v. Smith [(1867) 1 Beng. L. R. (O. C.) 10], already referred to, Mr. Justice Markby said that it would be carrying implication much too far to suppose that this definition was intended by the legislature as an alteration of the age of majority for all purposes; and held that a person of one of the classes to whom the Act applies did not attain his majority, so as to have the full capacity to contract, until he attained the age of twenty-one. In the later case of Archer v. Warkun [(1872) 8 Beng. L. R. 372], Mr. Justice Phear treated the question as still an open one, and held that, by the provisions of Act XL of 1858, a person of one of the classes to whom the Indian Succession Act applies attained the age of majority, for all purposes of contract, at eighteen years. The ground of this decision so far as regards the effect of Act XL of 1858, was overruled in the subsequent decision of the Full Bench in Mulluck v. Mullik; and the law respecting the age of majority of persons in this class, is, perhaps, in a more unsatisfactory state than even that relating to persons in the other classes.

Such being, briefly, the present state of the law, it is obvious that, in the highly important matter of the age at which persons can enter into binding contracts with others and undertake responsibilities as majors, the law of this country is most confused and uncertain. To remedy this the present Bill has been drawn. The alteration proposed by it in the Hindu and Muhammadan laws, in cases now governed on this point by those laws, is not one which affects any principle of those laws touching the religion or conscience of those persons who are subject to them. The change has, already, in part, been made by the Regulations and Acts above-mentioned; and no objection has ever been made to the change thus effected.

To avoid, however, the possibility of any mistake on this point, it is expressly provided in the Bill that it is not to affect the capacity of any person to act in matters connected with marriage, dower, divorce and adoption. By their own laws Muhammadans and Hindus are empowered to act in these matters at an earlier age than that here fixed as the age of majority, and it is not intended to interfere with their capacity in these respects.

The Bill also provides that it shall not affect the religion or religious rites and usages of any class of Her Majesty's subjects or the capacity of any person who, before the com-commencement of the proposed Act, shall have attained majority under the law applicable to him.

It has been thought advisable to extend the Act to all persons, including European British subjects domiciled in British India. Were European British subjects excluded in all cases, it would be necessary for all persons dealing with them to ascertain whether they came within the legal definition of the term, an enquiry often difficult, and which would be most embarrassing were the exception extended, as in Bello v. Smith [(1887) 1 Beng. L. R. (O. C.) 10], to all legitimate descendants, however remote, domiciled in British India, of European British subjects. The fourth section states the law as it now stands."

[THE INDIAN] MAJORITY ACT, 1875

(ACT IX OF 1875)*

[2nd March, 1875.]

An Act to amend the law respecting the age of majority.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, in the case of persons domiciled in <sup>b</sup>[India] it is expedient to prolong the period of nonage, and to attain more uniformity and certainty respecting the age of majority than now exists; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons see Gaz. of Ind., 1874, Pt. V, p. 153.

This Act has been declared, by notification under the Scheduled Districts Act, 1874 (XIV of 1874), S. 3 (a), to be in force in the following Scheduled Districts, namely :—

The Districts of Hazaribagh, Lohardaga and Manbhum, and Pargana Dhalbhum and the Kollan in the District of Singbhum. [The Lohardaga District included at this time the present District of Palamau, which was separated in 1894. Lohardaga is now called the Ranchi District; Cal. Gaz. 1899, Pt. I, p. 44]. See Gaz. of Ind., 1881, Pt. I, p. 504. The North Western Provinces;

Tarai . . . See Gaz. of Ind., 1876, Pt. I, p. 505.

The Act has been extended to the new Provinces and Merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950], and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

It has also been extended to the States Merged in the State of Bombay by Bom. Act IV of 1950, S. 3 [30-3-1950].

[b] Substituted for "Part A States and Part C States", by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 2 and Sch., [1-4-1951].

Preamble — Note 1

[1] The Indian Majority Act was intended to prolong the period of nonage in the case of Hindu as well as other subjects of the Crown and to attain uniformity and certainty respecting the age of majority. (11) 33 All 525 (527, 528) (DB).

[2] In passing the Majority Act it could not have been the intention of the Legislature merely to provide definitions of 'majority' and 'minority.' Had that been the case, S. 2 of the said Act would not have provided that nothing contained in the said enactment shall affect the capacity of any person to act in the matters referred to; that such a provision was considered necessary clearly indicates that the enactment was intended to affect the capacity to act in regard to all other matters notwithstanding that the Act contains no affirmative provision to the effect that in all matters not saved by S. 2 a person shall be deemed to have the capacity to act only when he attains majority under S. 3. 1915 Mad 815 (820) [AIR V 2] : 38 Mad 160 (DB).

2. Savings.

Nothing herein contained shall affect—

- (a) the capacity of any person to act in the following matters (namely),— marriage, dower, divorce and adoption;
- (b) the religion or religious rites and usages of any class of <sup>a</sup>[citizens of India]; or
- (c) the capacity of any person who before this Act comes into force has attained majority under the law applicable to him.

SECTION 2 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.

2. Marriage — Clause (a).

3. Divorce — Clause (a).

4. Dower — Clause (a).

5. Adoption — Clause (a).

6. Religion or religious rites and usages— Clause (b).

7. Person attaining majority under prior law — Clause (c).

1. Scope. — [1] The capacity to make a will by a Hindu is not safeguarded by cl. (a) of S. 2 since its application is confined to the cases of marriage, dower, divorce and adoption. (11) 33 All 525 (527) (DB) * (12) 36 Bom 622 (624) (DB). (The Indian Majority Act has modified Hindu law on the question of minority of the Hindus in the matter of making wills.) * 1915 Mad 815 (816) [AIR V 2] : 38 Mad 166 (DB).

[See also 1924 Cal 644 (645) [AIR V 11]. (Married woman governed by the Indian Succession Act — Guardian appointed for person and property — Death before 21 : Held that the deceased was a minor and will executed by her disposing of her property before her death is invalid.)]

[2] In passing the Indian Majority Act it could not have been the intention of the Legislature to provide definitions of majority and minority. Had that been the case, S. 2 of the said Act would not have provided that nothing contained in the said enactment shall affect the capacity of any person to act in the matters referred to; that such a provision was considered necessary clearly indicates that the enactment was intended to affect the capacity to act in regard to all other matters notwithstanding that the Act contains no affirmative provisions to the effect that in all matters not saved by S. 2 a person shall be deemed to have the capacity to act only when he attains majority under S. 3. 1915 Mad 815 (820) [AIR V 2] : 38 Mad 166 (DB).

[See also 1948 Cal 66 (68) [AIR V 35 C 30] : ILR (1946) 2 Cal 349. (The Majority Act does not use the expression "capacity to contract" but "capacity to act" which is of much wider import.)]

[3] Section 2 does not merely create an exception to the rule contained in S. 11 of the Contract Act against the capacity of minors to contract. By using the words "capacity to act" it has created an exception in their favour even in the matter of instituting suits relating to marriage, dower, and divorce free from the restrictions imposed on minors generally under O. 32, R. 1, Civil P. C., regarding the institution of suits. 1948 Cal 66 (68) [AIR V 35 C 30] : 1 L R (1946) 2 Cal 349 * 1955 Tripura 2 (5) [AIR V 42 C 2] * 1952 Cal 361 (382) [AIR V 39].

[But see 1952 Mad 754 (755) [AIR V 39] : ILR (1953) Mad 118 (DB) * (81) 3 Mad 248 (248) (DB) * 1942 Oudh 243 (244) [AIR V 29] : 17 Luck 572 (DB). (Section 2 (a), Majority Act, merely relieves a Mahomedan girl of some of the consequences of her minority, but she remains a minor nonetheless. That being so the provisions of O. 32, R. 1, Civil P. C., still apply. Hence a Mahomedan girl of 15 can file a suit for dower only through her next friend.)]

[4] Under the Indian Majority Act a person who has not attained the age of majority (i. e., 18 years) is incompetent to contract and is therefore a child within the meaning of S. 488, Criminal P. C. 1935 Cal 488 (489) [AIR V 22] : 62 Cal 369 : 36 Cri L Jour 1114.

[5] Although the Rules framed under the Bengal Agricultural Debtors Act clearly envisage the necessity for the representation of a minor who has been made a party to the proceedings under that Act neither those Rules nor that Act have defined a minor. Hence a minor for the purpose of that Act also must be understood to mean a person who has not attained majority according to the provisions of this Act. 1957 Cal 211 (216) [AIR V 44 C 65].

2. Marriage — Cl. (a). — [1] As regards questions of marriage, adoption etc., the capacity of minors is left untouched under this Act. Hence the raising of the age of majority by S. 3 from 18 to 21 in the case of minors under the Court of Wards Act has no effect on those matters. 1922 Mad 1 (2) [AIR V 9] (DB) * 1933 All 480 (481) [AIR V 20] (DB) * 1923 Lah 102 (103) [AIR V 10]. (A boy under 15 under Muhomedan law is therefore competent to give his sister in marriage as her guardian.)

[2] 'Capacity to act in matter of marriage' in S. 2 (a), does not refer, and is not applicable, to pre-nuptial agreement to contract marriage in future. 1936 Rang 212 (213) [AIR V 23] : 14 Rang 215 (FB). (AIR 1922 Low Bur 6 (FB), AIR 1919 Upp Bur 39 and AIR 1919 Low Bur 123, Overruled.) * 1937 Bom 392 (394) [AIR V 24]. (Betrothal is not an essential part of marriage but is the first step and independent of marriage.) * 1942 Oudh 243 (244) [AIR V 29] : 17 Luck 572 (DB).

[3] A Muslim girl who has attained her puberty is competent to sue for dissolution of her marriage without a next friend although she is below the age of majority prescribed under S. 3 of the Majority Act. To institute a suit for dissolution of marriage is clearly "to act in the matter of marriage" within the meaning of S. 2 of the Act. 1948 Cal 66 (68) [AIR V 35 C 30] : ILR (1946) 2 Cal 349.

[4] A Parsi suing to have a marriage declared void "is acting in the matter of marriage" and the Majority Act fixing 18 as the age of majority does not apply. The age of majority in such a case is that prescribed by the Parsi Marriage and Divorce Act (15 [XV] of 1865) viz., 21 years. (98) 22 Bom 431 (437) (DB).

3. Divorce — Cl. (a). — [1] "Capacity to act" includes "capacity to contract." Minor can delegate to his wife the power to divorce. 1928 Cal 303 (304) [AIR V 15] (DB).

[2] Right of Mahomedan wife of sixteen and over to sue for divorce under Mahomedan Law is saved by the section. 1931 Bom 76 (77) [AIR V 18] : 55 Bom 160 (DB).

[3] A Muslim girl who has attained her puberty is competent to file a suit for the dissolution of her marriage without a next friend. Such a suit is not incompetent on the ground of its non-compliance with the provisions of O. 32, R. 1 of the Civil P. C. 1948 Cal 66 (68) [AIR V 35 C 30] : ILR (1946) 2 Cal 349. (The words "to act" in cl. (a) are wide enough to include the institution of a suit.) * 1955 Tripura 2 (5) [AIR V 42 C 2] + 1952 Cal 381 (382) [AIR V 39].

[But see 1952 Mad 754 (755) [AIR V 39] : ILR (1953) Mad 118 (DB).]

[4] Under this section age of majority is twenty-one for Indian Christians in suits for divorce. 1925 Sind 95 (95) [AIR V 12].

4. Dower—Cl. (a).—[1] A person cannot be said to be acting in the matter of dower unless it is shown that the gift was on the occasion or by reason or in consideration of marriage. (13) 24 Mad L Jour 49 (53) (DB).

[2] "Capacity to act in matters of dower" does not include bringing a suit for dower. Hence a Muhammadan major according to his personal law but minor according to the Act, can sue through next friend. 1942 Oudh 243 (244) [AIR V 29] : 17 Luck 572 (DB).

[3] Majors under personal law, though not under the Act, can fix amount and nature of dower. 1925 Cal 322 (323) [AIR V 12] (DB).

[4] Execution of ekrarnama by Muhammadan woman, major according to Muhammadan law but minor according to Majority Act, relinquishing part of dower and changing its character: Heid that ekrarnama was not valid and binding on her as case did not fall within exception to S. 2. 1939 Pat 133 (135) [AIR V 26] : 17 Pat 303 (DB) + 1918 Mad 319 (320) [AIR V 5] : 41 Mad 1026 (DB) + 1932 All 649 (650) [AIR V 19] : 54 All 806 (DB).

[5] If a Mahomedan minor who is a major by his personal law but a minor under the Indian Majority Act enters into a marriage he must enter into a contract for payment of dower. Even if he does not do so, the law will presume such a contract. 1925 Cal 322 (323, 324) [AIR V 12] (DB).

5. Adoption — Cl. (a). — [1] A Hindu widow of the age of 15 might validly adopt if she had attained sufficient maturity of understanding to comprehend the nature of the act. 1919 Bom 107 (110) [AIR V 6] : 43 Bom 481 (DB).

[3] Section 2 does not make persons who have attained the age of majority according to the Hindu Law, majors under this Act. It only enables them to act in matters of adoption, amongst other such matters, notwithstanding their not answering the description of a major under the Act but it does not authorise them to perform all or any of the acts bearing on adoptions which can be done only by majors under this Act. Thus they may validly make an adoption or confer authority on their wives to do so but they cannot give a valid consent as sapindas to an adoption proposed to be made by a widow. 1960 Andh Pra 578 (584) [AIR V 47 C 187].

6. Religion or religious rites and usages — Cl. (b). — [1] Age of majority fixed by the Act does not apply to offices which involve performance of religious duties. 1916 Mad 116 (122) [AIR V 3] (DB).

7. Person attaining majority under prior law—Cl. (c).—[1] A Muhammadan who had attained the full age of 16 years before the Indian Majority Act came into force and had reached the age of majority under the Mahomedan law was competent in respect of age to make a contract. Hence a Muhammadan who executed a bond on 5-8-1875 and was sixteen years and nine months old, was liable under the bond and the Indian Majority Act had no application to the case. (85) 7 All 763 (764) (DB).

other enactment, be deemed to have attained his majority when he shall have completed his age of twenty-one years and not before.

Subject as aforesaid, every other person domiciled in <sup>a</sup>[India] shall be deemed to have attained his majority when he shall have completed his age of eighteen years and not before.

[a] Substituted for "every minor of whose person or property a guardian has been or shall be appointed by any Court of Justice, and every minor under the jurisdiction of any Court of Wards", by Guardians and Wards Act, 1890 (VIII of 1890), S. 52. [b] See now the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908), Sch. I, Order XXXII. [c] See now the Succession Act, 1925 (XXXIX of 1925). [d] Substituted for "Part A States and Part C States", by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch., [1-4-1951].

Section 3 (contd.)

1. Scope. — [1] The intention of the Legislature to be gathered from S. 3 of the Majority Act would appear to be to extend the minority to 21 years where the minor's person or property was in the hands of the guardian at the age of 18. ('89) 13 Bom 285 (289) (DB) * ('13) 35 All 150 (152) (DB) * ('07) 29 All 672 (673) (FB). (1891 All W N 118 decided before the amendment no longer good law.) * ('03) 25 All 407 (416) : 30 Ind App 165 (PC).

[2] When the defence of minority is raised, the onus is on the party setting up the will to show that the person who made the will was of full age when he made it. 1915 Mad 815 (816) [AIR V 2] : 38 Mad 166 (DB).

[3] For an offence under the Penal Code (S. 363, kidnapping from lawful guardianship) the minority of the person kidnapped is to be determined not by reference to the personal law, but by S. 3 of this Act. 1915 Mad 636 (636) [AIR V 2] : 37 Mad 567 : 16 Cri L Jour 169.

[4] Section 3 of the Indian Majority Act extending minority to 21 years in certain events does not in any way affect the construction of S. 101 of the Indian Succession Act which invalidates any disposition by which the vesting may be delayed beyond the lifetime of a person living at the testator's death. 1921 Mad 258 (261) [AIR V 8] : 44 Mad 446 (DB).

[5] Though under the Hindu law the father is not entitled to the custody of his son after the boy has attained 16 years of age, the passing of the Indian Majority Act of 1875 (S. 3) by continuing the minority of the boy till he attains the age of 18 extended the right of the father to the custody of the boy's person till such age of 18. Like the Hindu boy, a Muslim boy also is bound to remain in his guardian's custody till 18 notwithstanding his emancipation at 15 under his personal law. 1917 Mad 612 (615) [AIR V 4] : 39 Mad 608 (DB).

[6] The non-attainment of majority according to this section does not affect the right of a Muslim girl who is a major under her personal law to sue without a next friend for the dissolution of her marriage. That right is saved to her by S. 2 of this Act. 1952 Cal 381 (382) [AIR V 39] * 1948 Cal 66 (68) [AIR V 35 C 30] : ILR (1946) 2 Cal 349.

[7] Section 3 is not violative of Art. 14 of the Constitution. The discrimination it has made between one class of minor and another for the purpose of prescribing different ages of majority is not prima facie unreasonable. 1951 Pat 570 (575) [AIR V 38 C 161] : 30 Pat

735 (DB). (Hence the onus will lie on the party who challenges the validity of the section to show that the classification is arbitrary and unreasonable.)

2. "Appointed or declared." — [1] The word "appointed" in S. 3 means finally and validly appointed. If an order of appointment is set aside either in review or in appeal, it is not an order which could have the effect of prolonging the period of minority under S. 3. Similarly, a portion of a conditional order cannot operate to prolong the period if the condition is not fulfilled with the result that the order does not come into operation at all. 1945 Bom 243 (248) [AIR V 32] : 11 L R (1945) Bom 449 (DB) * 1933 Lah 600 (601) [AIR V 20] * ('12) 15 Oudh Cas 153 (156).

[2] Where a person is appointed as guardian on condition of his furnishing security and fails to furnish the security required, minor becomes major when he completes his 18th year. Such a conditional order of appointment is invalid under the Act. 1927 Mad 36 (36) [AIR V 14] : 49 Mad 809 (FB).

[3] Grant of letters of administration under S. 33 of Act 5 [V] of 1881 does not amount to appointment of guardian of property of minor. ('13) 24 Mad L Jour 450 (453) (DB).

[4] The order appointing a guardian takes effect neither from the date on which application is made nor from the date of passing the order but from the date on which a certificate of guardianship is actually issued. Hence where a minor attained 18 years between the date of application and the issue of a certificate and signed promissory note, he is liable under the note and cannot invoke S. 3. ('83) 9 Cal 901 (904) (DB).

[5] Minor need not have separate property before guardian can be appointed. ('03) 25 All 407 (416) : 30 Ind App 165 (PC) * 1929 Bom 475 (477) [AIR V 16] : 54 Bom 75.

[6] Where guardian has been appointed or declared under the Guardians and Wards Act, the minority of the ward does not cease till he attains the age of 21 years and it is immaterial whether the guardian dies, or is removed, or otherwise ceases to act before the ward attains 21. #### 4. Age of majority how computed.

In computing the age of any person, the day on which he was born is to be included as a whole day, and he shall be deemed to have attained majority, if he falls within the first paragraph of section 3, at the beginning of the twenty-first anniversary of that day, and if he falls within the second paragraph of section 3, at the beginning of the eighteenth anniversary of that day.

4. Assumption of management by Court of Wards. — [1] The expression "minor under the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards" means a person of whose estate the Court of Wards has actually assumed management under the orders of the Government and not a person of whose estate the Court of Wards might, with the sanction of the Government take charge. ## [THE] MALABAR WAR-KNIVES ACT, 1854<sup>a</sup> (ACT XXIV OF 1854)

An Act to prohibit the possession of certain offensive weapons in Malabar.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to prohibit the possession of certain offensive weapons in the District of Malabar, in the Presidency of Fort St. George; It is enacted as follows:—

[a] Short title was given by the Amending Act, 1901 (XI of 1901).

STATE AMENDMENT

KERALA

In Preamble, omit the words "in the Presidency of Fort St. George".

—Kerala A. L. O., 1956.

1. Use of war-knives prohibited.

The use of the ayudha katti or war-knife, or of any similar offensive weapon, is hereby prohibited throughout the District of Malabar <sup>a</sup>[* * *].

[a] Certain words providing for the surrender of weapons by a certain date were omitted by Repealing Act, 1870 (XIV of 1870).

STATE AMENDMENT

KERALA

For "the District of Malabar", substitute "the District of Malabar excluding the Kasaragod Taluk".

—Kerala A.L.O., 1956.

Note.—Possession, manufacture, sale and purchase of the prohibited weapon is made punishable under the next section.

2. Fine for possessing, purchasing, etc., war-knives.

*[* * *] Any person who shall be found in possession of any ayudha katti or war-knife or of a similar offensive weapon, or who shall purchase, or sell, or manufacture, or cause to be manufactured, any ayudha katti or war-knife or similar weapon, shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a period not exceeding six months, or to both; and the said war-knife or weapon shall be confiscated.

[a] The words "After such date" were omitted by Repealing Act, 1870 (XIV of 1870).

3. Power to search for war-knives.

It shall be lawful for the Magistrate of Malabar to cause search to be made by his Police-officers, acting under his warrant, in any house or other place in which any ayudha katti or war-knife, or any similar offensive weapon, may be supposed to be, contrary to this Act; and any such ayudha katti or war-knife which shall be found may be seized and confiscated.

It shall also be competent to the Magistrate, at his discretion, to delegate to any of his *[* *] Assistants the powers conferred by this section.

Penalty for resisting search.

Any person who shall resist or oppose such search or seizure, or forcibly withstand any Police-officer charged with such warrant, shall be liable to the same penalties as if such person had opposed or resisted the execution of a warrant for the search after stolen goods.

[THE] MALICIOUS DAMAGE ACT, 1861

[6th August 1861]

An Act to consolidate and amend the Statute Law of England and Ireland relating to Malicious Injuries to Property.

[a] Sections 42, 43 and 56 are the only existing provisions applicable to India, and they alone are reproduced in this volume.

This Act has been repealed in part by 55 & 56 Vict., c. 19, 56 & 57 Vict., c. 54 and 11 & 12 Geo. VI, c. 58.

NOTE.—The Law Commission of India in its Fifth Report (British Statutes applicable to India), 1957, page 46, observes: "This statute, in so far as it applies to India, penalises the act of maliciously setting fire to, or casting away or otherwise destroying a ship or vessel.

"Such a provision is necessary for India and, in fact, [this Act] forms the subject-matter of illustrations (e) and (f) of section 425 of the I. P. C. There is no reason why a section should not be inserted in the I. P. C. embodying [this Act], so that the English statute may be dispensed with".

42. Setting fire to or casting away or destroying a ship.

Whosoever shall unlawfully and maliciously set fire to, cast away, or in anywise destroy any ship or vessel, whether the same be complete or in an unfinished state, shall be guilty of felony, and being convicted thereof shall be liable, at the discretion of the Court, to be kept in penal servitude for life *[* * *] or to be imprisoned *[* * *] b[* * *].

[a] Certain words were repealed by (1892) 55 & 56 Vict., c. 19 and (1893) 56 & 57 Vict., c. 54. [b] The words "and, if a male under the age of sixteen years with or without whipping" were repealed by (1948) 11 & 12 Geo. VI, c. 58, S. 83 & Sch. X, Part I (this repeal extends to England only).

43. Setting fire to or casting away etc. a ship, to prejudice the owner or underwriters.

Whosoever shall unlawfully and maliciously set fire to, or cast away, or in anywise destroy any ship or vessel, with intent thereby to prejudice any owner or part owner of such ship or vessel, or of any goods on board the same, or any person that has underwritten or shall underwrite any policy of insurance upon such ship or vessel, or on the freight thereof, or upon any goods on board the same, shall be guilty of felony, and being convicted thereof shall be liable, at the discretion of the Court, to be kept in penal servitude for life *[* * *] or to be imprisoned *[* * *] b[* * *].

56. Principals in the second degree and accessories.

In the case of every felony punishable under this Act, every principal in the second degree, and every accessory before the fact, shall be punishable in same manner as the principal in the first degree is by this Act punishable, and every accessory after the fact to any felony punishable under this Act shall on conviction be liable, at the discretion of the Court, to be imprisoned for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour, [* * *] and every person who shall aid, abet, counsel, or procure the commission of any misdemeanor punishable under this Act shall be liable to be proceeded against, indicted, and punished as a principal offender.

[a] The words "and with or without solitary confinement" were repealed by (1893) 56 & 57 Vict., c. 54.

GENERAL.

13. Power to make rules.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"To maintain the efficiency of the Army it is necessary in India, as in every other country, to hold manoeuvres and to practice firing in open country from time to time. Manoeuvres take place over large areas and should preferably be held in different localities every year. Firing practice is of two kinds, either with artillery or with rifles or machine-guns. The latter may be sub-divided again into firing at targets on a rifle range and field firing, or practice in the open country under conditions similar to those of war. Manoeuvres, artillery practice and field firing, all involve some invasion of private rights and a certain amount of damage to private property, because sufficient waste land for these purposes does not exist within reach of cantonments. It follows also that, in the interests of their safety, it may be necessary to exclude the owners of the land from it for short periods during such operations.

At present with the co-operation of the civil authorities, the local military authorities come to an agreement with the owners of the land, and pay them compensation for any damage or inconvenience caused. In England, and in most other countries, the military authorities have statutory powers to enable them to carry out the essential operations referred to above; and a regular procedure is prescribed by law for the assessment and payment of compensation for damage and inconvenience.

The Indian practice is not altogether satisfactory from the point of view either of the public or of the Army, and it is felt that the time has come to regularize it by putting it on a legal basis. The object of the Bill is to secure this legal authority; and its provisions follow closely those of the Military Manoeuvres Act and the Military Lands Act in England." — Gaz. of Ind., 1936, Part V, page 326.

[12th March, 1938.]

An Act to provide facilities for military manoeuvres and for field firing and artillery practice.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide facilities for military manoeuvres and for field firing and artillery practice; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1936, Pt. V, p. 326; for Report of the Select Committee, see Gaz., of Ind., 1937, Pt. V, p. 272.

It has been applied to the District of Angul and the Districts of Koraput, the Khondmals and the Ganjam Agency tracts, see Orissa Gaz., 1948, Pt. III, pages 83 and 419 respectively.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950, (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950.]

The Act is extended to the State of Jammu and Kashmir subject to the provisions contained in the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951)—See J. & K. Gaz., 27-12-1951, Pt. III, page 459.

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE MANOEUVRES, FIELD FIRING AND ARTILLERY PRACTICE ACT, 1938.

(2) It extends to the whole of India *[* • • • *].

[a. The words "except Part B States" were omitted by Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].]

CHAPTER I

MANOEUVRES

2. Power of State Government to authorise manoeuvres.

(1) The ^[State Government] may, by notification in the local ^[Official Gazette], authorise the execution of military manoeuvres over any area specified in the notification during a specified period not exceeding three months :

Provided that the same area or any part thereof shall not ordinarily be so specified more than once in any period of three years.

(2) The ^[State Government] shall publish notice of its intention to issue a notification under sub-section (1) as early as possible in advance of the issue of the notification, and no such notification shall be issued until the expiry of three months from the date of the first publication of such notice in the local ^[Official Gazette].

(3) The notice required by sub-section (2) shall be given by publication in the local ^[Official Gazette] and shall also be given throughout the area which it is proposed to specify in the notification by publication in the manner prescribed by rules made under section 13, and shall be repeated by like publication one month and one week as nearly as may be before the commencement of the manoeuvres.

3. Powers exercisable for purposes of manoeuvres.

(1) Where a notification under sub-section (1) of section 2 has been issued, such persons as are included in the military forces engaged in the manoeuvres may, within the specified limits and during the specified periods,—

(a) pass over, or encamp, construct military works of a temporary character, or execute military manoeuvres on, the area specified in the notification, and

(b) supply themselves with water from any source of water in such area :

Provided that nothing herein contained shall authorise the taking of water from any source of supply, whether belonging to a private owner or a public authority, of an amount in excess of the reasonable requirements of the military forces or of such amount as to curtail the supply ordinarily required by those entitled to the use of such water supply.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall not authorise entry on or interference with any well or tank held sacred by any religious community or any place of worship or ground attached thereto except for the legitimate purpose of offering prayers or any place or building reserved or used for the disposal of the dead, or any dwelling house or premises attached thereto or any educational institution, factory, workshop or store or any premises used for the carrying on of any trade, business or manufacture or any garden or pleasure ground, or any ancient monument as defined in section 2 of the Ancient Monuments Preservation Act, 1904.

4. Duty of Officer Commanding to repair damage.

The Officer in Command of the military forces engaged in the manoeuvres shall cause all lands used under the powers conferred by this Chapter to be restored, as soon and as far as practicable, to their previous condition.

5. Right to compensation for damage caused by manoeuvres.

Where a notification issued under section 2 authorises the execution of military manoeuvres compensation shall be payable from the Defence Estimates for any damage to person or property or interference with rights or privileges arising from such manoeuvres including expenses reasonably incurred in protecting person, property, rights and privileges.

6. Method of assessing compensation.

(1) The collector of the district in which any area utilised for the purpose of manoeuvres is situated shall depute one or more Revenue Officers to accompany the forces engaged in the manoeuvres for the purpose of determining the amount of any compensation payable under section 5.

(2) The Revenue Officer shall consider all claims for compensation under section 5 and determine, on local investigation and where possible after hearing the claimant, the amount of compensation, if any, which shall be awarded in each case; and shall disburse on the spot to the claimant the compensation so determined as payable.

(3) Any claimant, dissatisfied with a refusal of the Revenue Officer to award him compensation or with the amount of compensation awarded to him by the Revenue Officer, may, at any time within fifteen days from the communication to him of the decision of the Revenue Officer, give notice to the Revenue Officer of his intention to appeal against the decision.

(4) Where any such notice has been given, the Collector of the district shall constitute a commission consisting of himself as chairman, a person nominated by the Officer Commanding the forces engaged in the manoeuvres and two persons nominated by the District Board, and the commission shall decide all appeals of which notice has been given.

(5) The commission may exercise its powers notwithstanding the absence of any member of the commission, and the chairman of the commission shall have a casting vote in the case of an equal division of opinion.

(6) The decision of the commission shall be final and no suit shall lie in any Civil Court in respect of any matter decided by the commission.

(7) No fee shall be charged in connection with any claim, notice, appeal, application or document filed before the Revenue Officer, Collector or the commission under this section.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"We have re-drafted the provisions dealing with assessment of compensation. We have provided that a Revenue Officer shall in all cases accompany the forces in order to determine on the spot and where possible in the presence of the claimant the amount of compensation payable and to pay it forthwith.

We have also provided for appeals from awards so made to a commission of which the Collector of the District shall be chairman, and which shall contain in the persons of two members of the District Board representatives of the local inhabitants who may be expected to be familiar with local conditions."

7. Offences.

If, within the area and during the period specified in a notification under sub-section (1) of section 2, any person—

- (a) wilfully obstructs or interferes with the execution of the manoeuvres, or
- (b) without due authority enters or remains in any camp, or
- (c) without due authority interferes with any flag or mark or any apparatus used for the purposes of the manoeuvres, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to ten rupees.

NOTE.—Punishment for obstructing or interfering with the carrying out of field firing or artillery practice is prescribed by S. 12.

CHAPTER II

FIELD FIRING AND ARTILLERY PRACTICE

8. Definitions.

In this Chapter—

- (a) "field firing" includes air armament practice;
- (b) "notified area" means an area defined in a notification issued under sub-section (1) of section 9.

9. Power of State Government to authorise field firing and artillery practice.

(1) The ^[State Government] may, by notification in the local ^[Official Gazette], define any area as an area within which for a specified term of years the carrying out periodically of field firing and artillery practice may be authorised.

(2) The ^[State Government] may, by notification in the local ^[Official Gazette], authorise the carrying out of field firing and artillery practice throughout a notified area or any specified part thereof during any period or periods specified in the notification.

(3) Before any notification under sub-section (2) is issued, the ^[State Government] shall publish notice of its intention to issue such notification as early as possible in advance of the issue of the notification, and no such notification shall be issued until the expiry of two months from the date of the first publication of the notice in the local ^[Official Gazette].

(4) The notice required by sub-section (3) shall be given by publication in the local ^[Official Gazette] and shall also be given throughout the notified area by publication in some newspaper circulating in and in the language commonly understood in that area and by beat of drum and by affixation in all prominent places of copies of the said notice in the language of the locality and in such other manner as may be prescribed by rules made under section 13 and shall be repeated by like publication one week as nearly as may be before the commencement of the period or of each period specified in the notification :

Provided that the fact of the said beat of drum and affixation shall be verified in writing by one headman and two other literate inhabitants of the locality and provided further that such notice by the beat of drum shall be given seven and two days as nearly as may be before the commencement of such field firing and artillery practice.

10. Powers exercisable for purposes of field firing and artillery practice.

(1) Where a notification under sub-section (2) of section 9 has been issued, such persons as are included in the forces engaged in field firing or artillery practice may, within the notified area or specified part thereof during the specified period or periods,—

- (a) carry out field firing and artillery practice with lethal missiles, and
- (b) exercise, subject to the provisions of sections 3 and 4, any of the rights conferred by section 3 on forces engaged in military manoeuvres :

Provided that the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 3 shall not debar entry into, or interference with, any place specified in that sub-section, if it is situated in an area declared to be a danger zone under sub-section (2) of this section, to the extent that may be necessary to ensure the exclusion from it of persons and domestic animals :

Provided further that in the case of a dwelling house occupied by women adequate warning shall be given through a local inhabitant and entry shall be effected after such warning in the presence of two respectable inhabitants of the locality.

(2) The Officer Commanding the forces engaged in any such practice may, within the notified area or specified part thereof, declare any area to be a danger zone, and thereupon the Collector shall, on application made to him by the Officer Commanding the forces engaged in the practice, prohibit the entry into and secure the removal from such danger zone of all persons and domestic animals during the times when the discharge of lethal missiles is taking place or there is danger to life or health.

11. Compensation.

The provisions of sections 5 and 6 shall apply in the case of field firing and artillery practice as they apply in the case of military manoeuvres :

Provided that the compensation payable under this section shall include compensation for exclusion or removal from any place declared to be a danger zone of persons or domestic animals, such compensation to be disbursed at not less than the minimum rates prescribed by rules made under section 13 before the exclusion or removal is enforced, and shall also include compensation for any loss of employment or deterioration of crops resulting from any such exclusion or removal.

12. Offences.

If, during any period specified in a notification issued under sub-section (2) of section 9, any person within a notified area—

- (a) wilfully obstructs or interferes with the carrying out of field firing or artillery practice, or
- (b) without due authority enters or remains in any camp, or
- (c) without due authority enters or remains in any area declared to be a danger zone at a time when entry thereto is prohibited, or
- (d) without due authority interferes with any flag or mark or target or any apparatus used for the purposes of the practice, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to ten rupees.

CHAPTER III

GENERAL

13. Power to make rules.

The <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may, by notification in the local <sup>A</sup>[Official Gazette], make rules —

- (a) prescribing the manner in which the notices required by sub-section (2) of section 2 and sub-section (3) of section 9 shall be published in the areas concerned ;
- (b) regulating the use under this Act of land for manoeuvres or field firing and artillery practice in such manner as to secure the public against danger and to enable the manoeuvre, or practice, to be carried out without interference and with the minimum inconvenience to the inhabitants of the areas affected ;
- (c) regulating the procedure of the Revenue Officers and commissions referred to in section 6 in such manner as to secure due publicity regarding the method of making claims for compensation and preferring appeals from original awards of compensation, the expeditious settlement of claims and of appeals and the payment of compensation so far as possible direct to the claimants ; and
- (d) defining the principles to be followed by the Revenue Officers and commissions referred to in section 6 in assessing the amount of compensation to be awarded.

[THE] MARKING OF HEAVY PACKAGES ACT, 1951

(ACT XXXIX of 1951)

[The Act printed here is as on 15-8-1960.]

CONTENTS

SECTIONS

1. Short title, extent and commencement.
2. Definitions.

3. Obligation to mark weight on heavy packages.
4. Penalty.
5. Power to make rules.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Convention concerning the Marking of the Weight on Heavy Packages transported by vessels adopted by the International Labour Conference in 1929 has been ratified by India. The Convention requires that any package or object of one thousand kilogrammes (one metric ton) or more gross weight consigned within the territory of any Member country for transport by sea or inland waterway should have its gross weight plainly and durably marked upon it on the outside before it is loaded on a ship or vessel. This will prevent heavy unmarked packages from being lifted by mechanical means which are intended for smaller loads. The purpose of the Bill is to give effect to the Convention in India."

—Gaz. Ind., 1950, Pt. II-sec. 2, page 234.

[THE] MARKING OF HEAVY PACKAGES ACT, 1951

[25th June, 1951.]

An Act to give effect to the International Convention drawn up in Geneva on the 30th day of May, 1929, for the marking of weight on heavy packages transported by sea or inland water-ways.

BE it enacted by Parliament as follows:—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1950, Pt. II-sec. 2, page 234.

1. Short title, extent and commencement.

- (1) This Act may be called THE MARKING OF HEAVY PACKAGES ACT, 1951.
- (2) It extends to the whole of India.

(3) It shall come into force on such *date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

[a] The Act came into force on 1-11-1951, ~~see~~ S. R. O., 1461 D/- 15-9-1951 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1951, Pt. II-Sec. 3, p. 1608.

2. Definitions.

In this Act unless the context otherwise requires,—

- (a) "heavy package" means a package or other object weighing not less than one metric ton, which is equal to one thousand kilogrammes<sup>a</sup> or 2204·6 standard pounds or 26·8 standard maunds;
- (b) "inland water-way" means any canal, river, lake or other navigable water in India.

[a] According to section 3 (1) (g) of the Standards of Weight Act, 1939 (IX of 1939) a standard ton was equal to weight of 2,240 standard pounds. This Act is now repealed by the Standards of Weights and Measures Act, 1956 (LXXXIX of 1956). According to S. 16 (1) read with Sch. I of this Act one standard ton is equal to 1016·05 kilograms.

3. Obligation to mark weight on heavy packages.

Every person consigning a heavy package for transport by sea or inland water-way from any place in India shall have marked thereon plainly, durably and conspicuously the gross weight of the packages:

Provided that in cases or circumstances specified by rules made under this Act where it is difficult to determine the correct weight, only the approximate weight may be so marked.

Note. — Marking will prevent heavy unmarked packages from being lifted by mechanical means which are intended for smaller loads. This is the purpose and object of the Act.

4. Penalty.

(1) If any person contravenes the provisions of section 3, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(2) If the person contravening the said provisions is a company or other body corporate, every managing director, manager or secretary thereof shall, unless he proves that the contravention took place without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent such contravention, be deemed to be guilty of such contravention.

5. Power to make rules.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules<sup>a</sup>—

- (a) specifying the conditions as to the manner of marking of all heavy packages, the manner of packing and the type of covering to be used;
- (b) specifying the cases or circumstances in which the approximate weight of heavy packages instead of their correct weight may be marked.

[a] For the Marking of Heavy Packages Rules, 1951, ~~see~~ S. R. O. 1670 dated 29-10-1951 published in Gaz. Ind., 1951, Extra., Pt. II-sec. 3, page 1255.

[THE] MARRIAGES VALIDATION ACT, 1892

[29th January, 1892.]

An Act to validate certain marriages solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872.

WHEREAS provision is made in Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872,<sup>b</sup> for the solemnization of marriages between persons of whom both are <sup>c</sup>[Indian Christians], but not of marriages between persons of whom one only is <sup>d</sup>[an Indian Christian];

AND WHEREAS persons licensed under section 9 of the said Act have in diverse parts of <sup>e</sup>[India], through ignorance of the law, permitted marriages to be solemnized in their presence under the said Part between persons of whom one is <sup>d</sup>[an Indian Christian] and the other is not <sup>d</sup>[an Indian Christian];

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that such marriages, having been solemnized in good faith, should be validated;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] Short title was given by Short Titles Act, 1897 (XIV of 1897).

For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1891, Pt. V, p. 142; for Report of the Select Committee, see ibid, 1892, Pt. V, p. 5.

The Act has been declared to be in force in the Sonthal Parganas by the Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation (III of 1872).

1. Commencement. [Repealed by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1914 (X of 1914), S. 3 and Sch. II.]

2. Definition.

In this Act the expression "<sup>c</sup>[Indian Christian]" has the same meaning as in the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872.

[a] Substituted for "Native Christian," by A.L.O., 1950.

3. Validation of irregular marriages.

All marriages which have already been solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, between persons of whom one only was <sup>a</sup>[an Indian Christian], shall be as good and valid in law as if such marriages had been solemnized between persons of whom both were <sup>b</sup>[Indian Christians]:

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any marriage which has been judicially declared to be null and void, or to any case where either of the parties has, since the solemnization of such marriage and prior to the commencement of this Act, contracted a valid marriage.

[a] Substituted for "a Native Christian," by A.L.O., 1950. [b] Substituted for "Native Christians," ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"This section as originally drafted proposed to validate all marriages of the kind referred to which may be solemnized within three months after the commencement of the Act. We have omitted this provision as we understand that the attention of all the Local Governments has already been drawn by the Government of India to the requirements of the law, and that all persons licensed under S. 9 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, must by this time have been informed how the law really stands. We think therefore that any further extension of this time is unnecessary, and might be mischievous. We have at the same time inserted a provision that the validation contemplated by S. 3 shall not apply to (1) marriages already judicially declared to be void, or to (2) cases in which, subsequent to the solemnisation of any such invalid marriage, and before the commencement of this Act, one of the parties has contracted a valid marriage. The equity of these additional provisions is obvious."

4. Validation of records of irregular marriages.

Certificates of marriages which are declared by the last foregoing section to be good and valid in law, and register-books, and certified copies of true and duly authenticated extracts therefrom, deposited in compliance with the law for the time being in force, in so far as the register-books and extracts relate to such marriages as aforesaid, shall be received as evidence of such marriages as if such marriages had been solemnized between persons of whom both were <sup>a</sup>[Indian Christians].

Note:—This is a necessary corollary to the validation of marriages which were not valid under the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, but which purported to be solemnized under Part VI of that Act.

5. Application of Act to marriages under Act 5 of 1865.

References in this Act to the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, shall, so far as may be requisite, be construed as applying also to the corresponding portions of the <sup>a</sup>Indian Marriage Act, 1865.

[a] Repealed (except as to Straits Settlements) by Christian Marriage Act, 1872 (XV of 1872)

6. Penalty for solemnizing irregular marriages.

If any person licensed under section 9 of the said Act to grant certificates of marriage between <sup>a</sup>[Indian Christians] shall at any time after the commencement of this Act solemnize or affect to solemnize any marriage under Part VI of the said Act or grant any such certificate as therein mentioned, knowing that one of the parties to such marriage or affected marriage was at the date of such solemnization not a Christian, he shall be liable to have his license cancelled, and in addition thereto he shall be deemed to have been guilty of an offence prohibited by section 73 of the said Act, and shall be punishable accordingly.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Indian Succession Act (X of 1865), section four, declares that no person shall by marriage acquire any interest in the property of the person whom he or she marries. This section, however, does not apply to marriages contracted before the 1st January 1866, and, in the case of persons married after that day, the Act does not protect the husband from liability from the debts of his wife contracted before marriage, nor does it expressly provide for the enforcement of claims by or against such wives.

The objects of the present Bill are, first, to extend the protection afforded to wives by section four of the Succession Act (so far as regards future wages and earnings and policies of insurance) to women married before 1st January 1866; secondly, to declare that a married woman may sue in her own name for any property which by force of the Succession Act, or the proposed Act, is her separate property; thirdly, to relieve the husband of a wife married after the 31st December 1865, from her ante-nuptial debts; and, lastly, to declare that any person entering into a contract with a wife (otherwise than as her husband's agent), shall be entitled to sue her, and, to the extent of her separate property, to recover against her whatever he might have recovered had she been unmarried.

Clause 4 (as to a wife's wages and earnings) is equivalent to the Married Women's Property Act, 33 & 34 Vic., Cap. 93, section one.

Clause 5 is copied from the first paragraph of section ten of that Act. It declares that any married woman may effect a policy of insurance on her own life or on her husband's life, on her own behalf, and that the amount assured shall be her separate property. As the law stands, if a wife effects such a policy (otherwise than out of her separate estate), and dies in her husband's life-time, the husband, in the capacity of her administrator, becomes the absolute owner of the policy.

Clause 6 is equivalent to the second paragraph of the same section, the Official Trustee under Act 17 of 1864 replacing the trustee appointed in England by the Court of Chancery or the County Court. It provides that an insurance effected by a husband on his own life and expressed to be for his wife's benefit shall be deemed to be a trust for her benefit, and shall not be subject to the claims of his creditors, except, of course, when the transaction was intended to defraud them. This provision is necessitated by the doctrine that a husband as such has no insurable interest in his wife's life. It is true that, as the law stands, such a policy might be effected; but it would only be in the nature of a voluntary settlement, and it would be liable to the dangers to which such settlements are exposed.

Clauses 7 (as to legal proceedings by married women) and 8 (as to the non-liability of a husband for his wife's ante-nuptial debts) are respectively equivalent to sections eleven and twelve of the Married Women's Property Act.

Clause 9 declares that the law as to a wife's liability for her post-nuptial debts in conformity with a recent decision of Mr. Justice Phear (Archer v. Watkins, 8 Beng. L. R. 372). This decision is binding only in Bengal; the Bill will extend its authority throughout British India.

The Bill does not apply to married women who are Hindus, Muhammadans, Buddhists, Sikhs or Jains, and power is taken to exempt from its operation, either retrospectively or prospectively, the members of any race, sect or tribe to whom it is inexpedient to apply its provisions."

[THE] MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT, 1874

(ACT III OF 1874)*

[24th February, 1874.]

An Act to explain and amend the law relating to certain married women, and for other purposes.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make such provision as hereinafter appears for the enjoyment of wages and earnings by women married before the first day of January, 1866, and for insurances on lives by persons married before or after that day :

AND WHEREAS by the Indian Succession Act, 1865,<sup>b</sup> section 4 it is enacted that no person shall by marriage acquire any interest in the property of the

Preamble — Note 1

[1] By using words "absolute owner" the legislature did not intend to make a declaration which would have effect of extending provisions of S. 4, Succession Act, but to describe its legal effect. The word 'absolute' is used with reference to husband not acquiring any interest in property. (74) 22 Suth W R 175 (179) (DB).

person whom he or she marries, nor become incapable of doing any act in respect of his or her own property, which he or she could have done, if unmarried.

AND WHEREAS by force of the said Act all women to whose marriages it applies are absolute owners of all property vested in, or acquired by, them, and their husbands do not by their marriage acquire any interest in such property, but the said Act does not protect such husbands from liabilities on account of the debts of their wives contracted before marriage, and does not expressly provide for the enforcement of claims by or against such wives ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1873, Pt. V, p. 457.

The Act has been declared to be in force in the Sonthal Parganas, see the Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation (III of 1872), S. 3. It has been declared, by notification under the Scheduled Districts Act, 1874 (XIV of 1874), S. 3 (a) to be in force in the following Scheduled Districts, namely :— The Districts of Hazaribagh, Lohardaga and Manbhum, and Pargana Dhalbhum and the Kolhan in the District of Singhbhum, see Gaz. of Ind., 1881, Pt. I, p. 504. The District of Lohardaga included at this time the Palamau District, which was separated in 1894; Lohardaga is now called the Ranchi District, see Cal. Gaz., 1899, Pt. I, p. 44. It has been extended, by notification under S. 5 of the same Act, to the Scheduled District of the North-Western Provinces Tarai, see Gaz. of Ind., 1876, Pt. I, p. 505.

The Act has been extended to the new Provinces and merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 (1-1-1950) and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950] as amended by Act LXI of 1959, S. 4.

[b] See now Succession Act, 1925 (XXXIX of 1925), S. 20.

I.—PRELIMINARY

1. Short title.

This Act may be called THE MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT, 1874.

2. Extent and application.

•[It extends to the whole of India except the State of Jammu and Kashmir.]

But nothing herein contained applies to any married women who at the time of her marriage professed the Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina religion, or whose husband, at the time of such marriage, professed any of those religions.

And the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may from time to time, by order, either retrospectively from the passing of this Act or prospectively, exempt from the operation of all or any of the provisions of this Act the members of any race, sect or tribe, or part of a race, sect or tribe, to whom it may consider it impossible or inexpedient to apply such provisions.

The <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may also revoke any such order, but not so that the revocation shall have any retrospective effect.

All orders and revocations under this section shall be published in the <sup>A</sup>[Official Gazette].

[a] Substituted for the former paragraph, by Married Women's Property (Extension) Act, 1959 (LXI of 1959), S. 2 [w.e.f. 1-3-1960]. Any law corresponding to this Act in force in any territory to which it is extended by the said Extension Act shall, subject to certain savings, stand repealed on and from 1-3-1960—See Section 5 of the Extension Act. [b] The last paragraph was repealed by Succession Act, 1925 (XXXIX of 1925), S. 392 Schedule IX [30-9-1925].

Section 2 — Note 1

3. Commencement. [Repealed by the Repealing Act, 1876 (XII of 1876), S. 1 and Sch.]

II.—MARRIED WOMEN'S WAGES AND EARNINGS

*4. Married women's earnings to be their separate property.

The wages and earnings of any married woman acquired or gained by her after the passing of this Act, in any employment, occupation or trade carried on by her and not by her husband, and also any money or other property so acquired by her through the exercise of any literary, artistic or scientific skill, and all savings from and investments of such wages, earnings and property, shall be deemed to be her separate property, and her receipts alone shall be good discharges for such wages, earnings and property.

[a] Cf. the Married Women's Property Act, 1870 (33 and 34 Vict., c. 93), S. 1, now repealed by the Married Women's Property Act, 1882 (45 and 46 Vict., c. 75).

III.—INSURANCES BY WIVES AND HUSBANDS

*5. Married woman may effect policy of insurance.

Any married woman may effect a policy of insurance on her own behalf and independently of her husband; and the same and all benefit thereof, if expressed on the face of it to be so effected, shall enure as her separate property, and the contract evidenced by such policy shall be as valid as if made with an unmarried woman.

[a] Cf. the Married Women's Property Act, 1870 (33 and 34 Vict., c. 93), S. 10, para 1 and ibid., 1882 (45 and 46 Vict., c. 75), S. 11, para 1.

*6. Insurance by husband for benefit of wife.

<sup>b</sup>[(1)] A policy of insurance effected by any married man on his own life, and expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of his wife, or of his wife and children, or any of them, shall enure and be deemed to be a trust for the benefit of his wife, or of his wife and children, or any of them, according to the interest so expressed, and shall not, so long as any object of the trust remains, be subject to the control of the husband, or to his creditors, or form part of his estate.

Section 6 - Note 1

[1] Section 6 means by a "policy" the document or documents evidencing the contract. Hence where under the terms of an insurance policy the proposal and the declaration have been made a part of the contract the statements contained in the declaration should be read as having been incorporated into the policy. 1938 Mad 604 (607) [AIR V 25]; ILR (1938) Mad 909 (FB).

When the sum secured by the policy becomes payable, it shall, unless, special trustees are duly appointed to receive and hold the same, be paid to the Official Trustee of the [State] in which the office at which the insurance was effected is situate, and shall be received and held by him upon the trusts expressed in the policy, or such of them as are then existing.

And in reference to such sum he shall stand in the same position in all respects as if he had been duly appointed trustee thereof by a High Court, under Act No. XVII of 1864<sup>d</sup> (to constitute an Office of Official Trustee), section 10.

Nothing herein contained shall operate to destroy or impede the right of any creditor to be paid out of the proceeds of any policy of assurance which may have been effected with intent to defraud creditors.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"In the course of the judgment delivered in the case of Mrs. Margaret Lierce v. Mr. George Albert Lierce, the Additional District Judge, 24-parganas, Calcutta, observed as follows :

"The position of a woman domiciled in India who marries a foreigner not domiciled in India appears to be extremely anomalous in regard to the law of divorce. She can apparently obtain no relief under the Indian Divorce Act, 1869, and, inasmuch as the Indian and Colonial Divorce Jurisdiction Act, 1926, is applicable only to parties who are British subjects domiciled in England and Scotland, she can obtain no relief under that Act either . . . . The anomaly of this position is intensified in regard to a war-time marriage contracted by a woman domiciled in India with a foreigner serving temporarily in India on military duty ; and inasmuch as not a few war-time marriages of this character must presumably have been contracted between women domiciled in this country and foreigners temporarily resident here during the war, it would seem that there is a lacuna in the present law of divorce which ought to be filled."

Under the existing law, no Court in India has jurisdiction to grant a decree of divorce, unless the parties are domiciled in India or in England or Scotland. In other cases the woman has no remedy unless she is in a position to institute proceedings in the country of her husband's domicile. A clear case, therefore, exists on the merits for the enactment in India of a counterpart of the Act in the United Kingdom called the Matrimonial Causes (War Marriages) Act, 1944, whereby in the case of a marriage celebrated during the war period, where the husband was at the time of the marriage domiciled outside India, and the wife was, immediately before the marriage, domiciled in India, the Indian Courts exercising jurisdiction under the Indian Divorce Act should be vested with jurisdiction in relation to proceedings for divorce as if both parties were at all material times domiciled in India. Such a law would obviously apply only in cases where the petitioner or the respondent professes the Christian religion. Hence the present Bill.

Provision is also included in the Bill for limiting the time within which proceedings for divorce or for nullity of marriage may be commenced under the Act."

[THE INDIAN] MATRIMONIAL CAUSES (WAR MARRIAGES) ACT, 1948
(ACT XL OF 1948)*

[3rd September, 1948.]

An Act to confer upon Courts temporary jurisdiction in certain matrimonial causes.

WHEREAS it is expedient to confer upon Courts b[* * *] temporary jurisdiction in certain matrimonial causes;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1948, Pt. V, p. 476.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950], and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

[b] The words "in the Provinces of India" were omitted by A.L.O., 1950.

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE INDIAN MATRIMONIAL CAUSES (WAR MARRIAGES) ACT, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of India, except *[the territories which, immediately before the 1st November, 1956, were comprised in Part B States.]

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

- (a) "High Court" shall have the same meaning as in the Indian Divorce Act, 1869 ;
- (b) "marriage" includes a purported marriage which was void ab initio, and "husband" and "wife" shall be construed accordingly ;
- (c) "war period" means the period commencing on the 3rd day of September, 1939, and ending on the 31st day of March, 1946.

3. Application of Act.

The marriages to which this Act applies are marriages solemnized during the war period, where the husband was, at the time of the marriage, domiciled outside India, and the wife was immediately before the marriage, domiciled in India :

Provided that this Act shall not apply to any marriage if, since the solemnization thereof, the parties thereto have resided together in the country in which the husband was domiciled at the time of the residence.

Explanation.—For the purposes of the above proviso the whole of the United States of America, the whole of the United Kingdom and the whole of any British possession a[* * *] shall each be treated as one country.

[a] The words "outside India" were omitted by the A. L. O., 1950.

4. Temporary extension of jurisdiction of High Courts.

In the case of any marriage to which this Act applies, the High Court shall have jurisdiction in and in relation to any proceedings for divorce or for nullity of marriage as if both parties were at all material times domiciled in India; and subject to the provisions of this Act, the provisions of the Indian Divorce Act, 1869, shall apply, so far as may be, in relation to any such proceedings instituted under this Act as if they were proceedings instituted under that Act :

Provided that this section shall not apply in relation to any proceedings for divorce or for nullity of marriage unless—

- (a) the petitioner or the respondent professes the Christian religion, and

(b) the proceedings for divorce or for nullity of marriage are commenced not later than three years from the commencement of this Act.

Note.—The Act is passed to give jurisdiction to Indian Courts, under the Indian Divorce Act, 1869, in regard to war-time marriages contracted by a woman domiciled in India with a foreigner serving temporarily in India on military duty.

5. Saving.

Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to extend or alter the jurisdiction of the High Court in, or in relation to, any proceedings for divorce or for nullity of marriage, where at the commencement of those proceedings the parties are domiciled anywhere in India.

6. Certain decrees and orders to be recognised.

The validity of any decree or order made in the United Kingdom by virtue of the Matrimonial Causes (War Marriages) Act, 1944<sup>a</sup> shall, by virtue of this Act, be recognised in all Courts in the States of India.

[a] 7 and 8 Geo. 6, c. 43.

7. Power to make rules.

The High Court may make such rules as may be necessary for the purpose of carrying out the objects of this Act.

[THE] MEASURES OF LENGTH ACT, 1889.

(ACT II OF 1889)*

[15th February, 1889.]

An Act to declare the imperial standard yard for the United Kingdom to be the legal standard measure of length <sup>b</sup>[* * *].

WHEREAS it is expedient to declare the imperial standard yard for the United Kingdom to be the legal standard measure of length <sup>b</sup>[* * *]; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gazette of India, 1888, pt. V, p. 41; for Report of the Select Committee, see ibid., 1889, Pt. IV, p. 6.

THE THIRD SCHEDULE.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The objects of this Bill are to amend the Indian Medical Council Act, 1933 (XXVII of 1933)—

- (a) to give representation to licentiate members of the medical profession, a large number of whom are still practising in the country;
- (b) to provide for the registration of the names of citizens of India who have obtained foreign medical qualifications which are not at present recognised under the existing Act;
- (c) to provide for the temporary recognition of medical qualifications granted by medical institutions in countries outside India with which no scheme of reciprocity exists in cases where the medical practitioners concerned are attached for the time being to any medical institution in India for the purpose of teaching or research or for any charitable object;
- (d) to provide for the formation of a Committee of Post-graduate Medical Education for the purpose of assisting the Medical Council of India to prescribe standards of post-graduate medical education for the guidance of Universities and to advise Universities in the matter of securing uniform standards for post-graduate medical education throughout India;

- (e) to provide for the maintenance of an all-India register by the Medical Council of India, which will contain the names of all the medical practitioners possessing recognised medical qualifications.

2. The Indian Medical Council Act, 1933, does not now extend to Part-B States and it is now considered necessary that the Act should extend to the whole of India except Jammu and Kashmir. A few other minor amendments have also come to light in the course of the working of this Act, and as a matter of convenience it is now proposed to re-enact the existing Act with the above amendments."

—Gaz. of Ind. 1956, Extra, pt. II-Sec. (2), p. 399.

[THE INDIAN] MEDICAL COUNCIL ACT, 1956
 (ACT CII OF 1956)*

[30th December, 1956.]

An Act to provide for the reconstitution of the Medical Council of India, and the maintenance of a medical Register for India and for matters connected therewith.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Seventh Year of the Republic of India as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of India. 1956, Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 399.

1. Short title, extent and commencement.

- (1) This Act may be called THE INDIAN MEDICAL COUNCIL ACT, 1956.
- (2) It extends to the whole of India except the State of Jammu and Kashmir.
- (3) It shall come into force on such date* as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

[a] The Act came into force on 1-11-1958 : see S. O. 2254 dated 28-10-1958 published in Gaz. of Ind. 1958, Pt. II-Sec. 3 (ii), p. 2080.

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

- (a) "approved institution" means a hospital, health centre or other such institution recognised by a University as an institution in which a person may undergo the training, if any, required by his course of study before the award of any medical qualification to him;
- (b) "Council" means the Medical Council of India constituted under this Act;
- (c) "India" means the territories to which this Act extends;

- (d) "Indian Medical Register" means the medical register maintained by the Council;
- (e) "medical institution" means any institution, within or without India, which grants degrees, diplomas or licences in medicine;
- (f) "medicine" means modern scientific medicine in all its branches and includes surgery and obstetrics, but does not include veterinary medicine and surgery;
- (g) "prescribed" means prescribed by regulations;
- (h) "recognised medical qualification" means any of the medical qualifications included in the Schedules;
- (i) "regulation" means a regulation made under section 33;
- (j) "State Medical Council" means a medical council constituted under any law for the time being in force in any State regulating the registration of practitioners of medicine;
- (k) "State Medical Register" means a register maintained under any law for the time being in force in any State regulating the registration of practitioners of medicine;
- (l) "University" means any University in India established by law and having a medical faculty.

3. Constitution and composition of the Council.

(1) The Central Government shall cause to be constituted a Council consisting of the following members, namely :

- (a) one member from each State other than a Union Territory, to be nominated by the Central Government in consultation with the State Government concerned;
- (b) one member from each University, to be elected from amongst the members of the medical faculty of the University by members of the Senate of the University or in case the University has no senate, by members of the Court;
- (c) one member from each State in which a State Medical Register is maintained, to be elected from amongst themselves by persons enrolled on such Register who possess the medical qualifications included in the First or the Second Schedule or in Part II of the Third Schedule;
- (d) seven members to be elected from amongst themselves by persons enrolled on any of the State Medical Registers who possess the medical qualifications included in Part I of the Third Schedule;
- (e) eight members to be nominated by the Central Government.

(2) The President and Vice-President of the Council shall be elected by the members of the Council from amongst themselves.

(3) No act done by the Council shall be questioned on the ground merely of the existence of any vacancy in, or any defect in the constitution of, the Council.

4. Mode of election.

(1) An election under clause (b), clause (c) or clause (d) of sub-section (1) of section 3 shall be conducted by the Central Government in accordance with such rules as may be made by it in this behalf, and any rules so made may provide that pending the preparation of the Indian Medical Register in accordance with the provisions of this Act, the members referred to in clause (d) of sub-section (1) of section 3 may be nominated by the Central Government instead of being elected as provided therein.

(2) Where any dispute arises regarding any election to the Council, it shall be referred to the Central Government whose decision shall be final.

5. Restrictions on nomination and membership.

(1) No person shall be eligible for nomination under clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 3 unless he possesses any of the medical qualifications included in the First and Second Schedules, resides in the State concerned, and, where a State Medical Register is maintained in that State, is enrolled on that register.

(2) No person may at the same time serve as a member in more than one capacity.

6. Incorporation of the Council.

The Council so constituted shall be a body corporate by the name of the Medical Council of India, having perpetual succession and a common seal, with power to acquire and hold property, both movable and immovable, and to contract, and shall by the said name sue and be sued.

7. Term of office of President, Vice-President and members.

(1) The President or Vice-President of the Council shall hold office for a term not exceeding beyond the expiry of his term as member of the Council.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this section, a member shall hold office for a term of five years from the date of his nomination or election or until his successor shall have been duly nominated or elected, whichever is longer.

(3) An elected or nominated member shall be deemed to have vacated his seat if he is absent without excuse, sufficient in the opinion of the Council, from three consecutive ordinary meetings of the Council or, in the case of a member elected under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 3, if he ceases to be a member of the medical faculty of the University concerned, or in the case of a member elected under clause (c) or clause (d) of that sub-section, if he ceases to be a person enrolled on the State Medical Register concerned.

(4) A casual vacancy in the Council shall be filled by nomination or election, as the case may be, and the person nominated or elected to fill the vacancy shall hold office only for the remainder of the term for which the member whose place he takes was nominated or elected.

(5) Members of the Council shall be eligible for re-nomination or re-election.

(6) Where the said term of five years is about to expire in respect of any member, a successor may be nominated or elected at any time within three months before the said term expires but he shall not assume office until the said term has expired.

8. Meetings of the Council.

(1) The Council shall meet at least once in each year at such time and place as may be appointed by the Council.

(2) Unless otherwise provided by regulations, fifteen members of the Council shall form a quorum, and all the acts of the Council shall be decided by a majority of the members present and voting.

9. Officers, committees and servants of the Council.

The Council shall—

(1) constitute from amongst its members an Executive Committee and such other Committees for general or special purposes as the Council deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act;

(2) appoint a Registrar who shall act as Secretary and who may also, if deemed expedient, act as Treasurer;

(3) employ such other persons as the Council deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act;

(4) require and take from the Registrar, or from any other employee, such security for the due performance of his duties as the Council deems necessary; and

(5) with the previous sanction of the Central Government, fix the remuneration and allowances to be paid to the President, Vice-President and members of the Council and determine the conditions of service of the employees of the Council.

10. The Executive Committee.

(1) The Executive Committee, hereinafter referred to as the Committee, shall consist of the President and Vice-President, who shall be members ex officio, and not less than seven and not more than ten other members who shall be elected by the Council from amongst its members.

(2) The President and Vice-President shall be the President and Vice-President respectively of the Committee.

(3) In addition to the powers and duties conferred and imposed upon it by this Act, the Committee shall exercise and discharge such powers and duties as the Council may confer or impose upon it by any regulations which may be made in this behalf.

11. Recognition of medical qualifications granted by Universities or medical institutions in India.

(1) The medical qualifications granted by any University or medical institution in India which are included in the First Schedule shall be recognised medical qualifications for the purposes of this Act.

(2) Any University or medical institution in India which grants a medical qualification not included in the First Schedule may apply to the Central Government to have such qualification recognised, and the Central Government, after consulting the Council, may, by notification in the Official Gazette, amend the First Schedule so as to include such qualification therein, and any such notification may also direct that an entry shall be made in the last column of the First Schedule against such medical qualification declaring that it shall be a recognised medical qualification only when granted after a specified date.

12. Recognition of medical qualifications granted by medical institutions in countries with which there is a scheme of reciprocity.

(1) The medical qualifications granted by medical institutions outside India which are included in the Second Schedule shall be recognised medical qualifications for the purposes of this Act.

(2) The Council may enter into negotiations with the Authority in any State or country outside India which by the law of such State or country is entrusted with the maintenance of a register of medical practitioners, for the settling of a scheme of reciprocity for the recognition of medical qualifications and in pursuance of any such scheme, the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, amend the Second Schedule so as to include therein the medical qualification which the Council has decided should be recognised, and any such notification may also direct that an entry shall be made in the last column of the Second Schedule against such medical qualification declaring that it shall be a recognised medical qualification only when granted after a specified date.

(3) The Central Government, after consultation with the Council, may, by notification in the Official Gazette, amend the Second Schedule by directing that an entry be made therein in respect of any medical qualification declaring that it shall be a recognised medical qualification only when granted before a specified date.

(4) Where the Council has refused to recommend any medical qualification which has been proposed for recognition by any Authority referred to in subsection (2) and that Authority applies to the Central Government in this behalf, the Central Government, after considering such application and after obtaining from the Council a report, if any, as to the reasons for any such refusal, may, by notification in the Official Gazette, amend the Second Schedule so as to include such qualification therein and the provisions of sub-section (2) shall apply to such notification.

13. Recognition of medical qualifications granted by certain medical institutions whose qualifications are not included in the First or Second Schedule.

(1) The medical qualifications granted by medical institutions in India which are not included in the First Schedule and which are included in Part I of the Third Schedule shall also be recognised medical qualifications for the purposes of this Act.

(2) The medical qualifications granted to a citizen of India—

(a) before the 15th day of August, 1947, by medical institutions in the territories now forming part of Pakistan, and

(b) before the first day of April, 1937, by medical institutions in the territories now forming part of Burma, which are included in Part I of the Third Schedule shall also be recognised medical qualifications for the purposes of this Act.

(3) The medical qualifications granted by medical institutions outside India which are included in Part II of the Third Schedule shall also be recognised medical qualifications for the purposes of this Act, but no person possessing any such qualification shall be entitled to enrolment on any State Medical Register unless he is a citizen of India and has undergone such practical training after obtaining that qualification as may be required by the rules or regulations in force in the country or State granting the qualification, or if he has not undergone any practical training in that country or State, he has undergone such practical training as may be prescribed.

(4) The Central Government, after consulting the Council, may by notification in the Official Gazette, amend Part II of the Third Schedule so as to include therein any qualification granted by a medical institution outside India which is not included in the Second Schedule.

(5) Any medical institution in India which is desirous of getting a medical qualification granted by it included in Part I of the Third Schedule may apply to the Central Government to have such qualification recognised and the Central Government, after consulting the Council, may, by notification in the Official Gazette, amend Part I of the Third Schedule so as to include such qualification therein, and any such notification may also direct that an entry shall be made in the last column of Part I of the Third Schedule against such medical qualification declaring that it shall be a recognised medical qualification only when granted after a specified date.

14. Special provision in certain cases for recognition of medical qualification granted by medical institutions in countries with which there is no scheme of reciprocity.

(1) The Central Government after consultation with the Council may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that medical qualifications granted by medical institutions in any State or country outside India in respect of which a scheme of reciprocity for the recognition of medical qualifications is not in force, shall be recognised medical qualifications for the purposes of this Act or shall be so only when granted after a specified date;

Provided that medical practice by the doctors possessing such qualifications shall be limited to the institution to which they are attached for the time being for purposes of teaching, research or charitable work and shall be limited to the period specified in this behalf by the Central Government by general or special order.

(2) In respect of any such medical qualification, the Central Government, after consultation with the Council, may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that it shall be a recognised medical qualification only when granted before a specified date.

Note.—Under this section, foreign medical qualifications are recognized only for limited purposes and for particular areas. Recognition under this section does not permit the holder of the qualification to practise the profession generally. It is only confined to teaching, research or charitable work attached to specified institutions.

15. Right of persons possessing qualifications in the Schedules to be enrolled.

Subject to the other provisions contained in this Act, the medical qualifications included in the Schedules shall be sufficient qualification for enrolment on any State Medical Register.

16. Power to require information as to courses of study and examinations.

Every University or medical institution in India which grants a recognised medical qualification shall furnish such information as the Council may, from time to time, require as to the courses of study and examinations to be undergone in order to obtain such qualification, as to the ages at which such courses of study and examinations are required to be undergone and such qualification is conferred and generally as to the requisites for obtaining such qualification.

17. Inspection of examinations.

(1) The Committee shall appoint such number of medical inspectors as it may deem requisite to attend at any or all of the examinations held by Universities or medical institutions in India for the purpose of recommending to the Central Government recognition of medical qualifications.

(2) Inspectors appointed under this section shall not interfere with the conduct of any examination but they shall report to the Committee on the sufficiency of every examination which they attend and on any other matters in regard to which the Committee may require them to report.

(3) The Committee shall forward a copy of any such report to the University or medical institution concerned, and shall also forward a copy with the remarks of the University or institution thereon, to the Central Government.

18. Visitors at examinations.

(1) The Council may appoint such number of visitors as it may deem requisite to attend at any or all of the examinations held by Universities or medical institutions in India for the purpose of granting recognised medical qualifications.

(2) Any person, whether he is a member of the Council or not, may be appointed as a visitor under this section but a person who is appointed as an inspector under section 17 for any examination shall not be appointed as a visitor for the same examination.

(3) Visitors appointed under this section shall not interfere with the conduct of any examination but they shall report to the President of the Council on the sufficiency of every examination which they attend and on any other matters in regard to which the Council may require them to report.

(4) The report of a visitor shall be treated as confidential unless in any particular case the President of the Council otherwise directs :

Provided that if the Central Government requires a copy of the report of a visitor, the Council shall furnish the same.

19. Withdrawal of recognition.

(1) When upon report by the Committee or by visitor appointed under section 18, it appears to the Council that the courses of study and examination to be undergone in any University or medical institution in India in order to obtain a recognised medical qualification or that the standards of proficiency required from candidates at any examination held for the purpose of granting such qualification are not such as to secure to persons holding such qualification the knowledge and skill requisite for the efficient practice of medicine, the Council shall make a representation to that effect to the Central Government.

(2) After considering such representation, the Central Government may send it to the State Government of the State in which the University or medical institution is situated and the State Government shall forward it along with such remarks as it may choose to make to the University or medical institution, with an intimation of the period within which the University or medical institution may submit its explanation to the State Government.

(3) On the receipt of the explanation or, where no explanation is submitted within the period fixed, then on the expiry of that period, the State Government shall make its recommendations to the Central Government.

(4) The Central Government, after making such further inquiry, if any, as it may think fit, may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that an entry shall be made in the appropriate Schedule against the said medical qualification declaring that it shall be a recognised medical qualification only when granted before a specified date.

20. Post-graduate Medical Education Committee for assisting Council in matters relating to post-graduate medical education.

(1) The Council may prescribe standards of post-graduate medical education for the guidance of Universities, and may advise Universities in the matter of securing uniform standards for post-graduate medical education throughout India, and for this purpose the Central Government may constitute from among the members of the Council a Post-graduate Medical Education Committee (hereinafter referred to as the Post-graduate Committee.)

(2) The Post-graduate Committee shall consist of nine members all of whom shall be persons possessing post-graduate medical qualifications and experience of teaching or examining post-graduate students of medicine.

(3) Six of the members of the Post-graduate Committee shall be nominated by the Central Government and the remaining three members shall be elected by the Council from amongst its members.

(4) For the purpose of considering Post-graduate studies in a subject, the Post-graduate Committee may co-opt, as and when necessary, one or more members qualified to assist it in that subject.

(5) The views and recommendations of the Post-graduate Committee on all matters shall be placed before the Council; and if the Council does not agree with the views expressed or the recommendations made by the Post-graduate Committee on any matter, the Council shall forward them together with its observations to the Central Government for decision.

21. The Indian Medical Register.

(1) The Council shall cause to be maintained in the prescribed manner a register of medical practitioners to be known as the Indian Medical Register, which shall contain the names of all persons who are for the time being enrolled on any State Medical Register and who possess any of the recognised medical qualifications.

(2) It shall be the duty of the Registrar of the Council to keep the Indian Medical Register in accordance with the provisions of this Act and of any orders made by the Council, and from time to time to revise the register and publish it in the Gazette of India and in such other manner as may be prescribed.

(3) Such register shall be deemed to be a public document within the meaning of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, and may be proved by a copy published in the Gazette of India.

22. Supply of copies of the State Medical Registers.

Each State Medical Council shall supply to the Council three printed copies of the State Medical Register as soon as may be after the commencement of this Act and subsequently after the first day of April of each year, and each Registrar of a State Medical Council shall inform the Council without delay of all additions to and other amendments in the State Medical Register made from time to time.

23. Registration in the Indian Medical Register.

The Registrar of the Council may, on receipt of the report of registration of a person in a State Medical Register or on application made in the prescribed manner by any such person, enter his name in the Indian Medical Register :

Provided that the Registrar is satisfied that the person concerned possesses a recognised medical qualification.

24. Removal of names from the Indian Medical Register.

(1) If the name of any person enrolled on a State Medical Register is removed therefrom in pursuance of any power conferred by or under any law relating to registration of medical practitioners for the time being in force in any State, the Council shall direct the removal of the name of such person from the Indian Medical Register.

(2) Where the name of any person has been removed from a State Medical Register on any ground other than that he is not possessed of the requisite medical qualifications or where any application made by the said person for restoration of his name to the State Medical Register has been rejected, he may appeal in the prescribed manner and subject to such conditions including conditions as to the payment of a fee as may be laid down in rules made by the Central Government in this behalf, to the Central Government, whose decision which shall be given after consulting the Council, shall be binding on the State Government and on the authorities concerned with the preparation of the State Medical Register.

25. Provisional registration for clinical practice.

If the courses of study to be undergone for obtaining a recognised medical qualification include a period of training after a person has passed the qualifying examination and before such qualification is conferred on him any such person shall, on application made by him in this behalf, be granted provisional registration in a State Medical Register by the State Medical Council concerned in order to enable him to practise medicine in an approved institution for the period aforesaid.

26. Registration of additional qualifications.

(1) If any person whose name is entered in the Indian Medical Register obtains any title, diploma or other qualification for proficiency in sanitary science, public health or medicine which is a recognised medical qualification, he shall, on application made in this behalf in the prescribed manner, be entitled to have an entry stating such other title, diploma or other qualification made against his name in the Indian Medical Register either in substitution for or in addition to any entry previously made.

(2) The entries in respect of any such person in a State Medical Register shall be altered in accordance with the alterations made in the Indian Medical Register.

27. Privileges of persons who are enrolled on the Indian Medical Register.

Subject to the conditions and restrictions laid down in this Act regarding medical practice by persons possessing certain recognised medical qualifications, every person whose name is for the time being borne on the Indian Medical Register shall be entitled according to his qualifications to practice as a medical practitioner in any part of India and to recover in due course of law in respect of such practice any expenses, charges in respect of medicaments or other appliances, or any fees to which he may be entitled.

28. Person enrolled on the Indian Medical Register to notify change of place of residence or practice.

Every person registered in the Indian Medical Register shall notify any transfer of the place of his residence or practice to the Council and to the State Medical Council concerned, within thirty days of such transfer, failing which his right to participate in the election of members to the Council or a State Medical Council shall be liable to be forfeited by order of the Central Government either permanently or for such period as may be specified therein.

29. Information to be furnished by the Council and publication thereof.

(1) The Council shall furnish such reports, copies of its minutes, abstracts of its accounts, and other information to the Central Government as that Government may require.

(2) The Central Government may publish in such manner as it may think fit, any report, copy, abstract or other information furnished to it under this section or under sections 17 and 18.

30. Commissions of inquiry.

(1) Whenever it is made to appear to the Central Government that the Council is not complying with any of the provisions of this Act, the Central Government may refer the particulars of the complaint to a Commission of inquiry consisting of three persons, two of whom shall be appointed by the Central Government, one being a Judge of a High Court, and one by the Council, and such Commission shall proceed to inquire in a summary manner and to report to the Central Government as to the truth of the matters charged in the complaint, and in case of any charge of default or of improper action being found by the Commission to have been established, the Commission shall recommend the remedies, if any, which are in its opinion necessary.

(2) The Central Government may require the Council to adopt the remedies so recommended within such time as, having regard to the report of the Commission, it may think fit, and if the Council fails to comply with any such requirement, the Central Government may amend the regulations of the Council, or make such provision or order or take such other steps as may seem necessary to give effect to the recommendations of the Commission.

(3) A Commission of Inquiry shall have power to administer oaths, to enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, and shall have all such other necessary powers for the purpose of any inquiry conducted by it as are exercised by a civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

31. Protection of action taken in good faith.

No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against the Government, the Council or a State Medical Council or any Committee thereof, or any officer or servant of the Government or Councils aforesaid for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

32. Power to make rules.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules<sup>a</sup> to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) All rules made under this section shall be laid for not less than thirty days before both Houses of Parliament as soon as possible after they are made, and shall be subject to such modifications as Parliament may make during the session in which they are so laid or the session immediately following.

[a] For Indian Medical Council Rules, 1957, see Gaz. of Ind., 1957, Pt. II-Sec. 3, p. 831.

33. Power to make regulations.

The Council may, with the previous sanction of the Central Government, make regulations generally to carry out the purposes of this Act, and, without prejudice to the generality of this power, such regulations may provide for—

- (a) the management of the property of the Council and the maintenance and audit of its accounts;
- (b) the summoning and holding of meetings of the Council, the times and places where such meetings are to be held, the conduct of business thereat and the number of members necessary to constitute a quorum;
- (c) the resignation of members of the Council;
- (d) the powers and duties of the President and Vice-President;
- (e) the mode of appointment of the Executive Committee and other Committees, the summoning and holding of meetings, and the conduct of business of such Committees;
- (f) the tenure of office, and the powers and duties of the Registrar and other officers and servants of the Council;
- (g) the particulars to be stated, and the proof of qualifications to be given in applications for registration under this Act;
- (h) the fees to be paid on applications and appeals under this Act;
- (i) the appointment, powers, duties and procedure of medical inspectors and visitors; and
- (j) any matter for which under this Act provision may be made by regulations.

*[34. Repeal of Act XXVII of 1933.

(1) The Indian Medical Council Act, 1933, is hereby repealed.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, until the Council is constituted in accordance with the provisions of this Act :—

- (a) the Medical Council of India as constituted immediately before the commencement<sup>b</sup> of this Act under the Indian Medical Council Act, 1933, with the addition of seven members nominated thereto by the Central Government from among persons enrolled on any of the State Medical Registers who possess the medical qualifications included in Part I of the Third Schedule to this Act (hereinafter referred to as the said Medical Council), shall be deemed to be the Council constituted under this Act and may exercise any of the powers conferred or perform any of the duties imposed on the Council; and any vacancy occurring in the said Medical Council may be filled up in such manner as the Central Government may think fit; and
- (b) the Executive Committee and other Committees of the said Medical Council as constituted immediately before the commencement<sup>b</sup> of this Act shall be deemed to be the Executive Committee and other Committees constituted under this Act.]

[a] Substituted and deemed always to have been substituted for the original section 34, by the Medical Council (Amendment) Act, 1958 (XXXVI of 1958), S. 2. [b] That is 1st November, 1958.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

“As soon as the new Act [that is, the Indian Medical Council Act, 1956] is brought into force, the existing Council will cease to function as there is no provision for continuing the existing Council, and some time will necessarily have to elapse, before a new Council can be constituted under the 1956 Act. As it is desirable that there should be continuity in the existence of the Medical Council, it is proposed to provide for the continuance of the existing Council after the commencement of the new Act until the new Council is constituted." This section gives effect to this object.—S. O. R., Gaz. Ind., 1958, Extra., Pt. II, sec. 2, page 875.

SCHEDULE.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Acts of the Local Council provide in many of the larger provinces of British India for the registration of persons duly qualified to practise western medicine or surgery, and where such Acts have been passed, Medical Councils have been constituted with specific powers and duties.

It is now considered necessary to supplement this provincial legislation by an Imperial Act, restricting the right to issue degrees and diplomas in these systems of medicine and surgery to duly constituted authorities, so as to ensure that such degrees and diplomas are not issued to unqualified persons. It has been found that at present, diplomas are issued by private institutions to untrained or insufficiently trained persons, and that many of these diplomas are colourable imitations of those issued by recognised Universities and Corporations. The result is that recipients of such diplomas are able to pose to the public as possessing qualifications in medicine and surgery which they do not possess. The present

Bill is intended to remove the public inconvenience and injury arising out of the present state of affairs. It prohibits all persons, save certain specified authorities, from issuing or alleging that they are entitled to issue any degree or diploma in western medicine or surgery. It also penalises persons who voluntarily and falsely assume any medical title which is granted either by the General Council of Medical Education of the United Kingdom, or by the authorities constituted under the Act, and further prohibits the use of any colourable imitations of such titles.

The Bill does not affect the right of any person to exercise the profession of medicine or to practise as a physician or surgeon, provided he does not pretend to qualifications which he has not got; and its operation is rigidly restricted to the western methods of Allopathic medicine and surgery, Homoeopathic, Ayurvedic and Unani practitioners being excluded from the purview of the Bill."

[THE INDIAN] MEDICAL DEGREES ACT, 1916 (ACT VII OF 1916)*

[16th March, 1916.]

An Act to regulate the grant of titles implying qualifications in western medical science, and the assumption and use by unqualified persons of such titles.

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate the grant of titles implying qualifications in western medical science, and the assumption and use by unqualified persons of such titles; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1915, Pt. V, p. 76; for Report of Select Committee, see ibid, 1916, Pt. V, p. 7.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and Merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

It has also been extended to the States merged in the State of Bombay by Bom. Act IV of 1950, S. 3 [50-3-1950], and to the transferred territories in Punjab by Punj. Act XXX of 1958, S. 4 and Sch. II.

The Act so far as it relates to the Ayurvedic and Unani systems of medicine is repealed in the State of Bihar by Bih. Act XXXI of 1951, S. 56.

The Act so far as it relates to the Homoeopathic and Biochemic systems of medicine is repealed in the State of Bihar by Bih. Act XXIV of 1953, S. 54 and in the State of Orissa by Ori. Act VIII of 1957, S. 55.

STATE AMENDMENTS

ANDHRA PRADESH

Same as that of Madras.

ASSAM

In the Preamble, for the words "of such titles" substitute the words "of such titles and of titles implying qualifications in other systems of medicine."

—Assam Act XVI of 1948, S. 2 [20-10-1948].

BIHAR

In the long title and in the preamble after the words "western medical science" insert the words "or in the Indian system of medicine".

—Bihar Acts XX of 1949, S. 2 [1-12-1949] and XXIV of 1953, S. 54 [1-3-1955].

MADHYA PRADESH

Same as that of Assam.

—C. P. and Berar Act LXV of 1948, S. 2 [29-10-1948].

MADRAS

Same as that of Assam.

—Mad. Act XX of 1940, S. 2 [28-1-1941].

1. Short title.

This Act may be called THE INDIAN MEDICAL DEGREES ACT, 1916.

2. Definitions.

In this Act "western medical science" means the western methods of Allopathic medicine, Obstetrics and Surgery, but does not include the Homoeopathic or Ayurvedic or Unani system of medicine * [and "States" means all <sup>b</sup> [the territories which immediately before the 1st November, 1956, were comprised] within Part A States and Part C States].

[a] Added by A.L.O., 1950. [b] Substituted for "the territories for the time being comprised", by 2 A.L.O., 1956. Immediately before the 1st November, 1956, the following were the Part A States and Part C States, namely:—

Part A States: Andhra, Assam, Bihar, Bombay, Madhya Pradesh, Madras, Orissa, Punjab, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal;

Part C States: Ajmer, Bhopal, Coorg, Delhi, Himachal Pradesh, Kutch, Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh.

STATE AMENDMENT

BIHAR

For section 2 substitute the following:—

"2. Definitions. In this Act,—

(1) [Repealed by Bihar Act XXIV of 1953, S. 54 [1-3-1955].]

(2) "Indian system of medicine" means the Ayurvedic or Unani Tibbi system of medicine whether supplemented or not by such modern advances as the State Government may, from time to time, have determined; and

- (4) "Western medical science" means the western method of Allopathic medicine, Obstetrics and Surgery, but does not include the Indian, Homoeopathic or Biochemic system of medicine."

—Bih. Act XX of 1949, S. 3 [1-12-1949].

3. Right to confer degrees, etc.

The right of conferring, granting, or issuing in the <sup>A</sup>[States] degrees, diplomas, licences, certificates or other documents stating or implying that the holder, grantee or recipient thereof is qualified to practise western medical science, shall be exercisable only by the authorities specified in the Schedule, and by such other authority as the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may, by notification<sup>A</sup> in the <sup>A</sup>[Official Gazette], and subject to such conditions and restrictions as <sup>b</sup>[it] thinks fit to impose, authorise in this behalf.

[a] For notifications authorising certain institutions in the various States to grant certificates, diplomas, degrees, etc., see General Statutory Rules and Orders, Vol. IV, pp. 513-515. [b] Substituted for "he" by A.O., 1937.

STATE AMENDMENT

BIHAR

After the words "western medical science" insert the words "or the Indian system of medicine".

—Bih. Acts XX of 1949, S. 4 [1-12-1949] and XXIV of 1953, S. 54 [1-3-1955].

4. Prohibition of unauthorized conferment of degrees, etc.

Save as provided by section 3, no person in the <sup>A</sup>[States] shall confer, grant, or issue, or hold himself out as entitled to confer, grant, or issue any degree, diploma, licence, certificate or other document stating or implying that the holder, grantee or recipient is qualified to practise western medical science.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"By virtue of Item 40 in List II in the Seventh Schedule to the Government of India Act, 1935, medicinal and toilet preparations containing alcohol, etc., were subjected to Provincial excise duties. Each Provincial Government fixed its own rates of duty and followed its own procedure to regulate the imports from and exports to other Provinces of such preparations, so that the industry manufacturing these preparations had to contend with several handicaps imposed by such diversities in rates and procedure. In order to secure uniformity, the entry relating to excise duty on medicinal and toilet preparations containing alcohol, etc., was transferred under the Constitution from the State list to the Union List.

2. The present Bill is intended to implement this provision in the Constitution, and proposes uniform rates of excise duty and a uniform procedure for the collection thereof. In the case of Part A and Part B States, the actual collection of the duties will be left to the Governments of the States, as required by Article 268 of the Constitution. The existing duties, and the existing procedure for collection under the pre-Constitution statutes of the States which are at present protected under Article 277 will be replaced by the rates and the procedure proposed in the Bill.

3. The duties specified in the Schedule are, generally speaking, based on the recommendations of an Expert Committee appointed by Government."

[THE] MEDICINAL AND TOILET PREPARATIONS
(EXCISE DUTIES) ACT, 1955
(ACT XVI OF 1955)*

[27th April, 1955.]

An Act to provide for the levy and collection of duties of excise on medicinal and toilet preparations containing alcohol, opium, Indian hemp or other narcotic drug or narcotic.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1954, Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 2, p. 596.

PRELIMINARY

1. Short title, extent and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE MEDICINAL AND TOILET PREPARATIONS (EXCISE DUTIES) ACT, 1955.

(2) It extends to the whole of India.

(3) It shall come into force on such date* as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) “alcohol” means ethyl alcohol of any strength and purity having the chemical composition  $C_2H_5OH$ ;

(b) “collecting Government” means the Central Government or, as the case may be, the State Government which is entitled to collect the duties levied under this Act;

(c) “dutiable goods” means the medicinal and toilet preparations specified in the Schedule as being subject to the duties of excise levied under this Act ;

(d) “excise officer” means an officer of the Excise Department of any State and includes any person empowered by the collecting Government to exercise all or any of the powers of an excise officer under this Act;

(e) “Indian hemp” has the same meaning as the word “hemp” in the Dangerous Drugs Act, 1930 ;

(f) “manufacture” includes any process incidental or ancillary to the completion of the manufacture of any dutiable goods ;

(g) “medicinal preparation” includes all drugs which are a remedy or prescription prepared for internal or external use of human beings or animals and all substances intended to be used for or in the treatment, mitigation or prevention of disease in human beings or animals ;

(h) “narcotic drug” or “narcotic” means a substance (other than alcohol) which when swallowed or inhaled by, or injected into, a human being induces drowsiness, sleep, stupefaction or insensibility in the human being and which is a dangerous drug within the meaning of the Dangerous Drugs Act, 1930 ;

(i) “opium” has the same meaning as in the Dangerous Drugs Act, 1930 ;

(j) “prescribed” means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(k) “toilet preparation” means any preparation which is intended for use in the toilet of the human body or in perfuming apparel of any description, or any substance intended to cleanse, improve or alter the complexion, skin, hair or teeth, and includes deodorants and perfumes.

LEVY AND COLLECTION OF DUTIES

3. Duties of excise to be levied and collected on certain goods.

(1) There shall be levied duties of excise, at the rates specified in the Schedule, on all dutiable goods manufactured in India.

(2) The duties aforesaid shall be leviable—

(a) where the dutiable goods are manufactured in bond, in the State in which such goods are released from a bonded-warehouse for home consumption, whether such State is the State of manufacture or not;

(b) where the dutiable goods are not manufactured in bond, in the State in which such goods are manufactured.

(3) Subject to the other provisions contained in this Act, the duties aforesaid shall be collected in such manner as may be prescribed.

Explanation. — Dutiable goods are said to be manufactured in bond within the meaning of this section if they are allowed to be manufactured without payment of any duty of excise leviable under any law for the time being in force in respect of alcohol, opium, Indian hemp or other narcotic drug or narcotic which is to be used as an ingredient in the manufacture of such goods.

4. Rebate of duty on alcohol, etc., supplied for manufacture of dutiable goods.

Where alcohol, opium, Indian hemp or other narcotic drug or narcotic had been supplied to a manufacturer of any dutiable goods for use as an ingredient of such goods by, or under the authority of, the collecting Government and a duty of excise on the goods so supplied had already been recovered by such Government under any law for the time being in force, the collecting Government shall, on an application being made to it in this behalf, grant in respect of the duty of excise leviable under this Act, a rebate to such manufacturer of the excess, if any, of the duty so recovered over the duty leviable under this Act.

Note: — Method for recovery of duty levied under this section is given in the next section.

Punishment for evasion of the duty is prescribed by S. 7. Besides punishment, the Court is empowered under S. 8 to order forfeiture to the Collecting Government of any dutiable goods in respect of which the Court is satisfied that an offence under this Act is committed. It may also order forfeiture of any alcohol, drugs, materials by means of which the offence has been committed and of any receptacles, packages, coverings in which any such goods or articles are contained and the animals, vehicles, vessels, or other conveyances used in carrying such goods or articles and any implements or machinery used in the manufacture of such goods.

5. Recovery of sums due to Government.

In respect of the duty of excise and any other sums of any kind payable to the collecting Government under any of the provisions of this Act or of the rules made thereunder, the excise officer empowered by the said rules to levy such duty or require the payment of such sums, may deduct the amount so payable from any money owing to the person from whom such sums may be recoverable or due, which may be in his hands or under his disposal or control or may recover the amount by attachment and sale of dutiable goods belonging to such person; and if the amount payable is not so recovered, he may prepare a certificate signed by him specifying the amount due from the person liable to pay the sum and send it to the Collector of the district in which such person resides or conducts his business, and the said Collector on receipt of such certificate shall proceed to recover from the said person the amount specified therein in the same manner as an arrear of land revenue.

6. Certain operations to be subject to licences.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, provide that from such date as may be specified in the notification, no person shall engage in the production or manufacture of any dutiable goods or of any specified component parts or ingredients of such goods or of specified containers of such goods or of labels of such containers except under the authority and in accordance with the terms and conditions of a licence granted under this Act.

(2) Every licence under sub-section (1) shall be granted for such area, if any, for such period, subject to such restrictions and conditions, and in such form and containing such particulars as may be prescribed.

7. Offences and penalties.

If any person—

- (a) contravenes any of the provisions of a notification issued under section 6 ; or
- (b) evades the payment of any duty of excise payable under this Act ; or
- (c) fails to supply any information which he is required by rules made under this Act to supply or (unless with a reasonable belief, the burden of proving which shall be upon him, that the information supplied by him is true) supplies false information ; or
- (d) attempts to commit or abets the commission of any offence mentioned in clause (a) or clause (b), he shall for every such offence be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees, or with both.

8. Power of Courts to order forfeiture.

Any Court trying any offence under section 7 may order the forfeiture to the collecting Government of any dutiable goods in respect of which the Court is satisfied that an offence under this Act has been committed, and may also order the forfeiture of any alcohol, drugs or materials by means of which the offence has been committed and of any receptacles, packages or coverings in which any such goods or articles are contained and the animals, vehicles, vessels or other conveyances used in carrying such goods or articles and any implements or machinery used in the manufacture of such goods.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF OFFICERS AND LANDHOLDERS

9. Power to arrest.

(1) Any excise officer duly empowered by rules made in this behalf may arrest any person whom he has reason to believe to be liable to punishment under this Act.

(2) Any person accused or reasonably suspected of committing an offence under this Act or any rules made thereunder, who, on demand of any excise officer duly empowered by rules made under this Act, refuses to give his name and residence or who gives a name or residence which such officer has reason to believe to be false may be arrested by such officer in order that his name and residence may be ascertained.

10. Power to summon persons to give evidence and produce documents in inquiries under this Act.

(1) Any excise officer duly empowered by rules made in this behalf shall have power to summon any person whose attendance he considers necessary either to give evidence or to produce a document or any other thing in any inquiry which such officer is making for any of the purposes of this Act.

(2) A summons to produce documents or other things under sub-section (1) may be for the production of certain specified documents or things or for the production of all documents or things of a certain description in the possession or under the control of the person concerned.

(3) All persons so summoned shall be bound to attend either in person or by an authorised agent as such officer may direct and all persons so summoned shall be bound to state the truth on any subject respecting which he is examined or make statements and produce such documents and other things as may be required :

Provided that the exemptions under section 132 and section 133 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 shall apply to requisitions for attendance under this section.

(4) Every such inquiry as aforesaid shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of section 193 and section 228 of the Indian Penal Code.

11. Officers required to assist Excise Officers.

All officers of Customs and Central Excise, and such other officers of the Central Government as may be specified in this behalf, and all police officers and all officers engaged in the collection of land revenue are hereby empowered and required to assist excise officer in the execution of this Act.

12. Owners or occupiers of land to report manufacture of contraband dutiable goods.

Every owner or occupier of land and the agent of any such owner or occupier in charge of the management of that land, if dutiable goods are manufactured thereon in contravention of the provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder, shall, in the absence of reasonable excuse, be bound to give notice of such manufacture to a Magistrate or to an officer of the Excise, Customs, Police or Land Revenue Department immediately the fact comes to his notice.

13. Punishment for connivance at offences.

Any owner or occupier of land or any agent of such owner or occupier in charge of the management of that land, who wilfully connives at any offence against the provisions of this Act or any rules made thereunder shall, for every such offence, be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with both.

14. Searches and arrests how to be made.

All arrests and searches made under this Act or under any rules made thereunder shall be carried out in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, relating respectively to searches and arrests under that Code.

15. Disposal of persons arrested.

(1) Every person arrested under this Act shall be forwarded without delay to the nearest excise officer empowered to send persons so arrested to a Magistrate or if there is no such excise officer within a reasonable distance to the officer in charge of the nearest police station.

(2) The officer in charge of a police station to whom any person is forwarded under sub-section (1) shall either admit him to bail to appear before a Magistrate having jurisdiction, or in default of bail forward him without delay in custody to such Magistrate.

16. Inquiry how to be made by excise officers against arrested persons forwarded to them.

(1) When any person is forwarded under section 15 to an excise officer empowered to send persons so arrested to a Magistrate, the excise officer shall proceed to inquire into the charge against him.

(2) For the purpose of sub-section (1), the excise officer may exercise the same powers, and shall be subject to the same provisions, as the officer in charge of a police station may exercise and is subject to under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, when investigating a cognizable case :

Provided that—

- (a) if the excise officer is of opinion that there is sufficient evidence or reasonable ground of suspicion against the accused person, he shall either admit him to bail to appear before a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case, or forward him in custody without delay to such Magistrate;
- (b) if it appears to the excise officer that there is not sufficient evidence or reasonable ground of suspicion against the accused person, he shall release the accused person on his executing a bond, with or without surities as the excise officer may direct, to appear, if and when so required, before the Magistrate having jurisdiction and shall make a full report of all the particulars of the case to his official superior.
- (3) All officers exercising any powers under section 15 or this section shall so exercise their powers as to ensure that every person who is arrested and detained in custody is produced before the nearest Magistrate within a period of twenty-four hours of such arrest excluding the time necessary for the journey from the place of arrest to the Court of the Magistrate.

17. Vexatious search, seizure, etc., by excise officer.

(1) Any officer exercising powers under this Act or under the rules made thereunder who—

- (a) without reasonable ground of suspicion searches or causes to be searched any place, conveyance or vessel;
- (b) vexatiously and unnecessarily detains, searches or arrests any person;
- (c) vexatiously and unnecessarily seizes the movable property or any person on pretence of seizing or searching for any article liable to confiscation under this Act;
- (d) commits, as such officer, any other act to the injury of any person, without having reason to believe that such act is required for the execution of his duty; shall, for every such offence, be punishable with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees.

(2) Any person wilfully and maliciously giving false information and so causing an arrest or a search to be made under this Act shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees, or with both.

18. Failure of excise officers on duty.

Any excise officer who ceases or refuses to perform, or withdraws himself from, the duties of his office, unless he had obtained the express written permission of his superior officer or has given such superior officer two months' notice in writing of his intention or has other lawful excuse, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to three months' pay, or with both.

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS

19. Power to make rules.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules<sup>a</sup> to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

- (i) provide for the assessment and collection of duties levied under this Act, the authorities by whom functions under this Act are to be discharged, the issue of notices requiring payment, the manner in which the duties shall be payable and the recovery of duty not paid;

- (ii) prohibit absolutely, or with such exceptions, or subject to such conditions as the Central Government may think fit, the manufacture, or any process of the manufacture, of dutiable goods or of any component parts or ingredients or containers thereof, except on land or premises approved for the purpose;
- (iii) regulate the removal of dutiable goods from the place where they are stored or manufactured or subjected to any process of production or manufacture and their transport to or from the premises of a licensed person, or a bonded warehouse, or to a market;
- (iv) regulate the production or manufacture of any process of production or manufacture, the possession and storage of dutiable goods or of any component parts or ingredients or containers thereof, so far as such regulation is essential for the proper levy and collection of duties levied under this Act;
- (v) provide for the employment of excise officers to supervise the carrying out of any rules made under this Act;
- (vi) require a manufacturer or the licensee of a warehouse to provide accommodation within the precincts of his factory or warehouse for excise officers employed to supervise the carrying out of rules made under this Act and prescribe the scale of such accommodation;
- (vii) provide for the appointment, licensing, management and supervision of bonded warehouses and the procedure to be followed in entering dutiable goods into and clearing goods from such warehouses or in the movement of dutiable goods from one bonded warehouse to another;
- (viii) provide for the distinguishing of excisable goods which have been manufactured under licence, of materials which have been imported under licence and of goods on which duty has been paid or which are exempt from duty under this Act ;
- (ix) impose on persons engaged in the manufacture, storage or sale (whether on their own account or as brokers or commission agents) so far as such imposition is essential for the proper levy and collection of the duties levied under this Act, the duty of furnishing information, keeping records and making returns and prescribe the nature of such information and form of such records and returns, the particulars to be contained therein and the manner in which they shall be verified;
- (x) require that dutiable goods shall not be sold or offered or kept for sale except in prescribed containers, bearing a banderol, stamp or label of such nature and affixed in such manner as may be prescribed;
- (xi) provide for the issue of licences and transport permits and the fees, if any, to be charged therefor ;
- (xii) provide for the detention of dutiable goods, plant, machinery or material for the purpose of exacting the duty;
- (xiii) provide for the confiscation of dutiable goods in respect of which a breach of any rule made under this Act has been committed, and also for the confiscation of any alcohol, drugs or materials by means of which the breach has been committed and of any receptacle, packages or covering in which such goods or articles are contained, and the animals, vehicles, vessels or other conveyances used in carrying such goods or articles and any implements or machinery used in the manufacture of such goods;
- (xiv) provide for the levy of a penalty not exceeding two thousand rupees for a breach of any rule made under this Act;

- (xv) provide for the procedure in connection with such confiscation and the imposition of such penalty, the maximum limits up to which particular classes of excise officers may adjudge such confiscation or penalty, appeals from orders of such officers and revision of such orders by some higher authority, the time-limit for such appeals and revisions and the disposal of goods and articles confiscated;
  - (xvi) authorise and regulate the compounding of offences against, or liabilities incurred under, this Act or the rules made thereunder;
  - (xvii) authorise and regulate the inspection of factories and provide for the taking of samples or for the making of tests of any substance produced therein and for the inspection or search of any place, conveyance or vessel used for the production, storage, sale or transport of dutiable goods in so far as such inspection or search is essential for the proper levy and collection of the duties levied under this Act;
  - (xviii) provide for the grant of a rebate of the duty paid on dutiable goods which are exported out of India or shipped for consumption on a voyage to any port outside India;
  - (xix) exempt any dutiable goods from the whole or any part of the duty levied under this Act where in the opinion of the Central Government, it is necessary to grant such exemption in the interest of the trade or in the public interest;
  - (xx) notify in the Official Gazette lists of the names and descriptions of preparations which would fall for assessment under any particular item of the Schedule or for regulating their manufacture, transport and distribution;
  - (xxi) authorise particular classes of excise officers to provide by written instructions for supplemental matters arising out of any rule made by the Central Government under this section.
- (3) Where any confiscation or penalty has been adjudged in respect of a breach of any rule under this Act, which is also an offence under section 7, the person concerned shall not be prosecuted under that section.

(4) All rules made by the Central Government under this section shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament as soon as may be after they are made.

[a] For the Medicinal and Toilet Preparations (Excise Duties) Rules, 1956, see Gaz. of Ind. 1957, Pt. II, Sec. 3, p. 502.

20. Bar of suits and limitation of suits and other legal proceedings.

(1) No suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against the collecting Government or against any officer in respect of any order passed in good faith or any act in good faith done or ordered to be done under this Act.

(2) No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall be instituted against the collecting Government or against any officer for anything done or ordered to be done under this Act after the expiration of six months from the accrual of the cause of action or from the date of the act or order complained of.

21. Repeals and savings.

If, immediately before the commencement of this Act, there is in force in any State any law corresponding to this Act, that law is hereby repealed :

Provided that all rules made, notifications issued, licences or permits granted, powers conferred under any law hereby repealed shall, so far as they are not inconsistent with this Act, have the same force and effect as if they had been respectively made, issued, granted or conferred under this Act and by the authority empowered hereby in that behalf.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Starting with the Bombay Coasting Vessels Act of 1838, a number of Acts relating to merchant shipping were passed by the Indian Legislature from time to time with the result that the law became increasingly difficult to be referred to, and the need for consolidation became very pressing. Several attempts were made to revise these laws in 1887, 1882 and again in 1893 and 1898 but all these attempts failed owing to legal and constitutional difficulties. Two of the principal contributory factors were the then limited powers of the Indian Legislature to legislate regarding shipping and the fact that part of the British Statute law on the subject, including parts of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, which is the principal United Kingdom enactment on the subject, applied to India and any Indian enactment had to be in legal harmony with that law. A fresh attempt was made in 1921-22 to codify the Indian law on merchant shipping by the Statute Law Revision Committee, which decided that only consolidation, and not revision, should be attempted immediately. The result was the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923, which is now on the Statute Book and which consolidated some twenty-one existing Indian Acts on the subject. This Act has also been amended from time to time, the two major amendments being those made in 1933 and in 1953 so as to take power to implement the provisions of the international conventions with respect to load lines, 1930, and with respect to safety of life at sea, 1948, respectively, which have been ratified by India.

"2. By reason of Art. 372 of the Constitution, the United Kingdom Acts still continue to be in force in India, but the arrangement is unsatisfactory and the need for a comprehensive Indian law on the subject has become urgent. One of the main deficiencies in the Indian law is that there is no provision dealing with the registration of sea-going ships except the Coasting Vessels Act, 1838, and the Indian Registration of Ships Act, 1841, under which only sailing vessels are being registered; the other ships being still registered under the United Kingdom Merchant Shipping Act, 1894 and being technically regarded as British ships. Another defect in the Indian law is that it has no extra territorial application as the British Merchant Shipping Acts apply to Indian ships outside India. To meet the immediate requirements of the country soon after independence the Merchant Shipping Laws (Extension to Acceding States and Amendment) Act, 1949 was enacted, by which the British Merchant Shipping Acts 1894 to 1938 were extended to the Acceding States (later known as Part B States and Indian consular officers were empowered to perform functions in relation to Indian ships outside India and provision was made to enable Government to prescribe the proper national colours for ships registered in India. The Control of Shipping Act, 1947, was another short-term measure which continued the war-time control over Indian shipping and controlled the coastal trade by a system of licensing. This Act, which has been renewed from time to time, is due to expire on the 31st March, 1958.

"3. The present Bill revises and consolidates all laws in force in India relating to merchant shipping, whether passed by the British Parliament or the Indian Legislature and makes provision for the matters discussed in the succeeding paragraphs,* which also indicate the principal changes made in the law.

PART I*

PRELIMINARY

1. Short title and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1958.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint, and different dates* may be appointed for different provisions of this Act.

[a] Parts I and II came into force on 15-12-1958—see Gaz. of Ind., 1958, Pt. II-Sec. 3 (ii), page 2829.

Part IV came into force on 17-3-1959—~~see~~ Gaz. of Ind., 1959, Pt. II-S. 3 (ii), page 702.

For various other provisions of the Act which were brought into force on 1-4-1960, ~~see~~ Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-Sec. 3 (ii), page 886.

2. Application of Act.

(1) Unless otherwise expressly provided, the provisions of this Act which apply to ships which are registered in India or which in terms of this Act are required to be so registered shall so apply wherever the ships may be.

(2) Unless otherwise expressly provided, the provisions of this Act which apply to ships other than those referred to in sub-section (1) shall so apply only while any such ship is within India, including the territorial waters<sup>a</sup> thereof.

[a] The territorial waters of India extend into the sea to a distance of six nautical miles measured from the appropriate base line—See S. R. O. 669 dated 22-3-1956 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1956, Extra., Pt. II-sec. 3, page 569.

PART II<sup>a</sup>

NATIONAL SHIPPING BOARD

4. Establishment of National Shipping Board.

(1) With effect from such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify in this behalf, there shall be established a Board to be called the National Shipping Board (hereinafter in this Part referred to as the Board).

(2) The Board shall consist of the following members, namely :

- (a) six members elected by Parliament, four by the House of the People from among its members and the other two by the Council of States from among its members;
- (b) such number of other members, not exceeding sixteen as the Central Government may think fit to appoint to the Board, to represent—
  - (i) the Central Government,
  - (ii) shipowners,
  - (iii) seamen, and
  - (iv) such other interests as, in the opinion of the Central Government, ought to be represented on the Board :

Provided that the Board shall include an equal number of persons representing the shipowners and seamen.

(3) The Central Government shall nominate one of the members of the Board to be the Chairman of the Board.

(4) The Board shall have power to regulate its own procedure.

[a] Part II came into force on 15-12-1958 — See Gaz. of Ind., 1958, Pt. II-sec. 3 (ii), page 2829.

5. Functions of National Shipping Board.

The Board shall advise the Central Government—

- (a) on matters relating to Indian shipping, including the development thereof; and
- (b) on such other matters arising out of this Act as the Central Government may refer to it for advice.

6. Power to make rule in respect of matters in this Part.

(1) The Central Government may make rules<sup>a</sup> to carry out the purposes of this Part.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :

- (a) the term of office of members of the Board and the manner of filling casual vacancies in the Board;

- (b) the appointment of officers and other employees to enable the Board to discharge its functions under S. 5 and the terms and conditions of their service :
  - (c) the travelling and other allowances payable to members of the Board.
- [a] For the National Shipping Board Rules, 1960, see G. S. R. 92 dated 18-1-1960 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-sec. 3 (i), page 155.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

7. Director-General of Shipping.<sup>a</sup>

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint a person to be the Director-General of Shipping for the purpose of exercising or discharging the powers, authority or duties conferred or imposed upon the Director-General by or under this Act.

(2) The Central Government may, by general or special order, direct that any power, authority or jurisdiction exercisable by it under or in relation to any such provisions of this Act as may be specified in the order shall, subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be so specified, be exercisable also by the Director-General or by such other officer as may be specified in the order.

(3) The Director-General may, by general or special order, and with the previous approval of the Central Government, direct that any power or authority conferred upon or delegated to, and any duty imposed upon, the Director-General by or under this Act may, subject to such conditions and restrictions as he may think fit to impose, be exercised or discharged also by such officer or other authority as he may specify in this behalf.

[a] Section 7 came into force on 1st April, 1960—see S. O. 585 dated 28-2-1960 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-sec. 3 (ii), page 886.

8. Mercantile Marine Department.

(1) The Central Government may establish and maintain at each of the ports of Bombay, Calcutta and Madras and at such other port in India as it may consider necessary an office of the Mercantile Marine Department for the administration of this Act and the rules and regulations thereunder.

(2) The office of the Mercantile Marine Department at the port of Bombay, Calcutta or Madras shall be in the charge of a principal officer and the office at any other port shall be in the charge of such officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf.

(3) In the discharge of their duties, the principal officer and other officers shall be subject to the control of the Director-General.

9. Surveyors.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint at such ports as it may consider necessary as many persons as it may think fit to be surveyors for the purposes of this Act.

(2) The surveyors may be nautical surveyors, ship surveyors or engineer and ship surveyors.

(3) At any port at which no surveyor appointed under this section is available, the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint any qualified person to perform the functions of a surveyor under this Act.

(4) All acts done under this Act by a principal officer of the Mercantile Marine Department or a person appointed under sub-s. (3) relating to matters within the competence of a surveyor shall have the same effect as if done by a surveyor for the purposes of this Act.

10. Radio inspectors.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint as many radio inspectors as it may consider necessary for the purpose of securing that the requirements of this Act and the rules and regulations thereunder relating to radio telegraphy, radio telephony and direction finders are complied with.

11. Shipping offices.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, establish a shipping office at every port in India in which it thinks it necessary so to do, and shall appoint thereto a shipping master and as many deputy shipping masters and assistant shipping masters as it may consider necessary.

(2) Shipping masters, deputy shipping masters and assistant shipping masters shall exercise their powers and discharge their duties subject to the general control of the Central Government or of any intermediate authority which the Central Government may specify in this behalf.

(3) The Central Government may direct that at any port at which no separate shipping office is established, the whole or any part of the business of the shipping office shall be conducted at the custom house or at the office of the port officer or at such other office as the Central Government may specify, and thereupon the same shall be conducted accordingly.

(4) All acts done by or before a deputy shipping master, an assistant shipping master and the officer to whom any business of the shipping office is committed under sub-s. (3) shall have the same effect as if done by or before a shipping master for the purposes of this Act.

12. Seamen's employment offices.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, establish at every port in India in which it thinks it necessary so to do, a seamen's employment office and shall appoint thereto a director and as many deputy directors and assistant directors as it may consider necessary.

(2) The directors, deputy directors and assistant directors shall exercise their powers and discharge their duties subject to the general control of the Central Government or of any intermediate authority which the Central Government may specify in this behalf.

(3) All acts done by or before a deputy or assistant director shall have the same effect as if done by or before a director for the purposes of this Act.

(4) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that at any port at which no separate seamen's employment office is established, the functions of the seamen's employment office in that port shall be discharged by such person or body of persons as it may specify in the notification, and thereupon the office of the person or body of persons so specified shall be deemed to be the seamen's employment office established at that port for the purposes of this Act.

13. Seamen's welfare officers.

(1) The Central Government may appoint seamen's welfare officers at such ports in or outside India as it may consider necessary.

(2) A seamen's welfare officer appointed under sub-s. (1) shall perform—

(a) in the case of any such officer appointed at any port in India, such functions in relation to welfare of seamen as may be assigned to him by the Central Government;

(b) in the case of any such officer appointed at any port outside India, such functions in relation to welfare of seamen and such functions of an Indian consular officer under Part VII as may be assigned to him by the Central Government.

(3) If any seamen's welfare officer appointed at any port outside India performs any functions assigned to an Indian consular officer under Part VII, such functions shall have the same effect as if they had been performed by an Indian consular officer for the purposes of that Part.

PART IV*

SHIPPING DEVELOPMENT FUND

14. Formation of Shipping Development Fund.

There shall be formed a fund to be called the Shipping Development Fund (hereinafter in this Part referred to as the Fund) and there shall be credited thereto—

- (a) the amount of such grants as the Central Government may make for being credited to the Fund;
- (b) the amount of any loans advanced by the Central Government to the Committee constituted under section 15 for carrying out the objects of the Fund;
- (c) such sums of money as may, from time to time, be realised out of repayment of loans made from the Fund or from interest on loans or dividends from investments made from the Fund;
- (d) such other sums as may be received for being credited to the Fund.

[a, Part IV came into force on 17-3-1959—see Gaz. of Ind., 1959, Pt. II-Sec. 3 (ii), page 702.]

15. Shipping Development Fund Committee.

(1) The Central Government shall constitute a committee to be called the Shipping Development Fund Committee (hereinafter in this Part referred to as the Committee) consisting of a chairman and such number of other members, not exceeding six, as the Central Government may think fit to appoint thereto.

(2) The Committee so constituted shall be a body corporate by the name aforesaid having perpetual succession and a common seal with power to acquire, hold and dispose of property and may by that name sue and be sued.

(3) The Committee shall have power to regulate its own procedure.

16. Application of the Shipping Development Fund.

(1) The Fund shall vest in the Committee and shall be applied towards meeting the expenses of the Committee and for granting loans and financial assistance in any other form to persons of the description mentioned in section 21 for acquisition and maintenance of ships.

(2) The Committee shall not grant any loan or give any financial assistance to any person referred to in sub-section (1) except on such terms and conditions as the Central Government may from time to time specify.

(3) The Committee shall maintain proper accounts and other relevant records and prepare an annual statement of accounts in such form as the Central Government may, in consultation with the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India, prescribe.

(4) The accounts of the Committee shall be audited by the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India or a person authorised by him in this behalf at such interval as the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India may specify and any expenditure incurred in connection with such audit shall be payable by the Committee.

(5) The Comptroller and Auditor-General of India and any person authorised by him in connection with the audit of the accounts of the Committee shall have the same rights, privileges and authority in connection with such audit as the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India has in connection with the audit of Government accounts and, in particular, shall have the right to demand the production of books, accounts, connected vouchers and other documents and papers and to inspect any office of the Committee.

(6) The accounts of the Committee as certified by the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India or any person authorised by him in this behalf, together with the audit report thereon, shall be forwarded to the Central Government and that Government shall cause the same to be laid before each House of Parliament.

17. Acts and proceedings of Committee not to be invalid.

No act done or proceeding taken by the Committee shall be questioned on the ground merely of the existence of any vacancy in, or defect in the constitution of, the Committee.

18. Dissolution of the Committee.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that, with effect from such date as may be specified in the notification, the Committee shall be dissolved, and thereupon all the property vested in the Committee shall vest in the Central Government.

19. Power to make rules in respect to matters in this Part.

(1) The Central Government may make rules<sup>a</sup> to carry out the purposes of this Part.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the term of office of members of the Committee and the manner of filling casual vacancies in the Committee ;
- (b) powers of the Chairman of the Committee ;
- (c) the travelling and other allowances payable to members of the Committee ;
- (d) the appointment of officers and other employees of the Committee and the terms and conditions of their service ;
- (e) the custody and investment of the Fund ;
- (f) the execution of instruments and the mode of entering into contracts by or on behalf of the Committee and the proof of documents purporting to be executed, issued or signed by or on behalf of the Committee ;
- (g) any other matter which may be or is to be prescribed.

- (b) a company which satisfies the following requirements, namely :—
  - (i) the principal place of business of the company is in India ;

- (ii) at least seventy-five per cent. of the share capital of the company is held by citizens of India :

Provided that the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, alter such minimum percentage, and where the minimum percentage is so altered, the altered percentage shall, as from the date of the notification, be deemed to be substituted for the percentage specified in this sub-clause ;

- (iii) not less than three-fourths of the total number of directors of the company are citizens of India ;
- (iv) the chairman of the board of directors and the managing director, if any, of the company are citizens of India ;
- (v) the managing agents, if any, of the company are citizens of India or in any cases where a company is the managing agent, the company satisfies the requirements specified in sub-cl. (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv).

22. Obligation to register.

(1) Every Indian ship, unless it is a ship which does not exceed fifteen tons net and is employed solely in navigation on the coasts of India shall be registered under this Act.

(2) No ship required by sub-s. (1) to be registered shall be recognised as an Indian ship unless she has been registered under this Act :

Provided that any ship registered at the commencement of this Act at any port in India under any enactment repealed by this Act, shall be deemed to have been registered under this Act and shall be recognised as an Indian ship.

(3) A ship required by this Act to be registered may be detained until the master of the ship, if so required, produces a certificate of registry in respect of the ship.

Procedure for registration.

23. Ports of registry.

(1) The ports at which registration of ships shall be made shall be the ports of Bombay, Calcutta and Madras and such other ports in India as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare to be ports of registry under this Act.

(2) The port at which an Indian ship is registered for the time being under this Act shall be deemed to be her port of registry and the port to which she belongs.

24. Registrars of Indian ships.

At each of the ports of Bombay, Calcutta and Madras, the principal officer of the Mercantile Marine Department, and at any other port such authority as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint, shall be the registrar of Indian ships at that port.

25. Register book.

Every registrar shall keep a book to be called the register book and entries in that book shall be made in accordance with the following provisions :—

- (a) the property in a ship shall be divided into ten shares ;
- (b) subject to the provisions of this Act with respect to joint owners or owners by transmission, not more than ten individuals shall be entitled to be registered at the same time as owners of any one ship ; but this rule shall not affect the beneficial interest of any number of persons represented by or claiming under or through any registered owner or joint owner ;
- (c) a person shall not be entitled to be registered as owner of a fractional part of a share in a ship ; but any number of persons not exceeding five may be registered as joint owners of a ship or of any share or shares therein ;

- (d) joint owners shall be considered as constituting one person and shall not be entitled to dispose in severalty of any interest in a ship or any share therein in respect of which they are registered ;
- (e) a company may be registered as owner by its name.

26. Application for registry.

An application for the registry of an Indian ship shall be made—

- (a) in the case of an individual, by the person requiring to be registered as owner or by his agent;
  - (b) in the case of more than one individual requiring to be so registered, by some one or more of the persons so requiring or by his or their agent; and
  - (c) in the case of a company requiring to be so registered, by its agent;
- and the authority of the agent shall be testified by writing, if appointed by an individual, under the hand of the person appointing him and, if appointed by a company, under its common seal.

27. Survey and measurement of ships before registry.

(1) The owner of every Indian ship in respect of which an application for registry is made shall cause such ship to be surveyed by a surveyor and the tonnage of the ship ascertained in the prescribed manner.

(2) The surveyor shall grant a certificate specifying the ship's tonnage and build and such other particulars descriptive of the identity of the ship as may be prescribed and the certificate of the surveyor shall be delivered to the registrar before registry.

28. Marking of ship.

(1) The owner of an Indian ship who applies for registry under this Act shall, before registry, cause her to be marked permanently and conspicuously in the prescribed manner and to the satisfaction of the registrar and any ship not so marked may be detained by the registrar.

(2) Subject to any other provision contained in this Act and to the provisions of any rules made thereunder, the owner and the master of an Indian ship shall take all reasonable steps to ensure that the ship remains marked as required by this section, and the said owner or master shall not cause or permit any alterations of such marks to be made except in the event of any of the particulars thereby denoted being altered in the manner provided in this Act or except to evade capture by the enemy or by a foreign ship of war in the exercise of some belligerent right.

29. Declaration of ownership on registry.

A person shall not be registered as the owner of an Indian ship or of a share therein until he or, in the case of a company, the person authorised by this Act to make declarations on its behalf has made and signed a declaration of ownership in the prescribed form referring to the ship as described in the certificate of the surveyor and containing the following particulars:—

- (a) a statement whether he is or is not a citizen of India; or in the case of a company, whether the company satisfies the requirements specified in cl. (b) of section 21 ;
- (b) a statement of the time when and the place where the ship was built or if the ship is built outside India and the time and place of building is not known, a statement to that effect; and in addition, in the case of a ship previously registered outside India, a statement of the name by which she was so registered;
- (c) the name of her master;

- (d) the number of shares in the ship in respect of which he or the company, as the case may be, claims to be registered as owner; and
- (e) a declaration that the particulars stated are true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Explanation.—In respect of a ship or share owned by more than one person, a declaration may be made by such one of them as may be authorised by them.

30. Evidence on first registry.

On the first registry of an Indian ship, the following evidence shall be produced in addition to the declaration of ownership:—

- (a) in the case of a ship built in India, a builder's certificate, that is to say, a certificate signed by the builder of the ship and containing a true account of the proper denomination and the tonnage of the ship as estimated by him and the time when and the place where she was built, and the name of the person, if any on whose account the ship was built; and if there has been any sale, the instrument of sale under which the ship or the share therein has become vested in the applicant for registry;
- (b) in the case of a ship built outside India, the same evidence as in the case of a ship built in India unless the declarant who makes the declaration of ownership declares that the time and place of her building are not known to him, or that the builder's certificate cannot be procured, in which case there shall be required only the instrument of sale under which the ship or a share therein has become vested in the applicant for registry.

31. Entry of particulars in register book.

As soon as the requirements of this Act preliminary to registry have been complied with, the registrar shall enter in the register book the following particulars in respect of the ship:—

- (a) the name of the ship and the name of the port to which she belongs;
- (b) the details contained in the surveyor's certificate;
- (c) the particulars respecting her origin stated in the declaration of ownership; and
- (d) the name and description of her registered owner or owners, and, if there are more owners than one, the number of shares owned by each of them.

32. Documents to be retained by registrar.

On the registry of a ship, the registrar shall retain in his custody the following documents:—

- (a) the surveyor's certificate;
- (b) the builder's certificate;
- (c) any instrument of sale by which the ship was previously sold;
- (d) all declarations of ownership.

33. Power of Central Government to inquire into title of Indian ship to be so registered.

(1) Where it appears to the Central Government that there is any doubt as to the title of any Indian ship to be registered as an Indian ship, it may direct the registrar of her port of registry to require evidence to be given to his satisfaction within such time, not being less than thirty days as the Central Government may fix, that the ship is entitled to be registered as an Indian ship.

(2) If within such time as may be fixed by the Central Government under sub-section (1) evidence to the satisfaction of the registrar that the ship is entitled to be registered as an Indian ship is not given, the ship shall be liable to forfeiture.

*Certificate of registry.34. Grant of certificate of registry.

On completion of the registry of an Indian ship, the registrar shall grant a certificate of registry containing the particulars respecting her as entered in the register book with the name of her master.

35. Custody and use of certificate.

(1) The certificate of registry shall be used only for the lawful navigation of the ship, and shall not be subject to detention by reason of any title, lien, charge or interest whatever, had or claimed by any owner, mortgagee or other person to, on or in the ship.

(2) No person, whether interested in the ship or not, who has in his possession or under his control the certificate of registry of a ship, shall refuse or omit without reasonable cause to deliver such certificate on demand to the person entitled to the custody thereof for the purposes of the lawful navigation of the ship or to any registrar, customs collector or other person entitled by law to require such delivery.

(3) Any person refusing or omitting to deliver the certificate as required by sub-section (2), may, by order, be summoned by any magistrate of the first class to appear before him and to be examined touching such refusal; and if the person is proved to have absconded so that the order of such magistrate cannot be served on him, or if he persists in not delivering up the certificate, the magistrate shall certify the fact, and the same proceedings may then be taken as in the case of a certificate mislaid, lost or destroyed, or as near thereto as circumstances permit.

(4) If the master or owner of an Indian ship uses or attempts to use for her navigation a certificate of registry not legally granted in respect of the ship, he shall be guilty of an offence under this sub-section and the ship shall be liable to forfeiture.

36. Power to grant new certificate when original certificate is defaced, lost, etc.

(1) In the event of the certificate of registry of an Indian ship being defaced or mutilated, the registrar of her port of registry may, on the delivery to him of that certificate, grant a new certificate in lieu of her original certificate.

(2) In the event of the certificate of registry of an Indian ship being mislaid, lost or destroyed or of the person entitled thereto being unable to obtain it from the custody of any other person, the registrar of her port of registry shall grant a new certificate in lieu of her original certificate.

(3) If the port at which the ship is at the time of the event referred to in sub-s. (2) or first arrives after the event is outside India, then the master of the ship or some other person having knowledge of the facts of the case shall make a declaration stating such facts and the names and descriptions of the registered owners of such ship to the best of the declarant's knowledge and belief to the nearest available Indian consular officer who may thereupon grant a provisional certificate containing a statement of the circumstances under which it is granted.

(4) The provisional certificate shall, within ten days after the first subsequent arrival of the ship at her port of discharge in India, be delivered by the master to the registrar of her port of registry and the registrar shall thereupon grant a new certificate of registry.

(5) If the certificate of registry stated to have been mislaid, lost or destroyed shall at any time afterwards be found, or if the person entitled to the certificate of registry obtains it at any time afterwards, the said certificate shall forthwith be delivered to the registrar of her port of registry to be cancelled.

37. Endorsement on certificate of change of master.

Where the master of an Indian ship is changed, each of the following persons, that is to say,—

- (a) if the change is made in consequence of the removal of the master by a Marine Board or by a Court under this Act, the presiding officer of the Marine Board or of the Court, as the case may be;
- (b) if the change occurs from any other cause,—
  - (i) In India, the registrar or any other officer authorised by the Central Government in this behalf at the port where the change occurs; and
  - (ii) outside India, the Indian consular officer at the port where the change occurs ; shall endorse and sign on the certificate of registry a memorandum of the change; and any customs collector at any port in India may refuse to permit any person to do any act there as master of an Indian ship unless his name is inserted in or endorsed on her certificate of registry as her last appointed master.

38. Endorsement on certificate of change of ownership.

(1) Whenever a change occurs in the registered ownership of an Indian ship, the change of ownership shall be endorsed on her certificate of registry either by the registrar of the ship's port of registry or by the registrar of any port at which the ship arrives who has been advised of the change by the registrar of the ship's port of registry.

(2) The master shall, for the purposes of such endorsement by the registrar of the ship's port of registry, deliver the certificate of registry to the registrar, forthwith after the change if the change occurs when the ship is at her port of registry, and if it occurs during her absence from that port and the endorsement under this section is not made before her return, then, upon her first return to that port.

(3) The registrar of any port, not being the ship's port of registry, who is required to make an endorsement under this section may, for that purpose, require the master of the ship to deliver to him the ship's certificate of registry so that the ship need not thereby be detained and the master shall deliver the same accordingly.

(1) In the event of a registered ship being either actually or constructively lost, taken by the enemy, burnt or broken up or ceasing for any reason to be an Indian ship, every owner of the ship or any share in the ship shall immediately on obtaining knowledge of the event, if no notice thereof has already been given to the registrar, give notice thereof to the registrar at her port of registry and that registrar shall make an entry thereof in the register book and its registry in that book shall be considered as closed except so far as relates to any unsatisfied mortgages entered therein.

(2) In any such case, except where the ship's certificate of registry is mislaid, lost or destroyed, the master of the ship shall, immediately if the event occurs in any port in India, or within ten days after his arrival in port if it occurs elsewhere, deliver the certificate to the registrar of the port or any other officer specified in this behalf by the Central Government if the port of arrival is in India, or if the arrival is in any port outside India to the Indian consular officer there, and the registrar if he is not himself the registrar of her port of registry or the officer so specified or the Indian consular officer, as the case may be, shall forthwith forward the certificate delivered to him to the registrar of her port of registry.

(1) If at any port outside India a ship becomes entitled to be registered as an Indian ship, the Indian consular officer there may grant to her master on his application a provisional certificate containing such particulars as may be prescribed in relation to the ship and shall forward a copy of the certificate at the first convenient opportunity to the Director-General.

(2) Such a provisional certificate shall have the effect of a certificate of registry until the expiration of six months from its date or until the arrival of the ship at a port where there is a registrar whichever first happens, and on either of those events happening shall cease to have effect.

41. Temporary pass in lieu of certificate of registry.

Where it appears to the Central Government that by reason of special circumstances it is desirable that permission should be granted to any Indian ship to pass without being previously registered from one port to any other port in India, the Central Government may authorise the registrar of the first-mentioned port to grant a pass in such form as may be prescribed, and that pass shall for the time and within the limits therein mentioned have the same effect as a certificate of registry.

*Transfers of ships, shares, etc.42. Transfer of ships, or shares.

(1) No person shall transfer or acquire any Indian ship or any share or interest therein without the previous approval of the Central Government and any transaction effected in contravention of this provision shall be void and unenforceable.

(2) The Central Government may, if it considers it necessary or expedient so to do for the purpose of conserving the tonnage of Indian shipping, refuse to give its approval to any such transfer or acquisition.

(3) Subject to the other provisions contained in this section, an Indian ship or a share therein shall be transferred only by an instrument in writing.

(4) The instrument shall contain such description of the ship as is contained in the surveyor's certificate or some other description sufficient to identify the ship to the satisfaction of the registrar and shall be in the prescribed form or as near thereto as circumstances permit and shall be executed by the transferor in the presence of and be attested by at least two witnesses.

43. Registry of transfer.

(1) Every instrument for the transfer of an Indian ship or of a share therein when duly executed shall be produced to the registrar of her port of registry, and the registrar shall thereupon enter in the register book the name of the transferee as owner of the ship or share, as the case may be, and shall endorse on the instrument the fact of that entry having been made with the day and hour thereof.

(2) Every such instrument shall be entered in the register book in the order of its production to the registrar.

44. Transmission of property in Indian ship on death, insolvency, etc.

(1) Where the property in an Indian ship or share therein is transmitted to a person on the death or insolvency of any registered owner, or by any lawful means other than by a transfer under this Act,—

(a) that person shall authenticate the transmission by making and signing a declaration in the prescribed form (in this Act referred to as a declaration of transmission) identifying the ship and also a statement of the manner in which and the person to whom the property has been transmitted;

- (b) if the transmission is consequent on insolvency, the declaration of transmission shall be accompanied by proper proof of such claim;
- (c) if the transmission is consequent on death, the declaration of transmission shall be accompanied by a succession certificate, probate or letters of administration under the Indian Succession Act, 1925, or a duly certified copy thereof.

(2) The registrar, on receipt of the declaration of transmission so accompanied, shall enter in the register book the name of the person entitled under the transmission as owner of the ship or share the property in which has been transmitted, and, where there are more persons than one, shall enter the names of all those persons, but those persons however numerous shall, for the purpose of the provisions of this Act with respect to the number of persons claiming to be registered as owners, be considered as one person :

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall require the registrar to make an entry in the register book under this section, if he is of opinion that by reason of the transmission the ship has ceased to be an Indian ship.

45. Order for sale where ship has ceased to be an Indian ship.

(1) Where by reason of the transmission of any property in a ship or a share therein on death, insolvency or otherwise, a ship ceases to be an Indian ship, the registrar of her port of registry shall submit a report to the Central Government setting out the circumstances in which the ship has ceased to be an Indian ship.

(2) On receipt of such report, the Central Government may make an application to the High Court for a direction for the sale to any citizen of India or any company which satisfies the requirements specified in cl. (b) of S. 21 of the property so transmitted.

(3) The High Court may require any evidence in support of the application it thinks requisite and may make such order thereon and on such terms and conditions as it thinks just or may reject the application "[in case] it finds that the ship has not ceased to be an Indian ship; and in case the ship or the share is ordered to be sold, it shall direct that the proceeds of the sale after deducting the expenses thereof, be paid to the person entitled under such transmission or otherwise.

(4) Every application for sale shall be made within such time as may be prescribed :

Provided that an application may be admitted by the High Court after the time prescribed, if the Central Government satisfies the High Court that it had sufficient cause for not making the application within such time.

<sup>a</sup> Substituted for the words "in any case" by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1960 (LXIII of 1960), S. 3 & Sch. II [26-12-1960].

46. Transfer of ship on sale by order of court.

Where any Court, whether under S. 45 or otherwise, orders the sale of any ship or share therein, the order of the Court shall contain a declaration vesting in some person named by the Court the right to transfer that ship or share, and that person shall thereupon be entitled to transfer the ship or share in the same manner and to the same extent as if he were the registered owner thereof; and every registrar shall obey the requisition of the person so named in respect of any such transfer to the same extent as if such person were the registered owner.

47. Mortgage of ship or share.

(1) A registered ship or a share therein may be made a security for a loan or other valuable consideration, and the instrument creating the security (in this Act called a mortgage) shall be in the prescribed form or as near thereto as circumstances permit, and on the production of such instrument the registrar of the ship's port of registry shall record it in the register book.

(2) Mortgages shall be recorded by the registrar in the order in time in which they are produced to him for that purpose, and the registrar shall, by memorandum under his hand, notify on each mortgage that it has been recorded by him stating the day and hour of that record.

48. Entry of discharge of mortgage.

Where a registered mortgage is discharged, the registrar shall, on the production of the mortgage deed with a receipt for the mortgage money endorsed thereon, duly signed and attested, make an entry in the register book to the effect that the mortgage has been discharged, and on that entry being made the estate, if any, which passed to the mortgagee shall vest in the person in whom (having regard to intervening acts and circumstances, if any) it would have vested, if the mortgage had not been made.

49. Priority of mortgages.

If there are more mortgages than one recorded in respect of the same ship or share, the mortgagees shall, notwithstanding any express, implied or constructive notice, have priority according to the date on which each mortgage is recorded in the register book and not according to the date of each mortgage itself.

50. Mortgagee not deemed to be owner.

Except in so far as may be necessary for making a mortgaged ship or share available as a security for the mortgage debt, the mortgagee shall not, by reason of his mortgage, be deemed to be the owner of the ship or share, nor shall the mortgagor be deemed to have ceased to be owner thereof.

51. Rights of mortgagee.

(1) A registered mortgagee of a ship or share shall be entitled to recover the amount due under the mortgage in the High Court, and when passing a decree or thereafter the High Court may direct that the mortgaged ship or share be sold in execution of the decree.

(2) Subject to the provisions of sub-s. (1), no such mortgagee shall merely by virtue of the mortgage be entitled to sell or otherwise dispose of the mortgaged ship or share.

52. Mortgage not affected by insolvency.

A registered mortgage of a ship or share shall not be affected by any act of insolvency committed by the mortgagor after the date of the record of such mortgage, notwithstanding that the mortgagor, at the commencement of his insolvency, had the ship or share in his possession, order or disposition, or was the reputed owner thereof, and the mortgage shall be preferred to any right, claim or interest therein of the other creditors of the insolvent or any trustee or assignee on their behalf.

53. Transfer of mortgages.

(1) A registered mortgage of a ship or share may be transferred to any person and the instrument effecting the transfer shall be in the prescribed form or as near thereto as circumstances permit, and on the production of such instrument, the registrar shall record it by entering in the register book the name of the transferee as mortgagee of the ship or share and shall, by memorandum under his hand, notify on the instrument of transfer that it has been recorded by him stating the day & hour of the record.

(2) The person to whom any such mortgage has been transferred shall enjoy the same right of preference as was enjoyed by the transferor.

54. Transmission of interest in mortgage in certain circumstances.

(1) Where the interest of a mortgagee in a ship or share is transmitted on death, or insolvency, or by any lawful means other than by a transfer under this Act, the transmission shall be authenticated by a declaration of the person to whom the interest is transmitted containing a statement of the manner in which and the person to whom the property has been transmitted, and shall be accompanied by the like evidence as is by this Act required in case of a corresponding transmission of the ownership of a ship or share.

(2) The registrar, on receipt of the declaration and the production of the evidence aforesaid, shall enter the name of the person entitled under the transmission in the register book as mortgagee of the ship or share.

*Name of ship.55. Rules as to name of ship.

(1) An Indian ship shall not be described by any name other than that by which she is for the time being registered.

(2) The registrar may refuse the registry of any Indian ship by the name by which it is proposed to register the ship if that name is already borne by another ship or if the name be so similar as is calculated or likely to deceive.

(3) A change shall not be made in the name of an Indian ship except in the prescribed manner.

(4) If any person acts or suffers any person under his control to act in contravention of this section or omits to do or suffers any person under his control to omit to do anything required under this [section] the ship may be detained until the provisions of this section are complied with :

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to a foreign ship which has become, and is sought to be registered as, an Indian ship.

[a] Substituted for "sub-section" by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1960 (LVIII of 1960), S. 3 & Sch. II [26-12-1960].

*Registry of alterations, registry anew and transfer of registry.56. Registry of alterations.

When a registered ship is so altered as not to correspond with the particulars relating to her tonnage or description contained in the register book, then, if the alteration is made at any port having a registrar, that registrar, or if it is made elsewhere, the registrar of the first port having a registrar at which the ship arrives after the alteration, shall, on application being made to him stating the particulars of the alteration, either cause the alteration to be registered or direct that the ship be registered anew.

57. Regulations for registry of alterations.

(1) For the purpose of registry of an alteration in a ship the ship's certificate of registry shall be produced to the registrar, and the registrar shall, in his discretion, either retain the certificate of registry and grant a new certificate of registry containing a description of the ship as altered or endorse and sign on the existing certificate a memorandum of the alteration.

(2) The particulars of the alteration so made, and the fact of the new certificate having been granted, or endorsement having been made, shall be entered by the registrar of the ship's port of registry in his register books ; and for that purpose the registrar to whom the application for the registry of the alteration has been made (if he is not the registrar of the ship's port of registry) shall forthwith report to the last-mentioned registrar the particulars and facts as aforesaid, accompanied, where a new certificate of registry has been granted, by the old certificate of registry.

58. Provisional certificate and endorsement where ship is to be registered anew.

(1) Where any registrar, not being the registrar of the ship's port of registry, on an application as to an alteration in a ship directs the ship to be registered anew, he shall either grant a provisional certificate describing the ship as altered, or provisionally endorse the particulars of the alteration on the existing certificate.

(2) Every such provisional certificate, or certificate provisionally endorsed, shall, within ten days after the first subsequent arrival of the ship at her port of discharge in India, be delivered to the registrar thereof and that registrar shall cause the ship to be registered anew.

(3) The registrar granting a provisional certificate, or provisionally endorsing a certificate under this section shall add to the certificate or endorsement a statement that the same is made provisionally, and shall send a report of the particulars of the case to the registrar of the ship's port of registry, containing a similar statement as the certificate or endorsement.

59. Registry anew on change of ownership.

Subject to the other provisions contained in this Act, where the ownership of any Indian ship is changed, the registrar of the port at which the ship is registered may, on the application of the owner of the ship, register the ship anew although registry anew is not required under this Act.

60. Procedure for registry anew.

(1) Where a ship is to be registered anew, the registrar shall proceed as in the case of first registry, and on the delivery to him of the existing certificate of registry and on the other requisites to registry, or in the case of a change of ownership such of them as he thinks material, being duly complied with, shall make such registry anew, and grant a certificate thereof.

(2) When a ship is registered anew, her former registry shall be considered as closed except so far as relates to any unsatisfied mortgage entered thereon, but the names of all persons appearing on the former register to be interested in the ship as owners or mortgagees shall be entered in the new register and the registry anew shall not in any way affect the rights of any of those persons.

61. Transfer of registry.

(1) The registry of any ship may, with the previous approval of the Director-General, be transferred from one port of registry to another on the application to the registrar of the existing port of registry of the ship made by declaration in writing of all persons appearing in the register to be interested therein as owners or mortgagees, but that transfer shall not in any way affect the rights of those persons or any of them and those rights shall in all respects continue in the same manner as if no such transfer had been effected.

(2) On receipt of any such application the registrar shall transmit notice thereof to the registrar of the intended port of registry with a copy of all particulars relating to the ship and the names of all persons appearing in that register to be interested therein as owners or mortgagees.

(3) The ship's certificate of registry shall be delivered to the registrar either of the existing or intended port of registry, and, if delivered to the former, shall be transmitted to the registrar of the intended port of registry.

(4) On receipt of the documents aforesaid the registrar of the intended port of registry shall enter in his register book all the particulars and names so transmitted as aforesaid, and grant a fresh certificate of registry, and thenceforth such ship shall be considered to be registered at the new port of registry, and the name of the ship's new port of registry shall be substituted for the name of her former port of registry on the ship.

Restrictions on re-registry of abandoned ships.

Where a ship has ceased to be registered as an Indian ship by reason of having been wrecked or abandoned, or for any reason other than capture by the enemy, the ship shall not be re-registered until she has at the expense of the applicant for the registry been surveyed by a surveyor and certified by him to be seaworthy.

*National character and flag.63. National colours for Indian ships.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare what shall be the proper national colours for all ships registered under this Act and for all ships which are not so registered but which are owned by the Government or by any local authority or by any body corporate established by or under any law for the time being in force in India or by a citizen of India; and different colours may be declared for different classes of ships.

(2) Any commissioned officer of the Indian Navy, or any customs collector or any Indian consular officer, may board any ship on which any colours are hoisted contrary to this Act and seize and take away the colours which shall be forfeited to the Government.

64. Unlawful assumption of Indian character.

No person on board a ship which is not an Indian ship shall for the purpose of making it appear to be an Indian ship, use the Indian national colours, unless the assumption of Indian character has been made (the burden of proving which shall lie on him) for the purpose of escaping capture by the enemy or by a foreign ship of war in the exercise of some belligerent right.

65. Concealment of Indian, or assumption of foreign, character.

No owner or master of an Indian ship shall knowingly do anything or permit anything to be done, or carry or permit to be carried any papers or documents, with intent to conceal the Indian character of the ship from any person entitled by any law for the time being in force to inquire into the same, or with intent to assume a foreign character for the ship, or with intent to deceive any person so entitled as aforesaid.

66. Indian ships to hoist proper national colours in certain cases.

An Indian ship shall hoist the proper national colours—

- (a) on a signal being made to her by any vessel of the Indian Navy;
- (b) on entering or leaving any foreign port;
- (c) if of fifty tons gross tonnage or more, on entering or leaving any Indian port.

67. National character of ship to be declared before clearance.

(1) A customs collector shall not grant a clearance for any ship until the master of such ship has declared to that officer the name of the country to which he claims that she belongs, and that officer shall thereupon inscribe that name on the clearance.

(2) If a ship attempts to proceed to sea without such clearance, she may be detained by any customs collector until the declaration is made.

*Miscellaneous68. Liabilities of ships not recognised as Indian ships.

Where it is declared by this Act that an Indian ship shall not be recognised as such, that ship shall not be entitled to any privileges, benefits, advantages or protection usually enjoyed by Indian ships or to use the Indian national colours for Indian ships or to assume the Indian national character, but so far as regards the payment of dues, the liability to fine and forfeiture and the punishment of offences committed on board such ship, or by any person belonging to her, such ship shall be dealt with in the same manner in all respects as if she were a recognised Indian ship.

69. Proceedings on forfeiture of ship.

Where any ship has either wholly or as to any share therein become subject to forfeiture under this Part, any commissioned officer of the Indian Navy, any customs collector or any Indian consular officer or any other officer authorised by the Central Government, may seize and detain the ship and bring her for adjudication before the High Court, and the High Court may thereupon adjudge the ship with her equipment to be forfeited to the Government, and make such order in the case as to the High Court seems just and may award to the officer bringing in the ship for adjudication such portion of the proceeds of the sale of the ship or any share therein as the High Court thinks fit.

70. Notice of trust not received.

No notice of any trust, express, implied or constructive, shall be entered in the register book or be receivable by the registrar, and subject to any rights and powers appearing by the register book to be vested in any other person, the registered owner of a ship or of a share therein shall have power to dispose of the ship or share in the manner provided in this Act and to give effectual receipts for any money paid or advanced by way of consideration.

71. Liability of owners.

Where any person is beneficially interested otherwise than by way of mortgage in any ship or share in a ship registered in the name of some other person as owner, the person so interested shall, as well as the registered owner, be subject to all the pecuniary penalties imposed by this or any other Act on the owners of ships or shares therein, so nevertheless that proceedings for the enforcement of any such penalties may be taken against both or either of the said parties with or without joining the other of them.

72. Evidence of register book, certificate of registry and other documents.

(1) On application to the registrar and on payment of the prescribed fee, a person may, at any time during office hours, inspect any register book, and may obtain a certified copy of any entry in the register book.

(2) The following documents shall be admissible in evidence in any Court in manner provided by this Act, namely :—

- (a) any register book on its production from the custody of the registrar or other person having the lawful custody thereof;
- (b) a certificate of registry under this Act purporting to be signed by the registrar or any other officer authorised in this behalf by the Central Government;
- (c) an endorsement on a certificate of registry purporting to be signed by the registrar or any other officer authorised in this behalf by the Central Government;
- (d) every declaration made in pursuance of this Part in respect of an Indian ship.

(3) A certified copy of an entry in a register book shall be admissible in evidence in any Court and have the same effect to all intents as the original entry in the register book of which it is a copy.

73. Power to register Government ships under this Part.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that, subject to such rules as may be made in this behalf, ships belonging to the Government other than ships of the Indian Navy may be registered as Indian ships under this Act and thereupon this Act, subject to any exceptions and modifications which may be made in the notification either generally or with respect to any class of ships belonging to Government, shall apply to ships belonging to Government registered in accordance with those rules as they apply to Indian ships registered in manner provided by this Act.

74. Power to make rules in respect of matters in this Part.

(1) The Central Government may make rules to carry out the purposes of this Part.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :

- (a) the manner in which the tonnage of any ship shall be ascertained, whether for the purpose of registration or otherwise, including the mode of measurement;
- (b) the recognition for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of any ship or for any other purpose, of any tonnage certificate granted in respect of any ship in any country outside India, the tonnage regulations of which are substantially the same as the tonnage rules made by the Central Government, including the conditions and restrictions subject to which such recognition may be granted;
- (c) the manner in which surveys of ships shall be conducted and the form of certificates of surveying officers;
- (d) the manner in which ships shall be marked;
- (e) the form in which any document required by this Part shall be prepared and the particulars which it should contain;
- (f) the persons by whom and the authorities before which any declaration required by this Part shall be made and the circumstances in which any such declaration may be waived and other evidence accepted;
- (g) the form of the instrument creating a mortgage on a ship or share or transferring a mortgage;
- (h) the returns that shall be made by registrars to the Director-General or to such other authority as the Central Government may appoint and the form in which and the intervals within which such returns shall be made;
- (i) the procedure for the registration, marking or alteration of the names of Indian ships;
- (j) the fees that may be levied under this Part and the manner in which such fees shall be collected;
- (k) the manner in which registrars and other authorities may exercise their powers under this Part or maintain their books and other registers;
- (l) the manner in which ships belonging to the Government, to which the provisions of this Act may be made applicable under section 73, may be registered;
- (m) any other matter which may be or is to be prescribed.

PART VI

CERTIFICATES OF OFFICERS

Masters, mates and engineers.

75. Application of Part.

This Part applies only to sea-going ships fitted with mechanical means of propulsion.

76. Certificates of competency to be held by officers of ships.

(1) Every foreign-going Indian ship, every home-trade Indian ship of two hundred tons gross or more when going to sea from any port or place in India and every ship carrying passengers between ports or places in India shall be provided with officers duly certificated under this Act according to the following scale, namely :

- (a) in every case, with a duly certificated master ;
- (b) if the ship is a foreign-going ship or a home-trade passenger ship of one hundred and fifty tons gross or more, with at least one officer besides the master holding a certificate not lower than that of first mate in the case of a foreign-going ship and of mate in the case of a home-trade passenger ship ;
- (c) if the ship is a home-trade ship, not being a passenger ship, of four hundred and fifty tons gross or more, with at least one officer besides the master holding a certificate not lower than that of mate ;
- (d) if the ship is a foreign-going ship and carries more than one mate, then with the second mate duly certificated.

(2) Every foreign-going Indian ship when going to sea from any port or place in India shall be provided with engineers duly certificated under this Act according to the following scale, namely :

- (a) if the ship is of one hundred nominal horse-power or more, with at least two engineers one of whom shall be a first class engineer designated as the chief engineer, and the other a first class or second class engineer designated as the second engineer ;
- (b) if the ship is of less than one hundred nominal horse-power, with at least one first class or second class engineer designated as the chief engineer.

(3) Every home-trade Indian ship when going to sea from any port or place in India and every ship carrying passengers between ports or places in India shall be provided with engineers or engine drivers duly certificated according to the following scale, namely :

- (a) if the ship is of fifty nominal horse-power or more, with at least one first class or second class engineer designated as the chief engineer ;
- (b) if the ship is of less than fifty nominal horse-power, with at least one first class or second class engineer designated as the chief engineer, or with at least one engine driver of a sea-going ship.

(4) Every fishing vessel when going to sea from any port or place in India shall be provided—

- (a) if the vessel exceeds twenty-five tons gross but does not exceed fifty tons gross, with a certificated skipper ;
- (b) if the vessel exceeds fifty tons gross, with a certificated skipper and a certificated second hand ;
- (c) if the vessel is of fifty nominal horse-power or more, with at least one engineer duly certificated, being an engineer of a fishing vessel, who shall be designated as the chief engineer ;
- (d) if the vessel is of less than fifty nominal horse-power with at least one engineer duly certificated, being an engineer of a fishing vessel, who shall be designated as the chief engineer or with at least one engine driver of a fishing vessel duly certificated.

Explanation. — For the purposes of clause (c), persons holding certificates of competency as first class or second class engineers shall be deemed to be duly certificated and for the purposes of clause (d), persons holding certificates of competency as engine drivers of sea-going ships shall be deemed to be duly certificated

(5) Nothing in this section which relates to engineers or engine drivers shall apply to any ship to which the provisions of the Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1917, apply.

Explanation. — In this section “nominal horse-power in relation to any ship means the horse-power of the engines of the ship calculated in the prescribed manner.

77. When officers deemed duly certificated.

Subject to the provisions contained in section 86, an officer shall not be deemed to be duly certificated under this Act unless he holds a certificate of a grade appropriate to his station in the ship or of a higher grade granted in accordance with this Act.

78. Grades of certificates of competency.

(1) Certificates of competency shall be granted in accordance with this Act for each of the following grades, namely :

- master of a foreign-going ship ;
- first mate of a foreign-going ship ;
- second mate of a foreign-going ship ;
- master of a home-trade ship ;
- mate of a home-trade ship ;
- first class engineer ;
- second class engineer ;
- engine driver of a sea-going ship ;
- skipper of a fishing vessel ;
- second hand of a fishing vessel ;
- engineer of a fishing vessel ;
- engine driver of a fishing vessel.

(2) A certificate of competency granted for the grade of first or second class engineer or engine driver shall state whether it entitles the holder to act as engineer or engine driver of ships fitted with steam engines or of ships fitted with any other type of engines and the holder shall not be entitled to act as engineer or engine driver of a ship fitted with a type of engine not stated in the certificate.

(3) If it appears to the Central Government that certificates of competency for grades other than those referred to in sub-section (1) may be granted, it may, by notification in the official Gazette, specify the other grades in respect of which certificates of competency may be granted.

(4) A certificate of competency for a foreign-going ship shall be deemed to be of a higher grade than the corresponding certificate for a home-trade ship, and shall entitle the lawful holder thereof to go to sea in the corresponding grade in such last-mentioned ship ; but no certificate for a home-trade ship shall entitle the holder to go to sea as master or mate of a foreign-going ship.

79. Examinations for, and grant of, certificates.

(1) The Central Government or a person duly authorised by it in this behalf shall appoint persons for the purpose of examining the qualifications of persons desirous of obtaining certificates of competency under section 78.

(2) The Central Government or such authorised person shall grant to every applicant, who is duly reported by the examiners to have passed the examination satisfactorily and to have given satisfactory evidence of his sobriety, experience and ability and general good conduct on board ship, such a certificate of competency as the case requires :

Provided that the Central Government may, in any case in which it has reason to believe that the report has been unduly made, require, before granting a certificate, a re-examination of the applicant or a further inquiry into his testimonials and character.

80. Certificates of service of naval officers.

(1) A person who has attained the rank of lieutenant in the executive branch of the Indian Navy shall be entitled to a certificate of service as the master of a foreign-going ship without examination.

(2) A person who has attained the rank of lieutenant or sub-lieutenant in the engineering branch of the Indian Navy shall be entitled without examination, if a lieutenant to a certificate of service as first class engineer, and if a sub-lieutenant to a certificate of service as second class engineer.

(3) The Central Government may, by rules made under this Act and subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be specified therein, provide for the grant of certificates of service to officers of the Indian Naval Reserve Forces who have attained the prescribed ranks.

(4) A certificate of service shall differ in form from a certificate of competency and shall contain the name and rank of the person to whom it is delivered, and the Central Government shall deliver a certificate of service to any person who proves himself to be entitled thereto.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, the Central Government may, if it is of opinion that a person who is entitled to a certificate of service under this section is not a fit person to hold such certificate, refuse to grant or deliver such certificate to him.

(6) The provisions of this Act (including the provisions relating to penalties) shall apply in relation to a certificate of service as they apply in relation to a certificate of competency.

81. Form of certificates.

Every certificate of competency granted under this Act shall be in the prescribed form and shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded in the prescribed manner.

82. Record of orders affecting certificates.

A note of all orders made for cancelling, suspending, altering or otherwise affecting any certificate of competency, in pursuance of the powers contained in this Act, shall be entered on the copy of the certificate kept under section 81.

83. Loss of certificates.

Whenever a person holding a certificate granted under this Act proves to the satisfaction of the Central Government that he has, without fault on his part, lost or been deprived of such certificate, the Central Government shall, on payment of the prescribed fee, cause a copy of the certificate, to which by the record kept in accordance with this Act he appears to be entitled, to be granted to him, and such copy shall have all the effect of the original.

84. Production of certificates of competency to shipping master.

(1) The master of a foreign-going ship or the master of a home-trade ship of two hundred tons gross or more—

(a) on signing the agreement with his crew, shall produce to the shipping master before whom the same is signed, the certificates of competency which the master, mate, engineers and engine drivers of the ship are by this Act required to hold; and

(b) in the case of a running agreement, shall, also, before the second and every subsequent voyage, produce to the shipping master the certificate of competency of any mate or engineer then first engaged by him who is required by this Act to hold a certificate.

(2) Upon the production of the certificates of competency, the shipping master shall, if the certificates are such as the master, mates and engineers of the ship ought to hold, give to the master a certificate to the effect that the proper certificates of competency have been so produced.

(3) The master shall, before proceeding to sea, produce the certificate given to him by the shipping master to the customs collector.

(4) No customs collector shall clear any such ship outwards without the production of such certificate; and, if any ship attempts to go to sea without a clearance, the customs collector may detain her until the certificate is produced.

85. Power to cancel or suspend certificates obtained on false or erroneous information.

If it appears to the Central Government that the holder of a certificate granted under this Act has obtained it on false or erroneous information, it may cancel or suspend such certificate:

Provided that no order under this section shall be passed by the Central Government unless the person concerned had been given an opportunity of making a representation against the order proposed.

86. Recognition of certificates of competency or service granted in other countries.

(1) If provision is made by the laws in force in any country other than India for the grant of certificates of competency or service similar to those referred to in this Act, and the Central Government is satisfied—

- (a) that the conditions under which any such certificates are granted in that country require standards of competency or service not lower than those required for the grant under this Act of corresponding certificates; and
- (b) that certificates granted under this Act are accepted in that country in lieu of the corresponding certificates granted under the laws of that country;

the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that any certificate of competency or service granted under the laws in force in that country and specified in that notification, shall for the purposes of this Act be recognised as equivalent to the corresponding certificate of competency or service granted under this Act and specified in the notification.

(2) Whenever the provisions of this Act require that a person employed in any capacity on board any ship shall be the holder of a specified certificate of competency or service granted under this Act, any person employed in that capacity shall, if he is the holder of a certificate recognised under sub-section (1) as equivalent to the first-mentioned certificate or to a certificate of higher grade granted under this Act, and still in force, be deemed to be duly certificated under this Act.

87. Power to make rules as to grant, cancellation or suspension of certificates of competency.

The Central Government may make rules<sup>a</sup> to carry out the provisions of this Part, relating to certificates of competency, and may, by such rules,—

- (a) prescribe the manner in which the horse-power of the engines of ships may be calculated, and the methods by which such calculation may be made in respect of different types of engines;
- (b) provide for the conduct of the examination of persons desirous of obtaining certificates of competency for the grades falling under section 78;
- (c) prescribe the qualifications to be respectively required of persons desirous of obtaining certificates of competency for the grades falling under section 78,

- (d) fix the fees to be paid by applicants for examination;
- (e) prescribe the form of such certificates and the manner in which copies of certificates are to be kept and recorded;
- (f) prescribe the circumstances or cases in which certificates of competency may be cancelled or suspended.

R. O. 1965 dated 12-6-1954 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1954, Pt. II-sec. 3, page 1513.

PART VII

SEAMEN AND APPRENTICES

Classification of seamen and prescription of minimum manning scale.

88. Power to classify seamen.

The Central Government may make rules for the classification of seamen other than ship's officers into different categories and for the prescription of the minimum manning scale of seamen of such categories for ships; and different scales may be prescribed for different classes of ships.

Shipping masters.

89. Duties of shipping masters.

It shall be the duty of shipping masters —

- (a) to superintend and facilitate the engagement and discharge of seamen in the manner provided in this Act;
- (b) to provide means for securing the presence on board at the proper times of the seamen who are so engaged;
- (c) to facilitate the making of apprenticeship to the sea service;
- (d) to hear and decide disputes under section 132 between a master, owner or agent of a ship and any of the crew of the ship;
- (e) to perform such other duties relating to seamen, apprentices and merchant ships as are for the time being committed to them by or under this Act.

90. Fees to be paid.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, fix the fees which shall be payable upon all engagements and discharges effected before a shipping master.

(2) Scales of the fees payable for the time being shall be conspicuously placed in the shipping office, and a shipping master may refuse to proceed with any engagement or discharge unless the fees payable thereon are first paid.

(3) Every owner or master of a ship engaging or discharging any seaman in a shipping office or before a shipping master shall pay to the shipping master the whole of the fees hereby made payable in respect of such engagement or discharge, and may, for the purpose of reimbursing himself in part, deduct in respect of each such engagement or discharge from the wages of all persons (except apprentices) so engaged or discharged, and retain any sums not exceeding such sums as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, fix in this behalf :

Provided that, if in any case the sums which may be so deducted exceed the amount of the fee payable by him, such excess shall be paid by him to the shipping master in addition to such fee.

(4) For the purpose of determining the fees to be paid upon the engagement and discharge of seamen belonging to foreign-going ships which have running agreements as hereinafter provided, the crew shall be considered to be engaged when the agreement is first signed, and to be discharged when the agreement finally terminates; and all intermediate engagements and discharges shall be considered to be engagements and discharges of single seamen.

Apprenticeship to the sea service.

91. Assistance for apprenticeship to sea service.

All shipping masters shall give to persons desirous of apprenticing boys not under fifteen years of age to the sea service or requiring apprentices not under that age for the sea service such assistance as may be in their power, and may receive from those persons such fees as the Central Government may fix.

92. Special provisions as to apprenticeship to the sea service.

(1) The apprenticeship of any boy to the sea service shall be by contract in writing between the apprentice or on his behalf by his guardian, if the boy is a minor, and the master or owner of the ship requiring the apprentice.

(2) Every such contract shall be executed in duplicate in the prescribed form and in accordance with the rules made by the Central Government in this behalf.

(3) Every such contract shall be executed in the presence of, and shall be attested by, the shipping master of the port, who shall, before the execution of the contract, satisfy himself—

(a) that the intended apprentice—

(i) understands the contents and provisions of the contract;

(ii) freely consents to be bound;

(iii) has attained the age of fifteen years; and

(iv) is in possession of a certificate to the effect that he is physically fit for sea service;

(b) if the intended apprentice is a minor, that his guardian's consent has been obtained to his being bound as an apprentice.

(4) Every such contract made in India and every assignment, alteration or cancellation thereof, and where the apprentice bound dies or deserts the fact of the death or desertion shall be recorded in the manner specified in section 93.

93. Manner in which contract is to be recorded.

For the purpose of the record—

(a) the master or owner of the ship to whom an apprentice to the sea service is bound shall transmit the contract executed in duplicate within seven days of the execution thereof, to the shipping master, who shall record one copy and endorse on the other the fact that it has been recorded and redeliver it to the master or owner;

(b) the master or owner shall notify any assignment or cancellation of the contract and the death or desertion of the apprentice to the shipping master, within seven days of the occurrence, if it occurs within India, or as soon as circumstances permit, if it occurs elsewhere.

94. Production of contracts to authorised person before voyage in ship.

(1) The master of a ship shall, before carrying an apprentice to sea from a port in India, cause the apprentice to appear before the shipping master before whom the crew are engaged, and shall produce to him the contract by which the apprentice is bound, and every assignment thereof.

(2) The name of the apprentice, with the date of the contract and of the assignments thereof, if any, and the names of the ports at which the same have been registered, shall be entered on the agreement with the crew.

*Seamen's employment offices95. Business of seamen's employment offices.

(1) It shall be the business of the seamen's employment offices—

(a) to regulate and control—

(i) the supply of such categories of seamen and for such class of ships as may be prescribed;

(ii) the recruitment of persons for employment as seamen and the retirement of seamen from such employment;

(iii) the promotion of seamen or changes of their categories;

(b) to maintain registers of seamen in respect of the categories prescribed under sub-clause (i) of clause (a);

(c) to perform such other duties relating to seamen and merchant ships as are, from time to time, committed to them by or under this Act.

(2) Where there is in existence at any port a seamen's employment office, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any other provision of this Act, no person shall receive or accept to be entered on board any ship of the class prescribed under sub-section (1) any seaman of the categories prescribed under that sub-section, unless such seaman has been supplied by such seamen's employment office.

(3) The Central Government may make rules for the purpose of enabling seamen's employment offices effectively to exercise their powers under this Act; and in particular and, without prejudice to the generality of such power, such rules may provide for—

(a) consultation with respect to any specified matter by seamen's employment offices with such advisory boards or other authorities as the Central Government may think fit to constitute or specify in this behalf;

(b) the levy and collection of such fees as may be specified for any seamen's employment office for registering the name of any seaman in any register maintained by it;

(c) the issue of directions by the Central Government to any seamen's employment office with reference to the exercise of any of its powers;

(d) the supersession of any seamen's employment office which fails to comply with any such direction.

96. Supply or engagement of seamen in contravention of Act prohibited.

(1) A person shall not engage or supply a seaman to be entered on board any ship in India unless that person is the owner, master or mate of the ship, or is the agent of the owner or is bona fide the servant and in the constant employ of the owner, or is a director of a seamen's employment office, or a shipping master.

(2) A person shall not employ for the purpose of engaging or supplying a seaman to be entered on board any ship in India, any person unless that person is the owner, master or mate of the ship, or is the agent of the owner or is bona fide the servant and in the constant employ of the owner or is a director of a seamen's employment office, or a shipping master.

[1] The word "servant" is a servant in the constant employ of the master (owner of a ship). The mere engagement of a person to supply seamen does not make that person a "servant" as contemplated by S. 25 (1) corresponding to S. 96. 1952 Cal 339 (339) [A I R V 39].

[2] Neither the Calcutta Maritime Board nor the Calcutta Liners' Conference supply the seamen. The registration entitles the seamen to get muster cards, which enable to appear at the musters and there the Captains of the ships select and engage the seamen. It is after this selection and engagement that the Calcutta Liners' Conference pay Rs. 2 to the Calcutta Maritime Board out of which Re. 1 is their own contribution and Re. 1 is the contribution by seaman which is deducted from his wages. There is, therefore, no supply of a seaman within the meaning of S. 25 of the old Act. 1951 S C 196 (196) [A I R V 38 C 32] : 1951 S C R 284 : 52 Cri L Jour 510.

(3) A person shall not receive or accept to be entered on board any ship any seaman, if that person knows that the seaman has been engaged or supplied in contravention of this section or section 95.

97. Receipt of remuneration from seamen for shipping them prohibited.

A person shall not demand or receive, either directly or indirectly, from any seaman, or from any person seeking employment as a seaman, or from any person on his behalf, any remuneration whatever for providing him with employment, other than the fees authorised by this Act.

Engagement of seamen

98. Qualifications for, and medical examination of, seamen.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that, with effect from such date as may be specified in the notification, seamen generally or any category of seamen in particular shall not be engaged or carried to sea to work in any capacity in any ship or in any class of ships so specified, unless each one of them possesses the prescribed qualifications.

(2) Except as otherwise provided under the rules made under sub-section (3), no person shall engage or carry to sea any seaman to work in any capacity in any ship or in any class of ships specified in this behalf by the Central Government, unless the seaman is in possession of a certificate in the prescribed form granted by the prescribed authority to the effect that he is physically fit to be employed in that capacity.

(3) The Central Government may make rules, for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this section; and, in particular, and, without prejudice to the generality of such power, any rules so made may provide for—

- (a) the courses of training to be pursued, the vocational standards to be attained or the tests to be passed by seamen generally or by any class of seamen in particular;
- (b) the standard of physical fitness required of seamen,* different standards being laid down, if necessary, for different classes of seamen having regard to the age of the seamen to be examined or the nature of the duties to be performed by them;
- (c) the nature of the medical examination of seamen, the authorities by which the examination shall be conducted, and the fees payable therefor;
- (d) the form and contents of medical certificates and the period of their validity;
- (e) the re-examination by such medical authority as may be specified of persons who have been refused medical certificates of physical fitness in the first instance and the fees payable for such re-examination;
- (f) the circumstances in which, or the conditions subject to which, any seaman or class of seamen, or any ship or class of ships, may be exempted from the operation of sub-section (2).

[a] See the Indian Merchant Shipping (Medical Examination) Rules, 1958 made under S. 26A of the old Act of 1923.

99. Prohibition of engagement of seamen in Indian port without discharge certificate.

No person shall engage or carry to sea any seaman under this Act in any ship, except a home-trade ship of less than two hundred tons gross, from any port in

Section 97 — Note 1

[1] Where a person demands money from another for issuing to him a muster card to enable to assemble at a place for being engaged as a seaman, he commits an offence under S. 26 (2) of the Merchant Shipping Act, for receiving remuneration under S. 25 (1). It is true that the money is demanded before the man is employed and the payment does not also guarantee that he shall be employed. But since the payment is taken for the purpose of providing the person paying with employment, it is illegal and is an offence. 1952 Cal 339 (339, 340) [A J R V 39]. (Case decided with reference to old Act.)

India unless the seaman is in possession of a certificate of discharge or a continuous certificate of discharge issued under this Part.

100. Agreements with crew.

The master of every Indian ship, except a home-trade ship of less than two hundred tons gross, shall enter into an agreement (in this Act called the agreement with the crew) in accordance with this Act with every seaman whom he engages in, and carries to sea as one of his crew from any port in India.

101. Form and contents of the agreement.

(1) An agreement with the crew shall be in the prescribed form, and shall be dated at the time of the first signature thereof, and shall be signed by the master before any seaman signs the same.

(2) The agreement with the crew shall contain as terms thereof the following particulars, namely :

- (a) the name of the ship or ships on board which the seaman undertakes to serve;
- (b) either the nature and, as far as practicable, the duration of the intended voyage or engagement or the maximum period of the voyage or engagement, and the places or parts of the world, if any, to which the voyage or engagement is not to extend;
- (c) the number and description of the crew of different categories in each department;
- (d) the time at which each seaman is to be on board or to begin work;
- (e) the capacity in which each seaman is to serve;
- (f) the amount of wages which each seaman is to receive;
- (g) a scale of the provisions which are to be furnished to each seaman, such scale being not less than the scale fixed by the Central Government and published in the Official Gazette;
- (h) a scale of warm clothing and a scale of additional provisions to be issued to each seaman during periods of employment in specified cold regions ;
- (i) any regulations as to conduct on board and as to fines or other lawful punishments for misconduct, which have been sanctioned by the Central Government as regulations proper to be adopted, and which the parties agree to adopt;
- (j) payment of compensation for personal injury or death caused by accident arising out of and in the course of employment;
- (k) where it is agreed that the services of any seaman shall end at any port not in India, a stipulation to provide him either fit employment on board some other ship bound to the port at which he was shipped or to such other port in India as may be agreed upon, or a passage to some port in India free of charge or on such other terms as may be agreed upon;
- (l) stipulations relating to such other matters as may be prescribed.

(3) The agreement shall provide that in the event of a dispute arising outside India between the master, owner or agent of a ship and a seaman in respect of any matter touching the agreement, such dispute shall be referred to the Indian consular officer whose decision thereon shall be binding on the parties until the return of the ship to the port in India at which the seaman is to be discharged :

Provided that in the case of a ship other than an Indian ship, no such dispute shall be referred to the Indian consular officer if such reference is contrary to the rules of international law.

(4) The agreement with the crew shall be so framed as to admit of stipulations, to be adopted at the will of the master and seaman in each case (not being inconsistent with the provisions of this Act) respecting the advance and allotment of wages and may contain any other stipulations which are not contrary to law.

102. Engagement of seaman where agreement is made out of India.

If the master of a ship registered at a port outside India has an agreement with the crew made in due form according to the law of that port or of the port in which her crew were engaged and engages a seaman in any port in India, not being the holder of a certificate of discharge or a continuous certificate of discharge issued in India, the seaman may sign the agreement so made, and it shall not be necessary for him to sign an agreement under this Act.

103. Special provisions with regard to agreements with crew of Indian ships.

(1) The following provisions shall have effect with respect to every agreement made in India with the crew of an Indian ship, namely :

- (a) the agreement shall, subject to the provision of this Act as to substitutes, be signed by each seaman in the presence of a shipping master;
- (b) the shipping master shall cause the agreement to be read over and explained to each seaman, in a language understood by him or shall otherwise ascertain that each seaman understands the same before he signs it, and shall attest each signature;
- (c) when the crew is first engaged, the agreement shall be signed in duplicate, and one part shall be retained by the shipping master, and the other part shall be delivered to the master, and shall contain a special place or form for the descriptions and signatures of substitutes or persons engaged subsequently to the first departure of the ship;
- (d) when a substitute is engaged in the place of a seaman who has duly signed the agreement and whose services are within twenty-four hours of the ship's putting to sea lost by death, desertion or other unforeseen cause, the engagement shall, if practicable, be made before a shipping master, and if not practicable, the master shall, before the ship puts to sea, if practicable, and, if not, as soon afterwards as possible, cause the agreement to be read over and explained to the substitute; and the substitute shall thereupon sign the same in the presence of a witness, who shall attest the signature.

(2) In the case of an agreement made in India with the crew of a foreign-going Indian ship the following provisions shall have effect in addition to the provisions specified in sub-section (1), namely:

- (a) the agreement may be made for a voyage of the ship or, if the voyages of the ship average less than six months in duration, may be made to extend over two or more voyages, and agreements so made are in this Act referred to as running agreements;
- (b) a running agreement may be made to extend over two or more voyages so that it shall terminate either within six months from the date on which it was executed, or on the first arrival of the ship at her port of destination in India after the expiration of that period, or on the discharge of cargo consequent upon such arrival, whichever of these dates shall be the latest:

Provided that no such running agreement shall continue in force, if, after the expiration of such period of six months as aforesaid, the ship proceeds on a voyage from a port outside India to any other such port which is not on the direct route or a customary route to her port of destination in India;

- (c) on every return to a port in India before the final termination of a running agreement, the master shall discharge or engage before the shipping master at such port any seaman whom he is required by law so to discharge or engage, and shall upon every such return endorse on the agreement a statement (as the case may be) either that no such discharges or engagements have been made or are intended to be made before the ship leaves port, or that all those made have been made as required by law;

- (d) the master shall deliver the running agreement so endorsed to the shipping master, and the shipping master shall, if the provisions of this Act relating to agreements have been complied with, sign the endorsement and return the agreement to the master.

(3) In the case of an agreement made in India with the crew of a home-trade Indian ship of two hundred tons gross or more, the following provisions shall have effect in addition to the provisions specified in sub-section (1), namely :

- (a) the agreement shall not be for a period longer than six months, but if the period for which the agreement was entered into expires while the ship is not in an Indian port, the agreement shall continue in force until the ship is again in an Indian port:

Provided that, except with the consent in writing of the seaman concerned, the agreement shall not continue in force for more than three months after the expiration of the period for which it was entered into;

- (b) an agreement for service in two or more ships belonging to the same owner may be made by the owner instead of by the master, and the provisions of this Act with respect to the making of the agreement shall apply accordingly.

104. Renewal of running agreements in certain cases.

(1) When a running agreement has been made with a crew of a foreign-going Indian ship and the ship arrives after the expiration of a period of six months from the date on which it was executed at a port of destination in India which is not the port at which the crew have agreed to be discharged, the master may, with the previous sanction of the shipping master, renew the agreement with the crew, or may be required by the shipping master so to renew the agreement for the voyage from such port of destination to the port in India at which the crew have agreed to be discharged.

(2) If the master of the ship is required by the shipping master to renew the agreement as aforesaid and refuses so to renew it, any expenses which may be incurred by the Government for the subsistence of the crew and their conveyance to the port at which they have agreed to be discharged shall be a charge upon the ship, and shall be recoverable as if they were expenses incurred in respect of distressed seamen under the provisions of this Act.

105. Changes in crew to be reported.

The master of every foreign-going Indian ship and of every home-trade Indian ship of two hundred tons gross or more, the crew of which has been engaged before a shipping master, shall, before finally leaving the port where the engagement took place, sign and send to the nearest shipping master a full and accurate statement in the prescribed form, of every change which has taken place in his crew, and that statement shall be admissible in evidence.

106. Certificate as to agreement with crew.

(1) In the case of a foreign-going Indian ship or a home-trade Indian ship of two hundred tons gross or more, on the due execution of an agreement with the crew in accordance with this Act, and also when, in the case of a foreign-going Indian ship, the agreement is a running agreement, on compliance by the master before the second and every subsequent voyage made after the first commencement of the agreement with the provisions of this Act respecting that agreement, the shipping master shall grant the master of the ship a certificate to that effect.

(2) The master of every such ship shall, before proceeding to sea, produce that certificate to the customs collector whose duty it is to grant a port clearance.

(3) No customs collector shall clear any such ship outwards without the production of such certificate, and, if any such ship attempts to go to sea without a clearance, the customs collector may detain her until such certificate as aforesaid is produced.

(4) The master of every such ship shall, within forty-eight hours after the ship's arrival at the port in India at which the crew is to be discharged, deliver such agreement to a shipping master at the port; and such shipping master shall thereupon give to the master a certificate of such delivery; and no customs collector shall clear any such ship inwards without the production of such certificate.

107. Copy of agreement to be made accessible to the crew.

The master shall, at the commencement of every voyage or engagement, cause a legible copy of the agreement and, if necessary, a certified translation thereof in a language understood by the majority of the crew (omitting the signatures), to be placed or posted up in such part of the ship as to be accessible to the crew.

108. Alteration in agreement with the crew.

Every erasure, interlineation or alteration in any agreement with the crew (except additions made for the purpose of shipping substitutes or persons engaged subsequently to the first departure of the ship) shall be wholly inoperative, unless proved to have been made with the consent of—

- (a) all the persons interested in such erasure, interlineation or alteration by the written attestation, if made in India, of some shipping master, or customs collector; or
- (b) an Indian Consular Officer, if made out of India.

Employment of young persons.

109. Employment of children.

No person under fifteen years of age shall be engaged or carried to sea to work in any capacity in any ship, except—

- (a) in a school ship, or training ship, in accordance with the prescribed conditions; or
- (b) in a ship in which all persons employed are members of one family; or
- (c) in a home-trade ship of less than two hundred tons gross; or
- (d) where such person is to be employed on nominal wages and will be in the charge of his father or other adult near male relative.

110. Engagement of young persons as trimmers or stokers.

(1) Save as otherwise provided in sub-sections (2) and (3), no young person shall be engaged or carried to sea to work as a trimmer or stoker in any ship.

(2) Sub-section (1) shall not apply—

- (a) to any work of trimming or stoking done by a young person in a school ship or training ship in accordance with the prescribed conditions; or
- (b) to any work of trimming or stoking done by a young person in a ship which is mainly propelled otherwise than by steam; or
- (c) to the engagement or carrying to sea of a person over sixteen years of age to work as a trimmer or stoker on a coasting ship, provided he is employed in accordance with the prescribed conditions.

(3) Where in any port a trimmer or stoker is required for any ship other than a coasting ship, and no person over eighteen years of age is available, two young persons over sixteen years of age may be engaged and carried to sea to do the work which would otherwise have been done by one person over eighteen years of age.

(4) There shall be included in every agreement with the crew in ships to which this section applies a short summary of the provisions of this section.

111. Medical examination of young persons.

(1) Save as otherwise provided in sub-section (2), no young person shall be engaged or carried to sea to work in any capacity in any ship, unless there has been delivered to the master a certificate granted by a prescribed authority that the young person is physically fit to be employed in that capacity.

(2) Sub-section (1) shall not apply,—

(a) to the employment of a young person in a ship in which all persons employed are members of one family; or

(b) where the shipping master, on the ground of urgency, has authorised a young person to be engaged and carried to sea, without the certificate required by sub-section (1) being delivered to the master, and the young person is not employed beyond the first port at which the ship in which he is so engaged calls except in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1).

(3) A certificate of physical fitness required under this section shall remain in force for one year only from the date on which it is granted.

112. Maintenance of list or register of young persons in a ship.

There shall be included in every agreement with the crew of every Indian ship and every other ship which engages young persons in India, a list of young persons who are members of the crew, together with particulars of the dates of their birth, and, in the case of any such ship where there is no agreement, the master shall keep a register of young persons with particulars of the dates of their birth and of the dates on which they became or ceased to be members of the crew.

113. Power to make rules respecting employment of young persons.

(1) The Central Government may make rules prescribing—

(a) the conditions of employment of young persons in any capacity in school ships and training ships, and the authorities by whom and the manner in which the inspection of their work shall be carried out;

(b) the conditions of employment of young persons as trimmers or stokers in coasting ships;

(c) the authorities whose certificates of physical fitness shall be accepted for the purposes of section 111; and

(d) the form of the register of young persons to be maintained in ships where there is no agreement with the crew.

(2) Rules under clause (b) of sub-section (1) shall be made after consultation with such organisations in India as the Central Government may consider to be most representative of the employers of seamen and of seamen.

Engagement of seamen by masters of ships other than Indian ships.

114. Engagements between seamen and masters of ships other than Indian ships.

(1) When the master of a ship other than an Indian ship engages a seaman at any port in India to proceed to any port outside India, he shall enter into an agreement with such seaman, and the agreement shall be made before a shipping master in the manner provided by this Act for the making of agreements in the case of foreign-going Indian ships.

(2) All the provisions of this Act respecting the form of such agreements and the stipulations to be contained in them and the making and signing of the same, shall be applicable to the engagement of such seaman.

(3) The master of a ship other than an Indian ship shall give to the shipping master a bond with the security of some approved person resident in India for such amount as may be fixed by the Central Government in respect of each seaman engaged by him at any port in India and conditioned for the due performance of such agreement and stipulations, and for the repayment to the Central Government of all expenses which may be incurred by it in respect of any such seaman who is discharged or left behind at any port out of India and becomes distressed and is relieved under the provisions of this Act:

Provided that the shipping master may waive the execution of a bond under this section where the owner of the ship has an agent at any port in India and such agent accepts liability in respect of all matters for which the master of the ship would be liable if he were to execute a bond under this section or may accept from the agent such security as may be approved by the Central Government.

(4) The fees fixed under section 90 shall be payable in respect of every such engagement, and deductions from the wages of seamen so engaged may be made to the extent and in the manner allowed under the said section 90.

115. Power to prohibit engagement of persons as seamen.

The Central Government or any officer authorised by it in this behalf, if satisfied that in the national interest or in the interests of seamen generally it is necessary so to do, may, by order in writing, prohibit the owner, master or agent of any ship other than an Indian ship specified in the order from engaging in India or in any specified part of India, any person to serve as a seaman on such ship.

116. Engagement of seamen outside India for Indian ships.

With respect to the engagement of seamen outside India, the following provisions shall have effect :—

When the master of an Indian ship engages a seaman at any port outside India, the provisions of this Act respecting agreements with the crew made in India shall apply subject to the following modifications :—

- (a) at any such port having an Indian consular officer, the master shall, before carrying the seaman to sea, procure the sanction of the consular officer, and shall, if not contrary to any law in force in that port, engage the seaman before that officer ;
- (b) the master shall request the Indian consular officer to endorse upon the agreement an attestation to the effect that it has been signed in his presence and otherwise made as required by this Act, and that it has his sanction, and if the attestation is not made, the burden of proving that the engagement was made as required by this Act shall lie upon the master.

117. Power to board ships and muster seamen.

For the purpose of preventing seamen from being taken on board any ship at any port in India contrary to the provisions of this Act, any shipping master or deputy or assistant shipping master or any director, deputy director or assistant director of the seamen's employment office, may enter at any time on board any such ship upon which he has reason to believe that seamen have been shipped, and may muster and examine the several seamen employed therein.

*Discharge of seamen.118. Discharge before shipping master.

(1) When a seaman serving in a foreign-going ship is, on the termination of his engagement, discharged in India, he shall, whether the agreement with the crew be an agreement for the voyage or running agreement, be discharged in the manner provided by this Act in the presence of a shipping master.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall apply in relation to the discharge of seamen serving in a home-trade Indian ship of two hundred tons gross or more as they apply in relation to the discharge of seamen serving in a foreign-going ship :

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply where a seaman is discharged from a ship under an agreement made in accordance with section 103 for service in two or more ships, for the purpose of being engaged in another ship to which the agreement relates.

(3) If the master, owner or agent of a home-trade ship, other than a ship to which the last preceding sub-section applies, so desires, the seamen of that ship may be discharged in the same manner as seamen discharged from a foreign-going ship.

119. Certificate of discharge.

(1) The master shall sign and give to a seaman discharged from his ship in India, either on his discharge or on payment of his wages, a certificate of his discharge in the prescribed form specifying the period of his service and the time and place of his discharge.

(2) The master shall also, upon the discharge of every certificated officer, whose certificate of competency has been delivered to and retained by him, return the certificate to the officer.

120. Certificate as to work of seamen.

(1) When a seaman is discharged from a ship in India, the master shall furnish to the shipping master before whom the discharge is made a report in the prescribed form stating—

- (a) the quality of the work of the seaman; or
  - (b) whether the seaman has fulfilled his obligations under the agreement with the crew ; or
  - (c) that he declines to express an opinion on those particulars ;
- and the shipping master shall, if the seaman so desires, give to him or endorse on his certificate of discharge a copy of such report.

(2) A seaman who is entitled to a certificate of discharge under section 119 may, if he so desires, be granted by the master, in lieu of the certificate referred to in sub-section (1) of the said section or the report referred to in sub-section (1) of this section, a continuous discharge certificate specifying the period of his service together with an endorsement stating—

- (a) the quality of the work of the seaman; or
- (b) whether the seaman has fulfilled his obligations under the agreement with the crew; or
- (c) that he declines to express an opinion on those particulars ;

and the master shall thereupon sign and give such continuous discharge certificate notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in sub-section (1).

(3) If the master states that he declines to express an opinion on the particulars mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), he shall enter in the official log book his reasons for so declining.

121. Discharge and leaving behind of seamen by masters of Indian ships.

(1) The master of an Indian ship shall not—

- (a) discharge a seaman before the expiration of the period for which he was engaged, unless the seaman consents to his discharge; or
- (b) except in circumstances beyond his control, leave a seaman or apprentice behind;

without the authority of the officer specified in this behalf by the Central Government and the officer aforesaid shall certify on the agreement with the crew that he has granted such authority, and also the reason for the seaman being discharged or the seaman or apprentice being left behind.

(2) The officer aforesaid to whom application is made for authority in terms of sub-section (1), shall investigate the grounds on which the seaman is to be discharged or the seaman or apprentice left behind and may in his discretion grant or refuse to grant such authority:

Provided that he shall not refuse to grant his authority if he is satisfied that the seaman has without reasonable cause—

- (a) failed or refused to join his ship or to proceed to sea therein; or
- (b) been absent from his ship without leave, either at the commencement or during the progress of a voyage for a period of more than forty-eight hours.

(3) The officer aforesaid shall keep a record of all seamen or apprentices discharged or left behind with his authority; and whenever any charge is made against a seaman or apprentice under section 191, the fact that no such authority is so recorded shall be prima facie evidence that it was not granted.

122. Wages and other property of seaman or apprentice left behind.

(1) If a seaman or apprentice is left behind, the master shall enter in the official log book a statement of the amount due to the seaman or apprentice in respect of wages at the time when he was left behind and of all property left on board by him, and shall take such property into his charge.

(2) Within forty-eight hours after the arrival of the ship at the port in India at which the voyage terminates, the master shall deliver to the shipping master—

- (a) a statement of the amount due to the seaman or apprentice in respect of wages, and of all property left on board by him; and
- (b) a statement, with full particulars, of any expenses that may have been caused to the master or owner of the ship by the absence of the seaman or apprentice, where the absence is due to a contravention by the seaman or apprentice of section 191; and, if required by the shipping master to do so shall furnish such vouchers as are reasonably required to verify the statements.

(3) The master shall at the time when he delivers the statements referred to in sub-s. (2) to the shipping master also deliver to him the amount due to the seaman or apprentice in respect of wages and the property that was left on board by him, and the shipping master shall give to the master a receipt therefor in the prescribed form.

(4) The master shall be entitled to be reimbursed out of the wages or property referred to in cl. (a) of sub-s. (2) such expenses shown in the statement referred to in cl. (b) of that sub-section as appear to the shipping master to be properly chargeable.

123. Repatriation of seamen on termination of service at foreign port.

(1) When the service of a seaman or apprentice terminates without the consent of the said seaman or apprentice at a port outside India, and before the expiration of the period for which the seaman was engaged or the apprentice was bound, the master or owner of the ship shall, in addition to any other relative obligation imposed on either of them by this Act, make adequate provision for the maintenance of the seaman or apprentice according to his rank or rating, and for the return of that seaman or apprentice to a proper return port.

(2) If the master or owner fails without reasonable cause to comply with sub-section (1), the expenses of maintenance and of the journey to the proper return port shall, if defrayed by the seaman or apprentice, be recoverable as wages due to him, and if defrayed by an Indian consular officer, be regarded as expenses falling within the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 161.

Explanation : Inability to provide the said expenses shall not, for the purposes of this sub-section, be regarded as reasonable cause.

124. Discharge of seamen on change of ownership.

(1) If an Indian ship is transferred or disposed of while she is at or on a voyage to any port outside India, every seaman or apprentice belonging to that ship shall be discharged at that port, unless he consents in writing in the presence of the Indian consular officer to complete the voyage in the ship if continued.

(2) If a seaman or apprentice is discharged from an Indian ship in terms of sub-s. (1), the provisions of section 123 shall apply as if the service of the seaman or apprentice had terminated without his consent and before the expiration of the period for which the seaman was engaged or the apprentice was bound.

(3) Every seaman or apprentice discharged in terms of sub-s. (1) shall, if the voyage for which he was engaged is not continued, be entitled to the wages to which he would have been entitled if his service had been wrongfully terminated by the owner before the expiration of the period for which the seaman was engaged or the apprentice was bound.

Payment of wages

125. Master to deliver account of wages.

(1) The master of every ship shall, before paying off or discharging a seaman under this Act, deliver at the time and in the manner provided by this Act a full and true account in the form prescribed of the seaman's wages and of all deductions to be made therefrom on any account whatever.

(2) The said account shall be delivered, either to the seaman himself, at or before the time of his leaving the ship, or to the shipping master not less than twenty-four hours before the discharge or payment off.

126. Disrating of seamen.

(1) Where the master of a ship disrates a seaman, he shall forthwith enter or cause to be entered in the official log book a statement of the disrating, and furnish the seaman with a copy of the entry; and any reduction of wages consequent on the disrating shall not take effect until the entry has been so made and the copy so furnished.

(2) Any reduction of wages consequent on the disrating of a seaman shall be deemed to be a deduction from wages within the meaning of Ss. 125 and 127.

127. Deductions from wages of seamen.

(1) A deduction from the wages of a seaman shall not be allowed unless it is included in the account delivered in pursuance of this Act except in respect of a matter happening after such delivery.

(2) The master shall during the voyage enter the various matters in respect of which the deductions are made, with the amount of the respective deductions as they occur, in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall, if required, produce the book at the time of the payment of wages and also upon the hearing before any competent authority of any complaint or question relating to that payment.

128. Payment of wages before shipping master.

(1) Where a seaman is discharged in India before a shipping master he shall receive his wages through, or in the presence of, the shipping master unless a competent Court otherwise directs.

(2) If the master or owner of a home-trade ship of less than two hundred tons gross so desires, the seamen of that ship may receive their wages in the same manner as seamen discharged from a foreign-going ship, or from a home-trade ship of two hundred tons gross or more.

129. Time of payment of wages.

(1) The master, owner or agent of every ship shall pay to every seaman his wages within four days after the seaman's discharge, and the seaman shall at the time of his discharge be entitled to be paid on account a sum equal to one-fourth part of the balance due to him.

(2) If a master, owner or agent fails without reasonable cause to make payment at that time, he shall pay to the seaman such sum not exceeding the amount of two days' pay for each of the days commencing from the day of discharge during which payment is delayed as the shipping master may in each case decide, but the sum so payable shall not exceed ten days' double pay.

(3) Any sum payable under this section may be recovered as wages.

130. Settlement of wages.

(1) Where a seaman is discharged and the settlement of his wages completed before a shipping master, the seaman shall sign in the presence of the shipping master a release in the form prescribed of all claims in respect of the past voyage or engagement, and the release shall also be signed by the master, owner or agent of the ship and attested by the shipping master.

(2) The release so signed and attested shall be retained by the shipping master and shall operate as a mutual discharge and settlement of all demands between the parties thereto in respect of the past voyage or engagement but shall not debar a claim to compensation for personal injury caused by accident arising out of and in the course of employment.

(3) A copy of the release, certified under the hand of the shipping master to be a true copy, shall be given by him to any party thereto requiring the same, and such copy shall be receivable in evidence upon any question touching such claims, and shall have all the effect of the original of which it purports to be a copy.

(4) No payment, receipt or settlement of the wages of a seaman made otherwise than in accordance with this Act shall operate or be admitted as evidence of the release or satisfaction of any claim in respect of such wages.

(5) Upon any payment being made by a master before a shipping master, the shipping master shall, if required, sign and give to the master a statement of the whole amount so paid, and the statement shall as between the master and his employer, be admissible as evidence that the master has made the payments therein mentioned.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in the preceding sub-sections a seaman may except from the release signed by him any specified claim or demand against the master or owner of the ship, and a note of any claim or demand so excepted shall be entered upon the release; and the release shall not operate as a discharge and settlement of any claim or demand so noted, nor shall sub-section (4) apply to any payment, receipt or settlement made with respect to any such claim or demand.

131. Master to give facilities to seaman for remitting wages.

Where a seaman expresses to the master of the ship his desire to have facilities afforded to him for remitting any part of the balance of the wages due to him to a savings bank or to a near relative, the master shall give to the seaman all reasonable facilities for so doing so far as regards so much of the balance as is within the limits, if any, specified in this behalf by the Central Government, but shall be under no obligation to give those facilities while the ship is in port if the sum will become payable before the ship leaves port or otherwise than conditionally on the seaman going to sea in the ship.

132. Decision of questions by shipping masters.

(1) Where under the agreement with the crew any dispute arises at any port in India between the master, owner or agent of a ship and any of the crew of the ship, it shall be submitted to the shipping master,—

- (a) where the amount in dispute does not exceed three hundred rupees, at the instance of either party to the dispute ;
- (b) in any other case, if both parties to the dispute agree in writing to submit the dispute to the shipping master.

(2) The shipping master shall hear and decide the dispute so submitted and an award made by him upon the submission shall be conclusive as to the rights of the parties, and any document purporting to be such submission or award shall be prima facie evidence thereof.

(3) An award made by a shipping master under this section may be enforced by a Magistrate in the same manner as an order for the payment of wages made by such Magistrate under this Act.

(4) Nothing in the Arbitration Act, 1940, shall apply to any matter submitted to a shipping master for decision under this section.

133. Power of shipping master to require production of ship's papers.

In any proceedings under this Act before a shipping master relating to the wages, claims or discharge of a seaman, the shipping master may require the owner, master or agent or any mate or other member of the crew to produce any log books, papers, or other documents in his possession or power relating to any matter in question in the proceedings, and may require the attendance of and examine any of those persons being then at or near the place on the matter.

134. Rule as to payment to seamen in foreign currency.

Where a seaman or apprentice has agreed with the master of a ship for payment of his wages in Indian or other currency, any payment of, or on account of, his wages, if made in any currency other than that stated in the agreement shall, notwithstanding anything in the agreement, be made at the rate of exchange for the time being current at the place where the payment is made.

*Advance and allotment of wages135. Advance of wages.

(1) Any agreement with the crew may contain a stipulation for payment to a seaman, conditional on his going to sea in pursuance of the agreement of a sum not exceeding the amount of one month's wages payable to the seaman under the agreement.

(2) Save as aforesaid, an agreement by or on behalf of the employer of a seaman for the payment of money to or on behalf of the seaman, conditional on his going to sea from any port in India shall be void, and no money paid in satisfaction or in respect of any such agreement shall be deducted from the seaman's wages, and no person shall have any right of action, suit or set-off against the seaman or his assignee in respect of any money so paid or purporting to have been so paid.

(3) No seaman, who has been lawfully engaged and has received under his agreement an advance payment, wilfully or through misconduct shall fail to attend his ship or desert therefrom before the payment becomes really due to him.

(4) Where it is shown to the satisfaction of a shipping master that a seaman lawfully engaged has wilfully or through misconduct failed to attend his ship, the shipping master shall report the matter to the Director-General who may direct that any of the seaman's certificates of discharge referred to in Ss. 119 and 120 shall be withheld for such period as he may think fit; and while a seaman's certificate of discharge is so withheld, the Director-General or any other person having the custody of the necessary documents may, notwithstanding anything in this Act, refuse to furnish copies of any such certificate certified or extracts therefrom.

136. Allotment notes respecting seamen's wages.

(1) A seaman may require that a stipulation be inserted in the agreement for the allotment, by means of an allotment note, of any part (not exceeding three-fourths) of the amount of the monthly wages payable to him in favour of any such member of his family or any such relative or for any such purpose approved in this behalf by the Central Government by general or special order, as may be specified in the note.

(2) Every shipping master or other officer before whom the seaman is engaged shall, after the seaman has signed the agreement, inquire from the seaman whether he requires such a stipulation for the allotment of his wages by means of an allotment note.

(3) Whenever a seaman requires such a stipulation, the stipulation shall be inserted in the agreement of the crew, and such stipulation shall be deemed to have been agreed to by the master.

(4) An allotment note shall be in the prescribed form and shall be signed by the owner, master or agent of the ship and by the seaman.

137. Commencement and payment of sums allotted.

(1) A payment under an allotment note shall begin at the expiry of one month from the date of the agreement, and shall be made at the expiration of every subsequent month after the first month and shall be made only in respect of the wages earned before the date of payment.

(2) The owner, master or agent who has authorised the drawing of an allotment note shall pay to the shipping master on demand the sums due under the note, and, if he fails to do so, the shipping master may sue for and recover the same with costs:

Provided that no such sum shall be recoverable if it is shown to the satisfaction of the Court trying the case that the seaman has forfeited or ceased to be entitled to the wages out of which the allotment was to have been paid but the seaman shall be presumed to be duly earning his wages unless the contrary is shown to the satisfaction of the Court either by the official statement of the change in the crew caused by his absence made and signed by the master as by this Act is required or by a certified copy of some entry in the official log book to the effect that he has died or left the ship, or by a credible letter from the master of the ship to the same effect, or by such other evidence of whatever description, as the Court may consider sufficient.

(3) The shipping master on receiving any such sum as aforesaid shall pay it over to the person named in that behalf in the allotment note.

(4) All such receipts and payments shall be entered in a book to be kept for the purpose, and all entries in the said book shall be authenticated by the signature of the shipping master.

(5) The said book shall at all reasonable times be open to the inspection of the parties concerned.

Rights of seamen in respect of wages

138. Right to wages and provisions.

A seaman's right to wages and provisions shall be taken to begin either at the time at which he commences work or at the time specified in the agreement for his commencement of work or presence on board, whichever first happens.

139. Right to recover wages and salvage not to be forfeited.

(1) A seaman shall not by any agreement forfeit his lien on the ship or be deprived of any remedy for the recovery of his wages to which, in the absence of the agreement, he would be entitled, and shall not by any agreement abandon his right to wages in case of the loss of the ship or abandon any right that he may have or obtain in the nature of salvage, and every stipulation in any agreement inconsistent with any provisions of this Act shall be void.

(2) Nothing in this section shall apply to a stipulation made by the seamen belonging to any ship which according to the terms of the agreement is to be employed on salvage service with respect to the remuneration to be paid to them for salvage service to be rendered by that ship to any other ship.

140. Wages not to depend on freight.

(1) The right to wages shall not depend on the earning of freight, and every seaman and apprentice who would be entitled to demand and recover any wages if the ship in which he has served had earned freight, shall, subject to all other rules of law and conditions applicable to the case, be entitled to demand and recover the same notwithstanding that freight has not been earned, but in all cases of wreck or loss of the ship, proof that the seaman has not exerted himself to the utmost to save the ship, cargo and stores shall bar his claim to wages.

(2) Where a seaman or apprentice who would but for death be entitled by virtue of this section to demand and recover any wages dies before the wages are paid, they shall be paid and applied in manner provided by this Act with respect to the wages of a seaman who dies during a voyage.

141. Wages on termination of service by wreck, illness, etc.

(1) Where the service of any seaman engaged under this Act terminates before the date contemplated in the agreement by reason of the wreck, loss or abandonment of the ship or by reason of his being left on shore at any place outside India under a certificate granted under this Act of his unfitness or inability to proceed on the voyage, the seaman shall be entitled to receive—

(a) in the case of wreck, loss or abandonment of the ship—

(i) wages at the rate to which he was entitled at the date of termination of his service for the period from the date his service is so terminated until he is returned to and arrives at a proper return port:

Provided that the period for which he shall be entitled to receive wages shall be not less than one month; and

(ii) compensation for the loss of his effects—

(a) in the case of a seaman employed on a home-tradeship, of not less than one month's wages; and

(b) in the case of a seaman employed on a foreign-going ship, of not less than three months' wages;

(b) in the case of unfitness or inability to proceed on the voyage, wages for the period from the date his service is terminated until he is returned to and arrives at a proper return port.

(2) A seaman shall not be entitled to receive wages under sub-clause (i) of clause (a) of sub-section (1) in respect of any period during which—

- (a) he was, or could have been, suitably employed; or
- (b) through negligence he failed to apply to the proper authority for relief as a distressed or destitute seaman.

(3) Any amount payable by way of compensation under sub-clause (ii) of clause (a) of sub-section (1) shall be deposited with the shipping master at the port of engagement in India for payment to the seaman, or, in the case of a deceased seaman, to his legal heirs.

142. Wages not to accrue during absence without leave, refusal to work or imprisonment.

(1) A seaman or apprentice shall not be entitled to wages—

- (a) for any period during which he is absent without leave from his ship or from his duty; or
- (b) for any period during which he unlawfully refuses or neglects to work when required; or
- (c) unless the court hearing the case otherwise directs, for any period during which he is lawfully imprisoned.

(2) A seaman or apprentice shall not be disentitled to claim wages for any period during which he has not performed his duty if he proves that he was incapable of doing so by reason of illness, hurt or injury, unless it be proved that—

- (a) his illness, hurt or injury was caused by his own wilful act or default or his own misbehaviour; or
- (b) his illness was contracted or his hurt or injury was sustained at a proper return port and was not attributable to his employment; or
- (c) he has unreasonably refused to undergo medical or surgical treatment for his illness, hurt or injury involving no appreciable risk to his life.

143. Compensation to seamen for premature discharge.

(1) If a seaman having signed an agreement is discharged, otherwise than in accordance with the terms thereof, without fault on his part justifying the discharge and without his consent, he shall be entitled to receive from the master, owner or agent, in addition to any wages he may have earned, as due compensation for the damage caused to him by the discharge, such sum as the shipping master may fix having regard to the circumstances relating to the discharge:

Provided that the compensation so payable shall not exceed—

- (a) in the case of a seaman who has been discharged before the commencement of a voyage, one month's wages; and
- (b) in the case of a seaman who has been discharged after the commencement of a voyage, three month's wages.

(2) Any compensation payable under this section may be recovered as wages.

144. Restriction on sale of and charge upon wages.

(1) As respects wages due or accruing to a seaman or apprentice—

- (a) they shall not be subject to attachment by order of any court;
- (b) an assignment thereof made prior to the accruing thereof shall not bind the person making the same;

Section 144 — Note 1

[1] British tug registered in India—Tug used only for touring ships whenever any ship entered port — Section does not apply and wages of seamen on such tug are not exempt from attachment. 1938 Cal 111 (113) [A I R V 25] : ILR (1938) 1 Cal 433.

(c) a power-of-attorney or authority for the receipt thereof shall not be irrevocable;

(d) a payment of wages to a seaman or apprentice shall be valid in law notwithstanding any previous assignment of those wages or any attachment thereof or encumbrance thereon.

(2) The provisions of clauses (b) and (c) of sub-section (1) shall not apply to so much of the wages of a seaman as have been or are hereafter assigned by way of contribution to any fund or scheme approved in this behalf by the Central Government, the main purpose of which is the provision for seamen of health or social insurance benefits and the provisions of clauses (a) and (d) of sub-section (1) shall not apply to anything done or to be done for giving effect to such an assignment.

(3) Nothing in this section shall affect the provisions of this Act or any other law for the time being in force with respect to allotment notes.

145. Summary proceedings for wages.

(1) A seaman or apprentice or a person duly authorised on his behalf may, as soon as any wages due to him become payable, apply to any Magistrate exercising jurisdiction in or near the place at which his service has terminated or at which he has been discharged, or at which any person upon whom the claim is made is or resides, and the Magistrate shall try the case in a summary way and the order made by the Magistrate in the matter shall be final.

(2) An application under sub-section (1) may also be made by any officer authorised by the Central Government in this behalf by general or special order.

146. Restrictions on suits for wages.

A proceeding for the recovery of wages due to a seaman or apprentice shall not be instituted by or on behalf of any seaman or apprentice in any civil Court except where—

(a) the owner of the ship has been declared insolvent;

(b) the ship is under arrest or sold by the authority of any Court;

(c) a Magistrate refers a claim to the Court.

147. Wages not recoverable outside India in certain cases.

Where a seaman is engaged for a voyage which is to terminate in India, he shall not be entitled to sue in any Court outside India for wages unless he is discharged with such sanction as is required by this Act, and with the written consent of the master, or proves such ill-usage on the part, or by the authority, of the master, as to warrant a reasonable apprehension of danger to his life if he were to remain on board.

148. Remedies of master for wages, disbursements, etc.

(1) The master of a ship shall, so far as the case permits, have the same rights, liens and remedies for the recovery of his wages as a seaman has under this Act or by any law or custom.

Section 145 — Note 1

[1] The Act does not specify the form which the summary proceedings under the section should take. 1941 Cal 448 (449) [AIR V 28] : ILR (1941) 1 Cal 166 : 42 Cri L Jour 785 (DB).

[2] Section indicates that it is alternative procedure exercised at the option of the claimant. He may sue in summary manner instead of having recourse either to the Shipping Master or the Court of Small Causes. 1941 Cal 448 (449) [AIR V 28] : ILR (1941) 1 Cal 166 : 42 Cri L Jour 785 (DB).

[3] Complaint filed under Act — Complaint has to be enquired into in accordance with provision of Act — It cannot be dismissed under S. 203, Criminal P. C. 1933 Cal 647 (647) [AIR V 20] : 35 Cri L Jour 25 (DB).

(2) The master of a ship and every person lawfully acting as master of a ship by reason of the decease or incapacity from illness of the master of the ship shall, so far as the case permits, have the same rights, liens and remedies for the recovery of disbursements or liabilities properly made or incurred by him on account of the ship as a master has for the recovery of his wages.

(3) If in any proceeding in any Court touching the claim of a master in respect of such wages, disbursements or liabilities any set-off is claimed or any counter-claim is made, the Court may enter into, and adjudicate upon, all questions and settle all accounts then arising or outstanding and unsettled between the parties to the proceeding and may direct payment of any balance found to be due.

Power of Courts to rescind contracts.

149. Power of Courts to rescind contract between master, owner or agent and seaman or apprentice.

Where a proceeding is instituted in any Court in relation to any dispute between master, owner or agent of a ship and a seaman or apprentice, arising out of or incidental to their relation as such, or is instituted for the purpose of this section, the Court, if, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, it thinks it just to do so, may rescind any contract between the master, owner or agent and the seaman or apprentice, upon such terms as the Court may think just, and this power shall be in addition to any other jurisdiction which the Court can exercise independently of this section.

Disputes between seamen and employers.

150. Power to refer disputes between seamen and their employers to tribunals.

(1) Where the Central Government is of opinion that any dispute between seamen or any class of seamen or of any union of seamen and the owners of ships in which such seamen are employed or are likely to be employed exists or is apprehended and such dispute relates to any matter connected with or incidental to the employment of the seamen, the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, constitute a tribunal consisting of one or more persons, and refer the dispute to the tribunal for adjudication.

(2) The tribunal so constituted shall have power to regulate its own procedure and shall have the same powers as are vested in a civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, when trying a suit in respect of the following matters:—

- (a) enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him on oath;
- (b) compelling the production of documents;
- (c) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses;
- (d) any other matter which may be prescribed; and any proceeding before the tribunal shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of sections 193 and 228 of the Indian Penal Code.

(3) No party to a dispute shall be entitled to be represented by a legal practitioner in any proceeding before the tribunal except with the consent of the other party or parties to the proceeding and with the leave of the tribunal.

(4) The tribunal shall dispose of the reference expeditiously and shall, as soon as practicable on the conclusion of the proceedings, submit its award to the Central Government.

(5) On receipt of the award, the Central Government shall cause it to be published and the award shall become enforceable on the expiry of thirty days from the date of such publication :

Provided that where the Central Government is of opinion that it will be inexpedient on public grounds to give effect to the award or any part of it, it may before the expiry of the said period of thirty days by order in the Official Gazette either reject the award or modify it, and where the Central Government does so, the award shall not become enforceable or shall become enforceable subject to the modifications, as the case may be.

(6) An award which has become enforceable under this section shall be binding on—

(a) all parties to the dispute;

(b) where any party to the dispute is the owner of the ship, his heirs, successors, or assigns.

(7) Save as otherwise provided in the award, an award shall remain in operation for a period of one year from the date on which it becomes enforceable and shall thereafter continue to remain in operation until a period of two months has elapsed from the date on which notice is given by any party bound by the award to the other party or parties intimating its intention to terminate the award.

(8) Any money due to a seaman from the owner of a ship under an award may be recovered as wages.

(9) Nothing contained in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, shall apply to any dispute between seamen or any class of seamen or any union of seamen and the owners of ships in which such seamen are employed or are likely to be employed.

151. Conditions of service, etc., to remain unchanged during pendency of proceedings before tribunal.

During pendency of proceedings under section 150,—

(a) no seamen or class of seamen or union of seamen shall go or remain on strike or otherwise act in a manner prejudicial to the normal operation of the ships in which the seamen are employed or are likely to be employed; and

(b) no owner of a ship shall—

(i) alter to the prejudice of the seamen concerned in the dispute, the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings; or

(ii) discharge or punish any seaman in respect of any matter connected with the dispute.

Property of deceased seamen and apprentices.

152. Master to take charge of the effects of deceased seamen.

(1) If any seaman or apprentice engaged on any ship, the voyage of which is to terminate in India, dies during that voyage, the master of the ship shall report the death to the next-of-kin of the seaman or apprentice and to the shipping master at his port of engagement and shall take charge of any money or effects belonging to the seaman or apprentice which are on board the ship.

(2) The master shall thereupon enter in the official log book the following particulars, namely :—

(a) a statement of the amount of money and a detailed description of the other effects;

(b) a statement of the sum due to the deceased for wages and of the amount of deduction, if any, to be made from the wages.

(3) The said money, balance of wages and other effects are in this Act referred to as the property of the seaman or apprentice.

153. Dealing with and account of property of seamen who die during voyage.

(1) If any seaman or apprentice engaged on any ship, the voyage of which is to terminate in India, dies during that voyage and the ship before coming to a port in India touches and remains for forty-eight hours at some port elsewhere, the master shall report the case to the Indian consular officer at such port and shall give to the officer any information he requires as to the destination of the ship and probable length of the voyage.

(2) The Indian consular officer may, if he thinks it expedient, require the property of the seaman or apprentice to be delivered and paid to him and shall thereupon give to the master a receipt therefor and endorse under his hand upon the agreement with the crew such particulars with respect thereto as the Central Government may require.

(3) The receipt shall be produced by the master to the shipping master within forty-eight hours after his arrival at his port of destination in India.

(4) Where a seaman or apprentice dies as aforesaid and the ship proceeds at once to a port in India without touching and remaining as aforesaid at a port elsewhere or the Indian consular officer does not require the delivery and payment of the property as aforesaid, the master shall, within forty-eight hours after his arrival at his port of destination in India, pay and deliver the property to the shipping master at that port.

(5) A deduction claimed by the master in such account shall not be allowed unless verified by a entry in the official log book, and also by such other vouchers, if any, as may be reasonably required by the shipping master.

(6) A shipping master in India shall grant to a master upon due compliance with such provisions of this section as relate to acts to be done at the port of destination a certificate to that effect.

154. Master to pay and deliver property of deceased seamen.

(1) If the master of a ship fails to comply with the provisions of this Act with respect to taking charge of the property of a deceased seaman or apprentice, or to making in the official log book the proper entries relating thereto, or to the payment or delivery of such property, he shall be accountable for such property to the shipping master as aforesaid, and shall pay and deliver the same accordingly.

(2) The property may be recovered in the same court and manner in which the wages of seamen may be recovered under this Act.

155. Property of deceased seaman left abroad but not on board ship.

If any seaman or apprentice on an Indian ship, or engaged in India on any other ship, the voyage of which is to terminate in India, dies at any place outside India leaving any money or effects not on board the ship, the Indian consular officer at or near the place shall claim and take charge of such money and other effects (hereinafter referred to as the property of a deceased seaman or apprentice).

156. Dealing with property of deceased seamen.

(1) An Indian consular officer or a shipping master to whom the effects of a deceased seaman or apprentice are delivered or who takes charge of such effects under this Act may, if he thinks fit, sell the effects, and the proceeds of any such sale shall be deemed to form part of the property of the deceased seaman or apprentice.

(2) Before selling any valuables comprised in the said effects, such officer or shipping master shall endeavour to ascertain the wishes of the next-of-kin of the deceased seaman or apprentice as to the disposal of such valuables and shall, if practicable and lawful, comply with such wishes.

(3) An Indian consular officer to whom any property of a deceased seaman or apprentice is delivered or who takes charge of any such property under this Act shall remit the property to the shipping master at the port of engagement of the deceased seaman or apprentice in such manner and shall render such accounts in respect thereof as may be prescribed.

(1) Where a seaman or apprentice is lost with the ship to which he belongs, the Central Government or such officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf may recover the wages and the compensation due to him from the owner, master or agent of the ship in the same court and in the same manner in which seamen's wages are recoverable, and shall deal with those wages in the same manner as with the wages and compensation due to other deceased seamen or apprentices under this Act.

(2) In any proceedings for the recovery of the wages and compensation, if it is shown by some official records or by other evidence that the ship has, twelve months or upwards before the institution of the proceeding, left any port, she shall, unless it is shown that she has been heard of within twelve months after the departure, be deemed to have been lost with all hands on board either immediately after the time she was last heard of or at such later time as the court hearing the case may think probable.

158. Property of seamen dying in India.

If a seaman or apprentice dies in India and is at the time of his death entitled to claim from the master or owner of the ship in which he has served any effects or unpaid wages, the master, owner or agent shall pay and deliver or account for such property to the shipping master at the port where the seaman or apprentice was discharged or was to have been discharged or to such other officer as the Central Government may direct.

159. Payment over of property of deceased seamen by shipping master.

Where any property of a deceased seaman or apprentice is paid or delivered to a shipping master, the shipping master, after deducting for expenses incurred in respect of that seaman or apprentice or of his property such sums as he thinks proper to allow, may—

- (a) pay and deliver the residue to any claimants who can prove themselves to the satisfaction of the said shipping master to be entitled thereto, and the said shipping master shall be thereby discharged from all further liability in respect of the residue so paid or delivered; or
- (b) if he thinks fit so to do, require probate or letters of administration or a certificate under the Indian Succession Act, 1925, to be taken out, and thereupon pay and deliver the residue to the legal representatives of the deceased.

160. Disposal of unclaimed property of deceased seamen.

(1) Where no claim to the property of a deceased seaman or apprentice received by a shipping master is substantiated within one year from the receipt thereof by such shipping master, the shipping master shall cause such property to be sold and pay the proceeds of the sale into the public account of India.

(2) If, after the proceeds of the sale having been so paid, any claim is made thereto, then, if the claim is established to the satisfaction of the shipping master, the amount or so much thereof as shall appear to him to be due to the claimant, shall be paid to him, and if the claim is not so established, the claimant may apply by petition to the High Court, and such Court, after taking evidence either orally or on affidavit, shall make such order on the petition as shall seem just:

Provided that, after the expiration of six years from the receipt of such property by the shipping master, no claim to such property shall be entertained without the sanction of the Central Government.

*Distressed seamen161. Relief and maintenance of distressed seamen.

(1) The Indian consular officer at or near the place where a seaman is in distress shall, on application being made to him by the distressed seaman, provide in accordance with the rules made under this Act for the return of that seaman to a proper return port, and also for the said seaman's necessary clothing and maintenance until his arrival at such port.

(2) A distressed seaman shall not have any right to be maintained or sent to a proper return port except to the extent and on the conditions provided for in the rules.

(3) All repatriation expenses, other than excepted expenses, incurred by or on behalf of the Central Government in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall constitute a debt due to the Central Government for which the owner or agent of the ship to which the seaman in respect of whom they were incurred belonged at the time of his discharge or other event which resulted in his becoming a distressed seaman shall be liable; and the owner or agent shall not be entitled to recover from the seaman any amount paid by him to the Central Government in settlement or part settlement of such debt.

(4) All excepted expenses incurred by or on behalf of the Central Government in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall constitute a debt due to the Central Government for which the seaman in respect of whom they were incurred and the owner or agent of the ship to which that seaman belonged at the time of his discharge or other event which resulted in his becoming a distressed seaman shall be jointly and severally liable; and the owner or agent shall be entitled to recover from the seaman any amount paid by him to the Central Government in settlement or part settlement of such debt, and may apply to the satisfaction of his claim so much as may be necessary of any wages due to the seaman.

(5) All excepted expenses incurred in accordance with the provisions of this Act in respect of any distressed seaman by the owner or agent of the ship to which he belonged at the time of his discharge or other event which resulted in his becoming a distressed seaman shall constitute a debt due to the owner or agent for which the seaman shall be liable; and the owner or agent may apply to the satisfaction of his claim so much as may be necessary of any wages due to the seaman: but he shall not be entitled to recover from the seaman any repatriation expenses other than excepted expenses.

(6) In any proceedings for the recovery of any expenses which in terms of sub-s. (3) or sub-s. (4) are a debt due to the Central Government, the production of an account of the expenses and proof of payment thereof by or on behalf of or under the direction of the Central Government shall be prima facie evidence that the expenses were incurred in accordance with the provisions of this Act by or on behalf of the Central Government.

(7) Any debt which may be due to the Central Government under this section may be recovered by any officer authorised by it in writing in this behalf from the person concerned in the same manner as wages are recoverable under S. 145.

162. Mode of providing for return of seamen to proper return port.

(2) Provision shall be made for the return of the seaman as to the whole of the route if it is by sea or as to any part of the route which is by sea by placing the seaman on board an Indian ship which is in want of men to make up its complement, or, if that is not practicable, by providing the seaman with a passage in any ship, Indian or foreign, or with the money for his passage, and, as to any part of the route which is by land or air, by paying the expenses of his journey and of his maintenance during the journey or providing him with means to pay those expenses.

(3) Where the master of a ship is required under this Part to provide for the return of a discharged seaman to a proper return port, the master may, instead of providing the seaman's passage or the expenses of his journey or of providing the seaman with means to pay his passage or those expenses, deposit with the proper officer such sum as that officer considers sufficient to defray the expenses of the return of the seaman to a proper return port.

163. Receiving distressed seamen on ships.

(1) The master of an Indian ship shall receive on board his ship and afford passage and maintenance to all distressed seamen whom he is required by the Indian consular officer to take on board his ship, and shall during the passage provide every such distressed seaman with accommodation equal to that normally provided for the crew of the ship and subsistence, proper to the rank or rating of the said distressed seaman.

(2) The master of a ship shall not be required to receive on board his ship a distressed seaman in terms of this section, if the Indian consular officer is satisfied that accommodation is not and cannot be made available for such seaman.

164. Provisions as to taking distressed seamen on ships.

(1) Where a distressed seaman is for the purpose of his return to a proper return port placed on board an Indian ship, the Indian consular officer by whom the seaman is so placed shall endorse on the agreement with the crew of the ship particulars of the seaman so placed on board.

(2) On the production of a certificate signed by the Indian consular officer by whose directions any such distressed seamen were received on board, specifying the number and names of the distressed seamen and the time when each of them was received on board, and on a declaration made by the master stating the number of days during which each distressed seaman has received subsistence and stating the full complement of his crew and the actual number of seamen employed on board his ship and every variation in that number, whilst the distressed seamen received maintenance, the master shall be entitled to be paid in respect of the subsistence and passage of every seaman so conveyed and provided for by him, exceeding the number, if any, wanted to make up the complement of his crew, such sum for each day as the Central Government may by rules made in this behalf allow.

165. What shall be evidence of distress.

In any proceeding under this Part a certificate of the Central Government or of such officer as the Central Government may specify in this behalf to the effect that any seaman named therein is distressed shall be conclusive evidence that such seaman is distressed within the meaning of this Act.

166. Indian consular officer to decide return port to which or route by which seaman is to be sent.

If any question arises as to what return port a seaman is to be sent in any case or as to the route by which he should be sent, that question shall be decided by the Indian consular officer concerned, and in deciding any question under this provision, the Indian consular officer shall have regard both to the convenience of the seaman and to the expense involved, and also, where that is the case, to the fact that an Indian ship which is in want of men to make up its complement is about to proceed to a proper return port.

167. Power to make rules with respect to distressed seamen.

The Central Government may make rules with respect to the relief, maintenance and return to a proper return port of seamen found in distress in any place out of India and with respect to the circumstances in which, and the conditions subject to which, seamen may be relieved and provided with passages under this Part, and generally to carry out the provisions of this Part relating to distressed seamen.

Provisions, health and accommodation.

168. Ships to have sufficient provisions and water.

(1) All Indian ships and all ships upon which seamen have been engaged shall have on board sufficient provisions and water of good quality and fit for the use of the crew on the scale specified in the agreement with the crew.

(2) If any person making an inspection under S. 176 finds the provisions or water to be of bad quality and unfit for use or deficient in quantity, he shall signify it in writing to the master of the ship and may, if he thinks fit, detain the ship until the defects are remedied to his satisfaction.

(3) The master shall not use any provisions or water so signified to be of bad quality and shall in lieu of such provisions or water, provide other proper provisions or water and he shall, if the provisions or water be signified to be deficient in quantity, procure the requisite quantity of any provisions or water to cover the deficiency.

(4) The person making the inspection shall enter a statement of the result of the inspection in the official log book, and shall, if he is not the shipping master, send a report thereof to the shipping master and that report shall be admissible in evidence in any legal proceeding.

(5) If the inspection was made in pursuance of a request by the members of the crew and the person making the inspection certifies in the statement of the result of the inspection that the complaint was false and either frivolous or vexatious, every member of the crew who made the request shall be liable to forfeit to the owner, out of his wages a sum not exceeding one week's wages.

(6) The master of the ship and any other person having charge of any provisions or water liable to inspection under this section shall give the person making the inspection every reasonable facility for the purpose.

169. Allowances for short or bad provisions.

(1) In either of the following cases, that is to say, —

- (a) if during the voyage the allowance of any of the provisions for which a seaman has by his agreement stipulated is reduced, or
- (b) if it is shown that any of those provisions are or have during the voyage been bad in quality or unfit for use, the seaman shall receive by way of compensation for that reduction or bad quality according to the time of its continuance, sums in accordance with such scale as may be prescribed, to be paid to him in addition to, and to be recoverable as, wages.

(2) If it is shown to the satisfaction of the court before which the case is tried that any provisions, the allowance of which has been reduced, could not be procured or supplied in proper quantities, and that proper and equivalent substitutes were supplied in lieu thereof, the court shall take those circumstances into consideration in making an order.

170. Foreign-going Indian ship to carry duly certificated cook.

(1) With effect from such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, specify, every foreign-going Indian ship of such tonnage as may be prescribed shall be provided with, and shall carry, a cook duly certificated under this Act.

(2) The Central Government may make rules specifying the qualifications, experience or sea service which may be required from persons who wish to obtain certificates of competency as cooks under this Act, and the conditions under which any such certificate may be granted, cancelled or suspended.

171. Weights and measures on board.

The master of a ship shall keep on board proper weights and measures for determining the quantities of the several provisions and articles served out and shall allow the same to be used at the time of serving out the provisions and articles in the presence of witnesses whenever any dispute arises about the quantities.

172. Beddings, towels, medicines, medical stores, etc., to be provided and kept on board certain ships.

(1) The owner of every ship of over five hundred tons gross shall supply or cause to be supplied to every seaman for his personal use, bedding, towels, mess utensils and other articles according to such scale as may be prescribed; and different scales may be prescribed in respect of different classes of ships.

(2) All foreign-going Indian ships and all home-trade ships of two hundred tons gross or more shall have always on board a sufficient supply of medicines, medical stores, appliances and first aid equipment suitable for diseases and accidents likely to occur on voyages according to such scale as may be prescribed.

(3) It shall be the duty of the port health officer or such other person as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf to inspect the medicines, medical stores and appliances with which a ship is required to be provided.

173. Certain ships to carry medical officer.

(1) Every foreign-going ship carrying more than the prescribed number of persons (including the crew), shall have on board as part of her complement a medical officer possessing such qualifications as may be prescribed.

(2) Nothing in this section shall apply to an unberthed passenger ship or a pilgrim ship.

174. Expenses of medical attendance in case of illness.

(1) If the master of an Indian ship, or a seaman or apprentice, receives any hurt or injury or suffers from any illness (not being a hurt, injury or illness due to his own wilful act or default or to his own misbehaviour), resulting in his being discharged or left behind at a place other than his proper return port, the expenses of providing the necessary surgical and medical advice, attendance and treatment and medicine, and also the expenses of the maintenance of the master, seaman or apprentice until he is cured, or dies, or is brought back to the port from which he was shipped or other port agreed upon after receiving the necessary medical treatment, and of his conveyance to that port, and in case of death, the expenses, if any, of his burial or cremation shall be defrayed by the owner of the ship without any deduction on that account from his wages.

(2) If the master, seaman or apprentice is on account of any illness or injury temporarily removed from his ship, at a port other than his proper return port, for the purpose of preventing infection, or otherwise for the convenience of the ship, and subsequently returns to his duty, the expenses of removal and providing the necessary surgical and medical advice, attendance and treatment and medicine and of his maintenance while away from the ship, shall be defrayed in like manner.

(3) The expenses of all medicines, and surgical and medical advice, attendance and treatment, given to a master, seaman or apprentice while on board his ship, shall be defrayed in like manner.

(4) In all other cases any reasonable expenses duly incurred by the owner for any master, seaman or apprentice in respect of illness, shall, if proved to the satisfaction of the Indian consular officer or a shipping master, be deducted from the wages of the master, seaman or apprentice.

(5) Where any expenses referred to in this section have been paid by the master, seaman or apprentice himself, the same may be recovered as if they were wages duly earned, and, if any such expenses are paid by the Government, the amount shall be a charge upon the ship and may be recovered with full costs of suit by the Central Government.

175. Accommodation for seaman.

(1) The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules with respect to the crew accommodation to be provided in ships of any class specified in the rules.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:

- (a) the minimum space for each person which must be provided in any ship to which the rules apply by way of sleeping accommodation for seamen and apprentices and the maximum number of persons by whom any specified part of such sleeping accommodation may be used;
- (b) the position in any ship in which the crew accommodation or any part thereof may be located and the standards to be observed in the construction, equipment and furnishing of any such accommodation;
- (c) the submission to such authority as may be specified in this behalf of plans and specifications of any works proposed to be carried out for the provision or alteration of any such accommodation and the authorisation of that authority to inspect any such works;
- (d) the maintenance and repair of any such accommodation and the prohibition or restriction of the use of any such accommodation for purposes other than those for which it is designed;
- (e) the manner as to how ships registered or under construction at the commencement of any rules made under this section may be dealt with after such commencement; and such rules may make different provisions in respect of different classes of ships and in respect of crew accommodation provided for different classes of persons.

(3) If any person making an inspection under S. 176 finds that the crew accommodation is insanitary or is not in accordance with the provisions of this Act, he shall signify it in writing to the master of the ship and may, if he thinks fit, detain the ship until the defects are remedied to his satisfaction.

Explanation.— In this section, the expression “crew accommodation” includes sleeping rooms, mess rooms, sanitary accommodation, hospital accommodation, recreation accommodation, store rooms and catering accommodation provided for the use of seamen and apprentices, not being accommodation which is also used by, or provided for the use of, passengers.

176. Inspection by shipping master, etc., of provisions, water, weights and measures and accommodation.

A shipping master, surveyor, seamen's welfare officer, port health officer, Indian consular officer or any other officer at any port duly authorised in this behalf by the Central Government—

- (a) in the case of any ship upon which seamen have been shipped at that port, may at any time,
- (b) in the case of any Indian ship, may at any time, and if the master or three or more of the crew so request, shall, enter on board the ship and inspect—
  - (i) the provisions and water,
  - (ii) the weights and measures,
  - (iii) the accommodation for seamen, with which the ship is required to be provided by or under this Act and also the space and equipment used for the storage and handling of food and water and the galley and other equipment used for the preparation and service of meals.

177. Inspection by master of provisions, water and accommodation at sea.

The master of an Indian ship which is at sea shall, at least once in every ten days, cause an inspection to be made of the provisions and water provided for the use of the seamen and apprentices and the crew accommodation, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the same are being maintained in accordance with the requirements of this Act, and the person making the inspection shall enter a statement of the result of the inspection in a book specially kept for the purpose.

Special provisions for the protection of seamen in respect of litigation.

178. Meaning of serving seaman.

A seaman shall, for the purposes of these provisions, be deemed to be a serving seaman during any period commencing on the date of the agreement with the crew and ending thirty days after the date on which the seaman is finally discharged from such agreement.

179. Particulars to be furnished in plaints, etc.

(1) If any person presenting any plaint, application or appeal to any Court has reason to believe that any adverse party is a serving seaman, he shall make a statement accordingly in the plaint, application or appeal.

(2) If any collector has reason to believe that any seaman who ordinarily resides or has property in his district and who is a party to any proceeding pending before any Court is unable to appear therein or is a serving seaman, the collector may certify the facts to the Court.

180. Notice to be given in case of unrepresented seaman.

(1) If a collector has certified under sub-s. (2) of section 179, or if a Court has reason to believe that a seaman who is a party to any proceeding before the Court, is unable to appear therein or is a serving seaman, the Court shall suspend the proceeding and shall give notice thereof to the shipping master :

Provided that the Court may refrain from suspending the proceeding and giving the notice—

- (a) if the proceeding is one instituted or made by the seaman, alone or conjointly with others, with the object of enforcing a right of pre-emption, or
- (b) if the interests of the seaman in the proceeding are, in the opinion of the Court, either identical with those of any other party thereto and adequately represented by such other party, or merely of a formal nature.

(2) If it appears to the Court before which any proceeding is pending that a seaman though not a party to the proceeding is materially concerned in the outcome of the proceeding and that his interests are likely to be prejudiced by his inability to attend, the Court may suspend the proceeding and shall give notice thereof to the shipping master.

(3) If on receipt of a notice under sub-s. (1) or sub-s. (2), the shipping master certifies to the Court, that the seaman is a serving seaman, the Court shall thereupon postpone the proceeding in respect of the seaman for such period as it thinks fit :

Provided that if by reason of the continued absence of the seaman the question of any further postponement of the proceeding in respect of the seaman arises, the Court shall in deciding the question have regard to the purposes of the provisions of this Act conferring special protection on seaman in respect of litigation.

(4) If the shipping master either certifies that the seaman is not for the time being a serving seaman or fails within two months from the date of the receipt of the notice under sub-s. (1) or sub-s. (2), as the case may be, to certify that the seaman is a serving seaman, the Court may, if it thinks fit, continue the proceeding.

181. Power to set aside decrees and orders passed against serving seaman.

(1) Where in any proceeding before a Court, a decree or order has been passed against any seaman while he was a serving seaman, the seaman, or if he dies while he is serving seaman, his legal representative, may apply to the said Court to have the decree or order set aside, and if the Court after giving an opportunity to the opposite party of being heard, is satisfied that the interests of justice require that the decree or order should be set aside as against the seaman, the Court shall subject to such conditions, if any, as it thinks fit to impose, make an order accordingly, and may, if it appears that any opposite party in the proceeding has failed to comply with the provisions of sub-s. (1) of section 179, award, subject to such conditions as it thinks fit to impose, damages against such opposite party.

(2) The period of limitation for an application under sub-s. (1) shall be sixty days from the date on which the seaman first ceases to be a serving seaman after the passing of the decree or order, or where the summons or notice was not duly served on the seaman in the proceeding in which the decree or order was passed, from the date on which the applicant had knowledge of the decree or order whichever is later; and the provisions of section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, shall apply to such applications.

(3) Where the decree or order in respect of which an application under sub-section (1) is made is of such a nature that it cannot be set aside as against the seaman only, it may be set aside as against all or any of the parties against whom it was made.

(4) Where a Court sets aside a decree or order under this section, it shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit, appeal or application, as the case may be, in respect of which the decree or order was passed.

182. Modification of law of limitation where seaman is a party.

In computing the period of limitation provided in the foregoing provisions or in the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, or in any other law for the time being in force, for any suit, appeal or application to a Court to which a seaman is a party, the period or periods during which the seaman has been a serving seaman, and if the seaman has died while he was a serving seaman, the period from the date of his death to the date on which his next-of-kin was first informed, by the shipping master or otherwise, of his death, shall be excluded:

Provided that this section shall not apply in the case of any suit, appeal or application instituted or made with the object of enforcing a right of pre-emption except in such areas and in such circumstances as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify in this behalf.

183. Reference in matters of doubt to shipping masters.

If any Court is in doubt whether, for the purposes of section 180 or section 181, a seaman is or was at any particular time or during any particular period a serving seaman, it may refer the question to the shipping master, and the certificate of the shipping master shall be conclusive evidence on the question.

Provisions for the protection of seamen in respect of other matters

184. Facilities for making complaints.

If a seaman or apprentice states to the master that he desires to make a complaint to a Magistrate or other proper officer against the master or any of the crew, the master shall,—

(a) if the ship is then at a place where there is a Magistrate or other proper officer, as soon after such statement as the service of the ship will permit, and

- (b) if the ship is not then at such place, as soon after her first arrival at such place as the service of the ship will permit, allow the complainant to go ashore or send him ashore under proper protection so that he may be enabled to make the complaint.

185. Assignment or sale of salvage invalid.

Subject to the provisions of this Act, an assignment of salvage payable to a seaman or apprentice made prior to the accruing thereof shall not bind the person making the same, and a power-of-attorney or authority for the receipt of any such salvage shall not be irrevocable.

186. No debt recoverable till end of voyage.

A debt incurred by any seaman after he has engaged to serve shall not be recoverable until the service agreed for is concluded.

187. Seamen's property not to be detained.

(1) Any person who receives or takes into his possession or under his control any money or other property of a seaman or apprentice shall return the same or pay the value thereof when required by the seaman or apprentice subject to deduction of such amounts as may be justly due to him from the seaman or apprentice in respect of board or lodging or otherwise.

(2) Where a Magistrate imposes a fine for a contravention of this section, he may direct the amount of such money or the value of the property subject to such deduction as aforesaid, if any, or the property itself to be forthwith paid or delivered to the seaman or apprentice.

188. Prohibition against solicitation by lodging house keepers.

No person shall, while a ship is at any port or place in India—

- (a) solicit a seaman or apprentice to become a lodger at the house of any person letting lodgings for hire; or
(b) take out of the ship any property of the seaman or apprentice except under the direction of the seaman or apprentice and with the permission of the master.

189. Ship not to be boarded without permission before seamen leave.

Where a ship has arrived at a port or place in India at the end of a voyage and any person, not being in the service of the Government or not being duly authorised by law for the purpose, goes on board the ship without the permission of the master before the seamen lawfully leave the ship at the end of their engagement or are discharged (whichever happens last), the master of the ship may take such person into custody and deliver him up forthwith to a police officer to be taken before a Magistrate to be dealt with according to the provisions of this Act.

Provisions as to discipline

190. Misconduct endangering life or ship.

No master, seaman or apprentice belonging to an Indian ship, wherever it may be, or to any other ship, while in India, shall knowingly—

- (a) do anything tending to the immediate loss or destruction of, or serious damage to, the ship, or tending immediately to endanger the life of, or to cause injury to any person belonging to or on board the ship; or
(b) refuse or omit to do any lawful act proper and requisite to be done by him for preserving the ship from immediate loss, destruction or serious damage, or for preserving any person belonging to or on board the ship from danger to life or from injury.

191. Desertion and absence without leave.

(1) No seaman lawfully engaged and no apprentice—

(a) shall desert his ship; or

(b) shall neglect or refuse, without reasonable cause, to join the ship or to proceed to sea in his ship or be absent without leave at any time within twenty-four hours of the ship's sailing from a port either at the commencement or during the progress of a voyage, or be absent at any time without leave and without sufficient reason from his ship or from his duty.

(2) For the purposes of sub-section (1), the fact that the ship on which the seaman or apprentice is engaged or to which he belongs is unseaworthy shall be deemed to be a reasonable cause :

Provided that the seaman or apprentice has, before failing or refusing to join his ship or to proceed to sea in his ship or before absenting himself or being absent from the ship, as the case may be, complained to the master or a shipping master, surveyor, seamen's welfare officer, port health officer, Indian consular officer or any other officer at any port duly authorised in this behalf by the Central Government, that the ship is unseaworthy.

192. Power to suspend deserter's certificate of discharge.

If it is shown to the satisfaction of a proper officer that a seaman has deserted his ship or has absented himself without leave and without sufficient reason from his ship or from his duty, the proper officer shall forthwith make a report to that effect to the Director-General who may thereupon direct that the seaman's certificate of discharge or continuous certificate of discharge shall be withheld for such period as may be specified in the direction.

193. Conveyance of deserter or imprisoned seaman on board ship.

(1) If a seaman or apprentice deserts his ship or is absent without leave and without sufficient reason from his ship or from his duty, the master, any mate, the owner or agent of the owner of ship may, without prejudice to any other action that may be taken against the seaman or apprentice under this Act, convey him on board his ship and may for that purpose cause to be used such force as may be reasonable in the circumstances of the case.

(2) If, either at the commencement or during the progress of any voyage, a seaman or apprentice engaged in an Indian ship commits outside India, the offence of desertion or absence without leave or any offence against discipline, the master, any mate, the owner or agent of the owner may, if and so far as the laws in force in the place will permit, arrest him without first procuring a warrant.

(3) No person shall convey on board or arrest a seaman or apprentice on improper or insufficient grounds.

(4) Where a seaman or apprentice is brought before a Court on the ground of desertion or of absence without leave or of any offence against discipline, and the master or the owner, or his agent, so requires, the Court, may, in lieu of committing and sentencing him for the offence, cause him to be conveyed on board his ship for the purpose of proceeding on the voyage, or deliver him to the master or any mate of the ship or the owner of his agent, to be by them so conveyed, and may in such case order any costs and expenses properly incurred by or on behalf of the master or owner by reason of the conveyance

[1] Certain seamen entering into agreement to sail on British ship for period of twelve months on voyage from Calcutta to any other ports or places within limits of 60 degrees North and 30 degrees South Latitude trading to and fro as nature of service might require and finally to be discharged at Calcutta—Outbreak of hostilities during 12 months—Refusal by seamen to proceed to sea held not without cause and they could not be convicted under old S. 100 cl. (ii). 1940 Rang 252 (256) (A I R V 27) : 1940 Rang L R 468 : 42 Cri L Jour 194.

to be paid by the offender and, if necessary, to be deducted from any wages which he has then earned or by virtue of his then existing engagements may afterwards be earned.

194. General offences against discipline.

A seaman lawfully engaged or an apprentice shall be guilty of an offence against discipline if he commits any of the following acts, namely :—

- (a) if he quits the ship without leave after her arrival at her port of delivery and before she is placed in security ;
- (b) if he is guilty of wilful disobedience to any lawful command or neglect of duty ;
- (c) if he is guilty of continued wilful disobedience to lawful commands or continued wilful neglect of duty ;
- (d) if he assaults the master or any other officer of the ship ;
- (e) if he combines with any of the crew to disobey lawful commands or to neglect duty or to impede the navigation of the ship or retard the progress of the voyage ;
- (f) if he wilfully damages his ship or commits criminal misappropriation or breach of trust in respect of, or wilfully damages any of, her stores or cargo.

195. Smuggling of goods by seamen or apprentices.

(1) If a seaman lawfully engaged or an apprentice is convicted of an offence of smuggling any goods whereby loss or damage is occasioned to the master or owner of the ship, he shall be liable to pay to that master or owner a sum sufficient to re-imburse the loss or damage and the whole or a part of his wages may be retained in satisfaction on account of that liability without prejudice to any other remedy.

(2) If a seaman lawfully engaged is convicted of an offence of smuggling opium, hemp or any other narcotic drug or narcotic, the Director-General may direct that the seaman's certificate of discharge or continuous certificate of discharge shall be cancelled or shall be suspended for such period as may be specified in the direction.

196. Entry of offences in official logs.

If any offence within the meaning of this Act of desertion or absence without leave or against discipline is committed, or if any act of misconduct is committed for which the offender's agreement imposes a fine and it is intended to enforce the fine,—

- (a) an entry of the offence or act shall be made in the official log book and signed by the master, the mate and one of the crew ; and
- (b) the offender, if still in the ship, shall, before the next subsequent arrival of the ship at any port, or, if she is at the time in port, before her departure therefrom, be furnished with a copy of the entry and have the same read over distinctly and audibly to him and may thereupon make such reply thereto as he thinks fit ; and
- (c) a statement of a copy of the entry having been so furnished and the entry having been so read over and the reply, if any, made by the offender shall likewise be entered and signed in manner aforesaid ; and

Section 194 — Note 1

[1] Essence of old S. 103 (iv) is assault — Conviction under Calcutta Police Act, S. 68— Trial under Merchant Shipping Act, S. 103 (iv) on same facts is barred. 1927 Cal 224 (225) [AIR V 14] : 28 Cri L Jour 233 (DB).

[2] Section 103 of the Merchant Shipping

Act (which corresponds with S. 194 of the present Act), does not, by virtue of S. 5 (2) (c), apply to a ship which is neither a British ship nor registered in British India. 1949 Cal 319 (319) [AIR V 36 C 103] : I L R (1949) 2 Cal 283 : 50 Cri L Jour 567 (DB).

(d) in any subsequent legal proceedings the entries by this section required shall, if practicable, be produced or proved, and, in default of such production or proof, the Court hearing the case may in its discretion, refuse to receive evidence of the offence or act of misconduct.

197. Report of desertions and absences without leave.

Whenever any seaman engaged outside India on an Indian ship deserts or otherwise absents himself in India without leave, the master of the ship shall, within forty-eight hours of discovering such desertion or absence, report the same to the shipping master or to such other officer as the Central Government specifies in this behalf, unless in the meantime, the deserter or absentee returns.

198. Entries and certificates of desertion abroad.

(1) In every case of desertion from an Indian ship whilst such ship is at any place out of India, the master shall produce the entry of desertion in the official log book to the Indian consular officer at the place, and that officer shall thereupon, make and certify a copy of the entry.

(2) The master shall forthwith transmit such copy to the shipping master at the port at which the seaman or apprentice was shipped, and the shipping master shall, if required, cause the same to be produced in any legal proceeding.

(3) Such copy, if purporting to be so made and certified as aforesaid, shall, in any legal proceeding relating to such desertion, be admissible in evidence.

199. Facilities for proving desertion in proceedings for forfeiture of wages.

(1) Whenever a question arises whether the wages of any seaman or apprentice are forfeited for desertion from a ship, it shall be sufficient for the person insisting on the forfeiture to show that the seaman or apprentice was duly engaged in or belonged to the ship, and either that he left the ship before the completion of the voyage or engagement or, if the voyage was to terminate in India and the ship has not returned, that he is absent from her and that an entry of his desertion has been duly made in the official log book.

(2) The desertion shall thereupon, so far as relates to any forfeiture of wages under this Part, be deemed to be proved, unless the seaman or apprentice can produce a proper certificate of discharge or can otherwise show to the satisfaction of the court that he had sufficient reasons for leaving his ship.

200. Application of forfeitures.

(1) Where any wages or other property are under this Act forfeited for desertion from a ship, they shall be applied towards reimbursing the expenses caused by the desertion to the master or the owner of the ship, and subject to that reimbursement, shall be paid to the Central Government.

(2) For the purposes of such reimbursement the master or the owner or his agent may, if the wages are earned subsequent to the desertion, recover them in the same manner as the deserter could have recovered them if not forfeited; and the court in any legal proceeding relating to such wages may order them to be paid accordingly.

201. Decision of questions of forfeiture and deduction in suits for wages.

Any question concerning the forfeiture of or deductions from the wages of a seaman or apprentice may be determined in any proceeding lawfully instituted with respect to those wages, notwithstanding that the offence in respect of which the question arises, though by this Act made punishable by imprisonment as well as forfeiture, has not been made the subject of any criminal proceeding.

202. Payment of fines imposed under agreement to shipping master.

(1) Every fine imposed on a seaman for any act of misconduct under his agreement shall be deducted and paid over as follows, namely:—

(a) if the offender is discharged at any port or place in India and the offence and such entries in respect thereof as aforesaid are proved to the satisfaction of the shipping master before whom the offender is discharged, the master or owner shall deduct such fine from the wages of the offender and pay the same over to such shipping master; and

(b) if the seaman is discharged at any port or place outside India and the offence and such entries as aforesaid are proved to the satisfaction of the Indian consular officer, by whose sanction he is so discharged, the fine shall thereupon be deducted as aforesaid, and an entry of such deduction shall then be made in the official log book, if any, and signed by such officer and on the return of the ship to India, the master or owner shall pay over such fine to the shipping master before whom the crew is discharged.

(2) An act of misconduct for which any such fine has been inflicted and paid shall not be otherwise punishable under the provisions of this Act.

(3) The proceeds of all fines received by a shipping master under this section shall be utilised for the welfare of seamen in such manner as the Central Government may direct.

203. Seaman or apprentice not to be enticed to desert.

No person shall by any means whatever persuade or attempt to persuade a seaman or apprentice to neglect or refuse to join or proceed to sea in or desert from his ship, or otherwise to absent himself from his duty.

204. Deserters not to be harboured.

No person shall harbour or secrete a seaman or apprentice who has wilfully neglected or refused to join or has deserted from his ship, knowing or having reason to believe the seaman or apprentice to have so done.

205. Stowaways and seamen carried under compulsion.

(1) No person shall secrete himself and go to sea in a ship without the consent of either the owner, agent or master or of a mate, or of the person in charge of the ship or of any other person entitled to give that consent.

(2) Every seafaring person whom the master of a ship is under the authority of this Act or any other law compelled to take on board and convey and every person who goes to sea in a ship without such consent as aforesaid, shall so long as he remains in the ship, be subject to the same laws and regulations for preserving discipline and to the same fines and punishments for offences constituting or tending to a breach of discipline as if he were a member of, and has signed the agreement with, the crew.

(3) The master of any Indian ship arriving at any port or place in or outside India and the master of any ship other than an Indian ship arriving at any port or place in India shall, if any person has gone to sea on that ship without the consent referred to in sub-section (1), report the fact in writing to the proper officer as soon as may be after the arrival of the ship.

206. Procedure where seaman not shipped in India is imprisoned on complaint of master or owner.

If any seaman engaged outside India is imprisoned on complaint made by or on behalf of the master or owner of the ship or for any offence for which he has been sentenced to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month, then —

(a) while such imprisonment lasts no person shall without the previous sanction in writing of the Central Government or of such officer as it may specify in this behalf, engage in India any person to serve as a substitute for such seaman on board the ship; and

(b) the Central Government or such officer as it may specify in this behalf may tender such seaman to the master or owner of the ship in which he is engaged to serve, and if such master or owner, without assigning reasons satisfactory to the Central Government or to such officer as aforesaid, refuses to receive him on board may require such master or owner to deposit in the local shipping office—

(i) the wages due to such seaman and his money and other property; and

(ii) such sum as may, in the opinion of the Central Government or such officer as aforesaid, be sufficient to defray the cost of the passage of such seaman to the port at which he was shipped according to the scale of costs usual in the case of distressed seamen.

207. Power to send on board seaman not shipped in India who is undergoing imprisonment.

If any seaman engaged outside India is imprisoned for any offence for which he has been sentenced to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, and if during such imprisonment and before his engagement is at an end his services are required on board his ship, any magistrate may, at the request of the master or owner or his agent, cause the seaman to be conveyed on board the ship for the purpose of proceeding on the voyage or to be delivered to the master or any mate of the ship or to the owner or his agent to be by them so conveyed, notwithstanding that the period for which he was sentenced to imprisonment has not terminated.

208. On change of master, documents to be handed over to successor.

(1) If during the progress of a voyage the master of any Indian ship is removed or superseded or for any other reason quits the ship and is succeeded in the command by some other person, he shall deliver to his successor the various documents relating to the navigation of the ship and the crew thereof which are in his custody.

(2) Such successor shall immediately on assuming the command of the ship enter in the official log book a list of the documents so delivered to him.

209. Transmission of documents on transfer of seaman from one ship to another.

Where a seaman is transferred under his agreement from one ship to another, the master of the ship from which the seaman is transferred shall as soon as practicable, transmit to the master of the other ship all documents in his possession relating to the seaman.

210. Leaving behind in India of seaman or apprentice engaged abroad.

(1) The master of a ship shall not discharge at any place in India a seaman or apprentice engaged outside India unless he previously obtains the sanction in writing of such officer as the Central Government appoints in this behalf; but such sanction shall not be refused when the seaman or apprentice is discharged on the termination of his service.

(2) Subject to the provisions contained in sub-section (1), the sanction under that sub-section shall be given or withheld at the discretion of the officer so appointed, but whenever it is withheld, the reasons for so withholding it shall be recorded by him.

211. Deserters from foreign ships.

(1) Where it appears to the Central Government that due facilities are or will be given by the Government of any country outside India for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from Indian ships in that country, the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, stating that such facilities are or will be given, declare that this section shall apply to seamen belonging to ships of such country, subject to such limitations or conditions as may be specified in the notification.

(2) Where this section applies to seamen belonging to ships of any country and a seaman deserts from any such ship, when within India, any court that would have had cognizance of the matter if the seaman or apprentice had deserted from an Indian ship shall, on the application of a consular officer of that country, aid in apprehending the deserter and for that purpose may, on information given on oath, issue a warrant for his apprehension and on proof of the desertion order him to be conveyed on board his ship or delivered to the master or mate of his ship or to the owner of the ship or his agent to be so conveyed and any such warrant or order may be executed accordingly.

Official logs

212. Official logs to be kept and to be dated.

(1) An official log shall be kept in the prescribed form in every Indian ship except a home-trade ship of less than two hundred tons gross.

(2) The official log may, at the discretion of the master or owner, be kept distinct from or united with the ordinary ship's log so that in all cases the spaces in the official log book be duly filled up.

213. Entries in official log books how and when to be made.

(1) An entry required by this Act in the official log book shall be made as soon as possible after the occurrence to which it relates, and, if not made on the same day as that occurrence, shall be made and dated so as to show the date of the occurrence and of the entry respecting it and if made in respect of an occurrence happening before the arrival of the ship at her final port of discharge, shall not be made more than twenty-four hours after that arrival.

(2) Save as otherwise provided in this Act, every entry in the official log book shall be signed by the master and by the mate or some other member of the crew and also—

- (a) if it is an entry of injury or death, shall be signed by the medical officer on board, if any; and
- (b) if it is an entry of wages due to or the property of a seaman or apprentice who dies, shall be signed by the mate and by some member of the crew besides the master.

(3) Every entry made in an official log book in the manner provided by this Act shall be admissible in evidence.

214. Entries required to be made in official log books.

(1) The master of a ship for which an official log is required shall enter or cause to be entered in the official log book the following matters namely:—

- (a) every conviction by a legal tribunal of a member of his crew and the punishment inflicted;
- (b) every offence committed by a member of his crew for which it is intended to prosecute or to enforce a forfeiture or exact a fine, together with such statement concerning the reading over of that entry and concerning the reply (if any) made to the charge as is by this Act required;
- (c) every offence for which punishment is inflicted on board and the punishment inflicted;
- (d) a report on the quality of work of each member of his crew, or a statement that the master declines to give an opinion thereon with a statement of his reasons for so declining;

- (e) every case of illness, hurt or injury happening to a member of the crew with the nature thereof and the medical treatment adopted (if any);
- (f) every case of death happening on board and the cause thereof, together with such particulars as may be prescribed;
- (g) every birth happening on board, with the sex of the infant, the names of parents and such other particulars as may be prescribed;
- (h) every marriage taking place on board with the names and ages of the parties;
- (i) the name of every seaman or apprentice who ceases to be a member of the crew otherwise than by death, with the place, time, manner and cause thereof;
- (j) the wages due to any seaman or apprentice who dies during the voyage and the gross amount of all deductions to be made therefrom;
- (k) the money or other property taken over of any seaman or apprentice who dies during the voyage;
- (l) any other matter which is to be or may be prescribed for entry in the official log.

(2) The master of every such ship, upon its arrival at any port in India or at such other time and place as the Central Government may with respect to any ship or class of ships direct, shall deliver or transmit, in such form as the Director-General may specify, a return of the facts recorded by him in respect of the birth of a child, or the death of a person on board the ship to the Director-General.

(3) (a) The Director-General shall send a certified copy of such of the returns received by him under sub-section (2) as relate to citizens of India, to such officer as may be specified in this behalf by the Central Government; and such officer shall cause the same to be preserved in such manner as may be specified in this behalf by the Central Government.

(b) Every such copy shall be deemed to be a certified copy of the entry with respect to the person concerned, registered under any law in force for the time being relating to the registration of births and deaths.

215. Offences in respect of official logs.

(1) An official log book shall be kept in the manner required by this Act, and an entry directed by this Act to be made therein shall be made at the time and in the manner directed by this Act.

(2) No person shall make or procure to be made or assist in making any entry in any official log book in respect of any occurrence happening previously to the arrival of the ship at her final port of discharge more than twenty-four hours after such arrival.

216. Delivery of official logs to shipping masters.

The master of every ship for which an official log book is required to be kept under this Act shall, within forty-eight hours after the ship's arrival at her final port of destination in India or upon the discharge of the crew, whichever first happens, deliver the official log book of the voyage to the shipping master before whom the crew is discharged.

217. Official logs to be sent to shipping master in case of transfer of ship or loss.

(1) If for any reason the official log ceases to be required in respect of an Indian ship, the master or owner of the ship shall, if the ship is then in India within one month, and if she is elsewhere within six months, after the cessation, deliver or transmit to the shipping master at the port to which the ship belonged the official log book duly completed up to the time of cessation.

(2) If a ship is lost or abandoned, the master or owner thereof shall, if practicable and as soon as possible, deliver or transmit to the shipping master at her port of registry the official log book, duly completed up to the time of the loss or abandonment.

National Welfare Board for Seafarers

218. Functions of National Welfare Board for Seafarers.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, constitute an advisory board to be called the National Welfare Board for Seafarers (hereinafter referred to as the Board) for the purpose of advising the Central Government on the measures to be taken for promoting the welfare of seamen (whether ashore or on board ship) generally and in particular the following:—

- (a) the establishment of hostels or boarding and lodging houses for seamen;
- (b) the establishment of clubs, canteens, libraries and other like amenities for the benefit of seamen;
- (c) the establishment of hospitals for seamen or the provision of medical treatment for seamen;
- (d) the provision of educational and other facilities for seamen.

(2) The Central Government may make rules providing for—

- (a) the composition of the Board and the term of office of members thereof;
- (b) the procedure to be followed in the conduct of business by the Board;
- (c) the travelling and other allowances payable to members of the Board;
- (d) the levy of fees payable by owners of ships at such rates as may be prescribed (which may be at different rates for different classes of ships) for the purpose of providing amenities to seamen and for taking other measures for the welfare of seamen;
- (e) the procedure by which any such fees may be collected or recovered and the manner in which the proceeds of such fees, after deduction of the cost of collection, shall be utilised for the purpose specified in clause (d).

PART VIII

PASSENGER SHIPS

Survey of passenger ships

219. Application of Part.

This Part applies only to sea-going passenger ships fitted with mechanical means of propulsion, but the provisions of this Part relating to unberthed passenger ships shall not apply—

- (a) to any such ship not carrying more than thirty unberthed passengers; or
- (b) to any such ship not intended to carry unberthed passengers to or from any port or place in India.

220. No ship to carry passengers without a certificate of survey.

(1) No ship shall carry more than twelve passengers between ports or places in India or to or from any port or place in India from or to any port or place outside India, unless she has a certificate of survey under this Part in force and applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed:

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any ship which has been granted a certificate under section 235, unless it appears from the certificate that it is inapplicable to the voyage on which the ship is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed, or unless there is reason to believe that the ship has, since the grant of the certificate, sustained injury or damage or been found unseaworthy or otherwise inefficient.

(2) No customs collector shall grant a port clearance, nor shall any pilot be assigned, to any ship for which a certificate of survey is required by this Part until after the production by the owner, agent or master thereof of a certificate under this Part in force and applicable to the voyage on which she is about to proceed or the service on which she is about to be employed.

(3) If any ship for which a certificate of survey is required by this Part, leaves or attempts to leave any port of survey without a certificate, any customs collector or any pilot on board the ship may detain her until she obtains a certificate.

221. Power of surveyor.

(1) The owner or agent of every passenger ship for which a certificate of survey is required under this Part shall cause it to be surveyed in the prescribed manner.

(2) For the purposes of a survey under this Part, a surveyor may, at any reasonable time, go on board a ship, and may inspect the ship and any part thereof, and the machinery, equipment or articles on board thereof :

Provided that he does not unnecessarily hinder the loading or unloading of the ship, or unnecessarily detain or delay her from proceeding on any voyage.

(3) The owner, agent, master and every officer of the ship shall afford to the surveyor all reasonable facilities for a survey, and all such information respecting the ship and her machinery and equipment, or any part thereof, respectively, as the surveyor reasonably requires.

222. Fees in respect of survey.

Before a survey under this Part is commenced, the owner, agent or master of the ship to be surveyed shall pay to such officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf—

(a) a fee calculated on the tonnage of the ship according to the prescribed rates;

(1) when the survey is to be made in any port of survey other than Bombay, Calcutta or Madras, such additional fee, in respect of the expense (if any) of the journey of the surveyor to the port as the Central Government may by order direct.

223. Declaration of survey.

When a survey under this Part is completed, the surveyor making it shall forthwith, if satisfied that he can with propriety do so, deliver to the owner, agent or master of the ship surveyed a declaration of survey in the prescribed form containing the following particulars, namely:

(a) that the hull and machinery of the ship are sufficient for the service intended and in good condition;

(b) that the equipment of the ship is in such condition and that the certificates of the master, mates, engineers or engine-drivers and of the radio telegraphy operators, are such, as are required by this Act or any other law for the time being in force and applicable to the ship;

(c) the time (if less than one year) for which the hull, machinery and equipment of the ship will be sufficient;

(d) the voyages or class of voyages on which, as regards construction, machinery and equipment, the ship is in the surveyor's opinion fit to ply;

(e) the number of passengers which the ship is, in the opinion of the surveyor, fit to carry, distinguishing, if necessary, between the respective numbers to be carried on the deck and in the cabins and in different parts of the deck and cabins; the number to be subject to such conditions and variations, according to the time of year, the nature of the voyage, the cargo carried or other circumstances as the case requires; and

(f) any other prescribed particulars.

224. Sending of declaration by owner, agent or master to Central Government.

(1) The owner, agent or master to whom a declaration of survey is given shall, within fourteen days after the date of the receipt thereof, send the declaration to such officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf.

(2) If the owner, agent or master fails to do so, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding five rupees for every day during which the sending of the declaration is delayed and shall pay any sum so forfeited on the delivery of the certificate of survey.

225. Grant of certificate of survey by Central Government.

(1) Upon receipt of a declaration of survey, the Central Government shall, if satisfied that the provisions of this Part have been complied with, cause a certificate, in duplicate, to be prepared and delivered, through such officer at the port at which the ship was surveyed as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf, to the owner, agent or master of the ship surveyed, on his applying and paying the sums (if any) mentioned in section 224 as payable on the delivery of a certificate.

(2) A Certificate granted under this section shall be in the prescribed form; shall contain a statement to the effect that the provisions of this Part with respect to the survey of the ship and the transmission of the declaration of survey in respect thereof have been complied with; and shall also set forth—

(a) the particulars concerning the ship which clauses (c), (d) and (e) of section 223 require the declaration of survey to contain; and

(b) any other prescribed particulars.

226. Power of Central Government to order a second survey.

(1) If a surveyor making a survey under this Part refuses to give a declaration of survey under section 223 with regard to any ship or gives a declaration with which the owner or agent or master of the ship surveyed is dissatisfied, the Central Government may, on the application of the owner, agent or master, and the payment by him of such fee, not exceeding twice the amount of the fee for the previous survey, as the Central Government may require, direct any other surveyor to survey the ship.

(2) The surveyor so directed shall forthwith survey the ship, and may, after the survey, either refuse to give a declaration or give such declaration as under the circumstances seems to him proper, and his decision shall, save as otherwise provided in this Act, be final.

227. Duration of certificates of survey.

(1) A certificate of survey granted under this Part shall not be in force—

(a) after the expiration of one year from the date of issue; or

(b) after the expiration of the period, if less than one year, for which the hull, boilers, engines or any of the equipment have been stated in the certificate to be sufficient; or

(c) after notice has been given by the Central Government to the owner, agent or master of the ship to which the certificate relates that the Central Government has cancelled or suspended it.

(2) If a passenger ship is absent from India at the time when her certificate expires, the provisions of this Part relating to certificate of survey shall not be deemed to be contravened unless she first begins to ply with passengers after her next return to India.

228. Cancellation or suspension of certificate of survey by Central Government.

(1) Any certificate of survey granted under this Part may be cancelled or suspended by the Central Government if it has reason to believe—

- (a) that the declaration by the surveyor of the sufficiency of the hull, boilers, engines or any of the equipment of the ship has been fraudulently or erroneously made; or
- (b) that the certificate has otherwise been issued upon false or erroneous information.

(2) Before any certificate of survey is cancelled or suspended under sub-section (1), the holder of the certificate shall be given a reasonable opportunity of showing cause why the certificate should not be cancelled or suspended, as the case may be :

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply where the Central Government is satisfied that for some reason to be recorded in writing it is not reasonably practicable to give to the holder of the certificate an opportunity of showing cause.

229. Alterations in ships subsequent to grant of certificate of survey, and additional surveys.

(1) The owner, agent or master of a ship in respect of which a certificate of survey granted under this Part is in force, shall, as soon as possible after any alteration is made in the ship's hull, equipment or machinery which affects the efficiency thereof or the seaworthiness of the ship, give written notice to such person as the Central Government may direct containing full particulars of the alteration.

(2) If the Central Government has reason to believe that since the making of the last declaration of survey in respect of a ship—

- (a) any such alteration as aforesaid has been made in the hull, equipment or machinery of the ship; or
- (b) the hull, equipment or machinery of the ship have sustained any injury or are otherwise insufficient ;

the Central Government may require the ship to be again surveyed to such extent as it may think fit, and, if such requirement is not complied with, may cancel any certificate of survey issued under this Part in respect of the said ship.

230. Power to require delivery of expired or cancelled certificate of survey.

Every certificate of survey granted under this Part which has expired, or has been cancelled or suspended, shall be delivered to such person as the Central Government may direct.

231. Certificate of survey to be affixed in conspicuous part of ship.

The owner or master of every ship for which a certificate of survey has been granted under this Part shall forthwith, on the receipt of the certificate cause one of the duplicates thereof to be affixed, and kept affixed so long as the certificate remains in force and the ship is in use on some conspicuous part of the ship where it may be easily read by all persons on board thereof.

232. Ship not to carry passengers in contravention of Act.

(1) No ship on any voyage shall carry or attempt to carry passengers in contravention of section 220 or shall have on board or in any part thereof a number of passengers which is greater than the number set forth in the certificate of survey as the number of passengers which the ship or the part thereof is fit to carry on that voyage.

(2) If the master or any other officer of any ship which carries or attempts to carry passengers in contravention of section 220 is a licensed pilot, he shall be liable to have his licence as a pilot cancelled or suspended for such period as the Central Government may, by order, specify.

Keeping order in passenger ships.

233. Offences in connection with passenger ships.

(1) If, in the case of a ship for which a certificate of survey has been granted under this Part,—

- (a) any person being drunk or disorderly has been on that account refused admission thereto by the owner or any person in his employ and, after having the amount of his fare (if he has paid it) returned or tendered to him, nevertheless persists in attempting to enter the ship ;
- (b) any person being drunk or disorderly on board the ship is requested by the owner or any person in his employ to leave the ship at any place in India at which he can conveniently do so, and after having the amount of his fare (if he has paid it) returned or tendered to him, does not comply with the request;
- (c) any person on board the ship after warning by the master or other officer thereof, molests or continues to molest any passenger ;
- (d) any person having gone on board the ship at any place and being requested, on account of the ship being full, by the owner or any person in his employ to leave the ship, before it has departed from that place, and having had the amount of his fare (if he has paid it) returned or tendered to him, does not comply with that request ;
- (e) any person travels or attempts to travel in the ship without first paying his fare and with intent to avoid payment thereof ;
- (f) any person on arriving in the ship at the place for which he has paid his fare knowingly and wilfully refuses or neglects to quit the ship ;
- (g) any person on board the ship fails when requested by the master or other officer thereof either to pay his fare or to exhibit such ticket or other receipt, if any, showing the payment of his fare as is usually given to persons travelling by and paying fare for the ship ;

he shall be guilty of an offence under this sub-section.

(2) No person on board any such ship shall wilfully do or cause to be done anything in such a manner as to obstruct or injure any part of the machinery or tackle of the ship or to obstruct, impede or molest the crew or any of them in the navigation or management of the ship or otherwise in the execution of their duty on or about the ship.

(3) The master or other officer of any such ship and all persons called by him to his assistance may, without warrant, detain any person who commits any offence under this section and whose name and address are unknown to the master or officer and convey the offender with all convenient despatch before the nearest Magistrate to be dealt with according to law.

234. Power to exclude drunken passengers from passenger ships.

The master of any passenger ship may refuse to receive on board thereof any person who by reason of drunkenness or otherwise is in such a state or misconducts himself in such a manner as to cause annoyance or injury to passengers on board, and if any such person is on board, may put him on shore at any convenient place; and a person so refused admittance or put on shore shall not be entitled to the return of any fare he has paid.

235. Ships with certificates of survey or certificates of partial survey granted outside India.

(1) When a ship requires to be furnished with a certificate of survey under this Part and the Central Government is satisfied—

- (a) by the production of a certificate of survey that the ship has been officially surveyed at a port in a country outside India;
- (b) that the requirements of this Act are proved by that survey to have been substantially complied with; and
- (c) that certificates of survey granted under this Part are accepted in such country in lieu of the corresponding certificates required under the laws in force in that country;

the Central Government may, if it thinks fit, dispense with any further survey of the ship in respect of the requirements so complied with, and give a certificate which shall have the same effect as a certificate given after survey under this Part.

(2) When the Central Government has, by notification in the Official Gazette, declared that it is satisfied that an official survey at a port in a country outside India specified in the declaration is such as to prove that the requirements of this Act have been substantially complied with, any person authorised by the Central Government in this behalf may exercise the power to dispense with a survey and to give a certificate conferred on the Central Government by sub-section (1) in the case of any ship furnished with a valid certificate of survey granted at such port.

(3) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall be applicable in the case of ships furnished with valid certificates of partial survey including docking certificates, as if they were ships furnished with like certificates granted at ports in countries outside India subject to the modification that the powers of the Central Government under the said sub-section may be exercised by any person authorised by the Central Government in this behalf.

236. Power to make rules as to surveys.

(1) The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules to regulate the making of surveys under this Part and the provisions to be made for the safety of life at sea.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:

- (a) the times and places at which, and the manner in which, surveys are to be made;
- (b) the requirements as to construction, machinery, equipment and marking of sub-division load lines, which are to be fulfilled by ships generally or by any class of ships in particular before a declaration of survey may be granted;
- (c) survey of ships by two or more surveyors;
- (d) the duties of the surveyor making a survey and, where two or more surveyors are employed, the respective duties of each of the surveyors employed;
- (e) the form in which declarations of survey and certificates of survey under this Part are to be made and the nature of the particulars to be stated therein respectively;
- (f) the rates according to which the fees payable in respect of surveys are to be calculated in the case of all or any of the ports of survey;
- (g) the closing of, and keeping closed, the openings in ships' hulls and in water-tight bulk-heads;

- (h) the securing of, and keeping in place and the inspection of contrivances for closing any such openings as aforesaid;
- (i) the operation of mechanisms of contrivances for closing any such openings as aforesaid and the drills in connection with the operation thereof; and
- (j) the entries to be made in the official log book or other record to be kept of any of the matters aforesaid.

Unberthed passenger ships and pilgrim ships.

237. Ports or places where unberthed passengers or pilgrims may embark or be discharged.

(1) Neither an unberthed passenger ship nor a pilgrim ship shall depart or proceed from or discharge unberthed passengers or pilgrims, as the case may be, at any port or place within India other than a port or place appointed in this behalf by the Central Government for unberthed passenger ships or pilgrim ships, as the case may be.

(2) After a ship has departed or proceeded on a voyage from a port or place so appointed, a person shall not be received on board as an unberthed passenger or pilgrim, as the case may be, except at some other port or place so appointed.

238. Notice to be given of day of sailing.

(1) The master, owner or agent of an unberthed passenger ship or a pilgrim ship so departing or proceeding shall give notice to an officer appointed in this behalf by the Central Government that the ship is to carry unberthed passengers or pilgrims and of her destination and of the proposed time of sailing.

(2) The notice shall be given—

- (a) in the case of an unberthed passenger ship, not less than twenty-four hours before that time;
- (b) in the case of a pilgrim ship at the original port of departure, if in India, and in any other case at the first port at which she touches in India, not less than three days, and at all other ports not less than twenty-four hours, before that time.

239. Power to enter on and inspect ship.

After receiving the notice under S. 238 the officer appointed under that section or a person authorised by him in this behalf shall be at liberty at all times to enter on the ship and inspect her and her fittings and the provisions and stores on board.

240. Ship not to sail without certificates A and B.

(1) A ship intended to carry unberthed passengers or pilgrims shall not commence a voyage from the port or place appointed under sub-s. (1) of S. 237, unless the master holds two certificates to the effect mentioned in Ss. 241 and 242.

(2) The customs collector whose duty it is to grant a port clearance for the ship shall not grant it unless the master holds the aforesaid certificates.

241. Contents of certificate A.

(1) The first of the certificates (hereinafter called certificate A) shall state that the ship is seaworthy and properly equipped, fitted and ventilated and—

- (a) in the case of an unberthed passenger ship, the number of passengers which she is capable of carrying;
- (b) in the case of a pilgrim ship, the number of pilgrims of each class which she is capable of carrying.

(2) Certificate shall be in the prescribed form and shall be in force for a period of one year from the date of issue or for such shorter period as may be specified therein and it shall be issued in duplicate.

(3) Where the master of a ship produces to the certifying officer a certificate of survey granted under this Part or a safety certificate granted under Part IX in respect of the ship in force and applicable to the voyage on which the ship is about to be employed, the certifying officer may, if the particulars required by sub-section (1) are certified thereby accept the certificate of survey or safety certificate in lieu of certificate A; and such certificate shall then be deemed to be a certificate A for the purposes of this Part in respect of that voyage.

242. Contents of certificate B.

The second of the certificates (hereinafter called certificate B) shall be in the prescribed form and shall state—

- (a) the voyage which the ship is to make, and the intermediate ports (if any) at which she is to touch;
- (b) that she has the proper complement of officers and seamen;
- (c) that the master holds a certificate of survey or a safety certificate or certificate A;
- (d) that she has on board such number of medical officers licensed in the prescribed manner and such number of attendants, if any, as may be prescribed;
- (e) that food, fuel and pure water over and above what is necessary for the crew, and the other things (if any) prescribed for unberthed passenger ships or pilgrim ships, have been placed on board, of the quality prescribed, properly packed, and sufficient to supply the unberthed passengers or pilgrims on board during the voyage which the ship is to make (including such detention in quarantine as may be probable) according to the prescribed scale;
- (f) in the case of an unberthed passenger ship, if the ship is to make a voyage in a season of foul weather specified as such in the rules made under section 262, and to carry upper-deck passengers, that she is furnished with substantial bulwarks and a double awning or with other sufficient protection against the weather;
- (g) in the case of an unberthed passenger ship, the number of cabin and unberthed passengers embarked at the port of embarkation;
- (h) such other particulars, if any, as may be prescribed for unberthed passenger ships or pilgrim ships, as the case may be.

243. Officers entitled to grant certificates.

The person by whom certificate A and certificate B are to be granted shall be the officer appointed under section 238 who is hereinafter referred to as the certifying officer.

244. Survey of ship.

After receiving the notice required by S. 238, the certifying officer may, if he thinks fit, cause the ship to be surveyed at the expense of the master or owner by a surveyor, who shall report to him whether the ship is, in his opinion, seaworthy and properly equipped, fitted and ventilated for the service on which she is to be employed:

Provided that he shall not cause a ship holding a certificate of survey or a safety certificate to be surveyed unless, by reason of the ship having met with damage or having undergone alterations, or on other reasonable grounds, he considers it likely that she may be found unseaworthy or not properly equipped, fitted or ventilated for the service on which she is to be employed.

245. Discretion as to grant of certificate B.

(1) The certifying officer shall not grant a certificate B if he has reason to believe that the weather conditions are likely to be adverse or that the ship has on board any cargo likely from its quality, quantity or mode of stowage to prejudice the health or safety of the unberthed passengers or pilgrims.

(2) Save as aforesaid and subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), it shall be in the discretion of the certifying officer to grant or withhold the certificate, and when he withholds the certificate, the reasons for so doing shall be communicated to the person concerned.

(3) In the exercise of that discretion that officer shall be subject to the control of the Central Government or of such authority as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf.

246. Copy of certificate A to be exhibited.

The master or owner shall post up in a conspicuous part of the ship, so as to be visible to the persons on board thereof, a copy of certificate A granted under this Part in respect of the ship and shall keep that copy so posted up as long as it is in force.

247. Unberthed passengers or pilgrims to be supplied with prescribed provisions.

(1) The master of an unberthed passenger ship or any contractor employed by him for the purpose shall not, without reasonable excuse, the burden of proving which shall lie upon him, omit to supply to any unberthed passenger the prescribed allowance of food, fuel and water, and the master of a pilgrim ship, or any contractor employed by him for the purpose shall not, without reasonable excuse, the burden of proving which shall lie upon him, omit to supply to any pilgrim the prescribed allowances of food and of water as required by the provisions of this Part.

(2) Where, under the terms of the ticket issued to an unberthed passenger, he is not entitled to the supply of food by the master or owner or agent of the ship, sub-section (1) shall, in the case of such passenger, have effect as if the reference to "food" in that sub-section were omitted.

248. Number of passengers on board not to exceed that allowed by or under this Part.

(1) An unberthed passenger ship or a pilgrim ship shall not carry a number of unberthed passengers or pilgrims, which is greater than the number allowed for the ship by or under this Part.

(2) Any officer authorised in this behalf by the Central Government may cause all unberthed passengers or pilgrims over and above the number allowed by or under this Part to disembark, and may forward them to any port at which they may have contracted to land, and recover the cost of so forwarding them from the master, owner or agent of the ship as if the cost were a fine imposed under this Part, and a certificate under the hand of that officer shall be conclusive proof of the amount of the cost aforesaid.

249. Unberthed passenger or pilgrim not to be landed at a place other than that at which he has contracted to land.

No master, owner or agent of an unberthed passenger ship or a pilgrim ship shall land any unberthed passenger or pilgrim at any port or place other than the port or place at which the unberthed passenger or pilgrim may have contracted to land, unless with his previous consent, or unless the landing is made necessary by perils of the sea or other unavoidable accident.

250. Forwarding of passengers by Indian consular officers.

(1) If any unberthed passenger from a ship which is on a voyage from any port or place in India finds himself without any neglect or default of his own at any port or place outside India other than the port or place for which the ship was originally bound or at which he has contracted that he should land, the Indian consular officer at or near that port or place may forward the passenger to his intended destination, unless the master, owner or agent of the ship within forty-eight hours of the arrival of the passenger gives to that officer a written undertaking to forward the passenger within six weeks thereafter to his original destination and forwards him accordingly within that period.

(2) A passenger so forwarded by or by the authority of an Indian consular officer shall not be entitled to the return of his passage money or to any compensation for loss of passage.

251. Recovery of expenses incurred in forwarding passengers.

(1) All expenses incurred under section 250 by an Indian consular officer in respect of the forwarding of a passenger to his destination including the cost of maintaining the passenger until forwarded to his destination shall be a debt due to the Central Government jointly and severally from the owner, charterer, agent and master of the ship on board which the passenger had embarked.

(2) In any proceeding for the recovery of that debt a certificate purporting to be under the hand of the Indian consular officer and stating the circumstances of the case and the total amount of the expenses shall be prima facie evidence of the amount of the expenses and of the fact that the same were duly incurred.

252. Ship not to make voyage in contravention of contract.

The master, owner or agent of an unberthed passenger ship or a pilgrim ship shall not, otherwise than by reason of perils of the sea or other unavoidable accident, allow the ship to touch at any port or place in contravention of any express or implied contract or engagement with the unberthed passengers or pilgrims with respect to the voyage which the ship was to make and the time which that voyage was to occupy, whether the contract or engagement was made by public advertisement or otherwise.

253. Information to be sent to ports of embarkation and discharge.

(1) The officer appointed by the Central Government in this behalf at any port or place within India at which an unberthed passenger ship or a pilgrim ship touches or arrives, shall send any particulars which he may deem important respecting the unberthed passenger ship or pilgrim ship, and the unberthed passengers or pilgrims carried therein, to the officer at the port or place from which the ship commenced her voyage, and to the officer at any other port or place within India where the unberthed passengers or pilgrims or any of them embarked or are to be discharged.

(2) The officer aforesaid may go on board any ship referred to in sub-section (1) and inspect her in order to ascertain whether the provisions of this Act as to the number of unberthed passengers or pilgrims and other matters have been complied with.

254. Reports etc., under Section 253 to be admissible in evidence.

In any proceeding for the adjudication of any penalty incurred under this Part, any document purporting to be a report of such particulars as are referred to in sub-section (1) of section 253, or a copy of the proceedings of any Court of justice duly authenticated, and also any like document purporting to be made and signed by an Indian consular officer shall be received in evidence, if it appears to have been officially transmitted to any officer at or near the place where the proceeding under this Part is held.

Special provisions relating to unberthed passenger ships.

255. Destination of ship, time of sailing, etc., to be advertised.

(1) The master, owner or agent of an unberthed passenger ship departing or proceeding from any port or place in India appointed in this behalf by the Central Government under sub-section (1) of section 237 shall issue at such port or place in the prescribed manner an advertisement containing the particulars required to be stated in the notice under sub-section (1) of section 238 ; and such advertisement shall be issued before such reasonable and sufficient interval as may be prescribed before the date of sailing of any such ship from such port or place.

(2) The Central Government may, by order in writing, exempt any class of ships from the operation of sub-section (1).

256. Ship taking additional passengers at intermediate place.

If any unberthed passenger ship performing a voyage between ports or places in India takes additional unberthed passengers on board at an intermediate port or place, the master shall obtain from the certifying officer at that port or place a supplementary certificate stating—

- (a) the number of unberthed passengers so taken on board ; and
- (b) that food, fuel and pure water over and above what is necessary for the crew, and the other things, if any, prescribed for the ship, have been placed on board, of the quality prescribed, properly packed and sufficient to supply the unberthed passengers on board during the voyage which the ship is to make (including such detention in quarantine as may be probable) according to the scale for the time being prescribed :

Provided that, if the certificate B held by the master of the ship states that food, and pure water over and above what is necessary for the crew, and the other things, if any, prescribed for her, have been placed on board, of the quality prescribed, properly packed and sufficient to supply the full number of unberthed passengers which she is capable of carrying, the master shall not be bound to obtain any such supplementary certificate, but shall obtain from the certifying officer an endorsement on the certificate B showing the number of passengers taken on board, and the number of passengers discharged, at that port or place.

257. Statements concerning passengers.

(1) The master of an unberthed passenger ship departing or proceeding on a voyage from a port or place in India to a port or place outside India shall sign a statement in duplicate, specifying the number and the respective sexes of all the unberthed passengers, and the number of the crew, and shall deliver both copies to the certifying officer, who shall thereupon, after having first satisfied himself that the entries are correct, countersign and return to the master one copy of the statement.

(2) In either of the following cases, namely :—

- (a) if after the ship has departed or proceeded on such a voyage any additional unberthed passengers are taken on board at a port or place within India appointed under this Part for the embarkation of unberthed passengers ; or
- (b) if the ship upon her voyage touches or arrives at any such port or place, having previously received on board additional unberthed passengers at any port or place outside India ;

the master shall obtain a fresh certificate to the effect of certificate B from the certifying officer at that port or place, and shall make an additional statement specifying the number and the respective sexes of all the additional passengers.

258. Death of unberthed passengers on voyage.

(1) The master of any unberthed passenger ship performing a voyage between ports or places in India, shall, on arrival at her port of destination, notify to the certifying officer or such other officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf, the date and supposed cause of death of every unberthed passenger who may die on the voyage.

(2) The master of any unberthed passenger ship performing a voyage between a port or place in India and a port or place outside India, shall note in writing on the statement or the additional statement referred to in section 257 the date and supposed cause of death of any unberthed passenger who may die on the voyage, and shall, when the ship arrives at her port or place of destination or at any port or place where it may be intended to land unberthed passengers, and before any passenger leaves the ship, produce the statement with any additions made thereto—

- (a) where such port or place is in India, to the certifying officer or such other officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf ;
- (b) where such port or place is outside India, to the Indian consular officer.

259. Certain ships to carry medical officer and attendants.

(1) Every ship carrying unberthed passengers and crew not exceeding one thousand in number, shall have on board as part of her complement at least one medical officer possessing such qualifications as may be prescribed.

(2) Every ship carrying unberthed passengers and crew exceeding one thousand in number shall, in addition to a medical officer, have on board as part of her complement such number of medical attendants as may be prescribed.

(3) Every ship carrying unberthed passengers shall be provided with a hospital with such medical stores and equipment as may be prescribed.

260. Bringing passengers from foreign port in excess of authorised number prohibited.

No owner, agent or master of an unberthed passenger ship shall carry or cause to be carried from any port or place outside India to any port or place in India a number of passengers greater than—

- (a) the number allowed for the ship by or under this Part, or
- (b) the number allowed by the licence or certificate, if any, granted in respect of the ship at her port or place of departure, whichever number is less.

261. Passenger welfare cess.

(1) With effect from such date as the Central Government may by notification in the Official Gazette, specify, there shall be levied on the passage money paid by every passenger carried by an unberthed passenger ship departing or proceeding from any port or place in India a cess to be called the passenger welfare cess at such rate not exceeding five per cent. of the passage money as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify, and different rates may be specified in respect of different classes of passengers and voyages.

(2) The passenger welfare cess shall be collected by the owner or charterer of the unberthed passenger ship or the agent of the owner or charterer as an addition to the passage money, and shall, after deduction of such costs of collection, if any, as the Central Government may determine, be paid to such authority as the Central Government may specify.

(3) The proceeds of the passenger welfare cess shall, after due appropriation made by Parliament by law, be utilised for the purpose of providing amenities to passengers travelling by unberthed passenger ships.

Explanation. — In this section, “passage money” means the total amount of all charges of whatever nature payable by a passenger in respect of his carriage on an unberthed passenger ship, and includes the charges, if any, for provision of food on board the ship, but does not include the cess payable under this section.

262. Power to make rules as to unberthed passenger ships.

The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules to regulate, in the case of unberthed passenger ships or any class of such ships, all or any of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) the classification of voyages with reference to the distance between the port of departure and the port of destination, the duration of the voyage, or any other consideration which the Central Government may think fit to take into account for the purpose;
- (b) the seasons of fair weather and seasons of foul weather for purposes of any voyage;
- (c) the space to be allowed for unberthed passengers in respect of different classes of voyages and for seasons of fair and foul weather;
- (d) the disallowance of any space considered unsuitable by the surveyor for the carriage of unberthed passengers;
- (e) the space to be set apart for alleyways, passages and the like;
- (f) the provision of airing space for unberthed passengers;
- (g) the scale according to which dining rooms, latrines, wash places, baths, dressing rooms and other amenities are to be provided;
- (h) the provision of separate accommodation for women and children;
- (i) the prohibition or regulation of the carriage of cargo in any space reserved for passengers;
- (j) where the deck on which unberthed passengers are accommodated is not covered with wood, the nature of the sheathing to be provided in the space reserved for passengers;
- (k) the disposal of baggage of passenger on board ship and the provision of separate space in the between-decks for the storage of light baggage;
- (l) the conditions under which passengers may be allowed to be carried in the upper deck in seasons of foul weather;
- (m) the provision of bunks for unberthed passengers or for any proportion of such passengers on any specified classes of voyages, and the size and other particulars relating to the bunks to be so provided;
- (n) the scale on which food, fuel and water are to be supplied to passengers or to any class of passengers, and the quality of the food, fuel and water;
- (o) the nature and extent of hospital accommodation and the medical stores and other appliances and fittings to be provided on board for maintaining health, cleanliness and decency;
- (p) the licensing and appointment of medical officers and attendants in cases where they are required by this Part to be carried;
- (q) the boats, anchors and cables to be provided on board;
- (r) the instruments for purposes of navigation to be supplied;
- (s) the functions of the master, medical officer (if any) and other officers of the ship during the voyage;
- (t) the access of between-decks passengers to the upper deck;
- (u) the local limits within which, and the time and mode at and in which, passengers are to be embarked or discharged at any port or place appointed under this Part in that behalf;
- (v) the time within which any ship of a specified class is to depart or proceed on her voyage after commencing to take passengers on board;
- (w) the conditions under which live-stock may be allowed to be carried;
- (x) the licensing, supervision and control of persons engaged in assisting persons to obtain unberthed passenger accommodation in ships departing or proceeding from any port or place in India and the prohibition of unlicensed persons from being so engaged;

- (y) the manner of collection of the passenger welfare cess and matters incidental thereto;
- (z) generally to carry out the purposes of this Part relating to unberthed passenger ships.

Special provisions regarding pilgrim ships.

263. Bunks to be provided for pilgrims.

(1) Every pilgrim ship shall provide for each pilgrim a bunk of the prescribed size and particulars.

(2) Every pilgrim ship shall have reserved for the use of the pilgrims on board gratuitously by day and by night so much of the upper deck as is not required for the airing space of the crew or for permanent structures:

Provided that the upper deck space available for pilgrims shall in no case be less than six superficial feet for each pilgrim on board.

264. Hospital accommodation.

There shall be a hospital on board every pilgrim ship offering such conditions relating to security, health and space, and capable of accommodating such proportion, not exceeding five per cent. of the maximum number of pilgrims which the ship is certified to carry, as may be prescribed.

265. Statements concerning pilgrims to be delivered before ship departs.

The master of every pilgrim ship departing or proceeding from any port or place in India shall sign a statement in duplicate in the prescribed form specifying the total number of all the pilgrims embarked and the number of pilgrims of each sex embarked and the number of the crew and such other particulars as may be prescribed, and shall deliver both copies to the certifying officer or such other officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf at the port or place and such officer shall thereupon, after having first satisfied himself that the entries are correct, countersign and return to the master one copy of the statement.

In either of the following cases, namely:—

- (a) if after a pilgrim ship has departed or proceeded on her voyage any additional pilgrims are taken on board at a port or place within India appointed under this Part for the embarkation of pilgrims, or
- (b) if a pilgrim ship upon her voyage touches or arrives at any such port or place, having previously received on board additional pilgrims at any port or place outside India, the master shall obtain a fresh certificate to the effect of certificate B from the certifying officer at that port or place, and shall make an additional statement specifying the number and respective sexes of all the additional pilgrims.

267. Particulars relating to deaths of pilgrims on voyage.

The master of every pilgrim ship shall note in writing on the copy of the statement or the additional statement referred to in S. 265 or S. 266, the date and supposed cause of death of any pilgrim who may die on the voyage, and shall, when the pilgrim ship arrives at her port or place of destination or at any port or place where it may be intended to discharge pilgrims, and before any pilgrims disembark, produce the statement, with any additions made thereto,—

- (a) where such port or place is in India, to the certifying officer or such other officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf;
- (b) where such port or place is outside India, to the Indian consular officer.

268. Statement concerning pilgrims to be delivered before pilgrims disembark in India.

The master of every pilgrim ship, arriving at any port or place in India at which it may be intended to discharge pilgrims, shall, before any pilgrims disembark, deliver a statement signed by him specifying the total number of all the pilgrims on board and the number of pilgrims of each sex and the number of the crew, and such other particulars as may be prescribed to the certifying officer or such other officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf at the port or place.

269. Certain pilgrim ships to carry medical officers and attendants.

(1) Every pilgrim ship carrying pilgrims and crew not exceeding one thousand in number shall have on board a medical officer possessing such qualifications as may be prescribed, and, if the number of pilgrims and crew carried exceeds one thousand, a second medical officer similarly qualified and also in all cases such medical attendants as may be prescribed.

(2) A medical officer of every pilgrim ship shall perform such duties and functions, keep such diaries and submit such reports or other returns, as may be prescribed.

(3) No medical officer or attendant on a pilgrim ship shall charge any pilgrim on such ship for his services.

270. Bond where pilgrim ship proceeds on outward voyage.

(1) Port clearance shall not be granted from any port in India to any pilgrim ship unless the master, owner or agent and two sureties resident in India have executed, in favour of the Central Government, a joint and several bond for the sum of ten thousand rupees or has given such other guarantee or security as may be acceptable to that Government covering all voyages which may be made by the ship in the current pilgrim season, conditioned that—

(a) the master and medical officer shall comply with the provisions of this Part and the rules made thereunder, and

(b) the master, owner or agent, shall pay any sum claimed by the Central Government under sub-section (2) of section 277.

(2) A bond, guarantee or security may be given under this section covering any or all of the pilgrim ships owned by one owner, and in such cases the amount of the bond, guarantee or security shall be ten thousand rupees for each ship covered.

271. Medical inspection and permission required before embarkation of pilgrims.

(1) No pilgrim shall be received on board any pilgrim ship at any port or place in India unless and until he has been medically inspected, at such time and place, and in such manner, as the Central Government may fix in this behalf, nor until the certifying officer has given permission for the embarkation of pilgrims to commence.

(2) The medical inspection of female pilgrims shall, subject to any rules which may be made under this Act and as far as may be practicable, be carried out by women.

(3) No pilgrim shall be received on board any pilgrim ship unless he produces the medical certificate signed by a person who is duly qualified to grant such certificate, showing that such pilgrim—

(a) has been inoculated against cholera within such period before the inspection, as may be prescribed; and

(b) has been vaccinated against small-pox within such period before the inspection as may be prescribed :

Provided that the officer making the inspection may dispense with the certificate of vaccination, if in his opinion the pilgrim has marks showing that he has had small-pox.

(4) If, in the opinion of the officer making an inspection under this section, any pilgrim is suffering from cholera or choleraic indisposition, or any dangerously infectious or contagious disease, or shows any signs of the same or any other suspicious symptoms, such pilgrim shall not be permitted to embark.

(5) All articles which have been contaminated by persons suffering from cholera or choleraic indisposition, or any dangerously infectious or contagious disease, or are suspected of having been so contaminated shall, before being taken on board a pilgrim ship, be disinfected, under the supervision of a medical officer appointed by the Central Government for the purpose, in such manner as may be prescribed.

272. Medical inspection after embarkation in certain cases.

(1) If in any case a pilgrim ship does not proceed on her voyage within forty-eight hours after all the pilgrims have been received on board, and there is reason to suspect that any person on board is suffering from cholera or choleraic indisposition or any dangerously infectious or contagious disease, a medical inspection of all persons on board may be held in such manner as the Central Government may direct.

(2) If on such inspection any person is found to be suffering from cholera or choleraic indisposition or any dangerously infectious or contagious disease, or shows any signs of the same or any other suspicious symptoms, he shall, together with all articles belonging to him, be at once removed from the ship.

273. Pilgrims to arrange return passages.

No pilgrim shall be received on board any pilgrim ship at any port or place in India unless he

(a) is in possession of a return ticket, or

(b) has deposited with the officer authorised in this behalf by the Central Government such sum for the purpose of defraying the cost of a return ticket as that Government may specify by notification in the Official Gazette :

Provided that the authorised officer may exempt any pilgrim from all or any of the aforesaid requirements, if he is satisfied that it is inexpedient, in the special circumstances of the case, to enforce them.

274. Issue or production of tickets.

(1) Every pilgrim travelling on a pilgrim ship shall be entitled, on payment of his passage money and fulfilment of other prescribed conditions, if any, to receive a ticket in the prescribed form, and shall be bound to produce it to such officers and on such occasions as may be prescribed and otherwise to deal with it in the prescribed manner :

Provided that no pilgrim, who has not been exempted under the proviso to section 273, shall be given a ticket other than a return ticket unless he has made the deposit required by that section.

(2) Any ticket issued to a pilgrim for a voyage on a pilgrim ship shall entitle him to receive food and water, on the scale and of the quality prescribed and medicines free of further charge, throughout the voyage.

275. Refund of passage money and deposits.

(1) Every pilgrim prevented from embarking under section 271, or removed from the ship under section 272, or otherwise prevented from proceeding shall be entitled to the refund of any passage money which he may have paid, and of any deposit which he may have made under section 273.

(2) Any pilgrim who, within one year of his sailing from India, satisfies the Indian consular officer at Jeddah that he intends to return to India by a route other than the route by which he came from India, shall be entitled to a refund of any deposit made by him under section 273, or, if he is in possession of a return ticket, to a refund of half the passage money paid by him.

(3) Where any pilgrim dies in the Hedjaz or on the voyage thereto, any person nominated by him in this behalf in writing in the prescribed manner, or, if no person has been so nominated the legal representative of the pilgrim, shall be entitled to a refund of any deposit made by the pilgrim under section 273, or, if the pilgrim was in possession of a return ticket, to a refund of half the passage money paid by him.

(4) Where any pilgrim fails to return to India from the Hedjaz within one year of his sailing from India, or returns to India by a route other than the route by which he came from India, he or any person nominated by him in this behalf in writing in the prescribed manner shall be entitled to a refund of any deposit made by such pilgrim under section 273, or, if such pilgrim was in possession of a return ticket, to a refund of half the passage money paid by such pilgrim, except where such deposit or passage money has already been refunded under this section.

(5) Refunds under this section of deposits shall be subject to such conditions and of passage money to such deductions and conditions as may be prescribed.

276. Disposal of unclaimed passage money and deposits.

If any pilgrim —

- (a) who is entitled to a refund of passage money under sub-section (1) of section 275, does not claim such refund within the prescribed period, or
- (b) who has purchased a return ticket, does not on the basis of such ticket obtain a return passage from the Hedjaz within the prescribed period and the value of the return half of such ticket has not been refunded under section 275, or
- (c) who is entitled under section 275 to a refund of any deposit made under section 273 does not claim such refund within the prescribed period, such passage money or value or deposit shall, subject to the exercise of the rights conferred by sub-section (4) of section 275, be made over to such authority administering any fund maintained for the assistance of pilgrims as the Central Government may, by general or special order, designate in this behalf.

277. Cost of return journey of pilgrims on ships other than those for which return ticket is available.

(1) The master, owner or agent of every pilgrim ship shall make all arrangements for ensuring the return of all pilgrims in possession of a return ticket issued in India who are carried to the Hedjaz by such ship, within a period of ninety days after the Haj day in a year:

Provided that, for the purpose of computing the said period of ninety days, no period shall be taken into account during which the ship is prevented from carrying pilgrims on the return passage by reason of the port of Jeddah having been declared by proper authority to be infected or by reason of war, disturbance or any other cause not arising from any act or default of the master, owner or agent.

(2) Where any such pilgrim who has notified to the prescribed authority in the prescribed manner his desire to embark for the return voyage is, owing to his inability to obtain accommodation within the period of ninety days aforesaid in a ship for which the return ticket is available, detained at Jeddah beyond the said period, the master, owner or agent of the ship in which such pilgrim was carried to the Hedjaz shall pay to the Central Government in respect of such pilgrim such sum not exceeding double the sum received by the master, owner or agent in respect of the return ticket as the Central Government claims as the costs of repatriating the pilgrim, together with a sum of rupees five for each day after the expiry of the period aforesaid during which the pilgrim has been detained at eddah.

(3) A certificate of such detention purporting to be made and signed by the Indian consular officer at Jeddah shall be received in evidence in any court in India without proof of the signature or of the official character of the person who has signed the same.

278. Notice of sailing of pilgrim ship.

(1) The master, owner or agent of any ship which is intended to sail on a voyage as a pilgrim ship from any port or place in India shall, before advertising such ship for the conveyance of pilgrims or offering to convey any pilgrim by such ship or selling or permitting any person to sell a passage ticket to any pilgrim for conveyance by such ship, supply to the officer appointed in this behalf (hereinafter referred to as the pilgrim officer) at the port or place from which the ship is to commence the voyage, and at each port or place in India at which she is to touch for the purpose of embarking pilgrims, full particulars as to the name, tonnage and age of the ship, the maximum number of passage tickets of each class to be issued, the maximum price of each class of ticket, the probable date on which the ship is to sail from that port or place, the ports, if any, at which she is to touch, the place of her destination, and the probable date of her arrival thereat.

(2) The master, owner or agent shall supply to the pilgrim officer, within three days from the date of demand, such further information in regard to the matters mentioned in sub-section (1) as that officer may in writing demand from him.

(3) (a) The master, owner, or agent of the ship shall advertise at such port or place and in such manner as may be prescribed

(i) the place of destination of the ship,

(ii) the price of each class of passage tickets which shall not be in excess of the price communicated to the pilgrim officer under sub-section (1), and

(iii) the provisional date of sailing from that port or place.

(b) The master, owner or agent shall also advertise the final date of sailing not less than fifteen days before such date.

(4) No master, owner or agent, shall—

(a) without reasonable cause, the burden of proving which shall lie upon him, fail or refuse to supply any particulars or information which he is by or under this section required to supply or supply false particulars or information; or

(b) advertise any ship for the conveyance of pilgrims, or offer to convey pilgrims by any ship, or sell or promise or permit any person to sell passage tickets to pilgrims for conveyance by any ship, without having first supplied the particulars required by sub-section (1) and in accordance with the provisions of that sub-section; or

(c) advertise a price for passage tickets at the port or place in excess of the price communicated, to the pilgrim officer under sub-section (1); or

(d) offer to convey pilgrims by any ship from any port or place in India or sell or promise or permit any person to sell passage tickets to pilgrims for conveyance by a ship from any such port or place without having advertised as required by clause (a) of sub-section (3) the matters specified in that clause; or

- (e) sell or permit any person to sell to any pilgrim any passage ticket at a price in excess of the price communicated to the pilgrim officer under sub-section (1).

279. Compensation for delay in sailing.

(1) If a pilgrim ship fails to proceed from any port or place on the date advertised under clause (b) of sub-section (3) of section 278 as the final date of sailing therefrom, the master, owner or agent shall become liable to pay as compensation to each pilgrim who has paid his passage money on or before such date the sum of three rupees for each completed day during which the sailing of the ship is delayed after that date :

Provided that such compensation shall not be payable in respect of any period during which the departure of the ship is impossible owing to any cause not arising from the act or default of the master, owner or agent, and the burden of proving such cause shall lie on such master, owner or agent :

Provided further that where compensation has been paid or has become payable to any pilgrim in respect of delay in the sailing of the ship from any port or place and the sailing of the ship from any other port or place is thereafter delayed beyond the date advertised in that behalf, the pilgrim shall be entitled to compensation only in respect of any period by which the duration of such further delay exceeds the duration of the delay in respect of which he has already received or become entitled to compensation.

(2) In the event of such failure, the master, owner or agent shall be bound forthwith to inform the pilgrim officer at the port or place at which the delay occurs of the number of passage tickets of each class which have been issued for the voyage on or before the advertised final date of sailing.

(3) Any sum payable as compensation under sub-section (1) shall be paid on behalf of the pilgrims entitled thereto to the pilgrim officer at the port or place at which the delay occurs on receipt by the master, owner or agent of a notice from that officer specifying the sum payable, and that officer shall, in such manner as may be prescribed, pay to each such pilgrim the compensation paid in respect of his detention :

Provided that, if an objection is made by the master, owner or agent that the sum specified in any such notice or any part of such sum is not payable by him, the sum paid or, as the case may be, the balance thereof remaining after payment to the pilgrims entitled thereto of compensation the right to which is not in dispute, shall be held in deposit until the objection has been decided :

Provided further that, if for any reason the compensation due to any pilgrim cannot be paid to him at the time of embarkation or at or before the time of his disembarkation at the port of his destination, the sum so remaining unpaid shall be made over to such authority administering any fund maintained for the assistance of pilgrims as the Central Government may, by general or special order, designate in this behalf.

(4) If the master, owner or agent objects that the sum specified in the notice issued under sub-section (3) or any part thereof is not payable by him, he may, at the time of payment of such sum, give to the pilgrim officer notice of his objection, together with a statement of the grounds thereof, and the pilgrim officer shall thereupon either cancel or modify the aforesaid notice in accordance with the objection and refund the sum held in deposit under sub-section (3), or refer the objection for decision to a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class exercising jurisdiction at the port or place at which the ship is delayed, whose decision on such reference, shall be final; and there shall be refunded to the master, owner or agent any amount allowed to him by such decision.

(5) On the failure of any pilgrim ship to proceed from any port or place on the date advertised under clause (b) of sub-section (3) of section 278 as the date of final sailing therefrom, the pilgrim officer at that port or place shall forthwith give notice of such failure to the officer authorised to grant port clearance to ships thereat, and such officer shall refuse port clearance to the pilgrim ship until the master, owner or agent produces to him a certificate of the pilgrim officer that all sums payable by way of compensation under this section up to the day on which the ship is to proceed have been paid.

280. Substitution of ships.

Notwithstanding anything contained in section 278 or section 279, where any ship which has been advertised under section 278 for the conveyance of pilgrims has been or is likely to be delayed beyond the advertised final date of sailing, the owner or agent may, with the permission in writing of the pilgrim officer, substitute for it any other ship which is capable of carrying not less than the same number of pilgrims of each class, and on such permission being given the advertisement shall be deemed to have been made in respect of the ship so substituted, and all the provisions of those sections shall apply accordingly in respect of such ship.

281. Sanitary taxes payable by master of pilgrim ship.

The master of every pilgrim ship shall be bound to pay the whole amount of the sanitary taxes imposed by lawful authority at the ports visited and such amount shall be included in the cost of the tickets issued to the pilgrims.

282. Power to make rules relating to pilgrim ships.

The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules to regulate all or any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the boats, anchors and cables to be provided on board pilgrim ships;
- (b) the instruments to be supplied for purposes of navigation;
- (c) the fittings and other appliances to be provided in the upper and between decks for the comfort and convenience of pilgrims;
- (d) the scale on which, and the manner in which, cooked and uncooked food and water are to be supplied to pilgrims and the quality of such food and water;
- (e) the kinds of food to be provided for pilgrims on payment, in addition to the food to be supplied in accordance with the rules made under cl. (d), and the charges which may be made for the same;
- (f) the quality, quantity and storage of the cargo to be carried;
- (g) the allotment of the upper deck space between the various classes of pilgrims;
- (h) the distribution or disposal of the baggage of pilgrims on board ship;
- (i) the nature and extent of the hospital accommodation and the medical stores, disinfectants, and other appliances and fittings to be provided on board free of charge to pilgrims for maintaining health, cleanliness and decency;
- (j) the form of the statements to be furnished by the master under sections 265 and 268, and the particulars to be entered therein;
- (k) the appointment of medical officers and other attendants in cases where they are required by the provisions of this Part relating to pilgrim ships to be carried and the diaries, reports and other returns to be kept or submitted by such medical officers;
- (l) the manner in which contaminated articles shall be disinfected before being taken on board a pilgrim ship;
- (m) the manner in which, and the persons by whom, the medical inspection of women shall be carried out;
- (n) the manner in which deposits shall be made for the purposes of section 273, and any matter in respect of which provision is, in the opinion of the Central Government, necessary or expedient for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of that section ;

- (o) the manner in which provisional bookings may be made, the acceptance of deposits for such bookings and the forfeiture of any part of the deposit in cases in which any such bookings are cancelled ;
- (p) the supply of tickets to intending pilgrims, the form of such tickets and the conditions and other matters to be specified thereon, and the amount of the sanitary taxes to be included in the cost thereof ;
- (q) the refund of passage money and deposits under section 275 and the manner in which persons shall be nominated under that section for the purpose of entitling them to a refund ;
- (r) the period after which unclaimed passage money and deposits liable to be refunded shall be disposed of in the manner specified in section 276 ;
- (s) the manner in which the dates of sailing shall be advertised under section 278 ; the appointment of pilgrim officers for the purposes of that section and sections 279 and 280 ; the manner in which payment shall be made under section 279 to pilgrims and to the pilgrim officer; and the procedure to be followed by masters, owners or agents and by pilgrim officers and magistrates in proceedings under that section ;
- (t) the functions of the master, medical officer and other ship's officers during the voyage ;
- (u) the local limits within which, and the time and mode at and in which, pilgrims shall be embarked or discharged at any port or place appointed under this Part in that behalf ;
- (v) the time within which a pilgrim ship shall depart or proceed on her voyage after commencing to take pilgrims on board ;
- (w) providing that a pilgrim shall not be received on board any pilgrim ship, unless he is in possession of a passport or a pilgrim's pass, regulating the issue of pilgrims' passes, and prescribing the form of and fees which may be charged for such passes; and
- (x) generally, to carry out the provisions of this Part relating to pilgrim ships.

PART IX

SAFETY

283. Countries to which Load Line Convention or Safety Convention applies.

(1) The Central Government, if satisfied, —

(a) that the Government of any country has accepted or denounced the Load Line Convention<sup>a</sup> or, as the case may be, the Safety Convention;<sup>b</sup> or

(b) that the Load Line Convention or, as the case may be, the Safety Convention extends, or has ceased to extend to any territory; may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make a declaration to that effect.

(2) Any declaration made by or on behalf of the Central Government before the commencement of this Act in any form whatsoever, that the Government of any country has accepted or denounced the Load Line Convention or that the said Convention extends or has ceased to extend to any territory shall be deemed to have been made under sub-section (1).

*Construction of ships284. Construction rules.

(1) The Central Government may make rules (in this Act called the construction rules), prescribing the requirements that the hull, equipment and machinery of Indian passenger ships shall comply with.

(2) The rules made under sub-section (1) shall include such requirements as appear to the Central Government to implement the provisions of the Safety Convention prescribing the requirements that the hull, equipment and machinery of passenger ships shall comply with, except so far as those provisions are implemented by the rules for life saving appliances, the radio rules, the rules for direction finders or the collision regulations.

(3) The powers conferred on the Central Government by this section shall be in addition to the powers conferred by any other provision enabling it to prescribe the requirements that passenger ships shall comply with.

*Prevention of collisions285. Collision regulations.

(1) The Central Government may make regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea and may thereby regulate the lights and shapes to be carried and exhibited, the fog and distress signals to be carried and used, and the steering and sailing rules to be observed by Indian ships and sailing vessels registered in India.

(2) The collision regulations, together with the provisions of this Part relating thereto or otherwise relating to collisions, shall be observed by all foreign ships and sailing vessels within Indian jurisdiction, and in any case arising in any Court in India concerning matters arising within Indian jurisdiction, such ships and sailing vessels shall, so far as respects the collision regulations and the said provisions of this Act, be treated as if they were Indian ships or sailing vessels registered in India, as the case may be.

286. Observance of collision regulations.

(1) The owner or master of every ship and the owner or tinal of every sailing vessel to which section 285 applies shall obey the collision regulations, and shall not carry or exhibit any lights or shapes or use any fog or distress signals, other than those required by the said regulations.

(2) If any damage to person or property arises from the non-observance by any such ship or sailing vessel of any of the collision regulations, the damage shall be deemed to have been occasioned by the wilful default of the person in charge of the ship or the sailing vessel, as the case may be, at the time unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the circumstances of the case made a departure from the regulations necessary.

287. Inspectors of lights and shapes and fog and distress signals.

(1) The Central Government may appoint persons to inspect in any port ships or sailing vessels to which the collision regulations apply, for the purpose of seeing that such ships or sailing vessels are properly provided with lights and shapes and with the means of making fog and distress signals, in pursuance of such regulations.

(2) If an inspector appointed under sub-section (1) finds that any ship or sailing vessel is not so provided, he shall give to the owner, master or tinal, notice in writing pointing out the deficiency, and also what, in his opinion, is requisite in order to remedy the same.

(3) Every notice so given shall be communicated in the prescribed manner to the customs collector at any port from which such ship or sailing vessels may seek to clear; and no customs collector to whom such communication is made shall grant such ship a port clearance or allow her to proceed to sea without a certificate under the hand of some person appointed as aforesaid, to the effect that the said ship or sailing vessel is properly provided with lights and shapes and with the means of making fog and distress signals in pursuance of the said regulations.

Life saving appliances and fire appliances.

288. Power to make rules as to life saving appliances.

(1) The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules prescribing the life saving appliances to be carried by every Indian ship going to sea from any port or place in India.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters namely:

- (a) the arranging of ships into classes, having regard to the services in which they are employed, the nature and duration of the voyage and the number of persons carried ;
- (b) the number, description and mode of construction of the boats, life-rafts, line throwing appliances, life-jackets and life-buoys to be carried by ships according to the classes in which the ships are arranged ;
- (c) the equipment to be carried by any such boats and rafts and the method to be provided to get the boats and other life saving appliances into the water, including oil for use in stormy weather ;
- (d) the provision in ships of a proper supply of lights inextinguishable in water and fitted for attachment to life-buoys ;
- (e) the quantity, quality and description of buoyant apparatus to be carried on board ships either in addition to or in substitution for boats, life-rafts life-jackets and life-buoys ;
- (f) the position and means of securing the boats, life-rafts, life-jackets, life-buoys and buoyant apparatus ;
- (g) the marking of boats, life-rafts, and buoyant apparatus so as to show their dimensions and the number of persons authorised to be carried on them ;
- (h) the meaning of life-boats and the qualifications and certificates of lifeboatmen ;
- (i) the provision to be made for mustering the persons on board and for embarking them in the boats (including provision for the lighting of, and the means of ingress to and egress from, different parts of the ship);
- (j) the provision of suitable means situated outside the engine room whereby any discharge of water into the boats can be prevented ;
- (k) the assignment of specific duties to each member of the crew in case of emergency ;
- (l) the manner in which a notice given under section 287 or section 290 shall be communicated to the customs collector ;
- (m) the practice in ships of boat drills, and fire drills ;
- (n) the provision in ships of means of making effective distress signals by day and by night ;
- (o) the provision in ships, engaged on voyages in which pilots are likely to be embarked, of suitable pilot ladders, and of ropes, lights and other appliances designed to make the use of such ladders safe ;
- (p) the periodical examination of any appliances or equipment required by any rules made under this Act to be carried by ships ; and
- (q) the fees to be charged for the grant of any certificate under subsection (3) of section 290.

289. Rules relating to fire appliances.

The Central Government may make rules prescribing the methods to be adopted and the appliances to be carried by every Indian ship going to sea from any port or place in India for the prevention, detection and extinction of fire on the ship (hereinafter referred to as fire appliances).

290. Inspection of life saving appliances and fire appliances.

(1) A surveyor may, at any reasonable time, inspect any ship for the purpose of seeing that she is properly provided with life saving and fire appliances in conformity with the rules made under this Act.

(2) If the said surveyor finds that the ship is not so provided he shall give to the master or owner notice in writing pointing out the deficiency, and also pointing out what in his opinion is requisite to remedy the same.

(3) Every notice so given shall be communicated in the prescribed manner to the customs collector of any port at which the ship may seek to obtain a clearance and the ship shall be detained until a certificate signed by such surveyor is produced to the effect that the ship is properly provided with life saving and fire appliances in conformity with the said rules.

(1) Every Indian ship, being a passenger ship, and every other Indian ship of five hundred tons gross tonnage or more, shall, in accordance with the rules made under section 296, be provided with a radio installation and shall maintain a radio telegraph service or a radio telephone service of the prescribed nature and shall be provided with such certificated operators and watchers as may be prescribed:

Provided that the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, exempt from the obligation imposed by this section any ship or class of ships if it is of opinion that having regard to the nature of the voyage on which the ship or ships are engaged or other circumstances of the case, the provision of a radio installation is unnecessary or unreasonable.

(2) The radio installation required under the said rules to be provided for a passenger ship or for any other ship of sixteen hundred tons gross or more shall be a radio telegraph installation; and that required to be provided for a ship of less than sixteen hundred tons gross, other than a passenger ship, shall be either a radio telegraph installation or a radio telephone installation at the option of the owner.

Every Indian ship of sixteen hundred tons gross or more shall be provided with a radio direction finder of the prescribed description.

293. Radio log.

(1) Every ship compulsorily equipped under the provisions of section 291 with a radio telegraph or radio telephone installation shall maintain in the radio telegraph or radio telephone room a radio log in which shall be entered such particulars relating to the operation of the radio telegraph or radio telephone installation and as to the maintenance of the radio telegraph or radio telephone service as may be prescribed.

(2) The provisions of section 215 shall apply to the radio log kept under this section as if it were an official log.

294. Powers of radio inspectors.

(1) A radio inspector may inspect any ship for the purpose of seeing that she is properly provided with a radio telegraph or radio telephone installation and certificated operators in conformity with this Part, and for this purpose may go on board any ship at all reasonable times and do all things necessary for the proper inspection of the ship for the purpose of the provisions of this Part relating to radio telegraphy or radio telephony and may also require the master of the ship to supply him with any information which it is in the power of the master to supply for that purpose, including the production of any certificate granted under this Part in respect of the installation, and of the certificates of the operators and watchers on the ship:

Provided that if a valid safety convention certificate is produced in respect of any ship other than an Indian ship, the inspection shall be limited to seeing that the ship is provided with a radio telegraph or radio telephone installation and that the number of certified operators corresponds substantially with the particulars stated in the certificate.

(2) If a radio inspector finds that a ship is not so provided, he shall give to the master or owner notice in writing pointing out the deficiency, and also pointing out what in his opinion is requisite to remedy the same.

(3) Every notice given under sub-section (2) shall be communicated in the prescribed manner to the customs collector of any port at which the ship may seek to obtain port clearance who shall order that the ship shall be detained until a certificate under the hand of a radio inspector is produced to the effect that the ship is properly provided with a radio telegraph or radio telephone installation and certified operators and watchers in conformity with this Part.

295. Application of this Part to ships other than Indian Ships.

The provisions of this Part relating to radio telegraphy, radio telephony and direction finders shall apply to ships other than Indian ships while they are within any port in India in like manner as they apply to Indian ships.

296. Power to make rules.

(1) The Central Government may make rules to carry out the purposes of this Part relating to radio telegraphy or radio telephony.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may prescribe—

- (a) the nature of the radio telegraph or radio telephone installation and radio direction finding apparatus to be provided and of the service to be maintained, the form of the radio log and the particulars to be entered therein, and the number, grades and qualifications of certified operators to be carried;
- (b) the manner in which a notice given under section 294 shall be communicated to the customs collector;
- (c) the charging of fees for the grant of the certificate referred to in sub-section (3) of section 294, the amount of such fees and the manner in which they shall be recoverable.

Signalling lamps

297. Signalling lamps.

(3) Every Indian ship exceeding one hundred and fifty tons gross shall, when proceeding to sea from any port or place in India to any port or place outside India, be provided with a signalling lamp of the type approved by the Central Government.

Stability information

298. Information about ships's stability.

(1) There shall be carried on board every Indian ship whose keel was laid after the 15th day of June, 1953, such information in writing about the ship's stability as is necessary for the guidance of the master in loading and ballasting the ship.

(2) The said information shall be in such form as may be approved by the Central Government (which may approve the provision of the information in the form of a diagram or drawing only) and shall be based on the determination of the ship's stability by means of an inclining test of the ship :

Provided that the Central Government may allow the information to be based on a similar determination of the stability of a sister ship.

(3) When any information under this section is provided for any ship, the owner shall send a copy thereof to the Director-General.

(4) It is hereby declared that for the purpose of section 208 (which requires documents relating to navigation to be delivered by the master of a ship to his successor) information under this section shall be deemed to be a document relating to the navigation of the ship.

Safety certificates, safety equipment certificates, safety radio telegraphy certificates, safety radio telephony certificates, exemption certificates, etc.

299. Safety certificates and qualified safety certificates for passenger ships.

(1) Where, on receipt of a declaration of survey granted under Part VIII in respect of a passenger ship, the Central Government is satisfied that the ship complies with the construction rules and with the provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder relating to life saving and fire appliances and radio telegraphy or radio telephony installation applicable to such ship and is provided with lights and shapes and the means of making fog and distress signals required by the collision regulations, the Central Government may issue in respect of the ship a certificate in the prescribed form to be called a safety certificate.

(2) Where on receipt of declaration of survey granted under Part VIII in respect of a passenger ship the Central Government is satisfied that there is in force in respect of the ship an exemption certificate granted under section 302 and that the ship complies with all the requirements referred to in sub-section (1) other than those from which the ship is exempt under that certificate, the Central Government may issue in respect of the ship a certificate in the prescribed form to be called a qualified safety certificate.

300. Safety equipment and equipment certificates for ships other than passenger ships.

(1) If in respect of any Indian ship of five hundred tons gross or more, not being a passenger ship, the Central Government is satisfied that the ship complies with the provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder relating to life saving and fire appliances and radio telegraphy or radio telephony installation applicable to such ship and is provided with lights and shapes and the means of making fog and distress signals required by the collision regulations, the Central Government may issue in respect of the ship—

(a) where the ship performs voyages between ports or places in India and ports or places outside India, a certificate in the prescribed form to be called a safety equipment certificate;

(b) where the ship performs voyages only between ports or places in India, a certificate in the prescribed form to be called an equipment certificate.

(2) Where in respect of any such ship as is referred to in sub-section (1), there is in force an exemption certificate granted under section 302 and the Central Government is satisfied that the ship complies with all the requirements referred to in that sub-section other than those from which the ship is exempt under that certificate, the Central Government may issue a certificate in the prescribed form to be called a qualified safety equipment certificate or a qualified equipment certificate, as the case may be.

301. Radio telegraphy and telephony certificates.

The owner or master of any Indian ship, not being a passenger ship, which is required by the provisions of section 291 to be provided with a radio telegraphy or radio telephony installation shall, if the Central Government is satisfied that the ship complies with all the provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder relating to radio telegraphy or radio telephony applicable to such ship, receive—

- (a) in the case of a ship performing voyages between ports in India and ports outside India, a certificate in the prescribed form to be called a safety radio telegraphy certificate, or as the case may be, a safety radio telephony certificate;
- (b) in the case of a ship performing voyages only between ports in India, a certificate in the prescribed form to be called a radio telephony certificate, or as the case may be, a radio telephony certificate.

302. Exemption certificates.

The owner or master of an Indian ship which is exempt from any of the provisions of the construction rules or of this Act and the rules made thereunder relating to life saving and fire appliances and radio telegraphy or radio telephony installation shall, on application to the officer appointed in this behalf by the Central Government, receive from such officer a certificate in the prescribed form to be called an exemption certificate.

303. Duration of certificates.

(1) A safety equipment certificate, a qualified safety equipment certificate, an equipment certificate and a qualified equipment certificate issued under this Part shall be in force for twenty-four months from the date of its issue or for such shorter period as may be specified in the certificate.

(2) Any certificate issued under this Part not specified in sub-section (1) shall be in force for twelve months from the date of its issue or for such shorter period as may be specified in the certificate.

(3) The Central Government or any person authorised by it in this behalf may grant an extension of any certificate issued under this Part in respect of an Indian ship for a period not exceeding one month from the date when the certificate would but for the extension have expired, or if the ship is absent from India on that date, for a period not exceeding five months from that date.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section a certificate issued under this Part shall not remain in force after notice is given by the authority issuing the certificate to the owner or master of the ship in respect of which it has been issued that that authority has cancelled the certificate.

304. Modification of safety convention certificates as respects life saving appliances.

(1) If an Indian ship in respect of which a safety certificate issued under section 299 is in force has on board in the course of a particular voyage a total number of persons less than the number stated in the certificate to be the number for which the life saving appliances on the ship provide, the owner or master of the ship may obtain from the authority issuing the certificate, or any person authorised by the authority for the purpose, a memorandum to be attached to the certificate stating the total number of persons carried on the ship on that voyage, and the modifications which may be made for the purpose of that voyage in the particulars with respect to life saving appliances stated in the certificate.

(2) Where a valid safety convention certificate is produced in respect of a passenger ship other than an Indian ship and there is attached to the certificate a memorandum which—

- (a) has been issued by or under the authority of the Government of the country in which the ship is registered, and

- (b) modifies for the purpose of any particular voyage, in view of the number of persons actually carried on that voyage, the particulars stated in the certificate with respect to life saving appliances, the certificate shall have effect for the purpose of that voyage as if it were modified in accordance with the memorandum.

305. Recognition of certificates issued outside India.

A valid safety convention certificate issued in respect of a ship other than an Indian ship by the Government of the country to which the ship belongs shall, subject to such rules as the Central Government may make in this behalf, have the same effect in India as the corresponding certificate issued in respect of an Indian ship under this Part.

306. Issue of certificates to foreign ships in India and Indian ships in foreign countries.

(1) The Central Government may, at the request of the Government of a country to which the Safety Convention applies, cause an appropriate safety convention certificate to be issued in respect of a ship registered in that country, if it is satisfied in like manner as in the case of an Indian ship that such certificate can properly be issued, and where a certificate is issued at such a request, it shall contain a statement that it has been so issued.

(2) The Central Government may request the Government of a country to which the Safety Convention applies to issue an appropriate safety convention certificate in respect of an Indian ship and a certificate issued in pursuance of such a request and containing a statement that it has been so issued shall have effect for the purpose of this Act as if it had been issued by the Central Government.

307. Prohibition on proceeding to sea without certificates.

(1) No Indian passenger ship shall proceed on a voyage from any port or place in India to any port or place outside India unless there is in force in respect of the ship either—

(a) a safety certificate issued under section 299; or

(b) a qualified safety certificate issued under section 299 and an exemption certificate issued under section 302;

being a certificate which by the terms thereof is applicable to the voyage on which the ship is about to proceed and to the trade in which she is for the time being engaged.

(2) No sea-going Indian ship, of five hundred tons gross or more, not being a passenger ship, shall proceed on a voyage from any place in India to any place outside India unless there is in force in respect of the ship—

(a) such certificate or certificates as would be required in her case by the provisions of sub-section (1) if she were a passenger ship, or

(b) a safety equipment certificate issued under section 300 and a safety radio telegraphy certificate or, as the case may be, a safety radio telephony certificate issued under section 301, or

(c) a qualified safety equipment certificate issued under section 300 and an exemption certificate issued under section 302 being certificates which by the terms thereof are applicable to the voyage on which the ship is about to proceed and to the trade in which she is for the time being engaged.

(3) No sea-going Indian ship of five hundred tons gross or more, not being a passenger ship, shall proceed on a voyage between ports or places in India unless there is in force in respect of the ship—

(a) an equipment certificate issued under section 300;

(b) a qualified equipment certificate issued under section 300 and an exemption certificate issued under section 302;

(c) a radio telegraphy certificate or a radio telephony certificate issued under section 301 or an exemption certificate issued under section 302;

(4) The master of every ship to which this section applies shall produce to the customs collector from whom a port clearance for the ship is demanded the certificate or certificates required by the foregoing provisions of this section to be in force when the ship proceeds to sea, and the port clearance shall not be granted and the ship may be detained until the said certificate or certificates are so produced.

308. Production of certificates by ships other than Indian ships.

(1) The master of every ship other than an Indian ship being a passenger ship or being a ship of five hundred tons gross or more belonging to a country to which the Safety Convention applies, shall produce a valid safety convention certificate to the customs collector from whom a clearance for the ship is demanded in respect of a voyage from a port or place in India to a port or place outside India and a clearance shall not be granted and the ship may be detained until such a certificate is so produced.

(2) Where a valid safety convention certificate is produced in respect of a ship other than an Indian ship, the ship shall not be deemed to be unsafe for the purpose of section 342 by reason of the defective condition of her hull, equipment or machinery unless it appears that the ship cannot proceed to sea without danger to the passengers or crew owing to the fact that the actual condition of the ship does not correspond substantially with the particulars stated in the certificate.

309. Application of certain sections to certificates.

The provisions of sections 228 to 231 (inclusive) shall apply to and in relation to every certificate issued by the Central Government under sections 299, 300, 301 and 302 in the same manner as they apply to and in relation to a certificate of survey.

Load lines

310. Ships exempt from provisions relating to load lines.

(1) Save as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of this Part relating to load lines shall apply to all sailing vessels as they apply to ships, and accordingly, the expression "ship" in the said provisions of this Part shall be construed as including a sailing vessel.

(2) The provisions of this Part relating to load lines shall not apply to—

(a) any sailing vessel of less than one hundred and fifty tons gross employed in plying coastwise between ports situated within India, Pakistan, Burma and Ceylon;

(b) and ship solely engaged in fishing;

(c) any pleasure yacht.

(3) The Central Government may, on such conditions as it may think fit, exempt from the provisions of this Part relating to load lines—

(a) any ship plying between the near neighbouring ports of two or more countries, if the Central Government and the Governments of those countries are satisfied that the sheltered nature and conditions of the voyages between those ports make it unreasonable or impracticable to apply to ships so plying the provisions of this Part relating to load lines;

- (b) any ship plying between near neighbouring ports of the same country, if the Central Government is satisfied as aforesaid;
- (c) wooden ships of primitive build, if the Central Government considers that it would be unreasonable or impracticable to apply the said provisions to them;
- (d) any class of coasting ships of less than one hundred and fifty tons gross which do not carry cargo.

311. Power to make rules as to load lines.

The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules (hereafter in this Act referred to as the load line rules) regulating the survey of ships for the purpose of assignment and marking of load lines and prescribing the conditions (hereafter in this Act referred to as the conditions of assignment) on which load lines may be assigned.

312. Marking of deck line and load lines.

(1) No Indian ship, being a ship of which the keel was laid after the 30th day of June, 1932, and not being exempt from the provisions of this Part relating to load lines, shall proceed to sea unless—

- (a) the ship has been surveyed in accordance with the load line rules;
- (b) the ship complies with the conditions of assignment;
- (c) the ship is marked on each side with a mark (hereafter in this Act referred to as a deck line) indicating the position of the uppermost complete deck as defined by the load line rules, and with marks (hereafter in this Act referred to as load lines) indicating the several maximum depths to which the ship can be safely loaded in various circumstances prescribed by the load line rules;
- (d) the deck line and load lines are of the description required by the load line rules, the deck line is in the position required by those rules, and the load lines are of the number required by such of those rules as are applicable to the ship; and
- (e) the load lines are in the position required by such of the load line rules as are applicable to the ship.

(2) No Indian ship, being a ship of which the keel was laid before the 1st day of July, 1932, and not being exempt from the provisions of this Part relating to load lines, shall proceed to sea unless—

- (a) the ship has been surveyed and marked in accordance with clauses (a), (c) and (d) of sub-section (1);
- (b) the ship complies with the conditions of assignment in principle and also in detail so far as, in the opinion of the Central Government, is reasonable and practicable having regard to the efficiency of the protection of openings, the guard rails, the freeing ports and the means of access to the crew's quarters provided by the arrangements, fittings and appliances existing on the ship at the time when she is first surveyed under this section; and
- (c) the load lines are either in the position required by cl. (e) of sub-section (1) or in the position required by the tables used by the Board of Trade of the United Kingdom on 31-12-1906, for fixing the position of load lines, subject to such modifications of those tables and of the application thereof as were in force immediately before 5-7-1930.

(3) Any ship attempting to proceed to sea without being surveyed and marked as required by this section may be detained until she has been surveyed and marked, and any ship which does not comply with the conditions of assignment to the extent required in her case by this section shall be deemed to be unsafe for the purpose of S. 336.

313. Submersion of load lines.

(1) An Indian ship (not being exempt from the provisions of this Part relating to load lines) shall not be so loaded as to submerge in salt water, when the ship has no list, the appropriate load line on each side of the ship, that is to say, the load line indicating or purporting to indicate the maximum depth to which the ship is for the time being entitled under the load line rules to be loaded.

(2) Without prejudice to any other proceedings under this Act, any ship which is loaded in contravention of this section may be detained until she ceases to be so loaded.

314. Maintenance of load line marks.

(1) No owner or master of an Indian ship which has been marked in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this Part, shall without reasonable cause, fail to keep the ship so marked.

(2) No person shall conceal, remove, alter, deface or obliterate, or suffer any person under his control to conceal, remove, alter, deface or obliterate any mark placed on any such ship in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this Part except with the authority of a person entitled under the load line rules to authorise the alteration of the mark or except for the purpose of escaping capture by an enemy or by a foreign ship of war in the exercise of some belligerent right.

315. Inspection of ships with respect to load lines.

A surveyor may inspect any Indian ship for the purpose of seeing that the provisions of this Part relating to load lines have been complied with and for this purpose may go on board the ship at all reasonable times and do all things necessary for the proper inspection of the ship and may also require the master of the ship to supply him with any information which it is in the power of the master to supply for that purpose, including the production of any certificate granted under this Part in respect of the ship.

*Load line certificates.316. Issue of load line certificates and effect thereof.

(1) Where an Indian ship has been surveyed and marked in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this Part and complies with the conditions of assignment to the extent required in her case by those provisions, there shall be issued to the owner of the ship on his application and on payment of the prescribed fee,—

(a) in the case of a ship of one hundred and fifty tons gross or more which carries cargo or passengers, a certificate to be called “an international load line certificate”; and

(b) in the case of any other ship, a certificate to be called “an Indian load line certificate.”

(2) Every such certificate shall be issued either by the Central Government or by such other person as may be authorised in that behalf by the Central Government and shall be issued in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the load line rules.

(3) The Central Government may request the Government of a country to which the Load Line Convention applies to issue a load line certificate in the form of an international load line certificate under that Convention in respect of an Indian ship and a certificate issued in pursuance of such a request and containing a statement that it has been so issued shall have effect for the purposes of this Part as if it had been issued by the Central Government.

(4) Where a load line certificate issued in pursuance of this section and for the time being in force, is produced in respect of a ship, the ship shall, for the purposes of the foregoing provisions of this Part, be deemed to have been surveyed as required by those provisions, and if the deck line and load lines on the ship are of the number and description required by the load line rules and the position of the deck line and load lines corresponds with the position specified in the certificate, the ship shall be deemed to be marked as required by those provisions.

317. Duration, renewal and cancellation of certificates.

(1) Every load line certificate issued by or under the authority of the Central Government, shall, unless it is renewed in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2), expire at the end of such period, not exceeding five years from the date of its issue, as may be specified therein.

(2) Any such load line certificate may, after a survey not less effective than the survey required by the load line rules before the issue of the certificate, be renewed from time to time by the Central Government or by any person authorised by the Central Government to issue a load line certificate, for such period not exceeding five years on any occasion as the Central Government or the person renewing the certificate thinks fit.

(3) The Central Government may cancel any such load line certificate in force in respect of a ship if it has reason to believe that—

- (a) material alterations have taken place in the hull or superstructures of the ship which affect the position of the load lines; or
- (b) the fittings and appliances for the protection of openings, the guard rails, the freeing ports or the means of access to the crew's quarters have not been maintained on the ship in as effective a condition as they were in when the certificate was issued; or
- (c) the marking of the deck line and load lines on the ship have not been properly maintained:

Provided that no such order shall be made unless the person concerned has been given an opportunity of making a representation against the order proposed.

(4) The owner of every ship in respect of which any such certificate has been issued shall, so long as the certificate remains in force, cause the ship to be surveyed in the prescribed manner once at least in each year after the issue of the certificate for the purpose of seeing whether the certificate should, having regard to sub-section (3), remain in force, and if the ship is not so surveyed, the Central Government may cancel the certificate:

Provided that the Central Government, if it thinks fit in any particular case, may extend the said period of one year.

(5) Where any such load line certificate has expired or been cancelled, the Central Government may require the owner or master of the ship to which the certificate relates to deliver up the certificate as it directs and the ship may be detained until such requirement has been complied with.

(6) On the survey of any ship in pursuance of this section there shall be paid by the owner of the ship such fee as may be prescribed.

318. Ships not to proceed to sea without certificate.

(1) No Indian ship shall proceed to sea unless there is in force in respect of the ship a load line certificate issued under the provisions of section 316.

(2) The master of every Indian ship shall produce to the customs collector, from whom a port clearance for the ship is demanded, the certificate which is required by the foregoing provisions of this section to be in force when the ship proceeds to sea, and the port clearance shall not be granted, and the ship may be detained, until that certificate is so produced.

319. Publication of load line certificate and particulars relating to depth of loading.

(1) When a load line certificate has been issued in pursuance of the foregoing provisions of this Part in respect of an Indian ship other than a home-trade ship of less than two hundred tons gross—

- (a) the owner of the ship shall forthwith on the receipt of the certificate cause it to be posted up in some conspicuous place on board the ship and to be kept so posted up and legible so long as the certificate remains in force and the ship is in use ; and
- (b) the master of the ship, before making any other entry in any official log book, shall enter or cause to be entered therein the particulars as to the position of the deck line and load lines specified in the certificate.

(2) Before any such ship leaves any dock, wharf, harbour or other place for the purpose of proceeding to sea, the master thereof shall—

- (a) enter or cause to be entered in the official log book such particulars relating to the depth to which the ship is for the time being loaded as the Central Government may by rules made in this behalf prescribe; and
- (b) cause a notice in such form and containing such of the said particulars as may be required by the said rules, to be posted up in some conspicuous place on board the ship and to be kept so posted up and legible until the ship arrives at some other dock, wharf, harbour or place :

Provided that the Central Government may by the said rules exempt home-trade ships or any class of home-trade ships from the requirements of clause (b) of this sub-section.

320. Insertion of particulars as to load lines in agreements with the crew.

(1) Before an agreement with the crew of any ship in respect of which a load line certificate is in force, is signed by any member of the crew, the master of the ship shall insert in the agreement the particulars as to the position of the deck line and load lines specified in the certificate.

(2) In the case of a ship required by this Act to engage its crew before a shipping master, the shipping master shall not proceed with the engagement of the crew until—

- (a) there is produced to him a load line certificate for the time being in force in respect of the ship ; and
- (b) he is satisfied that the particulars required by this section have been inserted in the agreement with the crew.

321. Issue of load line certificates to foreign ships in India and Indian ships in foreign countries.

The Central Government may, at the request of a country to which the Load Line Convention applies, issue an international load line certificate in respect of a ship registered in that country if it is satisfied in like manner as in the case of an Indian ship that it can properly issue the certificate and where the certificate is issued at such a request, it shall contain a statement that it has been so issued.

322. Recognition of load line certificates issued outside India.

An international load line certificate issued in respect of any ship other than an Indian ship by the Government of the country to which the ship belongs shall, subject to such rules as the Central Government may make in this behalf, have the same effect in India as a load line certificate issued in respect of an Indian ship under this Part.

323. Inspection and control of Load Line Convention ships other than Indian ships.

(1) A surveyor may, at any reasonable time, go on board any ship other than an Indian ship being a ship of one hundred and fifty tons gross or more carrying cargo or passengers and registered in a country to which the Load Line Convention applies, when such ship is within any port in India, for the purpose of demanding the production of any load line certificate for the time being in force in respect of the ship.

(2) If a valid international load line certificate is produced to the surveyor on any such demand, the surveyor's powers of inspecting the ship with respect to load line shall be limited to seeing—

- (a) that the ship is not loaded beyond the limits allowed by the certificate ;
- (b) that the position of the load lines on the ship corresponds with the position specified in the certificate ;
- (c) that no material alterations have taken place in the hull or superstructures of the ship which affect the position of the load lines ;
- (d) that the fittings and appliances for the protection of openings, the guard rails, the freeing ports and the means of access to the crew's quarters have been maintained on the ship in as effective a condition as they were in when the certificate was issued.

(3) If it is found on any such inspection that the ship is loaded beyond the limits allowed by the certificate, the ship may be detained and the provisions of section 342 shall apply.

(4) If it is found on any such inspection that the load lines on the ship are not in the position specified in the certificate, the ship may be detained until the matter has been rectified to the satisfaction of the surveyor.

(5) If it is found on any such inspection that the ship has been so materially altered in respect of the matters referred to in clauses (c) and (d) of sub-section (2) that the ship is manifestly unfit to proceed to sea without danger to human life, the ship shall be deemed to be unsafe for the purpose of section 336 (in the case of an Indian ship) or for the purpose of section 342 (in the case of any other ship) :

Provided that where the ship has been detained under either of the last-mentioned sub-sections, the Central Government shall order the ship to be released as soon as it is satisfied that the ship is fit to proceed to sea without danger to human life.

(6) If a valid international load line certificate is not produced to the surveyor on such demand as aforesaid the surveyor shall have the same power of inspecting the ship, for the purpose of seeing that the provisions of this Part relating to load lines have been complied with as if the ship were an Indian ship.

(7) For the purposes of this section a ship shall be deemed to be loaded beyond the limits allowed by the certificate if she is so loaded as to submerge in salt water, when the ship has no list, the appropriate load line on each side of the ship, that is to say, the load line appearing by the certificate to indicate the maximum depth to which the ship is for the time being entitled under the Load Line Convention, to be loaded.

324. Certificate of Load Line Convention ships other than Indian ships to be produced to customs.

The master of every ship other than an Indian ship, being a ship of one hundred and fifty tons gross or more carrying cargo or passengers, and belonging to a country to which the Load Line Convention applies, shall produce to the customs collector from whom a port clearance for the ship from any port in India is demanded—

- (a) in a case where port clearance is demanded in respect of a voyage to a port outside India, a valid international load line certificate;

(b) in a case where port clearance is demanded in respect of any other voyage, either a valid international load line certificate or a valid Indian load line certificate; and the port clearance shall not be granted, and the ship may be detained, until the certificate required by this section is so produced.

325. Marking of deck line and load lines of ships other than Indian ships.

The provisions of section 312 shall apply to ships other than Indian ships proceeding or attempting to proceed to sea from ports in India as they apply to Indian ships subject to the following modifications, namely :

- (a) the said section shall not apply to a ship other than an Indian ship if a valid international load line certificate is produced in respect of the ship; and
- (b) subject to the provisions of clause (a), a ship other than an Indian ship which does not comply with the conditions of assignment to the extent required in her case by section 323 shall be deemed to be unsafe for the purpose of section 342.

326. Submersion of load line of ships other than Indian ships.

The provisions of section 313 shall apply to ships other than Indian ships, while they are within any port in India as they apply to Indian ships subject to the following modifications, namely :

- (a) no ship of one hundred and fifty tons gross or more carrying cargo or passengers and belonging to a country to which the Load Line Convention applies, shall be detained and no proceedings shall be taken against the owner or master thereof by virtue of the said section except after an inspection by a surveyor as provided by section 323, and
- (b) the expression "the appropriate load line" in relation to any ship other than an Indian ship shall mean—
  - (i) in the case of a ship in respect of which there is produced on such an inspection as aforesaid a valid international loadline certificate, the load line appearing by the certificate to indicate the maximum depth to which the ship is for the time being entitled under the Load Line Convention, to be loaded;
  - (ii) in any other case, the load line which corresponds with the load line indicating the maximum depth to which the ship is for the time being entitled under the load line rules to be loaded, or, if no load line on the ship corresponds as aforesaid, the lowest load line thereon.

327. Inspection of ships other than Indian ships belonging to non-Convention countries.

The provisions of section 315 shall apply, in the same manner as they apply to Indian ships, to all ships registered in a country to which the Load Line Convention does not apply while they are within Indian jurisdiction.

328. Load line certificates of ships other than Indian ships.

(1) The provisions of this Part relating to the issue, effect, duration, renewal and cancellation of Indian load line certificates shall apply to ships other than Indian ships as they apply to Indian ships subject to the following modifications, namely :

- (a) any such certificate may be issued in respect of any such ship as in respect of an Indian ship provided that any such certificate issued in respect of a ship of one hundred and fifty tons gross or more carrying cargo or passengers and registered in a country to which the Load Line Convention applies, shall only be valid so long as the ship is not plying on voyages from or to any port in India to or from any place outside India and shall be endorsed with a statement to that effect and shall be cancelled by the Central Government if it has reason to believe that the ship is so plying; and

(b) the survey required for the purpose of seeing whether the certificate should remain in force shall take place when required by the Central Government.

(g) If the Central Government is satisfied—

(a) that provision has been made for the fixing, marking and certifying of load lines by the law in force in any country outside India with respect to ships (or any class or description of ships) of that country and has also been so made (or has been agreed to be so made) for recognising Indian load line certificates as having the same effect in ports of that country as certificates issued under the said provision, and

(b) that the said provision for the fixing, marking and certifying of load lines is based on the same principles as the corresponding provisions of this Part relating to load lines and is equally effective, it may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that load line certificates issued in pursuance of the said provision or in respect of ships (or that class or description of ships) of that country, shall have the same effect for the purpose of this Part as Indian load line certificates :

Provided that such direction shall not apply to ships of one hundred and fifty tons gross or more carrying cargo or passengers and registered in countries to which the Load Line Convention applies, if such ships are engaged in plying on voyages from or to any port in India to or from any port outside India.

329. Certificates to be produced to customs by ships other than Indian ships registered in non-Convention countries.

The master of every ship registered in a country to which the Load Line Convention does not apply shall produce to the customs collector from whom a port clearance for the ship from any port in India is demanded, either an Indian load line certificate or a certificate having effect under this Act as such a certificate, being a certificate for the time being in force in respect of the ship, and the port clearance shall not be granted and the ship may be detained until the certificate required by this section is so produced.

Loading of timber

330. Power to make rules as to timber cargo.

(1) The Central Government shall, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules (hereafter in this section referred to as the timber cargo rules) as to the conditions on which timber may be carried as cargo in any uncovered space on the deck of any Indian ship.

(2) The timber cargo rules may prescribe a special load line to be used only when the ship is carrying timber as cargo on deck and the conditions on which such special load line may be assigned, and may further prescribe either generally or with reference to particular voyages and seasons the manner and position in which such timber is to be stowed and the provisions which are to be made for the safety of the crew.

(3) Any surveyor may at any reasonable time, inspect any Indian ship carrying timber as cargo in any uncovered space on her deck for the purpose of seeing whether the timber cargo rules have been complied with.

(4) The foregoing provisions of this section and the timber cargo rules shall apply to ships other than Indian ships while they are within Indian jurisdiction as they apply to Indian ships.

*Dangerous goods and grain cargoes331. Carriage of dangerous goods.

(1) The Central Government may make rules for regulating in the interests of safety the carriage of dangerous goods in ships.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for the classification of such goods, the packing, marking and stowing of such goods or any class of goods and the fixing of the maximum quantity of any such class of goods which may be carried in different ships or classes of ships.

(3) The owner, master or agent of a ship carrying or intending to carry any dangerous goods as cargo and about to make a voyage from a port in India shall furnish in advance the prescribed particulars of the ship and the cargo to such authority as may be prescribed for the purpose.

(4) A surveyor may inspect the ship for the purpose of securing that any rules under this section are complied with.

(5) If any of the rules made in pursuance of this section is not complied with in relation to any ship, the ship shall be deemed for the purpose of this Part to be an unsafe ship.

(6) This section shall apply, in the same manner as it applies to Indian ships, to ships other than Indian ships while they are within any port in India or are embarking or disembarking passengers or are loading or discharging cargo or fuel within Indian jurisdiction.

Explanation.—In this section the expression “dangerous goods” means goods which by reason of the nature, quantity or mode of stowage are either singly or collectively liable to endanger the life or the health of persons on or near the ship or to imperil the ship, and includes all substances within the meaning of the expression “explosive” as defined in the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and any other goods which the Central Government may by notification in the Official Gazette specify as dangerous goods but shall not include any fog or distress signals or like equipment required to be carried by the ship under this Act or the rules or regulations thereunder.

332. Carriage of grain.

(1) Where grain is loaded on board any Indian ship anywhere or is loaded within any port in India on board any other ship, all necessary and reasonable precautions shall be taken to prevent the grain from shifting; and if such precautions as aforesaid are not taken, the owner or the master of the ship or any agent of the owner who was charged with the loading or with sending the ship to sea laden with grain shall be guilty of an offence under this sub-section and the ship shall be deemed for the purposes of this Part to be unsafe by reason of improper loading.

(2) Where any ship which is loaded with grain outside India without all necessary and reasonable precautions having been taken to prevent the grain from shifting, enters any port in India so laden, the owner or master of the ship shall be guilty of an offence under this sub-section and the ship shall be deemed for the purposes of this Part to be unsafe by reason of improper loading.

(3) On the arrival at a port in India from a port outside India of any ship carrying a cargo of grain, the master shall cause to be delivered at the port to such customs or other officer as may be specified by the Central Government in this behalf, a notice stating—

(a) the draught of water and free board of the said ship after the loading of the cargo was completed at the final port of loading; and

(b) the following particulars of the grain carried, namely:—

(i) the kind of grain and quantity thereof stated in cubic feet, quarters, bushels or tons weight;

- (ii) the mode in which the grain is stowed; and
- (iii) the precautions taken to prevent the grain from shifting.

(4) Any person authorised in this behalf by general or special order of the Central Government may, for securing the observance of the provisions of this section, inspect a ship carrying a cargo of grain and the mode in which such cargo is stowed therein.

(5) The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules in relation to the loading of ships with grain generally or of ships of any class specifying the precautions to be taken, and when such precautions have been prescribed, they shall be treated for the purposes of this section to be included in the expression "necessary and reasonable precautions".

(6) In this section, the expression "grain" includes wheat, maize, oats, rye, barley, rice, pulses and seeds, and the expression "ship carrying a cargo of grain" means a ship carrying a quantity of grain exceeding one-third of the ship's registered tonnage reckoning one hundred cubic feet or two tons of weight of grain as equivalent to one ton of registered tonnage.

Sub-division load lines

333. Submersion of sub-division load lines in case of passenger ships.

(1) Where—

- (a) an Indian passenger ship has been marked with sub-division load lines, that is to say, load lines indicating the depth to which the ship may be loaded having regard to the extent to which she is sub-divided and to the space for the time being allotted to passengers, and
- (b) the appropriate sub-division load line, that is to say, the sub-division load line appropriate to the space for the time being allotted to passengers on the ship, is lower than the load line indicating the maximum depth to which the ship is for the time being entitled under the provisions of this Part to be loaded, the ship shall not be so loaded as to submerge in salt water the appropriate sub-division load line on each side of the ship when the ship has no list.

(2) Without prejudice to any other proceedings under this Act, any such ship which is loaded in contravention of this section may be detained until she ceases to be so loaded.

Unseaworthy ships

334. Unseaworthy ship not to be sent to sea.

(1) Every person who sends or attempts to send an Indian ship to sea from any port in India in such an unseaworthy state that the life of any person is likely to be thereby endangered shall, unless he proves that he used all reasonable means to insure her being sent to sea in a seaworthy state or that her going to sea in such unseaworthy state was under the circumstances reasonable and justifiable, be guilty of an offence under this sub-section.

(2) Every master of an Indian ship who knowingly takes such ship to sea in such unseaworthy state that the life of any person is likely to be thereby endangered shall, unless he proves that her going to sea in such unseaworthy state was, under the circumstances, reasonable and justifiable, be guilty of an offence under this sub-section.

(3) For the purpose of giving such proof, every person charged under this section may give evidence in the same manner as any other witness.

(4) No prosecution under this section shall be instituted except by, or with the consent of, the Central Government.

(5) A ship is "unseaworthy" within the meaning of this Act when the materials of which she is made, her construction, the qualifications of the master, the number, description and qualifications of the crew including officers, the weight, description and stowage of the cargo and ballast, the condition of her hull and equipment, boilers and machinery are not such as to render her in every respect fit for the proposed voyage or service.

335. Obligation of owner to crew with respect to seaworthiness.

(1) In every contract of service, express or implied between the owner of an Indian ship and the master or any seaman thereof, and in every contract of apprenticeship whereby any person is bound to serve as an apprentice on board any such ship, there shall be implied, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, an obligation on the owner that such owner and the master, and every agent charged with the loading of such ship or the preparing thereof for sea, or the sending thereof to sea, shall use all reasonable means to ensure the seaworthiness of such ship for the voyage at the time when such voyage commences, and to keep her in a seaworthy state during the voyage.

(2) For the purpose of seeing that the provisions of this section have been complied with, the Central Government may, either at the request of the owner or otherwise, arrange for a survey of the hull, equipment or machinery of any sea-going ship by a surveyor.

Detention of unsafe ships by the Central Government.

336. Power to detain unsafe ship and procedure for detention.

(1) Where an Indian ship in any port to which the Central Government may specially extend this section is an unsafe ship, that is to say, is by reason of the defective condition of her hull, equipment or machinery, or by reason of overloading or improper loading, unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life, having regard to the nature of the service for which she is intended, such ship may be provisionally detained for the purpose of being surveyed and either finally detained or released as follows, namely :—

- (a) The Central Government, if it has reason to believe, on complaint or otherwise, that any such ship is unsafe, may order the ship to be provisionally detained as an unsafe ship for the purpose of being surveyed.
- (b) A written statement of the grounds of such detention shall be forthwith served on the master of such ship.
- (c) When the Central Government provisionally orders the detention of a ship, it shall either refer the matter to the Court of survey for the port where the ship is detained, or forthwith appoint some competent person to survey such ship and report thereon; and, on receiving the report, may either order the ship to be released or if in its opinion the ship is unsafe, may order her to be finally detained, either absolutely or until the performance of such conditions with respect to the execution of repairs or alterations, or the unloading or reloading of cargo, as the Central Government thinks necessary for the protection of human life.
- (d) Before an order for final detention is made, a copy of the report shall be served upon the master of the ship, and within seven days after such service the owner or master may appeal against such report, in the manner prescribed, to the Court of survey for the port where the ship is detained.
- (e) Where a ship has been provisionally detained and a person has been appointed under this section to survey such ship, the owner or master of the ship, at any time before such person makes that survey, may require that he shall take with him as assessor such person as the owner or master may select, being a person named in the list of assessors for the Court of survey or, if there is no such list, or if it is impracticable to procure the attendance of any person named in such list, a person of nautical, engineering or other special skill and experience. If the surveyor and assessor agree that the ship should be detained or released, the Central Government shall cause the ship to be detained or released accordingly, and the owner or master shall have no right of appeal. If the surveyor and assessor differ in their report, the Central Government may act as if the requisition had not been made, and the owner or master shall have a right of such appeal touching the report of the surveyor as is hereinbefore provided in this section.

(f) Where a ship has been provisionally detained, the Central Government may at any time if it thinks it expedient, refer the matter to the Court of survey for the port where the ship is detained.

(g) The Central Government may at any time, if satisfied that a ship detained under this section is not unsafe, order her to be released either upon or without any conditions.

(2) Any person appointed by the Central Government for the purpose (in this Act referred to as a detaining officer) shall have the same power as the Central Government has under this section of provisionally ordering the detention of a ship for the purpose of being surveyed, and of appointing a person to survey her; and if he thinks that a ship so detained by him is not unsafe, may order her to be released.

(3) A detaining officer shall forthwith report to the Central Government any order made by him for the detention or release of a ship.

(4) A ship detained under this section shall not be released by reason of her Indian register being subsequently closed.

Costs of detention and damages incidental thereto

337. Liability of Central Government for costs and damage when ship wrongly detained.

If it appears that there was not reasonable and probable cause, by reason of the condition of the ship or the act or default of the owner or the master, for the provisional detention of a ship, the Central Government shall be liable to pay to the owner of the ship his costs of and incidental to the detention and survey of the ship, and also compensation for any loss or damage sustained by him by reason of the detention or survey.

338. Liability of shipowner for costs when ship rightly detained.

If a ship is finally detained under this Part, or if it appears that a ship provisionally detained was at the time of such detention unsafe, or if a ship is detained in pursuance of any provision of this Part which provides for the detention of a ship until a certain event occurs, the owner of the ship shall be liable to pay to the Central Government its costs of and incidental to the detention and survey of the ship; and the ship shall not be released until such costs are paid.

339. Method of calculating costs of detention and survey.

For the purposes of this Act, the costs of and incidental to any proceeding before a Court of survey, and a reasonable amount in respect of the remuneration of the surveyor or any person appointed to represent the Central Government before the Court, shall be deemed to be part of the costs of the detention and survey of the ship.

340. Power to require from complainant security for costs, etc.

When a complaint is made to the Central Government or a detaining officer that an Indian ship is unsafe, it shall be in the discretion of the Central Government or the detaining officer, as the case may be, to require the complainant to give security to the satisfaction of the Central Government or the detaining officer for the costs and compensation which such complainant may become liable to pay as hereinafter mentioned:

Provided that, where the complaint is made by one-fourth, being not less than three, of the seamen belonging to the ship, and is not in the opinion of the Central Government or the detaining officer frivolous or vexatious, such security shall not be required; and the Central Government or the detaining officer shall, if the complaint is made in sufficient time before the sailing of the ship, take proper steps to ascertain whether the ship ought to be detained under this Part.

341. Costs, etc., payable by Central Government recoverable from complainant.

Where a ship is detained in consequence of any complaint and the circumstances are such that the Central Government is liable under this Part to pay to the owner of the ship any costs or compensation, the complainant shall be liable to pay to the Central Government all such costs and compensation as the Central Government incurs, or is liable to pay, in respect of the detention and survey of the ship.

342. Application to ships other than Indian ships of provisions as to detention.

When a ship other than an Indian ship is in a port in India and is, whilst at that port, unsafe by reason of the defective condition of her hull, equipment or machinery, or by reason of overloading or improper loading, the provisions of this Part with respect to the detention of ships shall apply to that ship as if she were an Indian ship with the following modifications, namely :—

- (a) a copy of the order for the provisional detention of the ship shall forthwith be served on the consular officer for the country to which the ship belongs at or nearest to the port in which such ship is detained ;
- (b) the consular officer, at the request of the owner or master of the ship, may require that the person appointed by the Central Government to survey the ship shall be accompanied by such person as the consular officer may select, and in that case, if the surveyor and that person agree, the Central Government shall cause the ship, to be detained or released accordingly; but, if they differ, the Central Government may act as if the requisition had not been made, and the owner and master shall have the like right of appeal to a Court of survey touching the report of the surveyor as is hereinbefore provided in the case of an Indian ship; and
- (c) where the owner or master of the ship appeals to the Court of survey, the consular officer, at the request of the owner or master, may appoint a competent person to be assessor in the case in lieu of the assessor who, if the ship were an Indian ship, would be appointed otherwise than by the Central Government.

343. Exemption of ships from certain provisions of this Part.

(1) Nothing in this Part—

- (a) prohibiting a ship from proceeding to sea unless there are in force in relation to the ship, or are produced the appropriate certificates issued under this Part or the appropriate safety convention certificates;
  - (b) requiring information about a ship's stability to be carried on board;
- shall, unless in the case of information about a ship's stability the Central Government otherwise orders, apply to any troopship, pleasure yacht or fishing vessel or to any ship of less than five hundred tons gross other than a passenger ship or to any ship not fitted with mechanical means of propulsion.

(2) Nothing in the preceding sub-section shall affect the exemption conferred by any other provision of this Act.

(3) Nothing in this Part shall apply to any ship other than an Indian ship while it is within any port in India if it would not have been within such port but for stress of weather or any other circumstance that neither the master nor the owner nor the charterer, if any, of the ship could have prevented or forestalled.

344. Power to make rules respecting certificates under this Part.

(1) The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Part relating to certificates granted under this Part.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may prescribe—

- (a) the form of any certificate issued under this Part;
- (b) the circumstances in which a certificate purporting to have been issued outside India in accordance with the provisions of the Safety Convention or the Load Line Convention shall be recognised in India;
- (c) the fees to be charged in respect of any certificate issued under this Part and the manner in which such fees may be recovered.

PART X*COLLISIONS, ACCIDENTS AT SEA AND LIMITATION OF LIABILITY*345. Division of loss in case of collision.

(1) Whenever by the fault of two or more ships damage or loss is caused to one or more of them or to the cargo of one or more of them or to any property on board one or more of them, the liability to make good the damage or loss shall be in proportion to the degree in which each ship was at fault:

Provided that—

- (a) if, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, it is not possible to establish different degrees of fault, the liability shall be apportioned equally;
- (b) nothing in this section shall operate so as to render any ship liable for any loss or damage to which her fault has not contributed;
- (c) nothing in this section shall affect the liability of any person under any contract, or shall be construed as imposing any liability upon any person from which he is exempted by any contract or by any provision of law, or as affecting the right of any person to limit his liability in the manner provided by law.

(2) For the purposes of this Part, references to damage or loss caused by the fault of a ship shall be construed as including references to any salvage or other expenses, consequent upon that fault, recoverable in law by way of damages.

346. Damages for personal injury.

(1) Whenever loss of life or personal injuries are suffered by any person on board a ship owing to the fault of that ship and of any other ship or ships, the liability of the owners of the ships concerned shall be joint and several.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be construed as depriving any person of any right of defence on which, independently of this section, he might have relied in an action brought against him by the person injured, or any person entitled to sue in respect of such loss of life, or shall affect the right of any person to limit his liability in cases to which this section relates in the manner provided by law.

347. Right of contribution.

(1) Whenever loss of life or personal injuries are suffered by a person on board a ship owing to the fault of that ship and of any other ship or ships, and a proportion of the damages is recovered from the owner of one of the ships which exceeds the proportion in which she was in fault, the said owner may recover by way of contribution the amount of the excess from the owners of the other ship or ships to the extent to which those ships were respectively in fault:

Provided that no amount shall be so recovered which could not, by reason of any statutory or contractual limitation of, or exemption from, liability, or which could not for any other reason, have been recovered in the first instance as damages by the persons entitled to sue therefor.

(2) In addition to any other remedy provided by law, the person entitled to any contribution under sub-section (1) shall, for the purpose of recovering the contribution, have, subject to the provisions of this Act, the same rights and powers as the persons entitled to sue for damages in the first instance.

348. Duty of master of ship to assist in case of collision.

In every case of collision between two ships it shall be the duty of the master or person in charge of each ship, if and so far as he can do so without danger to his own ship, crew and passengers, if any—

(a) to render to the other ship, her master, crew and passengers, if any, such assistance as may be practicable and may be necessary to save them from any danger caused by the collision and to stay by the other ship until he has ascertained that she has no need of further assistance, and

(b) to give to the masters or persons in charge of the other ships the name of his own ship and of the port to which she belongs and also the names of the ports from which she comes and to which she is bound.

349. Collision to be entered in official log.

In every case of collision in which it is practicable so to do, the master of every ship concerned shall, immediately after the occurrence, cause a statement thereof and of the circumstances under which the same occurred to be entered in the official log book, if any, and the entry shall be signed by the master and also by the mate or one of the crew.

350. Report to Central Government of accidents to ships.

When a ship has sustained or caused any accident occasioning loss of life or any serious injury to any person or has received any material damage affecting her seaworthiness or her efficiency either in her hull or is so altered in any part of her machinery as not to correspond with the particulars contained in any of the certificates issued under this Act in respect of the ship, the owner or master shall, within twenty-four hours after the happening of the accident or damage or as soon thereafter as possible, transmit to the Central Government or the nearest principal officer a report of the accident or damage and of the probable cause thereof stating the name of the ship, her official number, if any, her port of registry and the place where she is.

351. Notice of loss of Indian ship to be given to Central Government.

If the owner or agent of any Indian ship has reason, owing to the non-appearance of the ship or to any other circumstance, to apprehend that the ship has been wholly lost, he shall, as soon as conveniently may be, send to the Central Government notice in writing of loss and of the probable cause thereof stating the name of the ship, her official number, if any, and her port of registry.

352. Limitation of liability of owner for damage.

(1) The owner of a ship, whether an Indian ship or not, shall not, if any loss of life or personal injury to any person, or any loss of or damage to any property or rights of any kind, whether movable or immovable is caused without his actual fault or privity,—

(a) if no claim for damages in respect of loss of or damage to property or rights arises, be liable for damages in respect of loss of life or personal injury to an aggregate amount exceeding two hundred rupees for each ton of the ship's tonnage; or

(b) if no claim for damages in respect of loss of life or personal injury arises, be liable for damages in respect of loss of or damage to property or rights to an aggregate amount exceeding one hundred rupees for each ton of the ship's tonnage; or

(c) if claims for damages in respect of loss of life or personal injury and also claims for damages in respect of loss of or damage to property or rights arise, be liable for damages to an aggregate amount exceeding two hundred rupees for each ton of the ship's tonnage:

Provided that in such a case claims for damages in respect of loss of life or personal injury shall, to the extent of an aggregate amount of one hundred rupees for each ton of the ship's tonnage, have priority over claims for damages in respect of loss of or damage to property or rights, and, as regards the balance of the aggregate amount of two hundred rupees for each ton of the ship's tonnage, the unsatisfied portion of the first-mentioned claims shall rank pari passu with the last-mentioned claims.

(2) The provisions of this section shall extend and apply to the owners, builders or other persons interested in any ship built at any port or place in India, from and including the launching of such ship until the registration thereof under the provisions of this Act.

(3) The provisions of this section shall apply in respect of claims for damages in respect of loss of life, personal injury and loss of or damage to property or rights arising on any single occasion, and in the application of the said provisions, claims for damages in respect of loss, injury or damage arising out of two or more distinct occasions shall not be combined.

(4) For the purposes of this section a ship's tonnage shall be determined in such manner as the Central Government may by general or special order, specify.

PART XI NAVIGATION

353. Method of giving helm orders.

No person on any Indian ship shall, when the ship is going ahead, give a helm or steering order containing the word "starboard" or "right" or any equivalent of "starboard" or "right" unless he intends that the head of the ship shall move to the "right" or give a helm or steering order containing the word "port" or "left" or any equivalent of "port" or "left" unless he intends that the head of the ship shall move to the left.

354. Duty to report dangers to navigation.

The master of any Indian ship on meeting with dangerous ice, a dangerous derelict, a tropical storm or any other direct danger to navigation shall send information accordingly by all means of communication at his disposal and in accordance with such rules as the Central Government may make in this behalf to ships in the vicinity and to such authorities on shore as may be prescribed by those rules.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this section the expression "tropical storm" means a hurricane, typhoon, cyclone or other storm of a similar nature, and the master of a ship shall be deemed to have met with a tropical storm if he has reason to believe that there is such a storm in the vicinity.

355. Obligation to render assistance on receiving signal of distress.

(1) The master of an Indian ship on receiving at sea a signal of distress or information from any source that a vessel or aircraft is in distress shall proceed with all speed to the assistance of the persons in distress (informing them if possible that he is doing so) unless he is unable or in the special circumstances of the case considers it unreasonable or unnecessary to do so or unless he is released from such obligation under the provisions of sub-section (3) or sub-section (4).

(2) Where the master of any ship in distress has requisitioned any Indian ship that has answered his call, it shall be the duty of the master of the requisitioned ship to comply with the requisition by continuing to proceed with all speed to the assistance of the persons in distress unless he is released from the obligation under the provisions of sub-section (4).

(3) The master shall be released from the obligation imposed by sub-section (1) as soon as he is informed of the requisition of one or more ships other than his own and that the requisition is being complied with by the ship or ships requisitioned.

(4) The master shall be released from the obligation imposed by sub-section (1), and if his ship has been requisitioned, from the obligation imposed by sub-section (2), if he is informed by the persons in distress or by the master of any ship that has reached the persons in distress that assistance is no longer required.

(5) If the master of an Indian ship on receiving at sea a signal of distress or information from any source that a vessel or aircraft is in distress is unable or in the special circumstances of the case considers it unreasonable or unnecessary to go to the assistance of the persons in distress, he shall forthwith cause a statement to be entered in the official log book or, if there is no official log book, cause other record to be kept of his reasons for not going to the assistance of those persons.

(6) The master of every Indian ship for which an official log is required shall enter or cause to be entered in the official log book every signal of distress or message that a vessel, aircraft or person is in distress at sea.

356. Power to make rules as to signals.

The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules prescribing—

- (a) the manner of communicating information regarding dangers to navigation, and the authorities on shore to whom such information is to be communicated;
- (b) the signals which shall be signals of distress and of urgency, respectively;
- (c) the circumstances in which, and the purposes for which, any such signal is to be used, and the circumstances in which it is to be revoked; and
- (d) the speed at which any message sent by radio telegraphy in connection with such signal is to be transmitted.

PART XII

INVESTIGATIONS AND INQUIRIES

357. Definition of "coasts".

In this Part, the word "coasts" includes the coasts of creeks and tidal rivers.

358. Shipping casualties and report thereof.

(1) For the purpose of investigations and inquiries under this Part, a shipping casualty shall be deemed to occur when—

- (a) on or near the coasts of India, any ship is lost, abandoned, stranded or materially damaged;
- (b) on or near the coasts of India, any ship causes loss or material damage to any other ship;

- (c) any loss of life ensues by reason of any casualty happening to or on board any ship on or near the coasts of India;
- (d) in any place, any such loss, abandonment, stranding, material damage or casualty as above mentioned occurs to or on board any Indian ship, and any competent witness thereof is found in India;
- (e) any Indian ship is lost or is supposed to have been lost, and any evidence is obtainable in India as to the circumstances under which she proceeded to sea or was last heard of.

(2) In the cases mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of sub-section (1), the master, pilot, harbour master or other person in charge of the ship, or (where two ships are concerned) in charge of each ship at the time of the shipping casualty, and in the cases mentioned in clause (d) of sub-section (1), where the master of the ship concerned or (except in the case of a loss) where the ship concerned proceeds to any place in India from the place where the shipping casualty has occurred, the master of the ship, shall, on arriving in India, give immediate notice of the shipping casualty to the officer appointed in this behalf by the Central Government.

359. Report of shipping casualties to Central Government.

(1) Whenever any such officer as is referred to in sub-section (2) of section 358 receives credible information that a shipping casualty has occurred, he shall forthwith report in writing the information to the Central Government; and may proceed to make a preliminary inquiry into the casualty.

(2) An officer making a preliminary inquiry under sub-section (1) shall send a report thereof to the Central Government or such other authority as may be appointed by it in this behalf.

360. Application to Court for formal investigation.

The officer appointed under sub-section (2) of section 358, whether he has made a preliminary inquiry or not, may, and, where the Central Government so directs, shall make an application to a Court empowered under section 361, requesting it to make a formal investigation into any shipping casualty, and the Court shall thereupon make such investigation.

361. Court empowered to make formal investigation.

A magistrate of the first class specially empowered in this behalf by the Central Government and a presidency magistrate shall have jurisdiction to make formal investigations into shipping casualties under this Part.

362. Power of Court of investigation to inquire into charges against masters, mates and engineers.

(1) Any Court making a formal investigation into a shipping casualty may inquire into any charge of incompetency or misconduct arising, in the course of the investigation, against any master, mate or engineer, as well as into any charge of a wrongful act or default on his part causing the shipping casualty.

(2) In every case in which any such charge, whether of incompetency or misconduct, or of a wrongful act or default, as aforesaid, arises against any master, mate or engineer, in the course of an investigation, the Court shall, before the commencement of the inquiry, cause to be furnished to him a statement of the case upon which the inquiry has been directed.

Section 361 — Note 1

[1] The tribunal set up under the Merchant Shipping Act is a judicial or a quasi-judicial tribunal which would attract the application of Art. 227 of the Constitution and in respect of which the jurisdiction of the High Court can be invoked under that article. 1955 Bom 241 (249) [(S) A I R V 42 C 61] : I L R (1955) Bom 443 : 1955 Cri L Jour 1039 (DB).

363. Power of Central Government to direct inquiry into charges of incompetency or misconduct.

(1) If the Central Government has reason to believe that there are grounds for charging any master, mate or engineer with incompetency or misconduct, otherwise than in the course of a formal investigation into shipping casualty, the Central Government,—

- (a) if the master, mate or engineer holds a certificate under this Act, in any case;
- (b) if the master, mate or engineer holds a certificate under the law of any country outside India, in any case where the incompetency or misconduct has occurred on board an Indian ship;

may transmit a statement of the case to any Court having jurisdiction under section 361, which is at or nearest to the place where it may be convenient for the parties and witnesses to attend, and may direct that Court to make an inquiry into that charge.

(2) Before commencing the inquiry, the Court shall cause the master, mate or engineer so charged to be furnished with a copy of the statement transmitted by the Central Government.

364. Opportunity to be given to person to make defence.

For the purpose of any inquiry under this Part into any charge against a master, mate or engineer, the Court may summon him to appear, and shall give him an opportunity of making a defence either in person or otherwise.

365. Power of Court as to evidence and regulation of proceedings.

For the purpose of any investigation or inquiry under this Part, the Court making the investigation or inquiry shall, in respect of compelling the attendance and examination of witnesses and the production of documents and the regulation of the proceedings, have the same powers as are exercisable by that Court in the exercise of its criminal jurisdiction.

366. Assessors.

(1) A Court making a formal investigation shall constitute as its assessors not less than two and not more than four persons, of whom one shall be a person conversant with maritime affairs and the other or others shall be conversant with either maritime or mercantile affairs:

Provided that, where the investigation involves, or appears likely to involve, any question as to the cancellation or suspension of the certificate of a master, mate or engineer, two of the assessors shall be persons having also experience in the merchant service.

(2) The assessors shall attend during the investigation and deliver their opinions in writing, to be recorded on the proceedings, but the exercise of all powers conferred on the Court by this Part or any other law for the time being in force shall rest with the Court.

(3) The assessors shall be chosen from a list to be prepared from time to time by the Central Government.

Section 365 — Note 1

[1] Where in a formal investigation held by the Court under the Merchant Shipping Act into the shipping casualty, resulting in loss of cargo, the insurance companies with whom the cargo was issued made an application to the Court to be made parties to the proceedings so that they might be able to lead evidence which was in their possession and the Court rejected the application on the ground that it had discretion in the matter in regulating the proceedings and that Instruction 4 of the Instructions issued by the Government with regard to formal investigations gave it the widest discretion to decide whether the insurance companies were parties to the proceedings: Held that the order of the Court could not be looked upon as exercise of discretion and that the matter must go back to the Court to exercise its discretion as best as it thought fit. 1955 Bom 241 (247, 248) [(S) A I R V 42 C 61] : ILR (1955) Bom 443 : 1955 Cri L Jour 1039 (DB).

367. Power to arrest witnesses and enter ships.

If any Court making an investigation or inquiry under this Part thinks it necessary for obtaining evidence that any person should be arrested, it may issue a warrant for his arrest, and may, for the purpose of effecting the arrest, authorise any officer, subject, nevertheless, to any general or special instructions from the Central Government, to enter any vessel, and any officer so authorised may, for the purpose of enforcing the entry, call to his aid any officer of police or customs or any other person.

368. Power to commit for trial and bind over witnesses.

Whenever, in the course of any such investigation or inquiry, it appears that any person has committed in India an offence punishable under any law in force in India, the Court making the investigation or inquiry may (subject to such rules consistent with this Act as the High Court may from time to time make) cause him to be arrested, or commit him or hold him to bail to take his trial before the proper Court, and may bind over any person to give evidence at the trial, and may, for the purposes of this section, exercise all its powers as a criminal Court.

369. Report by Court to Central Government.

(1) The Court shall, in the case of all investigations or inquiries under this Part, transmit to the Central Government a full report of the conclusions at which it has arrived together with the evidence.

(2) Where the investigation or inquiry affects a master or an officer of a ship other than an Indian ship who holds a certificate under the law of any country outside India, the Central Government may transmit a copy of the report together with the evidence to the proper authority in that country.

370. Powers of Court as to certificates granted by Central Government.

(1) A certificate of a master, mate or engineer which has been granted by the Central Government under this Act may be cancelled or suspended—

(a) by a Court holding a formal investigation into a shipping casualty under this Part if the Court finds that the loss, stranding or abandonment of, or damage to, any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by the wrongful act or default of such master, mate or engineer;

(b) by a Court holding an inquiry under this Part into the conduct of the master, mate or engineer if the Court finds that he is incompetent or has been guilty of any gross act of drunkenness, tyranny or other misconduct or in a case of collision has failed to render such assistance or give such information as is required by section 348.

(2) At the conclusion of the investigation or inquiry, or as soon thereafter as possible, the Court shall state in open sitting the decision to which it may have come with respect to the cancellation or suspension of any certificate and, if suspension is ordered, the period for which the certificate is suspended.

(3) Where the Court cancels or suspends a certificate, the Court shall forward it to the Central Government together with the report which it is required by this Part to transmit to it.

371. Power of court to censure master, mate or engineer.

Where it appears to the court holding an investigation or inquiry that having regard to the circumstances of the case an order of cancellation or suspension under section 370 is not justified, the court may pass an order censuring the master, mate or engineer in respect of his conduct.

372. Power of court to remove master and appoint new master.

(1) A magistrate of the first class specially empowered in this behalf by the Central Government or a presidency magistrate, may remove the master of any ship within his jurisdiction if the removal is shown to his satisfaction to be necessary.

(2) The removal may be made upon the application of the owner of any ship or his agent, or of the consignee of the ship, or of any certificated officer or of one-third or more of the crew of the ship.

(3) The magistrate may appoint a new master instead of the one removed, but where the owner, agent or consignee of the ship is within his jurisdiction, such an appointment shall not be made without the consent of that owner, agent or consignee.

(4) The magistrate may also make such order and require such security in respect of the cost of the matter as he thinks fit.

Marine Board

373. Convening of Marine Boards outside India.

Whenever—

- (a) a complaint is made to an Indian consular officer or a senior officer of any ship of the Indian Navy in the vicinity (hereinafter referred to as naval officer) by the master or any member of the crew of an Indian ship and such complaint appears to the Indian consular officer or naval officer, as the case may be, to require immediate investigation ; or
- (b) the interest of the owner of an Indian ship or of the cargo thereof appears to an Indian consular officer or naval officer, as the case may be, to require it ; or
- (c) an allegation of incompetency or misconduct is made to an Indian consular officer or a naval officer against the master or any of the officers of an Indian ship ; or
- (d) any Indian ship is lost, abandoned or stranded at or near the place where an Indian consular officer or naval officer may be or whenever the crew or part of the crew of any Indian ship which has been lost abandoned or stranded arrives at that place ; or
- (e) any loss of life or any serious injury to any person has occurred on board an Indian ship at or near that place ;

the Indian consular officer or the naval officer, as the case may be, may, in his discretion, convene a Board of Marine Inquiry to investigate the said complaint or allegation or the matter affecting the said interest or the cause of the loss, abandonment or the stranding of the ship or of the loss of life or of the injury to the person.

374. Constitution and procedure of Marine Board.

(1) A Marine Board shall consist of the officer convening the Board and two other members.

(2) The two other members of the Marine Board shall be appointed by the officer convening the Marine Board from among persons conversant with maritime or mercantile affairs.

(3) The officer convening the Marine Board shall be the presiding officer thereof.

(4) A Marine Board shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, have power to regulate its own procedure.

375. Decisions of Marine Board to be by majority.

Where there is a difference of opinion among members of the Marine Board, the decision of the majority of the members shall be the decision of the Board.

376. Powers of Marine Board.

(1) A Marine Board may, after investigating and hearing the case—

- (a) if it is of opinion that the safety of an Indian ship or her cargo or crew or the interest of the owner of an Indian ship or of the owner of the cargo thereof requires it, remove the master and appoint another qualified person to act in his stead ;
- (b) if it is of opinion that any master or officer of an Indian ship is incompetent or has been guilty of any act of misconduct or in a case of collision has failed to render such assistance or give such information as is required by section 348 or that loss, abandonment or stranding of or serious damage to any ship, or loss of life or serious injury to any person has been caused by the wrongful act or default of any master or ship's officer of an Indian ship, suspend the certificate of that master or ship's officer for a stated period :

Provided that no such certificate shall be suspended unless the master or officer concerned has been furnished with a statement of the case in respect of which investigation has been ordered and he has also been given an opportunity of making a defence either in person or otherwise;

- (c) discharge a seaman from an Indian ship and order the wages of any seaman so discharged or any part of those wages to be forfeited ;
  - (d) decide any questions as to wages, fines or forfeitures arising between any of the parties to the proceedings ;
  - (e) direct that any or all of the costs incurred by the master or owner of an Indian ship or on the maintenance of a seaman or apprentice while in prison outside India shall be paid out of, and deducted from, the wages of that seaman or apprentice, whether earned or subsequently earned ;
  - (f) if it considers such a step expedient, order a survey to be made of any Indian ship which is the subject of investigation ;
  - (g) order the costs of proceedings before it or any part of those costs, to be paid by any of the parties thereto, and may order any person making a frivolous or unjustified complaint to pay compensation for any loss or delay caused thereby ; and any costs or compensation so ordered to be paid by any person shall be paid by that person accordingly and may be recovered in the same manner in which wages of seaman are recoverable or may be deducted from the wages due to that person.
- (2) All orders made by a Marine Board shall, whenever practicable, be entered in the official log book of the ship which is the subject of investigation or on board which the casualty or occurrence or conduct investigated took place, and be signed by the presiding officer of the Board.

Miscellaneous provisions relating to cancellation and suspension of certificates

377. Powers of Central Government to cancel, suspend, etc., certificate of master, mate or engineer.

(1) Any certificate which has been granted by the Central Government under this Act to any master, mate or engineer, may be cancelled or suspended for any specified period, by the Central Government in the following cases, that is to say,—

- (a) if, on any investigation or inquiry made by any Court, tribunal or other authority for the time being authorised by the legislative authority in any country outside India, the Court, tribunal or other authority reports that the master, mate or engineer is incompetent or has been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness or tyranny, or in a case of collision has failed to render assistance, or to give such information as is referred to in section 348, or that the loss, stranding or abandonment of, or damage to, any ship or loss of life has been caused by his wrongful act or default;

(b) if the master, mate or engineer is proved to have been convicted—

(i) of any offence under this Act or of any non-bailable offence committed under any other law for the time being in force in India; or

(ii) of an offence committed outside India which, if committed in India, would be a non-bailable offence;

(c) if (in the case of a master of an Indian ship) he has been superseded by the order of any Court of competent jurisdiction in India or outside India.

(2) The Central Government may at any time, if it thinks the justice of the case so requires,—

(a) revoke any order of cancellation or suspension made by it under sub-section (1) or set aside any order of cancellation or suspension made by a Court under section 370 or any order of suspension made by a Marine Board under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 376 or any order of censure made by a Court under section 371; or

(b) shorten or lengthen the period of suspension ordered by it under sub-section (1) or by a Court under section 370 or by a Marine Board under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 376 or cancel a certificate suspended by a Marine Board under that clause; or

(c) grant without examination a new certificate of the same or any lower grade in the case of any certificate cancelled or suspended by it under sub-section (1) or by a Court under section 370 or any certificate suspended by a Marine Board under clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 376 :

Provided that no order under clause (b) either lengthening the period of suspension of or cancelling a certificate shall be passed by the Central Government unless the person concerned has been given an opportunity of making a representation against the order proposed.

(3) A certificate granted under clause (c) of sub-section (2) shall have the same effect as if it had been granted after examination.

378. Delivery of Indian certificate cancelled or suspended.

A master of ship's officer who is the holder of a certificate issued under this Act shall, if such certificate has been cancelled or suspended by the Central Government or by a Court or suspended by a Marine Board, deliver his certificate to the Central Government, Court or Marine Board on demand or if it is not so demanded by the Central Government or Court or Board, to the Director-General.

379. Effect of cancellation or suspension of certificate.

The cancellation or suspension of a certificate by the Central Government or by a Court or the suspension of a certificate by a Marine Board, shall—

(a) if the certificate was issued under this Act, be effective everywhere and in respect of all ships; and

(b) if the certificate was issued outside India, be effective—

(i) within India and the territorial waters of India, in respect of all ships; and

(ii) outside India, in respect of Indian ships only.

380. Suspended certificate not to be endorsed.

If the certificate of a master or ship's officer is suspended under this Part by the Central Government or by a Court or a Marine Board, no endorsement shall be made to that effect on the said certificate.

381. Power of Central Government to cancel or suspend other certificates.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the Central Government may, at any time, without any formal investigation or inquiry, cancel or suspend any certificate granted by it under this Act, other than a certificate granted to a master, mate or engineer, if, in its opinion, the holder is, or has become, unfit to act in the grade for which the certificate was granted to him :

Provided that no order under this section shall be passed by the Central Government unless the person concerned has been given an opportunity of making a representation against the order proposed.

*Re-hearing of cases382. Re-hearing.

(1) Whenever an investigation or inquiry has been held by a Court or by a Marine Board under this Part, the Central Government may order the case to be re-heard either generally or as to any part thereof, and shall so order—

- (a) if new and important evidence which could not be produced at the investigation has been discovered, or
- (b) if for any other reason there has, in its opinion, been a miscarriage of justice.

(2) The Central Government may order the case to be reheard by the Court or Marine Board, as the case may be, consisting of the same members or other members as the Central Government may deem fit.

*Courts of survey383. Constitution of Court of survey.

(1) A Court of survey for a port shall consist of a judge sitting with two assessors.

(2) The judge shall be a district judge, judge of a Court of small causes, presidency magistrate, magistrate of the first class or other fit person appointed in this behalf by the Central Government either generally or for any specified case.

(3) The assessors shall be persons of nautical, engineering or other special skill or experience.

(4) Subject to the provisions of Part IX as regards ships other than Indian ships, one of the assessors shall be appointed by the Central Government either generally or in each case and the other shall be summoned by the judge in the manner prescribed out of a list of persons from time to time prepared for the purpose by the Central Government or, if there is no such list or if it is impracticable to procure the attendance of any person named in such list, shall be appointed by the judge.

384. Appeal from surveyor to Court of survey.

(1) If a surveyor authorised to inspect a ship—

- (a) makes a statement in his report of inspection with which the owner or his agent or the master of the ship is dissatisfied, or
- (b) gives notice under this Act of any defect in any ship, or
- (c) declines to give any certificate under this Act, the owner, master or agent, as the case may be, may, subject to the provisions of sub-section (2) and of section 387, appeal to a Court of survey.

(2) Whenever a surveyor inspects any ship, he shall, if the owner, master or agent of the ship so requires, be accompanied on the inspection by some person nominated by the owner, master or agent, as the case may be, and if the person so nominated agrees with the surveyor as to the statement made or the notice given by the surveyor or the refusal by the surveyor to give a certificate, there shall be no appeal to a Court of survey from that statement, notice or refusal.

385. Powers and procedure of Court of survey.

(1) The judge shall on receiving notice of appeal or a reference from the Central Government immediately summon the assessors to meet forthwith in the prescribed manner.

(2) The Court of survey shall hear every case in open Court.

(3) The judge may appoint any competent person to survey the ship and report thereon to the Court.

(4) The judge shall have the same powers as the Central Government has to order the ship to be released or finally detained; but unless one of the assessors concurs in an order for the detention of the ship, the ship shall be released.

(5) The owner and master of the ship and any person appointed by the owner or master and also any person appointed by the Central Government may attend any inspection or survey made in pursuance of this section.

(6) The judge shall report the proceedings of the Court in each case to the Central Government in the manner prescribed and each assessor shall either sign such report or report to the Central Government the reasons for his dissent.

386. Power to make rules.

The Central Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Part with respect to a Court of survey and in particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, with respect to—

(a) the procedure of the Court;

(b) the requiring, on an appeal, of security for costs and damages;

(c) the amount and application of fees; and

(d) the ascertainment, in case of dispute, of the proper amount of costs.

*Scientific referees387. Reference in difficult cases to scientific persons.

(1) If the Central Government is of opinion that an appeal to a Court of survey involves a question of construction or design or a scientific difficulty or important principle, it may refer the matter to such one or more out of a list of scientific referees to be from time to time prepared by the Central Government as may appear to possess the special qualifications necessary for the particular case and may be selected by agreement between a person duly appointed by the Central Government in this behalf and the appellant, or in default of any such agreement, by the Central Government; and thereupon the appeal shall be determined by the referee or referees instead of by the Court of survey.

(2) The Central Government, if the appellant in any such appeal so requires and gives security to its satisfaction to pay the costs of and incidental to the reference, shall refer such appeal to a referee or referees selected as aforesaid.

(3) The referee or referees shall have the same powers as a judge of the Court of survey.

*Investigations into explosions or fires on board ships388. Power to investigate causes of explosion or fire on board ship.

Whenever any explosion or fire occurs on board any ship on or near the coasts of India, the Central Government may direct that an investigation into the causes of explosion or fire be made by such person or persons as it thinks fit.

389. Report to be made regarding cause of explosion or fire.

The person or persons referred to in S. 388 may go on board the ship on which the explosion or fire has occurred with all necessary workmen and labourers, and remove any portion of the ship, or of the machinery thereof, for the purpose of the investigation, and shall report to the Central Government or the person duly appointed by it, as the case may be, what in his or their opinion was the cause of the explosion or fire.

PART XIII

WRECK AND SALVAGE

*Wreck390. Definition of "coasts."

In this Part, the word "coasts" includes the coasts of creeks and tidal rivers.

391. Receivers of wreck.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint any person to be a receiver of wreck (in this Part referred to as receiver of wreck) to receive and take possession of wreck and to perform such duties connected therewith as are hereinafter mentioned, within such local limits as may be specified in the notification.

(2) A receiver of wreck may, by order in writing, direct that all or any of his functions under this Part shall, in such circumstances and subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the order, be discharged by such person as may be specified therein and any person while discharging any such functions shall be deemed to be a receiver of wreck for the purposes of this Act.

Where any vessel is wrecked, stranded or in distress at any place on or near the coasts of India, the receiver of wreck, within the limits of whose jurisdiction the place is situate shall, upon being made acquainted with the circumstance, forthwith proceed there, and upon his arrival shall take command of all persons present and shall assign such duties and give such directions to each person as he thinks fit for the preservation of the vessel and of the lives of the persons belonging to the vessel and of its cargo and equipment :

Provided that the receiver shall not interfere between the master and the crew of the vessel in reference to the management thereof unless he is requested to do so by the master.

393. Power to pass over adjoining lands.

(1) Whenever a vessel is wrecked, stranded or in distress as aforesaid, all persons may, for the purpose of rendering assistance to the vessel or of saving the lives of the shipwrecked persons, or of saving the cargo or equipment of the vessel, unless there is some public road equally convenient, pass and repass, either with or without vehicles or animals, over any adjoining lands without being subject to interruption by the owner or occupier, so that they do as little damage as possible and may also on the like condition, deposit on these lands any cargo or other article recovered from the ship.

(2) Any damage sustained by an owner or occupier in consequence of the exercise of the rights given by this section, shall be a charge on the vessel, cargo or articles in respect of or by which the damage is occasioned and the amount payable in respect of the damage shall, in case of dispute, be determined by a magistrate on application made to him in this behalf.

394. Power of receiver of wreck to suppress, plunder and disorder by force.

Whenever a vessel is wrecked, stranded or in distress as aforesaid, and any person plunders, creates disorder or obstructs the preservation of the vessel or of the shipwrecked persons or of the cargo or equipment of the vessel, the receiver of wreck may take such steps and use such force as he may consider necessary for the suppression of any such plundering, disorder or obstruction, and may for that purpose command any person to assist him.

395. Procedure to be observed by persons finding wreck.

Any person finding and taking possession of any wreck within any local limits for which there is a receiver of wreck, or bringing within such limits any wreck which has been found and taken possession of elsewhere, shall, as soon as practicable—

- (a) if he be the owner thereof, give the receiver of wreck notice in writing of the finding thereof and of the marks by which such wreck is distinguished;
- (b) if he be not the owner of such wreck, deliver the same to the receiver of wreck.

396. Investigation of certain matters in respect of vessels wrecked, etc.

Whenever any vessel is wrecked, stranded or in distress as aforesaid, the receiver of wreck within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the vessel is wrecked, stranded or in distress may conduct an investigation into all or any of the following matters, that is to say,—

- (a) the name and description of the vessel;
- (b) the names of the master and of the owners;
- (c) the names of the owners of the cargo;
- (d) the ports from and to which the vessel was bound;
- (e) the occasion of the wrecking, stranding, or distress of the vessel;
- (f) the services rendered; and
- (g) such other matters or circumstances relating to the vessel, the cargo or the equipment, as the receiver thinks necessary.

397. Notice to be given by receiver.

The receiver of wreck shall as soon as may be after taking possession of any wreck, publish a notification in such manner and at such place as the Central Government may, by general or special order, direct, containing a description of the wreck and the time at which and the place where it was found.

398. Immediate sale of wreck by receiver in certain cases.

A receiver of wreck may at any time sell any wreck in his custody if, in his opinion,—

- (a) it is under the value of five hundred rupees; or
- (b) it is so much damaged or of so perishable a nature that it cannot with advantage be kept; or
- (c) it is not of sufficient value for warehousing; and the proceeds of the sale shall, after defraying the expenses thereof, be held by the receiver for the same purposes and subject to the same claims, rights and liabilities as if the wreck had remained unsold.

399. Claims of owners to wreck.

(1) The owner of any wreck in the possession of the receiver upon establishing his claim to the same to the satisfaction of the receiver within one year from the time at which the wreck came into the possession of the receiver shall, upon paying the salvage and other charges, be entitled to have the wreck or the proceeds thereof delivered to him.

(2) Where any articles belonging to or forming part of a vessel other than an Indian vessel which has been wrecked or belonging to and forming part of the cargo of such vessel, are found on or near the coasts of India or are brought into any port in India, the consular officer of the country in which the vessel is

[1] Planks washed away by low tide from person's timber yard recovered before they reached sea — Taking possession of same by him without notice to receiver of wrecks is no offence. 1941 Mad 832 (833) [AIR V 28].

registered or, in the case of cargo, the country to which the owners of the cargo may have belonged shall, in the absence of the owner and of the master or other agent of the owner, be deemed to be the agent of the owner, with respect to the custody and disposal of the articles.

(3) Where the owner of the wreck does not appear and claim the balance of the proceeds of sale within one year from the date of sale, the said balance shall become the property of the Central Government.

400. Prohibition of certain acts in respect of wreck.

No person shall—

- (a) without the leave of the master board or attempt to board any vessel which is wrecked, stranded or in distress as aforesaid, unless the person is, or acts by command of, the receiver of wreck; or
- (b) impede or hinder or attempt in any way to impede or hinder the saving of any vessel stranded or in danger of being stranded or otherwise in distress on or near the coasts of India or of any part of the cargo or equipment of the vessel, or of any wreck; or
- (c) secrete any wreck or deface or obliterate any marks thereon; or
- (d) wrongfully carry away or remove any part of a vessel stranded or in danger of being stranded or otherwise in distress, on or near the coasts of India, or any part of the cargo or equipment of the vessel or any wreck.

401. Search warrants where wreck is involved.

Where a receiver of wreck suspects or receives information that any wreck is secreted or is in the possession of some person who is not the owner thereof or that any wreck is otherwise improperly dealt with, he may apply to the nearest magistrate for a search warrant, and that magistrate shall have power to grant such warrant and the receiver of wreck by virtue thereof may enter any house or other place wherever situate and also any vessel and search for, seize and detain any such wreck there found.

Salvage

402. Salvage payable for saving life, cargo or wreck.

(1) Where services are rendered—

- (a) wholly or in part within the territorial waters of India in saving life from any vessel, or elsewhere in saving life from a vessel registered in India; or
- (b) in assisting a vessel or saving the cargo or equipment of a vessel which is wrecked, stranded or in distress at any place on or near the coasts of India; or
- (c) by any person other than the receiver of wreck in saving any wreck;

there shall be payable to the salvor by the owner of the vessel, cargo, equipment or wreck, a reasonable sum for salvage having regard to all the circumstances of the case.

(2) Salvage in respect of the preservation of life when payable by the owner of the vessel shall be payable in priority to all other claims for salvage.

(3) Where salvage services are rendered by or on behalf of the Government or by a vessel of the Indian Navy or the commander or crew of any such vessel, the Government, the commander or the crew, as the case may be, shall be entitled to salvage and shall have the same rights and remedies in respect of those services as any other salvor.

(4) Any dispute arising concerning the amount due under this section shall be determined upon application made by either of the disputing parties—

- (a) to a magistrate, where the amount claimed does not exceed ten thousand rupees; or

(b) to the High Court, where the amount claimed exceeds ten thousand rupees.

(c) Where there is any dispute as to the persons who are entitled to the salvage amount under this section, the magistrate or the High Court, as the case may be, shall decide the dispute and if there are more persons than one entitled to such amount, the magistrate or the High Court shall apportion the amount thereof among such persons.

(d) The costs of and incidental to all proceedings before a magistrate or the High Court under this section shall be in the discretion of the magistrate or the High Court, and the magistrate or the High Court shall have full power to determine by whom or out of what property and to what extent such costs are to be paid and to give all necessary directions for the purpose aforesaid.

403. Savings.

Nothing in this Part shall—

- (a) affect any treaty or arrangement with any foreign country to which India is a party with reference to the disposal of the proceeds of wrecks on their respective coasts; or
- (b) affect the provisions of section 29 of the Indian Ports Act, 1908, or entitle any person to salvage in respect of any property recovered by creeping or sweeping in contravention of that section.

404. Power to make rules respecting wreck and salvage.

(1) The Central Government may make rules to carry out the purposes of this Part.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) the procedure to be followed by a receiver of wreck in respect of the taking possession of wrecks and their disposal;
- (b) the fees payable to receivers in respect of the work done by them;
- (c) the procedure to be followed for dealing with claims relating to ownership of wrecks;
- (d) the appointment of valuers in salvage cases;
- (e) the principles to be followed in awarding salvage and the apportioning of salvage;
- (f) the procedure to be followed for dealing with claims for salvage;
- (g) the detention of property in the custody of a receiver of wreck for the purpose of enforcing payment of salvage.

PART XIV***

CONTROL OF INDIAN SHIPS AND SHIPS ENGAGED IN COASTING TRADE

405. Application of Part.

This Part applies only to sea-going ships fitted with mechanical means of propulsion of not less than one hundred and fifty tons gross; but the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, fix any lower tonnage for the purposes of this Part.

[a] Part XIV, containing sections 405 to 414 (both inclusive) came into force on 1st April, 1960 — See S. O. 565 dated 28.2.1960 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-Sec. 3 (ii), page 886.

406. Indian ships and chartered ships to be licensed.

(1) No Indian ship and no other ship chartered by a citizen of India or a company shall be taken to sea from a port or place within or outside India except under a licence granted by the Director General under this section :

Provided that the Central Government, if it is of opinion that it is necessary or expedient in the public interest so to do, may, by notification in the Official

Gazette, exempt any class of ships chartered by a citizen of India or a company from the provisions of this sub-section.

(2) A licence granted under this section may be—

(a) a general licence;

(b) a licence for the whole or any part of the coasting trade of India; or

(c) a licence for a specified period or voyage.

(3) A licence granted under this section shall be in such form and shall be valid for such period as may be prescribed, and shall be subject to such conditions as may be specified by the Director-General.

407. Licensing of ships for coasting trade.

(1) No ship other than an Indian ship or a ship chartered by a citizen of India or a company which satisfies the requirements specified in clause (b) of section 21, shall engage in the coasting trade of India except under a licence granted by the Director-General under this section.

(2) A licence granted under this section may be for a specified period or voyage and shall be subject to such conditions as may be specified by the Director-General.

(3) The Central Government may, by general or special order, direct that the provisions of sub-section (1) shall not apply in respect of any part of the coasting trade of India or shall apply subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be specified in the order.

408. Revocation or modification of licence.

(1) The Director-General may, at any time if the circumstances of the case so require, revoke or modify a licence granted under section 406 or section 407.

(2) No licence shall be revoked or modified under this section unless the person concerned has been given a reasonable opportunity of making a representation against such revocation or modification, as the case may be.

409. Licences to be surrendered when they cease to be valid.

When a licence under section 406 or section 407 ceases to be valid, the person to whom it was granted shall, without unreasonable delay, return it or cause it to be returned to the Director-General.

410. No port clearance until licence is produced.

No customs collector shall grant a port clearance to a ship in respect of which a licence is required under this Part until after production by the owner, master or agent of such a licence.

411. Power to give directions.

The Director-General may, if he is satisfied that in the public interest or in the interests of Indian shipping it is necessary so to do, give, by order in writing, such directions as he thinks fit—

(a) in the case of a ship which has been granted a licence under section 406, with respect to all or any of the following matters:—

(i) the ports or places, whether in or outside India, to which, and the routes by which, the ship shall proceed for any particular purpose;

(ii) the diversion of any ship from one route to another for any particular purpose;

(iii) the classes of passengers or cargo which may be carried in the ship;

(iv) the order of priority in which passengers or cargo may be taken on or put off the ship at any port or place, whether in or outside India;

(b) in the case of a ship which has been granted a licence under section 407 with respect to the order of priority in which passengers or cargo may be taken on the ship at any port or place in India from which she is about to proceed for any port or place on the continent of India at which she is to call in the course of her voyage.

412. Power to fix shipping rates.

(1) The Central Government may, by order published in the Official Gazette, fix in the prescribed manner the rates at which any Indian ship may be hired and the rates which may be charged for the carriage of passengers or cargo by any ship engaged in the coasting trade of India.

(2) If the Central Government considers that with a view to enabling it to fix the rates under sub-section (1) it is necessary or expedient so to do, it may constitute a Board in the prescribed manner for the purpose of advising it; and such Board may be constituted either generally or for a particular case or route or in respect of rates for the carriage of passengers or cargo or both.

(3) Where an order fixing the rates to be charged for hire or for the carriage of passengers or cargo has been published under sub-section (1), no owner, master or agent of a ship shall charge rates exceeding the rates so fixed.

413. Power of Director-General to call for information.

The Director-General may, by notice, require—

- (a) the owner, master or agent of any ship in respect of which a licence granted by the Director-General under this Act is in force ; or
- (b) the owner, master or agent of any ship in respect of which any directions have been or may be given under clause (b) of section 411 ; to furnish within the period specified in the notice information as to—
  - (i) the classes of passengers and cargo which the ship is about to carry or is capable of carrying or has carried during any specified period ;
  - (ii) the rates of passenger fares and freight charges applicable to the ship ;
  - (iii) any other matter which may be prescribed.

414. Power to make rules.

(1) The Central Government may make rules<sup>a</sup> for carrying out the purposes of this Part.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the form in which, the period or voyage for which, and the conditions subject to which licences under this Part may be granted, the particulars to be included therein and the fees payable therefor ;
- (b) the manner in which rates shall be fixed under section 412 ;
- (c) the constitution and functions of a Board constituted under section 412 and the procedure to be followed by it in the discharge of its functions ;
- (d) the matters regarding which information may be required to be furnished under section 413.

PART XV SAILING VESSELS

415. Application of Part.

Save as otherwise provided, this Part applies to every sea-going sailing vessel owned by a citizen of India or a company which satisfies the requirements specified in clause (b) of section 21.

416. Decision of question whether a vessel is a sailing vessel.

If any question arises whether a vessel is a sailing vessel or not for the purposes of this Part, it shall be decided by the Director-General and his decision thereon shall be final.

417. Certificate of registry.

(1) Every sailing vessel shall be registered in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2) The owner of every sailing vessel shall make an application in the prescribed form to a registrar for the grant to him of a certificate of registry in respect of the vessel.

(3) The owner of every sailing vessel in respect of which an application under sub-section (2) is made, shall cause the tonnage of the vessel to be ascertained in the prescribed manner.

(4) The registrar may make such inquiry as he thinks fit with respect to the particulars contained in such application and shall enter in a register to be kept for the purpose (hereinafter referred to as sailing vessels register) the following particulars in respect of the vessel, namely :—

- (a) the name of the sailing vessel, the place where she was built, and the port to which she belongs ;
- (b) the rig, type and tonnage of the vessel ;
- (c) the name, occupation and residence of the owner of the vessel ;
- (d) the number assigned to the vessel ;
- (e) the mortgages, if any, effected by the owner in respect of the vessel ;
- (f) such other particulars as may be prescribed.

(5) After the particulars in respect of the vessel have been entered in the sailing vessels register under sub-section (4), the registrar shall grant to the applicant a certificate of registry in the prescribed form.

(6) The owner of every sailing vessel shall pay for each certificate of registry a fee according to such scale as may be prescribed by the Central Government, having regard to the tonnage of the vessel, but in no case exceeding one rupee per ton of its gross tonnage.

(7) A sailing vessel requiring to be registered under this Part but not so registered may be detained by a proper officer until the owner or tinal produces a certificate of registry in respect of the vessel.

418. Particulars relating to sailing vessel to be painted.

The owner of every sailing vessel so registered shall, before the vessel begins to take any cargo or passengers, paint or cause to be painted permanently in the prescribed manner on some conspicuous part of the sailing vessel, the name by which the vessel has been registered, the number assigned to the vessel by the registrar and the port to which she belongs, and shall take all steps to ensure that the vessel remains painted as required by this section.

419. Change of name of sailing vessel.

A change shall not be made in the name of a sailing vessel registered under this Part except in accordance with the rules made in this behalf.

420. Prevention of over-loading or over-crowding.

(1) The Central Government may make rules regulating the carriage of cargo or passengers in sailing vessels and the protection of life and property on board such vessels.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the assignment of free board to sailing vessels ;

(b) the marking of such free board on such vessels and the maintenance of such markings ;

(c) the survey of the space allotted to passengers on board such vessels ;

(d) the scale and type of accommodation to be provided for each passenger.

(3) Any sailing vessel attempting to ply or proceed to sea without free board markings or any sailing vessel which has been so loaded as to submerge such markings may be detained by a proper officer until free board markings are made in accordance with the rules made in this behalf or the vessel is so loaded that such markings are not submerged.

(4) Nothing in this section relating to free board, shall apply to any sailing vessel in respect of which a load line has been assigned under Part IX.

421. Certificate of inspection.

(1) No sailing vessel shall ply or proceed to sea unless there is in force in respect of that vessel a certificate of inspection granted under this Part, the same being applicable to the voyage on which she is about to ply or proceed.

(2) A certificate of inspection in respect of a sailing vessel shall specify—

(a) the name and tonnage of the vessel;

(b) the names of the owner and tindal of the vessel;

(c) the maximum number of the crew and the maximum number of passengers which the vessel is fit to carry;

(d) the limits within which the vessel may be used for the purpose of trading and the terms and conditions subject to which she may be used for such trading;

(e) the particulars of the free board assigned to the vessel; and shall contain a statement to the effect that her hull, rigging and equipment (including auxiliary machinery, if any) are in good condition.

(3) Every certificate of inspection shall be in force from the date of issue for a period of one year or for such shorter period as may be specified therein :

Provided that where a sailing vessel is on a voyage outside India at the time of expiry of the certificate, the certificate shall continue to be valid until her first arrival at a port in India after the expiry of such period.

(4) No customs collector shall grant a port clearance to a sailing vessel registered under this Part until after the production by the owner or tindal thereof of a certificate of inspection granted under this Part in respect of the vessel.

422. Cancellation re-issue, etc., of certificate of inspection.

(1) Where at any time subsequent to the issue of a certificate of inspection in respect of a sailing vessel, the Director-General has reason to believe that the vessel is not fit to ply or proceed to sea, he may, after giving the owner an opportunity of making a representation, cancel such certificate.

(2) Where at any time subsequent to the issue of a certificate of inspection a sailing vessel has undergone material alteration or has met with accident or, where the certificate of inspection of a sailing vessel has been cancelled under sub-section (1) and an application is made for the re-issue of such certificate or for the grant of a fresh certificate, the registrar may, before re-issuing the certificate or issuing a fresh certificate, as the case may be, cause such vessel to be inspected; and if the authority inspecting the vessel reports that she is not fit to ply or proceed to sea or that her hull, rigging and equipment (including auxiliary machinery, if any) are defective, such certificate shall not be re-issued or issued until the vessel is, in the opinion of such authority, fit to ply or proceed to sea or the defect is rectified to the satisfaction of such authority.

423. Registry of alterations.

When a sailing vessel is so altered as not to correspond with the particulars relating to her entered in the certificate of registry, the owner of such vessel shall make a report of such alteration to the registrar of the port where the vessel is registered, and the registrar shall either cause the alteration to be registered, or direct that the vessel be registered anew, in accordance with such rules as may be made in this behalf.

424. Transfer of registry.

The registry of a sailing vessel may be transferred from one port to another in India on the application of the owner or tindal of the vessel in accordance with such rules as may be made in this behalf.

425. Closure of registry.

If a sailing vessel is lost, destroyed or rendered permanently unfit for service, the owner of such vessel shall with the least practicable delay report the fact to the registrar of the port where the vessel is registered and also forward to him along with the report, the certificate of registry in respect of the vessel; and thereupon the registrar shall have the registry of the vessel closed.

426. Restrictions on transfer of sailing vessels.

No person shall transfer or acquire any sailing vessel registered under this Part or any interest therein without the previous approval of the Central Government; and any transaction effected in contravention of this section shall be void and unenforceable.

427. Mortgages of sailing vessels.

(1) Every mortgage of a sailing vessel or of any interest therein effected after the date on which this part comes into force shall be registered with the registrar.

(2) Every mortgage of a sailing vessel or any interest therein effected before the date on which this part comes into force shall, if subsisting on that date, be registered with the registrar within three months of that date.

(3) The registrar shall enter every such mortgage in the sailing vessels register in the order in which it is registered with him.

(4) If there are more mortgages than one recorded in respect of the same sailing vessel or interest therein, the mortgages shall, notwithstanding any express, implied or constructive notice, have priority according to the date on which each mortgage is registered with the registrar and not according to the date of each mortgage itself :

Provided that nothing contained in this sub-section shall affect the relative priorities as they existed immediately before the date on which this Part comes into force as between mortgages of the same vessel or interest therein effected before such date which are registered in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2).

428. Fraudulent use of certificate of registry or certificate of inspection, etc., prohibited.

(1) No person shall use or attempt to use the certificate of registry or the certificate of inspection granted in respect of a sailing vessel for any purpose other than the lawful navigation of the vessel.

(2) No person shall use or attempt to use for the navigation of a sailing vessel a certificate of registry or a certificate of inspection not granted in respect of that vessel.

(3) No person who has in his possession or under his control the certificate of registry or the certificate of inspection of a sailing vessel shall refuse or omit without reasonable cause to deliver such certificate on demand to the owner of the vessel.

429. Statement relating to crew of sailing vessel to be maintained.

(1) Every owner or tindal of a sailing vessel shall maintain or cause to be maintained in the prescribed form a statement of the crew of the vessel containing with respect to each member thereof—

- (a) his name ;
- (b) the wages payable to him ;
- (c) the names and addresses of his next-of-kin ;
- (d) the date of commencement of his employment ; and
- (e) such other particulars as may be prescribed.

(2) Every change in the crew of the vessel shall be entered in the statement under sub-section (1).

(3) A copy of such statement and of every change entered therein shall be communicated as soon as possible to the registrar of the port of registry of the vessel concerned.

430. Inquiry into jettisoning of cargo.

(1) If any owner or tindal of a sailing vessel in the course of her voyage, has jettisoned or claims to have jettisoned the whole or any part of the cargo of the vessel on account of abnormal weather conditions or for any other reason, he shall immediately after arrival of the vessel at any port in India give notice of such jettisoning to the proper officer at such port; and such notice shall contain full particulars of the cargo jettisoned and the circumstances under which such jettisoning took place.

(2) When any such officer receives notice under sub-section (1) or has reason to believe that the cargo of any sailing vessel in his port has been jettisoned, he shall forthwith report in writing to the Central Government the information he has received and may proceed to make an inquiry into the matter.

431. Non-Indian sailing vessels not to engage in coasting trade without permission.

(1) A sailing vessel not owned by a citizen of India or a company which satisfies the requirements specified in clause (b) of section 21, shall not engage in the coasting trade of India without the written permission of the Director-General.

(2) The Director-General may, when granting such permission, impose such terms and conditions as he thinks fit and may require the owner or other person in charge of the vessel to deposit with him such amount as he thinks necessary for the due fulfilment of such terms and conditions.

(3) No customs collector shall grant a port clearance to a sailing vessel not registered under this Part which engages or attempts to engage in the coasting trade of India until after the production by the owner or person in charge thereof of the written permission of the Director-General.

432. Detention of overloaded non-Indian sailing vessels.

(1) If any sailing vessel registered in any country outside India arrives in or proceeds from a port or place in India in an overloaded condition, the person in charge of the vessel shall be guilty of an offence under this section.

(2) A sailing vessel shall be deemed to be in an overloaded condition for the purposes of this section—

- (a) where the vessel is loaded beyond the limit specified in any certificate issued in the country in which she is registered ; or
- (b) in case no such certificate has been issued in respect of the vessel, where the actual free board of the vessel is less than the free board which would have been assigned to her had she been registered under this Part.

(3) Any sailing vessel which is in an overloaded condition and is about to proceed from a port or place in India may be detained until she ceases to be in an overloaded condition; but nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of the person in charge of the vessel in respect of such overloading under any other provision of this Act.

433. Power of Courts to rescind contracts between owner and tindal.

Where a proceeding is instituted in any Court in respect of any dispute between the owner of a sailing vessel and the tindal arising out of or incidental to their relation as such, or is instituted for the purpose of this section, the Court, if having regard to all the circumstances of the case it thinks it just to do so, may rescind any contract between the owner and the tindal upon such terms as the Court may think just and this power shall be in addition to any other jurisdiction which the Court can exercise independently of this section.

434. Application to sailing vessels of other provisions relating to ships.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that any provisions of this Act other than those contained in this Part which do not expressly apply to sailing vessels shall also apply to sailing vessels subject to such conditions, exceptions and modifications as may be specified in the notification.

435. Power to make rules respecting sailing vessels.

(1) The Central Government may make rules to carry out the purposes of this Part.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the form in which applications for certificates of registry shall be made and the particulars which such applications should contain ;
- (b) the manner in which the tonnage of sailing vessels shall be ascertained ;
- (c) the manner in which free board is to be assigned to sailing vessels and the free board markings are to be made ;
- (d) the form in which certificates of registry and certificates of inspection may be issued ;
- (e) the issue of duplicate copies of certificates of registry and certificates of inspection where the originals are destroyed, lost, mislaid, mutilated or defaced ;
- (f) the manner in which, and the time within which, applications for the registry of alterations in the certificates of registry of sailing vessels shall be reported, the endorsement of the particulars of alteration on the certificates of registry, the grant of provisional certificates in cases where sailing vessels are directed to be registered anew, the period for which provisional certificates shall be valid and all other matters ancillary to the registry of alterations ;
- (g) the manner in which applications for the transfer of registry of sailing vessels from one port to another in India shall be made and the procedure to be followed by the registrar in connection with such transfer ;
- (h) the authorities by which sailing vessels are to be inspected and certificates of inspection are to be issued under this Part ;
- (i) the criteria by which sailing vessels may be classified for the purpose of determining the limits within which they may be used for purposes of trading ;
- (j) the fixing of the rates of freight which may be charged by sailing vessels for specified goods or for any class of goods in relation to the coasting trade of India ;

- (k) the equipment which sailing vessels or any class of sailing vessels should carry including equipment relating to life saving and fire appliances, lights, shapes and signals required by the collision regulations ;
- (l) the survey of space provided for passengers of sailing vessels and the scale and type of accommodation to be provided for such passengers ;
- (m) the authority to which information regarding certificates of registry, registry of alterations and issue of fresh certificates of registry under this Part is to be sent by registrars ;
- (n) the qualifications to be possessed by tindals and other members of the crew of sailing vessels, the issue of permits to tindals and of identity cards to other members of the crew, the conditions for the issue of such permits and identity cards and the cancellation or suspension thereof ;
- (o) the fees which may be levied for the issue or re-issue of certificates of registry or certificates of inspection and for all other purposes of this Part ;
- (p) the form in which a contract for chartering a sailing vessel shall be executed ;
- (q) the form in which a contract for the carriage of goods by sailing vessels shall be executed ;
- (r) the reservation, in the public interest or in the interest of sailing vessels, of specified commodities for transport by sailing vessels either generally or in specified sectors of the coasting trade or between specified ports and the conditions subject to which such reservation may be made ;
- (s) any other matter which has to be or may be prescribed.

*Procedure437.<sup>a</sup> Place of trial.

Any person committing any offence under this Act or any rule or regulation thereunder may be tried for the offence in any place in which he may be found or which the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct in this behalf, or in any other place in which he might be tried under any other law for the time being in force.

438.<sup>a</sup> Cognizance of offences.

The penalties to which masters and owners of unberthed passenger and pilgrim ships are made liable by section 436 shall be enforced only on information laid at the instance of the certifying officer, or, at any port or place where there is no such officer at the instance of such other officer as the Central Government may specify in this behalf.

439.<sup>a</sup> Jurisdiction of Magistrates.

No Court inferior to that of a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class shall try any offence under this Act or any rule or regulation thereunder.

440.<sup>a</sup> Special provision regarding punishment.

Notwithstanding anything contained in section 32 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, it shall be lawful for a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class to pass any sentence authorised by or under this Act on any person convicted of an offence under this Act or any rule or regulation thereunder.

441.<sup>a</sup> Offences by companies.

(1) If the person committing an offence under this Act is a company, every person who, at the time the offence was committed, was in charge of, and was responsible to, the company for the conduct of the business of the company, as well as the company, shall be deemed to be guilty of the offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly :

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall render any such person liable to any punishment provided in this Act, if he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent the commission of such offence.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where an offence under this Act has been committed by a company, and it is proved that the offence was committed with the consent or connivance of, or is attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other officer of the company, such director, manager, secretary or other officer shall also be deemed to be guilty of that offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section,—

(a) “company” includes a firm or other association of individuals; and

(b) “director” in relation to a firm means a partner in the firm.

[a] Section 441 came into force on 1st April, 1960—see S. O. 565 dated 26-2-1960 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-section 3 (ii), page 886.

442.* Depositions to be received in evidence when witness cannot be produced.

(1) Whenever, in the course of any legal proceeding under this Act instituted at any place in India before any court or magistrate or before any person authorised by law or by consent of parties to receive evidence, the testimony of any witness is required in relation to the subject-matter, and the defendant or the person accused (as the case may be), after being allowed a reasonable opportunity for so doing, does not produce the witness before the court, magistrate or person so authorised, any deposition previously made by the witness in relation to the same subject-matter before any court, justice or magistrate in any other place in India or, if elsewhere, before a Marine Board or before any Indian consular officer, shall be admissible in evidence—

(a) if the deposition is authenticated by the signature of the presiding officer of the court or of the justice, magistrate or Marine Board or consular officer, before whom it is made;

(b) if the defendant or the person accused had an opportunity by himself or his agent of cross-examining the witness;

(c) if the proceeding is criminal, on proof that the deposition was made in the presence of the person accused.

(2) It shall not be necessary in any case to prove the signature or official character of the person appearing to have signed such deposition; and a certificate by such person that the defendant or person accused had an opportunity of cross-examining the witness, and that the deposition, if made in a criminal proceeding, was made in the presence of the person accused, shall, unless the contrary is proved, be sufficient evidence that he had that opportunity and that it was so made.

[a] Section 442 came into force on 1st April, 1960—see S. O. 565 dated 26-2-1960 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-section 3 (ii), page 886.

443. Power to detain foreign ship that has occasioned damage.

(1) Whenever any damage has in any part of the world been caused to property belonging to the Government or to any citizen of India or a company by a ship other than an Indian ship and at any time thereafter that ship is found within Indian jurisdiction, the High Court may, upon the application of any person who alleges that the damage was caused by the misconduct or want of skill of the master or any member of the crew of the ship, issue an order directed to any proper officer or other officer named in the order requiring him to detain the ship until such time as the owner, master or consignee thereof has satisfied any claim in respect of the damage or has given security to the satisfaction of the High Court to pay all costs and damages that may be awarded in any legal proceedings that may be instituted in respect of the damage, and any officer to whom the order is directed shall detain the ship accordingly.

(2) Whenever it appears that before an application can be made under this section, the ship in respect of which the application is to be made will have departed from India of the territorial waters of India, any proper officer may detain the ship for such time as to allow the application to be made and the result thereof to be communicated to the officer detaining the ship, and that officer shall not be liable for any costs or damages in respect of the detention unless the same is proved to have been made without reasonable grounds.

(3) In any legal proceedings in relation to any such damage aforesaid, the person giving security shall be made a defendant and shall for the purpose of such proceeding be deemed to be the owner of the ship that has occasioned the damage.

444. Power to enforce detention of ship.

(1) Where under this Act a ship is authorised or ordered to be detained, any commissioned officer of the Indian Navy or any port officer, pilot, harbour master, conservator of port or customs collector may detain the ship.

(2) If any ship after detention, or after service on the master of any notice of, or order for, such detention proceeds to sea before she is released by competent authority, the master of the ship shall be guilty of an offence under this sub-section.

(3) When a ship so proceeding to sea takes to sea, when on board thereof in the execution of his duty any person authorised under this Act to detain or survey the ship, the owner, master or agent of such ship shall each be liable to pay all expenses of, and incidental to, such person being so taken to sea and shall also be guilty of an offence under this sub-section.

(4) When any owner, or master or agent is convicted of an offence under sub-section (3), the convicting magistrate may inquire into and determine the amount payable on account of expenses by such owner, master or agent under that sub-section and may direct that the same shall be recovered from him in the manner provided for the recovery of fines.

445. Levy of wages, etc., by distress of movable property or ship.

(1) When an order under this Act for the payment of any wages or other sums of money is made by a court, magistrate or other officer or authority, and the money is not paid at the time or in the manner directed, the sum mentioned in the order with such further sum as may be thereby awarded for costs, may be levied by distress and sale of the movable property of the person directed to pay the same under a warrant to be issued for that purpose by a magistrate.

(2) Where any court, magistrate or other officer or authority has power under this Act, to make an order directing payment to be made of any seaman's wages, fines or other sums of money, then if the person so directed, to pay the same is the master, owner or agent of a ship and the same is not paid at the time or in the manner directed by the order the court, magistrate, officer or authority may, in addition to any other power it or he may have for the purpose of compelling payment by warrant, direct the amount remaining unpaid to be levied by distress and sale of the ship and her equipment.

446. Notice to be given to consular representative of proceedings taken in respect of foreign ship.

If any ship other than an Indian ship is detained under this Act, or if any proceedings are taken under this Act against the master, owner or agent of any such ship, notice shall forthwith be served on the consular officer of the country in which the ship is registered, at or nearest to the port where the ship is for the time being, and such notice shall specify the grounds on which the ship has been detained or the proceedings have been taken.

447.* Application of fines.

A magistrate imposing a fine under this Act may, if he thinks fit, direct the whole or any part thereof to be applied in compensating any person for any detriment which he may have sustained by the act or default in respect of which the fine is imposed or in or towards payment of the expenses of the prosecution.

448.* Service of documents.

Where for the purposes of this Act, any document is to be served on any person, that document may be served—

- (a) in any case by delivering a copy thereof personally to the person to be served, or by leaving the same at his last place of abode, or by post ; and
- (b) if the document is to be served on the master of a ship, where there is one, or on a person belonging to a ship, by leaving the same for him on board that ship, with the person being or appearing to be in command or charge of the ship ; and
- (c) if the document is to be served on the master of a ship where there is no master and the ship is in India, on the owner of the ship, or, if such owner is not in India, on some agent of the owner residing in India, or, where no such agent is known or can be found, by affixing a copy thereof to the mast of the ship.

[a] Section 448 came into force on 1st April 1960 — See S. O. 565, dated 28-2-1960, published in Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-S. 3 (ii), page 886.

PART XVII

MISCELLANEOUS

449. Power to appoint examiners and to make rule as to qualifications of ship surveyors.

The Central Government may appoint persons for the purpose of examining the qualifications of persons desirous of practising the profession of a ship surveyor at any port in India and may make rules—

- (a) for the conduct of such examinations and the qualifications to be required ;
- (b) for the grant of certificates to qualified persons ;
- (c) for the fees to be paid for such examinations and certificates ;
- (d) for holding inquiries into charges of incompetency and misconduct on the part of holders of such certificates ; and
- (e) for the cancellation and suspension of such certificates.

450. No person to practise as ship surveyor unless qualified.

No person shall in any port in which there is a person exercising the profession of a ship surveyor and holding a certificate granted under section 449 exercise such profession in such port unless he holds a certificate granted under that section :

Provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent any person employed exclusively by Lloyd's Register of Shipping or Bureau Veritas or any other classification society specified by the Central Government in the Official Gazette in this behalf from discharging any of the duties of such employment or apply to any person specially exempted by the Central Government from the operation of this section.

451. Power of ship surveyor to inspect ship.

Any person holding a certificate granted under section 449 and exercising the profession of a ship surveyor at any port in India may in the execution of his duties go on board a ship and inspect the same and every part thereof and the machinery, equipment and cargo and may require the unloading or removal of any cargo, ballast or tackle.

452. Inquiry into cause of death on board Indian ship.

(1) If any person dies on board a foreign-going Indian ship, the proper officer at the port where the crew of the ship is discharged, or the proper officer at any earlier port of call in India, shall, on the arrival of the ship at that port, inquire into the cause of death, and shall make in the official log book an endorsement to the effect, either that the statement of the cause of death in the book is in his opinion true, or the contrary, according to the result of the inquiry.

(2) If, in the course of any such inquiry, it appears to the proper officer that a death has been caused on board the ship by violence or other improper means, he shall either report the matter to the Director-General or, if the emergency of the case so requires, shall take immediate steps for bringing the offender to trial.

453. Certain persons deemed to be public servants.

The following persons shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code, namely :—

- (a) every surveyor ;
- (b) every judge, assessor or other person acting under Part XII ;
- (c) every person appointed under this Act to report information as to shipping casualties ;
- (d) every person authorised under this Act to make any investigation or inquiry under Part X and all persons whom he calls to his aid ;
- (e) every person directed to make an investigation into an explosion or fire on a ship under section 388 ;
- (f) every other officer or person appointed under this Act to perform any functions thereunder.

454. Powers of persons authorised to investigate, etc.

(1) Every judge, assessor, officer or other person who is empowered by this Act to make an investigation or inquiry or to board, survey, inspect or detain a ship—

- (a) may go on board any ship and inspect the same or any part thereof, or any of the machinery, equipment or articles on board thereof, or any certificates of the master or other officer to which the provisions of this Act or any of the rules or regulations thereunder apply, not unnecessarily detaining or delaying the ship from proceeding on any voyage, and if in consequence of any accident to the ship or for any other reason it is considered necessary so to do, may require the ship to be taken into dock for the purpose of inspection or survey ;
- (b) may enter and inspect any premises, the entry and inspection of which appears to be requisite for the purpose aforesaid ;
- (c) may, by summons under his hand, require the attendance of all such persons as he thinks fit to call before him and examine them for the purpose aforesaid, and may require answers or returns to any enquiries he thinks fit to make ;
- (d) may require and enforce the production of all relevant books, papers, or documents ;
- (e) may administer oaths or may in lieu of requiring or administering an oath, require every person examined by him to make and subscribe a declaration of the truth of the statements made by him in his examination ; and
- (f) may muster the crew of any such ship.

(2) No person shall hinder or obstruct any officer or person referred to in sub-section (1) from going on board any ship or otherwise impede him in the execution of his duties or the exercise of his powers under this Act.

Explanation.—In this section, “ship” includes a sailing vessel.

455. Exemption of Public ships, foreign and Indian.

(1) This Act shall not, except where specially provided, apply to ships belonging to any foreign prince or State and employed otherwise than for profit in the public service of the foreign prince or State.

(2) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that the provisions of this Act or any of them shall not apply to ships belonging to the Government or to any class of such ships.

456.<sup>a</sup> Power to exempt.

(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the Central Government may, by order in writing and upon such conditions, if any, as it may think fit to impose, exempt any ship or sailing vessel or any master, tindal or seaman from any specified requirement contained in or prescribed in pursuance of this Act or dispense with the observance of any such requirement in the case of any ship or sailing vessel or any master, tindal or seaman, if it is satisfied that that requirement has been substantially complied with or that compliance with the requirement is or ought to be dispensed with in the circumstances of the case.

(2) Where an exemption is granted under sub-section (1) subject to any conditions, a breach of any of those conditions shall, without prejudice to any other remedy, be deemed to be an offence under this sub-section.

457.<sup>a</sup> General power to make rules.

Without prejudice to any power to make rules contained elsewhere in this Act, the Central Government may make rules generally to carry out the purposes of this Act.

458.<sup>a</sup> Provisions with respect to rules and regulations.

(1) All rules and regulations made under this Act shall be published in the Official Gazette.

(2) In making a rule or regulation under this Act, the Central Government may direct that a breach thereof shall be punishable—

(a) in the case of a rule made under section 331, with imprisonment which may extend to two years, or with fine which may extend to ten thousand rupees or with both ;

(b) in the case of any other rule or regulation made under any other provision of this Act, with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees ; and in either case if the breach is a continuing one, with further fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

(3) All rules and regulations made under this Act shall be laid for not less than thirty days before each house of Parliament as soon as may be after they are made and shall be subject to such modifications as Parliament may make during the session in which they are so laid or the session immediately following.

[a] Section 458 came into force on 1st April, 1960—See S. O. 565 dated 26-2-1960 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-section 3 (ii), page 886.

Section 455 — Note 1

[1] Section 4, Merchant Shipping Act, is applicable only to public ships in the sense of belonging to a foreign State. A ship owned by an individual foreigner cannot be said to belong to the State of which the foreigner is a national or a citizen and he cannot, therefore, claim the exemption under that section. 1952 Cal 859(863) [AIR V 39]. (Case under old Act.)

459.* Power to constitute committees to advise on rules, regulations and scales of fees.

(1) The Central Government may, if it thinks fit, constitute one or more committees consisting of such number of persons as it may appoint thereto representing the interests principally affected or having special knowledge of the subject-matter, for the purpose of advising it when considering the making or alteration of any rules, regulations or scales of fees under this Act or for any other purpose connected with this Act.

(2) There shall be paid to the members of any such committee such travelling and other allowances as the Central Government may fix.

(3) Committees may be constituted under this section to advise the Central Government either generally as regards any rules, regulations or scales of fees or as regards any class or classes of rules, regulations or scales of fees in particular or for any other purpose connected with this Act.

460.* Protection of persons acting under Act.

No suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

PART XVIII

REPEALS AND SAVINGS

461. Repeals and savings.

(1) The enactments specified in Part I of the Schedule<sup>a</sup> are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the fourth column thereof.

(2) The enactments specified in Part II of the Schedule, in so far as they extend to and operate as part of the law of India, are hereby repealed.

(3) notwithstanding the repeal of any enactment by sub-s. (1) or sub-s. (2).—

(a) any notification, rule, regulation, bye-law, order or exemption issued, made or granted under any enactment hereby repealed shall, until revoked, have effect as if it had been issued, made or granted under the corresponding provision of this Act;

(b) any officer appointed and any body elected or constituted under any enactment hereby repealed shall continue and shall be deemed to have been appointed, elected or constituted, as the case may be, under this Act;

(c) any document referring to any enactment hereby repealed shall be construed as referring to this Act or to the corresponding provision of this Act;

(d) any fine levied under any enactment hereby repealed may be recovered as if it had been levied under this Act;

(e) any offence committed under any enactment hereby repealed may be prosecuted and punished as if it had been committed under this Act;

(f) sailing vessels registered under any enactment hereby repealed shall be deemed to have been registered under this Act;

(g) mortgages of ships recorded in any register book maintained at any port in India under any enactment hereby repealed shall be deemed to have been recorded in the register book under the corresponding provision of this Act;

(h) any licence, certificate of competency or service, certificate of survey, A or B certificate, safety certificate, qualified safety certificate, radio telegraphy certificate, radio telephony certificate, safety equipment certicate, exemption certificate, international or Indian load line certificate or any other certificate or document issued, made or granted under any enactment hereby repealed and in force at the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been issued, made or granted under this Act and shall, unless cancelled under this Act continue in force until the date shown in the certificate or document, as the case may be.

(4) The mention of particular matters in this section shall not be held to prejudice or affect the general application of S. 6 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, with regard to the effect of repeals.

[a] So much of section 461 and of Part I of the Schedule as relate to the Control of Shipping Act, 1947 (XXVI of 1947) came into force on 1st April, 1960— See S. O. 565 dated 26-2-1960 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1960, Pt. II-sec. 3 (ii), page 886.

THE SCHEDULE.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"With effect from the 1st August, 1949, a large number of Acceding States which have ceded full jurisdiction to the Dominion Government, and which were being previously administered under the Extra-Provincial Jurisdiction Act, 1947 (XLVII of 1947) [now the foreign jurisdiction Act, 1947], have either been finally merged in the adjoining Governors' Provinces [now the States] or constituted into new Chief Commissioners' Provinces [now the Union territories] by orders under section 290-A of the Government of India Act, 1935. The existing laws in the merged States will, however, continue, until repealed, modified or amended by a competent Legislature or other competent authority.

2. A considerable number of Central Acts and Ordinances has been applied to the merged States by Orders under the Extra-Provincial Jurisdiction Act, 1947; but the Acts and Ordinances so applied are in law distinct from the Acts and Ordinances as in force in the Provinces of India. This position which is continuing even after the 1st August, 1949 is obviously unsatisfactory. A similar situation in regard to Berar as from the 1st April, 1937, had to be resolved by the passing of the Berar Laws Act, 1941 (IV of 1941). Considering the large number of island territories which stand merged in the Governors'

Provinces from the 1st August, 1949, it is desirable to provide for the proprio vigore extension of the more important Central Acts and Ordinances and the Bengal State Prisoners Regulation, 1818 (III of 1818), to all the merged States, including those which have been constituted into Chief Commissioners' Provinces. Hence this Bill which has been prepared in consultation with the Ministries of the Government of India, the Provincial Governments and the Chief Commissioners' Provinces concerned.

3. It will be observed from clause (3) of the Bill that, in so far as the Governor's Provinces are concerned, the proprio vigore extension to the merged States of the laws specified in the Schedule to the Bill will not be fully affected by the Central Act and that corresponding supplementary legislation by the Provinces will be necessary. As it is obviously desirable that the Central Act and the Provincial legislation should come into force on the same day, a commencement clause stating that this Act shall come into force on the 1st January, 1950, has been included in the Bill, and the Provincial Governments will be requested to bring their corresponding legislation into force on the same day."

[THE] MERGED STATES (LAWS) ACT, 1949

(ACT LIX OF 1949)*

[26th December, 1949.]

An Act to extend certain laws to certain areas administered as parts of Governor's Provinces or as Chief Commissioners' Provinces.

WHEREAS by Orders under section 290A of the Government of India Act, 1935, provision has been made for the administration of certain areas either as if they formed part of an adjoining Governor's Province or as if they were a Chief Commissioner's Province;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient to provide that certain laws should be extended to, and by virtue of such extension, be in force in, the said areas ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1949, Pt. V, page 401.
This Act stands unmodified by A. L. O., 1950.

1. Short title and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE MERGED STATES (LAWS) ACT, 1949.

(2) It shall come into force on the 1st day of January, 1950.

2. Definitions.

In this Act,—

- (a) the expressions “absorbing Province” and “merged State” have the same meanings as in the States’ Merger (Governors’ Provinces) Order, 1949,<sup>a</sup> as amended by the States’ Merger (United Provinces) Order, 1949<sup>b</sup>; and
- (b) the expression “new Provinces” means the Chief Commissioner’s Provinces constituted by the States’ Merger (Chief Commissioner’s Provinces) Order, 1949,<sup>c</sup> as amended by the States’ Merger (United Provinces) Order, 1949.<sup>b</sup>

3. Extension of laws.

(1) The Acts, Ordinances and Regulation specified in the Schedule are hereby extended to, and shall be in force in, all the new Provinces.

(2) So much of any of the Acts, Ordinances and Regulation specified in the Schedule as extends to any absorbing Province and relates to matters with respect to which the Dominion Legislature has power to make laws for a Governor’s Province is hereby extended to, and shall be in force in, all the merged States which are now administered as part of that Province.

(3) If any of the said Acts, Ordinances and Regulation as in force in any absorbing Province immediately before the commencement of this Act is subject to any amendments made by the Legislature of that Province, that Act, Ordinance or Regulation shall be deemed to be extended to, and to be in force in, all the merged States which are now administered as part of that Province, subject to so much of the said amendments as relate to matters with respect to which the Dominion Legislature has power to make laws for a Governor’s Province.

4. Interpretation of laws as extended.

In any Act, Ordinance or Regulation specified in the Schedule, notwithstanding anything contained in the General Clauses Act, 1897,—

- (a) any reference, by whatever form of words, to the acceding States shall be construed as not including a reference to any of the merged States or to any of the States (other than the United State of Saurashtra) mentioned in the States’ Merger (Chief Commissioners’ Provinces) Order, 1949 as amended by the States’ Merger (United Provinces) Order, 1949;
- (b) any reference, by whatever form of words, to Indian British subjects shall be deemed to include a reference to persons who, immediately before the 1st day of August, 1949, were subjects of any of the merged States or of any of the States (other than the United State of Saurashtra) mentioned in the States’ Merger (Chief Commissioners’ Provinces) Order, 1949, as amended by the States’ Merger (United Provinces) Order, 1949;
- (c) any reference, by whatever form of words, to the Provinces generally or to the Chief Commissioners’ Provinces generally shall be construed as including a reference to the new Provinces; and
- (d) any reference, by whatever form of words, to an absorbing Province shall be construed as including a reference to the merged States which are now administered as part of that Province.

Section 3 — Note 1

[1] Though this Act which came into force on 1-1-1950 enforced the Code of Criminal Procedure in all Part C States, yet that Code is not in force in the subsequently created Part C State of Manipur because the Part C

State Laws Act of 1950 has excluded the applicability of that Code to that State. 1955 Manipur 41 (47) [(S) AIR V 42 C 9] : 1955 Cr i L Jour 1603.

5. Repeal of corresponding laws.

If immediately before the commencement of this Act there is in force in any of the new Provinces or merged States an Act, Ordinance, Regulation or other law corresponding to an Act, Ordinance or Regulation specified in the Schedule, whether such Act, Ordinance or Regulation is in force by virtue of an Order under the Extra-Provincial Jurisdiction Act, 1947,* or by virtue of any other legislative power, such corresponding law shall upon the commencement of this Act,—

(a) in a new Province, stand repealed, and

(b) in a merged State, stand repealed to the extent to which the law relates to matters with respect to which the Dominion Legislature has power to make laws for a Governor's Province.

[a] Now the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1947.

6. Savings.

(1) The repeal by section 5 of this Act of any corresponding law in force in the new Provinces or merged States immediately before the commencement of this Act shall not affect—

(a) the previous operation of any such law, or

Section 5 — Note 1

[1] A law will be deemed to be a corresponding law, as contemplated by S. 5, Merged States (Laws) Act, if its purpose and object are the same as those of the Central Acts which have been extended to a merged State by this Act. The Courts of law will have to be guided more by the purpose and the object of the enactment than by the similarities or dissimilarities though the similarities and dissimilarities will have to be taken into consideration in determining the object and purpose of the Acts in question. 1956 Bhopal 33 (34) [AIR V 43 C 20].

[2] The object and purpose of the Bhopal Charitable and Religious Trusts Act being the same as those of the Civil P. C., the Charitable Endowments Act (1890) and the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act (1920) which were extended by this Act to Bhopal State, that Act has become inoperative in the State of Bhopal since 1-1-1950. 1956 Bhopal 33 (36) [AIR V 43 C 20].

[3] When the Court-fees Act of 1870 became enforceable without any qualification under this Act in Himachal Pradesh the corresponding provision of law, namely, the Court-fees Act of 1870, as amended by the Punjab Court-fees (Amendment) Act, which was in force in that State stood repealed under S. 5 of this Act. 1952 Him Pra 60 (61) [AIR V 39] + 1954 Him Pra 52 (54) [AIR V 41 C 30].

[4] The Court-fees Act, 1870 continues in force in the Bashahr State as amended by Para. 36 of the Himachal Pradesh (Courts) Order 1948, despite the provisions of S. 5 of Merged States (Laws) Act 1949. 1954 Him Pra 26 (28) [AIR V 41 C 12]. (AIR 1952 Him Pra 60, Distinguished.)

[5] The Essential Supplies (Temporary Powers) Act, 1946 and the Tripura State Cotton and Yarn Control Order (1358 T. E.) are not corresponding laws within the meaning of S. 5 of this Act. Hence the extension of the Central Act to the Tripura State did not result in the repeal of the Control Order. 1952 Tripura 18 (20) [AIR V 39] : 1952 Cri L Jour 1642.

[6] The Bombay Police Act 4 of 1890 which was in force in Kutch on 31-12-1949 does not correspond with the Central Act, namely, the Police Act 5 of 1881. Hence the extension of the latter Act to Kutch under the Merged States Laws Act did not result under S. 5 of that Act in the repeal of the Bombay Act. 1954 Kutch 15 (16) [AIR V 41 C 7] : 1954 Cri L Jour 770.

[7] Though this Act has enforced S. 115 of the Civil P. C. to Himachal Pradesh it has not repealed Para. 35 of Himachal Pradesh (Courts) Order of 1948. 1951 Him Pra 61 (63, 64) [AIR V 38 C 19]. (The general provisions of S. 115, Civil P. C. must be construed as excluding from its ambit the matters provided for by the special provisions of the Himachal Pradesh (Courts) Order. Held further that assuming that the Order of 1948 which only amended the Order of 1943 was repealed by this Act it did not affect Para. 35 which became a part of the Order of 1943 itself as a result of the amendment.)

Section 6 — Note 1

[1] Where on the date on which a mortgage was executed the rights and liabilities of parties thereto were governed by S. 49 of Bhopal Civil P. C. those rights and liabilities should be determined only in accordance with that Code even after its repeal and the extension of the Indian Civil P. C. in its place brought about by the Merged States Laws Act. 1953 Bhopal 35 (36) [AIR V 40 C 15].

[2] When immediately before the application of the Indian Limitation Act under the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1950, a plaintiff's suit is in time under the Indian Limitation

(b) any penalty, forfeiture or punishment incurred in respect of any offence committed against any such law, or

(c) any investigation, legal proceeding or remedy in respect of any such penalty, forfeiture or punishment, and any such investigation, legal proceeding or remedy may be instituted, continued or enforced and any such penalty, forfeiture or punishment may be imposed as if this Act had not been passed.

(2) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (1), anything done or any action taken, including any appointment or delegation made, notification, order, instruction or direction issued, rule, regulation, form, bye-law or scheme framed, certificate, patent, permit or licence granted or registration effected, under such corresponding law shall be deemed to have been done or taken under the corresponding provision of the Act, Ordinance or Regulation as now extended to, and in force in, the new Province or merged State and shall continue in force accordingly unless and until superseded by anything done or any action taken under the said Act, Ordinance or Regulation.

7. Powers of Courts and other authorities for purposes of facilitating application of laws.

For the purpose of facilitating the application in any of the new Provinces or merged States of any Act, Ordinance or Regulation specified in the Schedule, any Court or other authority may construe any such Act, Ordinance or Regulation with such alterations, not affecting the substance, as may be necessary or proper to adapt it to the matter before the Court or other authority.

Section 6 — Note 1 (contd.)

Act as applied by the Kutch (Application of Laws) Order, it is not affected by the new Limitation Act and does not become barred as a result of the re-application of the Limitation Act by the Merged States (Laws) Act. 1951 Kutch 41 (41, 42) [AIR V 38 C 27] * 1951 Kutch 15 (16, 17) [AIR V 38 C 14].

[3] A suit which did not become barred by the Limitation Act as applied by the Kutch (Application of Laws) Order was not entitled to the extended period of three years limitation under that Order. When such a suit is instituted after the Merged State Laws Act has been passed then the period of limitation for that suit must be reckoned only in accordance with the provisions of Indian Limitation Act as applied by that Act. Therefore the suit which is not filed within the period prescribed by that Act cannot be saved from the bar of limitation by the fact that it has been instituted within the extended period of 3 years provided by the Kutch (Application of Laws) Order. 1955 Kutch 2 (4) [AIR V 42 C 2].

[4] By the Kutch (Application of Laws) Order, 1949 which applied the Bombay Prevention of Gambling Act 4 of 1887 to the Chief Commissioner's Province of Kutch the language of S. 1 of the Bombay Act was modified so as to vest the power in the Chief Commissioner to issue a notification to bring that Act into force. This power which had become so vested in him was not lost by him as a result of the extension of the General Clauses Act to that Province by the Merged States Laws Act of 1949 which came into force on

1-1-1950. Hence even after such extension of the General Clauses Act to that Province the Chief Commissioner possessed the power to issue a notification under S. 1 of the Bombay Act and bring it into force in that Province. 1957 S C 517 (520) [(S) AIR V 44 C 79] : 1957 S C R 745 : 1957 Cri L Jour 884. (AIR 1954 Kutch 42, Reversed.)

[5] A company registered under Kalhandi State Company Law cannot be considered after the merger of that State an unregistered Company within the meaning of the Indian Companies Act because under S. 6 (2) of the Merged State (Laws) Act, 1949 the registration effected under Kalhandi State Company Law should be deemed, to have been done or taken under the Indian Companies Act, 1913. ('53) 57 Cal W N 61 (64).

Section 7 — Note 1

[1] After the passing of this Act recourse to the provisions of the Punjab Court-fees (Amendment) Acts cannot be justified in Himachal Pradesh under the provisions of this section. The Punjab Act affects the substance of the Court-fees Act of 1870 and hence its application cannot be treated as amounting to merely construing the Court-fees Act of 1870 or adapting it to the matter in hand as permitted by this section. 1954 Him Pra 52 (54) [AIR V 41 C 30].

[THE] METAL TOKENS ACT, 1889

(ACT I OF 1889)

[The Act printed here is as on 31-8-1960.]

CONTENTS

SECTIONS

1. Title and extent.
2. Definition.
3. Prohibition of making by private persons of pieces of metal to be used as money.
4. Penalty for unlawful making, issue or possession of such pieces.
5. Cognizance of offences under the last foregoing section.
6. Application of certain of the foregoing provisions of this Act to importation of pieces of metal for use as money.
7. [Repealed.]
8. Prohibition of receipt by local authorities and railways as money of metal which is not coin.
9. [Repealed.]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The main object of this Bill is to prohibit the manufacture and issue, and restrict the circulation, of stamped or unstamped pieces of copper such as, during the recent depression in the value of that metal, private traders at Jugadri, Gaya, Ludhiana, Beawar and other places have been making and issuing in large quantities for use as money. The pieces circulate at much above their intrinsic value, and their circulation both deprives the taxpayers of this country of that profit on coinage of copper which belongs to every Government, and perpetuates the currency of an inconvenient form of coin.

The other object of the Bill is to suppress the manufacture in British India of coins resembling or apparently intended to resemble or pass for coins which are legal tender or in actual use and circulation in any foreign country."

— Gaz. of Ind. 1888, Part V, page 19.

ACT HOW AFFECTED BY SUBSEQUENT LEGISLATION

—Adapted by A. O. 1937; A. L. O., 1950: 2 A. L. O., 1956.
—Amended in Bombay, by Bom. Act XXIII of 1951.

—Extended by Act XX of 1954.
—Repealed in part by Acts V of 1896; X of 1914; I of 1938.

[THE] METAL TOKENS ACT, 1889
(ACT I OF 1889)<sup>a</sup>

[1st February, 1889.]

An Act for the protection of coinage and other purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient to prohibit the making, or the possession for issue, or the issue, by private persons of pieces of metal for use as money;

AND WHEREAS it is also expedient to amend section 28 of the Indian Penal Code;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1888, Pt. V, p. 19; for Report of the Select Committee, see ibid, pt. IV, page 3.

This Act has been extended on and from 30-4-1954 to Angul in the State of Orissa, by the Absorbed Areas (Laws) Act, 1954 (XX of 1954), Ss. 2 & 3 and Sch. III.

1. Title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE METAL TOKENS ACT, 1889.

(2) It extends to the whole of India except <sup>a</sup>[the territories which, immediately before the 1st November, 1956, were comprised in Part B States]; <sup>b</sup>[* ]

<sup>c</sup>[* * * * *]

[a] Substituted for "Part B States," by 2 A. L. O., 1956. Immediately before 1-11-1956, the following were Part B States : Hyderabad, Jammu and Kashmir, Madhya Bharat, Mysore, Pepsu, Rajasthan, Saurashtra and Travancore-Cochin. [b] The word "and" was omitted by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1914 (X of 1914), S. 3 and Sch. II. [c] Sub-section (3) was omitted, ibid.

2. Definition.

In this Act "issue" means to put a piece of metal into circulation for the first time for use as money in <sup>a</sup>[the territories <sup>b</sup>[to which this Act extends] (in this section and in section 6 referred to as "the said territories")], such piece having been made in contravention of this Act or brought into <sup>a</sup>[the said territories] by sea or by land in contravention of any notification for the time being in force under section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878.

[a] Substituted for "the Provinces" by A. L. O., 1950. [b] Substituted for "for the time being comprised in Part A States and Part C States," by 2 A. L. O., 1956.

3. Prohibition of making by private persons of pieces of metal to be used as money.

No piece of copper or bronze or of any other metal or mixed metal, which, whether stamped or unstamped, is intended to be used as money, shall be made except by the authority of the Central Government.

4. Penalty for unlawful making, issue or possession of such pieces.

(1) In either of the following cases, namely:—

(a) if any person makes in contravention of the last foregoing section, or issues or attempts to issue, any such piece as is mentioned in that section,

(b) if, after the expiration of three months from the commencement of this Act, any person has in his possession, custody or control any such piece as is mentioned in the last foregoing section, with intent to issue the piece,

the person shall be punished,—

(i) if he has not been previously convicted under this section, with imprisonment which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both; or,

(ii) if he has been previously convicted under this section, with imprisonment which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both.

(2) If any person is convicted of an offence under sub-section (1), he shall, in addition to any other punishment to which he may be sentenced, forfeit all such pieces as aforesaid, and all instruments and materials for the making of such pieces, which may have been found in his possession, custody or control.

(3) If in the trial of any such offence the question arises whether any piece of metal or mixed metal was intended to be used or to be issued for use as money, the burden of proving that the piece was not intended to be so used or issued shall lie on the accused person.

Note.—The offence is made cognizable by the next section.

5. Cognizance of offences under the last foregoing section.

(1) The offence of making, in contravention of section 3, any such piece as is mentioned in that section shall be a cognizable offence.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882*, no other offence punishable under section 4 shall be a cognizable offence, or beyond the limits of a presidency-town be taken cognizance of by any Magistrate, except a District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, without the previous sanction of the District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate.

[a] See now the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898).

STATE AMENDMENT

BOMBAY

In sub-section (2), omit the words "except District or Sub-divisional Magistrate."

—Bom. Act XXIII of 1951, Sch. Part II [1-7-1953].

6. Application of certain of the foregoing provisions of this Act to importation of pieces of metal for use as money.

If at any time the Central Government sees fit, by notification under section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, to prohibit or restrict the bringing by sea or by land into *[the said territories] of any such pieces of metal as are mentioned in section 3, it may by the notification direct that any person contravening the prohibition or restriction shall be liable to the punishment to which he would be liable if he were convicted under this Act of making such pieces in *[the said territories], instead of to the penalty mentioned in section 167 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, and that the provisions of sub-section (3) of section 4 and sub-section (1) of section 5, or of either sub-section, in relation to the offence of making such pieces shall, notwithstanding anything in the Sea Customs Act, 1878, apply, so far as they can be made applicable, to the offence of contravening the prohibition or restriction notified under section 19 of that Act.

[a] Substituted for "the Provinces," by A.L.O., 1950.

7. Addition to section 98, Act X of 1882. [Repealed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1896).]

8. Prohibition of receipt by local authorities and railways as money of metal which is not coin.

(1) No piece of metal which is not coin as defined* in the Indian Penal Code shall be received as money by or on behalf of any railway-administration or local authority.

(2) If any person on behalf of a railway-administration, or on behalf of a local authority, or on behalf of the lessee of the collection of any toll or other impost leviable by a railway-administration or local authority, receives as money any piece of metal which is not such coin as aforesaid, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to ten rupees.

[a] Section 230 of the Penal Code gives the definition of "coin" as follows : "Coin is metal used for the time being as money, and stamped and issued by the authority of some State or Sovereign power in order to be so used."

9. Amendment of section 28 of the Indian Penal Code. [Repealed by the Repealing Act, 1938 (I of 1938), S. 2 and Sch.]

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"It is urgently necessary to improve the living and working conditions of the labour employed in the Mica Mining Industry. Though the industry is one of great importance to the country labour conditions are most deplorable and Government are convinced that they must intervene by initiating a scheme of Welfare Measures. A member of the Labour Investigating Committee was deputed to study the labour conditions in the Mica Mining areas and he has submitted a report making a number of recommendations. These inter alia include the working out of a comprehensive welfare scheme designed to improve the standard of living of the workers and to secure for them the requisite medical, educational, housing, water supply and other facilities. The present proposals relate only to the welfare of labour employed in the mines as distinct from factory labour for which the responsibility lies with the Provincial Governments. The mining industry has been consulted and there is a general agreement that a cess should be imposed on all exports of mica to finance the welfare scheme. While it may not be possible to find out immediately large sums of money required for the purpose Government feel that a start in this direction must be made at once by the creation of a Fund by the imposition of an ad valorem duty on all exports of mica. The Bill is designed to give effect to these proposals."

[THE] MICA MINES LABOUR WELFARE FUND ACT, 1946

(ACT XXII OF 1946)*

[23rd April, 1946.]

An Act to constitute a fund for the financing of activities to promote the welfare of labour employed in the mica mining industry.

WHEREAS it is expedient to constitute a fund for the financing of activities to promote the welfare of labour employed in the mica mining industry;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1946, Pt. V, p. 257; for Report of Select Committee, see ibid, p. 291.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE MICA MINES LABOUR WELFARE FUND ACT, 1946.

(2) It extends to the whole of India * [except the State of Jammu and Kashmir].

[a] Substituted for "except Part B States", by the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

2. Imposition and collection of a cess.

(1) With effect from such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint in this behalf, there shall be levied and collected, as a cess for the purposes of this Act, on all mica, in whatever state, exported from * [the territories to which this Act extends] a duty of customs at such rate, not exceeding six and one-quarter per centum ad valorem, as may from time to time be fixed by the Central Government by notification in the Official Gazette :

Provided that until the 1st day of April, 1947, the rate of duty so fixed shall not exceed two and one-half per centum ad valorem.

(2) On the last day of each month or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, there shall be paid to the credit of a fund to be called the Mica Mines Labour Welfare Fund (hereinafter referred to as the Fund) the proceeds of the duty of customs recovered during that month after deduction of the expenses, if any, for collection and recovery.

[a] Substituted for "Part A States and Part C States", by the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

Note :—Creation of the Mica Mines Labour Welfare Fund under this Act is to meet the expenses in carrying out welfare schemes, relating to labour employed in mica mines as distinct from factory labour. How the Fund has to be applied is indicated in the next section.

3. The Mica Mines Labour Welfare Fund.

(1) The Fund shall be applied by the Central Government to meet expenditure incurred in connection with measures in the opinion of the Central Government necessary or expedient to promote the welfare of labour employed in the mica mining industry.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of sub-section (1), the Fund may be utilised to defray—

(a) the costs of measures for the benefit of labour employed in the mica mining industry directed towards—

- (i) the improvement of public health and sanitation, the prevention of disease, and the provision and improvement of medical facilities,
- (ii) the provision and improvement of water supplies and facilities for washing,
- (iii) the provision and improvement of educational facilities,
- (iv) the improvement of standards of living, including housing and nutrition, the amelioration of social conditions and the provision of recreational facilities,

(v) the provision of transport to and from work ;

(b) the grant to a State Government, a local authority or the owner, agent or manager of a mica mine, of money in aid of any scheme approved by the Central Government for any purpose for which the Fund may be utilised ;

(c) the cost of administering the Fund, including the allowances, if any, of members of the Advisory Committees constituted under section 4, and the salaries and the allowances, if any, of officers appointed under section 5 ;

(d) any other expenditure which the Central Government may direct to be defrayed from the Fund.

(3) The Central Government shall have power to decide whether any particular expenditure is or is not debitable to the Fund, and its decision shall be final.

(4) The Central Government shall publish annually in the Official Gazette report of the activities financed from the Fund, together with an estimate of receipts and expenditure of the Fund and a statement of accounts.

4. Advisory Committees.

(1) The Central Government shall constitute *[as many Advisory Committees as it thinks fit but not exceeding one for each State], to advise the Central Government on any matters arising out of the administration of this Act or the Fund.

(2) The members of the Advisory Committees shall be appointed by the Central Government, and shall be of such number and chosen in such manner as may be prescribed by rules made under this Act :

Provided that each Committee shall include an equal number of members representing mica mine owners and workmen employed in the mica mining industry, and that at least one member of each Committee shall be a woman, and at least one member of each Committee shall be a member of the Legislature of the State concerned.

(3) The Chairman of each Advisory Committee shall be appointed by the Central Government.

(4) The Central Government shall publish in the Official Gazette the names of all members of the Advisory Committees.

[a] Substituted for "two Advisory Committees, one for the State of Madras and one for the State of Bihar", by the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

5. Appointment and powers of officers.

(1) The Central Government may appoint Inspectors, Welfare Administrators and such other officers as it thinks necessary to administer the Fund or to supervise or carry out the activities financed from the Fund.

(2) Every officer so appointed shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code.

(3) Any Inspector or Welfare Administrator may—

- (a) with such assistance, if any, as he thinks fit, enter at any reasonable time any place which he considers it necessary to enter for the purpose of supervising or carrying out the activities financed from the Fund, and
- (b) do within such place anything necessary for the proper discharge of his duties.

6. Power to make rules.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules to carry into effect the purposes of this Act.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

- (a) the making of refunds, remissions and recoveries of the duty of customs imposed by sub-section (1) of section 2;
- (b) the composition of the Advisory Committees constituted under section 4, the manner in which the members thereof shall be chosen, the term of office of such members, the allowances, if any, payable to them, and the manner in which the Advisory Committees shall conduct their business;
- (c) the conditions governing the grant of money from the Fund under clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 3;
- (d) the form of the estimate and statement referred to in sub-section (4) of section 3;
- (e) the conditions of service and the duties of all officers appointed under section 5;
- (f) the furnishing by owners or agents or managers of mica mines of statistical or other information, and the punishment by fine of failure to comply with the requirements of any rule made under this clause.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Mineral Oils (Additional Duties of Excise and Customs) Ordinance, 1958 (No. 6 of 1958) promulgated by the President on 30th June, 1958, provided for the levy and collection of additional duties of excise and the countervailing duties of customs on certain mineral oils. This Bill seeks to replace the provisions of the aforesaid Ordinance.

2. The Ordinance was issued to readjust the excise and customs duties in the light of the reduction in prices agreed to by the principal companies distributing mineral oil products in India with effect from 20-5-1958. The price reductions were not of a magnitude which even if passed on to the consuming public would be reflected to any significant extent in the consumer prices. Besides, all available resources have to be tapped for fulfilling plan targets. It was, therefore, decided that the benefit of the price reductions should accrue to Government."

[THE] MINERAL OILS (ADDITIONAL DUTIES OF EXCISE AND CUSTOMS) ACT, 1958

(ACT XXVII OF 1958)***

[4th September, 1958.]

An Act to provide for the levy and collection of additional duties of excise and customs on certain mineral oils

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Ninth Year of the Republic of India as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1958, Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 2, p. 721.

1. Short title and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE MINERAL OILS (ADDITIONAL DUTIES OF EXCISE AND CUSTOMS) ACT, 1958.

(2) It shall be deemed to have come into force on the twentieth day of May, 1958.

*[2. Definition.

In this Act "motor spirit", "kerosene", "refined diesel oils and vaporizing oil" "diesel oil, not otherwise specified" and "furnace oil" shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in Items Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 of the First Schedule to the Central Excises and Salt Act, 1944.]

[a] Substituted for former section 2 by the Central Excises (Conversion to Metric Units) Act, 1960 (XXXVIII of 1960), S. 4 (a) [date of commencement not announced up to 18-11-1960.]

3. Levy and collection of additional duties of excise on certain mineral oils.

(1) There shall be levied and collected in respect of the goods mentioned in column 1 of the Table hereunder duties of excise at such rates not exceeding those specified in relation thereto in column 2 of the said Table as may be specified by the Central Government by notification in the Official Gazette, —

<sup>a</sup>[TABLE

Description of goods 1	Rate of additional duty 2
1. Motor spirit	Fifty-six rupees and five naye paise per kilolitre at fifteen degrees of Centigrade thermometer.
2. Kerosene	Twenty-six rupees and eighty naye paise per kilolitre at fifteen degrees of Centigrade thermometer.
3. Refined diesel oils and vaporizing oil ... ..	Thirty-three rupees and fifty-five naye paise per kilolitre at fifteen degrees of Centigrade thermometer.
4. Diesel oil, not otherwise specified.	Nineteen rupees and seventy naye paise per metric tonne.
5. Furnace oil. ... ..	Nineteen rupees and seventy naye paise per metric tonne.]

<sup>b</sup>[(1-A) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall be deemed to have had effect in respect of the period commencing on the 1st day of April, 1959, and ending on the 31st day of October, 1959, as if from the words “at such rates” occurring in that sub-section up to the end thereof, the following had been substituted, namely :—

“at the rates specified in relation thereto in column 2 of the said Table : —

2. Motor spirit.	Fourteen naye paise per imperial gallon.
3. Refined diesel oil.	Twelve naye paise per imperial gallon.
4. Vaporizing oil.	Five naye paise per imperial gallon.
5. Diesel oil, not otherwise specified.	Rupees twenty per ton.
6. Furnace oil.	Rupees Twenty per ton.]

(2) The duties of excise referred to in <sup>c</sup>[this section] in respect of the goods specified therein shall be in addition to the duties of excise chargeable in such goods under the Central Excises and Salt Act, 1944, or any other law for the time being in force.

(3) The provisions of the Central Excises and Salt Act, 1944, and the rules thereunder, including those relating to refunds and exemptions from duty, shall, so far as may be, apply in relation to the levy and collection of the additional duties of excise referred to in this section as they apply in relation to the levy and collection of the duties of excise in respect of the goods specified in <sup>e</sup>[this section].

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, the Central Government may, having regard to the administrative or other difficulties, if any, which may arise in relation to the levy and collection of all or any of the additional duties of excise under this Act for any period commencing on the 20th day of May, 1958, and ending on the 29th day of June, 1958 <sup>a</sup>[or commencing on the 1st day of April, 1959, and ending on the 31st day of October, 1959, as the case may be] assess the additional duties of excise payable by any person under this Act to be such sum as to the Central Government appears proper in the circumstances.

[a] This Table is substituted for the former Table by the Central Excises (Conversion to Metric Units) Act, 1960 (XXXVIII of 1960), S. 4 (b) [date of commencement not announced up to 18-11-1960]. The former Table was as follows : "Kerosene — 12 nP. per imperial gallon; Motor spirit — 25 nP. per imperial gallon; Refined diesel oils and vaporizing oil—15 nP. per imperial gallon; Diesel oil not otherwise specified—Rs. 20 per ton; furnace oil—Rs. 20 per ton." [b] Inserted by the Mineral Oils (Additional Duties of Excise and Customs) Amendment Act, 1959 (LIX of 1959), S. 2 [24-12-1959]. [c] Substituted for "sub-section (1)", ibid.

4. Amendment of Act XXXII of 1934.

For so long as an additional duty of excise is levied and collected under this Act in respect of kerosene, the entry in the fourth column relating to sub-item (a) of Item No. 27 (4) of the First Schedule to the Indian Tariff Act, 1934, shall have effect as if the words, brackets and figures "plus the excise duty for the time being leviable under the Mineral Oils (Additional Duties of Excise and Customs) Act, 1958, on like articles if produced or manufactured in India" had been added thereto.

5. Additional duties of excise and customs not to be added to price of goods for sale.

Notwithstanding anything contained in section 64-A of the Indian Sale of Goods Act, 1930, or in any other law for the time being in force, or in any contract or agreement, no purchaser purchasing any of the goods referred to in "[ * * * ]" section 3, shall be liable to pay or be sued for, or in respect of,—

- (a) the whole or any part of the additional duties of excise leviable under this Act, or
- (b) the whole or any part of the additional duties of customs leviable under S. 4 or under the Indian Tariff Act, 1934, to the extent to which such duties have become leviable by reason of this Act, as an addition to the contract price payable by him in respect of the goods so purchased.

Explanation.—In this section, "purchaser" shall not include any person in principal charge of the distribution in India of any of the goods referred to in "[ * * * ]" section 3.

[a] The words, brackets and figure "sub-section. (1)" were omitted by the Mineral Oils (Additional Duties of Excise and Customs) Amendment Act, 1959 (LIX of 1959), S. 3 [24-12-1959].

Note : The principal companies distributing mineral oil product had agreed to reduce the prices with effect from 20-5-1958. In order to tap this source for fulfilling plan targets the Government decided that the benefit of the price reduction should accrue to them and not to the consumer and by Ordinance No. 6 of 1958, they provided for the levy and collection of additional duties of excise and the countervailing duties of custom on certain mineral oils. The present Act replaces the Ordinance. By this section, the companies are prohibited from adding this additional duties of excise and customs to the price of goods, i. e. the incidence of duties is not to be shifted to the consumer.

6. Repeal.

The Mineral Oils (Additional Duties of Excise and Customs) Ordinance, 1958, is hereby repealed.

- 72. Obligation of persons employed in a mine.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The existing Indian Mines Act which relates to the regulation and inspection of mines was passed in 1923. Although it has since been amended in certain respects, the general framework has remained unchanged. Experience of the working of the Act has revealed a number of defects and deficiencies which hamper effective administration. Some of these necessitate new forms of control while others require the tightening up of the existing legal provisions. It has, therefore,

- 72-A. Special provision for contravention of certain regulations.
- 72-B. Special provision for contravention of orders under section 22.
- 72-C. Special provision for contravention of law with dangerous results.
- 73. General provision for disobedience of orders.
- 74. Enhanced penalty after previous conviction.
- 75. Prosecution of owner, agent or manager.
- 76. Determination of owner in certain cases.
- 77. Exemption of owner, agent or manager from liability in certain cases.
- 78. Power of Court to make orders.
- 79. Limitation of prosecutions.
- 80. Cognizance of offences.
- 80-A. Special provision regarding fine.
- 81. Reference to Mining Board or Committee in lieu of prosecution in certain cases.

CHAPTER X
MISCELLANEOUS

- 82. Decision of question whether a mine is under this Act.
- 83. Power to exempt from operation of Act.
- 84. Power to alter or rescind orders.
- 85. Application of Act to mines belonging to Government.
- 85-A. Persons required to give notice, etc., legally bound to do so.
- 86. Application of certain provisions of Act 63 of 1948 to mines.
- 87. Protection of action taken in good faith.
- 88. [Repealed.]

been considered necessary to thoroughly overhaul the existing Act.

2. The proposed legislation differs from the existing law in certain respects. The more important features are mentioned below :—

- (i) At present workshops run by a mine for the maintenance of its machinery and plant in safe and efficient working order are subject to the Factories Act, 1948, which is administered by Provincial Governments. Workers in workshops such as fitters, blacksmiths, welders, electricians and others frequently work for a part of the shift underground and while so employed come within the scope of the Mines Act. It is inconvenient that the same personnel should be subject to two different Acts administered by two different authorities. It is now proposed to bring all personnel engaged solely on work relating to mines within the scope of the Mines Act. For similar reasons it is proposed to bring within the scope of the Mines Act power stations which generate power used wholly in connection with the mine concerned.

- (ii) Provision has been made in the Bill for the issue of certificates of fitness to adolescents and the appointment of certifying surgeons.
- (iii) The provisions in the existing Act regarding conservancy and sanitary conveniences are of a general nature. The Bill provides for more definite arrangements for drinking water, latrines, urinals, etc.
- (iv) It has been made obligatory on the part of the owner, agent or manager of a mine to report the contraction of any of certain notified diseases. Provision for the holding of an enquiry regarding the causes of contraction of a reported disease has also been made.
- (v) It has also been laid down that first-aid appliances should be made available underground and that they should be kept in charge of qualified personnel.
- (vi) A new chapter regarding the grant of compensatory holidays and holidays with pay has been included.
- (vii) The existing Act does not specify the rate of payment for overtime work. In the Bill the rates for overtime have been fixed at  $1\frac{1}{2}$  times the ordinary rate of wages in the case of surface workers and at twice the ordinary rate for underground workers. The working hours for all workers, both surface and underground, have been reduced to 48 per week and no worker is to be allowed to work for more than 9 hours a day above ground and 8 hours a day below ground. The provisions in the existing Act permit workers on the surface to work for 54 hours a week or 10 hours a day and workers underground for 9 hours a day.

- (viii) It is proposed to prohibit after a certain date to be notified by the Central Government the presence of children in any part of a mine where operations connected with, or incidental to, mining processes are being carried on. The intention is that the presence of children at mines should be prohibited as soon as arrangements for the provision of elementary education can be made in collieries.
- (ix) The age limit of persons employed underground has been raised from 17 to 18 years.
- (x) At present the penalty for violation of the provisions of the Act is only fine. It is proposed to provide that the punishment may be imprisonment or fine or both. This will bring the penalty provisions in line with the penalties prescribed in the Factories Act, 1948.
- (xi) The employment of women underground is already prohibited. This prohibition will be continued. The employment of women on the surface between the hours of 7 P. M. and 6 A. M. will also be prohibited, but Provincial Governments will be empowered to relax these limits but not so as to authorise working between the hours of 10 P. M. and 5 A. M.
- (xii) Opportunity has also been taken to include in the Bill provisions relating to health, safety and comfort of workers somewhat on the lines of the Factories Act, 1948.

3. It is hoped that when the Bill is passed into law, the provisions regulating labour and safety in mines will largely be on the lines of those contained in the Factories Act, 1948.

—Gaz. of Ind., 1949, Pt. V, p. 436.

THE MINES (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1959

(LXII of 1959)

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Mines Act, 1952, was passed with a view to amending and consolidating the law relating to the regulation of labour and safety in mines. The working of the Act has shown that it requires to be amended for various reasons, e.g., clarification of certain provisions, proper enforcement of certain others and insertion of some new provisions to bring the Act in line with those contained in the Factories Act, 1948. Some of the more important amendments sought to be made relate to—

- (i) the definition of the term 'mine' to make it clear that it includes quarries and open cast workings and also private railways, aerial ropeways, conveyors, etc.;

- (ii) a new provision to the effect that subject to certain conditions the Act (excepting a few provisions) shall not apply to excavations made for prospecting purposes only and to small quarries;
- (iii) the maintenance of first-aid rooms in mines wherein more than one hundred and fifty persons are employed, instead of five hundred persons as at present;

- (iv) the prohibition of employment of persons in a mine when its owner, etc., fail to comply with the notice of the Inspectorate for remedying any matter, thing or practice connected with a mine, which is dangerous to human life, limb, or safety;
- (v) the empowering of the person appointed under section 24 for enquiring into an accident also to inquire into the fitness of a person to hold a certificate granted to him under the Act, if he is of the opinion that the person concerned is prima facie guilty of incompetence or negligence or misconduct in the performance of his duties under the Act in relation to the accident;
- (vi) the payment of overtime at a uniform rate of twice the ordinary rate of wages for persons employed both above and below ground, instead of the present rate of one and a half times, in the case of persons employed above ground, and twice for persons employed below ground;

- (vii) the revision of the Chapter on leave with wages so as to bring it as far as practicable in line with similar provisions in the Factories Act, 1948, which are considered to be more liberal; and
- (viii) the enhancement of penalties for contravention of the different provisions of the Act to make punishment more deterrent by raising the scale of fines and also providing for imprisonment along with fine in the case of subsequent conviction for the same offence and for contravention of orders under section 55."

CHAPTER I

PRELIMINARY

1. Short title, extent and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE MINES ACT, 1952.

(2) It extends to the whole of India except the State of Jammu and Kashmir.

(3) It shall come into force on such date* or dates as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint, and different dates may be appointed for different provisions of this Act and for different States but not later than 31st December, 1953.

[a] The Act came into force on 1-7-1952, see Notfn. No. S. R. O. 967, D/- 27-5-1952 Gaz. of Ind., 1952, Pt. II-Sec. 3, p. 869.

2. Definitions.

*[ (1) ] In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) "adolescent" means a person who has completed his fifteenth year but has not completed his eighteenth year;

[a] Section 2 was renumbered as sub-section (1) thereof, by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 2 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

- (b) "adult" means a person who has completed his eighteenth year ;
- *[(c) "agent", when used in relation to a mine, means any individual, whether appointed as such or not, who acts as the representative of the owner in respect of the management, control and direction of the mine or of any part thereof, and as such superior to a manager under this Act;]
- [a] Substituted for original cl. (c), by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 2 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].
- (d) "Chief Inspector" means the Chief Inspector of Mines appointed under this Act;
- (e) "child" means a person who has not completed his fifteenth year ;
- (f) "day" means a period of twenty-four hours beginning at midnight ;
- (g) "district magistrate" means, in a presidency-town, the person appointed by the Central Government to perform the duties of a district magistrate under this Act in that town;
- (h) a person is said to be "employed" in a mine who works under appointment by or with the knowledge of the manager, whether for wages or not, in any mining operation, or in cleaning or oiling any part of any machinery used in or about the mine, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to, or connected with, mining operations;
- (i) "Inspector" means an Inspector of Mines appointed under this Act, and includes a district magistrate when exercising any power or performing any duty of an Inspector which he is empowered by this Act to exercise or perform;
- *[(ii) "managing agent" has the meaning assigned to it in the Companies Act, 1956;]
- [a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 2 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960]. Sub-section (25) of S. 2 of the Companies Act, 1956, runs as follows :
- "(25) 'managing agent' means any individual, firm or body corporate entitled, subject to the provisions of this Act, to the management of the whole, or substantially the whole, of the affairs of a company by virtue of an agreement with the company, or by virtue of its memorandum or articles of association, and includes any individual, firm or body corporate occupying the position of a managing agent, by whatever name called."
- *[(j) "mine" means any excavation where any operation for the purpose of searching for or obtaining minerals has been or is being carried on, and includes—
- (i) all borings, bore holes and oil wells;
  - (ii) all shafts, in or adjacent to and belonging to a mine, whether in the course of being sunk or not;
  - (iii) all levels and inclined planes in the course of being driven ;
  - (iv) all open cast workings;
  - (v) all conveyors or aerial ropeways provided for the bringing into or removal from a mine of minerals or other articles or for the removal of refuse therefrom;
  - (vi) all adits, levels, planes, machinery, works, railways, tramways and sidings, in or adjacent to and belonging to a mine;
  - (vii) all workshops situated within the precincts of a mine and under the same management and used solely for purposes connected with that mine or a number of mines under the same management;
  - (viii) all power stations for supplying electricity solely for the purpose of working the mine or a number of mines under the same management;
  - (ix) any premises for the time being used for depositing refuse from a mine, or in which any operation in connection with such refuse is being carried on, being premises exclusively occupied by the owner of the mine;

- (x) unless exempted by the Central Government by notification in the Official Gazette, any premises or part thereof, in or adjacent to and belonging to a mine, on which any process ancillary to the getting, dressing or preparation for sale of minerals or of coke is being carried on;
- (jj) "minerals" means all substances which can be obtained from the earth by mining, digging, drilling, dredging, hydraulicking, quarrying or by any other operation and includes mineral oils (which in turn include natural gas and petroleum);
- (jjj) "month" means the period from the first day of any month reckoned according to the British calendar to the last day of the same month;]
- [a] Substituted for clause (j), by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 2 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].
- (k) "office of the mine" means an office at the surface of the mine concerned;
- *[(kk) "open cast working" means a quarry, that is to say, an excavation where any operation for the purpose of searching for or obtaining minerals has been or is being carried on, not being a shaft or an excavation which extends below superjacent ground;]
- [a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 2 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].
- (l) "owner", when used in relation to a mine, means any person who is the immediate proprietor or lessee or occupier of the mine or of any part thereof and in the case of a mine the business whereof is being carried on by a liquidator or receiver, such liquidator or receiver [and in the case of a mine owned by a company, the business whereof is being carried on by a managing agent, such managing agent]; but does not include a person who merely receives a royalty, rent or fine from the mine, or is merely the proprietor of the mine, subject to any lease, grant or licence for the working thereof, or is merely the owner of the soil and not interested in the minerals of the mine; but any contractor for the working of a mine or any part thereof shall be subject to this Act in like manner as if he were an owner, but not so as to exempt the owner from any liability;
- [a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 2 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].
- (m) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules, regulations or bye-laws, as the case may be;
- (n) "qualified medical practitioner" means a person holding a qualification granted by an authority specified in the Schedule to the Indian Medical Degrees Act, 1916, or in the Schedule to the Indian Medical Council Act, 1933;
- (o) "regulations", "rules" and "bye-laws" mean respectively regulations, rules and bye-laws made under this Act;

Section 2 (l) — Note 1

[1] Any person having some kind of proprietary or financial interest, directly or indirectly and interested in the minerals of a mine and its working is intended to be included in the term "owner." Hence a managing director of a limited concern who is certainly interested in the proceeds of the mine, its profits and losses and its working is an "owner" within the meaning of the definition in cl. (l). (57) 1957 Cri L Jour 128 (130) (Cal).

[2] A person can cease to be an owner only when he renounces his ownership. No such renunciation can be said to take place when a sole proprietor takes another person into partnership and entrusts to him the conduct of the mine in accordance with the partnership agreement because in spite of the partnership he continues to be entitled to enjoy the advantages of ownership and exercise the powers of proprietorship. Hence he does not cease to be an owner. 1959 Cal 208 (212) [AIR V 46 C 54].

Section 2 (o) — Note 1

[1] The rules, regulations and bye laws made under the Act of 1923 have become "rules, regulations and bye laws" made under this Act within the meaning of the definition in S. 2 (o) by virtue of the provisions of S. 24 of General Clauses Act. The fact that this

(p) where work of the same kind is carried out by two or more sets of persons working during different periods of the day each of such sets is called a "relay" * [and each of such periods is called a "shift"];

[a] Added by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 2 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

(q) "serious bodily injury" means any injury which involves, or in all probability will involve, the permanent loss of the use of, or permanent injury to, any limb, or the permanent loss of or injury to the sight or hearing, or the fracture of any limb or the enforced absence of the injured person from work for a period exceeding twenty days;

(r) "week" means the period between midnight on Saturday night and midnight on the succeeding Saturday night,

*[(2) A person working or employed in or in connection with a mine is said to be working or employed—

(a) "below ground" if he is working or employed—

(i) in a shaft which has been or is in the course of being sunk; or

(ii) in any excavation which extends below superjacent ground; and

(b) "above ground" if he is working in an open cast working or in any other manner not specified in clause (a).]

[a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 2 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

*[3. Act not to apply in certain cases.

(1) The provisions of this Act, except those contained in sections 7, 8, 9, 44, 45 and 46, shall not apply to—

(a) any mine or part thereof in which excavation is being made for prospecting purposes only and not for the purpose of obtaining minerals for use or sale:

Provided that—

(i) not more than twenty persons are employed on any one day in connection with any such excavation;

(ii) the depth of the excavation measured from its highest to its lowest point nowhere exceeds six metres or, in the case of an excavation for coal, fifteen metres; and

(iii) no part of such excavation extends below superjacent ground; or

(b) any mine engaged in the extraction of kankar, murrum, laterite, boulder, gravel, shingle, ordinary sand (excluding moulding sand, glass sand and other mineral sands), ordinary clay (excluding kaolin, china clay, white clay or fire clay), building stone, road metal, earth, fullers earth and lime stone:

Provided that—

(i) the workings do not extend below superjacent ground; or

(ii) where it is an open cast working—

(a) the depth of the excavation measured from its highest to its lowest point nowhere exceeds six metres;

(b) the number of persons employed on any one day does not exceed fifty; and

(c) explosives are not used in connection with the excavation.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the Central Government may, if it is satisfied that, having regard to the circumstances obtaining in relation to a mine or part thereof or group or class of mines, it is necessary or desirable so to do, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that any of the provisions of this Act, not set out in sub-section (1), shall apply to any such mine or part thereof or group or class of mines or any class of persons employed therein.

(3) Without prejudice to the provisions contained in sub-section (2), if at any time any of the conditions specified in the proviso to clause (a) or clause (b) of sub-section (1) is not fulfilled in relation to any mine referred to in that sub-section, the provisions of this Act not set out in sub-section (1), shall become immediately applicable, and it shall be the duty of the owner, agent or manager of the mine to inform the prescribed authority in the prescribed manner and within the prescribed time about the non-fulfilment.]

[a] Substituted for the former section 3, by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 3 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

4. References to time of day.

In this Act, references to time of day are references to Indian standard time, being five and a half hours ahead of Greenwich mean time :

Provided that, for any area in which Indian standard time is not ordinarily observed, the Central Government may make rules—

- (a) specifying the area ;
- (b) defining the local mean time ordinarily observed therein; and
- (c) permitting such time to be observed in all or any of the mines situated in the area.

CHAPTER II

INSPECTORS AND CERTIFYING SURGEONS

5. Chief Inspector and Inspectors.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint such a person as possesses the prescribed qualifications to be Chief Inspector of Mines for all the territories to which this Act extends and such persons as possess the prescribed qualifications to be Inspectors of Mines subordinate to the Chief Inspector.

(2) No person shall be appointed to be Chief Inspector or an Inspector, or having been appointed shall continue to hold such office, who is or becomes directly or indirectly interested in any mine or mining rights in India.

(3) The district magistrate may exercise the powers and perform the duties of an Inspector subject to the general or special orders of the Central Government :

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall be deemed to empower a district magistrate to exercise any of the powers conferred by section 22 or section 61.

(4) The Chief Inspector and all Inspectors shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

[a] See Notifn. No. S. R. O., 1789 D/- 18-9-1953, published in Gaz. of Ind., 1953, Pt. II, Sec. 3, p. 1530.

*[6. Functions of Inspectors.

(1) The Chief Inspector may, with the approval of the Central Government and subject to such restrictions or conditions as he may think fit to impose, by order in writing, authorise any Inspector named or any class of Inspectors specified in the order to exercise such of the powers of the Chief Inspector under this Act (other than those relating to appeals) as he may specify.

(2) The Chief Inspector may, by order in writing, prohibit or restrict the exercise by any Inspector named or any class of Inspectors specified in the order of any power conferred on Inspectors under this Act.

(3) Subject to the other provisions contained in this section, the Chief Inspector shall declare the local area or areas within which or the group or class of mines with respect to which Inspectors shall exercise their respective powers.]

[w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

7. Powers of Inspectors of Mines.

(1) The Chief Inspector and any Inspector may—

- (a) make such examination and inquiry as he thinks fit in order to ascertain whether the provisions of this Act and of the regulations, rules and bye-laws and of any orders made thereunder are observed in the case of any mine;
- (b) with such assistants, if any, as he thinks fit, enter, inspect and examine any mine or any part thereof at any time by day or night:

Provided that the power conferred by this clause shall not be exercised in such a manner as unreasonably to impede or obstruct the working of the mine;

- (c) examine into, and make inquiry respecting, the state and condition of any mine or any part thereof, the ventilation of the mine, the sufficiency of the bye-laws for the time being in force relating to the mine, and all matters and things connected with or relating to the health, safety and welfare of the persons employed in the mine, and take whether on the precincts of the mine or elsewhere, statements of any person which he may consider necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Act;
- (d) exercise such other powers as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Central Government in this behalf:

Provided that no person shall be compelled under this sub-section to answer any question or make any statement tending to incriminate himself.

(2) The Chief Inspector and any Inspector may, if he has reason to believe, as a result of any inspection, examination or inquiry under this section, that an offence under this Act has been or is being committed, search any place and take possession "[of any material or any plan, section, register or other record] appertaining to the mine, and the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, shall, so far as may be applicable, apply to any search or seizure under this Act as they apply to any search or seizure made under the authority of a warrant issued under section 98 of that Code.

[a] Substituted for "of any register or other record", by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 5 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

8. Powers of special officer to enter, measure, etc.

Any person in the service of the Government duly authorised in this behalf by a special order in writing of the Chief Inspector or of an Inspector may, for the purpose of surveying, levelling or measuring any mine, after giving not less than three days' notice to the manager of such mine, enter the mine and may survey, level or measure the mine or any part thereof at any time by day or night:

Provided that, where in the opinion of the Chief Inspector or of an Inspector an emergency exists, he may, by order in writing, authorise any such person to enter the mine for any of the aforesaid purposes without giving any such notice.

9. Facilities to be afforded to Inspectors.

Every owner, agent and manager of a mine shall afford the Chief Inspector and every Inspector and every person authorised under section 8 all reasonable facilities for making any entry, inspection, survey, measurement, examination or inquiry under this Act.

10. Secrecy of information obtained.

(1) All copies of, and extracts from, registers or other records appertaining to any mine and all other information acquired by the Chief Inspector or an Inspector or by any one assisting him, in the course of the inspection of any mine under this Act or acquired by any person authorised under section 8 in the exercise of his duties thereunder, shall be regarded as confidential and shall not be disclosed to any person or authority unless the Chief Inspector or the Inspector considers disclosure necessary to ensure the health, safety or welfare of any person employed in the mine or in any other mine adjacent thereto.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall apply to the disclosure of any such information (if so required) to—

- (a) any Court;
- (b) a Mining Board, Committee, or Court of inquiry constituted or appointed under section 12, section 13 or section 24 as the case may be;
- (c) an official superior or the owner, agent or manager of the mine concerned;
- (d) a Commissioner for workmen's compensation appointed under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923;
- (e) the Director, Indian Bureau of Mines.

(3) If the Chief Inspector, or an Inspector or any other person referred to in sub-section (1) discloses, contrary to the provisions of this section, any such information as aforesaid without the consent of the Central Government, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both.

(4) No Court shall proceed to the trial of any offence under this section except with the previous sanction of the Central Government.

11. Certifying surgeons.

(1) The Central Government may appoint qualified medical practitioners to be certifying surgeons for the purposes of this Act within such local limits or for such mine or class or description of mines as it may assign to them respectively.

(2) Subject to such conditions as the Central Government may think fit to impose, a certifying surgeon may, with the approval of the Central Government, authorise any qualified medical practitioner to exercise all or any of his powers under this Act for such period as the certifying surgeon may specify, and references to a certifying surgeon shall be deemed to include references to any qualified medical practitioner when so authorised.

(3) No person shall be appointed to be, or authorised to exercise the powers of, a certifying surgeon, or, having been so appointed or authorised, continue to exercise such powers, who is or becomes the owner, agent or manager of a mine, or is or becomes directly or indirectly interested therein, or in any process or business carried on therein or in any patent or machinery connected therewith, or is otherwise in the employment of the mine.

(4) The certifying surgeon shall carry out such duties as may be prescribed in connection with—

- (a) the examination and certification of adolescents under this Act;
- (b) the examination of persons engaged in a mine in such dangerous occupations or processes as may be prescribed;
- (c) the exercise of such medical supervision as may be prescribed for any mine or class or description of mines where—
  - (i) cases of illness have occurred which it is reasonable to believe are due to the nature of any process carried on or other conditions of work prevailing in the mine;
  - (ii) adolescents are or are to be employed in any work which is likely to cause injury to their health.

CHAPTER III

MINING BOARDS AND COMMITTEES

12. Mining Boards.

(1) The Central Government may constitute for any part of the territories to which this Act extends, or for any group or class of mines, a Mining Board consisting of—

- (a) a person in the service of the Government, not being the Chief Inspector or an Inspector, <sup>a</sup>[appointed] by the Central Government to act as chairman;
- (b) the Chief Inspector or an Inspector <sup>a</sup>[appointed] by the Central Government;
- (c) a person, not being the Chief Inspector or an Inspector, <sup>a</sup>[appointed] by the Central Government;
- (d) two persons nominated by owners of mines or their representatives in such manner as may be prescribed;
- (e) two persons to represent the interest of miners, who shall be nominated in accordance with the following provisions, namely,—
  - (i) if there are one or more registered trade unions having in the aggregate as members not less than one-quarter of the miners, the said persons shall be nominated by such trade union or trade unions in such manner as may be prescribed;
  - (ii) if sub-clause (i) is not applicable and there are one or more registered trade unions having in the aggregate as members not less than one thousand miners, one of the said persons shall be nominated by such trade union or trade unions in such manner as may be prescribed and the other by the Central Government;
  - (iii) if neither sub-clause (i) nor sub-clause (ii) is applicable, the said persons shall be nominated by the Central Government.

Explanation.—In this clause “miner” means a person employed, otherwise than in a position of supervision or management, in any of the mines for which the Mining Board is constituted.

(2) The chairman shall appoint a person to act as secretary to the Board.

(3) The Central Government may give directions as to the payment of travelling expenses incurred by the secretary or any member of any such Mining Board in the performance of his duty as such secretary or member.

[a] Substituted for “nominated” by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 6. [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

13. Committees.

(1) Where under this Act any question relating to a mine is referred to a Committee, the Committee shall consist of—

- (a) a chairman nominated by the Central Government or by such officer or authority as the Central Government may authorise in this behalf;
- (b) a person nominated by the chairman and qualified by experience to dispose of the question referred to the Committee; and
- (c) two persons to represent the interests of the persons employed in the mine of whom one shall be nominated by the owner, agent or manager of the mine concerned, and the other shall be nominated by the Central Government in consultation with such organisations of miners employed in the mine as may be recognised for the purpose by that Government.

(2) No Inspector or person employed in or in the management of any mine concerned shall serve as chairman or member of a Committee appointed under this section.

(3) Where an owner, agent or manager fails to exercise his power of nomination under clause (c) of sub-section (1), the Committee may, notwithstanding such failure, proceed to inquire into and dispose of the matter referred to it.

(4) The Committee shall hear and record such information as the Chief Inspector or the Inspector, or the owner, agent or manager of the mine concerned, may place before it, and shall intimate its decision to the Chief Inspector or the inspector and to the owner, agent or manager of the mine, and shall report its decision to the Central Government.

(5) On receiving such report the Central Government shall pass orders in conformity therewith unless the Chief Inspector or the owner, agent or manager of the mine has lodged an objection to the decision of the Committee, in which case the Central Government may proceed to review such decision and to pass such orders in the matter as it may think fit:

Provided that if an objection is lodged by the Chief Inspector, notice of the same shall be given to the owner, agent or manager of the mine before any orders are passed thereon by the Central Government.

(6) The Central Government may give directions as to the remuneration, if any, to be paid to the members of the Committee or any of them, and as to the payment of expenses of the inquiry including such remuneration.

14. Powers of Mining Boards.

(1) Any Mining Board constituted under section 12 and any Committee constituted under section 13 may exercise such of the powers of an Inspector under this Act as it thinks necessary or expedient to exercise for the purpose of deciding or reporting upon any matter referred to it.

(2) Every Mining Board constituted under section 12 and every Committee appointed under section 13 shall have the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the purpose of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents and material objects.

*[ * * ].

[a] The words and figures "and every person required by any such Mining Board or Committee to furnish information before it shall be deemed to be legally bound to do so within the meaning of section 178 of the Indian Penal Code," were omitted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 7 [w. e. f. 18-1-1960].

15. Recovery of expenses.

The Central Government may direct that the expenses of any inquiry conducted by a mining Board constituted under section 12 or by a Committee appointed under section 13 shall be borne in whole or in part by the owner or agent of the mine concerned, and the amount so directed to be paid may, on application by the Chief Inspector or an Inspector to a magistrate having jurisdiction at the place where the mine is situated or where such owner or agent is for the time being resident, be recovered by the distress and sale of any movable property within the limits of the magistrate's jurisdiction belonging to such owner or agent:

Provided that the owner or his agent has not paid the amount within six weeks from the date of receiving the notice from the Central Government or the Chief Inspector of mines.

CHAPTER IV

MINING OPERATIONS AND MANAGEMENT OF MINES

16. Notice to be given of mining operations.

(1) The owner, agent, or manager of a mine shall, before the commencement of any mining operation, give to the Chief Inspector, the Director, Indian Bureau of Mines and the district magistrate of the district in which the mine is situate, notice in writing in such form and containing such particulars relating to the mine as may be prescribed.

(2) Any notice given under sub-section (1) shall be so given as to reach the persons concerned at least one month before the commencement of any mining operation.

17. Managers.

Save as may be otherwise prescribed every mine shall be under one manager who shall have the prescribed qualifications and shall be responsible for the control, management <sup>a</sup>[supervision] and direction of the mine, and the owner or agent of every mine shall appoint himself or some other person, having such qualifications, to be such manager.

[a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 8 [w.e.f. 16-1-1960].

18. Duties and responsibilities of owners, agents and managers.

(1) The owner, agent and manager of every mine shall be responsible that all operations carried on in connection therewith are conducted in accordance with the provisions of this Act and of the regulations, rules and bye-laws and of any orders made thereunder.

(2) In the event of any contravention of any such provisions by any person whosoever, the owner, agent and manager of the mine shall each be deemed also to be guilty of such contravention unless he proves that he had taken all reasonable means, by publishing and to the best of his power enforcing those provisions, to prevent such contravention :

(3) <sup>b</sup>[<sup>e</sup> * * *]. It shall not be a defence in any proceedings brought against an owner or agent of a mine under this section that a manager of the mine has been appointed in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

[a] The Proviso was omitted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 9 [w.e.f. 16-1-1960]. [b] The words "Save as hereinbefore provided" were omitted, ibid.

CHAPTER V

PROVISIONS AS TO HEALTH AND SAFETY

19. Drinking water.

<sup>a</sup>[(1) In every mine effective arrangements shall be made to provide and maintain at suitable points conveniently situated a sufficient supply of cool and wholesome drinking water for all persons employed therein :

Provided that in the case of persons employed below ground the Chief Inspector may, in lieu of drinking water being provided and maintained at suitable points, permit any other effective arrangements to be made for such supply.]

(2) All such points shall be legibly marked 'DRINKING WATER' in a language understood by a majority of the persons employed in the mine and no such point shall be situated within twenty feet of any washing place, urinal or latrine, unless a shorter distance is approved in writing by the Chief Inspector.

(3) In respect of all mines or any class or description of mines, the Central Government may make rules for securing compliance with the provisions of sub-sections (1) and (2) and for the examination by prescribed authorities of the supply and distribution of drinking water.

[a] Substituted for sub-section (1), by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 10 [w.e.f. 16-1-1960].

Section 18 — Note 1

[1] Although a rule made under the Act casts a duty only on the owner, the agent and manager would also become constructively liable for a contravention of the rule by the owner because of the provisions of sub-s. (2) of the section. He can avoid the liability only by showing that he has taken all reasonable means by publishing and enforcing the provisions which have been contravened by others to the best of his ability and that in spite of it they had been contravened. 1957 Cal 483 (490) [(S) A I R V 44 C 132] : 1957 Cri L Jour 834 (DB). (The words "any person whosoever" in sub-s. (2) cannot be taken to exclude the owner, the agent and the manager and hence even if the contravention is by any one of them and not by a third party the others would become constructively liable.)

20. Conservancy.

(1) There shall be provided, separately for males and females in every mine, a sufficient number of latrines and urinals of prescribed types so situated as to be convenient and accessible to persons employed in the mine at all times.

(2) All latrines and urinals provided under sub-section (1) shall be adequately lighted, ventilated and at all times maintained in a clean and sanitary condition.

(3) The Central Government may specify the number of latrines and urinals to be provided in any mine, in proportion to the number of males and females employed in the mine and provide for such other matters in respect of sanitation in mines (including the obligations in this regard of persons employed in the mine) as it may consider necessary in the interests of the health of the persons so employed.

*[ 21. Medical appliances.

(1) In every mine there shall be provided and maintained so as to be readily accessible during all working hours such number of first-aid boxes or cupboards equipped with such contents as may be prescribed.

(2) Nothing except the prescribed contents shall be kept in a first-aid box or cupboard or room.

(3) Every first-aid box or cupboard shall be kept in the charge of a responsible person who is trained in such first-aid treatment as may be prescribed and who shall always be readily available during the working hours of the mine.

(4) In every mine there shall be made so as to be readily available such arrangements as may be prescribed for the conveyance to hospitals or dispensaries of persons who, while employed in the mine, suffer bodily injury or become ill.

(5) In every mine wherein more than one hundred and fifty persons are employed, there shall be provided and maintained a first-aid room of such size with such equipment and in the charge of such medical and nursing staff as may be prescribed.]

[a] Substituted for the original section 21 by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), s. 11 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Substituted section 21—"The scale prescribed for first aid boxes in sub-section (1) of (old) section 21 is considered inadequate. The number of first aid boxes to be provided will depend upon various factors and it will be more appropriate to prescribe details in this regard in the rules framed under the Act."

"Unlike work in factories, work in mines—particularly work below ground—is more hazardous. It is, therefore, necessary that arrangements should be available for transport of injured persons to hospitals or dispensaries and that first aid rooms should be provided in mines wherein more than one hundred and fifty persons, instead of five hundred as at present, are employed."

—S. O. R.

*[22. Powers of Inspectors when causes of danger not expressly provided against exist or when employment of persons is dangerous.

(1) If, in respect of any matter for which no express provision is made by or under this Act, it appears to the Chief Inspector or an Inspector that any mine or part thereof or any matter, thing or practice in or connected with the mine, or with the control, supervision, management or direction thereof, is dangerous to human life or safety or defective so as to threaten, or tend to, the bodily injury of any person, he may give notice in writing, thereof to the owner, agent or manager of the mine and shall state in the notice the particulars in respect of which he considers the mine or part thereof or the matter, thing or practice to be dangerous or defective and require the same to be remedied within such time and in such manner as he may specify in the notice.

(1A) Where the owner, agent or manager of a mine fails to comply with the terms of a notice given under sub-section (1) within the period specified therein, the Chief Inspector or the Inspector, as the case may be, may, by order in writing, prohibit the employment in or about the mine or any part thereof of any person whose employment is not in his opinion reasonably necessary for securing compliance with the terms of the notice.

(2) Without prejudice to the provisions contained in sub-section (1), the Chief Inspector or the Inspector, as the case may be, may, by order in writing addressed to the owner, agent or manager of a mine, prohibit the extraction or reduction of pillars or blocks of minerals in any mine or part thereof, if, in his opinion, such operation is likely to cause the crushing of pillars or blocks of minerals or the premature collapse of any part of the workings or otherwise endanger the mine or the life or safety of persons employed therein or if, in his opinion, adequate provision against the outbreak of fire or flooding has not been made by providing for the sealing off and isolation of the part of the mine in which such operation is contemplated and for restricting the area that might be affected by fire or flooding.

(3) If the Chief Inspector, or an Inspector authorised in this behalf by general or special order in writing by the Chief Inspector, is of opinion that there is urgent and immediate danger to the life or safety of any person employed in any mine or part thereof, he may, by order in writing containing a statement of the grounds of his opinion, prohibit, until the danger is removed, the employment in or about the mine or any part thereof of any person whose employment is not in his opinion reasonably necessary for the purpose of removing the danger.

(4) Where a notice has been given under sub-section (1) or an order made under sub-section (1A), sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) by an Inspector, the owner, agent or manager of the mine may, within ten days after the receipt of the notice or order, as the case may be, appeal against the same to the Chief Inspector who may confirm, modify or cancel the notice or order.

(5) The Chief Inspector or the Inspector sending a notice under sub-section (1) or making an order under sub-section (1A), sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) and the Chief Inspector making an order (other than an order of cancellation in appeal) under sub-section (4) shall forthwith report the same to the Central Government.

(6) If the owner, agent or manager of the mine objects to a notice sent under sub-section (1) by the Chief Inspector or to an order made by the Chief Inspector under sub-section (1A) or sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) or sub-section (4), he may, within twenty days after the receipt of the notice containing the requisition or of the order or after the date of the decision on appeal, as the case may be, send his objection in writing stating the grounds thereof to the Central Government which shall refer the same to a Committee.

(7) Every notice under sub-section (1), or order under sub-section (1A), sub-section (2), sub-section (3) or sub-section (4), to which objection is made under sub-section (6), shall be complied with, pending the receipt at the mine of the decision of the Committee:

Provided that the Committee may, on the application of the owner, agent or manager, suspend the operation of a requisition under sub-section (1), pending its decision on the objection.

(*) Nothing in this section shall affect the powers of a magistrate under section 144 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.]

[a] Substituted for the original S. 22 by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 11 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Substitution of section 22. — "There is no provision at present for taking action against an owner, etc., of a mine for failure to comply with a notice under sub-section (1). The proposed sub-section (1A) is necessary to remove this lacuna. Apart from the consequential amendments made in the subsequent sub-sections, provision has also been made to cover mines where "blocks of minerals" are formed as is the practice in mines other than coal mines and where extraction or reduction of pillars or blocks of minerals is attended with undue risk to the persons employed in such operations or where there is danger to the mine due to inundation or irruption of water from surface or a neighbouring mine. The whole of section 22 has been recast to include the above amendments."

—S. O. R.

23. Notice to be given of accidents.

<sup>a</sup>[(1) Whenever there occurs in or about a mine—

- (a) an accident causing loss of life or serious bodily injury, or
- (b) an explosion, ignition, spontaneous heating, outbreak of fire or irruption or inrush of water or other liquid matter, or
- (c) an influx of inflammable or noxious gases, or
- (d) a breakage of ropes, chains or other gear by which persons or materials are lowered or raised in a shaft or an incline, or
- (e) an overwinding of cages or other means of conveyance in any shaft while persons or materials are being lowered or raised, or
- (f) a premature collapse of any part of the workings, or
- (g) any other accident which may be prescribed, the owner, agent or manager of the mine shall give notice of the occurrence to such authority in such form and within such time as may be prescribed, and he shall simultaneously post one copy of the notice on a special notice board in the prescribed manner at a place where it may be inspected by trade union officials, and shall ensure that the notice is kept on the board for not less than fourteen days from the date of such posting.]

(2) Where a notice given under sub-section (1) relates to an accident causing loss of life, the authority shall make an inquiry into the occurrence within two months of the receipt of the notice and, if the authority is not the Inspector, he shall cause the Inspector to make an inquiry within the said period.

(3) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that accidents other than those specified in sub-section (1), which cause bodily injury resulting in the enforced absence from work of the person injured for a period exceeding forty-eight hours shall be entered in a register in the prescribed form or shall be subject to the provisions of sub-section (1).

(4) A copy of the entries in the register referred to in sub-section (3) shall be sent by the owner, agent, or manager of the mine, <sup>b</sup>[on or before the 20th day of January in the year following that to which the entries relate] to the Chief Inspector.

[a] Substituted for sub-section (1), by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 12 [w. e. f. 18.1.1960]. [b] Substituted for "within fourteen days after the 30th day of June and the 31st day of December in each year", ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Sub-section (1) of section 23 has been recast to require submission of notices in certain other cases of accidents also and to reduce the period for which notice of accident is to be posted on the notice board at the mine from two months to fourteen days."

—S. O. R.

24. Power of Government to appoint Court of inquiry in cases of accidents.

<sup>a</sup>[(1) When any accident of the nature referred to in any of the clauses of sub-section (1) of section 23 occurs in or about a mine, the Central Government

Section 23 — Note 1

[2] Sub-section (2) requires only the commencement of the enquiry within the period of two months from the date on which the notice under sub-s. (1) has been received. It does not prescribe any period within which such an enquiry should be completed. 1958 Bom 243 (244) [AIR V 45 C 70] : I L R (1959) Bom 358 : 1958 Cri L Jour 756.

may, if it is of opinion that a formal inquiry into the causes of and circumstances attending the accident ought to be held, appoint a competent person to hold such inquiry and may also appoint one or more persons possessing legal or special knowledge to act as assessor or assessors in holding the inquiry.]

(2) The person appointed to hold any such inquiry shall have all the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the purpose of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents and material object ; b[* * *].

(3) Any person holding an inquiry under this section may exercise such of the powers of an Inspector under this Act as he may think it necessary or expedient to exercise for the purposes of the inquiry.

(4) The person holding an inquiry under this section shall make a report to the Central Government stating the causes of the accident and its circumstances, and adding any observations which he or any of the assessors may think fit to make.

[a] Substituted for sub-section (1), by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 13 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960]. [b] The words and figures "and every person required by such person as aforesaid to furnish any information shall be deemed to be legally bound to do so within the meaning of section 176 of the Indian Penal Code" were omitted, ibid.

25. Notice of certain diseases.

(1) Where any person employed in a mine contracts any disease<sup>a</sup> notified by the Central Government in the Official Gazette as a disease connected with mining operations, the owner, agent or manager of the mine, as the case may be, shall send notice thereof to the Chief Inspector and to such other authorities, in such form and within such time as may be prescribed.

(2) If any medical practitioner attends on a person who is or has been employed in a mine and who is or is believed by the medical practitioner to be suffering from any disease notified under sub-section (1), the medical practitioner shall without delay send a report in writing to the Chief Inspector stating—

- (a) the name and address of the patient,
- (b) the disease from which the patient is or is believed to be suffering, and
- (c) the name and address of the mine in which the patient is or was last employed.

(3) Where the report under sub-section (2) is confirmed to the satisfaction of the Chief Inspector by the certificate of a certifying surgeon or otherwise that the person is suffering from a disease notified under sub-section (1), the Chief Inspector shall pay to the medical practitioner such fee as may be prescribed, and the fee so paid shall be recoverable as an arrear of land revenue from the owner, agent or manager of the mine in which the person contracted the disease.

(4) If any medical practitioner fails to comply with the provisions of sub-section (2), he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

[a] Silicosis and Pneumoconiosis were declared as such diseases, see Notification S. R. O. 1306, dated the 21st July 1952, published in Gaz. of Ind., 1952, Pt. II-S. 3, p. 1153.

26. Power to direct investigation of causes of disease.

(1) The Central Government may, if it considers it expedient to do so, appoint a competent person to inquire into and report to it on any case where a disease notified under sub-section (1) of section 25 has been or is suspected to have been contracted in a mine, and may also appoint one or more persons possessing legal or special knowledge to act as assessors in such inquiry.

(2) The provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 24 shall apply to an inquiry under this section in the same manner as they apply to any inquiry under that section.

27. Publication of reports.

The Central Government may cause any report submitted by a Committee under section 13 or any report or extracts from any report submitted to it under section 26, and shall cause every report submitted by a Court of inquiry under section 24 to be published at such time and in such manner as it may think fit.

CHAPTER VI*HOURS AND LIMITATION OF EMPLOYMENT*28. Weekly day of rest.

No person shall be allowed to work in a mine on more than six days in any one week.

29. Compensatory days of rest.

(1) Where in pursuance of action under section 38 or as a result of exempting any mine or the persons employed therein from the provisions of section 28, any person employed therein is deprived of any of the weekly days of rest for which provision is made in section 28, he shall be allowed, within the month in which such days of rest were due to him or within the two months immediately following that month, compensatory days of rest equal in number to the days of rest of which he has been deprived.

(2) The Central Government may prescribe the manner in which the days of rest for which provision is made in sub-section (1) shall be allowed.

30. Hours of work above ground.

(1) No adult employed above ground in a mine shall be required or allowed to work for more than forty-eight hours in any week or for more than nine hours in any day :

*[Provided that, subject to the previous approval of the Chief Inspector, the daily maximum hours specified in this sub-section may be exceeded in order to facilitate the change of shifts.]

(2) The periods of work of any such adult shall be so arranged that, along with his interval for rest, they shall not in any day spread over more than twelve hours, and that he shall not work for more than five hours continuously before he has had an interval for rest of at least half an hour :

*[Provided that the Chief Inspector may, for reasons to be recorded in writing and subject to such conditions as he may deem fit to impose, permit the spread-over to extend over a period not exceeding fourteen hours in any day.]

†[(3) Persons belonging to two or more shifts shall not be allowed to do work of the same kind above ground at the same time :

Provided that, for the purposes of this sub-section persons shall not be deemed to belong to separate shifts by reason only of the fact that they receive their intervals for rest at different times.]

[a] Added by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 14 [w.e.f. 18-1-1960].

*[31. Hours of work below ground.

(1) No adult employed below ground in a mine shall be allowed to work for more than forty-eight hours in any week or for more than eight hours in any day :

Provided that, subject to the previous approval of the Chief Inspector, the daily maximum hours specified in this sub-section may be exceeded in order to facilitate the change of shifts.

(2) No work shall be carried on below ground in any mine except by a system of shifts so arranged that the period of work for each shift is not spread over more than the daily maximum hours stipulated in sub-section (1).

(3) No person employed in a mine shall be allowed to be present in any part of a mine below ground except during the periods of work shown in respect of him in the register maintained under sub-section (4) of section 48.]

[a] Substituted for the original S. 31, by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 15 [w.e.f. 16-1-1960].

*[32. Night shift.

Where a person employed in a mine works on a shift which extends beyond midnight—

(a) for the purposes of sections 28 and 29, a weekly day of rest shall mean in his case a period of twenty-four consecutive hours beginning when his shift ends ;

(b) the following day for him shall be deemed to be the period of twenty-four hours beginning when such shift ends, and the hours he has worked after midnight shall be counted in the previous day.]

[a] Substituted for the original S. 32, by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 16 [w.e.f. 16-1-1960].

33. Extra wages for overtime.

<sup>a</sup>[(1) Where in a mine a person works above ground for more than nine hours in any day, or works below ground for more than eight hours in any day or works for more than forty-eight hours in any week whether above ground or below ground, he shall in respect of such overtime work be entitled to wages at the rate of twice his ordinary rate of wages, the period of overtime work being calculated on a daily basis, or weekly basis, whichever is more favourable to him.]

(2) Where any person employed in a mine is paid on piece-rate basis, the Central Government shall, in consultation with the employer concerned and the representatives of the persons employed in the mine, fix for the purposes of this section time rates which shall, as nearly as possible be equivalent to the average rate of earnings of the persons so employed, and the rates so fixed shall be deemed to be the ordinary rates of wages of such persons.

(3) For the purposes of this section "ordinary rate of wages" means the basic wages plus <sup>b</sup>[any dearness allowance and compensation in cash including such compensation, if any, accruing through the free issue of foodgrains] and other articles as persons employed in a mine may, for the time being, be entitled to, but does not include a bonus.

(4) The Central Government may prescribe the registers to be maintained in a mine for the purpose of securing compliance with the provisions of this section.

[a] Substituted for sub-section (1), by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 17 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960]. [b] Substituted for "such allowances including the cash equivalent of the advantage accruing through the sale on a concessional basis of foodgrains", ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sub-section (1)— "This clause removes the distinction in the matter of payment of overtime wages between workers employed below ground and those employed in other parts of the mine. A reference to the daily maximum hours of work in excess of which overtime is admissible has also been included."

Sub-section (3)—"In coal mines certain cash concessions are given on the basis of attendance and it is necessary to take into account such compensation in cash for the purpose of computation of "ordinary rate of wages". As it is difficult to reckon the cash equivalent of foodgrains issued on a concessional basis (which varies from person to person, depending upon the size of his family), it is considered desirable to take into account only the cash equivalent of the advantage accruing through the sale of foodgrains which is identical for all persons." — S. O. R.

*[34. Prohibition of employment of certain persons.

No person shall be required or allowed to work in a mine if he has already been working in any other mine within the preceding twelve hours.]

[a] Substituted for the original S. 34, by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 18 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

*[35. Limitation of daily hours of work including overtime work.

Save in respect of cases falling within clause (a) and clause (e) of section 39, no person employed in a mine shall be required or allowed to work in the mine for more than ten hours in any day inclusive of overtime.]

[a] Substituted for the original section 35 by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 19 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

36. Notices regarding hours of work.

(1) The manager of every mine shall cause to be posted outside the office of the mine a notice in the prescribed form stating the time of the commencement and of the end of work at the mine and, if it is proposed to work by a system of relays, the time of the commencement and of the end of work for each relay.

(2) In the case of a mine at which mining operations commence after the commencement of this Act, the notice referred to in sub-section (1) shall be posted not less than seven days before the commencement of work.

(3) The notice referred to in sub-section (1) shall also state the time of the commencement and of the intervals for rest for persons employed above ground and a copy thereof shall be sent to the Chief Inspector, if he so requires.

(4) Where it is proposed to make any alteration in the time fixed for the commencement or for the end of work in the mine generally or for any relay or in the rest intervals fixed for persons employed above ground, an amended notice in the prescribed form shall be posted outside the office of the mine not less than seven days before the change is made, and a copy of such notice shall be sent to the Chief Inspector not less than seven days before such change.

(5) No person shall be allowed to work in a mine otherwise than in accordance with the notice required by sub-section (1).

37. Supervising staff.

Nothing in section 28, section 30, section 31, section 34 or <sup>a</sup>[sub-section (5) of section 36], shall apply to persons who may by rules be defined to be persons, holding positions of supervision or management or employed in a confidential capacity.

[a] Substituted for "sub-section (4) of section 36" by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1953 (XLII of 1953), S. 4 and Sch. III [23-12-1953].

38. Exemption from provisions regarding employment.

(1) In case of an emergency involving serious risk to the safety of the mine or of persons employed therein, or in case of an accident, whether actual or apprehended, or in case of any act of God or in case of any urgent work to be done to machinery, plant or equipment of the mine as the result of breakdown of such machinery, plant or equipment, the manager may, subject to the provisions of section 22 and in accordance with the rules under section 39, permit persons to be employed in contravention of section 28, section 30, section 31, section 34, or <sup>a</sup>[sub-section (5) of section 36], on such work as may be necessary to protect the safety of the mine or of the persons employed therein :

Provided that, in case of any urgent work to be done to machinery, plant or equipment under this section, the manager may take the action permitted by this section, although the production of <sup>b</sup>[mineral] would thereby be incidentally affected, but any action so taken shall not exceed the limits necessary for the purpose of avoiding serious interference with the ordinary working of the mine.

(2) Every case in which action has been taken by the manager under sub-section (1), shall be recorded together with the circumstances relating thereto and a report thereof shall also be made to the Chief Inspector or the Inspector.

[a] Substituted, for "sub-section (4) of section 36" by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1953 (XLII of 1953), S. 4 & Sch. III [23-12-1953]. [b] Substituted for "coal" by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 20 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

19. Power to make exempting rules.

Save in respect of adolescents, the Central Government may make rules providing for the exemption to such extent, in such circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be specified, from the provisions of sections 28, 30, 31, 34 or sub-section (5) of section 36—

- (a) of all or any of the persons employed in a mine, where an emergency involving serious risk to the safety of the mine or of the persons employed therein is apprehended ;
- (b) of all or any of the persons so employed, in case of an accident, actual or apprehended ;
- (c) of all or any of the persons engaged in work of a preparatory or complementary nature, which must necessarily be carried on for the purpose of avoiding serious interference with the ordinary working of the mine ;
- (d) of all or any of the persons engaged in urgent repairs ; and
- (e) of all or any of the persons employed in any work which for technical reasons must be carried on continuously.]

[a] Substituted for S. 39 by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 21 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

The substituted section 39 "seeks to exclude adolescents from the scope of section 39 and to bring within its purview persons engaged in work of a preparatory or complementary nature which must necessarily be carried on for the purpose of avoiding serious interference with the ordinary working of the mine."—S. O. R.

40. Employment of adolescents.

(1) No adolescent shall be allowed to work in any part of a mine which is below ground unless—

<sup>b</sup>[(aa)] a medical certificate in the prescribed form granted to the adolescent by a certifying surgeon certifying that he is fit for work as an adult is in the custody of the manager of the mine ;

(b) the adolescent carries while at work, a token giving a reference to such certificate ;

(c) the adolescent has an interval for rest of at least half an hour after every four and a half hours of continuous work on any day.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, no adolescent who has been granted a certificate under sub-section (1) shall be employed in any mine except between the hours of 6 A.M. and 6 P.M. :

Provided that the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, vary the hours of employment of such adolescent in respect of any mine or class of mines so however that no employment of any such adolescent between the hours of 10 P.M. and 5 A.M. is permitted thereby.

[a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 22 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960]. [b] Re-lettered for clause "(a)", ibid.

41. Certificate of fitness.

(1) A certificate of fitness granted or renewed for the purposes of section 40—

(a) shall be valid only for a period of twelve months from the date thereof ;

(b) may be subject to specified conditions in regard to employment generally or the nature of the work in which the adolescent may be employed.

(2) A certifying surgeon shall revoke a certificate granted or renewed under section 40, if in his opinion the holder of it is no longer fit for work in the capacity stated therein in a mine.

(3) Where a certifying surgeon refuses to grant or renew a certificate or revokes a certificate, he shall, if so required by the person concerned, state his reasons in writing for so doing.

(4) Where a certificate under section 40 with reference to any adolescent is granted or renewed subject to such conditions as are referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (1), an adolescent shall not be required or allowed to work in any mine except in accordance with those conditions.

(5) The adolescent or his parents shall not be liable to pay any part of the expenses of any medical examination under section 40 in all cases where the application for a medical certificate is accompanied by a document signed by the manager of a mine stating that the adolescent to be examined will be employed in the mine if certified to be fit for work therein or the application is made by the manager of the mine in which the adolescent desires to be employed.

42. Effect of certificate of fitness granted to adolescents.

An adolescent, who has been granted a certificate of fitness to work in a mine as an adult under section 40, and who while actually employed in a mine carries a to en giving a reference to such certificate, shall '[subject to the conditions referred to in that section,] be deemed to be an adult for the purposes of this Act.

[a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 23 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

*[43. Power to require medical examination

(1) Where an Inspector is of opinion that any person employed in a mine is a child or is an adolescent without a certificate of fitness or is an adolescent with a certificate of fitness but no longer fit to work in the capacity stated in the certificate, he may serve on the manager of the mine a notice requiring that such person shall be examined by a certifying surgeon and such person shall not, if the Inspector so directs, be employed or permitted to work in any mine until he has been so examined and has been certified that he is an adult or, if an adolescent, he has been granted a certificate of fitness, or, as the case may be, a fresh certificate of fitness under section 40.

(2) Every certificate as to the age of a person which has been granted in the prescribed manner and any certificate granted by a certifying surgeon on a reference under sub-section (1) shall, for the purposes of this Act, be conclusive evidence of the matters stated therein.]

[a] Substituted for S. 43, by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 24 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

*[44. Working hours for adolescents not certified to be fit for work as adults.

(1) No adolescent who has not been granted a medical certificate certifying that he is fit for work as an adult shall be employed or permitted to be employed above ground in a mine —

(a) for more than four-and-a-half hours in any day, and

(b) between the hours of 6 p. m. and 6 a. m.

(2) The period of work of all such adolescents employed in a mine shall be limited to two shifts which shall not spread over more than five hours each, and there shall be no change of shifts except once in a period of thirty days and with the previous permission in writing of the Chief Inspector.]

[a] Substituted for S. 44 by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 25 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

45. Employment of children.

(1) No child shall be employed in any mine, nor shall any child be allowed to be present in any part of a mine which is below ground or in any '[open cast working] in which any mining operation is being carried on.

(2) After such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint in this behalf, no child shall be allowed to be present in any part of a mine above ground where any operation connected with or incidental to any mining operation is being carried on.

[a] Substituted for "open excavation," by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 28 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

*[46. Employment of women.

(1) No woman shall, notwithstanding anything contained in any other law, be employed—

(a) in any part of a mine which is below ground;

(b) in any mine above ground except between the hours of 6 a.m. and 7 p.m.

(2) Every woman employed in a mine above ground shall be allowed an interval of not less than eleven hours between the termination of employment on any one day and the commencement of the next period of employment.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the Central Government may, by notification<sup>b</sup> in the Official Gazette, vary the hours of employment above ground of women in respect of any mine or class or description of mine, so however that no employment of any woman between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. is permitted thereby.]

47. Disputes as to age. [Omitted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 28 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].]

48. Registers of persons employed.

*[(1) For every mine there shall be kept in the prescribed form and place a register of all persons employed in the mine showing in respect of each such person—

(a) the name of the employee with the name of his father or, of her husband, as the case may be, and such other particulars as may be necessary for purposes of identification;

(b) the age and sex of the employee;

(c) the nature of employment (whether above ground or below ground, and if above ground, whether in open cast workings or otherwise) and the date of commencement thereof;

(d) in the case of an adolescent, reference to the certificate of fitness granted under section 40;

(e) such other particulars as may be prescribed;

and the relevant entries shall be authenticated by the signature or the thumb impression of the person concerned.]

(2) The entries in the register prescribed by sub-section (1) shall be such that workers working in accordance therewith would not be working in contravention of any of the provisions of this Chapter.

(3) No person shall be employed in a mine until the particulars required by sub-section (1) have been recorded in the register in respect of such person and no person shall be employed except during the periods of work shown in respect of him in the register.

<sup>b</sup>[(4) For every mine other than a mine which, for any special reason to be recorded, is exempted by the Central Government by general or special order, there shall be kept in the prescribed form and place separate registers showing in respect of each person employed in the mine—

(a) below ground;

(b) above ground in open cast workings; and

(c) above ground in other cases—

(i) the name of the employee;

- (ii) the class or kind of his employment;
- (iii) where work is carried on by a system of relays, the shift to which he belongs and the hours of the shift.]

(5) The register of persons employed below ground referred to in sub-section (4) shall show at any moment the name of every person who is then present below ground in the mine.

[(6) No person shall enter any open cast working or any working below ground unless he has been permitted by the manager or is authorised under this Act or any other law to do so.]

CHAPTER VII

LEAVE WITH WAGES

•[49. Application of Chapter.

The provisions of this Chapter shall not operate to the prejudice of any right to which a person employed in a mine may be entitled under any other law or under the terms of any award, agreement or contract of service :

Provided that when such award, agreement or contract of service provides for a longer leave with wages than provided in this Chapter, such person shall be entitled only to such longer leave.

[a] Sections 49 to 56 both inclusive were substituted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 30 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

50. Leave defined.

For the purposes of this Chapter, leave shall not include weekly days of rest or holidays for festivals or other similar occasions whether occurring during or at either end of the period of leave.

51. Calendar year defined.

For the purposes of this Chapter, a calendar year shall mean the period of twelve months beginning with the first day of January in any year.

52. Annual leave with wages.

(1) Every person employed in a mine who has completed a calendar year's service therein shall be allowed, during the subsequent calendar year, leave with wages, calculated,—

- (a) in the case of a person employed below ground, at the rate of one day for every sixteen days of work performed by him, and
- (b) in any other case, at the rate of one day for every twenty days of work performed by him.

(2) A calendar year's service referred to in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to have been completed,—

- (a) in the case of a person employed below ground in a mine, if he has during the calendar year put in not less than one hundred and ninety attendances at the mine; and
- (b) in the case of any other person, if he has during the calendar year put in not less than two hundred and forty attendances at the mine.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this sub-section—

- (a) any days of lay-off by agreement or contract or as permissible under the standing order;
- (b) in the case of a female employee, maternity leave for any number of days not exceeding twelve weeks; and
- (c) the leave earned in the year prior to that in which the leave is enjoyed; shall be deemed to be the days on which the employee has worked in a mine for the purpose of computation of the attendances, but he shall not earn leave for these days.

(3) A person whose service commences otherwise than on the first day of January shall be entitled to leave with wages in the subsequent calendar year at the rates specified in sub-section (1), if—

(a) in the case of a person employed below ground in a mine, he has put in attendances for not less than one-half of the total number of days during the remainder of the calendar year; and

(b) in any other case, he has put in attendances for not less than two-thirds of the total number of days during the remainder of the calendar year.

(4) Any leave not taken by a person to which he is entitled in any one calendar year under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) shall be added to the leave to be allowed to him under sub-section (1) during the succeeding calendar year :

Provided that the total number of days of leave which may be accumulated by any such person shall not at any one time exceed thirty days in all :

Provided further that any such person who has applied for leave with wages but has not been given such leave in accordance with sub-section (6) shall be entitled to carry forward the unavailed leave without any limit.

(5) Any such person may apply in writing to the manager of the mine not less than fifteen days before the day on which he wishes his leave to begin, for all leave or any portion thereof then allowable to him under sub-sections (1), (3) and (4) :

Provided that the number of times in which leave may be taken during any one calendar year shall not exceed three.

(6) An application for such leave made in accordance with sub-section (5) shall not be refused unless the authority empowered to grant the leave is of opinion that owing to the exigencies of the situation the leave should be refused.

(7) If a person employed in a mine wants to avail himself of the leave with wages due to him to cover a period of illness, he shall be granted such leave even if the application for leave is not made within the time specified in sub-section (5).

(8) If the employment of a person employed in a mine is terminated by the owner, agent or manager of the mine before he has taken the entire leave to which he is entitled up to the day of termination of his employment, or if such person having applied for and having not been granted such leave, quits his employment before he has taken the leave, the owner, agent or manager of the mine shall pay him the amount payable under section 53, in respect of the leave not taken, and such payment shall be made, where the employment of the person is terminated by the owner, agent or manager, before the expiry of the second working day after such termination, and where a person himself quits his employment, on or before the next pay day.

(9) The unavailed leave of a person employed in a mine shall not be taken into consideration in computing the period of any notice required to be given before the termination of his employment.

Explanation.—For the purposes of sub-sections (1) and (3), any fraction of leave of half a day or more shall be treated as one full day and fraction of less than half a day shall be omitted.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sub-sections (1) and (2).—"The distinction between employees paid on monthly basis, piece-rate basis and others employed either above ground or below ground has been removed and the rate of leave increased. Under the proposed amendment, a person employed below ground is eligible for leave at the rate of one day for every sixteen days of work performed by him during a calendar year and in any other case, at the rate of one day for every twenty days. A calendar year's service shall be deemed to have been completed in the case of a person employed below ground, if he has during the calendar year put in not less than one hundred and ninety attendances at the mine, and in the case of any other person, not less than two hundred and forty attendances.

In the proposed section 52 (2) a new explanation has been included to make it clear that absence due to lay-off or maternity leave or leave earned in the previous year will also be computed for the purpose of attendance."

—S. O. R.

53. Wages during leave period.

For the leave allowed to a person employed in a mine under section 52, he shall be paid at a rate equal to the daily average of his total full-time earnings for the days on which he was employed during the month immediately preceding his leave, exclusive of any overtime wages and bonus but inclusive of any dearness allowance and compensation in cash including such compensation, if any, accruing through the free issue of foodgrains and other articles as persons employed in the mine may, for the time being, be entitled to :

Provided that if no such average earnings are available, then the average shall be computed on the basis of the daily average of the total full-time earnings of all persons similarly employed for the same month.

54. Payment in advance in certain cases.

Any person employed in a mine who has been allowed leave for not less than four days, shall, before his leave begins, be paid, the wages due for the period of the leave allowed.

55. Mode of recovery of unpaid wages.

Any sum required to be paid by the owner, agent or manager of a mine under this Chapter but not paid by him shall be recoverable as delayed wages under the provisions of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936.

56. Power to exempt mines.

Where the Central Government is satisfied that the leave rules applicable to persons employed in any mine provide benefits which in its opinion are not less favourable than those provided for in this Chapter, it may, by order in writing and subject to such conditions as may be specified therein, exempt the mine from all or any of the provisions of this Chapter.]

CHAPTER VIII

REGULATIONS, RULES AND BYE-LAWS

57. Power of Central Government to make regulations.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make regulations* consistent with this Act for all or any of the following purposes, namely:—

- (a) for prescribing the qualifications required for appointment as Chief Inspector or Inspector;
- (b) for prescribing and regulating the duties and powers of the Chief Inspector and of Inspectors in regard to the inspection of mines under this Act;
- (c) for prescribing the duties of owners, agents and managers of mines and of persons acting under them, and for prescribing the qualifications (including age) of agents and managers of mines and of persons acting under them;
- (d) for requiring facilities to be provided for enabling managers of mines and other persons acting under them to efficiently discharge their duties;

Section 57 — Note 1

[1] In the absence of express provisions to the contrary in the Act the Indian Metalliferous Mines Regulations (1928) framed under the repealed Indian Mines Act, 1923, are deemed to have been issued under the new Act by virtue of S. 24, General Clauses Act, 1900

Mys 245 (247) [A I R V 47 C 86] : 1960 Cri L Jour 1227 (DB) + 1960 Orissa 180 (182, 183) [AIR V 47 C 61] : I L R (1960) Cut 162 : 1960 Cri L Jour 1355. (Hence the Regulations would constitute a law in force within the meaning of Art. 20 of the Constitution.)

- (e) for regulating the manner of ascertaining, by examination or otherwise, the qualifications of managers of mines and persons acting under them; and the granting and renewal of certificates of competency;
- (f) for fixing the fees, if any, to be paid in respect of such examinations and of the grant and renewal of such certificates;
- (g) for determining the circumstances in which and the conditions subject to which it shall be lawful for more mines than one to be under a single manager, or for any mine or mines to be under a manager not having the prescribed qualifications;
- [(h) for providing for inquiries to be made under this Act, including any inquiry relating to misconduct or incompetence on the part of any person holding a certificate under this Act and for the suspension or cancellation of any such certificate and for providing, wherever necessary, that the person appointed to hold an inquiry shall have all the powers of a civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the purpose of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents and material objects;]
- (i) for regulating, subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and of any rules made thereunder, the storage, conveyance and use of explosives;
- [(j) for prohibiting, restricting or regulating the employment of adolescents and women in mines or in any class of mines or on particular kinds of labour which are attended by danger to the life, safety or health of such persons and for limiting the weight of any single load that may be carried by any such person;]
- (k) for providing for the safety of the persons employed in a mine, their means of entrance thereinto and exit therefrom, the number of shafts or outlets to be furnished, and the fencing of shafts, pits, outlets, pathways and subsidences ;
- (l) for prohibiting the employment in a mine either as manager or in any other specified capacity of any person except persons paid by the owner of the mine and directly answerable to the owner or manager of the mine ;
- [(m) for providing for the safety of the roads and working places in mines, including the siting, maintenance and extraction or reduction of pillars or blocks of minerals and the maintenance of sufficient barriers between mine and mine ;
- (n) for the inspection of workings and sealed off fire-areas in a mine, and for the restriction of workings in the vicinity of the sea or any lake or river or any other body of surface water, whether natural or artificial, or of any public road or building, and for requiring due precaution to be taken against the irruption or inrush of water or other liquid matter into, outbreak of fire in or premature collapse of, any workings;]
- (o) for providing for the ventilation of mines and the action to be taken in respect of dust, fire, and inflammable and noxious gases, including precautions against spontaneous combustion, underground fire and coal dust;
- [(p) for regulating, subject to the provisions of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, and of any rules made thereunder, the generation, storage, transformation, transmission and use of electricity in mines and for providing for the care and the regulation of the use of all electrical apparatus and electrical cables in mines and of all other machinery and plant therein;]
- (q) for providing for the safety of persons present on haulage roads and for restricting the use of certain classes of locomotives underground ;
- (r) for providing for proper lighting of mines and regulating the use of safety lamps therein and for the search of persons entering a mine in which safety lamps are in use ;

- (s) for providing against explosions or ignitions *{of inflammable gas or dust} or irruptions of or accumulations of water in mines and against danger arising therefrom and for prohibiting, restricting or regulating the extraction of minerals in circumstances likely to result in the premature collapse of *{workings} or to result in or to aggravate the collapse of *{workings} or irruptions of water or ignitions in mines ;
- (t) <sup>h</sup>{for prescribing under clause (q) of sub-section (1) of section 23, the types of accidents and for prescribing the notices} of accidents and dangerous occurrences, and the notices, reports and returns of mineral output, persons employed and other matters provided for by regulations, to be furnished by owners, agents and managers of mines, and for prescribing the forms of such notices, returns and reports, the persons and authorities to whom they are to be furnished, the particulars to be contained in them, and the time within which they are to be submitted ;
- <sup>1</sup>{(u) for prescribing the plans, and sections and field notes connected therewith, to be kept by owners, agents and managers of mines and the manner and places in which such plans, sections and field notes are to be kept for purposes of record and for the submission of copies thereof to the Chief Inspector; and for requiring the making of fresh surveys and plans by them, and in the event of non-compliance, for having the survey made and plans prepared through any other agency and for the recovery of expenses thereof in the same manner as an arrear of land revenue;}
- (v) for regulating the procedure on the occurrence of accidents or accidental explosions or ignitions in or about mines ;
- (w) for prescribing the form of, and the particulars to be contained in, the notice to be given by the owner, agent or manager of a mine under section 16 ;
- (x) for prescribing the notice to be given by the owner, agent or manager of a mine before mining operations are commenced at or extended to any point within fifty yards of any railway subject to the provisions of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 or of any J[public roads or other works, as the case may be, which are maintained by the Government or any local authority];
- (y) for the protection from injury, in respect of any mine when the workings are discontinued, of property vested in the Government or any local authority or railway company as defined in the Indian Railways Act, 1890;
- *{[(yy) for requiring protective works to be constructed by the owner, agent or manager of a mine before the mine is closed, and in the event of non-compliance, for getting such works executed by any other agency and for recovering the expenses thereof from such owner in the same manner as an arrear of land revenue;]}
- (z) for requiring the fencing of any mine or part of a mine or any quarry, incline, shaft, pit or outlet, whether the same is being worked or not, or any dangerous or prohibited area, subsidence, haulage, tramline or pathway, where such fencing is necessary for the protection of the public; and
- (zz) any other matter which has to be or may be prescribed.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Clause (h)—"Existing clause (h) provides only for the making of inquiries into the conduct of managers and of persons acting under them. As an agent does not come under the category of such persons, it is proposed to amend clause (h) to provide for inquiries to be made into charges of misconduct or incompetency on the part of any person holding a certificate under the Act. Provision has also been made to vest the person conducting the inquiry with the powers of a civil court for enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents."

Clause (p)—"Provision has been made for framing regulations in regard to use of electricity and the care and maintenance of electrical apparatus and electrical cables in mines. This is considered necessary, as with the growing use of electricity in mines, there is greater possibility of accidents from this source and it is desirable to include in the regulations all the relevant provisions instead of the existing ones contained in the Indian Electricity Rules."

Clause (s)—"In clause (s) reference has to be made to inflammable gas and also to dust as in certain mines coal dust is explosive in character if sufficient concentration is present in the mine atmosphere. The reference to premature collapse is in respect of mine workings and this has been made clear."

Clause (u)—"It is necessary to include in clause (u) "sections" also with "plans," because where a coal or other mineral deposit is steep, it is necessary to maintain separate sections as well as plans. Also in the preparation of plans and sections, field notes form an important part of the record and it is necessary that such records should also be maintained in the office of a mine for verification of surveys. Wrong plans are liable to endanger safety in mines and it is necessary that power should be available for requiring a fresh survey to be conducted and, in the event of non-compliance, for getting the plans prepared by any other agency."

—S. O. R.

Power of Central Government to make rules.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules* consistent with this Act for all or any of the following purposes, namely:—

- (a) for providing for the appointment of Chairman and members of Mining Boards, and for regulating the procedure of such Boards;
- (b) for prescribing the form of the register referred to in sub-section (3) of section 23;
- (c) for providing for the appointment of Courts of inquiry under section 24, for regulating the procedure and powers of such Courts, for the payment of travelling allowance to the members, and for the recovery of the expenses of such Courts* [including any other expenses connected with the inquiry] from the manager, owner or agent of the mine concerned;

Section 58 — Note 1

[1] The maintenance of creche is part of mining operations for the breach of which not only the owner but also his agent and the manager is liable. ('57) 1957 Cri L Jour 122 (124) (Cal).

[2] Under R. 7 (1) of the Mines Creche Rules of 1946 it is obligatory on the owner or manager of a mine where women are employed and where a creche is maintained to employ the Creche-in-charge as well as an inferior staff irrespective of the fact whether the women employed in the mine have children or not. ('57) 1957 Cri L Jour 122 (124) (Cal).

[3] Under S. 58 (d) the Central Government is empowered to make rules prescribing the nature and extent of the supervision to be provided in a creche and the nature and extent of the supervision certainly includes the appointment of supervisors such as a Creche-in-charge and also inferior staff. As regards qualification and the approval of the staff although the Central Government has left those things to the discretion of a competent authority what has been left to the competent authority is by no means a legislative act but merely an executive act. In this view, R. 7 (1) of the Mines Creche Rules, 1946 is neither ultra vires nor does it offend against the Rule against the delegated legislation. ('57) 1957 Cri L Jour 122 (123) (Cal).

[4] The power of making rules for the maintenance of a creche in mines has been considerably widened under the present (1952) Act. As the powers are widened the Rules framed under narrower powers under the old Act may well be said to have been framed under the wider powers (vide S. 24, General Clauses Act) and cannot be said to have lapsed with the repeal of the old Act. ('57) 1957 Cri L Jour 122 (123) (Cal).

- (d) for requiring the maintenance in mines wherein any women are employed or were employed on any day of the preceding twelve months of suitable rooms to be reserved for the use of children under the age of six years belonging to such women, and for prescribing, either generally or with particular reference to the number of women employed in the mine, the number and standards of such rooms, and the nature and extent of the amenities to be provided and the supervision to be exercised therein;
- (e) for requiring the maintenance at or near pit-heads of bathing places equipped with shower baths and of locker-rooms for the use of men employed in mines and of similar and separate places and rooms for the use of women in mines where women are employed, and for prescribing, either generally or with particular reference to the numbers of men and women ordinarily employed in a mine, the number and standards of such places and rooms;
- (f) for prescribing the standard of sanitation to be maintained and the scale of latrine and urinal accommodation to be provided at mines, the provision to be made for the supply of drinking-water, [* * *];
- <sup>b</sup>[(ff) for providing for the supply and maintenance of medical appliances and comforts and for prescribing the contents and number of first-aid boxes and cupboards, the training in first-aid work, the size and equipment of first-aid rooms and staff in charge thereof and the arrangements for conveyance of injured persons to hospitals or dispensaries;
- (fff) for requiring the imparting of practical instruction to, or the training of, persons employed or to be employed in mines otherwise than in a position of supervision or management and for prescribing schemes for such instruction and training;]
- (g) for prohibiting the possession or consumption of intoxicating drinks or drugs in a mine and the entry or presence therein of any person in a drunken state;
- (h) for prescribing the forms of notices required under section 36, and for requiring such notices to be posted also in specified languages;
- (i) for defining the persons who shall, for the purpose of section 37, be deemed to be persons holding positions of supervision or management or employed in a confidential capacity;
- (j) for prohibiting the employment in mines of persons or any class of persons who have not been certified by a qualified medical practitioner to have completed their fifteenth year, and for prescribing the manner and the circumstances in which such certificates may be granted and revoked;
- (k) for prescribing the form of the certificate of fitness required by section 40, the conditions subject to which and the circumstances in which they may be granted and the circumstances in which they may be revoked;
- <sup>b</sup>[(kk) for requiring persons employed or seeking employment at mines to submit themselves for medical examination and for prohibiting on medical grounds the employment of any person at a mine either absolutely or in a particular capacity or in particular work;]
- <sup>d</sup>[(l) for prescribing the form of registers required by section 48 and the maintenance and form of registers for the purposes of Chapter VII;]
- (m) for *prescribing abstracts of this Act and of the regulations and rules and the language in which the abstracts and bye-laws shall be posted as required by sections 61 and 62;
- (n) for requiring notices, returns and reports in connection with any matters dealt with by rules to be furnished by owners, agents and managers of mines, and for prescribing the forms of such notices, returns and reports, the persons and authorities to whom they are to be furnished, the particulars to be contained in them, and the times, within which they are to be submitted;

- (o) for requiring the provision and maintenance in mines, wherein more than <sup>1</sup>[• • •] fifty persons are ordinarily employed, of adequate and suitable shelters for taking food with provision for drinking water;
- (p) for requiring the provision and maintenance in any mine specified in this behalf by the Chief Inspector or Inspector, wherein more than two hundred and fifty persons are ordinarily employed, of a canteen or canteens for the use of such persons;
- (q) for requiring the employment in every mine wherein five hundred or more persons are ordinarily employed, of such number of welfare officers as may be specified and for prescribing the qualifications and the terms and conditions of, and the duties to be performed by, such welfare officers;
- (r) for requiring the establishment of central rescue stations for groups of specified mines<sup>2</sup> or for all mines in a specified area, and prescribing how and by whom such stations shall be established;
- (s) for providing for the management of central rescue stations, and regulating the constitution, powers and functions of, and the conduct of business by the authorities (which shall include representatives of the owners and managers of, and of the <sup>3</sup>[persons] employed in, the mines or groups of mines concerned) charged with such management;
- (t) for prescribing the position, equipment, control, maintenance and functions of central rescue stations;
- (u) for providing for the levy and collection of a duty of excise (at a rate not exceeding six pies per ton) on coke and coal produced in and despatched from mines specified under clause (r) in any group or included under clause (r) in any specified area, the utilisation of the proceeds thereof for the creation of a central rescue station fund for such group or area and the administration of such funds;
- (v) for providing for the formation, training, composition and duties of rescue brigades <sup>4</sup>[and for the terms and conditions of service of persons trained in rescue work employed in mines]; and generally for the conduct of rescue work in mines; and
- (w) generally to provide for any matter not provided for by this Act or the regulations, provision for which is required in order to give effect to this Act.

59. Prior publication of regulations and rules.

(1) The power to make regulations and rules conferred by sections 57 and 58 is subject to the condition of the regulations and rules being made after previous publication.

(2) The date to be specified in accordance with clause (3) of section 23 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, as that after which a draft of regulations or rules to be made will be taken under consideration, shall not be less than three months from the date on which the draft of the proposed regulations or rules is published for general information.

*[(3) * * * * *

(4) No <sup>b</sup>[regulation or rule] shall be made unless the draft thereof has been referred to every Mining Board constituted in that part of the territories to which this Act extends which is affected by the <sup>b</sup>[regulation or rule], and unless each such Board has had a reasonable opportunity of reporting as to the expediency of making the same and as to the suitability of its provisions.

(5) Regulations and rules shall be published in the Official Gazette and, on such publication, shall have effect as if enacted in this Act.

(6) The provisions of sub-sections (1), (2) and (4) shall not apply to the first occasion on which rules referred to in clause (d) or clause (e) of section 58 are made.

(7) The regulations and rules made under sections 57 and 58 shall be laid before Parliament, as soon as may be, after they are made.

[a] Sub-section (3) was omitted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 33 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960]. [b] Substituted for "rule", ibid.

60. Power to make regulations without previous publication.

Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-sections (1), (2) and <sup>a</sup>[(4)] of section 59, regulations under <sup>b</sup>[ * * * ] section 57 may be made without previous publication and without <sup>c</sup>[*] reference to Mining Boards, if the Central Government is satisfied that for the prevention of apprehended danger or the speedy remedy of conditions likely to cause danger it is necessary in making such regulations to dispense with the delay that would result from such publication and reference :

Provided that any regulations so made shall not remain in force for more than <sup>d</sup>[one year] from the making thereof.

[a] Substituted for "(3)", by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 34 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960]. [b] The words, brackets and letters "clause (i) and clauses (k) to (s) excluding clause (l) of" were omitted, ibid. [c] The word "previous" was omitted, ibid. [d] Substituted for "two years", ibid.

61. Bye-laws.

(1) The owner, agent or manager of a mine may, and shall, if called upon to do so by the Chief Inspector or Inspector, frame and submit to the Chief Inspector or Inspector a draft of such bye-laws, not being inconsistent with this Act or any regulations or rules for the time being in force, for the control and guidance of the persons acting in the management of, or employed in, the mine as such owner, agent or manager may deem necessary to prevent accidents and provide for the safety, convenience and discipline of the persons employed in the mine.

(2) If any such owner, agent or manager—

(a) fails to submit within two months a draft of bye-laws after being called upon to do so by the Chief Inspector or Inspector, or

(b) submits a draft of bye-laws which is not in the opinion of the Chief Inspector or Inspector sufficient, the Chief Inspector or Inspector may—

(i) propose a draft of such bye-laws as appear to him to be sufficient, or

(ii) propose such amendments in any draft submitted to him by the owner, agent or manager as will, in his opinion, render it sufficient, and shall send such draft bye-laws or draft amendments to the owner, agent or manager as the case may be, for consideration.

(3) If within a period of two months from the date on which any draft bye-laws or draft amendments are sent by the Chief Inspector or Inspector to the owner, agent or manager under the provisions of sub-section (2), the Chief Inspector or Inspector and the owner, agent or manager are unable to agree as to the terms of the bye-laws to be made under sub-section (1), the Chief Inspector or Inspector shall refer the draft bye-laws for settlement to the Mining Board or, where there is no Mining Board, to such officer or authority as the Central Government may, by general or special order, appoint in this behalf.

(4) (a) When such draft bye-laws have been agreed to by the owner, agent or manager and the Chief Inspector or Inspector, or, when they are unable to agree, have been settled by the Mining Board or such officer or authority as aforesaid, a copy of the draft bye-laws shall be sent by the Chief Inspector or Inspector to the Central Government for approval.

(b) The Central Government may make such modification of the draft bye-laws as it thinks fit.

(c) Before the Central Government approves the draft bye-laws, whether with or without modifications, there shall be published, in such manner as the Central Government may think best adapted for informing the persons affected, notice of the proposal to make the bye-laws and of the place where copies of the draft bye-laws may be obtained, and of the time (which shall not be less than thirty days) within which any objections with reference to the draft bye-laws, made by or on behalf of persons affected should be sent to the Central Government.

(d) Every objection shall be in writing and shall state -

(i) the specific grounds of objections, and

(ii) the omissions, additions or modifications asked for.

(e) The Central Government shall consider any objection made within the required time by or on behalf of persons appearing to it to be affected, and may approve the bye-laws either in the form in which they were published or after making such amendments thereto as it thinks fit.

(5) The bye-laws, when so approved by the Central Government shall have effect as if enacted in this Act, and the owner, agent or manager of the mine shall cause a copy of the bye-laws, in English and in such other language or languages as may be prescribed, to be posted up in some conspicuous place at or near the mine, where the bye-laws may be conveniently read or seen by the persons employed; and, as often as the same become defaced, obliterated or destroyed, shall cause them to be renewed with all reasonable despatch.

(6) The Central Government may, by order in writing rescind, in whole or in part, any bye-law so made, and thereupon such bye-law shall cease to have effect accordingly.

62. Posting up of abstracts from Act, regulations, etc.

There shall be kept posted up at or near every mine in English and in such other language or languages as may be prescribed, the prescribed abstracts of the Act and of the regulations and rules.

CHAPTER IX

[Note.—Sections 64, 65, 66, 67 and 69 have been amended and sections 72A to 74 have been substituted for sections 73 and 74. "These sections relate to the punishment that may be imposed for contravention of different provisions of the Act. In mines, violation of statutory provisions has a special significance as the safety of limbs and lives of the persons employed depends upon the proper observance of the provisions. Experience has shown that the penalty laid down for contravention at present is not of a sufficiently deterrent nature and it has, therefore, been increased."—S. O. R.]

PENALTIES AND PROCEDURE

63. Obstruction.

(1) Whoever obstructs the Chief Inspector, an Inspector, or any person authorised under section 8 in the discharge of his duties under this Act, or refuses or wilfully neglects to afford the Chief Inspector, Inspector or such person any reasonable facility for making any entry, inspection, examination or inquiry authorised by or under this Act in relation to any mine, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

(2) Whoever refuses to produce on the demand of the Chief Inspector or Inspector any registers or other documents kept in pursuance of this Act, or prevents or attempts to prevent or does anything which he has reason to believe to be likely to prevent any person from appearing before or being examined by an inspecting officer acting in pursuance of his duties under this Act, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three hundred rupees.

64. Falsification of records, etc.

Whoever—

- (a) counterfeits, or knowingly makes a false statement in, any certificate, or any official copy of a certificate, granted under this Act, or
- (b) knowingly uses as true any such counterfeit or false certificate, or
- (c) makes or produces or uses any false declaration, statement or evidence knowing the same to be false, for the purpose of obtaining for himself or for any other person a certificate, or the renewal of a certificate, under this Act, or any employment in a mine, or
- *[(d) falsifies any plan, section, register or record, the maintenance of which is required by or under this Act or produces before any authority such false plan, section, register or record, knowing the same to be false, or]
- (e) makes, gives or delivers any plan, return, notice, record or report containing a statement, entry or detail which is not to the best of his knowledge or belief true, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to <sup>b</sup>[one thousand rupees], or with both.

[a] Substituted for clause (d) by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 35 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960]. [b] Substituted for "five hundred rupees", ibid.

65. Use of false certificates of fitness.

Whoever knowingly uses or attempts to use as a certificate of fitness granted to himself under section 40 a certificate granted to another person under that section, or, having been granted a certificate of fitness to himself under that section, knowingly allows it to be used, or allows an attempt to use it to be made by another person, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, or with fine which may extend to <sup>a</sup>[two hundred] rupees, or with both.

[a] Substituted for "fifty" by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959) S. 36 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

66. Omission to furnish plans, etc.

Any person who, without reasonable excuse the burden of proving which shall lie upon him, omits to make or furnish in the prescribed form or manner or at or within the prescribed time any plan, <sup>a</sup>[section,] return, notice, register,

67. Contravention of provisions regarding employment of labour.

Whoever, save as permitted by section 38, contravenes any provision of this Act or of any regulation, rule or bye-law or of any order made thereunder prohibiting, restricting or regulating the employment or presence of persons in or about a mine shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to <sup>a</sup>[one thousand] rupees, or with both <sup>b</sup>[ * * * ].

[a] Substituted for "five hundred", by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 38 [16-1-1960]. [b] The words "and, if the contravention is continued after conviction, with a further fine which may extend to seventy-five rupees for each day on which the contravention is so continued" were omitted, ibid.

68. Penalty for double employment of young persons.

If a child or an adolescent is employed in a mine on any day on which he has already been employed in another mine, his parent or guardian or the person who has the custody of such child or adolescent or who obtains any direct benefit from his wages shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees, unless it appears to the Court that the child or adolescent was so employed without the consent or connivance of such parent, guardian or person.

69. Failure to appoint manager.

Whoever in contravention of the provisions of section 17, fails to appoint a manager shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to <sup>a</sup>[two thousand and five hundred] rupees, or with both <sup>b</sup>[ * * * ].

[a] Substituted for "five hundred" by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 39 [16-1-1960]. [b] The words "and, if the contravention is continued after conviction, with a further fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for each day on which the contravention is so continued" were omitted, ibid.

70. Notice of accidents.

(1) Whoever in contravention of the provision of sub-section (1) of section 23 fails to give notice of any accidental occurrence or to post a copy of the notice on the special notice board referred to in that sub-section and to keep it there for the period specified shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with both.

(2) Whoever in contravention of a direction made by the Central Government under sub-section (3) of section 23 fails to record in the prescribed register or to give notice of any accidental occurrence shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

71. Owner, etc., to report to Chief Inspector in certain cases.

Where the owner, agent or manager of a mine, as the case may be, has taken proceedings under this Act against any person employed in or about a mine in respect of an offence under this Act, he shall within twenty-one days from the date of the judgment or order of the Court report the result thereof to the Chief Inspector.

Section 69 — Note 1

[1] The sentence imposed by the Magistrate under this section will not be enhanced in revision unless the Mines Department had placed before the trying Magistrate proper materials and drawn his attention to the fact that on those materials a deterrent punishment need be awarded. 1959 Pat 222 (224) [AIR V 46 C 58] : 1959 Cri L Jour 642.

72. Obligation of persons employed in a mine.

No person employed in a mine shall—

- (a) wilfully interfere with or misuse any appliance, convenience or other thing provided in a mine for the purpose of securing the health, safety or welfare of the persons employed therein;
- (b) wilfully and without reasonable cause do anything likely to endanger himself or others;
- (c) wilfully neglect to make use of any appliance or other thing provided in the mine for the purpose of securing the health or safety of the persons employed therein.

*[72A. Special provision for contravention of certain regulations.

Whoever contravenes any provisions of any regulation or of any bye-law or of any order made thereunder, relating to matters specified in clauses (d), (i), (m), (n), (o), (p), (r), (s) and (u) of section 57 shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees, or with both.

[a] Sections 72-A, 72-B, 72C, 73 and 74 were substituted for the original sections 73 and 74, by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 40 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

72B. Special provision for contravention of orders under section 22.

Whoever continues to work a mine in contravention of any order issued under sub-section (1A), sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) of section 22 shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, and shall also be liable to fine which may extend to five thousand rupees.

72C. Special provision for contravention of law with dangerous results.

(1) Whoever contravenes any provision of this Act or of any regulation, rule or bye-law or of any order made thereunder (other than an order made under sub-section (1A) or sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) of section 22), shall be punishable—

- (a) if such contravention results in loss of life, with imprisonment which may extend to two years, or with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees, or with both; or
- (b) if such contravention results in serious bodily injury, with imprisonment which may extend to one year, or with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees or with both; or
- (c) if such contravention otherwise causes injury or danger to persons employed in the mine or other persons in or about the mine, with imprisonment which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

(2) Where a person having been convicted under this section is again convicted thereunder, he shall be punishable with double the punishment provided by sub-section (1).

(3) Any Court imposing or confirming in appeal, revision or otherwise a sentence of fine passed under this section may, when passing judgment, order the whole or any part of the fine recovered to be paid as compensation to the person injured or, in the case of his death, to his legal representative :

Section 72C — Note 1

[1] The burden of establishing that the licensees had infringed the several rules relating to the working of the mines and that the accident was entirely due to their negligence is on the prosecution and it cannot be relieved of this burden even though it had found it difficult to get direct and independent evidence. No conviction can be based on a mere suspicion however strong it may be. 1960 Mys 245 (247, 249) [A I R V 47 C 86] : 1960 Cri L Jour 1227 (DB). (Sole evidence of an expert who visited the premises immediately after the accident is not sufficient to base a conviction.)

Provided that if the fine is imposed in a case which is subject to appeal, no such payment shall be made before the period allowed for presenting the appeal has elapsed, or, if an appeal has been presented, before the decision of the appeal.

73. General provision for disobedience of orders.

Whoever contravenes any provision of this Act or of any regulation, rule or bye-law or of any order made thereunder for the contravention of which no penalty is hereinbefore provided, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

74. Enhanced penalty after previous conviction.

If any person who has been convicted for an offence punishable under any of the foregoing provisions (other than sections 72B and 72C) is again convicted for an offence committed within two years of the previous conviction and involving a contravention of the same provision, he shall be punishable for each subsequent conviction with double the punishment to which he would have been liable for the first contravention of such provision.]

75. Prosecution of owner, agent or manager.

No prosecution shall be instituted against any owner, agent or manager for any offence under this Act except at the instance of the Chief Inspector or of the district magistrate or of an Inspector authorised in this behalf by general or special order in writing by the Chief Inspector :

Provided that in respect of an offence committed in the course of the technical direction and management of a mine, the district magistrate shall not institute any prosecution against an owner, agent or manager without the previous approval of the Chief Inspector.

77. Exemption of owner, agent or manager from liability in certain cases.

Where the owner, agent or manager of a mine, accused of an offence under this Act, alleges that another person is the actual offender, he shall be entitled, upon complaint made by him in this behalf "[and on his furnishing the known address of the actual offender] and on giving to the prosecutor not less than three clear days notice in writing of his intention so to do, to have that other person brought before the Court on the date appointed for the hearing of the case; and if, after the commission of the offence has been proved, the owner, agent or manager of the mine, as the case may be, proves to the satisfaction of the Court—

- (a) that he has used due diligence to enforce the execution of the relevant provisions of this Act, and
- (b) that the other person committed the offence in question without his knowledge, consent or connivance, the said other person shall be convicted of the offence and shall be liable to the like punishment as if he were the owner, agent or manager of the mine, and the owner, agent or manager, as the case may be, shall be acquitted :

Provided that—

- (a) the owner, agent or manager of the mine, as the case may be, may be examined on oath and his evidence and that of any witness whom he calls in support shall be subject to cross-examination by or on behalf of the person he alleges as the actual offender and by the prosecutor;
- (b) if in spite of due diligence the person alleged as the actual offender cannot be brought before the Court on the date appointed for the hearing of the case, the Court shall adjourn the hearing thereof from time to time so however that the total period of such adjournments does not exceed three months, and if by the end of the said period the person alleged as the actual offender cannot be brought before the Court, the Court shall proceed to hear the case against the owner, agent or manager, as the case may be.

[a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 42 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

78. Power of Court to make orders.

(1) Where the owner, agent or manager of a mine is convicted of an offence punishable under this Act, the Court may, in addition to awarding him any punishment, by order in writing, require him within a period specified in the order (which may be extended by the Court from time to time on application made in this behalf) to take such measures as may be so specified for remedying the matters in respect of which the offence was committed.

(2) Where an order is made under sub-section (1), the owner, agent or manager of the mine, as the case may be, shall not be liable under this Act in respect of the continuance of the offence during the period or extended period, if any, but if on the expiry of such period or extended period the order of the Court has not been fully complied with, the owner, agent or manager, as the case may be, shall be deemed to have committed a further offence and shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for every day after such expiry on which the order has not been complied with, or with both.

79. Limitation of prosecutions.

No Court shall take cognizance of any offence under this Act, unless complaint thereof has been made—

- (i) within six months of the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed, or
- (ii) within six months of the date on which the alleged commission of the offence came to the knowledge of the Inspector, or
- (iii) in any case where a Court of inquiry has been appointed by the Central Government under section 24, within six months after the date of the publication of the report referred to in sub-section (4) of that section, whichever is later.

*[Explanation. — For the purposes of this section,—

- (a) in the case of a continuing offence, the period of limitation shall be computed with reference to every point of time during which the offence continues;
- (b) where for the performance of any act time has been extended under this Act, the period of limitation shall be computed from the expiry of the extended period.]

[a] Added by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 43 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Explanation. — “Under the existing provision no prosecution can lie under the Act even if the contravention continues, once the period of six months from the date of the alleged offence or the date on which the alleged offence came to the knowledge of the Inspector has expired. This is an unsatisfactory situation which requires to be remedied

Section 79 — Note 1

[1] Where an Inspector acquires the knowledge of an offence for the first time as a result of an enquiry under S. 23 (2), the limitation for making a complaint regarding the offence would commence from the date on which such knowledge is acquired irrespective of the date of conclusion of the enquiry. In case however, an enquiry is made by an Inspector not empowered to make a complaint, the limitation would commence from the date on which the report of the enquiry is submitted to the Inspector authorised to make a complaint. 1958 Bom 243 (244) [A I R V 45 C 70] : I L R (1959) Bom 358 : 1958 Cri L Jour 756.

[2] The period of limitation prescribed under cl. (ii) of S. 79 does not begin to run from the date of the notice given under S. 23 (2) of an accident. Not does it begin to run from the date of expiry of the two months mentioned in that section. The reason is that on such a notice there is only knowledge of an accident and not the knowledge of an offence which furnishes the starting point of limitation under cl. (ii) of this section. 1958 Bom 243 (244) [A I R V 45 C 70] : I L R (1959) Bom 358 : 1958 Cri L Jour 756. (Delay in making an enquiry under S. 23 (2) cannot affect the question of limitation under this section.)

The proposed amendment seeks to provide that, in the case of a continuing offence, a fresh period of limitation would begin to run from every moment of the time during which the offence continues and where time has been extended for the performance of any act, the period of limitation shall be computed from the expiry of the extended period."

—S. O. R.

80. Cognizance of offences.

No Court inferior to that of a Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class shall try any offence under this Act which is alleged to have been committed by any owner, agent or manager of a mine or any offence which is by this Act made punishable with imprisonment.

*[80A. Special provision regarding fine.

Notwithstanding anything contained in section 32 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, it shall be lawful for a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class to pass a sentence of fine exceeding two thousand rupees authorised by this Act on any person convicted of an offence thereunder.]

81. Reference to Mining Board or Committee in lieu of prosecution in certain cases.

(1) If the Court trying any case instituted at the instance of the Chief Inspector or of the district Magistrate or of an Inspector under this Act is of opinion that the case is one which should, in lieu of a prosecution, be referred to a Mining Board or a Committee it may stay the criminal proceedings, and report the matter to the Central Government with a view to such reference being made.

(2) On receipt of a report under sub-section (1), the Central Government may refer the case to a Mining Board or a Committee, or may direct the Court to proceed with the trial.

CHAPTER X MISCELLANEOUS

82. Decision of question whether a mine is under this Act.

If any question arises as to whether any excavation or working <sup>a</sup>[or premises in or adjacent to and belonging to a mine, on which any process ancillary to the getting, dressing or preparation for sale of minerals or of coke is being carried on] is a mine within the meaning of this Act, the Central Government may decide the question, and a certificate signed by a Secretary to the Central Government shall be conclusive on the point.

[a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 45 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

83. Power to exempt from operation of Act.

<sup>a</sup>[(1)] The Central Government may, by notification<sup>b</sup> in the Official Gazette, exempt either absolutely or subject to any specified conditions any local area or any mine or group or class of mines or any part of a mine or any class of persons from the operation of all or any of the provisions of this Act :

Provided that no local area or mine or group or class of mines shall be exempted from the provisions of section 45 unless it is also exempted from the operation of all the other provisions of this Act.

<sup>c</sup>[(2) The Central Government may, by general or special order and subject to such restrictions as it may think fit to impose, authorise<sup>d</sup> the Chief Inspector or any other authority to exempt, subject to any specified conditions, any mine or part thereof from the operation of any of the provisions of the regulations or rules under this Act if the Chief Inspector or such authority is of opinion that the conditions in any mine or part thereof are such as to render compliance with such provision unnecessary or impracticable.]

[a] Section 83 was re-numbered as sub-section (1) thereof, by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 46 [w.e.f.16-1-1960]. [b] See Notifn No. S.R.O. 1395, D/- 9-8-1952, in Gaz. of Ind., 1952, Pt. II-Sec. 3, p. 1231. [c] Inserted by Act LXII of 1959,

84. Power to alter or rescind orders.

The Central Government may reverse or modify any order passed under this Act.

85. Application of Act to mines belonging to Government.

This Act shall [also] apply to mines belonging to the Government.

[a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 47 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

*[85A. Persons required to give notice, etc., legally bound to do so.

Every person required to give any notice or to furnish any information to any authority under this Act shall be legally bound to do so within the meaning of section 176 of the Indian Penal Code.]

[a] Inserted by the Mines (Amendment) Act, 1959 (LXII of 1959), S. 48 [w. e. f. 16-1-1960].

86. Application of certain provisions of Act 63 of 1948 to mines.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that the provisions of Chapters III and IV of the Factories Act, 1948 shall, subject to such exceptions and restrictions as may be specified in the notification, apply to all mines and the precincts thereof.

87. Protection of action taken in good faith.

No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding whatever shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

88. Repeal of Act IV of 1923. [Repealed by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1957 (XXXVI of 1957), section 2 and Sch. 1.]

THE FIRST SCHEDULE*THE SECOND SCHEDULE*THE THIRD SCHEDULE*STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The differentiation made between petroleum and other minerals in Entries 53 and 54 of the Union List has rendered separate enactments for the two necessary. The present Bill deals only with minerals other than petroleum. At present both are dealt with under the Mines and Minerals (Regulation and Development) Act, 1948 (LIII of 1948).

Opportunity has been taken of putting forward this legislation to make some necessary changes in the provisions of the existing Act dictated by experience. These changes refer to—

- (i) the prescription of a maximum limit of 50 square miles for a prospecting licence [Clause 6 (1) (now S. 6)];
- (ii) the grant of a second renewal to the holder of a mining lease for iron ore and bauxite under certain circumstances [Clause 8 (2) (now S. 8 (2))];
- (iii) the authorisation of the Central Government to undertake prospecting and mining operations in any land after prior consultation with the State Government [Clause 16 (now S. 17)];
- (iv) the promulgation of rules for the bene-ficiation of low grade ores [Clause 17 (2) (c) (now S. 18 (2) (c))];

- (v) the recovery of royalty, dead rent and other sums due to Government in the same manner as arrears of land revenue [Clause 24 (now S. 25)]; and

- (vi) the delegation of certain powers to State Governments and by State Governments to their subordinate authorities [Clause 25 (now S. 28)].

A number of provisions hitherto dealt with under the rule making powers of the Central Government have been transferred to the Act in order to restrict the scope of subsidiary legislation. These provisions are :

- (i) no concession shall be granted to a person not in possession of a certificate of approval [Clause 5 (1) (now S. 5)];
- (ii) the maximum period for which a prospecting licence or a mining lease may be granted [Clauses 7 and 8 (now Ss. 7 and 8)];
- (iii) the power to prescribe rates of royalty for various minerals [Clause 9 (now S. 9) and Schedule II];

(iv) applications for prospecting licences and mining leases to be made in prescribed forms [Clause 10 (1) (now S. 10)];

(v) the priorities to be observed in the grant of prospecting licences and mining leases [Clause 11 (2) (now S. 11 (2)); and

(vi) the power to make rules for regulating the grant of mineral concessions [Clause 13 (now S. 13)]."

ACT HOW AFFECTED BY SUBSEQUENT LEGISLATION

—Amended by Act XV of 1958.

—Amended by G.S.R. 191 dated 15-2-1960.

[THE] MINES AND MINERALS (REGULATION AND DEVELOPMENT) ACT, 1957

(ACT LXVII OF 1957)*

[28th December, 1957.]

An Act to provide for the regulation of mines and the development of minerals under the control of the Union.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Eighth Year of the Republic of India as follows :

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1957, Extra., Pt. II, Sec. 2, p. 392; and for Report of the Joint Committee, see ibid., p. 997.

Preliminary.

1. Short title, extent and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE MINES AND MINERALS (REGULATION AND DEVELOPMENT) ACT, 1957.

(2) It extends to the whole of India.

(3) It shall come into force on such date* as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

[a] The Act came into force on 1-6-1958, see Notfn. No. G. S. R. 432, D/- 29-5-1958 published in Gaz. of Ind. 1958, Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 3 (i), p. 225.

2. Declaration as to expediency of Union control.

It is hereby declared that it is expedient in the public interest that the Union should take under its control the regulation of mines and the development of minerals to the extent hereinafter provided.

3. Definitions.

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) "minerals" includes all minerals except mineral oils;

(b) "mineral oils" includes natural gas and petroleum;

(c) "mining lease" means a lease granted for the purpose of undertaking mining operations, and includes a sub-lease granted for such purpose;

(d) "mining operations" means any operations undertaken for the purpose of winning any mineral;

(e) "minor minerals" means building stones, gravel, ordinary clay, ordinary sand other than sand used for prescribed purposes, and any other mineral which the Central Government may, by notification* in the Official Gazette, declare to be a minor mineral;

[a] For such notification, see G. S. R. 436 dated 1-6-1958 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1958, Extra., Pt. II-Sec. 3 (i), page 229/1.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Committee feel that sand used for industrial purposes particularly in the manufacture of glass should not be treated as a minor mineral. It is not possible to define this kind of sand in technical and scientific terms. The Committee therefore consider that rules may describe such sand with reference to the purpose for which it may be used."—J. C. R.

(f) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(g) "prospecting licence" means a licence granted for the purpose of undertaking prospecting operations;

- (h) "prospecting operations" means any operations undertaken for the purpose of exploring, locating or proving mineral deposits; and
 (i) the expressions, "mine" and "owner", have the meanings assigned to them in the Mines Act, 1952.

General restrictions on undertaking prospecting and mining operations.

4. Prospecting or mining operations to be under licence or lease.

(1) No person shall undertake any prospecting or mining operations in any area, except under and in accordance with the terms and conditions of a prospecting licence or, as the case may be, a mining lease, granted under this Act and the rules made thereunder :

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall affect any prospecting or mining operations undertaken in any area in accordance with the terms and conditions of a prospecting licence or mining lease granted before the commencement of this Act which is in force at such commencement.

(2) No prospecting licence or mining lease shall be granted otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder.

5. Restrictions on the grant of prospecting licences or mining leases.

(1) No prospecting licence or mining lease shall be granted by a State Government to any person unless he—

- (a) holds a certificate of approval in the prescribed form from the State Government;
- (b) produces from the Income-tax Officer concerned an income-tax clearance certificate in the prescribed form; and
- (c) satisfies such other conditions as may be prescribed.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this sub-section, a person shall be deemed to hold a certificate of approval notwithstanding that at the relevant time his certificate of approval has expired if an application for its renewal is pending at that time.

(2) Except with the previous approval of the Central Government, no prospecting licence or mining lease shall be granted—

- (a) as respects any mineral specified in the First Schedule, or
- (b) to any person who is not an Indian national.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this sub-section, a person shall be deemed to be an Indian national—

- (a) in the case of a public company as defined in the Companies Act, 1956, only if a majority of the directors of the company are citizens of India and not less than fifty-one per cent. of the share capital thereof is held by persons who are either citizens of India or companies as defined in the said Act;
- (b) in the case of a private company as defined in the said Act, only if all the members of the company are citizens of India;
- (c) in the case of a firm or other association of individuals, only if all the partners of the firm or members of the association are citizens of India; and
- (d) in the case of an individual, only if he is a citizen of India.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Committee feel that in addition to other conditions provided in the original clause 5, a person should also possess an income-tax clearance certificate before he can obtain a prospecting licence or mining lease. Sub-section (1) has been redrafted accordingly."

—J. C. R.

6. Maximum area for which a prospecting licence or mining lease may be granted.

(1) No person shall acquire in any one State in respect of any mineral or prescribed group of associated minerals—

- (a) one or more prospecting licences covering a total area of more than fifty square miles; or
- (b) one or more mining leases covering a total area of more than ten square miles :

Provided that if the Central Government is of opinion that in the interests of mineral development it is necessary so to do, it may, for reasons to be recorded, permit any person to acquire one or more prospecting licences or mining leases covering an area in excess of the aforesaid maximum.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a person acquiring by, or in the name of, another person a prospecting licence or mining lease which is intended for himself shall be deemed to be acquiring it himself.

7. Periods for which prospecting licences may be granted or renewed.

(1) The period for which a prospecting licence may be granted shall not—

- (a) in the case of mica, exceed one year; and
- (b) in the case of any other mineral, exceed two years.

(2) A prospecting licence may be renewed for one or more periods each not exceeding the period for which the prospecting licence was originally granted if the State Government is satisfied that a longer period is required to enable the licensee to complete prospecting operations :

Provided that no prospecting licence granted in respect of a mineral specified in the First Schedule shall be renewed except with the previous approval of the Central Government.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Committee feel that provision should be made for the renewal of prospecting licences at the discretion of the State Government if circumstances so require, but such power should be exercised only with the previous approval of the Central Government in the case of minerals specified in the First Schedule. Clause 7 has been recast accordingly."

—J. C. R.

8. Periods for which mining leases may be granted or renewed.

(1) The period for which a mining lease may be granted shall not—

- (a) in the case of coal, iron ore or bauxite, exceed thirty years; and
- (b) in the case of any other mineral, exceed twenty years.

(2) A mining lease may be renewed—

- (a) in the case of coal, iron ore or bauxite, for one period not exceeding thirty years; and
- (b) in the case of any other mineral, for one period not exceeding twenty years :

Provided that no mining lease granted in respect of a mineral specified in the First Schedule shall be renewed except with the previous approval of the Central Government.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2), if the Central Government is of opinion that in the interests of mineral development it is necessary so to do, it may, for reasons to be recorded, authorise the renewal of a mining lease for a further period or periods not exceeding in each case the period for which the mining lease was originally granted.

9. Royalties in respect of mining leases.

(1) The holder of a mining lease granted before the commencement of this Act shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the instrument of lease or in any law in force at such commencement, pay royalty in respect of any mineral removed by him from the leased area after such commencement, at the rate for the time being specified in the Second Schedule in respect of that mineral.

(2) The holder of a mining lease granted on or after the commencement of this Act shall pay royalty in respect of any mineral removed by him from the leased area at the rate for the time being specified in the Second Schedule in respect of that mineral.

(3) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, amend the Second Schedule so as to enhance or reduce the rate at which royalty shall be payable in respect of any mineral with effect from such date as may be specified in the notification :

Provided that the Central Government shall not—

- (a) fix the rate of royalty in respect of any mineral so as to exceed twenty per cent. of the sale price of the mineral at the pit's head, or
- (b) enhance the rate of royalty in respect of any mineral more than once during any period of four years.

Procedure for obtaining prospecting licences or mining leases in respect of land in which the minerals vest in the Government.

10. Application for prospecting licences or mining leases.

(1) An application for a prospecting licence or a mining lease in respect of any land in which the minerals vest in the Government shall be made to the State Government concerned in the prescribed form and shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(2) Where an application is received under sub-section (1), there shall be sent to the applicant an acknowledgment of its receipt within the prescribed time and in the prescribed form.

(3) On receipt of an application under this section, the State Government may, having regard to the provisions of this Act and any rules made thereunder, grant or refuse to grant the licence or lease.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Committee feel that since the date of receipt of application decides the order of priority, an acknowledgment of the receipt of the application should be sent at once to the applicant. However as it is not possible to provide for various types of cases of applications (e. g. application sent by post) in the statute itself the matter is left to be regulated by rules. Sub-cl. (2) has been amended accordingly.

"The Committee recommend that provision should be made in the rules for immediate acknowledgment of applications on their receipt and where application is given in person, acknowledgment may be given forthwith to the person presenting it."—J.C.R.

11. Preferential right of certain persons.

(1) Where a prospecting licence has been granted in respect of any land, the licensee shall have a preferential right for obtaining a mining lease in respect of that land over any other person :

Provided that the State Government is satisfied that the licensee has not committed any breach of the terms and conditions of the prospecting licence and is otherwise a fit person for being granted the mining lease.

(2) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (1), where two or more persons have applied for a prospecting licence or a mining lease in respect of the same land, the applicant whose application was received earlier shall have a preferential right for the grant of the licence or lease, as the case may be, over an applicant whose application was received later :

Provided that where any such applications are received on the same day, the State Government, after taking into consideration the matters specified in sub-section (3), may grant the prospecting licence or mining lease, as the case may be, to such one of the applicants as it may deem fit.

(3) The matters referred to in sub-section (2) are the following :—

- (a) any special knowledge of, or experience in, prospecting operations or mining operations, as the case may be, possessed by the applicant ;
- (b) the financial resources of the applicant ;
- (c) the nature and quality of the technical staff employed or to be employed by the applicant ;
- (d) such other matters as may be prescribed.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2) but subject to the provisions of sub-section (1), the State Government may for any special reasons to be recorded and with the previous approval of the Central Government, grant a prospecting licence or a mining lease to an applicant whose application was received later in preference to an applicant whose application was received earlier.

12. Registers of prospecting licences and mining leases.

(1) The State Government shall cause to be maintained in the prescribed form—

- (a) a register of applications for prospecting licences ;
- (b) a register of prospecting licensees ;
- (c) a register of applications for mining leases ; and
- (d) a register of mining lessees ;

in each of which shall be entered such particulars as may be prescribed.

(2) Every such register shall be open to inspection by any person on payment of such fee as the State Government may fix.

Rules for regulating the grant of prospecting licences and mining leases

13. Power of Central Government to make rules in respect of minerals.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for regulating the grant of prospecting licences and mining leases in respect of minerals and for purposes connected therewith.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) the person by whom, and the manner in which, applications for prospecting licences or mining leases in respect of land in which the minerals vest in the Government may be made and the fees to be paid therefor;
- (b) the time within which, and the form in which, acknowledgment of the receipt of any such application may be sent;
- (c) the matters which may be considered where applications in respect of the same land are received on the same day;
- (d) the persons to whom certificates of approval may be granted, the form of such certificates and the fees payable for the grant, or renewal thereof;
- (e) the authority by which prospecting licences or mining leases in respect of land in which the minerals vest in the Government may be granted;
- (f) the procedure for obtaining a prospecting licence or a mining lease in respect of any land in which the minerals vest in a person other than the Government and the terms on which, and the conditions subject to which, such a licence or lease may be granted or renewed;
- (g) the terms on which, and the conditions subject to which, any other prospecting licence or mining lease may be granted or renewed;
- (h) the facilities to be afforded by holders of mining leases to persons deputed by the Government for the purpose of undertaking research or training in matters relating to mining operations;

- (i) the fixing and collection of dead rent, fines, fees or other charges and the collection of royalties in respect of—
  - (i) prospecting licences,
  - (ii) mining leases,
  - (iii) minerals mined, quarried, excavated or collected;
- (j) the manner in which rights of third parties may be protected (whether by payment of compensation or otherwise) in cases where any such party may be prejudicially affected by reason of any prospecting or mining operations;
- (k) the grouping of associated minerals for the purposes of section 6;
- (l) the manner in which, and the conditions subject to which, a prospecting licence or a mining lease may be transferred;
- (m) the construction, maintenance and use of roads, power transmission lines, tramways, railways, aerial ropeways, pipelines and the making of passages for water for mining purposes on any land comprised in a mining lease;
- (n) the form of registers to be maintained under this Act;
- (o) the disposal or discharge of any tailings, slime or other waste products arising from any mining or metallurgical operations carried out in a mine;
- (p) the reports and statements to be submitted by holders of prospecting licences or owners of mines and the authority to which such reports and statements shall be submitted;
- (q) the period within which applications for revision of any order passed by a State Government or other authority in exercise of any power conferred by or under this Act, may be made and the manner in which such applications shall be disposed of; and
- (r) any other matter which is to be, or may be, prescribed under this Act.

14. Sections 4 to 13 not to apply to minor minerals.

The provisions of Ss. 4 to 13 (inclusive) shall not apply to prospecting licences and mining leases in respect of minor minerals.

15. Power of State Governments to make rules in respect of minor minerals.

(1) The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for regulating the grant of prospecting licences and mining leases in respect of minor minerals and for purposes connected therewith.

(2) Until rules are made under sub-section (1), any rules made by a State Government regulating the grant of prospecting licences and mining leases in respect of minor minerals which are in force immediately before the commencement of this Act shall continue in force.

16. Power to modify mining leases granted before 25th October, 1949.

(1) All mining leases granted before the 25th day of October, 1949, shall, as soon as may be after the commencement of this Act, be brought into conformity with the provisions of this Act and the rules made under sections 13 and 18:

Provided that if the Central Government is of opinion that in the interests of mineral development it is expedient so to do, it may, for reasons to be recorded, permit any person to hold one or more such mining leases covering in any one State a total area in excess of that specified in clause (b) of section 6 or for a period exceeding that specified in sub-section (1) of section 8.

(2) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules<sup>a</sup> for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of sub-section (1) and in particular such rules shall provide—

- (a) for giving previous notice of the modification or alteration proposed to be made in any existing mining lease to the lessee and where the lessor is not the Central Government, also to the lessor and for affording him an opportunity of showing cause against the proposal;
- (b) for the payment of compensation to the lessee in respect of the reduction of any area covered by the existing mining lease; and
- (c) for the principles on which, the manner in which, and the authority by which, the said compensation shall be determined.

[a] For the Mining Leases (Modification of Terms) Rules, 1958, see S. R. O. 2062 dated 4-9-1958 published in Gaz. of Ind., 1958, Pt. II-sec. 3, page 1548, as amended by notification G. S. R. 437 dated 1-6-1958 issued under section 16 (2) of the present Act and published in Gaz. of Ind., 1958, Extra., Pt. II-sec. 3 (i), page 229/1.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Committee have given careful thought to this clause and feel that a mandatory provision should be made to the effect that all mining leases granted prior to the 25th day of October, 1949, shall be brought into conformity with the provisions of this Act and the rules framed thereunder.

"The Committee, however, feel that the Central Government should have power in exceptional cases in the public interest to permit the holder of a mining lease to hold the lease for an area in excess of that specified in clause 6 (1) (b) or for a period exceeding that specified in clause 8 (1).

"The clause has been revised accordingly."
—J. C. R.

Special powers of Central Government to undertake prospecting or mining operations in certain cases

17. Special powers of Central Government to undertake prospecting or mining operations in certain lands.

(1) The provisions of this section shall apply only in respect of land in which the minerals vest in the Government of a State.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the Central Government, after consultation with the State Government, may undertake prospecting or mining operations in any area not already held under any prospecting licence or mining lease, and where it proposes to do so, it shall, by notification in the Official Gazette,—

- (a) specify the boundaries of such area;
- (b) state whether prospecting or mining operations will be carried out in the area; and
- (c) specify the mineral or minerals in respect of which such operations will be carried out.

(3) Where, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-s. (2), the Central Government undertakes prospecting or mining operations in any area, the Central Government shall be liable to pay prospecting fee, royalty, surface rent or dead rent, as the case may be, at the same rate at which it would have been payable under this Act, if such prospecting or mining operations had been undertaken by a private person under a prospecting licence or mining lease.

(4) The Central Government, with a view to enabling it to exercise the powers conferred on it by sub-section (2) may, after consultation with the State Government, by notification in the official Gazette, declare that no prospecting licence, or mining lease shall be granted in respect of any land specified in the notification.

Development of minerals

18. Mineral development.

(1) It shall be the duty of the Central Government to take all such steps as may be necessary for the conservation and development of minerals in India, and for that purpose the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, make such rules<sup>a</sup> as it thinks fit.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) the opening of new mines and the regulation of mining operations in any area;
  - (b) the regulation of the excavation or collection of minerals from any mine;
  - (c) the measures to be taken by owners of mines for the purpose of beneficiation of ores, including the provision of suitable contrivances for such purpose;
  - (d) the development of mineral resources in any area;
  - (e) the notification of all new borings and shaft sinkings and the preservation of bore-hole records, and specimens of cores of all new bore-holes;
  - (f) the regulation of the arrangements for the storage of minerals and the stocks thereof that may be kept by any person;
  - (g) the submission of samples of minerals from any mine by the owner thereof and the manner in which and the authority to which such samples shall be submitted; and the taking of samples of any minerals from any mine by the State Government or any other authority specified by it in that behalf; and
  - (h) the submission by owners of mines of such special or periodical returns and reports as may be specified, and the form in which and the authority to which such returns and reports shall be submitted.
- (3) All rules made under this section shall be binding on the Government.

Miscellaneous

19. Prospecting licences and mining leases to be void if in contravention of Act.

Any prospecting licence or mining lease granted, renewed or acquired in contravention of the provisions of this Act or any rules or orders made thereunder shall be void and of no effect.

Explanation.—Where a person has acquired more than one prospecting licence or mining lease in any State and the aggregate area covered by such licences or leases, as the case may be, exceeds the maximum area permissible under section 6, only that prospecting licence or mining lease the acquisition of which has resulted in such maximum area being exceeded shall be deemed to be void.

20. Act and rules to apply to all renewals of prospecting licences and mining leases.

The provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder shall apply in relation to the renewal after the commencement of this Act of any prospecting licence or mining lease granted before such commencement as they apply in relation to the renewal of a prospecting licence or mining lease granted after such commencement.

21. Penalties.

(1) Whoever contravenes the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 4 shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

(2) Any rule made under any provision of this Act may provide that any contravention thereof shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both, and in the case of a continuing contravention, with an additional fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for every day during which such contravention continues after conviction for the first such contravention.

22. Cognizance of offences.

No Court shall take cognizance of any offence punishable under this Act or any rules made thereunder except upon complaint in writing made by a person authorised in this behalf by the Central Government or the State Government.

23. Offences by companies.

(1) If the person committing an offence under this Act or any rules made thereunder is a company, every person who at the time the offence was committed was in charge of, and was responsible to the company for the conduct of the business of the company, shall be deemed to be guilty of the offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly :

Provided that nothing contained in this sub-section shall render any such person liable to any punishment, if he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent the commission of such offence.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where an offence under this Act has been committed with the consent or connivance of any director, manager, secretary or other officer of the company, such director, manager, secretary or other officer shall be deemed to be guilty of that offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly.

Explanation. — For the purposes of this section,—

- (a) "company" means any body corporate and includes a firm or other association of individuals;
- (b) "director" in relation to a firm means a partner in the firm.

24. Power of entry and inspection.

(1) For the purpose of ascertaining the position of the working, actual or prospective, of any mine or abandoned mine or for any other purpose connected with this Act or the rules made thereunder, any person authorised by the Central Government in this behalf, by general or special order, may—

- (a) enter and inspect any mine;
- (b) survey and take measurements in any such mine;
- (c) weigh, measure or take measurements of the stocks of minerals lying at any mine;
- (d) examine any document, book, register or record in the possession or power of any person having the control of, or connected with, any mine and place marks of identification thereon, and take extracts from or make copies of such document, book, register or record;
- (e) order the production of any such document, book, register, record, as is referred to in clause (d); and
- (f) examine any person having the control of, or connected with, any mine.

(2) Every person authorised by the Central Government under sub-section (1) shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code, and every person to whom an order or summons is issued by virtue of the powers conferred by clause (e) or clause (f) of that sub-section shall be legally bound to comply with such order or summons, as the case may be.

25. Recovery of certain sums as arrears of land revenue.

Any rent, royalty, tax, fee or other sum due to the Government under this Act or the rules made thereunder or under the terms and conditions of any prospecting licence or mining lease may, on a certificate of such officer as may be specified by the State Government in this behalf by general or special order, be recovered in the same manner as an arrear of land revenue.

26. Delegation of powers.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that any power exercisable by it under this Act may, in relation to such matters and subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the notification be exercisable also by—

- (a) such officer or authority subordinate to the Central Government; or
- (b) such State Government or such officer or authority subordinate to a State Government; as may be specified in the notification.

(2) The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that any power exercisable by it under this Act may, in relation to such matters and subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the notification, be exercisable also by such officer or authority subordinate to the State Government as may be specified in the notification.

(3) Any rules made by the Central Government under this Act may confer powers and impose duties or authorise the conferring of powers and imposition of duties upon any State Government or any officer or authority subordinate thereto.

27. Protection of action taken in good faith.

No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

28. Rules and notifications to be laid before Parliament and certain rules to be approved by Parliament.

(1) All rules made and notifications issued by the Central Government under this Act shall be laid for not less than thirty days before each House of Parliament as soon as may be after they are made or issued and shall be subject to such modifications as Parliament may make during the session in which they are so laid or the session immediately following.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the rule-making power vested in the Central Government, no rules made with reference to clause (c) of subsection (2) of section 16 shall come into force until they have been approved, whether with or without modifications, by each House of Parliament.

29. Existing rules to continue.

All rules made or purporting to have been made under the Mines and Minerals (Regulation and Development) Act, 1948,<sup>a</sup> shall, in so far as they relate to matters for which provision is made in this Act and are not inconsistent therewith, be deemed to have been made under this Act as if this Act had been in force on the date on which such rules were made and shall continue in force unless and until they are superseded by any rules made under this Act.

[a] Now see the Oilfields (Regulation and Development) Act, 1948.

30. Power of revision of Central Government.

The Central Government may, of its own motion or on application made within the prescribed time by an aggrieved party, revise any order made by a State Government or other authority in exercise of the powers conferred on it by or under this Act.

Section 29 — Note 1

[1] The validity of R. 62 made under the old Act and the order of the State Government dated the 3rd January, 1951, under the old Act refusing to grant a certificate of approval to a Corporation cannot be challenged in view of the provision of S. 29 and S. 33 of the new Act which replaced the old Act. (1959) 35 Pat 1160 (1207).

Section 30 — Note 1

[1] The Central Government in reviewing an order of the State Government under R. 59 acts merely as an administrative authority and it is not bound to adopt any procedure analogous to judicial proceedings. Hence its decision does not become void and invalid because it did not give the parties any opportunity to put their case before it when making its order. 1959 Punj 54 (57, 58) [AIR V.]

*[30A. Special provisions relating to mining leases for coal granted before 25th October, 1949.]

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 9 and of sub-section (1) of section 16 shall not apply to or in relation to mining leases granted before the 25th day of October, 1949, in respect of coal, but the Central Government, if it is satisfied that it is expedient so to do, may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that all or any of the said provisions (including any rules made under sections 13 and 18) shall apply to or in relation to such leases subject to such exceptions and modifications, if any, as may be specified in that or in any subsequent notification.]

[a] Inserted and deemed always to have been inserted, by the Mines and Minerals (Regulation and Development) Amendment Act, 1958 (XV of 1958), S. 2.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Mines and Minerals (Regulation and Development) Act, 1957, which replaces the Act of 1948, specifically extends the rate of royalty prescribed in the Second Schedule to mining leases granted before the 25th October, 1949, in respect of coal also and makes it obligatory for the other terms and conditions of such leases to be brought into conformity with the provisions of the Act and the rules made under sections 13 and 18. It is considered that these changes will have numerous undesirable consequences. The areas covered by these mining leases are principally in West Bengal and Bihar and they account for as much as 80 per cent. of the total coal production in the country. The royalties paid on this coal vary over a wide range but are generally much below the rate per ton prescribed in the Second Schedule. A sudden and uniform increase of these royalties is likely to have an unsettling effect on the industry and may retard the programme of coal production under the Second Five Year Plan. The same adverse effect would be felt by a sudden modification of the other terms and conditions." This section accordingly exempts "mining leases for coal granted before the 25th October, 1949, from the operation of sub-section (1) of section 9 and sub-section (1) of section 16 of the Act, with powers to Government to extend these provisions to such leases at a future date, subject to such exceptions and modifications as may be considered necessary."

—S. O. R. Gaz. of Ind., 1958, Extra., Pt. II-sec. 2, page 507.

31. Relaxation of rules in special cases.

The Central Government may, if it is of opinion that in the interests of mineral development it is necessary so to do, by order in writing and for reasons to be recorded, authorise in any case the grant, renewal or transfer of any prospecting licence or mining lease, or the working of any mine for the purpose of searching for or winning any mineral, on terms and conditions different from those laid down in the rules made under section 13.

32. Amendments to Act LIII of 1948.

The Mines and Minerals (Regulation and Development) Act, 1948, shall be amended in the manner specified in the Third Schedule.

33. Validation of certain acts and indemnity.

All acts of executive authority done, proceedings taken and sentences passed under the Mines and Minerals (Regulation and Development) Act, 1948, with respect to the regulation of mines and the development of minerals during the period commencing on the 26th day of January, 1950, and ending with the date of commencement<sup>a</sup> of this Act by the Government or by any officer of the Government or by any other authority, in the belief or purported belief that the acts, proceedings or sentences were being done, taken or passed under the said

C 16]. (The procedure laid down by Rr. 57 to 59 excludes the right of a petitioner for review to be heard in person as it implies that the State Government is not to be so heard.)

Section 33 — Note 1

[1] Section 33 does not refer to executive acts but to "acts of executive authority". The acts of executive authority need not be executive in character because in the context of modern administration an act of executive authority may be quasi-judicial or quasi-legislative and delegation of judicial or legislative powers to the executive administration is permissible within certain limits in the field of administrative law. Section 33 validates not purely executive acts but also quasi-judicial acts. ('59) 38 Pat 1160 (1207).

Act, shall be as valid and operative as if they had been done, taken or passed in accordance with law, and no suit or other legal proceeding shall be maintained or continued against any person whatsoever, on the ground that any such acts, proceedings or sentences were not done, taken or passed in accordance with law.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Many Provinces have legislation providing for the payment of maternity benefits by employers to women workers employed in factories. This Bill provides, on the lines of the existing Provincial legislation covering factories, for prohibition from employment in mines of a woman worker during the four weeks following the day on which she is delivered of a child, and for the payment to her of maternity benefit at annas eight per day up to four weeks of absence before delivery and four weeks after delivery."

[THE] MINES MATERNITY BENEFIT ACT, 1941
(ACT XIX OF 1941)<sup>a</sup>

[26th November, 1941.]

An Act to regulate the employment of women in mines for a certain period before and after childbirth and to provide for payment of maternity benefit to them.

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate the employment of women in mines for a certain period before and after childbirth and to provide for payment of maternity benefit to them;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gaz. of Ind., 1941, Pt. V, p. 139.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

1. Short title, extent and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE MINES MATERNITY BENEFIT ACT, 1941.

(2) It extends to the whole of India <sup>a</sup>[except the State of Jammu and Kashmir].

(3) It shall come into force on such <sup>b</sup>date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

[a] Substituted for "except Part B States", by the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951]. [b] The Act came into force on 28-12-1942, see Gaz. of Ind., 1943 Pt. I, . 32.

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "child" includes a still-born child;

(b) "Chief Inspector", "Inspector", "employed", "mine" and "owner" have the meanings assigned, respectively, to these expressions in section 3 of the Indian Mines Act, 1923<sup>a</sup>;

(c) "manager" means the manager of the mine appointed in accordance with the provisions of the Indian Mines Act,<sup>a</sup> 1923;

(d) "maternity benefit" means the payment referred to in section 5;

(e) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act.

[a] See now section 2 of the Mines Act, 1952 (XXXV of 1952).

3. Prohibition of employment of, and work by, women during certain period.

<sup>a</sup>[(1)] No owner or manager of a mine shall knowingly employ a woman and no woman shall engage in employment in any mine during the four weeks following the day on which she is delivered of a child.

(a) if he has reason to believe or if she has informed him that she is likely to be delivered of a child within ten weeks ;

(b) if she has to the knowledge of the management been delivered of a child within the preceding twenty-six weeks ;

(c) during the period of ten weeks following the twenty-six weeks referred to in clause (b)—

(i) for more than four hours in a day unless a creche<sup>d</sup> is provided at the mine ;

(ii) in any case, for more than four hours at any one time :

Provided that where the woman informs the management that the child of which she was delivered has died, the provisions of clause (c) shall not apply after the management has with due diligence verified the correctness of her statement.]

[a] Section 3 was renumbered as sub-section (1) thereof, by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 2 [16-4-1945]. [b] Added, ibid. [c] Employment of a woman at any time of the day or night in any part of a mine which is below the adjacent ground level is now prohibited by section 46 of the Mines Act, 1952 (XXXV of 1952). [d] See section 48 of the Factories Act, 1948 (LXIII of 1948).

4. Right to obtain leave of absence in pregnancy and after delivery.

(1) If any woman employed in a mine who is pregnant gives notice either orally or in writing in the prescribed form to the manager of the mine that she expects to be delivered of a child within one month from the date of such notice, the manager shall permit her if she so desires to absent herself from work up to the day of her delivery and such absence shall be treated as a period of authorized absence on leave :

Provided that * [except in the case of a woman employed below ground in the mine] the manager may, on undertaking to defray the cost of such examination, require the woman to be examined by a qualified medical practitioner or midwife, and, if the woman refuses to submit to such examination or is certified on such examination as not pregnant or not likely to be delivered of a child within one month he may refuse such permission.

<sup>b</sup>[(2) If any woman employed below ground in a mine gives notice either orally or in writing in the prescribed form to the manager of the mine that she expects to be delivered of a child within ten weeks from the date of such notice, the manager may, on undertaking to defray the cost of such examination, require the woman to be examined within three days by a qualified medical practitioner or midwife, and shall permit her if she so desires to absent herself from work in any capacity in the mine prior to the said examination and unless he obtains a certificate that the woman is not pregnant or not likely to be delivered of a child within ten weeks or the woman refuses to submit to such examination, up to the day of her delivery, and such absence shall be treated as a period of authorized absence on leave.

(3) The examination referred to in the proviso to sub-section (1) or in sub-section (2), shall, if the woman so desires, be carried out by a woman.

(4) The absence of a woman in the period during which she is entitled to maternity benefit under this Act shall be treated as authorized absence on leave.]

[a] Inserted by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 3 [18.4.1945]. For the prohibition of a woman being employed to work below ground in a mine, see S. 46 of the Mines Act, 1952. [b] Substituted for the original sub-section (2), ibid.

Note :—Where the woman gives notice referred to in sub-section (1) and obtains permission to absent herself from work up to the date of her delivery, the manager must, either at once or within three days, pay to her maternity benefit four weeks in advance.

5. Right to and liability for payment of maternity benefit.

*[(1)] Every woman <sup>b</sup>[other than a woman to whom the provisions of sub-section (2) apply] employed in a mine who has been continuously employed in that mine or in mines belonging to the owner of that mine for a period of not less than six months preceding the date of her delivery shall, if she complies with the conditions imposed by this Act be entitled to receive, and the owner of the mine shall be liable to make to her, in accordance with the provisions of this Act, a payment at the rate of * [twelve annas] a day for every day <sup>d</sup>* * * during the four weeks immediately preceding and including the day of her delivery and for each day of the four weeks following her delivery:

*[Provided that no such payment shall be made for any day on which she attends work and receives payment therefor during the four weeks preceding her delivery.]

Explanation.—Periods of casual absence as defined by rules made under section 15 or authorized absence on account of illness or leave shall count as employment in determining whether employment has been continuous.

<sup>1</sup>[(2) Every woman who has worked below ground in a mine or mines of the same owner for not less than ninety days in all during a period not exceeding six months immediately preceding the date on which clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 3 becomes applicable to her case shall, if she complies with the other conditions imposed by this Act, be entitled to receive, and the owner of the mine shall be liable to make to her, in accordance with the provisions of this Act, a payment at the rate of six rupees a week for the ten weeks immediately preceding her delivery and for the six weeks following her delivery.]

[a] Section 5 was re-numbered as sub-section (1) thereof by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 4. [16-4-1945]. [b] Inserted ibid. [c] Substituted for "eight annas", ibid. [d] The words "on which she is absent from work owing to her confinement" were omitted, ibid., 1945 (XVIII of 1945), S. 2. [13-8-1945]. [e] Added, ibid. [f] Added by Act X of 1945, S. 4.

6. Payment of bonus.

(1) The Central Government may by rules made under section 15 provide that a woman entitled to maternity benefit under this Act shall, if at the time of her delivery she utilized the services of a qualified midwife or other trained person, receive in addition to the maternity benefit due to her a bonus not exceeding in amount three rupees :

Provided that she shall not receive such bonus if at the place chosen by her for her confinement she would have been entitled free of charge to the services of a qualified midwife or other trained person provided by the owner of the mine.

(2) Such rules may further provide for the determination by the State Government of the amount of the bonus, and of the qualifications which shall be possessed by qualified midwives and other trained persons for the purposes of this section.

Note.—The section enables the Central Government to provide, by rules, for payment of bonus in addition to the maternity benefits under the Act.

7. Notice of delivery to be given to manager.

A woman entitled to maternity benefit under this Act, unless she has given the notice referred to in sub-section (1) <sup>a</sup>or sub-section (2), as the case may be, of section 4, shall on being delivered of a child give notice of her delivery in the prescribed manner to the manager before the expiry of seven days from the date of her delivery, and shall before the expiry of six months from such date furnish proof of the prescribed nature to the manager both of her delivery and of the date of her delivery :

Provided that a woman giving notice under section 4 or this section may therein nominate a person for the purposes of sub-section (2) of section 9.

[a] Inserted by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 5. [16-4-1945].

8. Payment of maternity benefit.

(1) Where a woman entitled to maternity benefit has given the notice referred to in sub-section (1) of section 4 and has obtained permission to absent herself from work up to the date of her delivery, the manager shall either at once or within three days pay to her maternity benefit for four weeks in advance.

<sup>a</sup>[(1A) Where a woman entitled to maternity benefit has given the notice referred to in sub-section (2) of section 4, the manager shall within three days pay to her maternity benefit for ten weeks in advance, unless, within the said three days as a result of the examination referred to in that sub-section, he obtains a certificate that she is not pregnant or not likely to be delivered of a child within ten weeks or the woman refuses to submit to such examination.]

(2) A woman entitled to maternity benefit who has been delivered of a child shall, on furnishing the proof referred to in section 7,—

(a) if she has received an advance payment under sub-section (1) <sup>a</sup>or subsection (14)], be paid the balance of the maternity benefit due to her at the end of the fourth week from the date of her delivery or within three days of the furnishing of proof, whichever date is later ;

(b) if she has received no such advance payment,—

(i) if the proof is furnished before the end of the fourth week from the date of delivery, be paid at once or within three days so much of the maternity benefit as is then due to her, and be paid the balance at the end of the said fourth week.

(ii) if the proof is furnished after the end of the fourth week from the date of delivery, be paid at once or within three days the whole amount of the maternity benefit due to her.

[a] Inserted, by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 6, [16-4-1945].

9. Disposal of maternity benefit in case of death of women entitled to receive it.

(1) If a woman entitled to maternity benefit who has received an advance under sub-section (1) * [or sub-section (14)] of section 8 dies before being delivered of the child, the advance shall not be recoverable.

(2) If a woman entitled to maternity benefit having been delivered of a child dies before payment of the maternity benefit, or, where an advance under sub-section (1) * [or sub-section (14)] of section 8 has been made, of the balance of the maternity benefit due to her is made, the amount due to her up to the date of her death shall, on the prescribed proof of the birth and date of the birth of the child and of the death and date of death of the woman being furnished at any time before the expiry of six months from the date of delivery, be paid if the child is living to the person who undertakes the care of the child, and if the child is not living to the person nominated by her under the proviso to section 7 or if she has made no such nomination to the legal representative of the deceased woman.

[a] Inserted by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 7 [16-4-1945].

10. Prohibition of dismissal during or on account of absence from work owing to confinement.

(1) When a woman absents herself from work in accordance with * [sub-section (1) of section 3 or in circumstances under which in accordance with this Act the absence is to be treated as authorized absence on leave], it shall be unlawful for the manager to dismiss her during or on account of such absence, or to give notice of dismissal on such a day that the notice will expire during such absence.

(2) The dismissal of a woman at any time within six months before she is delivered of a child, if the woman but for such dismissal would have been entitled to maternity benefit under this Act, shall not have the effect of depriving her of that maternity benefit if the Chief Inspector is satisfied that her dismissal was without sufficient cause.

[a] Substituted for "section 3, or has obtained permission to absent herself in accordance with section 4", by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 8 [16-4-1945].

11. Power of Chief Inspector or Inspector to direct payments to be made.

(1) Any woman claiming that maternity benefit to which she is entitled under this Act and any person claiming that a payment due under sub-section (2) of section 9 is improperly withheld may make a complaint to the Chief Inspector or any Inspector * [or any other officer authorized in this behalf by the Central Government].

(2) On receipt of such complaint or on his own motion without any such complaint being made, the Chief Inspector or Inspector * [or other officer] may make inquiry or cause an inquiry to be made, and if satisfied that a payment has been wrongfully withheld may direct the payment to be made in accordance with his orders.

[a] Inserted by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 9 [16-4-1945].

12. Penalty for contravention of Act by a woman.

Any woman who does any work for which she receives payment in cash or kind after she has been permitted under sub-section (1) of section 4 to absent herself from work, or who engages in employment in any mine in contravention of *[sub-section (1) of section 3], shall be punishable with fine which may extend to ten rupees, and, if she is entitled to maternity benefit under this Act shall forfeit her right to any maternity benefit not already paid to her.

[a] Substituted for "section 3" by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 10 [16-4-1945].

13. Penalty for contravention of Act by owner or manager.

(1) Any owner or manager of a mine, who contravenes any provision of this Act for which no express penalty is provided, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(2) The Court imposing the fine may, if the contravention has resulted in depriving a woman of any maternity benefit due to her, order the whole or any part of the fine when paid to be applied in payment of compensation to the woman for any loss caused to her by the contravention of the provision on account of which the fine has been imposed, and an Appellate Court or the High Court in exercise of its powers of revision may also make such order.

14. Cognizance of cases.

(1) No prosecution under this Act shall be instituted except by or with the sanction of the Chief Inspector *[or of an officer authorized in this behalf by the Central Government].

(2) No Court inferior to that of a Magistrate of the first class shall try an offence punishable under this Act or any rule made thereunder.

(3) No Court shall take cognizance of an offence punishable under this Act or any rule made thereunder, unless complaint thereof is made within six months of the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed :

Provided that in computing the said period of six months any time spent in obtaining the sanction <sup>b</sup>[* * *] required by sub-section (1) shall be excluded.

[a] Inserted by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 11 [16-4-1945]. [b] The words "of the Chief Inspector" were omitted, ibid.

15. Power of Central Government to make rules.

(1) The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, by notification in the Official Gazette, make <sup>a</sup>rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

- (a) require the maintenance of registers and records for the purposes of this Act and prescribe the form thereof;
- (b) prescribe the form of the notices referred to in section 4 and section 7, and require mines to supply copies thereof to women workers;
- (c) regulate the examination of women <sup>b</sup>[referred to in] section 4, and the grant of the certificates therein referred to;
- (d) prescribe the nature of and the method of furnishing the proof referred to in section 7, section 8 and section 9;
- (e) regulate the manner of applying for and paying maternity benefit;
- (f) assign duties to, and regulate the powers of, the Chief Inspector and Inspectors. <sup>c</sup>[and the officers authorized by the Central Government referred to in section 11 and sub-section (1) of section 14], for the purposes of this Act.

(3) Any rule made under this section may provide that a contravention thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

[a] For the Mines Maternity Benefit Rules, 1943, see Gaz. of Ind., 1943, Pt. I, Sec. 1, p. 91.

[b] Substituted for "under the proviso to sub-section (1) of", by the Mines Maternity Benefit (Amendment) Act, 1945 (X of 1945), S. 12 [16-4-1945]. [c] Inserted, ibid.

16. Abstract of this Act and the rules made thereunder to be exhibited in mines.

(1) The manager of every mine in which women are employed shall cause an abstract in the local Indian language of the provisions of this Act and of the rules made thereunder to be exhibited in the mine in such manner that they may come to the notice of every woman employed in the mine.

(2) For any contravention of the provisions of this section the manager shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

17. Power of Central Government to exempt mines from operation of Act.

The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, exempt any mine or class of mines from the operation of this Act.

18. Act binding on Government.

The provisions of this Act shall be binding on the Government.

SECTIONS

27. Power of State Government to add to Schedule.
28. Power of Central Government to give directions.
29. Power of the Central Government to make rules.

30. Power of appropriate Government to make rules.

31. Validation of fixation of certain minimum rates of wages.

THE SCHEDULE.*STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The justification for statutory fixation of minimum wages is obvious. Such provisions which exist in more advanced countries are even more necessary in India, where workers' organizations are yet poorly developed and the workers' bargaining power is consequently poor.

The Bill provides for fixation, by the Provincial Governments, of minimum wages for employments covered by the Schedule to the Bill. The items in the Schedule are those where sweated labour is most prevalent or where there is a big chance of exploitation of labour. After a time, when some experience is gained, more categories of employments can be added and the Bill provides for additions to the Schedule. A higher period is allowed for fixation of minimum wages for Agricultural labour as administrative difficulties in this case will be more than in the other employments covered by the Schedule. The Bill also provides for periodical revision of the wages fixed.

Provision has been made for appointment of Advisory Committees and Advisory Boards, the latter for co-ordination of work of the Advisory Committees. The Committees and the Boards will have equal representation of employers and workmen. Except on initial fixation of minimum wages, consultation with the Advisory Committees will be obligatory on all occasions of revision.

In cases where an employer pays less than the minimum wages fixed by Provincial Governments, a summary procedure has been provided for recovery of the balance with penalty and for subsequent prosecution of the offending party.

It is not ordinarily proposed to make any exemptions in regard to employees of undertakings belonging to the Central Government except that difficulties might arise where the sphere of duty of such an employee covers more than one Province and when the rates of minimum wages fixed by the different Provinces may be different. For this purpose, a provision has been included that the minimum wages fixed by a Provincial Government will not apply to employees in any undertaking owned by the Central Government or employees of a Federal railway, except with the consent of the Central Government."

—Gazette of India, 1946, Part V, p. 331.

THE MINIMUM WAGES (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1957 (XXX of 1957)*STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Section 3 (1) (a) of the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, required minimum wages to be fixed before the 31st December 1954. It has not been possible to fix rates of wages before that date in respect of certain employments, particularly employments in agriculture. It has, therefore, become necessary to extend the time limit for fixing minimum rates of wages in respect of such employments. It is proposed that the time limit be extended up to the 31st December, 1959.

2. Under section 3 (1) (b) of the Act, minimum rates of wages fixed should be reviewed and revised, if necessary, at intervals not exceeding five years. In some cases it has not been possible to review the minimum rates of wages within that period. The Act, as it stands, does not authorise review or revision after the expiry of five years. The proposed amendment to the section removes this difficulty.

3. Opportunity has been taken to make certain other amendments which are considered necessary in the light of the working of the Act. The amendments either seek to clarify points of doubt or to remove difficulties experienced in the working of the Act. The objects of the more important of these amendments

- (a) to secure uniformity in the procedure followed for fixation and revision of wages (section 5) ;
- (b) to enable a Claims Authority to entertain claims not only in respect of payment of wages which are less than the minimum wages but also in respect of payment of remuneration for days of rest and payment of overtime wages (section 20) ;
- (c) to provide for the application of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, to claims relating to delay in payment of wages or non-payment of wages (section 22F) ;
- (d) to specify the persons liable to punishment in the case of offences by companies (section 22C) and to make a general provision for punishment of offences for which no penalty is provided in the Act (section 22A) ; and
- (e) to ensure prompt disbursement of wages to labour employed by Government contractors by exempting from attachment certain assets of such contractors in the hands of the Government (section 22E)."

[THE] MINIMUM WAGES ACT, 1948

(ACT XI of 1948)<sup>a</sup>

[15th March, 1948.]

An Act to provide for fixing minimum rates of wages in certain employments.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for fixing minimum rates of wages in certain employments;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

[a] For Statement of Objects and Reasons see Gaz. of Ind., 1948, Pt. V, p. 331; for Select Committee Report see Gaz. of Ind., 1948, Pt. V, p. 55.

This Act has been extended to the new Provinces and Merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

It has also been extended to the States merged in—

The State of Bombay : See Bom. Act IV of 1950, S. 3 [30-3-1950].

The State of Punjab : See Punj. Act V of 1950, S. 3 [15-4-1950].

The Act is applied to—

- (a) all the Excluded and Partially Excluded Areas in Assam — see Assam Gaz., 1949, Pt. II, pp. 390 and 793;
- (b) Chota Nagpur Division and Santal Parganas District — see Bihar Gaz., 1948, Pt. II, p. 878;
- (c) partially excluded areas in Bombay Presidency—see Bom. Gaz., 1948, Pt. IV-A, p. 399;
- (d) Darjeeling District—see Cal. Gaz., 1948, Pt. I, p. 722;
- (e) partially excluded areas in C. P. and Berar subject to certain modifications—see C. P. and Berar Gaz., 1948, pt. I, p. 675;
- (f) partially excluded areas in the Province of Orissa — see Orissa Gaz., 1948, Pt. III, p. 740;
- (g) the excluded areas of Lahaul and Spiti—see E. P. Gaz., 1948, Pt. I, p. 955;
- (h) the merged State of Banaras, Tehri-Garhwal and Rampur — see U. P. Gaz., 1951, Pt. I-A, p. 153;
- (i) the Jaunsar-Bawar Pargana of Dehra Dun District and the portion of Mirzapur District, south of the Kaimur Range—see U. P. Gaz., 1949, Pt. I, p. 126.

1. Short title and extent.

(1) This Act may be called THE MINIMUM WAGES ACT, 1948.

(2) It extends to the whole of India <sup>a</sup>[except the State of Jammu and Kashmir.]

[a] Substituted for "except Part B States", by the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

Preamble — Note 1

[1] The provisions of the Act are intended to achieve the object of doing social justice to workmen employed in the scheduled employments by prescribing minimum rates of wages for them. 1960 S C 1068 (1071) [AIR V 47 C 192]. (AIR 1958 Bom 332, affirmed.)

[2] The legislative policy which is apparent on the face of the enactment itself is the statutory fixation of minimum wages with a view to obviate the chances of exploitation of labour. The legislature intended to apply this Act not to all industries but to those industries only where by reason of the unorganized labour or want of proper arrangements for effective regulation of wages or other causes the wages of labourers are very low. 1955 S C 25 (32) [(S) A I R V 42 C 7] : 1955 S C R 735. (In view of this pronouncement the observations

2. Interpretation.

In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) “adult”, “adolescent” and “child” have the meanings respectively assigned to them in section 2 of the “[Factories Act, 1948];

[a] Substituted for “Factories Act, 1934” by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1954 (XXVI of 1954), S. 2 [20-5-1954].

(b) “appropriate Government” means,—

(i) in relation to any scheduled employment carried on by or under the authority of the “[Central Government or a railway administration], or in relation to a mine, oilfield or major port, or any corporation established by [a Central Act], the Central Government, and

(ii) in relation to any other scheduled employment, the “[State Government];

[a] Substituted for “Central Government, by a railway administration” by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 2 [17-9-1957]. [b] Substituted for “an Act of the Central Legislature”, by A. L. O., 1950.

(c) “competent authority” means the authority appointed by the appropriate Government by notification in its Official Gazette to ascertain from time to time the cost of living index number applicable to the employees employed in the scheduled employments specified in such notification;

(d) “cost of living index number”, in relation to employees in any scheduled employment in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed, means the index number ascertained and declared by the competent authority by notification in the Official Gazette to be the cost of living index number applicable to employees in such employment;

(e) “employer” means any person who employs, whether directly or through another person, or whether on behalf of himself or any other person, one or more employees in any scheduled employment in respect of which of the judicial commissioner in the judgment under appeal (AIR 1953 Ajmer 65) that he did not agree with the contention that the intention of the legislature was that the Act should apply only to industries in which the labour was not organized are not correct.)

[3] The restrictions imposed by the Act, though they interfere to some extent with the freedom of trade or business guaranteed under Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution, being reasonable and imposed in the interest of the general public are protected by the terms of Cl. (6) of Art. 19. 1955 S C 33 (35, 36) [(S) AIR V 42 C 8] : 1955 S C R 752. (Hence the material provisions of the Act are not illegal and ultra vires.)

[4] The Minimum Wages Act was not intended so extant to repeal the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 and to take its place as a substitute. 1955 Mad 45 (48) [(S) A I R V 42 C 10] : ILR (1954) Mad 1033 (DB).

Section 2 (b) — Note 1

[1] The Central Government is the appropriate government under cl. (b) in the case of work done in pursuance of and under the authority derived from a building contract entered into with that government. 1959 Madh Pra 298 (301) [A I R V 46 C 101] : 1959 Cri L Jour 990. (Hence an inspector appointed by that Government is competent to file a complaint under the Act.)

[2] Where an order issued by the Governor General under S. 94 (3) of the Government of India Act of 1935 investing the Chief Commissioner of a Province to function as the appropriate Government for the purpose of this Act had been adapted by the President of India under Art. 372 (2) of the Constitution it was held that the Chief Commissioner became competent, even after the Constitution, to function as the appropriate Government and hence a delegation of authority by the President under Art. 239 of the Constitution was unnecessary. 1955 S C 25 (31) [(S) A I R V 42 C 7] : 1955 S C R 735.

Section 2 (e) — Note 1

[1] Where the owner was not working his quarries himself but was giving them on contract basis to contractors and the contractors employed the workmen to operate the quarries it is the contractors and not the owner who could be said to be the ‘employer’ within the meaning of cl. (e). (‘59) 1959-1 Lab L J 558 (557) (Andh Pra).

[2] Where minimum wages have been fixed not generally for persons employed in the manufacture of bidis but only for the bidi makers a person employing workers in his establishment, where bidis made by contractors only are received, paid for “sorted out and packed for market” cannot be considered to be an ‘employer’ within the meaning of minimum rates of wages have been fixed under this Act, and includes, except in sub-section (3) of section 26,—

- (i) in a factory where there is carried on any scheduled employment in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed under this Act, any person named under "[clause (f) of sub-section (1) of section 7 of the Factories Act, 1915], as manager of the factory ;
- (ii) in any scheduled employment under the control of any Government in India in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed under this Act, the person or authority appointed by such Government for the supervision and control of employees or where no person or authority is so appointed, the head of the department ;
- (iii) in any scheduled employment under any local authority in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed under this Act, the person appointed by such authority for the supervision and control of employees or where no person is so appointed, the chief executive officer of the local authority ;
- (iv) in any other case where there is carried on any scheduled employment in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed under this Act, any person responsible to the owner for the supervision and control of the employees or for the payment of wages ;

[a] Substituted for "clause (e) of sub-section (1) of section 9 of the Factories Act, 1934", by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1954 (XXVI of 1954), S. 2 [20.5.1954].

- (f) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act ;
- (g) "scheduled employment" means an employment specified in the Schedule, or any process or branch of work forming part of such employment ;
- (h) "wages" means all remuneration, capable of being expressed in terms of money, which would, if the terms of the contract of employment, express or implied, were fulfilled, be payable to a person employed in respect of his employment or of work done in such employment "[and includes house rent allowance] but does not include—

(i) the value of—

- (a) any house-accommodation, supply of light, water, medical attendance, or
- (b) any other amenity or any service excluded by general or special order of the appropriate Government ;
- (ii) any contribution paid by the employer to any Pension Fund or Provident Fund or under any scheme of social insurance ;
- (iii) any travelling allowance or the value of any travelling concession ;

Section 2 (h) — Note 1

[1] Where it is clear from the award made in an industrial dispute, that the bonus paid under it is intended to be an addition to the actual wages paid and not as an ex gratia payment, it becomes part of the 'wages.' 1959 Mys 96 (98) [A I R V 46 C 35] : ILR (1958) Mys 132.

[2] 'Batta' payable to persons to cover a portion of out-of-station expenses comes under S. 2 (h) (iv) of the Act and is excluded from 'wages' since it does not form a component part of the minimum rate of wages. 1955 Trav-Co 97 (102) [(S) A I R V 42 C 37] (DB). (Hence inclusion of the head 'batta' by the State in the notification issued under S. 5 Cl. (2) of the Act is ultra vires their powers and void.)

(iv) any sum paid to the person employed to defray special expenses entailed on him by the nature of his employment ; or

(v) any gratuity payable on discharge ;

[a] Inserted by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 2 [17-9-1957].

- (i) "employee" means any person who is employed for hire or reward to do any work, skilled or unskilled, manual or clerical, in a scheduled employment in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed ; and includes an out-worker to whom any articles or materials are given out by another person to be made up, cleaned, washed, altered, ornamented, finished, repaired, adapted or otherwise processed for sale for the purposes of the trade or business of that other person where the process is to be carried out either in the home of the out-worker or in some other premises not being premises under the control and management of that other person ; and also includes an employee declared to be an employee by the appropriate Government ; but does not include any member of the Armed Forces of the <sup>a</sup>[Union].

3. Fixing of minimum rates of wages.

<sup>a</sup>[(1) The appropriate Government shall, in the manner hereinafter provided,—

(a) fix the minimum rates of wages payable to employees employed—

(i) in an employment specified in Part I of the Schedule at the commencement of this Act, before the 31st day of December, <sup>b</sup>[1959];

(ii) in an employment specified in Part II of the Schedule at the commencement of this Act, before the 31st day of December, <sup>b</sup>[1959] ;

Provided that the appropriate Government may, instead of fixing minimum rates of wages under this sub-clause for the whole State, fix

Section 2 (i) — Note 1

[1] The word 'employee' defined in S. 2 (i) of the Act does not include past employees. ('59) ILR (1959) Mad 623 (629). (Hence summary remedy provided by S. 20 of the Act cannot be availed by past employees.)

[2] An out-worker preparing goods at his own house and supplying them to the employer has to be treated as an employee for the purposes of this Act. 1960 Madh Pra 181 (182) [AIR V 47 C 88] : 1960 Cri L Jour 915.

[3] A compounder working in a tea plantation is a person holding an employment within the meaning of the expression 'scheduled employment' occurring in the definition of the word 'employee' in S. 2 (i) of the Act. 1960 Assam 22 (25) [A I R V 47 C 6] (DB).

fix the minimum wages either for a State as a whole or for the locality, they would be under no legal liability or legal duty to fix minimum wage for each locality and the Government would not act in excess of its jurisdiction in deciding to fix the minimum wages for an industry for the State as a whole. ('59) 1959-2 Mad L Jour 132 (134). (Hence the fact that the quantum of the unit appears to be less in one locality than in other localities cannot amount to a denial of equal protection of laws within the meaning of Art. 14 of the Constitution.)

[3] Section 3, sub-s. (3), cl. (a) sub-cl. (iv) is not a discriminatory law. Upon a proper examination of the scheme of the Act it is clear that under the Act no scope is left for the State Government to make arbitrary discrimination between different localities. 1960 Bom 299 (304) [AIR V 47 C 88] : I L R (1959) Bom 1175 (DB).

[4] Section 3 of the Act does not make it obligatory to prescribe a time limit for fixing the minimum rates of wages in respect of new items of industries added to the schedule. Hence the fixation of the time limit by the State in the notification is a self imposed restriction and non-compliance with such a limitation cannot affect the validity of the notification published after the expiry of the said period so long as the notification is in accordance with the statutory requirements. 1957 Trav-Co 136(138) [AIR V 44 C 42] (DB).

Section 3 — Note 1

[1] The restrictions imposed by the Act upon the rights of the employer, though they interfere to some extent with the freedom of trade or business guaranteed under Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution, are reasonable and being in the interest of the general public, are protected by the terms of cl. (6) of Art. 19. 1955 S C 33 (36) [(S) AIR V 42 C 8] : 1955 S C R 752. (Hence the provisions of the Act are not illegal and ultra vires.) * 1958 Punj 425 (429) [AIR V 45 C 124].

[2] Though S. 3 permits the Government to such rates for a part of the State or for any specified class or classes of such employment in the whole State or part thereof; and

(iii) in an employment added to Part I or Part II of the Schedule by notification under section 27, before the expiry of one year from the date of the notification;

(b) review at such intervals as it may think fit, such intervals not exceeding five years, the minimum rates of wages so fixed and revise the minimum rates, if necessary.

[Provided that where for any reason the appropriate Government has not reviewed the minimum rates of wages fixed by it in respect of any scheduled employment within any interval of five years, nothing contained in this clause shall be deemed to prevent it from reviewing the minimum rates after the expiry of the said period of five years and revising them, if necessary, and until they are so revised the minimum rates in force immediately before the expiry of the said period of five years shall continue in force.]

(1A) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the appropriate Government may refrain from fixing minimum rates of wages in respect of any scheduled employment in which there are in the whole State less than one thousand employees engaged in such employment, but if at any time, whether before or after the expiry of any time limit specified in sub-section (1), the appropriate Government comes to a finding after such inquiry as it may make or cause to be made in this behalf that the number of employees in any scheduled employment in respect of which it has refrained from fixing minimum

[5] The Minimum Wages Act does not confer any power on the Government to insist that an employer employing workers on time rates should pay them on piece-rates. 1957 Ker 95 (95) [AIR V 44 C 53].

[6] A retrospective notification could not be issued, but the offending portion could be severed and effect given to the notification as from a subsequent date. 1953 Ajmer 65 (74) [AIR V 40 C 70].

[7] The fixation of minimum wages under the provisions of this Act does not in any way deprive the Government to refer a dispute to the Tribunal for adjudication under the provisions of Industrial Disputes Act. 1955 Mad 45 (48) [AIR V 42 C 10]; 11 L R (1954) Mad 1033 (DB). (The Act does not, 'eo extanti' repeal the Industrial Disputes Act 1947)*1958 Ker 271 (272) [AIR V 45 C 96]; 11 L R (1958) Ker 747 (DB).

[8] The wages of an industrial worker must be such as would enable him to have not merely the means for bare subsistence of life but also for preservation of his efficiency as a worker and the minimum means which he must have, irrespective of the capacity of the industry or of his employer to pay, is to provide for measure of education, medical requirements and amenities. 1958 S C 578 (602) [AIR V 45 C 83]; 1959 S C R 12 * (55) 1955 Lab A C 252 (257) (LATI).

[9] The Act does not cast a statutory obligation upon the State Government to fix or revise the rates of minimum wages strictly according to the cost of Living Index. Therefore, if the cost of living index in a particular locality is not strictly followed while fixing or revising the rates of minimum wages, there is no breach of a statutory duty committed. 1960 Bom 299 (302, 303) [AIR V 47 C 86]; 11 L R (1959) Bom 1175 (DB).

[10] Where the rates fixed in certain employments were not unreasonably high and were not higher than those found in other employments involving similar kinds of work, it cannot be held that the fixation of minimum rates without considering the paying capacity of small employments is invalid, and that employments should have been divided into different categories and their minimum rates should have been fixed separately for each category and that the fixation of uniform rates for all types is unjust and contrary to the intention of the legislature. 1958 Punj 425 (429) [AIR V 45 C 124].

[11] The fixation of minimum wages without affecting the existing tasks and hours of work of the labourers cannot warrant the management to deprive the labourers of extra wages for extra work which were hitherto being paid to them. The intention behind the fixation of the wages in such a case is to increase the basic wages. 1957 S C 227 (230) [(S) AIR V 44 C 31]; 1957 S C R 359* 1958 Assam 1 (3) [AIR V 45 C 1]; 11 L R (1957) 9 Assam 334.

[12] Where the Government has fixed by notification under S. 3 read with S. 5 (2) of the Act, a minimum wage for an artisan working in a tea garden, the authority must confine itself to the Government Notification prescribing the minimum wages and it cannot extend its operation to the categories of labourers not named or mentioned therein. 1960 Assam 97 (99) [AIR V 47 C 27] (DB)* 1960 Assam 123 (125, 126) [AIR V 47 C 34] (DB). (A carpenter although he is utilised for making tea chests and not for making chairs and tables is an artisan and hence is entitled to the benefit of minimum wages fixed. But a pharmacist designated as a dresser in the tea gardens cannot claim the benefit as an artisan.)

rates of wages has risen to one thousand or more, it shall fix minimum rates of wages payable to employees in such employment within one year from the date on which it comes to such finding.]

(2) The appropriate Government may fix,—

- (a) a minimum rate of wages for time work (hereinafter referred to as “a minimum time rate”);
- (b) a minimum rate of wages for piece work (hereinafter referred to as “a minimum piece rate”);
- (c) a minimum rate of remuneration to apply in the case of employees employed on piece work for the purpose of securing to such employees a minimum rate of wages on a time work basis (hereinafter referred to as “a guaranteed time rate”);
- (d) a minimum rate (whether a time rate or a piece rate) to apply in substitution for the minimum rate which would otherwise be applicable, in respect of overtime work done by employees (hereinafter referred to as “overtime rate”).

(3) In fixing or revising minimum rates of wages under this section,—

(a) different minimum rates of wages may be fixed for—

- (i) different scheduled employments;
- (ii) different classes of work in the same scheduled employment;
- (iii) adults, adolescents, children and apprentices;
- (iv) different localities;

<sup>d</sup>[(b) minimum rates of wages may be fixed by any one or more of the following wage periods, namely : —

- (i) by the hour,
- (ii) by the day,
- (iii) by the month, or
- (iv) by such other larger wage period as may be prescribed;

and where such rates are fixed by the day or by the month, the manner of calculating wages for a month or for a day, as the case may be, may be indicated :]

Provided that where any wage-periods have been fixed under section 4 of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, minimum wages shall be fixed in accordance therewith.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendment made by Act XXVI of 1954.—“Under sub-cl. (a) of cl. (a) of sub-section (1) of section 3 of the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the appropriate Governments were required to fix minimum rates of wages in the employments listed in Part I of the Schedule before the 31st March, 1952. Since the Act was extended to Part B States only with effect from 1st April, 1951, they had to complete all formalities required for fixing minimum wages within a period of less than one year with the result that it has not been possible for them to fix minimum wages in all cases. Moreover, the rates fixed after the 31st March, 1952, have no validity in law. In order to remove these legal difficulties and to give some more time to the States for enforcing the provisions of the Act it is proposed to extend the time-limit for fixing minimum rates of wages in employments mentioned in Part I of the Schedule to the 31st December, 1953.

“It is also proposed to provide for the fixation of rates in respect of those scheduled employments for which no minimum rates of wages were initially fixed—In view of the Proviso to cl. (b) of sub-section (1) of section 3—within one year from the date on which the appropriate Government is satisfied that no less than one thousand employees are engaged in the employment in the whole State.

“Similarly, when new items are added under the powers conferred under section 27 of the Act, the amending Bill provides minimum wages in respect of those items should be fixed within one year from the date of issue of the notification under section 27 of the Act.”

—S. O. R., Gaz. of Ind., 1953, Extra., Pt. II—sec. 2, page 117.

Amendment made by Act XXX of 1957 — See the first two paragraphs of the Statement of Objects and Reasons reproduced at the beginning of the text of this Act..

STATE AMENDMENTS

KERALA

Section 3, in its application to the fixation of minimum rates of wages in respect of employments specified in Part I and Part II of the Schedule to the Act, in relation to which the appropriate Government is the State Government, shall have effect in the State of Kerala subject to the amendments specified below—

In sub-section (1) of S. 3—

(i) in the opening words, for the words "The appropriate Government" substitute the words "The State Government";

(ii) in clause (a),—

(a) in sub-clauses (i) and (ii), for the figures, letters and words "31st day of December 1959" substitute the figures, letters and words "31st day of March, 1961, or such other date, not being later than the 31st day of March, 1962, as the State Government may, from time to time, fix by notification in the Gazette";

(b) after the existing Proviso insert the following further Proviso, namely :—

Provided further that where, in fixing the minimum rates of wages of any employment under sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii), any class of employees is left out, the State Government may, at any time, fix the minimum rates of wages payable to such class of employees.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this Proviso, the expression "employees left out" with reference to an employment shall include—

(i) employees employed in a particular locality in the employment, the minimum rates of wages payable to whom have not been fixed;

(ii) employees employed in any process or branch of work which was not in existence in the employment at the time when the minimum rates of wages were fixed".

— Kerala Act XVIII of 1960, S. 2 [22-9-1960].

UTTAR PRADESH

In sub-clauses (i) and (ii) of clause (a) of sub-section (1) of S. 3, of the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, in its application to Uttar Pradesh, for the figures "1959" wherever occurring substitute the figures "1960".

— U. P. Act XX of 1960, S. 2 [w. r. e. f. 1-1-1960].

4. Minimum rate of wages.

(1) Any minimum rate of wages fixed or revised by the appropriate Government in respect of scheduled employments under section 3 may consist of—

- (i) a basic rate of wages and a special allowance at a rate to be adjusted, at such intervals and in such manner as the appropriate Government may direct, to accord as nearly as practicable with the variation in the cost of living index number applicable to such workers (hereinafter referred to as the "cost of living allowance"); or
- (ii) a basic rate of wages with or without the cost of living allowance, and the cash value of the concessions in respect of supplies of essential commodities at concession rates, where so authorized; or
- (iii) an all-inclusive rate allowing for the basic rate, the cost of living allowance and the cash value of the concessions, if any.

Section 4 — Note 1

[1] The Government are entitled to revise the 'dearness allowance' under S. 4 (1) of the Act, and where they have done so and the employer fails to comply with the directions given in the notification he can be compelled to pay the employees concerned at the rates indicated in the notification. 1958 Assam 39 (43) [A I R V 45 C 14] : I L R (1956) 8 Assam 145 (DB).

[2] It is true that the Act makes no specific mention of the term 'dearness allowance', but it refers to an allowance paid on rise of cost of living. Where an inclusive rate has been fixed including a basic rate of wages and cost of living allowance, this is in accordance with law. Whether the rate is fixed under S. 4 (1)(ii) or S. 4 (1) (iii) the fixation of an all-inclusive rate of minimum wages is valid. Under S. 4 (1) (ii) a direction of adjustment at certain intervals is not necessary. 1956 Punj 425 (428) [A I R V 45 C 124].

[3] The Government can take into its consideration the cash value of the concessions enjoyed by the workers in respect of supply of foodstuffs, essential commodities and other amenities only where it proceeds to fix the minimum wage under cl. (i) or cl. (ii) of S. 4 (1) and not when it fixes the wage under cl. (i). Hence where the wage is purported to have been fixed under cl. (i) the authority has no jurisdiction to order the employer to pay any sum of money in respect of these concessions. 1958 Assam 39 (42) [A I R V 45 C 14] : I L R (1956) 8 Assam 145 (DB).

[4] The Minimum Wages Committee in

(2) The cost of living allowance and the cash value of the concessions in respect of supplies of essential commodities at concession rates shall be computed by the competent authority at such intervals and in accordance with such directions as may be specified or given by the appropriate Government.

*[5. Procedure for fixing and revising minimum wages.]

(1) In fixing minimum rates of wages in respect of any scheduled employment for the first time under this Act or in revising minimum rates of wages so fixed, the appropriate Government shall either—

- (a) appoint as many committees and sub-committees as it considers necessary to hold enquiries and advise it in respect of such fixation or revision, as the case may be, or
- (b) by notification in the Official Gazette, publish its proposals for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby and specify a date, not less than two months from the date of the notification, on which the proposals will be taken into consideration.

(2) After considering the advice of the committee or committees appointed under clause (a) of sub-section (1), or as the case may be, all representations received by it before the date specified in the notification under clause (b) of that sub-section, the appropriate Government shall, by notification in the Official Gazette, fix, or, as the case may be, revise the minimum rates of wages in respect of each scheduled employment, and unless such notification otherwise provides, it shall come into force on the expiry of three months from the date of its issue :

Provided that where the appropriate Government proposes to revise the minimum rates of wages by the mode specified in clause (b) of sub-section (1), the appropriate Government shall consult the Advisory Board also.]

[a] Substituted for S. 5, by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 4 [17-9-1957].

Section 4 — Note 1 (contd.)

fixing wage might have included in its calculation the cash compensation paid to the workmen against the cut in the food rations but still the Government may order the payment of such compensation in addition to the minimum wage fixed by the committee. Hence where the order of the Government is clear to that effect it would be unnecessary to consider what was at the back of the mind of the committee when they fixed the minimum wage. 1957 S C 208 (208, 211) [(S) A I R V 44 C 28].

[5] Though payment of "batta" may be a common feature it cannot be added to the pay as allowances and concessions in fixing a minimum wage under the Act. Batta in its ordinary sense is only an extra payment over and above the pay and not a part of it. 1955 Trav-Co 97 (101, 102) [(S) A I R V 42 C 37] (DB).

[6] Merely fixing a rate of living allowance varying with the living index number without at the same time specifying the manner of adjustment or the intervals at which the adjustment has to be made is not a sufficient compliance with the terms of S. 4 (1) of the Act. 1957 Andh-Pra 565 (567) [A I R V 44 C 191] (DB).

[7] The Government has no statutory authority under S. 4 to alter the contractual wage structure and fix different enforceable minima for the component parts of the wages payable to an employee. Hence when a minimum rate of wages is prescribed as payable to an employee what he is entitled to get is wages, the totality thereof, at a rate not less than the minimum rate prescribed, the rate itself being unitary, whatever may be its component parts under the permissive provisions of S. 4 (1) of the Act. 1957 Mad 69 (73) [A I R V 44 C 24] (DB).

Section 5 — Note 1

[1] The Government's power to fix minimum wages is not in contravention of Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution and is protected by Art. 19 (6). 1958 Punj 425 (429) [AIR V 45 C 124].

[2] The power conferred under S. 5 of the Act can be exercised only if the employment in question is specified in the Schedule. 1960 S C 1068 (1071) [AIR V 47 C 192].

[3] Where the provision of S. 5 (1) has not been followed at all, it is not open to the State Government to fix minimum wages, and any order fixing minimum rates of wages without following the provisions of S. 5 (1) is of no force and effect. 1957 Raj 35 (38) [AIR V 44 C 15] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 74 (DB). (Committee not appointed according to requirements of S. 9—Government notification fixing minimum wage on its report is of no force and effect.)

[4] Procedural irregularities, such as ordering the extension of the time of the committee after the period originally fixed had already expired, do not vitiate the report submitted

6. Advisory committees and sub-committees. [Omitted by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 5 [17.9.1957].]

7. Advisory Board.

For the purpose of co-ordinating the work of <sup>a</sup>[committees and sub-committees, appointed under section 5] and advising the appropriate Government generally in the matter of fixing and revising minimum rates of wages, the appropriate Government shall appoint an Advisory Board.

[a] Substituted for "committees, sub-committees, advisory committees and advisory sub-committees appointed under sections 5 and 6" by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 6 [17.9.1957].

8. Central Advisory Board.

(1) For the purpose of advising the Central and <sup>a</sup>[State] Governments in the matters of the fixation and revision of minimum rates of wages and other by the committee. 1955 S C 25 (33) [(S) AIR V 42 C 7] : 1955 SCR 735.

[5] A notification under this section which fails to specify the date on which the proposals would be taken into consideration is not in consonance with sub-s. (1) (b). 1960 Ker 67 (68) [AIR V 47 C 25] : ILR (1959) Ker 941 (DB).

[6] Although the State Government has power to fix different minimum rates of wages for different scheduled employments as well as for the different classes of workers under the same scheduled employment it cannot direct by its notification the procedure to be adopted for deciding the particular category to which an employee belongs. 1958 Assam 12 (14) [AIR V 45 C 4] (DB).

[7] The inclusion of batta as a component part of the minimum rate of wages fixed renders the notification under this section void as being ultra vires the powers of the Government. 1955 Trav-Co 97 (102) [(S) AIR V 42 C 57] (DB).

[8] The right to make a representation under sub-s. (2) extends to the date which is fixed under sub-s. (1) (b) for the consideration of the proposals and that right cannot be confined to any anterior date. Hence a notification which states that the representations will be received only up to a particular date but the proposals would be considered at a later date is not a proper notice. 1960 Ker 67 (68) [AIR V 47 C 25] : ILR (1959) Ker 941 (DB).

[9] A retrospective notification under S. 5 (2) of the Act cannot be issued, but the offending portion can be severed and effect given to the notification as from the subsequent date. 1953 Ajmer 65 (74) [AIR V 40 C 70].

[10] The fixation of minimum rates of wages in respect of any scheduled employment by the appropriate Government is an administrative act which is final, and is not subject to judicial review on the question of the quantum of the wages fixed. If, however, the fixation by the Government is ultra vires their powers under the Act, it admits of being so declared and corrected by the Court under Art. 226 and/or Art. 227 of the Constitution. 1955 Trav-Co 97 (102) [(S) AIR V 42 C 371] (DB) * 1960 Ker 67 (69) [AIR V 47 C 25] : ILR (1959) Ker 941 (DB) * 1953 Ajmer 65 (67) [AIR V 40 C 70].

[11] A committee appointed under S. 5 of the Act is an advisory body and hence the Government is not bound to accept any of its recommendations. 1955 S C 25 (33) [(S) AIR V 42 C 7] : 1955 SCR 735 * 1958 Punj 425 (428, 429) [AIR V 45 C 124]. (The only object of this provision is to enable the Government to collect data required for fixing the minimum wage.)

[12] The authority cannot extend a notification fixing minimum wages to categories of labourers not named or mentioned therein. 1960 Assam 97 (99) [AIR V 47 C 27] (DB).

Appointment of Wage Boards and regulation of their procedure.

[13] A Wage Board relating to a particular trade or industry constituted of equal number of representatives of employers and employees with an independent member or members one of whom is appointed as a chairman is best calculated to arrive at a proper fixation of wages in that industry. 1958 S C 578 (607, 608) [AIR V 45 C 83] : 1959 SCR 12. (Case decided under the Working Journalists (Conditions of Service) and Miscellaneous Provisions Act of 1958.)

[14] The authority appointing a wage board should also lay down the principles for its guidance in wage fixation leaving at the same time a wide discretion to it in the fixation of wages. 1958 S C 578 (608) [AIR V 45 C 83] : 1959 SCR 12. (Case decided under the Working Journalists (Conditions of Service) and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1958.)

[15] Wage Boards when constituted should be left to regulate their own procedure in such manner as they think fit. It is not necessary that any regulation should be made in regard to the procedure to be adopted by them in the conduct of their enquiry. 1958 S C 578 (608) [AIR V 45 C 83] : 1959 SCR 12. (Case decided under the Working Journalists (Conditions of Service) and Miscellaneous Provisions Act of 1958).

Section 7 — Note 1

[1] Section 7 of the Act does not require that the State Advisory Board should be constituted of the employers and employees belonging to a particular industry. The Board can consist of independent men belonging to different industries and different places. 1960 Bom 299 (305) [AIR V 47 C 88] : 1 L R (1959) Bom 1175 (DB).

[a] Substituted for S. 10, by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 8 [17-9-1957].

11. Wages in kind.

(1) Minimum wages payable under this Act shall be paid in cash.

(2) Where it has been the custom to pay wages wholly or partly in kind, the appropriate Government being of the opinion that it is necessary in the circumstances of the case may, by notification in the Official Gazette, authorize the payment of minimum wages either wholly or partly in kind.

Section 9 — Note 1

[1] It would be sufficient compliance with S. 9 if there is only one independent member and he is appointed chairman. 1953 Ajmer 65 (73) [AIR V 40 C 70].

[2] An advisory committee appointed by the Government without any representative of employer or employee is not a committee within the meaning of S. 9 of the Act and hence the notification, fixing the minimum rates of wages, issued on the advice of such a committee has no force or effect. 1957 Raj 35 (38) [AIR V 44 C 15] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 74 (DB).

[3] It is not laid down anywhere in the Act or elsewhere that an official of the Government cannot be nominated as a member of the committee or that only a non-official can be considered to be an independent person. An 'independent' person in this section means a person who is neither an employer nor an employee in the employment for which minimum wages are to be fixed. 1958 Punj 425 (427) [AIR V 45 C 124]. (Appointment of Labour Commissioner as chairman is not invalid.)

[4] Any person, although he is not an employer himself, can be validly appointed as the employers' representative on the advisory committee, provided there is no objection to his appointment on that ground. 1958 Punj 425 (427) [AIR V 45 C 124]. (Editor though he does not own the press can be appointed.)

Section 10 — Note 1

[1] Per Vyas J., (Tambe J. contra) : The notification issued by Government under S. 10 (2) is not a piece of legislation of any kind, neither delegated legislation nor subordinate legislation nor conditional legislation. The legislature in enacting S. 10 (2) had no intention to assign to the appropriate Government anything more than a mere accessory power of taking an executive action of issuing notifications which were necessary to carry out the policy of the Act. 1960 Bom 299 (308) [AIR V 47 C 88] : ILR (1959) Bom 1175 (DB). (Article 13 (3) of the Constitution does not confer the character of an Act on the notification although under that provision it would have the same force as if it were the law of the land.)

(3) If the appropriate Government is of the opinion that provision should be made for the supply of essential commodities at concession rates, the appropriate Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, authorize the provision of such supplies at concession rates.

(4) The cash value of wages in kind and of concessions in respect of supplies of essential commodities at concession rates authorized under sub-sections (2) and (3) shall be estimated in the prescribed manner.

12. Payment of minimum rates of wages.

(1) Where in respect of any scheduled employment a notification under section 5 *[* *] is in force, the employer shall pay to every employee engaged in a scheduled employment under him wages at a rate not less than the minimum rate of wages fixed by such notification for that class of employees in that employment without any deductions except as may be authorized within such time and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.

(2) Nothing contained in this section shall affect the provisions of the Payment of Wages Act, 1936.

[a] The words "or section 10" were omitted by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 9 [17-9-1957.]

13. Fixing hours for a normal working day, etc.

*[(1)] In regard to any scheduled employment minimum rates of wages in respect of which have been fixed under this Act, the appropriate Government may—

- (a) fix the number of hours of work which shall constitute a normal working day, inclusive of one or more specified intervals ;
- (b) provide for a day of rest in every period of seven days which shall be allowed to all employees or to any specified class of employees and for the payment of remuneration in respect of such days of rest ;
- (c) provide for payment for work on a day of rest at a rate not less than the overtime rate.

<sup>b</sup>[(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall, in relation to the following classes of employees, apply only to such extent and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed :—

- (a) employees engaged on urgent work, or in any emergency which could not have been foreseen or prevented ;
- (b) employees engaged in work in the nature of preparatory or complementary work which must necessarily be carried on outside the limits laid down for the general working in the employment concerned ;
- (c) employees whose employment is essentially intermittent ;
- (d) employees engaged in any work which for technical reasons has to be completed before the duty is over ;
- (e) employees engaged in a work which could not be carried on except at times dependent on the irregular action of natural forces.

Section 12 — Note 1

[1] The Act provides for payment of minimum wages and so long as minimum wage is paid, the contractual wage structure is left unaffected and the component parts of the wages can still be regulated by contract between the employer and employee. 1957 Mad 69 (72) [AIR V 44 C 24] (DB). (Where the wages paid at the contract rate is higher than the minimum wages fixed the statutory right and obligation do not come into play.)

Section 13 — Note 1

[1] Under S. 13 read with Rule 23 of the

U. P. Minimum Wages Rules (1952), every employee whether on daily wages or on monthly wages in a scheduled employment is entitled to a weekly holiday with wages. It makes no difference whether the actual holiday happens to be a Sunday or any other day. 1960 All 724 (726) [AIR V 47 C 204].

[2] It is not unlawful to require a person to work more than six days a week. The only thing is that if he is required to work on the seventh day also, he must be paid extra on the overtime scale. ('59) 1959-1 Lab L J 380 (389) (Mad.).

(3) For the purposes of cl. (c) of sub-section (2), employment of an employee is essentially intermittent when it is declared to be so by the appropriate Government on the ground that the daily hours of duty of the employee, or if there be no daily hours of duty as such for the employee, the hours of duty, normally include periods of inaction during which the employee may be on duty but is not called upon to display either physical activity or sustained attention.]

14. Overtime.

(1) Where an employee, whose minimum rate of wages is fixed under this Act by the hour, by the day or by such a longer wage period as may be prescribed, works on any day in excess of the number of hours constituting a normal working day, the employer shall pay him for every hour or for part of an hour so worked in excess at the overtime rate fixed under this Act or under any law of the appropriate Government for the time being in force, whichever is higher.

(2) Nothing in this Act shall prejudice the operation of the provisions of * [section 59 of the Factories Act, 1948] in any case where those provisions are applicable.

[a] Substituted for "section 47 of the Factories Act, 1934", by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1954 (XXVI of 1954), S. 4 [20-5-1954].

15. Wages of worker who works for less than normal working day.

If an employee whose minimum rate of wages has been fixed under this Act by the day works on any day on which he was employed for a period less than the requisite number of hours constituting a normal working day, he shall, save as otherwise hereinafter provided, be entitled to receive wages in respect of work done by him on that day as if he had worked for a full normal working day :

Provided, however, that he shall not be entitled to receive wages for a full normal working day—

(i) in any case where his failure to work is caused by his unwillingness to work and not by the omission of the employer to provide him with work, and

(ii) in such other cases and circumstances as may be prescribed.

16. Wages for two or more classes of work.

Where an employee does two or more classes of work to each of which a different minimum rate of wages is applicable, the employer shall pay to such employee in respect of the time respectively occupied in each such class of work, wages at not less than the minimum rate in force in respect of each such class.

17. Minimum time rate wages for piece work.

Where an employee is employed on piece work for which minimum time rate and not a minimum piece rate has been fixed under this Act, the employer shall pay to such employee wages at not less than the minimum time rate.

18. Maintenance of registers and records.

(1) Every employer shall maintain such registers and records giving such

Section 14 — Note 1

[1] This section read with R. 26 of the Rules framed by the Madras Government under S. 13 makes it plain that it is not illegal to require an employee to work overtime on payment of extra wages. ('59) 1959-1 Lab L Jour 380 (389) (Mad).

Section 18 — Note 1

[1] An employer who employs for reward or wages out-workers to prepare goods at their own residence to supply them to him must particulars of employees employed by him, the work performed by them, the wages paid to them, the receipts given by them and such other particulars and in such form as may be prescribed.

(2) Every employer shall keep exhibited, in such manner as may be prescribed, in the factory, workshop or place where the employees in the scheduled employment may be employed, or in the case of out-workers, in such factory, workshop or place as may be used for giving out-work to them, notices in the prescribed form containing prescribed particulars.

(3) The appropriate Government may, by rules made under this Act, provide for the issue of wage books or wage slips to employees employed in any scheduled employment in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed and prescribe the manner in which entries shall be made and authenticated in such wage books or wage slips by the employer or his agent.

19. Inspectors.

(1) The appropriate Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint such persons as it thinks fit to be Inspectors for the purposes of this Act, and define the local limits within which they shall exercise their functions.

(2) Subject to any rules made in this behalf, an Inspector may, within the local limits for which he is appointed –

(a) enter, at all reasonable hours, with such assistants (if any), being persons in the service of the <sup>a</sup>[Government] or any local or other public authority, as he thinks fit, any premises or place where employees are employed or work is given out to out-workers in any scheduled employment in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed under this Act, for the purpose of examining any register, record of wages or notices required to be kept or exhibited by or under this Act or rules made thereunder, and require the production thereof for inspection;

(b) examine any person whom he finds in any such premises or place and who, he has reasonable cause to believe, is an employee employed therein or an employee to whom work is given out therein;

(c) require any person giving out-work and any out-workers, to give any information, which is in his power to give, with respect to the names and addresses of the persons to, for and from whom the work is given out or received, and with respect to the payments to be made for the work;

<sup>a</sup>[(d) seize or take copies of such register, record of wages or notices or portions thereof as he may consider relevant in respect of an offence under this Act which he has reason to believe has been committed by an employer; and]

(e) exercise such other powers as may be prescribed.

(3) Every Inspector shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

<sup>b</sup>[(4) Any person required to produce any document or thing or to give any information by an Inspector under sub-section (2) shall be deemed to be legally bound to do so within the meaning of section 175 and section 176 of the Indian Penal Code.]

[a] Substituted for clause (d) by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 11 [17-9-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid.

20. Claims.

(1) The appropriate Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint <sup>a</sup>[any Commissioner for Workmen's Compensation or any officer of the Central Government exercising functions as a Labour Commissioner for any region, or any officer of the State Government not below the rank of Labour Commissioner or any] other officer with experience as a Judge of a Civil Court or as a stipendiary Magistrate to be the Authority to hear and decide for any specified area all claims arising out of payment of less than the minimum rates of wages <sup>b</sup>[or in respect of the payment of remuneration for days of rest or for work done on such days under clause (b) or clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 13 or of wages at the overtime rate under section 14,] to employees employed or paid in that area.

(2) <sup>c</sup>[Where an employee has any claim of the nature referred to in sub-section (1)], the employee himself, or any legal practitioner or any official of a registered trade union authorized in writing to act on his behalf, or any Inspector, or any person acting with the permission of the Authority appointed under sub-section (1), may apply to such Authority for a direction under sub-section (3) :

Provided that every such application shall be presented within six months from the date on which the minimum wages <sup>d</sup>[or other amount] became payable :

Provided further that any application may be admitted after the said period of six months when the applicant satisfies the Authority that he had sufficient cause for not making the application within such period.

Section 20 — Note 1

[1] The section does not provide the machinery for recovery of arrears of wages independently of any dispute arising from controversy as regards the minimum wage payable. Proceedings under this section can be commenced where a dispute exists as regards the rate of wages payable. 1960 All 541 (543) [AIR V 47 C 148] : 1960 Cri L Jour 1173.

[2] Appointment of the authority under S. 20 need not be by name. It may be by office. The words 'other officer with experience as a judge of a civil Court' in S. 20 only mean that the officer should be working or should have worked as a presiding judge of a civil Court. 1959 Tripura 16 (18) [AIR V 46 C 7].

[3] The inspector appointed under the law is under a duty to move the authority under the section to direct the defaulting employers to pay the difference between the wages fixed by the Government notification and that which had been actually paid by them. 1958 Assam 39 (40) [AIR V 45 C 14] : 1 L R (1958) 8 Assam 145 (DB).

[4] Application on behalf of the labourers by the legal practitioner duly authorised in writing by them need not be signed by all of them. 1959 Tripura 16 (18) [AIR V 46 C 7].

[5] An employee in his application under S. 20 has only to ask for the payment of the difference. It is not necessary for him to mention any specific amount as constituting such difference because it is for the authority to determine what that amount is. 1959 Tripura 16 (19) [AIR V 46 C 7].

[6] The cause of action under the Act is a continuous one; but the claim can be allowed for a period of six months only next before the date of application. 1960 Assam 22 (22) [AIR V 47 C 6].

[7] To give effect to an argument that the application for claim under the Minimum Wages Act, filed more than six months after the passing of the order by the Government fixing the minimum wages, is barred can never find acceptance, because it will have the effect of giving the order a life of six months only, and an argument that because the claim under the Act covered a period of more than six months next before the institution of the application the whole claim is barred by time, is also without force, as there is nothing in the Act or Rules to support it. 1959 Tripura 16 (18, 19) [AIR V 46 C 7].

[8] The date on which the wages become payable is determined from time to time by the contract between the parties while the rates at which such scales are payable are regulated by the Act and the notification issued thereunder. 1955 Mad 569 (570) [(S) AIR V 42 C 165].

[9] The proper procedure in a case, where an application is filed beyond the period of six months mentioned in S. 20 of the Act, should be not to admit the application, but to keep it pending, and to merely issue a notice upon the other side to show cause why the delay, if there was any good reason for it, should not be condoned. It is only after the application is admitted that the employer should be called upon to meet the case on merits. 1958 Assam 1 (4) [AIR V 45 C 1] : 1 L R (1957) 9 Assam 334 (DB).

[10] Where at the time of admitting the application of the employee, the tribunal was not called upon to satisfy itself nor did it satisfy itself then that there were sufficient causes to condone the delay in making the application as required by the second proviso

*[(3) When any application under sub-section (2) is entertained, the Authority shall hear the applicant and the employer, or give them an opportunity of being heard, and after such further inquiry, if any, as it may consider necessary, may, without prejudice to any other penalty to which the employer may be liable under this Act, direct —

- (i) in the case of a claim arising out of payment of less than the minimum rates of wages, the payment to the employee of the amount by which the minimum wages payable to him exceed the amount actually paid, together with the payment of such compensation as the Authority may think fit, not exceeding ten times the amount of such excess ;
- (ii) in any other case, the payment of the amount due to the employee, together with the payment of such compensation as the Authority may think fit, not exceeding ten rupees, and the Authority may direct payment of such compensation in cases where the excess or the amount due is paid by the employer to the employee before the disposal of the application.]

(4) If the Authority hearing any application under this section is satisfied that it was either malicious or vexatious, it may direct that a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees be paid to the employer by the person presenting the application.

Section 20 — Note 1 (contd.)

to S. 20 (2) of the Act but was satisfied only on the date of enquiry when the explanation for the delay was offered by the employee, and the employer himself did not raise the question that the application was belated and time barred till after the enquiry was over, and even at that stage, he did not seek to make it the subject matter of an issue and on the merits of the employee's claim it could not be said that anything other than substantial justice was done as between the parties by the tribunal granting the claim to the employee, it was held that the apparent defect in determining the question of fact on which depended the jurisdiction of the tribunal to investigate the claim for the period anterior to the six months referred to by the first proviso in S. 20 (2) of the Act was not such as to give the employer ex debito justitiæ the writ of certiorari to set aside the order granting the claim. 1955 Mad 569 (571) [(S) AIR V 42 C 165].

[11] A written application to the authority to condone the delay under the second proviso to sub-section (2) is not necessary. 1955 Mad 569 (571) [(S) AIR V 42 C 165].

[12] The authority appointed by the Government has to decide whether the employee is or is not entitled to any payment under the notification issued by the Government under S. 5 which has fixed the minimum wages. This power, therefore, implies power to determine whether a particular employee falls within the category of the employment whose rates have been fixed under the notification and this power cannot be taken away by the State Government. 1958 Assam 12 (14) [AIR V 45 C 4] (DB) * 1960 Assam 97 (99) [AIR V 47 C 27] (DB).

[13] An authority appointed to hear and decide the claim under S. 20 of the Minimum Wages Act has jurisdiction to determine the class to which the employee belongs. Where such authority fails to apply his mind at all to this question in spite of the employee's petition in that respect, the order passed under S. 20 is manifestly erroneous and liable to be set aside. 1960 Assam 123 (126) [AIR V 47 C 34] (DB).

[14] Where the unit for which minimum rate of wages has been prescribed is a day and the minimum wages which had been prescribed for each day is divided into two parts, one for the normal working day of nine hours, and the other for the overtime, the question whether an employee had worked overtime on any particular date enters into the determination of the question whether he has been paid the minimum rate of wages. Hence the authority constituted under the section is entitled to decide whether the applicant had worked overtime and if he had, to award him the higher rate as fixed under the Act or under any other law for the time being in force. 1956 Bom 95 (96, 97) [AIR V 43 C 25] (DB).

[15] Where the employer has failed to give weekly holidays to the employees working on monthly wage basis the authority can direct the employer to give the workers such holidays and not any additional remuneration for the work done during these holidays. 1960 All 724 (727, 728) [AIR V 47 C 204]. (But they can be allowed compensation under cl. (ii) of sub-s. (2) of the section.) * (60) 1960-1 Mad L Jour 221 (223).

[16] Section 20 relates to past and not to future claims and hence there can be no direction under S. 20 (3) of the Act to pay minimum wages for a period subsequent to the presentation of a claim under S. 20 (2). 1957 Mad 69 (71) [AIR V 44 C 24] (DB).

[17] An employer not satisfied with an order made under this section cannot contest

(5) Any amount directed to be paid under this section may be recovered—

(a) if the Authority is a Magistrate, by the Authority as if it were a fine imposed by the Authority as a Magistrate, or

(b) if the Authority is not a Magistrate, by any Magistrate to whom the Authority makes application in this behalf, as if it were a fine imposed by such Magistrate.

(6) Every direction of the Authority under this section shall be final.

(7) Every Authority appointed under sub-section (1) shall have all the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the purpose of taking evidence and of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents, and every such Authority shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for all the purposes of section 195 and Chapter XXXV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

21. Single application in respect of a number of employees.

(1) [Subject to such rules as may be prescribed, a single application] may be presented under section 20 on behalf or in respect of any number of employees employed in the scheduled employment in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed and in such cases the maximum compensation which may be awarded under sub-section (3) of section 20 shall not exceed ten times the aggregate amount of such excess [or ten rupees per head, as the case may be.]

(2) The Authority may deal with any number of separate pending applications presented under section 20 in respect of employees in the scheduled employments in respect of which minimum rates of wages have been fixed, as a single application presented under sub-section (1) of this section and the provisions of that sub-section shall apply accordingly.

[a] Substituted for "A single application", by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 13 [17-9-1957]. [b] Added, ibid.

[18] Apart from the powers vested in the High Court under Arts. 226 and 227 of the Constitution, the order of the authority appointed under the Minimum Wages Act is subject to the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court under S. 115, Civil P. C. 1960 Assam 123 (125) [A I R V 47 C 34] (DB) * 1958 Assam 1 (5) [AIR V 45 C 1] : ILR (1957) 9 Assam 334 (DB).

[19] The High Court cannot, at the instance of a rival concern exercise its powers under Art. 226 of the Constitution to issue a writ of mandamus calling upon the Government to enforce the provisions of the Act by starting a prosecution against a concern which is not paying the minimum wages. The rival concern cannot maintain the petition under that Article on the ground that the enforcement of the provisions of the Act against it amounts to a denial of equality before law in violation of Art. 14 and of the right of free occupation and trade under Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution. 1955 Nag 33 (35) [(S) AIR V 42 C 8] : I L R (1954) Nag 839 : 1955 Cri L Jour 262 (DB).

Section 22 — Note 1

[1] On the application of a rival employer the High Court will not issue a writ of mandamus calling upon the Government to en-

- employee's class of work, or less than the amount due to him under the provisions of this Act, or

(b) contravenes any rule or order made under S. 13, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both:

Provided that in imposing any fine for an offence under this section, the Court shall take into consideration the amount of any compensation already awarded against the accused in any proceedings taken under S. 20.

[a] Sections 22, 22A and 22B were substituted for former S. 22 and sections 22C to 22F were added by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 14 [17-9-1957].

22A. General provision for punishment of other offences.

Any employer who contravenes any provision of this Act or of any rule or order made thereunder shall, if no other penalty is provided for such contravention by this Act, be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

22B. Cognizance of offences.

(1) No Court shall take cognizance of a complaint against any person for an offence—

(a) under clause (a) of section 22 unless an application in respect of the facts constituting such offence has been presented under section 20 and has been granted wholly or in part, and the appropriate Government or an officer authorised by it in this behalf has sanctioned the making of the complaint;

(b) under clause (b) of section 22 or under section 22A, except on a complaint made by, or with the sanction of, an Inspector.

(2) No Court shall take cognizance of an offence—

(a) under clause (a) or clause (b) of section 22, unless complaint thereof is made within one month of the grant of sanction under this section;

(b) under section 22A, unless complaint thereof is made within six months of the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

22C. Offences by companies.

(1) If the person committing any offence under this Act is a company, every person who at the time the offence was committed, was in charge of, and was responsible to, the company for the conduct of the business of the company as well as the company shall be deemed to be guilty of the offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly:

Provided that nothing contained in this sub-section shall render any such person liable to any punishment provided in this Act if he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent the commission of such offence.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where an offence under this Act has been committed by a company and it is proved that the offence has been committed with the consent or connivance of, or is attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other

Explanation. — For the purposes of this section, —

(a) “company” means any body corporate and includes a firm or other association of individuals, and

(b) “director” in relation to a firm means a partner in the firm.

22D. Payment of undisbursed amounts due to employees.

All amounts payable by an employer to an employee as the amount of minimum wages of the employee under this Act or otherwise due to the employee under this Act or any rule or order made thereunder shall, if such amounts could not or cannot be paid to the employee on account of his death before payment or on account of his whereabouts not being known, be deposited with the prescribed authority who shall deal with the money so deposited in such manner as may be prescribed.

22E. Protection against attachment of assets of employer with Government.

Any amount deposited with the appropriate Government by an employer to secure the due performance of a contract with that Government and any other amount due to such employer from that Government in respect of such contract shall not be liable to attachment under any decree or order of any Court in respect of any debt or liability incurred by the employer other than any debt or liability incurred by the employer towards any employee employed in connection with the contract aforesaid.

22F. Application of Payment of Wages Act, 1936, to scheduled employments.

(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the appropriate Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that, subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), all or any of the provisions of the said Act shall with such modifications, if any, as may be specified in the notification, apply to wages payable to employees in such scheduled employments as may be specified in the notification.

(2) Where all or any of the provisions of the said Act are applied to wages payable to employees in any scheduled employment under sub-section (1), the Inspector appointed under this Act shall be deemed to be the Inspector for the purpose of enforcement of the provisions so applied within the local limits of his jurisdiction.]

23. Exemption of employer from liability in certain cases.

Where an employer is charged with an offence against this Act, he shall be entitled, upon complaint duly made by him, to have any other person whom he charges as the actual offender, brought before the Court at the time appointed for hearing the charge; and if, after the commission of the offence has been proved, the employer proves to the satisfaction of the Court—

(a) that he has used due diligence to enforce the execution of this Act, and

(b) that the said other person committed the offence in question without his knowledge, consent or connivance, that other person shall be convicted of the offence and shall be liable to the like punishment as if he were the employer and the employer shall be discharged :

Provided that in seeking to prove, as aforesaid, the employer may be examined on oath, and the evidence of the employer or his witness, if any, shall be subject to cross-examination by or on behalf of the person whom the employer charges as the actual offender and by the prosecution.

24. Bar of suits.

No Court shall entertain any suit for the recovery of wages in so far as the sum so claimed—

- (a) forms the subject of an application under section 20 which has been presented by or on behalf of the plaintiff, or
- (b) has formed the subject of a direction under that section in favour of the plaintiff, or
- (c) has been adjudged in any proceeding under that section not to be due to the plaintiff, or
- (d) could have been recovered by an application under that section.

25. Contracting out.

Any contract or agreement, whether made before or after the commencement of this Act, whereby an employee either relinquishes or reduces his right to a minimum rate of wages or any privilege or concession accruing to him under this Act shall be null and void in so far as it purports to reduce the minimum rate of wages fixed under this Act.

26. Exemptions and exceptions.

(1) The appropriate Government may, subject to such conditions if any as it may think fit to impose, direct that the provisions of this Act shall not apply in relation to the wages payable to disabled employees.

(2) The appropriate Government may, if for special reasons it thinks so fit, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that "[subject to such conditions and] for such period as it may specify the provisions of this Act or any of them shall not apply to all or any class of employees employed in any scheduled employment or to any locality where there is carried on a scheduled employment.

<sup>b</sup>[(2A) The appropriate Government may, if it is of opinion that, having regard to the terms and conditions of service applicable to any class of employees in a scheduled employment generally or in a scheduled employment in a local area "[or to any establishment or a part of any establishment in a scheduled employment] it is not necessary to fix minimum wages in respect of such employees of that class "[or in respect of employees in such establishment or such part of any establishment] as are in receipt of wages exceeding such limit as may be prescribed in this behalf, direct, by notification in the Official Gazette and subject to such conditions, if any, as it may think fit to impose,

[1] Section 24, though it does not expressly refer to an employer, bars a suit by him to agitate his liability to pay wages in accordance with the order made under S. 20. 1957 Raj 35 (36) [A I R V 44 C 15] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 74 (DB). (Hence there is no obstacle to his obtaining redress in an application under Art. 226 of the Constitution against the order.)

Section 26 — Note 1

[1] The granting of an exemption to certain areas from the operation of the Act by issuing a notification is not, and cannot be, equivalent to a repeal of the Act. It amounts only to a suspension of its operation. 1960 Bom 299 (310) [AIR V 47 C 86] : ILR (1959) Bom 1175 (DB). (Hence on the withdrawal of the exemption the Act would validly apply to that area.)

[2] A notification, granting the exemption from the application of the Act, issued under sub-s. (2) of S. 26 by the appropriate Government and the subsequent withdrawal of the said exemption by a notification are administrative acts and not quasi-judicial acts. 1959 Bom 538 (541) [AIR V 46 C 166] : ILR (1959) Bom 462 (DB). (Hence it is not necessary for the State Government to conform to the principles of natural justice before issuing the notification withdrawing the exemption already granted.)

[3] Though the withdrawal of the exemption already granted is an administrative act the notification of the Government withdrawing the exemption must fail on the ground of it being arbitrary, invalid and illegal where the Government which heard the employees before making the order failed to give an opportunity to the employers also to put forward their case. 1959 Bom 538 (542) [A I R V 46 C 166] : ILR (1959) Bom 462 (DB).

that the provisions of this Act or any of them shall not apply in relation to such employees.]

(3) Nothing in this Act shall apply to the wages payable by an employer to a member of his family who is living with him and is dependent on him.

Explanation.—In this sub-section a member of the employer's family shall be deemed to include his or her spouse or child or parent or brother or sister.

[a] Inserted by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 15 [17-9-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid, 1954 (XXVI of 1954), S. 5 [20-5-1954].

27. Power of State Government to add to Schedule.

The appropriate Government, after giving by notification in the Official Gazette not less than three months' notice of its intention so to do, may, by like notification, add to either Part of the Schedule any employment in respect of which it is of opinion that minimum rates of wages should be fixed under this Act, and thereupon the Schedule shall in its application to the <sup>A</sup>[State] be deemed to be amended accordingly.

28. Power of Central Government to give directions.

The Central Government may give directions to a <sup>A</sup>[State Government] as to the carrying into execution of this Act in the <sup>A</sup>[State].

29. Power of the Central Government to make rules.

The Central Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules<sup>a</sup> prescribing the term of office of the members, the procedure to be followed in the conduct of business, the method of voting, the manner of filling up casual vacancies in membership and the quorum necessary for the transaction of business of the Central Advisory Board.

[a] For the Minimum Wages (Central) Rules, 1950, see Gaz. of Ind., 1950, Pt. II, S. 3, page 781.

30. Power of appropriate Government to make rules.

(1) The appropriate Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules<sup>a</sup> for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

Section 27 — Note 1

[1] Under S. 27 there is no illegal or unconstitutional delegation of legislative powers by the legislature. By that section the legislature has not stripped itself of its essential powers and assigned to the administrative authority anything more than an accessory or subordinate power which was deemed necessary to carry out the purpose and the policy of the Act. Hence the section is neither illegal nor unconstitutional. 1955 S C 25 (33) [A I R V 42 C 7] : 1955 S C R 735. (AIR 1953 Ajmer 65, Affirmed.)

[2] The State Government can add a new employment to the schedule only in exercise of its powers under S. 27 and not under S. 5 (2). The contents of the power conferred by S. 27 being wider than those by S. 5 (2) it cannot do under the latter provision all that it can do under the former. 1960 S C 1068 (1072) [AIR V 47 C 192]. (Under S. 5 (2) the State Government can extend the Act only to an employment which is already in the Schedule. Hence where the question is whether a notification issued under that section is within its power what is to be seen is whether the employment to which the Act has been applied is already a scheduled employment. If not the notification is one in excess of its powers.)

[3] A notification issued under S. 27 need not prescribe any time limit for the introduction of the minimum rates of wages in the newly added industry. If any such time-limit has been prescribed by the notification that cannot acquire the status of a statutory duty or obligation and render an act invalid for the non-observance of its requirements. Hence the notification of the Government fixing the minimum wages for that industry is valid even though it has been issued only after the expiry of the self-imposed time-limit. 1957 Trav-Co 136 (138) [AIR V 44 C 42] (DB).

[4] Where the Chief Commissioner of the Province, after applying his mind to the question, ordered the Secretary to the Government to issue a notification under S. 27, it was held that the notification issued by the Secretary could not become vitiated on the ground that the Secretary did not obtain the approval of the Chief Commissioner for the draft notification before it was actually issued. 1953 Ajmer 65 (72) [AIR V 40 C 70].

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

- (a) prescribe the term of office of the members, the procedure to be followed in the conduct of business, the method of voting, the manner of filling up casual vacancies in membership and the quorum necessary for the transaction of business of the committees, sub-committees, <sup>b</sup>[* * *] and the Advisory Board;
- (b) prescribe the method of summoning witnesses, production of documents relevant to the subject-matter of the enquiry before the committees, sub-committees, <sup>b</sup>[* * *] and the Advisory Board;
- (c) prescribe the mode of computation of the cash value of wages in kind and of concessions in respect of supplies of essential commodities at concession rates;
- (d) prescribe the time and conditions of payment of, and the deductions permissible from, wages;
- (e) provide for giving adequate publicity to the minimum rates of wages fixed under this Act;
- (f) provide for a day of rest in every period of seven days and for the payment of remuneration in respect of such day;
- (g) prescribe the number of hours of work which shall constitute a normal working day;
- (h) prescribe the cases and circumstances in which an employee employed for a period of less than the requisite number of hours constituting a normal working day shall not be entitled to receive wages for a full normal working day;
- (i) prescribe the form of registers and records to be maintained and the particulars to be entered in such registers and records;
- (j) provide for the issue of wage books and wage slips and prescribe the manner of making and authenticating entries in wage books and wage slips;
- (k) prescribe the powers of Inspectors for purposes of this Act;
- (l) regulate the scale of costs that may be allowed in proceedings under section 20;
- (m) prescribe the amount of court-fees payable in respect of proceedings under section 20; and
- (n) provide for any other matter which is to be or may be prescribed.

[a] Rules have been framed by the Governments of the States of Andhra Pradesh (1954), Bihar (1951), Bombay (1951), Kerala (1951), Madhya Pradesh (1951), Mysore (1951), Orissa (1954), Punjab (1950), Rajasthan (1951) and Uttar Pradesh (1952). [b] The words "advisory committees, advisory sub-committees" were omitted by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 16 [17-9-1957].

'[31. Validation of fixation of certain minimum rates of wages.

<sup>b</sup>(1) Where during the period commencing on the 1st day of April, 1952, and ending with the date of commencement<sup>23</sup> of the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1954, minimum rates of wages have been fixed by an appropriate Government as being payable to employees employed in any employment specified in Part I of the Schedule in the belief or purported belief that such rates were being fixed under sub-clause (i) of clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 3, such rates shall be deemed to have been fixed in accordance with law, and shall not be called in question in any Court on the ground merely that the date specified in that sub-clause had expired at the time the rates were fixed :

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall extend, or be construed to extend, to affect any person with any punishment or penalty whatsoever by reason of the payment by him by way of wages to any of his employees during the period specified in this section an amount which is less than the minimum rates of wages referred to in this section or by reason of non-compliance during the period aforesaid with any order or rule issued under section 13.]

“(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall apply in relation to minimum rates of wages fixed by an appropriate Government during the period commencing on the 31st day of December 1954, and ending with the date of commencement<sup>d</sup> of the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957, as they apply in relation to minimum rates of wages fixed by an appropriate Government during the period commencing on the 1st day of April 1952, and ending with the date of commencement<sup>aa</sup> of the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1954, subject to the modification that for the words, figures, brackets and letter ‘employment specified in Part I of the Schedule in the belief or purported belief that such rates were being fixed under sub-clause (i) of clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 3’, the words, figures, brackets and letter ‘employment specified in Part I or Part II of the Schedule in the belief or purported belief that such rates were being fixed under sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii) of clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 3’ shall be substituted.]

[a] Section 31 was added by the Minimum Wages Act, 1954 (XXVI of 1954), S. 6 [20-5-1954]. [aa] That is, 20th May 1954. [b] Section 31 was renumbered as sub-section (1) thereof, ibid 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 17 [17-9-1957]. [c] Inserted, ibid. [d] That is, 17th September 1957.

THE SCHEDULE

[See sections 2(g) and 27]

PART I<sup>a</sup>

1. Employment in any woollen carpet making or shawl weaving establishment.
2. Employment in any rice mill, flour mill or dal mill.
3. Employment in any tobacco (including bidi making) manufactory.
4. Employment in any plantation, that is to say, any estate which is maintained for the purpose of growing cinchona, rubber, tea or coffee.
5. Employment in any oil mill.
6. Employment under any local authority.
- <sup>b</sup>7. Employment on the construction or maintenance of roads or in building operations.]
8. Employment in stone breaking or stone crushing.
9. Employment in any lac manufactory.
10. Employment in any mica works.

Schedule, Part I, Item 3 — Note 1

[1] The word ‘manufactory’ used in the schedule has for the purposes of the Act to be construed in such a manner as to include within its scope process of Bidi making carried on by the employees at their residences. 1960 Madh-Pra 181 (183) [A I R V 47 C 88] : 1960 Cri L Jour 915.

[2] Employment in an establishment where bidis are not actually made but bidis made by Contractors are received, sorted out, paid for and packed for market cannot be regarded as employment in the manufacture of bidis within the meaning of Item 3. 1960 Madh-Pra 174 (174) [A I R V 47 C 82] : 1960 Cri L Jour 832.

Schedule, Part I, Item 4 — Note 1

[1] A plantation maintained for the purpose of growing tea whether for collecting leaves or for collecting seeds will fall within the ambit of Item 4 of Part I of the schedule. 1958 Assam 153 (156) [AIR V 45 C 39] : ILR (1958) 10 Assam 104 (DB).

[2] The schedule does not indicate that the employee must be concerned in the matter of either growing tea or plucking or manufacturing it. Hence a compounder working in a tea estate is entitled to get his wages at the rates prescribed by the Government. 1960 Assam 22 (24) [AIR V 47 C 6] (DB).

Schedule, Part I, Item 8 — Note 1

[1] The stone breaking or stone crushing operations carried on in mines are not covered by item 8 of the schedule. 1960 S C 1068 (1072) [AIR V 47 C 192]. (AIR 1958 Bom 332, Reversed.)

Schedule, Part I, Item 10 — Note 1

[1] ‘Mica works’ is a general term of widest possible import, and includes all kinds of works in relation to mica including mining. Mines are also worked, and must be included in the general term ‘Mica works’. 1957 Raj 35 (36) [A I R V 44 C 15] : I L R (1957) 7 Raj 74 (DB).

11. Employment in public motor transport.
12. Employment in tanneries and leather manufactory.

[a] Part I of this Schedule has been amended by notifications published from time to time in the Official Gazettes of the States of Assam, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Orissa and Punjab. [b] Substituted and deemed always to have been substituted for item 7, by the Minimum Wages (Amendment) Act, 1957 (XXX of 1957), S. 18.

PART II

1. Employment in agriculture, that is to say, in any form of farming, including the cultivation and tillage of the soil, dairy farming, the production, cultivation, growing and harvesting of any agricultural or horticultural commodity, the raising of live-stock, bees or poultry, and any practice performed by a farmer or on a farm as incidental to or in conjunction with farm operations (including any forestry or timbering operations and the preparation for market and delivery to storage or to market or to carriage for transportation to market of farm produce).

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"It has been recognised now for some years past that the Indian Motor Vehicles Act, 1914, which was framed to suit conditions at an early stage of development of motor transport, is no longer adequate to deal with conditions brought about by the rapid growth of motor transport in the past two decades. In the interests alike of the safety and convenience of the public and of the development of a co-ordinated system of transport, much closer control is required than the present Act permits, and it is necessary to take powers to regulate transport.

The question of the co-ordination of road and railway and the methods by which the object can be secured consistently with the public interest has engaged the attention of the Government of India for some years past. As early as 1933, Messrs. Mitchell and Kirkness carried out, at the instance of the Government of India, an enquiry into these problems and submitted a report in which they emphasised the importance of early action. The Road-Rail Conference convened by the Government of India in the same year passed a resolution, inter alia recommending control of public service and goods motor transport. In January 1935 the first Transport Advisory Council made definite recommendations to the same effect. In the following year, a Bill was framed to give effect to these recommendations which was approved by the second Transport Advisory Council who also recommended a complete overhaul of the Act of 1914 at an early date and the appointment of a committee to enquire into and report on the subject of compulsory insurance of motor vehicles.

A Bill was introduced in August 1936 to amend the Act of 1914 on certain points. It was, however, recognised then that a more comprehensive measure would have to follow. The Legislature decided that the Bill should be circulated and this was done, but before further action could be taken on it, the reports of the Motor Vehicles Insurance Committee and of the Wedgwood Committee were received. Government decided that in the circumstances it was preferable to drop the partial measure and to present a more comprehensive Bill. The present Bill incorporates the main recommendations of both these Committees and is the outcome of consultations with Provincial Governments and the third Transport Advisory Council which deliberated on it in December last. The principle of compulsory insurance has been approved by almost all the Provincial Governments, though there are differences of opinion as to whether its adoption should be entirely optional or whether, in the interests of uniformity, its adoption within a certain period of time should be obligatory."

AMENDING ACT C OF 1956

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, save for Chapter VIII relating to the insurance of motor vehicles against third party risks (which came into force on 1st July, 1946) has been in force since July, 1939, in Part A and C States and since 1st April, 1951, in Part B States. As war broke out soon after the promulgation of the Act, it could not be given a trial under normal conditions. Nevertheless, it did succeed in bringing about improved standards of driving and road safety and greater co-ordination among the competitive "small-owners" of transport vehicles. Shortly after the conclusion of the war, the need was felt for amending the Act generally with a view to removing the defects revealed in practice and ensuring better co-ordination of road and rail transport. An amending Bill was accordingly introduced in the Central Legislative Assembly in 1946 and it reached the stage of a report by a Select Committee. Its further progress was halted for a time by the constitutional changes leading to independence. Subsequently, other developments like the nationalisation of road transport in many States necessitated reconsideration of the proposed amendments. In the meantime, the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1947, was passed in order to establish reciprocity between the Provinces of British India and the Indian States in the matter of third party insurance of motor vehicles. This Act was, however, not brought into force on account of the constitutional changes that had taken place and it was repealed under the Repealing and Amending Act, 1950.

With the finalisation of the First Five Year Plan and discussion on the draft schemes for inclusion in the Second Five Year Plan, the trend of road transport development has become more clearly known and the time is now opportune to introduce legislation to amend the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939. This Bill includes most of the provisions of the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Bill, 1946, as reported on by the Select Committee, as also various new amendments.

Some of the more important amendments are as follows :

- (1) The existing classification of motor vehicles based on the use to which they are put is being replaced by a classification based on the type of construction of the vehicles.
- (2) It has been found necessary to provide for the licensing of conductors and a new Chapter II-A is being introduced for the purpose.
- (3) The Central Government will have permissive powers to regulate inter-State operation of transport vehicles. At present, there is no proper regulation of inter-State traffic with the result that on many inter-State routes, passengers and goods have to be transferred to other vehicles at inter-State borders. A stage has reached when it is necessary, in the public interest, to take suitable measures to regulate the inter-State operation of transport vehicles.

- (4) The necessity to amend the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, is most urgent in regard to the operation of road transport services by 'nationalised' agencies. The Act, in its present form, contains no provisions relating to the introduction or expansion of nationalised transport services. Some States have either amended the Act with local effect only, or promoted separate legislation, to implement their schemes of nationalisation of road transport. It is considered desirable to have a uniform law relating to the nationalisation of road transport services. With this end in view, a new Chapter IV-A has been inserted and provision has been made therein for payment of compensation to any holder of a permit, if his permit is cancelled or the terms thereof are modified.
- (5) The State Governments are being empowered to set up tribunals to determine and award damages in cases of accidents involving the death of, or bodily injury to, persons arising out of the use of motor vehicles and also to adjudicate on the liability of the insurer in respect of payment of damages awarded. At present a Court decree has to be obtained before the obligation of an insurance company to meet claims can be enforced. The amendment is designed to remove the existing difficulty experienced by persons of limited means in preferring claims on account of injury or death caused by motor vehicles.
- (6) Several State Governments had pointed out that the offences relating to motor vehicles were on the increase mainly because the penalties provided in Chapter IX were inadequate. Provision has, therefore, been made to enhance the penalties of fine and also to introduce the punishment of imprisonment for more serious offences."

[THE] MOTOR VEHICLES ACT, 1939

(ACT IV OF 1939)<sup>a</sup>

[16th February, 1939.]

An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to motor vehicles.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to motor vehicles [* * *]; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

[a] For the Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gazette of India, 1938, Pt. V, p. 114; for Report of the Select Committee, see ibid., p. 187. For the Statement of Objects and Reasons of the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1958 (C of 1958), see Gaz. of Ind., 1955, Extra., Pt. II-section 2, page 624; and for Report of Joint Committee, see ibid., 1956, Extra., Pt. II-section 2, page 855/24. This Act has been applied to—All excluded areas in Assam by Assam Government Notification No. 2806-G. S., dated 14th August 1939; The Darjeeling District see Notification Nos. 1771-PL, dated 15th August, 1939, Calcutta Gazette, dated 24th August, 1939 and Bengal Government Notification No. 2393-PL, dated 1st December 1939.

The Act as applied to Railway Lands in Rajputana came into force on 15th January, 1944, see Notification No. P/L-36, dated 13th January, 1944, Gazette of India, 1944, Pt. I-A, p. 10.

This Act has been extended to new provinces and merged States by the Merged States (Laws) Act, 1949 (LIX of 1949), S. 3 [1-1-1950] and to the States of Manipur, Tripura and Vindhya Pradesh by the Union Territories (Laws) Act, 1950 (XXX of 1950), S. 3 [16-4-1950].

The Act has been extended to the States merged in the former State of Bombay—See Bom. Act IV of 1950.

All the provisions of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, as amended from time to time and all rules, orders, notifications and forms thereunder, subject to any amendments to which for the time being they are subject in the rest of Assam, have been applied to, and deemed to be in force in, the United Khasi Jaintia Hills Districts as were known as the Khasi States before the commencement of the Constitution and in which the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, was not in force.—See the Assam Regulation IX of 1951, S. 2 [8-8-1951].

The Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, as in force in the Union territory of Delhi immediately before the 19th June, 1959, is applied to, and shall be in force in, Pondicherry subject to certain modifications; the Motor Vehicles International Circulation Rules, 1933, the Motor Vehicles (Third Party Insurance) Rules, 1946 and any other rules, notifications and orders made or issued under the said Act and similarly in force, in so far as their application is required for the purpose of effectively applying the provisions of the said Act, are also applied to, and shall be in force in, Pondicherry.—The Pondicherry (Application of Motor Vehicles Act) Order, 1959, Para. 2.19-6-1959, (C.S.R. 715, D/-27-5-1959, published in Gaz. Ind., 1959, Pt. II-section 3 (i), page 880).

[b] The words "in the provinces of India" were omitted by A.L.O., 1950.

CHAPTER I PRELIMINARY

1. Short title, extent and commencement.

(1) This Act may be called THE MOTOR VEHICLES ACT, 1939.

[(2) It extends to the whole of India except the State of Jammu and Kashmir:

Preamble — Note 1

[1] Although Motor traffic also falls within the expression "Commerce" in Article 301 of the Constitution and therefore the Motor Vehicles Act which imposes restrictions on Motor traffic is repugnant to that Article the Act has not become unconstitutional on the ground of that repugnancy because as an "existing law" it has been saved by Article 305 of the Constitution from the operation

Provided that Chapter VIII shall take effect in the State of Kerala only from such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint; and until that Chapter so takes effect in that State, Chapter VII of the Travancore-Cochin Motor Vehicles Act, 1125, shall have effect in that State as if enacted in this Act.]

[a] Substituted for former sub-sections (2) and (3) by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1960 (V of 1960), S. 2 [w. e. f. 1-6-1960].

2. Definitions.

In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) “axle weight” means in relation to an axle of a vehicle the total weight transmitted by the several wheels attached to that axle to the surface whereon the vehicle rests;

(2) “certificate of registration” means the certificate issued by a competent authority to the effect that a motor vehicle has been duly registered in accordance with the provisions of Chapter III:

*[(2A) “Commission” means the Inter-State Transport Commission constituted under section 63A;]

[a] Clauses (2A), (2B) and (2C) were inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (a) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

*[(2B) “conductor,” in relation to a stage carriage, means a person engaged in collecting fares from passengers, regulating their entrance into, or exit from, the stage carriage and performing such other functions as may be prescribed;]

[a] See Foot-note (a) under Cl. (2A).

*[(2C) “conductor’s licence” means the document issued by a competent authority under Chapter IIA authorizing the person specified therein to act as a conductor;]

[a] See Foot-note (a) under Cl. (2-A).

(3) “contract carriage” means a motor vehicle which carries a passenger or passengers for hire or reward under a contract expressed or implied for the use of the vehicle as a whole at or for a fixed or agreed rate or sum and from one point to another without stopping to pick up or set down along the line of route passengers not included in the contract; and includes a motor cab notwithstanding that the passengers may pay separate fares;

*[* * * * *]
[a] Explanation to cl. (3), was omitted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2. (b) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

*[(4) * * * * *]

[a] Clause (4) was omitted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2. (c) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

(5) “driver” includes, where a separate person acts as steersman of a motor vehicle, that person as well as any other person engaged in the driving of the vehicle;

*[(5A) “driving licence” means the document issued by a competent authority under Chapter II authorising the person specified therein to drive a motor vehicle or a motor vehicle of any specified class or description;]

[a] Inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2. (d) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

of Article 301. 1953 Mad 279 (294) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304.

[2] There is no provision in the Act which has provided for the confiscation of property by the State or gives it a monopoly in motor business and therefore, the Act cannot be declared to have become ultra vires after the commencement of the Constitution. 1956 Pat 73(76) [(S) AIR V 43 C 20]. (Held, further that even if it had become ultra vires the effect of the first amendment to the Constitution relating to Art. 19 in view of its retrospective operation is that the Act must be treated as not having become ultra vires at all.)

- (6) "fares" includes sums payable for a season ticket or in respect of the hire of a contract carriage;
- (7) "goods" includes live-stock, and anything (other than equipment ordinarily used with the vehicle) carried by a vehicle except living persons, but does not include luggage or personal effects carried in a motor car or in a trailer attached to a motor car or the personal luggage of passengers travelling in the vehicle;
- (8) "goods vehicle" means any motor vehicle constructed or adapted for use for the carriage of goods, or any motor vehicle not so constructed or adapted when used for the carriage of goods solely or in addition to passengers;

*[(9) "heavy motor vehicle" means a transport vehicle or omnibus the registered laden weight of which, or a motor car or tractor the unladen weight of which, exceeds <sup>b</sup>[8,200 kilograms];]

[a] Substituted for the original clause by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (e) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] Substituted for the figures and words "18,000 pounds avoirdupois" by the Motor Vehicles (Second Amendment) Act, 1960 (LI of 1960), S. 2 [w. e. f. 1-1-1961].

*[(9A) "India" means the territories to which this Act extends;]

[a] Inserted by the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

(10) "invalid carriage" means a motor vehicle the unladen weight of which does not exceed <sup>a</sup>[300 kilograms], specially designed and constructed, and not merely adapted, for the use of a person suffering from some physical defect or disability, and used solely by or for such a person;

[a] Substituted for the words "five hundredweights" by the Motor Vehicles (Second Amendment) Act, 1960 (LI of 1960), S. 2 [w. e. f. 1-1-1961].

*[(11) * * * * *]

[a] Clause (11) was omitted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2. (f) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

(12) "licensing authority" means an authority empowered to grant licences appointed by the State Government by rule made under section 21 <sup>a</sup>[or section 21];]

[a] Added by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2. (g) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

*[(13) "light motor vehicle" means a transport vehicle or omnibus the

Section 2 (8) — Note 1

[1] A private carrier which is adapted for the use of the carriage of goods is a goods vehicle within the definition of S. 2 (8). 1959 All 373 (374) [AIR V 46 C 87].

[2] A motor vehicle constructed or adapted for use for the carriage of goods is at all times a goods vehicle whether or not it is actually carrying goods. 1958 Ker 249 (250) [AIR V 45 C 88] · ILR (1958) Ker 372 : 1958 Cri L Jour 1031.

[3] A goods truck is not a public service vehicle falling within the definition contained in S. 2 (25) but is only a goods vehicle as defined in S. 2 (8). 1953 Pat 130 (130) [AIR V 40 C 39] : 1953 Cri L Jour 914. (Hence the conditions contained in R. 4 (b) of the Bihar Motor Vehicles Rules of 1940 need not be complied with for driving a goods truck.)

[4] A motor car which is used only on two occasions to carry newspaper bundles to railway station comes within the definition of a goods vehicle contained in the second part of S. 2 (8) even though it cannot be said in relation to that car that it is used solely for the carriage of goods or solely for the carriage of goods in addition to passengers. The word "solely" in the section is used only in contradistinction to the words which follow namely "in addition to passengers." 1945 Mad 440 (440, 441) [AIR V 32] : ILR (1946) Mad 222 : 47 Cri L Jour 233.

Section 2 (9) — Note 1

[1] A bus or a taxi whatever may be its weight is not a heavy transport vehicle within the meaning of S. 2 (9). 1955 Mad 627 (628) [AIR V 42 C 194] : 1955 Cri L Jour 1506. (Hence a charge against the owner of a bus weighing 15,900 for permitting a driver holding a licence for a light transport vehicle to drive that bus cannot stand.)

Section 2 (13) — Note 1

[1] A bus or a taxi irrespective of its weight would come within the definition of a light transport vehicle contained in S. 2 (13). 1955 Mad 627 (628) [AIR V 42 C 194] : 1955 Cri L Jour 1506.

registered laden weight of which, or a motor car or tractor the unladen weight of which, does not exceed <sup>b</sup>[3,000 kilograms];]

[a] Substituted for cl. (13) by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (h) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] Substituted for the figures and words "6,000 pounds avoirdupois" by the Motor Vehicles (Second Amendment) Act, 1960 (LI of 1960), S. 2 [w. e. f. 1-1-1961].

*[(14) "medium motor vehicle" means any motor vehicle other than a motor cycle, invalid carriage, light motor vehicle, heavy motor vehicle or road-roller;]

[a] Substituted for cl. (14) by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (h) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

(15) "motor cab" means any motor vehicle constructed, adapted or used to carry not more than six passengers excluding the driver, for hire or reward;

(16) "motor car" means any motor vehicle other than a transport vehicle, <sup>a</sup>[omnibus], road-roller, tractor, motor cycle or invalid carriage;

[a] Substituted for "locomotive", by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (i) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

(17) "motor cycle" means a motor vehicle, other than an invalid carriage, with less than four wheels the unladen weight of which, inclusive of any side-car attached to the vehicle, does not exceed <sup>a</sup>[500 kilograms];

[a] Substituted for the figures and words "900 pounds avoirdupois" by the Motor Vehicles (Second Amendment) Act, 1960 (LI of 1960), S. 2 [w. e. f. 1-1-1961].

(18) "motor vehicle" means any mechanically propelled vehicle adapted for use upon roads whether the power of propulsion is transmitted thereto from an external or internal source and includes a chassis to which a body has not been attached and a trailer; but does not include a vehicle running upon fixed rails or <sup>a</sup>[a vehicle of a special type adapted for use only in a factory or in any other enclosed premises];

[a] Substituted for "used solely upon the premises of the owner" by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (j) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

<sup>a</sup>[(18-A) "omnibus" means any motor vehicle constructed or adapted to carry more than six persons excluding the driver;]

[a] Inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (k) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Under section 2 (15) a "motor cab" has been defined to mean a motor vehicle which may carry not more than six passengers excluding the driver. In the proposed clause (18-A), 'omnibus' has been defined to mean any motor vehicle which may carry more than seven persons excluding the driver. When a motor vehicle is constructed for carrying seven persons only excluding the driver, it comes neither within the definition of 'motor cab' nor within the definition of 'omnibus'. To remove this defect, the Committee have in the definition of 'omnibus' substituted the words "six persons" for "seven persons".

—J. C. R. of Amending Act C of 1956.

(19) "owner" means, where the person in possession of a motor vehicle is a minor, the guardian of such minor, and in relation to a motor vehicle which is the subject of a hire purchase agreement, the person in possession of the vehicle under that agreement;

Section 2 (19) — Note 1

[1] The definition of "owner" in the Motor Vehicles Act is not exhaustive and so the word must be taken to mean, what it ordinarily means, namely a person in whom the proprietary title vests. Hence a manager of a limited company who is only an agent of the company and who cannot be described to be an owner of the things vesting in the company cannot be regarded as the owner of a motor vehicle belonging to the company for the purposes of the Act. 1950 All 234 (237) [AIR V 37 C 89] : 51 Cri L Jour 734.

[2] A person who is not the guardian of a minor in possession of a motor vehicle and who is in possession as the purchaser under an outright sale and not under hire purchase contract cannot claim the benefit of the definition of an "owner" contained in S. 2 (19). (60) 1960-1 Andh W R 293 (295).

(20) "permit" means the document issued by <sup>a</sup>[the Commission or] a State or Regional Transport Authority authorizing the use of a transport vehicle as a contract carriage, or stage carriage, or authorizing the owner as a private carrier or public carrier to use such vehicle ;

[a] Inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (d) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

(21) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(22) "private carrier" means an owner of a transport vehicle other than a public carrier who uses that vehicle solely for the carriage of goods which are his property or the carriage of which is necessary for the purposes of his business not being a business of providing transport, or who uses the vehicle for any of the purposes specified in sub-section (2) of section 42;

(23) "public carrier" means an owner of a transport vehicle who transports or undertakes to transport goods, or any class of goods, for another person at any time and in any public place for hire or reward, whether in pursuance of the terms of a contract or agreement or otherwise, and includes any person, body, association or company engaged in the business of carrying the goods of persons associated with that person, body, association or company for the purpose of having their goods transported ;

(24) "public place" means a road, street, way or other place, whether a thoroughfare or not, to which the public have a right of access, and includes any place or stand at which passengers are picked up or set down by a stage carriage;

(25) "public service vehicle" means any motor vehicle used or adapted to be used for the carriage of passengers for hire or reward, and includes a motor cab, contract carriage, and stage carriage;

<sup>a</sup>[(26) "registered axle weight" means, in respect of the axle of any vehicle, the axle weight certified and registered by the registering authority as permissible for that axle;]

[a] Substituted for the original clause, by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (m) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

(27) "registered laden weight" means in respect of any vehicle the total weight of the vehicle and load certified and registered by the registering authority as permissible for that vehicle;

Section 2 (20) — Note 1

[1] The fact that the permits granted by the Regional Transport Authority under S. 62 are to be effective only for a limited period does not exclude them from the definition given in S. 2 (20). 1959 Punj 1 (7) [AIR V 46 C 1] : ILR (1958) Punj 1590 (FB).

[2] A renewed permit is nothing but a continuation of the original permit. 1957 S C 489 (492) [(S) AIR V 44 C 74] : 1957 S C R 663. (Hence cancellation of the original permit automatically puts an end to the renewal also.)

[3] A permit as defined in S. 2 (20) relates only to a specified vehicle and not to any other vehicle possessed or owned by the permit holder. 1960 All 247 (250) [AIR V 47 C 56].

place under the Act, it must be a road, street, way or a place over which the public have a right to pass or to which the public are granted access. As the rights of private citizens are concerned, the expression has to be construed strictly. 1938 Lah 817 (818) [AIR V 25] : 40 Cri L Jour 284. (Houses situated on two sides of motor stand of petitioner — City wall running along third side — Fourth side open and looking towards public street — Land privately owned and leased out to petitioner — Deep city drain passing through portion leased — Bridge constructed to cross city drain — Lorries of petitioner parked over bridge — Held that the place was not public place.)

Section 2 (25) — Note 1

[1] A goods truck is not a public service vehicle. 1958 Madh Pra 29 (29) [AIR V 45 C 16] : 1958 Cri L Jour 51 + 1953 Pat 130 (130, 131) [AIR V 40 C 39] : 1953 Cri L Jour 914. (It is a goods vehicle within S. 2 (8).)

Section 2 (24) — Note 1

[1] The mere fact that a place would be styled as a public place for the purposes of the Gambling Act and the Penal Code, does not necessarily mean that it is a public place as defined in this Act. To make it a public

- (28) "registering authority" means an authority empowered to register motor vehicles under Chapter III;
- (29) "stage carriage" means a motor vehicle carrying or adapted to carry more than six persons excluding the driver which carries passengers for hire or reward at separate fares paid by or for individual passengers, either for the whole journey or for stages of the journey;

[a] Clause (29-A), inserted by A. L. O., 1950, was omitted by the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951].

CLAUSE (29-B)

STATE AMENDMENT

ORISSA

After clause (29-A) insert the following, namely,—

"(29-B) 'State Transport Service' means a service in which the State Government have entire or partial financial interest and which the State Government may, by notification, declare to be a State Transport Service for the purposes of this Act."

—Orissa Act I of 1949, S. 2.

[a] The remaining provisions of this Orissa Act I of 1949, except section 1 which applies to the whole of the State of Orissa, are, by notifications published in the State Gazette, brought into force in the districts of Angul and Sambalpur on 1-5-1949; Cuttack, Balasore and Mayurbhanj on 7-3-1950; Dhenakanal on 1-11-1950; and Bolangir and Sundargarh on 4-6-1951. And from the date of the notification the provisions of Orissa Act XXXVI of 1947, are repealed in respect of the said districts. However, when the provisions so brought into force are withdrawn from the said districts the said Orissa Act XXXVI of 1947, shall be deemed to be revived in the said districts from the date of the publication of the notification of withdrawal (see section 1 (4) and (5) of Orissa Act I of 1949).

The Orissa Act I of 1949 is extended to the States merged in the State of Orissa from 30-9-1950—see Orissa Acts IV of 1950, S. 4 and XVI of 1950, S. 2 (vii).

- (30) "tractor" means a motor vehicle which is not itself constructed to carry any load (other than equipment used for the purpose of propulsion) *[* * *]; but excludes a road-roller;

[a] The words and figures "the unladen weight of which does not exceed 16,000 pounds avoirdupois" were omitted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (n) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

- (31) "traffic signs" includes all signals, warning sign posts, direction posts, or other devices for the information, guidance or direction of drivers of motor vehicles;

- (32) "trailer" means any vehicle other than a side-car drawn or intended to be drawn by a motor vehicle;

- *[(33) "transport vehicle" means a public service vehicle or a goods vehicle;]

[a] Substituted for the original clause, by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 2 (o) [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

- (34) "unladen weight" means the weight of a vehicle or trailer including all equipment ordinarily used with the vehicle or trailer when working, but excluding the weight of a driver or attendant; and where alternative parts or bodies are used the unladen weight of the vehicle means the weight of the vehicle with the heaviest such alternative part or body;

- (35) "weight" means the total weight transmitted for the time being by the wheels of a vehicle to the surface on which the vehicle rests.

Section 2 (33) — Note 1

[1] A private carrier which is a vehicle adopted for the use of the carriage of goods is a transport vehicle. 1959 All 373 (374) [AIR V 46 C 87].

CHAPTER II

LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF MOTOR VEHICLES

3. Necessity for driving licence.

(1) No person shall drive a motor vehicle in any public place unless he holds an effective <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] issued to himself authorizing him to drive the vehicle; and no person shall so drive a motor vehicle as a paid employee or shall so drive a <sup>b</sup>[transport vehicle] unless his <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] specifically entitles him so to do.

(2) A <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may prescribe the conditions subject to which sub-section (1) shall not apply to a person receiving instruction in driving a motor vehicle.

•[(3) * * * * *

[a] Substituted for "licence" by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 3 [w.e.f. 18-2-1957]. [b] Substituted for "public service vehicle", ibid. [c] Sub-section (3) was omitted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1942 (XX of 1942), S. 2 [3-4-1942].

4. Age limit in connection with driving of motor vehicles.

(1) No person under the age of eighteen years shall drive a motor vehicle in any public place.

(2) Subject to the provisions of section 14, no person under the age of twenty years shall drive a transport vehicle in any public place.

•[(3) * * * * *

[a] Sub-section (3) was omitted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1942 (XX of 1942), S. 3 [3-4-1942].

5. Responsibility of owners of motor vehicles for contraventions of sections 3 and 4.

No owner or person in charge of a motor vehicle shall cause or permit any

Section 3 — Note 1

[1] To constitute an offence under S. 3 the offenders must have driven a motor vehicle not only without an effective licence but also in any public place. Hence he cannot be convicted under S. 3 where there is no evidence to show that he drove the vehicle in any public place. ('55) 1955 Raj L W 503 (503).

[2] The plea of an accused that he drove a motor vehicle without a licence in the absence of any admission that he drove the vehicle in a public place is not sufficient to convict him of an offence under S. 3. ('55) 1955 Raj L W 258 (258).

[3] The non-possession of valid licence while driving the car is not an offence under S. 3. All that the section requires is that the persons driving the car must have obtained the licence, and not that he should carry it whenever he is on the road with his car. It is only when the licence is not produced as required by sub-s. (3) of S. 86 that the person driving the car can be prosecuted for a contravention of S. 3. ('57) 1957 Cri L Jour 86 (88) (Pat).

[4] A person driving a motor vehicle after the expiry of the term of his licence without renewing the same contravenes the provisions of S. 3 (1) and is guilty under S. 112. The subsequent renewal of the licence does not date back to the date of the expiry of the old licence so as to have the effect of cancelling the offence committed before he obtained the renewal. 1942 Mad 196 (197) [A I R V 29] : 43 Cri L Jour 524.

[5] Where a person, having applied for the renewal of his licence before its expiry, continued to drive his car after the date of expiry, bona fide believing that the licence would be renewed retrospectively from the date of expiry, and the licence was also in fact so renewed, it was held that he could not be convicted of an offence under S. 3 on the ground that during the period from the expiry of the original licence to the date of his receipt of the renewed licence he had no effective licence with him. 1950 Mad 479 (479) [A I R V 37 C 205] ILR (1951) Mad 241: 51 Cri L Jour 824.

[1] In the absence of any evidence contradicting the statement of the accused that he is above twenty years of age he cannot be convicted of an offence under S. 4. ('55) 1955 Raj L W 503 (503).

[2] A person below twenty years of age driving a transport vehicle contravenes the provisions of S. 4 (2) notwithstanding the fact that he holds a driving licence because that licence granted by the authority under a mistaken belief of law does not amount to a valid licence. The mistake of the authority may render it improper to impose any punishment on the accused but it cannot render the contravention anything less than an offence. 1954 Vindh-Pra 17 (19, 20) [A I R V 41 C 8].

Section 5 — Note 1

[1] A contravention under S. 5 arises in the very act of the owner permitting a person person who does not satisfy the provisions of section 3 or section 4 to drive the vehicle.

6. Restrictions on the holding of driving licences.

(1) No person shall, while he holds any *[driving licence] for the time being in force, hold any other *[driving licence] except a *[driving licence] issued in accordance with the provisions of section 14, or a document authorizing, in accordance with the rules made under section 92, the person specified therein to drive a motor vehicle.

(2) No holder of a *[driving licence] shall permit it to be used by any other person.

(3) Nothing in this section shall prevent a licensing authority having the jurisdiction referred to in sub-section (1) of section 7 from adding to the classes of vehicle which the *[driving licence] authorizes the holder to drive.

[a] Substituted for "licence" by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 4 (w.e.f. 18-2-1957).

7. Grant of driving licence.

(1) Any person who is not disqualified under section 4 for driving a motor vehicle and who is not for the time being disqualified for holding or obtaining a *[driving licence] may apply to the licensing authority having jurisdiction in the area in which he ordinarily resides or carries on business or, if the application is for a *[driving licence] to drive as a paid employee, in which the employer resides or carries on business, for the issue to him of a *[driving licence].

(2) Every application under sub-section (1) shall be in Form A as set forth in the First Schedule, shall be signed by, or bear the thumb impression of, the applicant in two places, and shall contain the information required by the form.

(3) Where the application is for a *[driving licence] to drive as a paid without driving licence to drive his vehicle. The owner's knowledge as to that person not possessing a licence is not a necessary ingredient of the offence. 1951 Bom 308 (308) [AIR V 38 C 66] : ILR (1951) Bom 200 (DB).

[2] A motor bus owner allowing his driver to drive his omnibus without a licence cannot plead in defence to his prosecution that the expiry of the driver's licence was not known to him. 1927 Mad 1080 (1080) [AIR V 14] : 51 Mad 187 : 28 Cri L Jour 962.

[3] Where a motor bus is driven by a person who has no licence without the knowledge of the owner, the owner cannot be convicted. Nor can he be convicted on the ground that his licensed driver had given the unlicensed driver permission to drive. 1928 Cal 410 (411, 412) [AIR V 15] : 29 Cri L Jour 694.

[4] Where the driver of a motor car drove it beyond the limits of his licence, held that the owner of the car was not liable unless there was evidence to show that he knew that his driver was going to take the car beyond the limits of licence or that he in any way authorised that act. 1932 Bom 474 (475) [AIR V 19] : 33 Cri L Jour 746 (DB).

[5] Absent master is not criminally liable for fast driving where he had cautioned the driver not to exceed the regulation speed and to drive with due care and caution. 1924 Cal 985 (986) [AIR V 11] : 51 Cal 948 : 25 Cri L Jour 1209 (DB).

[6] The owner of a bus permitting his driver who has authority to drive only a light transport vehicle to drive his bus, cannot be said to contravene the provisions of S. 5 of the Act because a bus or a taxi whatever its weight may be is only a light vehicle within the meaning of S. 2 (9) read with S. 2 (13). 1955 Mad 627 (628) [AIR V 42 C 194] : 1955 Cri L Jour 1506.

[7] The person who was in charge of the car at the time of the accident or immediately thereafter and to whose orders the driver was in fact submitting at that time is amenable to this section even though he may not himself be the owner of the car. 1928 All 261 (262) [AIR V 15] : 29 Cri L Jour 357 (DB).

[8] Where the licensed driver while driving a vehicle on the owner's business permitted another who had no licence to drive the vehicle and a person on the road was run over and killed it was held that the owner was vicariously liable for payment of damages on a claim made by the next-of-kin of the deceased. 1955 Assam 157 (161) [S] AIR V 42 C 36 (DB).

Section 7 — Note 1

[1] A licence granted by mistake to person who is disqualified to hold a licence under S. 4 is no licence at all. Hence driving a vehicle under such licence amounts to an offence. 1954 Vindh-Pra 17 (19) [AIR V 41 C 8].

employee or to drive a transport vehicle, or where in any other case the licensing authority for reasons to be stated in writing so requires, the application shall be accompanied by a medical certificate in Form C, as set forth in the First Schedule, signed by a registered medical practitioner.

(4) Every application for a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] to drive as a paid employee and every application for a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] to drive a transport vehicle shall be accompanied by three clear copies of a recent photograph of the applicant.

(5) If, from the application or from the medical certificate referred to in subsection (3), it appears that the applicant is suffering from any disease or disability specified in the Second Schedule or any other disease or disability which is likely to cause the driving by him of a motor vehicle of the class which he would be authorised by the <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] applied for to drive to be a source of danger to the public or to the passengers, the licensing authority shall refuse to issue the <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] :

Provided that—

(a) a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] limited to driving an invalid carriage may be issued to the applicant, if the licensing authority is satisfied that he is fit to drive such a carriage;

(b) the applicant may, except where he suffers from a disease or disability specified in the Second Schedule, claim to be subjected to a test of his fitness or ability to drive a motor vehicle of a particular construction or design, and, if he passes such test to the satisfaction of the licensing authority and is not otherwise disqualified, the licensing authority shall grant him a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] to drive such motor vehicle as the licensing authority may specify in the <sup>a</sup>[driving licence.]

(6) No <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] shall be issued to any applicant unless—

<sup>b</sup>[* * *] he passes to the satisfaction of the licensing authority the test of competence to drive specified in the Third Schedule, <sup>c</sup>[* * *]

<sup>d</sup>[* * * * *]

<sup>e</sup>[Provided that, where the application is for a licence to drive a motor cycle or a light motor vehicle, the licensing authority shall exempt the applicant from Part I of the test specified in the Third Schedule, if the licensing authority is satisfied—

(a) that the applicant has previously held a licence to drive and that the period between the date of expiry of that licence and the date of such application does not exceed five years; or

(b) that the applicant holds a driving licence issued by a competent authority of any country outside India :]

Provided further that where the application is for a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] to drive a motor vehicle (not being a transport vehicle) otherwise than as a paid employee, the licensing authority may exempt the applicant from <sup>f</sup>[* * *] the test specified in the Third Schedule if the applicant possesses a driving certificate issued by an automobile association recognised in this behalf by the State Government.

<sup>g</sup>[(7) The test of competence to drive shall be carried out in a vehicle of the type to which the application refers, and, for the purposes of Part I of the test,—

(a) a person who passes the test in driving a heavy motor vehicle shall be deemed also to have passed the test in driving any medium motor vehicle or light motor vehicle;

(b) a person who passes the test in driving a medium motor vehicle shall be deemed also to have passed the test in driving any light motor vehicle.]

(8) When an application has been duly made to the appropriate licensing authority and the applicant has satisfied such authority of his physical fitness and of his competence to drive and has paid to the authority a fee of <sup>b</sup>[eleven rupees] the licensing authority shall grant the applicant a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] unless the applicant is disqualified under section 4 for driving a motor vehicle or is for the time being disqualified for holding or obtaining a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence]:

Provided,—

<sup>1</sup>[ * * * * * ]

<sup>1</sup>[* *] a licensing authority may issue a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] to drive a motor cycle or a <sup>k</sup>[light motor vehicle] notwithstanding that it is not the appropriate licensing authority, if the licensing authority is satisfied that there is good reason for the applicant's inability to apply to the appropriate licensing authority:

<sup>1</sup>[Provided further that the licensing authority shall not issue a new driving licence to the applicant, if he had previously held a driving licence issued under this Act, unless it is satisfied that there is good reason for his inability to obtain a duplicate copy of his former licence.]

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Section 7 (6) — "Sub-section (8) of section 7 of the Act provides for the exemption of experienced drivers from Part I of the driving test. The amendment of sub-section (8) seeks to provide exemption of persons who hold a driving licence issued by a competent authority in a foreign country also."—S. O. R. of Amending Act C of 1956.

"The committee feel that an applicant for a licence to drive a motor cycle or a light motor vehicle who has previously held a licence should be exempted from Part I of the driving test, in case the period between the date of expiry of that licence and the date of his application does not exceed five years."—J. C. R. of Amending Act C of 1956.

8. Form and contents of driving licence.

(1) Every <sup>a</sup>[driving licence], except a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] issued under section 14, shall be in Form D as set forth in the First Schedule and shall have affixed thereto one of the signatures or thumb impressions given on the form of application for the <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] and, in the case of a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] to drive as a paid employee or to drive a transport vehicle, one of the photographs referred to in sub-section (4) of section 7.

(2) A <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] shall specify whether the holder is entitled to drive as a paid employee and whether he is entitled to drive a <sup>b</sup>[transport vehicle] and shall further be expressed as entitling the holder to drive a motor vehicle of one or more of the following classes, namely:—

- (a) a motor cycle,
- <sup>c</sup>[(b) invalid carriage,
- (c) light motor vehicle,
- (d) medium motor vehicle,
- (e) heavy motor vehicle,
- (f) road-roller,
- (g) motor vehicle of a specified description.]

<sup>a</sup>[8A. Additions to driving licence.

(1) Any person holding a driving licence issued under this Chapter who is not for the time being disqualified for holding or obtaining a driving licence may apply in Form AA as set forth in the First Schedule, to the licensing authority having jurisdiction in the area in which he ordinarily resides or carries on business or, if the application relates to a licence to drive as a paid employee, in which the employer resides or carries on business, for the addition of another class of motor vehicle to the licence.

(2) The provisions of section 7 shall apply to an application under this section as if the application were for the grant of a licence under that section to drive the class of motor vehicle which the applicant desires to be added to his licence :

Provided that the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4) of that section shall not apply where the applicant is the holder of a licence to drive as a paid employee or to drive a transport vehicle.

(3) No fee other than a fee for the test of competence to drive shall be charged for an addition to a driving licence under this section.]

[a] Inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 7 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

9. Extent of validity of driving licence.

(1) Subject to any rules made by a <sup>a</sup>[State Government] under sub-section (3), a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] issued under the foregoing sections shall be effective throughout <sup>b</sup>[India].

(2) Subject, in the case of international driving permits issued in pursuance of [any International Convention relative to motor traffic to which the Central Government is for the time being a party], to any rules made by the Central Government under section 92 and subject in any other case to the provisions of sub-section (4), a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] to drive a motor vehicle issued by a competent authority <sup>d</sup>[in the State of Jammu and Kashmir] <sup>e</sup>[ * * * ] shall, if the holder is ordinarily resident <sup>f</sup>[in that State], be valid throughout <sup>b</sup>[India] as if it were a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] issued under this Act :

Provided that such holder is not disqualified under any of the provisions of this Act for holding or obtaining a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] in <sup>b</sup>[India].

(3) A <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may, by rules made under section 21,—

(a) provide that a specification entitling the holder of a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] to drive a <sup>a</sup>[transport vehicle] shall be made in the <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] only by or under the authority of the Regional Transport Authority constituted under Chapter IV,

(b) regulate the submission of applications for such licences to the said authority, <sup>b</sup>[ * * * ].

(4) If the Central Government is satisfied that licences issued in <sup>b</sup>[India] under this Act are not effective in <sup>d</sup>[the State of Jammu and Kashmir] <sup>e</sup>[ * * * ] or are effective subject to unreasonable conditions or that like conditions and requirements to those imposed by this Act are not imposed in a reasonable degree upon the issue of licences <sup>f</sup>[in the State] <sup>1</sup>[ * * * ], the Central Government shall, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that licences generally or any particular class of <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] issued in <sup>m</sup>[that State] shall not be valid in <sup>b</sup>[India].

[b] Substituted for "the States", by the Part B States (Laws) Act, 1951 (III of 1951), S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951]. [c] Substituted for "the International Convention relative to motor traffic concluded at Paris on the 24th day of April, 1926, or of any Convention modifying the same", by Act C of 1956, S. 8 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [d] Substituted for "in any Part B State", by Act III of 1951, S. 3 and Sch. [1-4-1951]. [e] The words "or in the French or Portuguese Settlements bounded by India" were omitted by Act C of 1956, S. 8 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [f] Substituted for the words "in the State or Settlement in which the licence was issued", ibid. [g] Substituted for "public service vehicle", ibid. [h] The word "or" was omitted ibid. [i] Clause (c) was omitted, ibid. [j] Substituted for "any Part B State or", by Act III of 1951, S. 3 and Sch.

[1-4-1951]. [k] Substituted for "in any State", ibid. [l] The words "or Settlement as aforesaid" were omitted by Act C of 1956, S. 8 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [m] Substituted for "the State or Settlement", ibid.

*[10. Currency of driving licence.

A driving licence issued or renewed under this Act shall, subject to the provisions contained in this Act as to the cancellation of driving licences and the disqualification of holders of driving licences for holding or obtaining driving licences, be effective without renewal for a period of three years only, from the date of the issue of the licence or, as the case may be, from the date with effect from which the licence is renewed under section 11; and the driving licence shall be deemed to continue to be effective for a period of thirty days after the date of its expiry.]

[a] Substituted for the former section by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 9 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"It is proposed to raise the period of currency of driving licences from one to three years and to provide that a driving licence shall be renewed from the date of its expiry in the case of applications made within the period of grace and with effect from the date of renewal in the case of applications made after the expiry of that period. The existing sections 10 and 11 make no provision for the renewal of a driving licence which has lapsed for a considerable period of time, e.g., owing to illness or absence abroad. It is desirable to provide for the continuity of old licences, rather than the issue of a new one in every such case, in order to preserve the previous record of the holder. If the period during which a driving licence has not been renewed is as long as five years, clause 10 [now see S. 11 (3A)] provides that the licensing authority may compel the applicant to undergo a driving test. The period of grace is also being increased from 15 to 30 days."

—S. O. R. of Amending Act C of 1956.

11. Renewal of driving licences.

^[(1) Any licensing authority may, on application made to it, renew a licence issued under the provisions of this Act with effect from the date of its expiry :

Provided that in any case where the application for the renewal of a licence is made more than thirty days after the date of its expiry, the driving licence shall be renewed with effect from the date of its renewal.]

(2) An application for the renewal of a <sup>b</sup>[driving licence] shall be made in Form B as set forth in the First Schedule and shall contain the declaration required by that form; provided that where the applicant does not or is unable to subscribe to the said declaration the provisions of sub-section (5) of section 7 shall apply.

^[(3) Where an application for the renewal of a driving licence is made previous to, or not more than thirty days after, the date of its expiry, the fee payable for such renewal shall be nine rupees.

(3A) Where an application for the renewal of a driving licence is made more than thirty days after the date of its expiry, the fee payable for such renewal shall be eleven rupees :

Provided that the fee referred to in sub-section (3) may be accepted by the licensing authority, if it is satisfied that the applicant was prevented by good cause from applying within the time specified in that sub-section :

Provided further that if the application is made more than five years after the driving licence has ceased to be effective, the licensing authority may refuse to renew the driving licence, unless the applicant undergoes and passes

[1] Section 11 (3) deals only with the amount to be paid for a renewal of a licence and merely states that the fee for the renewal of a licence, if the application is made previous to or within 15 days subsequent to the date of the expiration of the licence shall be three rupees; if after that date, five rupees.

Therefore it is not correct to say that S. 11 (3) gives 15 days of grace within which period it is unnecessary to apply for a licence. 1942 Mad 196 (197) [AIR V 29] : 43 Cri L Jour 524 * 1942 Bom 216 (217) [A I R V 29] : 43 Cri L Jour 778 (DB).

to its satisfaction the test of competence to drive specified in the Third Schedule.]

(4) When the authority renewing the <sup>b</sup>[driving licence] is not the authority which issued the <sup>b</sup>[driving licence], it shall intimate the fact of renewal to the authority which issued the <sup>b</sup>[driving licence].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in 1956.—"Under section 12, a licensing authority may revoke a licence on grounds of disease or disability only if the licence was issued by it; but if the licence-holder has moved from the place where he obtained the licence, the licensing authority of the area to which he has removed has no such powers. The latter is in the best position to examine the case and to hear any representations the holder may like to make. This clause provides for such powers, and further provides that the licensing authority, which revokes any licence not issued by it, shall inform the licensing authority which originally issued the licence."

—S. O. R.

13. Orders refusing or revoking driving licences and appeals therefrom.

(1) Where <sup>a</sup>[a licensing authority refuses to issue or renew, or revokes, any driving licence, or refuses to add a class of motor vehicle to any driving licence], it shall do so by an order communicated to the applicant or the holder, as the case may be, giving the reasons in writing for such refusal or revocation.

<sup>b</sup>[(2) Any person aggrieved by an order made under sub-section (1) may, within thirty days of the service on him of the order, appeal to the prescribed authority which shall decide the appeal after giving such person and the authority making the order an opportunity of being heard and the decision of the appellate authority shall be binding on the authority making the order.]

14. Licences to drive motor vehicles, the property of the Central Government.

(1) The authority specified in Part A of the Fourth Schedule may grant <sup>a</sup>[driving licences], valid throughout <sup>b</sup>[India], to persons who have completed their eighteenth year to drive motor vehicles which are the property <sup>c</sup>[or for the time being under the exclusive control] of the Central Government <sup>d</sup>[and are used for Government purposes unconnected with any commercial enterprise.]

(2) A *[driving licence] issued under this section shall specify the class or classes of vehicle which the holder is entitled to drive and the period for which he is so entitled.

(3) A *[driving licence] issued under this section shall not entitle the holder to drive any motor vehicle except a motor vehicle which is the property *[or for the time being under the exclusive control] of the Central Government.

(4) The authority issuing any *[driving licence] under this section shall at the request of any State Government furnish such information respecting any person to whom a *[driving licence] is issued as that Government may at any time require.

15. Power of licensing authority to disqualify for holding a driving licence.

(1) If a licensing authority is satisfied after giving him an opportunity of being heard that any person—

(a) is a habitual criminal or a habitual drunkard, or

(b) is using or has used a motor vehicle in the commission of a cognizable offence, or

(c) has by his previous conduct as driver of a motor vehicle shown that his driving is likely to be attended with danger to the public, it may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, make an order disqualifying that person for a specified period for holding or obtaining a *[driving licence].

(2) Upon the issue of any such order a person affected, if he is the holder of a *[driving licence], shall forthwith surrender his *[driving licence] to the licensing authority making the order, if the *[driving licence] has not already been surrendered, and the licensing authority shall—

(a) if the *[driving licence] is a licence issued under this Act, keep it until the disqualification has expired or has been removed, or

(b) if it is not a *[driving licence] issued under this Act, endorse the disqualification upon it and send it to the licensing authority by which it was issued.

(3) Any person aggrieved by an order made by a licensing authority under this section may, within thirty days of the receipt of the order, appeal to the prescribed authority, and such appellate authority shall give notice to the licensing authority and hear either party if so required by that party and may make such inquiry into the matter as it thinks fit. An order made by any such appellate authority shall be final.

declare any person disqualified, for a specified period, for holding or obtaining a licence to drive **[a transport vehicle]* in the province.

(2) Any person aggrieved by an order of a Regional Transport Authority made under sub-section (1) may within thirty days of the receipt of intimation of such order appeal against the order to the prescribed authority.

[a] Substituted for "a public service vehicle", by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 15 [w.e.f. 16-2-1957].

17. Power of Court to disqualify.

(1) Where a person is convicted of an offence under this Act, or of an offence in the commission of which a motor vehicle was used the Court by which such person is convicted may, subject to the provisions of this section, in addition to imposing any other punishment authorized by law, declare the person so convicted to be disqualified, for such period as the Court may specify, for holding any **[driving licence]* or for holding a **[driving licence]* to drive a particular class or description of vehicle.

(2) A Court shall not order the disqualification of an offender convicted for the first or second time of an offence punishable under section 115.

(3) A Court shall order the disqualification of an offender convicted of an offence punishable under section 117, and such disqualification shall be for a period of not less than six months.

(4) A Court shall order the disqualification of an offender convicted of an offence against the provisions of clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 87 or of section 89, and such disqualification shall be for a period of not less than one month.

(5) A Court shall, unless for special reasons to be recorded in writing it thinks fit to order otherwise, order the disqualification of an offender—

(a) who having been convicted of an offence punishable under section 116 is again convicted of an offence punishable under that section ;

(b) who is convicted of an offence punishable under section 120 ; or

(c) who is convicted of an offence punishable under section 123 :

Provided that the period of disqualification shall not exceed, in the cases referred to in clauses (a) and (b), two years, or, in the case referred to in clause (c), one year.

(6) A Court ordering the disqualification of an offender convicted of an offence punishable under section 116 may direct that the offender shall, whether he has previously passed the test of competence to drive specified in the

(7) The Court to which an appeal lies from any conviction of an offence of the nature specified in sub-section (1) may set aside or vary any order of disqualification made by the Court below, and the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie from any Court may set aside or vary any order of disqualification made by that Court, notwithstanding that no appeal lies against the conviction in connection with which such order was made.

[a] Substituted for "licence", by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 16 [w.e.f. 16-2-1957].

18. Effect of disqualification order.

(1) A person in respect of whom any disqualification order is made shall be debarred to the extent and for the period specified in such order from holding or obtaining a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] and the <sup>a</sup>[driving licence], if any, held by such person at the date of the order shall cease to be effective during such period.

(2) The operation of a disqualification order made under section 17 shall not be suspended or postponed while an appeal is pending against such order or against the conviction as a result of which such order is made, unless the appellate Court so directs.

(3) Any person in respect of whom any disqualification order has been made may at any time after the expiry of six months from the date of the order apply to the Court or other authority by which the order was made, to remove the disqualification; and the Court or authority, as the case may be, may, having regard to all the circumstances, either remove or vary the order of disqualification :

Provided that where an application has been made under this section a second application thereunder shall not be entertained before the expiry of a further period of three months.

[a] Substituted for "licence," by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 16 [w.e.f. 16-2-1957].

19. Endorsement.

(1) The Court or authority making an order of disqualification shall endorse or cause to be endorsed upon the <sup>a</sup>[driving licence], if any, held by the person disqualified particulars of the order of disqualification and of any conviction of an offence in respect of which an order of disqualification is made; and particulars of any removal or variation of an order of disqualification made under sub-section (3) of section 18 shall be similarly so endorsed.

(2) A Court by which any person is convicted of an offence specified in the Fifth Schedule shall, whether or not an order of disqualification is made in respect of such conviction, endorse or cause to be endorsed particulars of such conviction on any <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] held by the person convicted.

(3) Any person accused of an offence specified in the Fifth Schedule shall when attending the Court bring with him his <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] if it is in his possession.

[a] Substituted for "licence," by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 16 [w.e.f. 16-2-1957].

20. Transfer of endorsement and issue of driving licence free from endorsement.

(1) An endorsement on any <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] shall be transferred to any new or duplicate <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] obtained by the holder thereof until the holder becomes entitled under the provisions of this section to have a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] issued to him free from endorsement.

(2) Where a <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] is required to be endorsed and the <sup>a</sup>[driving licence] is at the time not in the possession of the Court or authority by which the endorsement is to be made then—

(a) if the person in respect of whom the endorsement is to be made is at the time the holder of a *[driving licence], he shall produce the *[driving licence] to the Court or authority within five days, or such longer time as the Court or authority may fix, or

(b) if, not being then the holder of a *[driving licence], he subsequently obtains a *[driving licence], he shall within five days after obtaining the *[driving licence] produce it to the Court or authority; and if the *[driving licence] is not produced within the time specified it shall on the expiration of such time be of no effect until it is produced for the purpose of endorsement.

(3) A person whose *[driving licence] has been endorsed shall, if during a continuous period of three years since the last endorsement was made no further order of endorsement has been made against him, be entitled, on surrendering his *[driving licence] and on payment of a fee of five rupees, to receive a new *[driving licence] free from all endorsements. If the endorsement was only in respect of exceeding a speed limit, he shall be entitled to have a clean *[driving licence] issued on the expiration of one year from the date of the order:

Provided that in reckoning the said period of three years and one year, respectively, any period during which the said person was disqualified for holding or obtaining a *[driving licence] shall be excluded.

(4) When a *[driving licence] is endorsed by or an order of endorsement is made by any Court, the Court shall send particulars of the endorsement or order, as the case may be, to the licensing authority by which the *[driving licence] was last renewed and to the licensing authority which granted the *[driving licence].

(5) Where the holder of a *[driving licence] is disqualified by the order of any Court for holding or obtaining a *[driving licence], the Court shall take possession of the *[driving licence] and forward it to the licensing authority by which it was granted or last renewed and that authority shall keep the *[driving licence] until the disqualification has expired or has been removed and the person entitled to the *[driving licence] has made a demand in writing for its return to him:

Provided that, if the disqualification is limited to the driving of a motor vehicle of a particular class or description, the Court shall endorse the *[driving licence] to this effect and shall send a copy of the order of disqualification to the licensing authority by which the *[driving licence] was granted and shall return the *[driving licence] to the holder.

(6) Where on an appeal against any conviction or order of a Court which has been endorsed on a licence, the appellate Court varies or sets aside the conviction or order, the appellate Court shall inform the licensing authority by which the *[driving licence] was last renewed and the licensing authority which granted the *[driving licence], and shall amend or cause to be amended the endorsement of such conviction or order.

21. Power to make rules.

(1) A *[State Government] may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Chapter.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the appointment, jurisdiction, control and functions of licensing authorities and other prescribed authorities;

- *[(aa) the conduct of persons to whom licences to drive transport vehicles or contract carriages are issued;]
- <sup>b</sup>[(b) the conduct and hearing of appeals that may be preferred under this Chapter, the fees to be paid in respect of such appeals and the refund of such fees:

Provided that no fee so fixed shall exceed two rupees;]

- (c) the issue of duplicate licences to replace licences lost, destroyed or mutilated, the replacement of photographs which have become obsolete, and the issue of temporary licences to persons receiving instruction in driving "[or to persons whose driving licences have been surrendered], and the fees to be charged therefor;
- (d) the conditions subject to which a Regional Transport Authority may disqualify a person for holding a <sup>d</sup>[driving licence] to drive a <sup>e</sup>[transport vehicle];
- <sup>f</sup>[(dd) the badges and uniform to be worn by drivers of stage carriages or contract carriages and the fees to be paid in respect of badges;]
- (e) the medical examination and testing of applicants for licences and of drivers and the fees to be charged therefor;
- <sup>g</sup>[(f) the exemption of prescribed persons, or prescribed classes of persons from payment of all or any or any portion of the fees payable under this Chapter;]
- (g) the granting by registered medical practitioners of the certificates referred to in sub-section (3) of section 7;
- (h) the communication of particulars of licences granted by one licensing authority to other licensing authorities;
- (i) the control of schools or establishments for the instruction of drivers of motor vehicles and the acceptance of driving certificates issued by such schools or establishments as qualifying the holder for exemption from Part I of the test specified in the Third Schedule;
- (j) the exemptions of drivers of road-rollers from all or any of the provisions of this Chapter or of the rules made thereunder ; and
- (k) any other matter which is to be or may be prescribed.

CHAPTER IIA*

[NOTE.—"At present, the grant of conductor's licence is governed by the rule-making power of the State Governments under sub-section (1) of section 87. With the latest developments in the field of public passenger transport, the role of conductors has become as important as that of drivers. It has, therefore, been found necessary to make substantive provisions for the licensing of conductors of stage carriages in order to exercise certain measure of control over their employment and work. With this end in view, a new Chapter IIA, consisting of ten sections, is proposed to be introduced. Only the minimum necessary provisions are included in this Chapter, the details being left to the rule-making power of the State Governments. The provisions are generally based on the corresponding provisions in Chapter II relating to licensing of drivers."—S. O. R.]

LICENSING OF CONDUCTORS OF STAGE CARRIAGES

21A. Necessity for conductor's licence.

(1) No person shall act as a conductor of a stage carriage unless he holds an effective conductor's licence issued to him authorizing him to act as such conductor; and no person shall employ or permit any person who is not so licensed to act as a conductor of a stage carriage.

(2) A State Government may prescribe the conditions subject to which sub-section (1) shall not apply to a driver of a stage carriage performing the functions of a conductor or to a person employed to act as a conductor for a period not exceeding one month.

[a] Chapter IIA, containing sections 21A to 21J, was inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 18 [w.e.f. 1-8-1957].

21B. Grant of conductor's licence.

(1) Any person who is not disqualified under sub-section (1) of section 21C and who is not for the time being disqualified for holding or obtaining a conductor's licence may apply to the licensing authority having jurisdiction in the area in which he ordinarily resides or carries on business for the issue to him of a conductor's licence.

(2) Every application under sub-section (1) shall be in such form as may be prescribed and shall be signed by, or bear the thumb impression of, the applicant in two places, and shall contain the information required by the form.

(3) Every application for a conductor's licence shall be accompanied by a medical certificate in such form as may be prescribed, signed by a registered medical practitioner and shall also be accompanied by two clear copies of a recent photograph of the applicant.

(4) A conductor's licence issued under this Chapter shall be in such form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed.

(5) The fee for a conductor's licence and for each renewal thereof shall be one-half of that for a driving licence.

21C. Disqualifications for the grant of conductor's licence.

(1) No person under the age of eighteen years shall hold, or be granted, a conductor's licence.

(2) The licensing authority may refuse to grant a conductor's licence—

(a) if the applicant does not possess the prescribed qualifications;

(b) if the medical certificate produced by the applicant discloses that he is physically unfit to act as a conductor; and

(c) if any previous conductor's licence held by the applicant was revoked.

21D. Revocation of a conductor's licence on grounds of disease or disability.

A conductor's licence may at any time be revoked by any licensing authority or any Regional Transport Authority constituted under Chapter IV, if the authority has reasonable grounds to believe that the holder of the licence is suffering from any disease or disability which is likely to render him permanently unfit to hold such a licence and where the authority revoking a conductor's licence is not the authority which issued the same, it shall intimate the fact of revocation to the authority which issued that licence.

21E. Orders refusing, etc., conductor's licences and appeals therefrom.

(1) Where a licensing authority refuses to issue or renew, or revokes any conductor's licence, it shall do so by an order communicated to the applicant or the holder, as the case may be, giving the reasons in writing for such refusal or revocation.

(2) Any person aggrieved by an order made under sub-section (1) may, within thirty days of the service on him of the order, appeal to the prescribed authority which shall decide the appeal after giving such person and the authority making the order an opportunity of being heard and the decision of the appellate authority shall be binding on the authority making the order.

21F. Power of licensing authority and Regional Transport Authority to disqualify.

(1) If any licensing authority or any Regional Transport Authority constituted under Chapter IV is of opinion that it is necessary to disqualify the holder of a conductor's licence for holding or obtaining such a licence on account of his previous conduct as a conductor, it may, for reasons to be recorded, make an order disqualifying that person for a specified period, not exceeding one year, for holding or obtaining a conductor's licence.

(2) Upon the issue of any such order, the holder of the conductor's licence shall forthwith surrender the licence to the authority making the order, if the licence has not already been surrendered, and the authority shall keep the licence until the disqualification has expired or has been removed.

(3) Where the authority disqualifying the holder of a conductor's licence under this section is not the authority which issued the licence, it shall intimate the fact of such disqualification to the authority which issued the same.

(4) Any person aggrieved by an order made under sub-section (1) may, within thirty days of the service on him of the order, appeal to the prescribed authority which shall decide the appeal after giving such person and the authority making the order an opportunity of being heard and the decision of the appellate authority shall be binding on the authority making the order.

21G. Power of Court to disqualify.

(1) Where any person holding a conductor's licence is convicted of an offence under this Act, the Court by which such person is convicted may, in addition to imposing any other punishment authorised by law, declare the person so convicted to be disqualified for such period as the Court may specify for holding a conductor's licence.

(2) The Court to which an appeal lies from any conviction of an offence of the nature specified in sub-section (1) may set aside or vary any order of disqualification made by the Court below, and the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie from the Court below, may set aside or vary any order of disqualification made by that Court, notwithstanding that no appeal lies against the conviction in connection with which such order was made.

21H. Certain provisions of Chapter II to apply to conductor's licence.

The provisions of sub-section (2) of section 6, sub-section (1) of section 9, sections 10, 11 and 18, sub-section (1) of section 19 and section 20 shall, so far as may be, apply in relation to a conductor's licence, as they apply in relation to a driving licence.

21I. Savings.

If any licence to act as a conductor of a stage carriage (by whatever name called) has been issued by any State Government and is effective immediately before the commencement of this Chapter in that State, it shall continue to be effective, notwithstanding such commencement, for the period for which it would have been effective, if the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956, had not been passed, and every such licence shall be deemed to be a licence issued under this Chapter as if this Chapter had been in force on the date on which that licence was granted.

21J. Power to make rules.

(1) A State Government may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Chapter.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the appointment, jurisdiction, control and functions of licensing authorities and other prescribed authorities under this Chapter;

(b) the conditions subject to which drivers of stage carriages and persons temporarily employed may be exempted from the provisions of this Chapter;

- (c) the form of application for conductor's licences or for renewal of such licences and the particulars it may contain;
- (d) the form in which conductor's licences may be issued or renewed and the particulars it may contain;
- (e) the minimum qualifications of conductors; their duties and functions and the conduct of persons to whom conductor's licences are issued;
- (f) the issue of duplicate licences to replace licences lost, destroyed or mutilated, the replacement of photographs which have become obsolete and the fees to be charged therefor;
- (g) the conduct and hearing of appeals that may be preferred under this Chapter, the fees to be paid in respect of such appeals and the refund to such fees;

Provided that no fee so fixed shall exceed two rupees;

- (h) the badges and uniform to be worn by conductors of stage carriages and the fees to be paid in respect of such badges;
- (i) the granting by registered medical practitioners of the certificates referred to in sub-section (3) of section 21B and the form of such certificates;
- (j) the communication of particulars of conductor's licences from one authority to other authorities; and
- (k) any other matter which is to be, or may be, prescribed.

CHAPTER III

REGISTRATION OF MOTOR VEHICLES

22. Necessity for registration.

(1) No person shall drive any motor vehicle and no owner of a motor vehicle shall cause or permit the vehicle to be driven in any public place or in any other place for the purpose of carrying passengers or goods unless the vehicle is registered in accordance with this Chapter and the certificate of registration of the vehicle has not been suspended or cancelled and the vehicle carries a registration mark displayed in the prescribed manner.

Section 22 — Note 1

[1] Section 22 of the Act read with Rule 26 of the U. P. Motor Vehicles Rules makes it clear that a trailer which is a motor vehicle within the definition in S. 2 (18) has to bear the registration mark. When it is attached to a drawing motor vehicle, then the registration mark of the drawing motor vehicle should also be affixed to it as in the case of the motor vehicle itself. S. 40 (2) does not warrant the conclusion that an exception from the requirements of S. 22 is made in the case of those trailers which are attached to a driving vehicle. ### OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The present practice in regard to registration of motor vehicles belonging to diplomatic staff is not wholly satisfactory. In order to avoid inconvenience to such staff, it is proposed to lay down a special procedure for the registration of motor vehicles belonging to them. This is in conformity with the practice obtaining in some other countries." This section "is intended to provide for a special series of registration numbers for such vehicles and also to exercise control over their transfer to non-diplomatic personnel."—S.O.R.

25. Temporary registration.

(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 23, the owner of a motor vehicle may apply to any registering authority <sup>a</sup>[or other prescribed authority] to have the vehicle temporarily registered in the prescribed manner and for the issue in the prescribed manner of a temporary certificate of registration and a temporary registration mark.

(2) A registration made under this section shall be valid only for a period not exceeding one month, and shall not be renewable.

<sup>a</sup>[(1)] The registering <sup>b</sup>[authority shall before] proceeding to register a motor vehicle require the person applying for registration of the vehicle to produce the vehicle either before itself or such authority as the State Government may by order appoint in order that the registering authority may satisfy itself that the particulars contained in the application are true and that the vehicle complies with the requirements of Chapter V and of the rules made thereunder.

<sup>c</sup>[(2)] Nothing in sub-section (1) shall apply to any motor vehicle owned by or on behalf of the Government.]

[a] Section 26 was renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 24 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] Substituted for "authority may before", ibid., [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [c] Inserted, ibid., [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in 1956 — "At present, it is discretionary with the registering authority to require the physical production of motor vehicles for inspection, before it proceeds to register it. It has been noticed that undue advantage is being taken of this provision and dealers in motor vehicles situated in other States are evading payment of sales-tax on motor vehicles purchased in a particular State. It is, therefore, proposed to make physical production of motor vehicles compulsory before registration. Provision has, however, been made [in sub-section (2)] for the exemption of motor vehicles owned by or on behalf of Government from the requirement relating to compulsory physical production."—S.O.R.

27. Refusal of registration.

The registering authority may refuse to register any motor vehicle if the vehicle is mechanically defective or fails to comply with the requirements of Chapter V or of the rules made thereunder, or if the applicant fails to furnish particulars of any previous registration of the vehicle, and it shall furnish the applicant whose vehicle is refused registration with the reasons in writing for such refusal.

28. Effectiveness in India of registration.

(1) Subject to the provisions of section 29, a motor vehicle registered in accordance with this Chapter in any <sup>a</sup>[State] <sup>a</sup>[ ] shall not require to be registered <sup>b</sup>[elsewhere in India] and a certificate of registration issued or in force under this Act in respect of such vehicle shall be effective throughout <sup>c</sup>[India].

(2) Subject in the case of international motor vehicle certificates issued in pursuance of <sup>e</sup>[any international convention relative to motor traffic to which the Central Government is for the time being a party], to any rules made by the Central Government under section 92, and subject in any other case to the provisions of <sup>f</sup>[* * *] <sup>g</sup>[* * *] sub-section (3) and sub-section (4) of this section, a motor vehicle registered by a competent authority in <sup>h</sup>[the State of Jammu and Kashmir] <sup>i</sup>[* * *] shall not require to be registered in <sup>c</sup>[India] :

<sup>j</sup>[Provided that there is in force in respect of the vehicle a certificate issued by the competent authority conforming to and containing substantially the same particulars as a certificate of registration in Form G as set forth in the First Schedule and that such certificate does not assign to the vehicle a standard of performance in any respect materially greater than that assignable or permissible under this Act or the rules made thereunder for a motor vehicle of like make and model in the State in which the vehicle is to be driven.]

(3) A certificate complying with the requirements of the proviso to sub-section (2) shall be effective throughout <sup>c</sup>[India] <sup>k</sup>[and the provisions of this Act shall be applicable thereto] as if it were a certificate of registration issued under this Act.

(4) Sub-section (2) shall not apply to any motor vehicle previously registered in <sup>c</sup>[India], if the certificate of registration of the vehicle in <sup>c</sup>[India] is for the time being suspended or cancelled for any reason other than that of permanent removal of the vehicle from <sup>c</sup>[India].

(5) If at any time the Central Government is satisfied that motor vehicles registered in <sup>c</sup>[India] under this Act are not permitted to be driven in <sup>l</sup>[the State of Jammu and Kashmir] <sup>m</sup>[* * *] without fresh <sup>n</sup>[registration in the State] <sup>o</sup>[* * *] or are permitted to be driven only subject to unreasonable conditions or that like conditions and requirements to those imposed under this Act (including the specification of the particulars required by Form G as set forth in the First Schedule) are not imposed in a reasonable degree upon the issue and for the continued effectiveness of certificates of <sup>p</sup>[registration in the State] <sup>q</sup>[* * *] as aforesaid, the Central Government shall, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that certificates of registration generally or in ## 29. Assignment of fresh registration mark on removal to another State.

(1) "When a motor vehicle—

(a) registered in one State has been kept in another State, or

(b) registered in the State of Jammu and Kashmir has been kept in India, for a period exceeding twelve months,] the owner of the vehicle shall apply to the registering authority, within whose jurisdiction the vehicle then is, for the assignment of a new registration mark and shall present the certificate of registration to that registering authority.

(2) The registering authority, to which application is made under subsection (1), shall assign the vehicle a registration mark in accordance with the Sixth Schedule to be carried thenceforth on the vehicle and shall enter the mark upon the certificate of registration before returning it to the applicant and shall, in communication with the registering authority by whom the vehicle was previously registered, arrange for the transfer of the registration of the vehicle from the records of that registering authority to its own records.

(3) A State Government may make rules under section 41 requiring the owner of a motor vehicle not registered within the State, which is brought into or is for the time being in the State, to furnish to a prescribed authority in the State such information with respect to the motor vehicle and its registration as may be prescribed.

[a] Substituted for the words "when a motor vehicle registered in one State has been kept in another State for a period exceeding twelve months" by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), section 26. [w. e. f. 16-2-1957.]

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in 1956 in sections 28 and 29. — "Under section 28 of the Act, a motor vehicle registered in the State of Jammu and Kashmir, which is transferred permanently to India, requires fresh registration in accordance with the provisions of section 23. It is proposed to liberalise the existing provision in the case of a vehicle registered in that State, so as to enable such a vehicle to be governed by section 29, that is, although registration will not be required, fresh registration mark will be allotted. Suitable safeguards are being provided so as to ensure that certificates of registration issued in Jammu and Kashmir are recognised only if they conform substantially to the legal requirements in India."—S. O. R.

*[29A. Transitional provision regarding assignment of fresh registration mark on account of States' reorganisation.

Where a motor vehicle registered in a State before the 1st November, 1956, has been assigned a registration mark, which, by reason of the transfer of the whole or any part of that State to another State, has ceased on that day to be in accordance with the Sixth Schedule, then, notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) of section 29, the owner of the vehicle shall, within a period of twelve months from that day, apply to the registering authority within whose jurisdiction the vehicle then is, for the assignment of a new registration mark and shall present the certificate of registration to that registering authority; and thereupon, the other provisions of section 29 shall apply to the vehicle as they apply to a motor vehicle on removal from one State to another State.]

STATE AMENDMENT

SECTION 29-B

GUJARAT

After section 29-A, insert the following section, namely,—

"29B. Transitional provisions regarding assignment of new registration marks on account of State of Gujarat.—Where a motor vehicle registered—

- (a) in the State of Bombay before 1st May 1960, or
- (b) in the State of Gujarat on or after 1st May 1960 but before the commencement of the Motor Vehicles Act and Rules (Gujarat (First) Adaptation) Order, 1960, (hereinafter referred to as "the Adaptation Order") has been assigned a registration mark—
  - (i) which, in the case of (a), by reason of the place of registration being in the territories forming part of the State of Gujarat on 1st May 1960, or
  - (ii) which, in the case of (b), by reason of the fact that the Adaptation Order was not then made, had ceased on the commencement of the Adaptation Order to be in accordance with the Sixth Schedule, then notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) of section 29, the owner of the vehicle shall, before the end of 31st March, 1961, apply to the registering authority within whose jurisdiction the vehicle then is, for the assignment of a new registration mark and shall present the certificate of registration to that registering authority; and thereupon the other provisions of section 29 shall, so far as may be, apply to the assignment of a new registration mark."

—Guj. A. O., 1960, [28-7-1960]: Guj. Govt. Gaz., 1960, Pt. IVA, page 38.

30. Change of residence or place of business.

(1) If the owner of a motor vehicle ceases to reside or have his place of business at the address recorded in the certificate of registration of the vehicle, he shall, within thirty days of any such change of address, intimate his new address to the registering authority by which the certificate of registration was issued, or, if the new address is within the jurisdiction of another registering authority, to that other registering authority, and shall at the same time forward the certificate of registration to the registering authority in order that the new address may be entered therein.

(2) A registering authority other than the original registering authority<sup>a</sup> making any such entry shall communicate the altered address to the original registering authority."

(3) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall apply where the change of the address recorded in the certificate of registration is due to a temporary absence not intended to exceed six months in duration or where the motor vehicle is neither used nor removed from the address recorded in the certificate of registration.

[a] For meaning of the expression "original registering authority" see S. 34 (7).

31. Transfer of ownership.

<sup>a</sup>[(1) Where the ownership of any motor vehicle registered under this Chapter is transferred,—

- (a) the transferor shall, within fourteen days of the transfer, report the transfer to the registering authority within whose jurisdiction the transfer is

Section 31 — Note 1

[1] Under S. 31, Motor Vehicles Act, it is the duty of the transferee within 30 days of the transfer of ownership of a vehicle to notify the registering authority of the fact of transfer and request him to effect the transfer in his favour. The certificate of registration has to be submitted to the registering authority along with the prescribed fee etc. Where, therefore the transferee fails to make any such application the transferor cannot be blamed if the registration is not transferred in favour of the effected and shall simultaneously send a copy of the said report to the transferee;

(b) the transferee shall, within thirty days of the transfer, report the transfer to the registering authority within whose jurisdiction he resides, and shall forward the certificate of registration to that registering authority together with the prescribed fee and a copy of the report received by him from the transferor in order that particulars of the transfer of ownership may be entered in the certificate of registration.]

(2) A registering authority other than the original registering authority<sup>b</sup> making any such entry shall communicate the transfer of ownership to the original registering authority.<sup>b</sup>

[a] Substituted for the original sub-section by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 27 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] For the meaning of the expression "original registering authority" see section 34 (7).

*[32. Alteration in motor vehicle.

(1) No owner of a motor vehicle shall so alter the vehicle that the particulars contained in the certificate of registration are no longer accurate, unless—

(a) he has given notice to the registering authority within whose jurisdiction he resides of the alteration he proposes to make; and

(b) he has obtained the approval of the registering authority to make such alteration :

Provided that it shall not be necessary to obtain such approval for making any change in the unladen weight of the motor vehicle consequent on the addition or removal of fittings or accessories, if such change does not exceed two per cent. of the weight entered in the certificate of registration.

transferee. 1956 Him-Pra 28 (32) [A I R V 43 C 13] + (1957) 1957 Mad W N 429 (430). (After transfer the transferor cannot be held liable for payment of tax under the Madras Motor Vehicles Taxation Act merely because his name continues to be on the register as the owner due to the default of the transferee to apply for the transfer of the registration.)

[2] The application of a transferee made after thirty days of transfer for recording of the transfer on registration certificate cannot be held time-barred because the period of thirty days is not the period of limitation but is the period of grace within which period the transferee can drive the vehicle or cause it to be driven without getting the transfer recorded. 1959 Raj 175 (177) [A I R V 46 C 66] : I L R (1959) 9 Raj 419.

[3] Section 31 does not contemplate any inquiry into the question of the genuineness or the validity of a transfer by the Registering authority before recording the transfer. If the registration certificate of the vehicle is produced by a person who alleges to be the transferee the registering authority has no option but to record the transfer even though the transfer is disputed. 1959 Raj 175 (177) [A I R V 46 C 66] : I L R (1959) 9 Raj 419.

[4] The question of transferring the registration under this section in favour of a purchaser can arise only where there is a completed sale of the vehicle and therefore the transfer of the registration cannot constitute a condition precedent to the completion of the sale. 1956 Him Pra 28 (32) [A I R V 43 C 13].

[5] An order refusing to record the transfer of ownership on the registration certificate under this section amounts to an order under S. 27 which is appealable under S. 35. 1959 Raj 175 (177) [A I R V 46 C 66] : I L R (1959) 9 Raj 419.

Section 32 — Note 1

[1] The accused was prosecuted under S. 32 (1) and also under Ss. 38 (1) and 42 (1), for having used his car as a transport vehicle for carrying goods without the necessary fitness certificate and permit but he was acquitted on the charge under S. 32 (1). Thereupon he contended that as a result of that acquittal the case under the latter sections also became unsustainable. It was held that the contention was not correct. The acquittal only indicated that there was no structural alteration after the issue of the certificate of registration and not that there was no structural alteration in the car at any time after it came out of the manufacturer's shop. Further as there was in addition a finding that the accused had actually used the car for transporting goods the convictions under Ss. 38 and 42 in spite of his acquittal under S. 32 (1) cannot be said to be unjustified. 1943 Mad 720 (721) [A I R V 30] : 45 Cri L Jour 94.

(2) Where a registering authority has received notice under sub-section (1), it shall, within seven days of the receipt thereof, communicate, by post, to the owner of the vehicle its approval to the proposed alteration or otherwise :

Provided that where the owner of the motor vehicle has not received any such communication within the said period of seven days, the approval of such authority to the proposed alteration shall be deemed to have been given.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), a State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, authorise, subject to such conditions as may be specified in the notification, the owners of not less than ten transport vehicles to alter any vehicle owned by them so as to change its engine number by replacing the engine thereof without the approval of the registering authority.

(4) Where any alteration has been made in a motor vehicle either with the approval of the registering authority given or deemed to have been given under sub-section (2) or by reason of any change in its engine number without such approval under sub-section (3), the owner of the vehicle shall, within fourteen days of the making of the alteration, report the alteration to the registering authority within whose jurisdiction he resides and shall forward the certificate of registration to that authority together with the prescribed fee in order that particulars of the alteration may be entered therein.

(5) A registering authority other than the original registering authority<sup>b</sup> making any such entry shall communicate the details of the entry to the original registering authority.<sup>b</sup>

[a] Sections 32 and 32A were substituted for the original S. 32, by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 28 [w. e. f. 16.2.1957]. [b] For the meaning of the expression "original registering authority" see section 34 (7).

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sections 32 and 32A.—"Section 32 of the Act requires the owner of a vehicle to report to the registering authority any alteration made in a vehicle which renders the particulars entered in the certificate of registration inaccurate. It has been noticed that owners of motor vehicles do not generally comply with this requirement. It is, therefore, proposed to provide that prior approval of the registering authority concerned should be obtained before any alterations are made in a motor vehicle. A relaxation has, however, been proposed in the case of owners of not less than ten vehicles, who will be authorised to replace the engines whenever a major overhaul is necessary. This relaxation is necessary in order to avoid unnecessary correspondence regarding the change of engine assemblies. But even such owners will have to report to the registering authority the alterations made in their vehicles within fourteen days of making them.

As certificates of registration do not require renewal, it is necessary to empower the State Governments to call them up for the entry of new particulars regarding colours, etc. The proposed section 32A gives the State Government the necessary powers."

—S. O. R.

<sup>a</sup>[32A. Power of State Government to require the production of certificates of registration in certain cases.

Where a State Government is of opinion that particulars relating to the colour or colours of the body, wings and front end of any class of motor vehicles registered before the commencement of the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956, should be entered in the certificates of registration relating to such vehicles the State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, require the owners of such class of motor vehicles to produce their certificates of registration before the registering authority within such time as may be specified in the notification.]

[a] See Foot-note (a) under S. 32.

33. Suspension of registration.

<sup>a</sup>[(1) If any registering authority or other prescribed authority has reason to believe that any motor vehicle within its jurisdiction—

(a) is in such a condition that its use in a public place would constitute a danger to the public, or that it fails to comply with the requirements of Chapter V or of the rules made thereunder, or

(b) has been, or is being, used for hire or reward without a valid permit for being used as such, the authority may, after giving the owner an opportunity of making any representation he may wish to make (by sending to the owner a notice by registered post acknowledgment due at his address entered in the certificate of registration), for reasons to be recorded in writing, suspend the certificate of registration of the vehicle—

(i) in any case falling under clause (a), until the defects are remedied to its satisfaction; and

(ii) in any case falling under clause (b), for a period not exceeding four months.]

(2) An authority other than a registering authority shall, when making a suspension order under sub-section (1), intimate in writing the fact of suspension and the reasons therefor to the registering authority within whose jurisdiction the vehicle is at the time of the suspension.

(3) Where the registration of a motor vehicle has been suspended under sub-section (1) for a continuous period of not less than one month, the registering authority, within whose jurisdiction the vehicle was when the registration was suspended, shall, if it is not the original registering authority<sup>b</sup>, inform that authority of the suspension; and when the suspension has continued without interruption for a period of not less than six months, the registering authority, within whose jurisdiction the vehicle was when the registration was suspended, may, if it is the original registering authority<sup>b</sup>, cancel the registration, and, if it is not the original registering authority<sup>b</sup>, shall forward the certificate of registration to that authority which may cancel it forthwith.

(4) The owner of a motor vehicle shall, on the demand of a registering authority or other prescribed authority which has suspended the certificate of registration of the vehicle under this section, surrender the certificate of registration and any token or card issued to authorise the use of the vehicle in a public place.

(5) A certificate of registration and any token or card surrendered under sub-section (4) shall be returned to the owner when the order suspending registration has been rescinded and not before.

[a] Substituted for the original sub-section (1), by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 29 (w. e. f. 16.2.1957). [b] For the meaning of the expression "original registering authority" see section 34 (7).

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sub-section (1) as substituted in 1956 — "At present, the power to suspend the certificate of registration can be exercised only when a vehicle is in such a condition that its use in a public place would constitute a danger to the public, or if the vehicle fails to comply with the requirements of Chapter V of the Act and rules framed thereunder relating to the construction, equipment and maintenance of motor vehicles. There is an increasing tendency on the part of owners of vehicles (particularly private cars) to use them without a valid permit for the carriage of passengers for hire or reward. In order to check this growing abuse, it is proposed to empower the registering or other prescribed authorities to suspend the registration certificate of a vehicle engaged in operation for hire or reward without a valid permit for a period not exceeding four months.

"Under the existing provisions of section 33, a registering authority has to give the owner of a motor vehicle an opportunity to make a representation before he suspends the certificate of registration in respect of the vehicle. In practice, the owner is often untraceable and many unnecessary formalities have to be observed. This clause [that is, S. 29 of the Amending Act 100 of 1956] provides that the registering authority shall take only such action as is reasonably possible to trace the owner. . . ." — S. O. R.

STATE AMENDMENTS

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to the State of Bombay, in section 33—:

(1) for sub-section (1) substitute the following, namely,—

"(1) If a registering authority or other prescribed authority has reason to believe that any motor vehicle within its jurisdiction—

- (i) is in such a condition that its use in a public place would constitute a danger to the public,
- (ii) fails to comply with the requirements of Chapter V or of the rules made thereunder, or
- (iii) is being used as a public service vehicle without a valid permit authorising its use as such vehicle, such authority may, after giving the owner an opportunity of making any representation he may wish to make, for reasons to be recorded in writing, suspend the certificate of registration of the vehicle,—

- (a) in cases falling under clause (i) or clause (ii), until the defects are remedied to its satisfaction;
- (b) in cases falling under clause (iii), for such period not exceeding four months as it may deem fit."

(2) in sub-section (3) for the words "and when the suspension has continued" substitute the words, brackets and figures "and in cases falling under clause (i) or clause (ii) of sub-section (1) when the suspension has continued".

Bom. Act XXXI of 1954, S. 2 [3-5-1954].

Note.—This amendment was made before the substitution of sub-section (1) by the Central Act C of 1956.

UTTAR PRADESH

In its application to the whole of Uttar Pradesh, in sub-section (1)—

- (a) after the words "rules made thereunder" the words "or that any motor vehicle is being used as a public service vehicle without a valid permit for being used as such" shall be inserted, and
- (b) at the end of the said sub-section, the words "or, in the case of a motor vehicle being used without a valid permit as a public service vehicle for a period not exceeding four months" shall be added.

U. P. Act XXVIII of 1953, S. 2 [23-10-1953].

Note.—This amendment was made before the substitution of sub-section (1) by the Central Act C of 1956.

34. Cancellation of registration.

(1) If a motor vehicle has been destroyed or has been rendered permanently incapable of use, the owner shall, within fourteen days or as soon as may be, report the fact to the registering authority within whose jurisdiction he resides and shall forward to that authority the certificate of registration of the vehicle together with any token or card issued to authorise the use of the vehicle in a public place.

(2) The registering authority shall, if it is the original registering authority, cancel the registration and the certificate of registration, or, if it is not, shall forward the report and the certificate of registration to the original registering authority and that authority shall cancel the registration and the certificate of registration.

(3) Any registering authority may order the examination of a motor vehicle within its jurisdiction by such authority as the <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may by order appoint and, if upon such examination and after giving the owner an opportunity to make any representation he may wish to make <sup>a</sup>[(by sending to the owner a notice by registered post acknowledgment due at his address entered in the certificate of registration)] it is satisfied that the vehicle is in such a condition that <sup>a</sup>[it is incapable of being used or] its use in a public place would constitute a danger to the public and that it is beyond reasonable repair, may cancel the registration of the vehicle.

(4) If a registering authority is satisfied that a motor vehicle has been permanently removed out of <sup>b</sup>[India], the registering authority shall cancel the registration.

(5) A registering authority cancelling the registration of a motor vehicle under section 33 or under this section shall communicate the fact in writing to the owner of the vehicle and the owner of the vehicle shall forthwith surrender to that authority the certificate of registration of the vehicle and any token or card issued to authorise the use of the vehicle in a public place.

(6) A registering authority making an order of cancellation under this section shall, if it is the original registering authority, cancel the certificate of registration and the entry relating to the vehicle in its records, and, if it is not the original registering authority, forward the certificate of registration to that authority, and that authority shall cancel the certificate of registration and the entry relating to the motor vehicle in its records.

(7) The expression "original registering authority" in this section and in sections 30, 31, 32 and 33 means the registering authority" in whose records the registration of the vehicle is recorded.

35. Appeals.

(1) Any owner of a motor vehicle aggrieved by an order of refusal under section 27 to register a motor vehicle or under sub-section (1) of section 38 to issue a certificate of fitness or by an order of suspension or cancellation made under section 33 or 34 or by an order of cancellation under sub-section (3) of section 38 may, within thirty days of the date on which he has received notice of such order, appeal against the order to the prescribed authority.

(2) The appellate authority shall give notice of the appeal to the original authority and after giving opportunity to the original authority and the appellant to be heard either personally or by pleader in the appeal pass such orders as it thinks fit :

*[36. Special provisions in regard to transport vehicle.

(1) Having regard to the number, nature and size of the tyres attached to the wheels of a transport vehicle, other than a motor cab, and its make and model and other relevant considerations, a State Government may, with the approval of the Central Government, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify in relation to each make and model of a transport vehicle the maximum safe laden weight of such vehicle and the maximum safe axle weight of each axle of such vehicle.

(2) A registering authority, when registering a transport vehicle other than a motor cab, shall enter in the record of registration and shall also enter in the certificate of registration of the vehicle the following particulars, namely :

- (a) the unladen weight of the vehicle ;
- (b) the number, nature and size of the tyres attached to each wheel;
- (c) the registered laden weight of the vehicle and the registered axle weights pertaining to the several axles thereof; and
- (d) if the vehicle is used or adapted to be used for the carriage of passengers solely or in addition to goods, the number of passengers for whom accommodation is provided ;

and the owner of the vehicle shall have the same particulars exhibited in the prescribed manner on the vehicle.

Section 35 — Note 1

[1] An order refusing to record the transfer of ownership on a registration certificate as required by S. 31 should be deemed to be an order passed under S. 27 of the Act which is appealable under S. 35. 1959 Raj 175 (177) [AIR V 46 C 66] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 419.

(3) There shall not be entered in the certificate of registration of any such vehicle any laden weight of the vehicle or a registered axle weight of any of its axles in excess of that specified in the notification under sub-section (1) in relation to the make and model of the vehicle and to the number, nature and size of the tyres attached to its wheels ;

Provided that where it appears to a State Government that heavier weights than those specified in the notification under sub-section (1) may be permitted in a particular locality for vehicles of a particular type, the State Government may, by order in the Official Gazette, direct that the provisions of this sub-section shall apply with such modifications as may be specified in the order.

(4) When by reason of any alteration in such vehicle, including an alteration in the number, nature or size of its tyres, the registered laden weight of the vehicle or the registered axle weight of any of its axles no longer accords with the provisions of sub-section (3), the provisions of section 32 shall apply and the registering authority shall enter in the certificate of registration of the vehicle revised registered weights which accord with the said sub-section.

(5) In order that the registered weight entered in the certificate of registration of a vehicle may be revised in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (3), the registering authority may require the owners of transport vehicles in accordance with such procedure as may be prescribed to produce the certificates of registration within such time as may be specified by the registering authority.]

[a] Section 36 was substituted for the former sections 36 and 37 by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 32. [This section is to be brought into force on a date to be notified in the Gazette; up to 5-10-1960 no such notification has been issued. The former sections 36 and 37 were as follows :

“36. Special requirement for registration of transport vehicle.—(1) A registering authority shall refuse to register any transport vehicle other than a motor cab, unless the application for registration is accompanied by a document in Form F as set forth in the First Schedule signed by the maker of the vehicle or an assembler duly authorised by the maker in this behalf stating the greatest laden weight and greatest axle weights for which the vehicle is and the several axles are designed :

(2) Where a transport vehicle or chassis, as the case may be, has affixed to it a metal plate, bearing the stamp of the maker or assembler and identified as appertaining to the particular vehicle or chassis to which it is attached, which contains the particulars specified in sub-section (1), that plate may at the discretion of a registering authority be deemed to be the document referred to in sub-section (1).

“37. Special particulars to be recorded on registration of transport vehicle.—(1) A registering authority, when registering a transport vehicle other than a motor cab, shall enter in the record of registration and shall also enter in the certificate of registration of the vehicle the following particulars, namely :—

- (a) the unladen weight of the vehicle ;
  - (b) the number, nature and size of the tyres attached to each wheel ;
  - (c) the registered laden weight of the vehicle and the registered axle weights pertaining to the several axles thereof, fixed in accordance with sub-section (2) with reference to the particulars of the tyres entered in the certificate of registration ; and
  - (d) if the vehicle is used or adapted to be used for the carriage of passengers solely or in addition to goods, the number of passengers for whom accommodation is provided. ;
- and the owner of the vehicle shall have the said particulars exhibited in the prescribed manner on the vehicle.

(2) Notwithstanding any statement contained in the document referred to in sub-section (1) of section 36 as supplied by the maker or assembler of a transport vehicle, the registered weight to be recorded by the registering authority for any axle shall not exceed the permissible weight for that axle calculated in accordance with the Seventh Schedule, nor shall the registered laden weight of the vehicle exceed the sum of the several axle weights as so determined :

Provided that where it appears to a State Government that heavier weights than those specified in the Seventh Schedule may be permitted in a particular locality for vehicles of a particular type, the State Government may by notification in the Official Gazette direct that the provisions of this sub-section shall apply with such modifications as may be specified in the notification.

(3) When by reason of an alteration in the number, nature or size of tyres attached to the vehicle the registered laden weight or any registered axle weight recorded in the certificate of registration no longer accords with the laden weight or the axle weight as determined in accordance with sub-section (2), the provisions of section 32 shall apply, and the registering authority shall enter in the certificate of registration a revised registered laden weight and registered axle weights."

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Under the provisions of sections 36 and 37<sup>a</sup> of the Act, a registering authority has to rely upon a document signed by the maker or assembler of the vehicle for determining the maximum laden weight and axle weights for which the vehicle and axles are designed. It is thus possible for a manufacturer to bid up as a "selling point", the certified weights to the limit of the capacity of the tyres, as somewhat liberally allowed in the Seventh Schedule. Misunderstanding and confusion have also been caused owing to technical defects in these sections in respect of the load distribution. It is, therefore, now proposed that State Governments should be empowered to specify the maximum safe laden weight and axle weight in relation to any make or model of transport vehicle and that the registering authorities shall enter in registration certificates the laden weight, etc., as specified by the State Government. It is proposed that the Central Government shall obtain recommendations regarding laden weights, etc., from motor vehicle manufacturers in India, and work them out within the limits of weight specified by the manufacturers on the basis of a formula approved by the Technical Committee of the Transport Advisory Council. A consolidated list will then be furnished to the State Governments for their guidance in notifying specifications. The Seventh Schedule will be deleted. The amendments proposed are expected to serve as a check on the growing tendency to certify exaggerated weights, ignoring safety margin, and also to safeguard against the possibility of fixation of maximum permissible weights at an unwarrantable figure by merely fixing tyres of large sizes. In consequence, some vehicles on the road will have a registered laden and axle weight in excess of that allowed in respect of vehicles registered after the date on which this provision becomes law; the clause [see sub-section (5)], therefore, provides that the registering authorities may require certificates of registration to be revised in accordance with these new provisions."

38. Certificate of fitness of transport vehicles.

(1) Subject to the provisions of section 39, a transport vehicle shall not be deemed to be validly registered for the purposes of section 22, unless it carries a certificate of fitness in Form H as set forth in the First Schedule, issued by the prescribed authority, to the effect that the vehicle complies for the time being with all the requirements of Chapter V and the rules made thereunder. Where the prescribed authority refuses to issue such certificate, it shall supply the owner of the vehicle with its reasons in writing for such refusal.

<sup>a</sup>[(2) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), a certificate of fitness shall remain effective for such period, not being in any case more than two years or less than six months, as may be specified in the certificate by the prescribed authority under sub-section (1).]

Section 38 -- Note 1

[1] The absence of a fitness certificate granted under S. 38, current at the moment, has the result of rendering the vehicle one not registered in accordance with S. 22. 1959 All 489 (491) [AIR V 46 C 123].

[2] Driving a taxi cab for the purpose of carrying passengers would be illegal in case it is not furnished with a certificate of fitness, as dealt with in S. 38, which is current at the relevant time. Hence an owner plying the vehicle after expiry of the terms of the fitness certificate without obtaining a fresh one violates the provisions of the section. 1954 Assam 155 (156) [AIR V 41 C 47]; 1954 Cri L Jour 1180.

[3] Accused radio dealer owning car—Car registered as motor car but having appearance of van — Finding by Magistrate that car was used for carrying goods — Held, that Magistrate was not wrong in finding accused guilty of offence under Ss. 38 (1) and 42 (1), as accused had not obtained certificate as required by S. 38 (1) or permit under S. 42 (1). 1943 Mad 720 (721) [AIR V 30]; 43 Cri L Jour 94.

[4] Section 38 makes it obligatory on the part of a person to obtain a certificate of fitness in respect of transport vehicles only. It is not applicable to private cars. Therefore an owner of a motor car who carries his luggage or other goods, for his own use cannot be prosecuted and convicted for infringing S. 38 read with S. 22. 1959 Mys 221 (222) [AIR V 46 C 88]; 1959 Cri L Jour 1095.

[5] A tractor employed in carrying manure for solely agricultural purposes is exempted from possessing a certificate of fitness under S. 38 because it does not fall within the category of transport vehicle as defined in S. 2 (33) of the Act as it stood before the amendment. 1954 Mad 1021 (1023) [AIR V 41 C 355]. 1954 Cri L Jour 1578.

(3) The issuing authority or other prescribed authority may for reasons to be recorded in writing cancel a certificate of fitness at any time, if satisfied that the vehicle to which it relates no longer complies with all the requirements of this Act and the rules made thereunder; and on such cancellation the certificate of registration of the vehicle and any permit granted in respect of the vehicle under Chapter IV shall be deemed to be suspended until a new certificate of fitness has been obtained.

<sup>b</sup>[(4) A certificate of fitness issued under this Act shall, while it remains effective, be valid throughout India, and a State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that subject to such conditions as may be specified in the notification, certificates of fitness issued by a competent authority in the State of Jammu and Kashmir shall, while they remain effective, be valid in the State as if they were issued under this Act.]

[a] Substituted for the former sub-section (2), by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 33 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid. The original sub-section (4) was omitted, ibid., 1942 (XX of 1942), S. 10 [3-4-1942].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sub-section (2) as substituted in 1956.—"Section 38 (2) of the Act has proved to be defective. Under its provisions, a certificate of fitness must remain effective for three years unless a shorter period, in no case less than six months, is specified. Even in a period of six months, a transport vehicle may run 20,000 miles and develop a number of serious defects, while in a period of three years it is not unlikely to outrun its useful life altogether. In order to ensure that transport vehicles, especially public service vehicles, are maintained and kept in a fit mechanical condition, it is essential to provide for inspection at shorter intervals. It is, therefore, proposed to reduce the maximum and minimum limits to one year and three months [raised by the Joint Committee to two years and six months] respectively, and to place in the hands of a responsible authority, the power to fix the period of validity, subject to prescribed conditions. In practice the minimum period will probably be specified only when vehicles are very old or have a bad accident record, or when it is intended to give an owner time to replace a vehicle."

—S. O. R.

Sub-section (4) as added in 1956.—This sub-section provides for reciprocity in respect of the validity of certificate of fitness between States inter se and between States in India and the State of Jammu and Kashmir; reciprocity will be obligatory as between the States and permissive as between the States in India and Jammu and Kashmir.

—S. O. R.

39. Registration of vehicles, the property of the Central Government.

(1) The authority specified in Part B of the Fourth Schedule may register any motor vehicle which is the property <sup>a</sup>[or for the time being under the exclusive control] of the Central Government; and any vehicle so registered shall not, so long as it remains the property <sup>a</sup>[or under the exclusive control] of the Central Government, require to be registered otherwise under this Act.

(2) A transport vehicle registered under this section shall carry a certificate <sup>b</sup>[to the effect that the vehicle complies for the time being with all the requirements of Chapter V and the rules made thereunder] issued by the authority referred to in sub-section (1).

(3) An authority registering a vehicle under sub-section (1) shall assign a registration mark in accordance with the provisions contained in the Fourth Schedule and shall issue a certificate in respect of the vehicle that the vehicle has been registered under this section.

(4) If a vehicle registered under this section ceases to be the property <sup>a</sup>[or under the exclusive control] of the Central Government, the provisions of section 23 shall thereupon apply.

(5) The authority registering a vehicle under sub-section (1) shall furnish to any State Government all such information regarding the general nature, overall dimensions, and axle weights of the vehicle as the State Government may at any time require.

40. Application of Chapter III to trailers.

(1) The registration mark assigned to a trailer shall be displayed in the prescribed manner on the side of the vehicle.

(2) No person shall drive a motor vehicle to which a trailer is or trailers are attached unless the registration mark of the motor vehicle so driven is displayed in the prescribed manner on the trailer or on the last trailer in the train, as the case may be.

41. Power to make rules.

(1) A <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Chapter.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the conduct and hearing of appeals that may be preferred under this Chapter, <sup>a</sup>[the fees to be paid in respect of such appeals and the refund of such fees];

(b) the appointment, functions and jurisdiction of registering and other prescribed authorities;

<sup>b</sup>[(c) the issue of certificates of registration and fitness and duplicates of such certificates to replace the certificates lost, destroyed or mutilated;

(cc) the production of certificates of registration before the registering authority for the revision of entries therein of particulars relating to the registered weight or the colour or colours of the body, wings and front end of vehicles;]

(d) the temporary registration of motor vehicles, and the issue of temporary certificates of registration and marks;

(e) the manner in which registration marks and the particulars referred to in <sup>bb</sup>[sub-section (3) of section 36], and other prescribed particulars shall be exhibited;

(f) the fees to be charged for the issue or alteration of certificates of registration, for certificates of fitness, for registration marks, and for the examination or inspection of motor vehicles, and the refund of such fees;

<sup>c</sup>[(ff) the exemption of prescribed persons or prescribed classes of persons from payment of all or any or any portion of the fees payable under this Chapter;]

(g) the forms, other than those set forth in the First Schedule, to be used for the purposes of this Chapter;

Section 40 — Note 1

[1] Sub-section (2) of this section does not abridge or override the requirements of S. 22 read with Rule 26 of the U. P. Motor Vehicles Rules of 1940 in the case of the trailer attached to a drawing vehicle and exempt it from the necessity for separate registration. It only creates an additional obligation to display on the trailer the registration number of the driving vehicle besides its own registration number. ('58) ILR (1958) 2 All 631 (635).

CHAPTER IV

CONTROL OF TRANSPORT VEHICLES

42. Necessity for permits.

(1) No owner of a transport vehicle shall use or permit the use of the vehicle in any public place, save in accordance with the conditions of a permit granted or countersigned by a Regional or <sup>A</sup>[State] Transport Authority <sup>3</sup>or the Commission] authorising the use of the vehicle in that place in the manner in which the vehicle is being used :

SECTION 42 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.
2. Use of vehicle without a valid permit.
3. Infringement of conditions of permit.
4. "Permit the use."
5. Contravention of the section by persons other than the owner.
6. Exemption of Government vehicles.

1. Scope. — [1] The language of S. 42 (1) employs prohibitive or negative words and therefore its legislative intent is that the statute is mandatory. 1959 S C 79 (81) [AIR V 46 C 14]: (1959) Supp (1) S C R 153 : ILR (1958) 2 All 973 : 1959 Cri L Jour 248.

[2] Section 42 does not contravene Art. 19 (1) (g) on the ground of imposing any previous restraint on the exercise of the constitutional right guaranteed by that Article. The theory of previous restraint evolved with reference to freedom of person or speech cannot apply with the same force to freedom of trade or profession and reasonable conditions forming part of licensing regulations cannot be held to be repugnant to Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution. 1953 Mad 279 (289, 290) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB). (Although what is insisted upon under the Act is described as a permit it is in substance only a licence.)

[3] The permit-holder gets no vested right in or over the road by virtue of the authorisation given to him under sub-s. (1). The authorisation does not entitle him to use the road as a matter of right. 1951 Orissa 1 (7) [AIR V 38 C 1] : 52 Cri L Jour 43 (SB) * 1958 Punj 315 (320) [AIR V 45 C 88] : 1 L R (1958) Punj 141 (DB).

[4] Section 42 (1) applies only to those vehicles which are transport vehicles according to the definition contained in S. 2 (33). Hence a tractor used for carrying manure does not come within the mischief of the section because being a vehicle solely used for agricultural purposes it is not a transport vehicle as defined by S. 2 (33). 1954 Mad 1021 (1025) [AIR V 41 C 355] : 1954 Cri L Jour 1578. (Case decided before S. 2 (33) was amended in 1956.)

[5] Where the owner of a motor car used the car on two occasions for carrying bundles of newspapers to the railway station without a permit under S. 42 (1), held that the car came within the definition of a "goods vehicle" in S. 2 (8) and therefore permit under S. 42 (1) was necessary and as the owner had no permit under S. 42 (1) he was guilty of an offence punishable under S. 123. 1945 Mad 440 (440) [AIR V 32] : 47 Cri L Jour 233 : ILR (1946) Mad 222.

[6] Though Chap. IV which contains S. 42, Motor Vehicles Act deals with the control of Provided that a stage carriage permit shall, subject to any conditions that may be specified in the permit, authorise the use of the vehicle as a contract carriage :

Provided further that a stage carriage permit may, subject to any conditions that may be specified in the permit, authorise the use of the vehicle as a goods vehicle either when carrying passengers or not :

Provided further that a public carrier's permit shall, subject to any conditions that may be specified in the permit, authorise the holder to use the vehicle for the carriage of goods for or in connection with a trade or business carried on by him.

(2) In determining, for the purposes of this Chapter, whether a transport vehicle is or is not used for the carriage of goods for hire or reward,

- (a) the delivery or collection by or on behalf of the owner of goods sold, used or let on hire or hire-purchase in the course of any trade or business carried on by him other than the trade or business of providing transport.
- (b) the delivery or collection by or on behalf of the owner of goods which have been or which are to be subjected to a process or treatment in the course of a trade or business carried on by him, or
- (c) the carriage of goods in a transport vehicle by a manufacturer of or agent or dealer in such goods whilst the vehicle is being used for demonstration purposes.

Section 42 — Note 1 (contd.)

transport vehicles and contemplates primarily the control of the carriage of goods for hire or for reward. S. 42 (1) is more general and prohibits the use of a transport vehicle for any purpose in a public place save in accordance with the conditions of a permit as provided in that section. 1943 Mad 41 (41) [AIR V 30] : 44 Cri L Jour 180.

[7] This section has not repealed S. 166 of the Madras Local Boards Act of 1920. 1951 Orissa 1 (3, 4) [AIR V 38 C 1] : 52 Cri L Jour 43 (SB).

2. Use of vehicle without a valid permit. — [1] The use of a motor vehicle without a permit is also an infringement of S. 42 (1). 1955 All 618 (619) [(S) AIR V 42 C 179] : 1955 Cri L Jour 1443 (DB). (AIR 1950 All 234, Approved.)

[2] Section 42 (1) requires only that the vehicle which is being run should be covered by a permit and not also that the person who is running it should be himself the permit-holder. Therefore the vendee of a bus does not contravene its provisions by continuing to run the bus under the permit already granted in the name of his vendor and without getting the endorsement of the transfer made on the permit. 1955 Trav-Co 551 (552) [AIR V 40 C 210].

[3] The first proviso to S. 42 permits and authorises the use of a stage carriage as a contract carriage; only it must be subject to the condition mentioned in the permit namely that intimation is to be given of the particulars mentioned in the conditions. No special permit is required to such cases. 1956 Mad 582 (583) [AIR V 43 C 180] : 1956 Cri L Jour 1207 (1).

3. Infringement of conditions of permit. — [1] Any and every matter stated on the permit, but not under the column earmarked for writing down the conditions subject to which it is being issued, cannot operate as a restriction the breach of which would amount to the violation of a condition of the permit. 1950 Mad 837 (838) [AIR V 37 C 350] : 51 Cri L Jour 1567. (Lorry described as intended for carrying building materials - No entry in the column headed conditions restricting its use to carriage of building materials only - There is no breach of any condition if the lorry carries furniture.)

[2] Rule 179 of the Bengal Motor Vehicles Rules does not make the charging of the minimum tariff prescribed by it compulsory and hence a taxi driver does not contravene the condition in his permit which mentions that tariff if he charges a lower rate. 1954 S C 190 (192) [AIR V 41 C 40] : 1954 S C R 371.

[3] The restriction in a permit that the lorry can be used for the carriage of certain specified goods only for the military does not bar the owner using it for carrying other goods for his own purposes. Such use does not amount to a breach of the condition in view of the provisions of the third proviso to sub-s. (1). 1949 Mad 565 (566, 567) [AIR V 36 C 249] : 50 Cri L Jour 876. (Although the private user must also be subject to any conditions which may be prescribed the conditions cannot absolutely bar the user by the owner and render the proviso itself nugatory.)

[4] In order to constitute a breach of S. 42 (1) of the Act, the vehicle, whether stationary or moving, should be found in the course of its use for the purpose for which it is intended at a place which is not authorised by the permit. The mere fact that goods vehicle is found going empty in a route not covered by its permit will not be a breach of S. 42 (1) of the Act unless it is proved that it was going by that unauthorised route in the course of shall not be deemed to constitute a carrying of the goods for hire or reward; but the carriage in a transport vehicle of goods by a person not being a dealer in such goods who has acquired temporary ownership of the goods for the purpose of transporting them to another place and there relinquishing ownership shall be deemed to constitute a carrying of the goods for hire or reward.

(3) Sub-section (1) shall not apply—

<sup>b</sup>[(a) to any transport vehicle owned by the Central Government or a State Government and used for Government purposes unconnected with any commercial enterprise ;]

(b) to any transport vehicle owned by a local authority or by a person acting under contract with a local authority and used solely for road cleansing, road watering or conservancy purposes ;

(c) to any transport vehicles used solely for police, fire brigade or ambulance purposes ;

(d) to any transport vehicle used solely for the conveyance of corpses ;

(e) to any transport vehicle used for towing a disabled vehicle or for removing goods from a disabled vehicle to a place of safety ;

<sup>a</sup>[(ee) to any transport vehicle owned by a manufacturer of automobiles and used solely for such purposes as may be approved by the Central Government ;]

(f) to any transport vehicle used for any other public purpose prescribed in this behalf ;

its user as a goods transport vehicle. 1960 Mad 265 (267) [AIR V 47 C 87] : 1960 Cri L Jour 923.

4. "Permit the use." — [1] The owner of a car cannot be said to have permitted his driver to use his car within the meaning of this section merely because he had been negligent in not keeping the car locked up and that negligence helped the driver to use the car without his knowledge. 1943 Mad 41 (41) [AIR V 30] : 44 Cri L Jour 180.

[2] The owner cannot be punished for the over-loading of the bus by the driver and the conductor unless it is proved that the over-loading was at his instance or with his approval. 1960 Madh Pra 151 (152) [AIR V 47 C 71] : 1960 Cri L Jour 611.

5. Contravention of the section by persons other than the owner.—[1] Section 42 (1) contemplates not only prohibition against the user by the owner of the vehicle or his permitting its user in a manner contrary to the conditions of the permit but it also contemplates that the vehicle itself shall be used in the manner prescribed by the permit. The prohibition therefore is not merely against the use by the owner but against the use by any one contrary to the conditions of the permit of the vehicle itself. Hence even a person other than the owner becomes liable to punishment under S. 123 for his transgressing the provisions of S. 42 (1). 1959 S C 79 (81) [AIR V 46 C 14] : (1959) Supp (1) S C R 153 : I L R (1958) 2 All 973 : 1959 Cri L Jour 248. ### OBJECTS AND REASONS

Clause (a) of sub-section (3) as substituted in 1956.— "At present, the vehicles owned by or on behalf of the Government, except those used in connection with the business of railways, are not required to take out permits. The exemption in respect of the railways was intended to provide that commercially operated vehicles should come under the permit law. Some of the State Governments who have embarked upon commercial road transport operation are not taking out permits for their vehicles and it is doubtful whether such a procedure is in conformity with the Constitution of India. It is, therefore, proposed to bring commercial vehicles of Governments also within the permit control.

Clause (i), ibid.— "Under the existing provisions, trailers used for any purpose other than the carriage of goods for hire or reward are exempted from taking out a permit. Under the proposed amendment, heavy trailers will be removed from the scope of exemption, with the result that it will be necessary to take out permits in their case."—S.O.R.

Section 42 — Note 5 (contd.)

[2] Carrying a complement of passengers in excess of the limit fixed by the permit amounts to a contravention of the conditions of the permit for which both the driver and the conductor can be punished under S. 123. (Driver and conductor cannot be punished under S. 123 for carrying passengers in excess of the authorised seating accommodation—They can be convicted only under S. 112 for the breach of a rule made under the Motor Vehicles Act.)]

[3] Where under the Motor Vehicles Rules the supervision over the entry and exit of passengers and the loading of the vehicle with luggage or goods is wholly the responsibility of the conductor the driver cannot be punished under Ss. 42 and 123 for an offence of over-loading the vehicle. 1943 Mad 347 (348) [AIR V 30] : 44 Cri L Jour 526.

[4] The conductor of a bus cannot be punished under S. 123 read with S. 42 on the ground that the bus was driven in a public place without a valid registration. ('51) 4 San L R 243 (244) (DB).

[5] There is no provision in the Act or in the Rules which makes it incumbent upon a driver and a conductor to issue tickets to passengers. Hence the driver and the conductor cannot be convicted under S. 42 read with S. 123 for not issuing tickets to passengers. 1952 All 276 (277) [AIR V 39] : I L R (1950) All 441 : 1952 Cri L Jour 588 + 1951 All 403 (404) [AIR V 38 C 73] + 1945 Nag 283 (284) [AIR V 32] : I L R (1945) Nag 742 : 47 Cri L Jour 189.

STATE AMENDMENTS

ANDHRA PRADESH

HYDERABAD AREA—In its application to the Hyderabad area of the State of Andhra Pradesh, cl. (a) of sub-section (3) of section 42 was substituted by a new cl. (a) which was similar to cl. (a) now substituted by the Central Act C of 1956.

—Hyd. Act XLV of 1956, S. 2 [10-1956].

BIHAR

In section 42, for cl. (a) of sub-section (3) substitute the following clause, namely,—

“(a) to any transport vehicle owned by or on behalf of the Central Government other than a public service vehicle or a goods vehicle used for the purposes of hire or reward.”

—Bih. Act XXVII of 1950, S. 2 [21-7-1950].

Note.—This amendment was made prior to the substitution of cl. (a) of sub-section (3) by Central Act C of 1956.

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL REGION.—In cl. (a) of sub-section (3) of section 42, for the words “in connection with the business of an Indian State Railway” substitute the words “for a commercial purpose.”

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 2 [16-1-1948].

Note.—This amendment was made prior to the substitution of cl. (a) of sub-section (3) by Central Act C of 1956.

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, in section 42, for clause (a) of sub-section (3) the following shall be substituted, namely :—

“(a) to any transport vehicle owned by or on behalf of the Central Government or a State Government other than a vehicle used for a commercial purpose or for the purposes of a commercial department;”

—Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 2, [23-3-1947].

Note.—This amendment was made prior to (a) the States re-organisations in 1956 and 1960, and (b) the substitution of cl. (a) of sub-section (3) by the Central Act C of 1956.

Section 42 -- Note 5 (contd.)

[But see 1943 Nag 22 (23) [AIR V 30] : 43 Cri L Jour 917 : ILR (1943) Nag 64. The word “owner” in S. 42 does not include an agent.)]

[7] A person in whose name a vehicle is registered may not be its owner and therefore not under an obligation to take out a permit. But still he cannot escape liability for punishment when the vehicle, which is solely controlled by him, is used without a permit because under the circumstances he must be held to have allowed that user. 1955 All 618 (619) [(S) AIR V 42 C 179] : 1955 Cri L Jour 1443 (DB). [8] Where the Regional Transport Authority has sanctioned a fare table and made it a condition of the permit that the table should be exhibited in the bus and observed it is a contravention of the provisions of S. 42 (1) to revise those fares without the approval of the Regional Transport Authority. The person responsible for making such a change and charging the increased fares commits an offence for which he can be punished even though he is not the owner of the vehicle. 1944 Nag 89 (90) [AIR V 31] : ILR (1944) Nag 173 : 45 Cri L Jour 469 (DB).

6. Exemption of Government vehicles.—

[1] In a case decided under this section before the Constitution it has been held that subsection (3) (a) was wide enough to entitle the government to own and run buses without obtaining permits for them as required by sub-s. (1). 1948 Mad 400 (406) [AIR V 35 C 197] (DB).

[2] Section 42 (3) (a) in so far as it purports to exempt the State transport buses from the application of sub-s. (1) is in conflict with Art. 14 of the Constitution and therefore void under Art. 13 thereof. 1951 All 257 (282) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All 269 (FB) * 1955 Raj 14 (16) [AIR V 42 C 6] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 127 (DB).

[But see 1956 Pepsu 3 (7) [(S) AIR V 43 C 2].]

[3] The State no doubt is entitled both under the Constitution and under S. 42, Motor Vehicles Act to engage in transport business in competition with the citizens of State but it has no power to create a monopoly in that business in its own favour through executive orders and thereby interfere with the constitutional rights of the citizens under Art. 19 (1) (g) to practise any profession or to carry on any occupation, trade or business. 1954 Assam 212 (216) [AIR V 41 C 61] : ILR (1955) 7 Assam 7 (DB) * 1951 All 257 (267, 283) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All 269 (DB).

WEST BENGAL

In its application to West Bengal, in section 42, for cl. (a) of sub-section (3) substitute the following,—

"(a) to any transport vehicle owned by or on behalf of the Central Government or a State Government other than a vehicle used for a commercial purpose or for the purposes of a commercial department". —W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 3 [13-7-1951].

Note.—This amendment was made prior to the substitution of cl. (a) of sub-section (3) by Central Act (C) of 1956.

43. Power to State Government to control road transport.

(1) A<sup>a</sup> [State Government], having regard to—

- (a) the advantages offered to the public, trade and industry by the development of motor transport, and
- (b) the desirability of co-ordinating road and rail transport, and
- (c) the desirability of preventing the deterioration of the road system, and
- (d) the desirability of preventing uneconomic competition among motor vehicles, may, from time to time, by notification in the Official Gazette, issue directions to the State Transport Authority—

Section 43 — Note 1

[1] Under S. 43 read with Ss. 58 and 58-A of the Motor Vehicles Act, it is open to the State Government to place restrictions on the plying of public buses, to confine the use of public highways for running public buses to only such persons as have been granted permits under the Act and to cancel or refuse to renew permits held by an operator or a class of operators. These provisions have been clearly saved by Art. 19 (6) of the Constitution. Therefore, a refusal of the Regional Transport Authority to renew the permits held by certain operators does not violate their fundamental right inasmuch as the right given by Art. 19 (1) (g) is clearly subject to Art. 19 (6) of the Constitution. 1952 Nag 353 (354) AIR V 39; ILR (1953) Nag 110.

[2] The subject of fixing of permit fees is not included in S. 43 and so the local Government has nothing to do with the fixation of the permit fees. That falls within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Transport Authority. 1945 Cal 260 (264) AIR V 32; ILR (1944) 1 Cal 631 (DB).

[3] The Regional authority has no power either express or implied to fix the fares of the stage carriages under the Act or rules. Such power has been expressly given to the State Government alone by S. 43 of the Act. 1955 Cal 59 (61) (S) AIR V 42 C 10; ILR (1956) 2 Cal 879.

[4] Rule 179 of Bengal Motor Vehicles Rules which authorised the introduction of baby taxis on the roads and prescribed lower rates of tariff for them was held not to offend the provisions of Article 14 or Article 19 (1) (g). 1954 S C 190 (192) AIR V 41 C 40; 1954 S C R 371.

- (ii) regarding the prohibition or restriction, subject to such conditions as may be specified in the directions, of the conveying of long distance goods traffic generally, or of specified classes of goods, by private or public carriers;
- (iii) regarding the grant of permits for alternative routes or areas, to persons in whose cases the existing permits are cancelled or the terms thereof are modified in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (b) or clause (c) of sub-section (2) of section 68F;
- (iv) regarding any other matter which may appear to the State Government necessary or expedient for giving effect to any agreement entered into with the Central Government or any other State Government or the Government of any other country relating to the regulation of motor transport generally, and in particular to its co-ordination with other means of transport and the conveying of long distance goods traffic :

Provided that no such notification shall be issued unless a draft of the proposed directions is published in the Official Gazette specifying therein a date being not less than one month after such publication, on or after which the draft will be taken into consideration and any objection or suggestion which may be received has, in consultation with the State Transport Authority, been considered after giving the representatives of the interests affected an opportunity of being heard.]

(2) The <sup>a</sup>[State Government] shall permit, at such intervals of time as it may fix, the interests affected by any notification issued under sub-section (1) to make representations urging the cancellation or variation of the notification on the following grounds, namely :—

- (a) that the railways are not giving reasonable facilities or are taking unfair advantage of the action of the <sup>a</sup>[State Government] under this section; or
- (b) that conditions have changed since the publication of the notification; or
- (c) that the special needs of a particular industry or locality require to be considered afresh.

(3) If the <sup>a</sup>[State Government], after considering any representation made to it under sub-section (2) and having heard the representatives of the interests affected and <sup>b</sup>[the State Transport Authority], is satisfied that any notification issued under sub-section (1) ought to be cancelled or varied, it may cancel the notification or vary it in such manner as it thinks fit.

[a] Substituted for certain original words by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 37 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] Substituted for "the State and Regional Transport Authorities", ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in 1956.—"The existing section 43 gives State Governments only restricted powers (the exercise of which is subject to a cumbersome procedure) in respect of matters of detail which seem best left to the State Transport Authority. At the same time, the State Government must have power to give necessary directions. This clause, therefore, seeks to empower the State Governments to give directions, in regard to fixing of fares and freights for stage carriages, contract carriages and public carriers and the prohibition or restriction of the conveying of long distance goods traffic. The State Governments are also being empowered to give effect to any agreement with the Central Government or any other State Government or any agreement concluded by the Central Government with the neighbouring countries relating to the regulation of motor transport generally, its co-ordination with other means of transport and conveyance of long distance goods traffic or the mutual exchange or control of motor transport.

"Hitherto, State Governments have been obliged to consult affected interests severally before passing orders, and this has given rise to practical difficulties. It is proposed to require instead that the directions shall be published for objections which will be considered before being issued. It is considered unnecessary to provide for consultation with Regional Transport Authorities as well as the State Transport Authority as the latter can speak for the former."

—S.O.R.

Clause (iii)—"Where on account of the State transport undertaking taking over any route or area the existing permits are cancelled or the terms thereof are modified, the Committee feel that the holders of such permits should, as far as possible, be granted permits for alternative routes or areas. The Committee are, therefore, of opinion that the State Government should be empowered to give necessary directions in this regard to the State Transport Authority."—J.C.R.

Note—Prior to its amendment by Act C of 1956, after cl. (d) of sub-section (1) of section 43, the said section 43 was as follows, namely,

"and after having heard the representatives of the interests affected and having consulted the State and Regional Transport Authorities concerned by notification in the Official Gazette,—

- (i) prohibit or restrict throughout the State or in any area or on any route within the state, subject to such conditions as it may think desirable, the conveying of long distance goods traffic generally, or of prescribed classes of goods, by private or public carriers; or
- (ii) fix maximum or minimum fares on freights for stage carriages and public carriers to be applicable throughout the state or within any area or on any route within the State."

STATE AMENDMENTS

ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, same as that given under Madras.

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL REGION—In sub-section (1) of section 43, for item (ii) substitute the following items, namely,—

"(i) fix maximum, minimum or specified fares or freights for stage carriages and public carriers to be applicable throughout the State or within any area or any route within the State, or

(ii) notwithstanding anything contained in section 58 or section 60 cancel any permit granted under the Act in respect of a transport vehicle or class of such permits either generally or in any area specified in the notification:

Provided that no such notification shall be issued before the expiry of a period of three months from the date of a notification declaring its intention to do so:

Provided further that when any such permit has been cancelled, the permit holder shall be entitled to such compensation as may be provided in the rules; or

(iv) declare that it will engage in the business of road transport service either generally or in any area specified in the notification."

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 3 [16-1-1948].

MADRAS

In section 43, after sub-section (3) add the following sub-section, namely,—

"(4) (a) The State Government may, by notification in the Fort St. George Gazette, declare that it will engage in the business of road transport either throughout the State or in such areas therein, or on such routes or portions thereof in the State, as may be specified in the notification;

Explanation.—The power conferred by this clause may be exercised from time to time, as occasion requires.

(b) Where a notification has been issued under clause (a), the State Government, notwithstanding anything contained in section 58 or section 60, may, after giving not less than three months' notice, cancel any permit granted under this Act in respect of a transport vehicle or any class of such permits, in so far as such permit or class of permits relates to the area or the route specified in such notification :

Provided that where any permit (other than a permit for a spare transport vehicle) is cancelled under this clause, the holder of the permit shall be entitled to such compensation as may be prescribed, if the following conditions are fulfilled, namely,—

(i) a permit should have been held for such vehicle for the area or route concerned both on the 10th July 1947 and on the date of the issue of the notification under clause (a);

(ii) if the permit held in respect of the vehicle on the 10th July, 1947, was a temporary permit irregularly issued under section 62 in a case where, but for the orders of the State Government, a permit would have been granted or renewed under section 58, a period of three years from the date of the grant of such temporary permit should not have expired before the date of the issue of the notification under clause (a);

Explanation.—Where more than one temporary permit has been granted irregularly in respect of the vehicle on or after the 2nd September, 1946 and on or before the 10th July, 1947, the earliest of the temporary permits so granted shall be taken into account for the purposes of the foregoing paragraph."

—Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 2 [21-12-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, to sub-section (1) of section 43 the following shall be added, namely :—

- “ ; or
- (iii) notwithstanding anything contained in section 58 or section 60 cancel any permit granted under the Act in respect of a transport vehicle or class of such permits either generally or in any area specified in the notification :
- Provided that no such notification shall be issued before the expiry of a period of three months from the date of a notification declaring its intention to do so ;
- Provided further that when any such permit has been cancelled the permit holder shall be entitled to such compensation as may be provided in the rules ; or
- (iv) declare that it will engage in the business of road transport service either generally or in any area specified in the notification.”

— Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 3 [23-3-1947].

VIDARBHA. — The amendment made in this section by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

PUNJAB

In its application to the State of Punjab, excluding the transferred territories, in section 43, after sub-section (3) add the following sub-section, namely, —

- “(4) (a) The State Government may, by notification, declare that it will engage in the business of road transport either throughout the State or in such areas therein or on such routes or portions thereof in the State, as may be specified in the notification.
- (b) Where a notification has been issued under clause (a), the State Government, notwithstanding anything contained in section 58 or section 60, may after giving not less than one month's notice, cancel any permit granted under this Act in respect of a transport vehicle or any class of such permits, in so far as such permit or class of permits relates to the area or the route specified in such notification :
- Provided that where any permit (other than a temporary permit or a permit for a spare transport vehicle) is ~~cancelled~~ under this clause, the holder of such permit shall be entitled to such compensation as may be prescribed.”

— E. P. Act XXVIII of 1948, S. 2 [12-7-1948].

WEST BENGAL.

In its application to West Bengal, to sub-section (1) of section 43 add the following namely, —

- “ ; or
- (iii) notwithstanding anything contained in section 58 or section 60 cancel any permit granted under this Act in respect of a transport vehicle or any class of such permits either generally or in any area specified in the notification :
- Provided that no such notification shall be issued before the expiry of a period of three months from the date of a notification declaring its intention to do so :
- Provided further that when any such permit has been cancelled, the permit holder shall be entitled to such compensation as may be prescribed ; or
- (iv) declare that it will engage in the business of road transport service through the State or in such area or on such route within the State as may be specified in the notification.”

— W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 4 [13-7-1951].

SECTION 43A*STATE AMENDMENTS*ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, after section 43 insert the following section, namely, —

“43A. Power of State Government to issue orders and directions to Transport Authorities.—The State Government may issue such orders and directions of a general character

Section 43A (Andhra Pradesh and Madras)—
Note I

[1] An order made under S. 43-A by which the Government gives directions to the Transport Authority is not a law regulating the rights of the parties to carry on the business of motor transport. Where therefore the Central Transport Authority cancels a permit issued to a party by the R. T. A. and grants the same to another party in accordance with the directions issued during the pendency of the appeal it cannot be said that it has interfered with the vested rights of the parties by giving retrospective effect to any subsequently made law. 1959 S C 694 (700, 701) [AIR V 48 C 98]. (Per Sarkar J. contra — Directions given under S. 43A amount to law and affect the parties.)

[2] Orders issued under S. 43-A amount to merely executive and administrative directions to the subordinate authorities. They do not confer any legal enforceable rights on any party. 1959 S C 896 (901) [AIR V 48 C 125]. (Order made by Transport Authority—Direction under section not complied with — Still order cannot be quashed by writ of certioas it may consider necessary, in respect of any matter relating to road transport, to the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority, and such Transport Authority shall give effect to all such orders and directions."

— Mad. Act XX of 1948, S. 3 [21-12-1948].

BIHAR

Section 43A inserted is the same as that given under Andhra Pradesh without, however, the words "of a general character".

—Bih. Act XXVII of 1950, S. 3 [21-7-1950].

MADRAS

In its application to the State of Madras, after section 43 insert the following section, namely,—

"43A. Power of State Government to issue orders and directions to Transport Authorities.

— (1) [Same as that given under Andhra Pradesh]

— Mad. Act XX of 1948, S. 2 [21-12-1948].

"(2) The State Government may, on a consideration of the matters set forth in sub-section (1) of section 47, direct any Regional Transport Authority or the State Transport Authority to open any new route or to extend an existing route or to permit additional stage carriages to be put, or to reduce the number of stage carriages, on any specified route."

— Madras Act XXXIX of 1954, S. 2.

PUNJAB

Section 43A inserted is the same as that given under Andhra Pradesh with the addition of the words "and publish in such manner as may be prescribed" after the words "Government may issue".—

E. P. Act XXVIII of 1948, S. 3 [12-7-1948].

44. Transport authorities.

(1) The ^[State Government] shall, by notification in the Official Gazette, constitute for the ^[State] a ^[State] Transport Authority to exercise and discharge the powers and functions specified in sub-section (3), and shall in like manner constitute Regional Transport Authorities to exercise and discharge throughout such areas (in this Chapter referred to as regions) as may be specified in the notification, in respect of each Regional Transport Authority, the powers and functions conferred by or under this Chapter on such Authorities :

Section 43A (A. P. & Mad.) — Note 1 (contd.) rari.)+1957 Andh-Pra 882 (886) [AIR V 44 C 271] : ILR (1956) Andh 591.

[3] The power conferred by S. 43-A on the Government is not an unlimited power. It appears to be limited to the purpose of giving instructions and directions to the Transport Authorities in relation to their administrative functions. The fact that the Government can in practice, misuse that power to issue orders and directions even in relation to the judicial functions of the Transport Authorities is not ground for striking down the section as unconstitutional. If the Government in excess of its powers issues such an order or direction the proper remedy lies in challenging the order itself as unconstitutional. 1953 Mad 279 (290) [A I R V 40 C 102] : I L R (1953) Mad 304.

[4] Instructions given under S. 43-A cannot override the discretionary power conferred upon the Regional Transport Authority under S. 60 in the matter of suspending permits. 1957 Andh-Pra 882 (886) [A I R V 44 C 271] : ILR (1956) Andh 591.

— [5] Under sub-section (2) the Government has jurisdiction to extend an existing route by including in it any other existing route. But in exercising that jurisdiction it is bound by the principle of natural justice and hence it must give an opportunity to any party who desires to make representations against the proposed extension. 1957 Mad 536 (538) [(5) AIR V 44 C 157] : ILR (1957) Mad 908.

[6] The Government while directing the extension of existing route has no jurisdiction to restrict the number of buses that can ply on the extended route. 1957 Mad 536 (538, 539) [(5) AIR V 44 C 157] : ILR (1957) Mad 908.

[7] Since the direction issued under S. 43-A is an administrative order it is outside the purview of correction by the issue of a writ of certiorari. 1957 Mad 536 (540) [(5) A I R V 44 C 157] : ILR (1957) Mad 908.

[8] The Government cannot be directed by writ of mandamus to cancel its order made under S. 43-A. 1957 Mad 536 (540) [(5) AIR V 44 C 157] : ILR (1957) Mad 908.

[9] Sub-section (2) was introduced only so that the Government may have power to issue directions to the Regional Transport Authorities or State Transport Authority relating to the matters mentioned therein. It cannot be construed as indicating any absence of power in the Regional Transport Authorities to fix the number of stage carriages under S. 47 (3) within its region. (53) 1958 Ker L T 666 (668).

SECTION 44 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.
2. Constitution of transport authorities.
3. Financial interest.
4. Qualification for chairmanship — Judicial experience.
5. Power to take over inter-district routes — Sub-s. (3) (b).
6. Directions to B. T. As. under sub-s. (4).
7. Delegation of powers — Sub-s. (5).

1. Scope.—[1] Section 44 does not constitute the State Transport Authority or the Provided that *[* * *] in <sup>b</sup>[the Union territories] the <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may abstain from constituting any Regional Transport Authority :

Provided further that the area specified as the region of a Regional Transport Authority shall in no case be less than an entire district, or the whole area of a Presidency-town.

(2) A <sup>a</sup>[State] Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority shall consist of <sup>c</sup>[a Chairman who has had judicial experience and such other officials and non-officials, not being less than two, as the <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may think fit to appoint]; but no person who has any financial interest whether as proprietor, employee or otherwise in any transport undertaking shall be appointed as or continue as a member of a <sup>a</sup>[State] or Regional Transport Authority, and, if any person being a member of any such Authority acquires a financial interest in any transport undertaking, he shall, within four weeks of so doing, give notice in writing to the <sup>a</sup>[State Government] of the acquisition of such interest and shall vacate office:

<sup>d</sup>[Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall be construed as debarring an official (other than an official connected directly with the management or operation of a transport undertaking) from being appointed as or continuing as a member of any such Authority merely by reason of the fact that the Government employing the official has, or acquires, any financial interest in a transport undertaking.]

It is rule 147 framed under S. 68 that makes the Central Road Traffic Board as the appellate authority competent to hear appeals from orders of the Regional Transport Authority. 1960 Andh Pra 268 (270) [AIR V 47 C 82] (DB).

[2] The R. T. A. and the S. T. A. being quasi-judicial bodies, when serious allegations or charges such as of bribery are made against some of the members constituting the R. T. A. it is desirable to constitute another R. T. A. 1954 Assam 219 (221) [AIR V 41 C 62] : ILR (1955) 7 Assam 23 (DB).

[3] A Regional Transport Authority acts judicially in granting or refusing licences and its orders are subject to the writ of certiorari. 1953 Mad 709 (711) [AIR V 40 C 272] : I L R (1954) Mad 36 (DB).

[4] A writ of prohibition cannot be issued restraining the R. T. A. from dealing with an application for variation of the route filed before it in pursuance of an order of the Transport Commissioner passed under S. 44 (3) (c) directing such a variation. The order of the Transport Commissioner being an administrative one cannot be got rid of directly by a writ of certiorari under Art. 226 of the Constitution and that being so the same result cannot be obtained by restraining the R. T. A. from dealing with the application for variation. 1960 Mad 365 (366) [AIR V 47 C 129] : ILR (1960) Mad 642 (DB).

[3] On the expiry of their term the members constituting the R. T. A. have no legal authority to represent the R. T. A. and any orders granting permits passed by such members after expiry of their term are invalid. The Government cannot by issuing a subsequent notification extend their term retrospectively from the date of expiry of their term till the appointment of their successors so as to give validity to the orders passed by such members after the expiry of their term. 1959 Ker 347 (348) [AIR V 46 C 115] : I L R (1959) Ker 1124 + 1960 Ker 229 (230) [AIR V 47 C 109] (DB). - (b) to perform the duties of a Regional Transport Authority where there is no such Authority and, if it thinks fit or if so required by a Regional Transport Authority, to perform those duties in respect of any route common to two or more regions;
- (c) to settle all disputes and decide all matters on which differences of opinion arise between Regional Transport Authorities; and
- (d) to discharge such other functions as may be prescribed.

(4) For the purpose of exercising and discharging the powers and functions specified in sub-section (3), a <sup>A</sup>[State] Transport Authority may, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, issue directions to any Regional Transport Authority and the Regional Transport Authority shall *[in the discharge of its functions under this Act, give effect to and] be guided by such directions.

[6] Applications for renewal of their permits made by the petitioner under S. 58 (2) of the Motor Vehicles Act were heard at full length on 22-8-1950 by the Regional Transport Authority consisting of ten members and the case was fixed for delivery of judgment without fixing any date. The judgment was reserved for certain further enquiries and the parties were informed accordingly. After the receipt of the inquiry report the judgment was finally delivered on 26-9-59 allowing the renewal of the permits. Three out of the ten members constituting the R. T. A. on 22-8-1950 did not take part in the proceedings on 26-9-1959 and instead two new members were included. There was no fresh hearing on 26-9-1959 on which date the judgment was delivered—Held, that the Regional Transport Authority which sat on 26-9-1959 was not legally authorised to determine the question affecting the rights of the parties which had been heard and considered by a different body of persons. In the absence of any fresh hearing on 26-9-1959 the judgment delivered on that date had no force and effect in law and was liable to be set aside. 1960 Pat 333 (336, 337) [A I R V 47 C 118] (DB).

[7] The minimum number required to constitute a State Transport Authority is only three. Where out of the five members constituting such authority, two members are found to be disqualified under S. 44 (2) proviso, the participation of those two members along with the other three will not make the decision ab initio void. 1958 Ker 341 (347) [A I R V 45 C 122].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Proviso to sub-section (2). — “At present, an official employed by the Government, which has acquired or acquires, a financial interest in a transport undertaking is debarred from being appointed a member of a State or Regional Transport Authority. It is proposed to clarify that this ban will not apply to officials except those directly connected with the management and operation of State transport undertakings.”—S. O. R.

STATE AMENDMENTS

ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, to sub-section (2) of section 44 add the following provisos, namely,—

“Provided that if the State Government thinks fit, the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority may consist of a single official :

Provided further that an official shall not be deemed to have a financial interest as aforesaid merely by reason of the fact that the State Government employing him has such interest.”

— Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 4 [21-12-1948].

HYDERABAD—In its application to the Hyderabad area of the State of Andhra Pradesh, the Proviso added to sub-section (2) of section 44 is the same as that added by the Central Act C of 1956.

—Hyd. Act XLV of 1956, S. 3 [5-10-1956].

BIHAR

After sub-section (2) of section 44 insert the following sub-section, namely,— “(2A) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-sections (1) and (2), but always subject to the other provisions of this Act, the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority shall cease to exercise and perform the powers and duties conferred or imposed on it by or under this Act in respect of transport vehicles or class of transport vehicles used in areas or on routes or portions thereof specified in a notification under sub-section (1) of section 66A with effect from such date and subject to such restrictions and exceptions, if any, as the State Government may, by notification, direct and the functions of the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority in respect of such Transport vehicles or class of transport vehicles shall be discharged by such authority and in such manner as may be specified by the State Government in the said notification.”

— Bihar Act XXVII of 1950, S. 4 [21-7-1950].

Section 44 — Note 3 (contd.)

undertaking its servants and officials are not disqualified from being appointed as members of the State or Regional Transport Authority. But if the officials or servants are employed in the undertaking itself, then they are certainly disqualified because, being employees of the undertaking, they have a financial interest in the undertaking. 1952 All 74 (76, 78) [AIR V 39] : 1LR (1952) 2 All 926 (DB). (Transport Commissioner and D. I. G. of Police who are Government employees cannot be said to have any financial interest in the Government Roadways which is a part of the Transport Department.) * 1951 All 257 (285, 290, 327) [AIR V 38 C 51] : 1LR (1951) 1 All 269 (FB)* 1948 Mad 400 (405) [AIR V 35 C 197] (DB). (Forestry officer, a collector of a District or a Medical officer unconnected with Government motor transport undertaking can be validly appointed as members.)

[2] In a case decided before the amendment it was held that “financial interest” meant financial interest which a person had in his personal capacity and not as employee of another who had the financial interest. On this principle it was held that the State Transport Commissioner could be a member of the State Transport authority although he was the administrative head of the State Transport system. The proviso added by the Amending Act of 1956 now recognises the main principle laid down by the above decision but has expressly excluded from its purview an official connected with the management of a transport undertaking. Hence the above decision as to the State Transport Commissioner being competent to be a member of the State Transport Authority could not be good law now even after the enactment of the Proviso recognising the main principle laid down in the above case. 1957 Pat 732 (735, 736) [AIR V 44 C 219] (DB).

[3] In view of the Proviso to S. 44 (2) the appointment of the Regional Transport Officer as one of the members of the Regional Transport Authority does not render its constitution invalid. 1959 All 197 (202) [AIR V 46 C 48] (DB).

[4] A member of the State Transport Advisory Board comes within the prohibition mentioned in the Proviso to S. 47 (2). 1958 Ker 341 (346, 347) [AIR V 45 C 122].

4. Qualification for chairmanship — Judicial experience. — [1] The provision in S. 44 (2) that the Chairman must have had judicial experience is not directory but mandatory. Hence only a person who has had judicial experience can be appointed the chairman. 1960 Manipur 36 (42) [AIR V 47 C 10].

[2] Sub-section (2) as amended requires that the chairman of the State Transport Authority and the Regional Transport Authority must be a person of judicial experience. Judicial experience would mean the knowledge or skill gained by a person by actually working as a judge in a Court of law. The experience of a person which he acquired in the capacity as the chairman of the S. T. A. in deciding a few appeals or even experience gained by deciding revenue cases cannot be regarded as judicial experience for the purposes of the sub-

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL REGION—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, to sub-section (2) of section 44 add the following Provisos, namely,—

“Provided that if the State Government so thinks fit the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority may consist of a single official :

Provided further that nothing in this sub-section shall debar an official from appointment on the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority merely by reason of the fact that the State Government employing him has any financial interest in a transport undertaking or that such official is appointed by the State Government as an, or holds on behalf of the State Government the office of, ex officio or managing director in a transport undertaking in which the State Government has any financial interest.”

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 4 [16-1-1948].

MADRAS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, for the Provisos to sub-section (2) of section 44 [these Provisos were added by Madras Act XX of 1948] substitute the following Provisos, namely,— “Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall be construed as debarring an official (other than an official connected directly with the management or operation of a transport undertaking) from being appointed as or continuing as a member of any such Authority merely by reason of the fact that the Government employing the official has, or acquires, any financial interest in a transport undertaking :

Provided further that if the State Government thinks fit, the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority may consist of a single official only.”

—Madras Act XIX of 1957, S. 2 [9-12-1957].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, in sub-section (2) of section 44, the following provisos shall be added, namely :—

“Provided that if the State Government so thinks fit the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority may consist of a single official :

Provided further that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to an official merely by reason of the fact that the State Government employing him has any financial interest in a transport undertaking.”

Bom Act VII of 1947, S. 4 [23-2-1947].

HYDERABAD—In its application to the Hyderabad area of the State of Maharashtra, the Proviso added to sub-section (2) of section 44 is the same as that added by the Central Act (C of 1956).

—Hyd. Act XLV of 1956, S. 3 [5-10-1956].

VIDARBHA—The amendment made in this section by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha region of the State of Maharashtra.

Section. 1960 Raj 105 (115, 114) [AIR V 47 C 27] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 869 (DB). (Nominal judicial experience for a short period is no qualification.) * 1960 Manipur 58 (42) [AIR V 47 C 10]. (In this case a doubt was expressed as to whether a Deputy Commissioner having power under Assam Land and Revenue Manual could be called a person who has had judicial experience.)

[5] A person who has acted as a judge or magistrate in a civil or criminal Court of law and has gained experience in that capacity in a reasonable measure is alone qualified for appointment as the chairman of the S. T. A. or R. T. A. 1960 Raj 105 (116) [AIR V 47 C 27] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 869 (DB).

[4] Experience in the decision of criminal cases is as much judicial experience as the experience acquired by a Civil Judicial Officer in deciding civil disputes. A District Magistrate can therefore be said to be a person possessing judicial experience fulfilling the requirements of sub-section 2 for appointment as chairman. 1959 All 197 (202) [AIR V 46 C 48] (DB).

[5] Members of the Bar are no doubt part of the judicial machinery. However the functions they perform are different from those of the Bench. Lawyers get little opportunity to apply their impartial and unbiased mind to judicial matters and hence the legal knowledge and experience which they acquire cannot be regarded as judicial experience. 1960 Raj 105 (114) [AIR V 47 C 27] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 869 (DB).

5. Power to take over inter-district routes—Sub-section (3) (b).—[1] The Provincial Transport Authority has power under cl. (b) of sub-section (3) to take over inter-District routes. 1951 Orissa 81 (83) [AIR V 38 C 26] (DB).

6. Directions to R. T. As. under sub-section (4).—[1] Section 44 lays down the constitution of various Transport authorities and also confers on the State Transport Authority fairly extensive powers of control over the Regional Transport Authorities. The directive No. 2715-16/T dated 4th March 1952 of the Punjab Government directing the R. T. A. not to issue permits on routes parallel to Punjab Roadways without advice of S.T.A. is therefore not illegal. 1960 Punj 14- (144) [AIR V 47 C 46] : ILR (1959) Punj 2108.

[2] The State Transport Authority cannot under sub-section (4) validly issue directions to the R. T. A. which are inconsistent with the other provisions of the Act. Thus it cannot validly exercise its powers under the sub-section to change the forum prescribed by S. 45 as having jurisdiction to entertain applications for permits and direct that the ap-

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, to sub-section (2) of section 44 add the following Provisos, namely,—

"Provided that if the State Government so thinks fit the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority may consist of a single official :

Provided further that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to an official merely by reason of the fact that the State Government employing him has any financial interest in a transport undertaking."

W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 5 [13-7-1951].

SECTION 44A*STATE AMENDMENTS*ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh excluding the transferred territories, after section 44 insert the following new section, namely,—

"44A. State Transport Commissioner or his subordinate to exercise notified powers.—

The State Government may appoint a State Transport Commissioner; and notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, may, by notification in the Official Gazette, authorise such Commissioner or any officer subordinate to him, to exercise and discharge, in lieu of any other authority prescribed by or under this Act, such powers and functions as may be specified in the notification."

—Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 5 [21-12-1948].

Section 44 — Note 6 (contd.)

Applications should be filed before a different forum. The S. T. A. can however authorise under the sub-section a different R. T. A. to dispose of an application for permit as there is a clear distinction between disposal of an application and the filing of it. 1951 Orissa 81 (83) [AIR V 38 C 26] (DB).

7. Delegation of powers—Sub-section (5).

—[1] The exercise of the power of delegation under sub-section (5) is dependent on the existence of rules framed by the Government under the sub-section. In the absence of such rules the delegation becomes invalid. 1951 Orissa 81 (83, 84) [AIR V 38 C 26] (DB) * 1956 Andh 232 (234) [AIR V 43 C 65] (DB).

[2] Section 44 merely authorises the State Government when framing rules under S. 68 to authorise the S. T. A. and the R. T. A. to delegate their functions. The State Government is not given the power to delegate those functions. Delegation of authority is rendered possible if the Provincial Government authorises the delegation and the delegation takes place in point of fact. Where the R. T. A. has not been authorised to delegate any of its powers to the secretary but it delegates some of its powers, any order passed by the Secretary in the exercise of the delegated powers is without jurisdiction. 1953 Assam 199 (200, 201) [AIR V 40 C 81] : I L R (1953) 5 Assam 282 (DB).

[3] Under S. 44 (5) there cannot be any delegation of power that would contravene the provisions of the statute. The power to cancel or suspend a permit granted by the R. T. A. cannot be validly delegated to its secretary since such delegation would contravene the provisions of Ss. 59 and 60 of the Act. The Secretary of the R. T. A., therefore, cannot in pursuance of R. 134A (XI) of Madras Motor Vehicles Rules exercise such a power of cancellation. 1957 Andh Pra 1027 (1031) [AIR V 44 C 332] : ILR (1957) Andh Pra 643 (FB) * 1956 Andh 232 (234) [AIR V 43 C 65] (DB). (Rule 134-A (XI) of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules tested by the principle that a rule cannot travel beyond the four corners of the Act is well within the rule making power of the Government. The proper way of construing it is to hold that it gives way to the special provisions of S. 60 in so far as it empowers the secretary to suspend a permit granted by the R. T. A.)

[But see 1957 Mad 387 (390, 391) [(S) AIR V 44 C 118] : ILR (1957) Mad 461 (DB).]

[4] By enacting S. 44 (5) the Legislature has not abdicated its legislative functions and the validity of S. 44 (5) cannot be challenged as constituting an excessive or unconstitutional delegation of the legislative functions by the legislature. 1957 Mad 387 (390) [(S) AIR V 44 C 118] : ILR (1957) Mad 461 (DB). (AIR 1956 Andh 129, Rel. on.) * 1956 Andh 129 (138) [(S) AIR V 43 C 45] : ILR (1956) Andh 800 (DB). (Rule 134-A, Andhra Motor Vehicles Rules, not invalid.)

[5] The Government has power to make Rules enabling the Regional Transport Authority to delegate its power under Ss. 58 and 63 to its Secretary. 1959 Mys 17 (20) [AIR V 46 C 5] : ILR (1958) Mys 421 (DB).

[6] The Central Road Traffic Board can delegate to its Secretary the power to grant or refuse the stay of orders appealed against and Rule 140-A (V) of Motor Vehicles Rules (Andhra) authorising such delegation is valid. 1957 Andh-Pra 830 (831) [(S) AIR V 44 C 252].

[7] The section cannot be said to offend Art. 14 on the ground that the legislature has entrusted arbitrary powers to the State Government under S. 44 (5) and that its operation might result in discriminatory legislation. 1957 Mad 387 (390) [(S) AIR V 44 C 118] : ILR (1957) Mad 461 (DB).

Section 44A (Andhra Pradesh)—Note 1

[1] The legality of the S. 44-A cannot be challenged on the assumption that the power of delegation vested by it in the Government may be abused by it by authorising any ineligible person to exercise and discharge the powers and functions of any authority under this Act. 1959 Andh Pra 413 (417) [AIR V 46 C 117] : ILR (1959) Andh Pra 375 (FB).

[2] The power of the Government to delegate under this section is not limited to the delegation of powers to an officer whose subordination to the State Transport commissioner is statutorily defined. It can also be made to the Regional Transport officer who is without

MAHAKOSHAL—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, after section 44 insert the following new section, namely:—

"44A. Any officer authorised by the State Government to exercise notified powers.—Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the State Government may by notification authorise any officer to exercise and discharge in lieu of any other authority specified in or under this Act such powers and functions as may from time to time be specified in the notification."

— C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 5 [16-1-1948].

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, the newly inserted section 44A is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

— Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 5 [21-12-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, after section 44, the following new section shall be inserted, namely:—

"44A. Transport officers to exercise notified powers.—Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the State Government may by notification in the Official Gazette authorise the State Motor Transport Officer or a Regional Transport Officer to exercise and discharge in lieu of any other authority prescribed by or under this Act such powers and functions as may from time to time be specified in the notification."

VIDARBHA—Section 44A as inserted by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha region of the State of Maharashtra.

PUNJAB

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Punjab, after section 44 insert the following new section, namely:—

"44A. State Transport Commissioner and Deputy State Transport Commissioner or their subordinates to exercise notified powers.—The State Government may appoint a State Transport Commissioner and one or more Deputy State Transport Commissioners and notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, may by notification, authorise such Commissioner and Deputy State Transport Commissioners or any officer subordinate to them, to exercise and discharge, in lieu of any other authority prescribed by or under this Act, such power and functions as may be specified in the notification."

doubt a subordinate of the commissioner even though that subordination has not been statutorily defined. 1959 Andh Pra 413 (417) [AIR V 46 C 117] : ILR (1959) Andh Pra 375 (FB).

[3] In order to determine whether the officers are subordinate or not for the purposes of this section the test is whether in the performance of their various duties they are subject to the direction and control of a superior officer or are independent officers subject only to such directions as the statute gives. A subordination in the sense that a review of such of their determinations as are quasi-judicial may be had or not is not the test contemplated. 1959 Andh Pra 413 (416) [AIR V 46 C 117] : ILR (1959) Andh Pra 375 (FB).

[4] The word "officer" in this section means an individual who is invested with the authority and is required to perform the duties incidental to an office. 1959 Andh Pra 413 (416) [AIR V 46 C 117] : ILR (1959) Andh Pra 375 (FB).

Section 44-A (Madras) — Note 1

[1] The Regional Transport Officer is an officer subordinate to the Transport Commissioner within the meaning of S. 44-A. Hence the Government of the State may by notification validly confer on him the authority, in view of any other authority prescribed by or under the Act, to discharge the functions and powers of that authority. 1960 SC 1191 (1198, 1198, 1199) [AIR V 47 C 208]. (Hence Regional Transport Officer can vary the conditions of a permit by virtue of a power conferred by such a notification of the Government—AIR 1957 Mad 599 (FB), Overrule.)

Section 44-A (Punjab) — Note 1

[1] Section 44-A of the Act (as inserted by the East Punjab Amendment Act, 1948) providing for the appointment of a State Transport Commissioner in addition to those provided in the Central Act, does not come in conflict with the Central Act inasmuch as that Act does not prohibit appointment of any other authority than those mentioned in S. 44.

in like manner appoint for such area within the State as may be specified in the notification, a Regional Transport Officer.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the State Government may by notification in the Official Gazette authorise the State Transport Officer or a Regional Transport Officer to exercise and discharge in lieu of any other authority prescribed by or under this Act such powers and functions as may from time to time be specified in the notification."

*[45. General provision as to applications for permits.

Every application for a permit shall be made to the Regional Transport Authority of the region in which it is proposed to use the vehicle or vehicles:

Provided that if it is proposed to use the vehicle or vehicles in two or more regions lying within the same State, the application shall be made to the Regional Transport Authority of the region in which the major portion of the proposed route or area lies, and in case the portion of the proposed route or area in each of the regions is approximately equal, to the Regional Transport Authority of the region in which it is proposed to keep the vehicle or vehicles:

Provided further that if it is proposed to use the vehicle or vehicles in two or more regions lying in different States, the application shall be made to the Regional Transport Authority of the region in which the applicant resides or has his principal place of business.]

[a] Substituted for the original section by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 39 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"The existing section 45 has led to certain practical difficulties in regard to the grant of permits for inter-regional and inter-State routes. The amendment seeks to remove this lacuna by laying down clearly the authorities to whom applications for permits should be made in such cases."

—S. O. R.

STATE AMENDMENTS

ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh excluding the transferred territories, to section 45 add the following Proviso, namely,—

"Provided that the State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that application for such class of permits and in such region as may be specified in the notification, shall be made to the State Transport Authority."

—Mad. Act XX of 1948, S. 6 [21-12-1948].

BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, Proviso added to section 45 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

—Bih. Act XXVII of 1950, S. 6 [21-7-1950].

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL.—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, Proviso added to the section 45 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 6 [16-1-1948].

Section 44-A (Punjab) — Note 1 (contd.)

Hence it cannot be said that its provisions are impliedly repealed by the enactment by the centre of the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 100 of 1956. 1959 Punj 1 (6) [AIR V 46 C 1] : ILR (1958) Punj 1590 (FB).

Section 45 — Note 1

[1] In a case decided under this section before it was amended by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act of 1956 it was held that a direction issued by the Provincial Transport Authority to the effect that in all cases where the route of a transport vehicle lay over two regions the applicant for permit must apply only to the Regional Transport Authority of that region in which the longest stretch of that route lay was not a valid direction as it was opposed to the provisions of the section. Hence it was held that an application made to the Regional Transport Authority of the region in which the applicant resided and the permit granted thereon were not invalid in spite of the directions of the Provincial Transport Authority. 1951 Orissa 81 (83) [AIR V 38 C 26] (DB).

[2] An application for a permit by a State Transport undertaking under S. 68-F must also comply with the provisions of Ss. 45, 46 and 47. 1960 S C 350 (352) [AIR V 47 C 58]. (Hence a permit granted on application which is in breach of S. 57 (2) is liable to be quashed.)

[3] The possession of a motor vehicle is not a condition precedent to the presentation of an application for a permit. 1960 Mys 33 (34, 55) [AIR V 47 C 7].

MADRAS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, excluding the transferred territories, Proviso added to section 45 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

—Mad. Act XX of 1948, S. 6 [21-12-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, Proviso added to section 45 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

—Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 6 [23-3-1947].

PUNJAB

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Punjab, excluding the transferred territories, Proviso added to section 45 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, Proviso added to section 45 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

—W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 7 [13-7-1951].

*[46. Application for stage carriage permit.

An application for a permit in respect of a service of stage carriages or to use a particular motor vehicle as a stage carriage (in this Chapter referred to as a stage carriage permit) shall, as far as may be, contain the following particulars, namely :—

- (a) the route or routes or the area or areas to which the application relates;
- (b) the number of vehicles it is proposed to operate in relation to each route or area and the type and seating capacity of each such vehicle;
- (c) the minimum and maximum number of daily services proposed to be provided in relation to each route or area and the time-table of the normal services;
- (d) the number of vehicles intended to be kept in reserve to maintain the service and to provide for special occasions;
- (e) the arrangements intended to be made for the housing and repair of the vehicles, for the comfort and convenience of passengers and for the storage and safe custody of luggage;
- (f) such other matters as may be prescribed.]

[a] Substituted for the original S. 46 by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 40 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

Section 46 — Note 1

[1] An application under Chapter IV could be made either by an individual or by a State Transport Undertaking. By the enactment of Chapter IV-A the State Transport Undertaking has not lost its right to make an application under Chapter IV. Chapter IV-A confers certain additional rights to a State Transport Undertaking which such an undertaking did not have before the enactment of Chapter IV-A. 1960 Bom 88 (90) [AIR V 47 C 24].

[2] Any State transport undertaking when it applies under S. 68 F (1) must comply with provisions of S. 46. 1960 S C 350 (352) [AIR V 47 C 58]; 1960-2 S C R 130.

[3] The possession of vehicle is not a condition precedent to the presentation of an application for permit under S. 46. 1960 Mys 33 (35) [AIR V 47 C 7] (DB).

[4] The R. T. A. inviting by a notification under S. 57 (2) applications for permits to relieve the congestion existing on a route already served by a stage carriage service is not justified in refusing an application made in response to its invitation on the ground that it has failed to mention the particulars of the proposed time-table. The omission in the case does not vitiate the application not only because the applicant, in the circumstances of the case can leave it to the R. T. A. to fix the time-table under S. 48 (3) but also because he is required by S. 46 as it stands amended to state particulars only "as far as may be." 1960 Mys 33 (37) [AIR V 47 C 7] (DB).

[5] An application for permit made when S. 46 as it stood before its amendment in 1956 was in force must be rejected as no application at all where it has failed to set out the particulars required by the section. The section as it stood unamended was mandatory in its nature and hence a noncompliance with its requirements amounted to an illegality and not a mere irregularity. The fact that during the pendency of the application the section was amended and by the amendment it lost its mandatory character does not affect the disposal of the pending application because the question in that case is whether it amounted to an application under the Act at all and could have been validly entertained and that has to be decided only as the section stood at the time of its presentation. In this view it is also unnecessary to decide whether S. 46 as amended is retrospective and should be applied to the case. 1960 Mys 90 (92, 93) [AIR V 47 C 25] (DB) + 1960 Mys 72 (73) [AIR V 47 C 17]; ILR (1958) Mys 773 (DB).

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in sections 46, 47 and 48 by Act C of 1956.—"Bus services with a fleet of buses will in future be a more common feature than single bus services and the proposed amendments are designed to meet this changing situation. Opportunity is taken in the amendment of section 46 of the Act to include among the particulars which must be supplied in the application for a stage carriage permit details regarding the number and timing of services, and the arrangements proposed for the maintenance of vehicles and the comfort and convenience of passengers, etc. Section 47 of the Act makes it obligatory on Regional Transport Authority to consider only the adequacy of existing road services, but not rail, river, or any other kind of service, or prospective services to be operated either by the applicant or any one else. Section 48 remedies these defects." —S. O. R.

47. Procedure of Regional Transport Authority in considering application for stage carriage permit.

"[(1) A Regional Transport Authority shall, in considering an application for a stage carriage permit, have regard to the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the interest of the public generally;
- (b) the advantages to the public of the service to be provided, including the saving of time likely to be effected thereby and any convenience arising from journeys not being broken;
- (c) the adequacy of other passenger transport services operating or likely to operate in the near future, whether by road or other means, between the places to be served;
- (d) the benefit to any particular locality or localities likely to be afforded by the service;
- (e) the operation by the applicant of other transport services, including those in respect of which applications from him for permits are pending;
- (f) the condition of the roads included in the proposed route or area;

under the Rules on an application for a permit should be filed along with the application itself. Hence, if the Rules also contain no such provision, an application filed within the time allowed by S. 57 cannot be rejected as time-barred because the treasury challan was not filed with the application but only later on separately after the expiry of the prescribed period of limitation. 1959 Pat 111 (112) [AIR V 46 C 26] (DB).

SECTION 47 — SYNOPSIS

1. Sub-s. (1)—Scope.
2. "The interests of the public generally"—Clause (a).
3. Advantages to the public—Clause (b).
4. Adequacy of existing transport service—Clause (c).
5. Benefit to any locality—Clause (d).
6. Operation by applicant of other transport services—Clause (e).
7. Condition of roads—Clause (f).
8. State amendments — Clauses (g) and (h) added by Orissa State.
9. Representations of persons interested in road transport.
10. Preference to Co-operative Societies—Sub-s. (1), Proviso.
11. Power to refuse permit under sub-s. (2).
12. Power to limit the number of stage carriages on a route—Sub-s. (3).
13. "Route," meaning of.

1. Sub-s. (1)—Scope. — [1] Section 47 makes two-fold provision: firstly, that in considering an application for a stage carriage permit the Regional Transport Authority shall have regard to the matters enumerated in clauses (a) to (f), and, secondly, that it shall also take into consideration any representation made by persons or authorities mentioned in the section. 1959 All 197 (201) [AIR V 46 C 48].

[2] The power to consider the adequacy of existing road passenger transport services is a very reasonable power and hence it cannot be said that Cl. (c) of sub-s. (1) is bad as contravening Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution. 1951 All 257 (271) [AIR V 58 C 51] : I L R (1951) 1 All 269 (FB) (Per Malik C. J.)

[3] The provisions of Sub-s. (1) governs applications for renewal of permits. 1955 Sau 57 (59) [(S) AIR V 42 C 22] (DB)+1956 Madh B 175 (176) [AIR V 43 C 74] (DB).

[4] The section is not confined to the grant of permits on existing routes only. The grant of permits on new routes is also within its comprehension. ('60) 1960-2 Andh W R 447 (450) (DB).

[5] In dealing with an application for the renewal of a permit the Regional Transport Authority has to take into consideration the matters mentioned in this section only where the original permit had been validly granted. Where the original permit was ab initio null and void it can straightway dismiss the application for its renewal on that ground alone without reference to any of the matters mentioned in this section. 1957 All 254 (256) [(S) AIR V 44 C 73] (DB).

and shall also take into consideration any representations made by persons already providing passenger transport facilities by any means along or near the proposed route or area, or by any association representing persons interested in the provision of road transport facilities recognised in this behalf by the State Government, or by any local authority or police authority within whose jurisdiction any part of the proposed route or area lies :

Provided that other conditions being equal, an application for a stage carriage permit from a co-operative society registered or deemed to have been registered under any enactment in force for the time being shall, as far as may be, be given preference over applications from individual owners.]

(2) A Regional Transport Authority shall refuse to grant a stage carriage permit if it appears from any time-table furnished that the provisions of this Act relating to the speed at which vehicles may be driven are likely to be contravened :

Provided that before such refusal an opportunity shall be given to the applicant to amend the time-table so as to conform to the said provisions.

[(3) A Regional Transport Authority may, having regard to the matters mentioned in sub-section (1), limit the number of stage carriages generally or of any specified type for which stage carriage permits may be granted in the region or in any specified area or on any specified route within the region.]

[a] Substituted for the original sub-section (1), by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 41 w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

See under section 46.

Proviso to sub-section (1). "The Committee are of the opinion that while considering applications for stage carriage permits, the Regional Transport Authority should, other conditions being equal, give preference, as far as may be, to registered co-operative societies over individual operators. A suitable proviso has accordingly been inserted."

—J. C. R.

Section 47—Note 1 (contd.)

[6] Unless a State Transport Corporation has chosen to act under the provisions of the newly introduced Chapter IVA an application for a permit made by it would be governed by the considerations contained in this section. Hence an application for a permit from the State undertaking which is instituting its services in competition with other operators must be treated on its own relative merits in comparison with the merits of these other operators. 1960 Bom 278 (284) [AIR V 47 C 80]; ILR (1960) Bom 87. (Chapter IVA gives the State only an additional right. It is not intended to supersede the provisions of Chapter IV in all cases where the State proposes to run its own transport services.)

[7] The conditions which under this section should be taken into consideration by the Transport authority in deciding whether to grant or refuse a stage carriage permit should be applied by the government also when it varies the conditions in a stage carriage permit in exercise of the powers conferred on it by S. 48A introduced into this Act by the Motor Vehicles (Madras Amendment) Act, 20 of 1948. 1957 Andh Pra 978 (981) [AIR V 44 C 313]. (Hence Government cannot ignore the question of public interest which is one of the conditions mentioned in S. 47.) * 1948 Mad 400 (407) [AIR V 35 C 197 (DB)]. (Government Order No. 3808 which directed the R. T. A. to grant only temporary permits without giving any indication of the manner in which the travelling public were to be benefited and R. 150 Madras Motor Vehicles Rules which enabled such an order to be passed were both declared to be invalid.)

[8] The Regional Transport Authority dealing with the applications for permit is bound to consider the provisions of S. 47. Of course, if nobody raised the question which is relevant to S. 47 (1) it does not follow that the Regional Transport Authority would have to act suo motu. But if the point is raised or is obvious from the facts placed before the Regional Transport Authority it is bound to consider it. 1956 Cal 496 (497) [AIR V 43 C 143].

[9] The considerations mentioned by sub-s. (1) are not exhaustive. The Regional Transport Authority can therefore take into consideration other matters which are allied or germane to the question to be decided by it. 1957 Cal 638 (641, 642) [(S) AIR V 44 C 165] * 1959 Madh Pra 320 (321) [AIR V 46 C 107] (DB). (Grounds not mentioned in section but germane to the grant of permit can be considered.) * 1959 Mad 492 (495) [AIR V 46 C 156]; ILR (1959) Mad 641 * 1957 All 254 (256) [(S) AIR V 44 C 73]. (Appellate authority declaring permit null and void but permitting the owner to ply the buses during the remaining period — Order directing the Regional Transport Authority not to treat the permit as valid and renewable — Regional Transport Authority in dealing with the application for renewal must take the illegality of the permit into consideration and refuse the application even though that is not a matter mentioned in S. 47.) * (57) 61 Cal W N 779 (788). ## STATE AMENDMENTS

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL.—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, in section 47 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" wherever they occur insert the words "or the State Transport Authority on the issue of a direction under the Proviso to section 45."

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 7 [16-1-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, in sub-sections (1) and (2) after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority."

—Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 7 [23-3-1947].

VIDARBHA — The amendment made in this section by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

ORISSA

In its application to the State of Orissa, after clause (f) of sub-section (1) of section 47 insert the following clauses, namely,—

"(g) other conditions being equal, in the interest of proper co-ordination of transport facilities, the expediency of giving due consideration to a State Transport Service;

(h) the necessity for preventing unhealthy competition in any route or routes or area on which the State Transport Service may ply."

—Orissa Act I of 1949, S. 3.

Note. — For the date of commencement of this amendment in different districts of the State of Orissa and the consequences that follow on such commencement, see foot-note (a) given under clause (29B) of section 2—State Amendment : Orissa.

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, in sub-sections (1) and (2) of section 47 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority."

—W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 8 [13-7-1951]

Section 47 — Note 1 (contd.)

[AIR V 43 C 31] * 1955 Raj 19 (27) [AIR V 42 C 8]; I L R (1953) 5 Raj 931 (DB) * 1954 Assam 219 (222) [AIR V 41 C 62]; I L R (1955) 7 Assam 23 (DB) * 1952 Mad 300 (305) [AIR V 39]; I L R (1952) Mad 698 (DB). (The Regional Transport Authority can take into consideration other matters germane to the question to be decided in addition to the matters mentioned in sub-s. (1).)

[10] In disposing of applications for permits the Regional Transport Authority cannot take into his consideration those matters which any person who is called upon to decide judicially the question whether a permit should be granted or refused would reasonably consider as irrelevant to the question. 1959 Cal 447 (449) [AIR V 46 C 122] (DB) * 1956 Andh 217 (221) [AIR V 43 C 81]; I L R (1956) Andh 712 (DB). (Regional Transport Authority cannot take into its consideration matters which are extraneous, or irrelevant or not germane to the matters mentioned in sub-s. (1).) * 1951 Him Pra 36 (47) [AIR V 38 C 11]. (Nationalisation of transport or that the permits in question were allotted to the Government of the State under an arrangement when the State was carved out of an existing State or the interests of the State or of the public at large are considerations extraneous to the Act. Refusal to renew permit on any of these grounds is ultra vires the powers of the Transport Authority.)

[11] The possession of the vehicle and not the ownership is the deciding consideration for the issue of a permit for a bus which is a stage carriage within the meaning of the definition contained in this Act. 1952 S C 192 (194) [AIR V 39]; 1952 S C R 583.

[12] The fact that the applicant for permit has already a good trade or business is not a valid ground for rejecting his application. 1960 Assam 100 (106) [AIR V 47 C 28] (DB).

[13] The fact that one of the applicants for permit is a political sufferer and is in bad need of some help is not germane to the question as to whether he should be selected in preference to the other applicants. That is a totally extraneous and irrelevant consideration. 1957 Cal 638 (642) [(S) AIR V 44 C 165].

[14] That the petitioner had suffered on account of a particular route is not a consideration which is even allied to the matters mentioned in S. 47. 1960 Mys 321 (322) [AIR V 47 C 114] (DB).

[15] A promise given by the Government to a potential applicant to give it carriage permits when a particular route is opened in the future is not a consideration which can be validly taken into account by the transport authorities. 1959 Punj 473 (475) [AIR V 46 C 143]; I L R (1959) Punj 1644. (Such a promise cannot come within cl. (a) of sub-s. (1) however widely that is interpreted and is therefore a consideration which is extraneous to the Act.)

[16] The fact that the Government has decided upon pursuing in future a policy of nationalization of transport is a wholly irrelevant consideration in dealing with the question whether a permit should be granted or refused. 1959 Cal 447 (449) [AIR V 46 C 122] (DB) * 1960 Bom 278 (284) [AIR V 47 C 80]; I L R (1960) Bom 87 (DB) * 1951 Him Pra 36 (47) [AIR V 38 C 11].

[17] That the State is proposing to run their own transport services in the area is not a valid consideration on which the Transport authority can refuse to grant a permit to an applicant. 1956 Pat 73 (78) [(S) AIR V 43 C 20] (DB).

[18] The matters mentioned by sub-s. (1) must be kept in mind by an appellate authority as well in disposing of an appeal against an order of a Regional Transport Authority granting or refusing to grant a permit. 1956 Madh B 231 (236) [AIR V 43 C 90] (DB) + 1960 Assam 100 (103) [AIR V 47 C 28]. (Appellate board in dealing with an appeal relating to grant of permits cannot take into consideration matters extraneous to the object and purpose of the Act.) * 1957 Punj 35 (37) [AIR V 44 C 13]; 1 L R (1957) Punj 315. (Representations of even temporary permit-holders have to be taken into consideration under S. 47. Hence the appellate authority also must observe that procedure in spite of the provisions of cl. (a) of S. 64.) * 1953 Nag 264 (265) [AIR V 40 C 111]; 1 L R (1953) Nag 486 (DB). (Appellate authority setting aside order of Regional Transport Authority and deciding to grant permit must follow S. 47. Hence it must take into its consideration, the representation made by an association or individual already providing road transport facilities.)

[19] Section 47 (1), Motor Vehicles Act, merely enumerates various considerations which the authority empowered to grant a permit shall have regard to, when dealing with applications for permits. That section itself does not require that any application to open a new route should be notified. 1960 Mad 231 (235) [AIR V 47 C 72].

2. "The interests of the public generally"—Clause (a).—[1] The Regional Transport Authority has to take into account the interest of the public generally in deciding to grant or refuse a permit. 1955 Sau 57 (59) [(S) AIR V 42 C 22] (DB).

[2] The expression "interests of the public," which is found in the Act, relates to the interests of the travelling public, for whose convenience and need stage carriages are provided. 1948 Mad 400 (407) [AIR V 35 C 197] (DB).

[3] Clause (a) of sub-s. (1) is wide enough to cover the interests of the public generally besides the interest of the travelling public. 1956 Mad 349 (351) [(S) AIR V 43 C 107] ILR (1956) Mad 1272.

[But see 1956 All 594 (595) [AIR V 43 C 197].]

[4] Which of the several candidates for a permit should be preferred from the point of view of the public interest is a question of fact. In deciding that question the most material thing which should be considered is whether the applicant for the permit could be depended upon to manage his transport business efficiently and with particular attention to the convenience of the travelling public. 1956 Madh-B 231 (236) [AIR V 43 C 90] (DB).

[5] In judging what is in the public interest the R.T.A. is entitled to take into its consideration the circumstances which existed in the past, those which exist at the time it is judging the question and those which are likely to exist in the future. Hence it does not act wrongly in taking into account the previous convictions of an applicant in judging the interest of the public. 1955 N U C (All) 3589 [AIR V 42].

[6] The Regional Transport Authority can validly take into its consideration the decrease or the increase in the operational efficiency of the several applicants in deciding upon their relative merits even though such a change has taken place only after the making of the applications for the permit. 1960 Ker 83 (83) [AIR V 47 C 34].

[7] The better facilities possessed by one of the several applicants for a permit for the operation of a bus service would be to the interest of the public generally and an advantage to the public of the service to be provided and therefore would become an overriding factor in his favour when in the other things all the applicants are equal. 1956 SC 463 (468) [(S) AIR V 43 C 80]; 1958 SCR 258.

[8] The reason in awarding the permit in favour of one operator, that he is a resident of a place which is on the route in question, while the other operator is a resident of a place far away from the route in question, is neither an irrelevant nor an improper consideration. 1956 Andh 217 (221) [AIR V 43 C 61]; ILR (1956) Andh 712 (DB).

[9] The fact that one of the applicants has a monopoly on the route in the sense that he already holds all the permits on the route and there is a likelihood of the applicant abusing the monopoly is a valid consideration for granting the additional permit to another person. Such a fact is one which affects the interests of the public. 1959 Mad 492 (498) [AIR V 46 C 156]; ILR (1959) Mad 641 (DB). (Clause (a) itself is wide enough to cover any ground not expressly mentioned in sub-s. (1). It is not desirable to restrict the discretion of the authority to grant or refuse a stage carriage permit on considerations of public interest.)

[10] Congestion in the bus stand is a very important matter affecting the interest of the travelling public as well as the other section of the public and hence it cannot be treated as a consideration extraneous to the "interest of the public generally" mentioned in Cl. (a) of sub-s. (1). 1959 Cal 447 (448) [AIR V 46 C 122] (DB) * 1958 Cal 652 (653, 654) [AIR V 45 C 161]. (The matter comes also within the expression "the condition of the roads included in the proposed route.")

[11] The Regional Transport Authority cannot be said to have taken into account a matter extraneous to S. 47 where in deciding that it is in the interest of the public to grant the permit to a particular applicant it has considered the fact that the applicant or his father was an old operator at one time. 1955 Raj 19 (27) [AIR V 42 C 81]; ILR (1953) 3 Raj 931 (DB) * 1956 Ajmer 41 (45) [AIR V 43 C 31].

[12] The fact that the applicant has been deliberately and habitually committing default in the payment of taxes in respect of the vehicles is a circumstance which could be taken into consideration in arriving at a decision as to whether the grant of permits to a person in the position of the applicant is in the interest of the general public. 1955 Mad 205 (206) [(S) AIR V 42 C 51] (DB).

[13] The sector qualification as well as the consideration that a bus owner should be made a fleet owner are considerations as to the interest of the public generally and would fall within the purview of S. 47. 1959 Mys 72 (74) [AIR V 46 C 28] : ILR (1958) Mys 472 (DB).

[14] The encouragement by the traffic authorities of operators already in the field with a view to enable them to own a number of stage-carriages is in the public interest, as such operators would ensure continuity and security of service better than operators owning only one stage-carriage or two. (58) 1958 Andh L Tim 1074 (1077).

[15] A person who can build up an economic fleet will be in a position to render better and satisfactory service to the public and therefore it may be in the public interests to help him to build up an economic fleet. 1956 Andh 217 (221) [AIR V 43 C 61] : ILR (1956) Andh 712 (DB).

[16] The question of nationalization of transport can fall under the head of general public interest mentioned in Cl. (a) of sub-s. (1) and can be lawfully taken into consideration by the R.T.A. under that head. 1959 Cal 447 (449) [AIR V 46 C 122] (DB) * 1958 Cal 652 (653) [AIR V 45 C 161].

[17] Clause (a) is in the interest of the public and is therefore saved by Cl. (6) of Art. 19 of the Constitution from unconstitutionality. 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB).

3. Advantages to the public — Clause (b). — [1] The Regional Transport Authority is entitled to enquire from the applicants what advantages they are offering to the public in the shape of lower fares and consider those offers in that connection. 1955 Sau 57 (59) [(S) AIR V 42 C 22] (DB). (But it cannot require the applicants to accept a rate lower than the one prescribed by the Government and grant a permit at such lower rate.)

[2] Possession of better buses by one of the applicants is a fact which the Regional Transport Authority can take into its consideration in selecting an applicant for granting the permit. 1956 Ajmer 41 (45) [AIR V 43 C 31].

[3] That in its opinion the buses of the rival applicant viz., the State Government offered greater comfort and advantages to the public than the buses of the applicant for renewal of permits is sufficient to justify the refusal of the authority to allow the application for renewal. The facts that the buses of the latter also satisfy the requirements as to space etc., and that the applicant for renewal had been operating those buses along with the State buses do not in anyway constitute a compelling reason for the renewal of the permits. 1959 All 197 (204) [AIR V 46 C 48].

[4] Clause (b) is interest of the public and is therefore valid under Cl. (6) of Art. 19 of the Constitution. 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB).

4. Adequacy of existing transport service — Clause (c). — [1] A permit cannot be refused on the ground that there is no need for extension of service. 1956 Vindh Pra 25

(26) [AIR V 43 C 13] * 1953 Mad 279 (290, 291) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB).

[2] Clause (c) of sub-s. (1) in so far as it provides that the effect of the proposed service upon the existing service must be taken into account is not saved by Cl. (6) of Art. 19 of the Constitution from invalidity because it is in the interests of the existing operators and not the public. 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB).

[See also 1957 Pat 340 (347) [(S) AIR V 44 C 107] (DB). (It is doubtful whether matters directed to be taken into consideration under Cl. (c) are at all consistent with the restrictions suggested in Art. 19 (6) of the Constitution.)]

[But see 1956 Raj 142 (144) [(S) AIR V 43 C 43] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 751 (FB).]

[3] The granting of additional permits on a route on which the existing stage carriages are not running daily but only by rotation cannot be said to be as a matter of general proposition repugnant to the condition relating to the adequacy of existing transport services laid down in clause (c) of sub-s. (1). The question whether the grant is repugnant must be decided broadly on the merits of each case. 1956 Raj 142 (145) [(S) AIR V 43 C 43] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 751 (FB).

[4] Clause (c) of S. 47 (1) comes into play when after limitation of the number of vehicles on any public road certain permits are granted, and afterwards a fresh applicant comes on the scene for the purpose of applying for a new permit. 1957 Raj 237 (241) [AIR V 44 C 90] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 545 (DB).

5. Benefit to any locality — Clause (d). —

[1] The transport authority can take into account the nature of the locality before deciding whether the use of transport vehicles could be permitted in that locality. 1953 Mad 279 (290) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB). (Thus the narrowness of streets or the congested nature of the locality is a valid reason for restricting the use of buses.)

[2] Clause (d) is in the interest of the public and is therefore saved by Cl. (6) of Art. 19 of the Constitution from invalidity. 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB) * 1951 All 257 (271) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All 269 (FB). (Per Malik C. J.)

6. Operation by applicant of other transport services — Clause (e). —

[1] The fact that the operator is an existing operator in respect of a part of the route in question is not an extraneous or irrelevant consideration. 1956 Andh 217 (221) [AIR V 43 C 61] : ILR (1956) Andh 712 (DB).

[2] That the granting of a permit would be injurious to the interests of the existing operators is not a valid consideration for refusing a permit. The benefit to the general public alone should guide the Transport authority in deciding whether a permit should be granted or refused. 1956 Vindh Pra 25 (26) [AIR V 43 C 13] * 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB).

Section 47 — Note 6 (contd.)

[3] The transport authority cannot take into consideration the fact that the existing operators are running other services which are unremunerative and grant them permits with a view to compensate them for those unremunerative services. 1956 Vindh Pra 25 (26) [AIR V 43 C 13] * 1958 Mad 279 (291) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB).

[4] Clause (e) which is in the interest of the permit-holders and not the public is not saved from invalidity by cl. (6) of Art. 19 of the Constitution. 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB).

[See also 1957 Pat 340 (347) (S) AIR V 44 C 107] (DB). (It is doubtful whether matters directed to be taken into consideration under cl. (e) are at all consistent with the restrictions suggested in Art. 19 (6) of the Constitution.)

[But see 1954 Trav-Co 542 (543) [AIR V 41 C 184] : ILR (1954) Trav-Co 778 (DB) * 1951 All 257 (271) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All 269 (FB). (Per Malik C. J.)]

7. Condition of roads — Clause (f). —

[1] The Transport Authorities in deciding upon granting or refusing the permit for a stage carriage or limiting its number on a particular route can take into its consideration the condition of the road and the question of the necessity for its conservation in the general public interest. 1953 Mad 279 (290) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB).

[2] The congestion in the bus stand is a matter which is covered by the expression "the condition of the roads included in the proposed route". 1958 Cal 652 (653, 654) [AIR V 45 C 161].

[3] Clause (f) in sub-s. (1) is in the interest of the public and is therefore saved from unconstitutionality by cl. (6) of Art. 19. 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB) * 1951 All 257 (271) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All 269 (FB). (Per Malik C. J.)

8. State amendments — Clauses (g) and (h) added by Orissa State. — [1] Clause (g) which has been introduced into sub-s. (1) by the Orissa Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1 of 1948 can be given effect to in disposing of an application for a permit only where it is in force at the relevant time, in the region to which the permit relates, having been already applied to that region by a notification of the Government. Hence where there has been no such notification and the Regional Transport Authority acting on an erroneous impression that the clause applies rejects an application for renewal of a permit and gives preference to the State Transport Authority its order must be set aside as unsustainable. 1957 Orissa 121 (123) [AIR V 44 C 38] : ILR (1957) Cut 117 (DB).

[2] Clauses (g) and (h) added to sub-s. (1) by the Orissa Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1 of 1948 would apply even to the applications for permits pending on the date on which they have been brought into force in the particular region for which the permits had been applied for. 1957 Orissa 121 (124) [AIR V 44 C 38] : ILR (1957) Cut 117 (DB).

9. Representations of persons interested in road transport. — [1] The provisions of sub-s. (1) apply to an application for the renewal of a permit. Hence in deciding whether the application should be granted or refused the Regional Transport Authority can take into account the representations made by any person, body or association interested in road transport facilities. 1956 Madh-B 175 (176) [AIR V 43 C 74] (DB) * 1955 Sui 57 (59) (S) AIR V 42 C 22] (DB).

[2] An association of persons owning and plying omnibuses is an association interested in the provision of road transport facilities within the meaning of S. 47 of the Motor Vehicles Act. The fact that the association is not registered and is, therefore not a legal entity, is not in itself a bar to its preferring an objection to the grant of a permit and later an appeal. 1951 Cal 255 (257, 258) [AIR V 38 C 53] : ILR (1951) 2 Cal 437 (SB).

[3] This section confers a statutory right of representation upon an association interested in the provision of road transport facilities. That right implies that the association is affected by the grant of a permit and therefore it has like any other member of the public a legal right to see that the provisions of law relating to the grant of a permit are observed. 1957 Cal 444 (446) (S) AIR V 44 C 121].

[4] The Regional Transport Authority has to take into consideration even the representation of the holder of a temporary permit at the time of granting a permit. 1957 Punj 35 (37) [AIR V 44 C 13] : ILR (1957) Punj 315.

[5] Objections or representations by persons already providing transport facilities and by local and police authorities need not necessarily be in writing. Sub-s. (4) of S. 57 does not apply to them. (55) ILR (1955) Trav-Co 52 (64).

[6] The provisions of sub-s. (1) are mandatory and not directory. Hence the Regional Transport Authority cannot grant permits without giving an opportunity to the persons who are already conducting services along or near the proposed route to make representations and of being heard. 1953 Trav-Co 74 (75, 76) [AIR V 40 C 26] : ILR (1953) Trav-Co 234 * (60) 1960-2 Andh W R 447 (450) (DB).

[7] The Transport Authority must give sufficient time for making representations and also notify the time, date and place of the meeting at which these representations would be heard and considered. 1960 Manipur 36 (40) [AIR V 47 C 10].

[8] In this case the Court without deciding the question expressed its disinclination to accept the view that the statutory obligation to consider the representations made carried with it a further implied obligation to give notice to the bus operators who as persons already providing road transport services are entitled to make representations. 1957 Mad 536 (540) (S) AIR V 44 C 157] : ILR (1957) Mad 908.

[9] Besides the parties interested in the grant of stage carriage permits and those in-interested against it the police authority of the locality is also entitled to be heard under the section. A report put in before the Regional Transport Authority by the police authority is meant more for the use of the Regional Transport Authority in granting or refusing to grant a permit rather than for the use of the several parties concerned. Where that report is read out before the parties and they neither object to its use nor ask for adjournment on the ground of surprise or for offering materials against the report the Regional Transport Authority is entitled to use that report straightway without anything further. In such circumstances it cannot be said that the Regional Transport Authority by not giving copies of the report to the parties and adjourning the case has denied them the opportunity of making their representations and thereby has acted contrary to the principles of natural justice. 1957 S C 232 (236) [(S) AIR V 44 C 32] : 1957 S C R 98.

[10] There is nothing in S. 47 which requires the Regional Transport authority to give a hearing to an applicant for permit. 1955 N U C (All) 3589 [AIR V 42].

[11] Where there are no representations from the persons who have been given a right under this section and the Regional Transport Authority has to decide the question of granting a permit only with reference to the matters mentioned in cls. (a) to (f) there is no necessity either to hear the petitioner after giving him notice or to furnish him with the material on which the authority proposes to act. 1959 All 197 (202, 203) [AIR V 46 C 48].

[12] Representations of a new applicant even though that applicant is the State Government cannot be taken into consideration by the transport authority to refuse the renewal of a permit. 1951 Him Pra 36 (47) [AIR V 38 C 11].

[13] The decision to open a new route or to vary an existing route is not an order under S. 47. It is purely an administrative measure involving matters of general interest or policy. At the stage, when the transport authorities take the decision, the existing operators do not come into the picture at all except as other members of the public and as such the authorities are not bound to hear them or furnish them with copies of the reports of their officers. ('60) 1960-2 Andh W R 447 (451, 452) (DB).

[14] An order rejecting the petition of objection under S. 47 is irregular, where the District Magistrate who is also the chairman of the Regional Transport Authority purports to dispose of such objection in his capacity of District Magistrate and not as Chairman of the Regional Transport Authorities. ('57) 61 Cal W N 779 (785).

10. Preference to Co-operative Societies — Sub-s. (1), Proviso.—[1] Under the proviso to sub-s. (1) a Co-operative society is entitled to preference not only over individuals but also over companies and partnership firms. 1959 Punj 473 (474) [AIR V 46 C 143] : I L R (1959) Punj 1644. (The word "individual" is used in the proviso in the sense of "person" and embraces artificial or corporate persons as well as natural persons.)

[2] The sole purpose of the proviso to sub-s. (1) is to give a preference to co-operative societies. It is not concerned with stating who can apply for permits. Therefore the fact that it uses the word individual cannot warrant the conclusion that the Government, even on the assumption that it is not an individual owner, cannot be an applicant for permit. 1960 S C 801 (806) [AIR V 47 C 134].

[3] The proviso which deals with the grant of permits to certain parties applies to clauses (a) to (f) of sub-section (1) and not to the rest of the sub-section which merely lays down that the authorities under the Act shall take into consideration the representation made by certain persons and as such has nothing to do with the subject dealt with by the proviso. 1959 Punj 473 (474) [AIR V 46 C 143] : I L R (1959) Punj 1644.

11. Power to refuse permit under sub-s. (2).—[1] The judicial enquiry provided under this section is necessary before any order is passed under S. 48. Hence the Regional Transport Authority can vary the timings of a bus only after hearing the representations of the owner and considering the matters mentioned in this section. 1952 Mad 276 (279) [AIR V 39] : 1952 Cri L Jour 616.

12. Power to limit the number of stage carriages on a route — Sub-s. (3).—[1] The object in giving power to the Regional Transport Authority under sub-s. (3) to limit the number of carriages on a route is to avoid congestion. 1958 Cal 652 (654) [AIR V 45 C 161].

[2] The Regional Transport Authority can validly fix a time table allowing the buses to run only by rotation on any route. 1956 Raj 142 (144) [(S) AIR V 43 C 43] : I L R (1956) 6 Raj 751 (FII). (Rule 90 of Rajasthan Motor Vehicles Act casts no obligation on the R. T. A. to fix a time table allowing a bus to run daily.)

[3] The decision taken by a Regional Transport Authority under sub-s. (3) (clause (a) of S. 48 before the amendment of the Act in 1956) is not invalid on the ground of the failure of the Authority to call for representations from the bus owners operating on or near that route and consider them before taking the decision. The bus operators whose interests will in no way be affected by the mere decision have no right to be heard at that stage. It is only when steps are taken to implement that decision and the Authority is considering the grant of a particular permit that they get a right to make representations as persons whose interests are affected. 1959 All 782 (783) [AIR V 46 C 234] (DB) + ('60) 1960-2 Andh W R 447 (453, 454) (DB) + 1958 All 390 (392) [AIR V 45 C 92].

[4] The Appellate authority can increase the number of permits beyond the limit fixed by the R. T. A. for a route under cl. (a) of the unamended S. 48 (which has now become sub-s. (3) of this section after the amendment)

*[48. Grant of stage carriage permits.

(1) Subject to the provisions of section 47, a Regional Transport Authority may, on an application made to it under section 46, grant a stage carriage permit in accordance with the application or with such modifications as it deems fit or refuse to grant such a permit :

Provided that no such permit shall be granted in respect of any route or area not specified in the application.

(2) Every stage carriage permit shall be expressed to be valid only for a specified route or routes or for a specified area.

(3) The Regional Transport Authority, if it decides to grant a stage carriage permit, may grant the permit for a service of stage carriages of a specified description or for one or more particular stage carriages, and may, subject to any rules that may be made under this Act, attach to the permit any one or more of the following conditions, namely :—

(i) that the service or any specified part thereof shall be commenced with effect from a specified date ;

without giving notice of its intention to do so to the existing operators. 1959 Raj 121 (123) [AIR V 46 C 46] : 1 L R (1959) 9 Raj 120 (DB).

[5] The provision laid down in sub-s. (1) for the consideration of representations made by persons already providing road transport services is at best only a rule of administrative prudence to be followed by the transport authorities in the exercise of the powers given to them under S. 48 and the question of consideration of representation arises only if any such representation is in fact made by the persons already providing road transport facilities. That, in any case, by itself does not give any legal right to such persons to be provided with a notice and hearing before a decision is taken by the transport authorities on the point as to how many stage carriages are to ply on any particular route. 1957 Pat 340 (347) [(S) AIR V 44 C 107] (DB).

[6] The power conferred by sub-s. (3) (clause (a) of S. 48 before the Act was amended in 1956) does not disappear with its first exercise. It survives and is available for being exercised 'from time to time as occasion required'. (158) 1958 Ker L Tim 666 (668).

[7] The power given to the R. T. A. under cl. (a) of S. 48 (now sub-s. (3) of S. 47 after the amendment of 1956) is saved by cl. (6) of Art. 19 of the Constitution even though by the exercise of that power one of the fundamental rights guaranteed by sub-art. (1) (g) of that Article would be interfered with. The power falls within the saving provisions of cl. (6) because it has to be exercised only subject to the consideration set forth in sub-s. (1) of this section which are both reasonable and in the interests of the general public. 1957 Raj 237 (240) [AIR V 44 C 90] : 1 L R (1955) 5 Raj 545 (DB).

[8] Sub-section (3) is inapplicable to the question of increasing the number of buses on a route. It is a provision which relates to the limiting of the number which is incapable of being equated with the idea of increasing the number. (160) 1960-2 Andh W R 447 (453) (DB).

13. "Route," meaning of. — [1] The essence of a route for which a licence for running an omnibus service is granted is that it should run from one terminus to another. In working out a route it is of course necessary to specify the highway to be followed by that route but that would not make the route and the highway the same. A highway is the physical track along which an omnibus runs and the route is an abstract conception of a line of travel between one terminus and another. 1946 P C 157 (140) [AIR V 33 C 43]. (Case decided under S. 54, Ceylon Motor Car Ordinance 45 of 1938 and S. 7 of the Ceylon Omnibus Service Licensing Ordinance 47 of 1942.)

SECTION 48 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.
2. "Subject to the provisions of S. 47."
3. Grant of permit is in the discretion of R. T. A.
4. Order of R. T. A. must state reasons.
5. Permit cannot be granted for route or area not specified in application—Sub-s. (1), Proviso.
6. Use of vehicle for specified route or area—Sub-s. (2).
7. Sub-s. (3)—General.
8. Conditions of permit.
9. Power of review.

1. Scope.—[1] As the Motor Vehicles Act itself is valid the validity of individual orders passed under the Act by a Transport Authority cannot be questioned on the ground of arbitrariness or unreasonableness by the use of Art. 19 (6) or Art. 14. 1955 Raj 19 (28, 29) [AIR V 42 C 8] : 1 L R (1953) 3 Raj 331 (DB).

[2] Right to obtain permit to ply bus depends on possession of bus and not its ownership. 1953 All 641 (642, 647) [AIR V 40 C 319] : 1 L R (1954) 2 All 402 (DB).

[3] Neither the Act nor the rules require that in order to be eligible to apply for a permit the applicant should possess a vehicle on the date of his application for a permit. 1960 Mys 33 (34, 35) [AIR V 47 C 7] (DB).

- (ii) the minimum and maximum number of daily services to be maintained in relation to any route or area generally or on specified days and occasions ;
- (iii) that copies of the time-table of the service or of particular stage carriages approved by the Regional Transport Authority shall be exhibited on the vehicles and at specified stands and halts on the route or within the area ;
- (iv) that the service shall be operated within such margins of deviation from the approved time-table as the Regional Transport Authority may from time to time specify ;
- (v) that within municipal limits and such other areas and places as may be prescribed, passengers or goods shall not be taken up or set down except at specified points ;
- (vi) the maximum number of passengers and the maximum weight of luggage that may be carried on any specified vehicle or on any vehicle of a specified type, either generally or on specified occasions or at specified times and seasons ;

Section 48 (contd.)

2. "Subject to the provisions of S. 47."—

[1] Where the Transport Authority refuses to grant a permit for running bus service on grounds other than those mentioned in S. 47, the order is not valid. 1956 Vindh Pra 25 (26) [AIR V 43 C 13] * 1951 Him Pra 36 (47) [AIR V 38 C 11]. (Considerations as to the permits granted to the petitioners being really the quota of the Himachal Pradesh Government under some inter-State arrangements or as to refusal being in the larger interests of the State or of the public at large, are considerations of extraneous matters outside the scope of the Act.)

[See also 1955 N U C (Trav-Co) 5475 [AIR V 42]. (An order under the section which does not show that the R. T. A. had taken into its consideration the matters mentioned under S. 47 and merely states that it was only fair to grant a permit is not in accordance with law.)]

[2] The resolution of the Regional Transport Authorities passed without considering the representation under S. 47 of the Act is illegal and contravenes the provisions of S. 47. ('57) 61 Cal W N 779 (780).

[3] Under S. 48, as it stood before the amendment of the Act in 1956, it was held that in dealing with applications for permits the Regional Transport Authority was bound to take into its consideration only the matters enumerated under clauses (a) to (f) of sub-s. (1) of S. 47 and not also the representations mentioned in the latter part of that sub-section as that part was only a directory provision. This decision can no longer be considered to be good law after the amendment of the section which lays down that the permit should be granted "subject to the provisions of sub-s. (1)" and not merely "after a consideration of the matters" set forth in that sub-section. 1959 All 782 (783) [AIR V 46 C 234] (DB) * 1955 N U C (Trav-Co) 2566 [AIR V 42].

3. Grant of permit is in the discretion of R. T. A. — [1] No one, even if he satisfies all the prescribed conditions, is entitled to the grant of a permit as of right. ('55) ILR (1955)

Madh B 211 (217) (DB) * 1955 Sau 57 (60) [(S) AIR V 42 C 22] (DB). (Where the petitioner had been granted the renewal of his permit at a rate below the prescribed minimum, it is not open to him to accept the renewal of the permit and repudiate the rate.)

[2] The grant of a permit is entirely within the discretion of the transport authorities and depends on several circumstances which have to be taken into account. 1952 S C 192 (196) [AIR V 39] : 1952 S C R 583 * ('56) I L R (1956) 8 Assam 507 (509) * 1955 Sau 57 (60) [(S) AIR V 42 C 22] (DB) * ('55) I L R (1955) Madh B 211 (217) (DB) * 1953 Trav-Co 102 (103) [AIR V 40 C 34] : I L R (1952) Trav-Co 923 (DB).

[3] Whatever principles are adopted as the criterion for making the selection among the applicants, it is necessary that they should apply uniformly and without differentiation. What is necessary is that at any given time there should be one set of rules and regulations governing the disposal of all applications. There should not be two different and opposing principles both in operation at the same time, one being applied to one applicant and the other to the other. In other words, the criteria that are applied must not be with reference to particular applicants but generally with reference to all applicants. 1956 Andh 217 (222) [AIR V 43 C 61] : ILR (1956) Andh 712 (DB) * 1953 Vindh Pra 49 (51) [AIR V 40 C 24]. (Test of model of the bus based on its year of manufacture when applied only to one of the several applicants for permits offends Art. 14 of the Constitution which lays down the principle of equality before law.)

[4] There is nothing in the Act which precludes the Transport Authorities from granting a permit to a reserve bus or a reserve bus going into operation on the route sanctioned by that permit. 1955 N U C (Trav-Co) 137 [AIR V 42]. (Held the T. C. Motor Vehicles Rules of 1952 did not also prohibit the same.)

[5] There is no provision of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, or of the Travancore-Cochin Motor Vehicles Rules, 1952, which in

- (vii) the weight and nature of passengers' luggage that shall be carried free of charge, the total weight of luggage that may be carried in relation to each passenger, and the arrangements that shall be made for the carriage of luggage without causing inconvenience to passengers ;
- (viii) the rate of charge that may be levied for passengers' luggage in excess of the free allowance ;
- (ix) that vehicles of specified types fitted with bodies conforming to approved specifications shall be used :

Provided that the attachment of this condition to a permit shall not prevent the continued use, for a period of two years from the date of publication of the approved specifications, of any vehicle operating on that date ;

- (x) that specified standards of comfort and cleanliness shall be maintained in the vehicles ;
- (xi) the conditions subject to which goods may be carried in any stage carriage in addition to or to the exclusion of passengers ;
- (xii) that fares shall be charged in accordance with the approved fare table ;
- (xiii) that a copy of, or extract from, the fare table approved by the Regional Transport Authority and particulars of any special fares or rates of fares so approved for particular occasions shall be exhibited on every stage carriage and at specified stands and halts ;
- (xiv) that tickets bearing specified particulars shall be issued to passengers and shall show the fares actually charged and that records of tickets issued shall be kept in a specified manner :

Section 45 — Note 3 (contd.)

any way indicates that the Road Traffic Board is confined to the number of permits indicated in the notification inviting applications for grant of permits and the grant of permits beyond that number will be without jurisdiction. 1957 Trav-Co 254 (255) [AIR V 44 C 95] (DB).

[6] The directions and instructions which the State can give under S. 43A added to this Act by the Motor Vehicles (Madras Amendment) Act, 20 of 1948 are only administrative or executive directions and instructions. As such they do not amount to a law regulating the rights of the parties and their non-observance cannot affect the validity of a permit granted by a transport authority having regard to the considerations laid down by this section. 1959 S C 694 (701, 702) [AIR V 46 C 93]. (Permit granted to a person who under such executive order is not entitled to get it.)

[7] Neither the fact that the Transport Commissioner is at the head of the State Transport undertaking nor the fact of subordination of any member thereof under the Transport Commissioner can be a valid ground for holding that the Regional Transport Authority acted mala fide and not independently in rejecting an application under S. 47. 1959 All 197 (204) [AIR V 46 C 48].

[8] The transport authorities may be described as administrative bodies exercising quasi-judicial functions in the matter of grant of permits. The bodies or authorities are constituted by the Provincial Government. There is a regular hierarchy of administrative bodies established to deal with the regulation of transport by means of Motor Vehicles. The remedies for the redress of grievances or the correction of errors are found in the statute itself and it is to these remedies that resort must generally be had and resort cannot be had to a writ of certiorari to quash such orders. 1952 S C 192 (196) [AIR V 39] ; 1952 S C R 583. (However wide the jurisdiction under Art. 226 may be it cannot be used by the Court to convert itself into a Court of appeal and examine for itself the correctness of the decision impugned and decide what is the proper view to be taken or order to be made.)* 1950 Punj 473 (476) [AIR V 46 C 143]. (Choice of one co-operative society equally qualified though not supported by cogent reasons cannot be interfered with by certiorari because it cannot be said there is any error apparent on the face of the record.)* (56) ILR (1956) 8 Assam 507 (509). #### Section 48 — Note 3 (contd.)

of permit. 1960 Ker 245 (247) [AIR V 47 C 119].

4. Order of R. T. A. must state reasons. —

[1] The Regional Transport Authority acts quasi-judicially in deciding the applications before it for grant or renewal of stage carriage permits. 1959 All 197 (202) [AIR V 46 C 48] * 1960 Ker 245 (246, 247) [AIR V 47 C 119] * 1957 Andh Pra 301 (303) [AIR V 44 C 100] * 1957 Raj 237 (239) [AIR V 44 C 90] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 545 (DB).

[2] Though it is possible to speak of the functions of a R. T. A. under S. 47 as executive or administrative because rights of individuals are not determined in the proceedings thereunder it is also equally possible to regard them as quasi-judicial in view of the fact that any individual who seeks to carry on the business of plying buses in the exercise of his fundamental right is entitled to expect that authority to exercise its statutory functions properly and within the limits imposed by the law. 1956 S C 463 (467) [(S) AIR V 43 C 80] : 1956 S C R 256 * 1957 Andh Pra 301 (302, 303) [AIR V 44 C 100] * 1957 Raj 237 (239) [AIR V 44 C 90] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 545 (DB).

[3] The order of a Tribunal like the Regional Transport Authority, which exercises judicial function under the Motor Vehicles Act, should ex facie show reasons in a succinct form for making that order. The reasons which have induced a judicial or quasi-judicial authority to pass a particular order, if recorded, provide a safeguard against the exercise of the powers in an arbitrary or partial manner but if such tribunals could pass or set aside orders without showing any reasons therefor, the way would be open for corruption, manipulation and jobbery in the hands of unscrupulous persons. 1957 Raj 237 (239) [AIR V 44 C 90] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 545 (DB).

[4] In the proceedings for issue of permits the R. T. A. should pass speaking orders. 1960 Ker 245 (247) [AIR V 47 C 119].

[5] Even if one of the reasons in granting a permit is bad, it does not necessarily follow in all cases that the order is vitiated. If several reasons are given in support of an order, some of which are bad and some of which are good, it depends upon the facts of each case whether the order can be sustained on the reasons which are good. It does not necessarily follow that because the order contains some bad reasons, the entire order must be set aside. 1956 Andh 217 (222) [AIR V 43 C 61] : ILR (1956) Andh 712 (DB).

[6] Even if one of the reasons given by the R. T. A. for granting a permit to a person is extraneous or irrelevant and there is nothing to show how far or to what extent that extraneous consideration had actually influenced the decision of the R. T. A. it must be held that the order granting the permit is invalid. 1957 Cal 638 (642) [(S) AIR V 44 C 165] : ILR (1958) 1 Cal 486.

5. Permit cannot be granted for route or area not specified in application — Subsection (1), Proviso. — [1] No stage carriage permit can under the law be granted in respect of any route or area not specified in the application and every such permit has to be expressed to be valid only for a specified route or routes or for a specified area. 1959 Punj 638 (641) [AIR V 46 C 203] : ILR (1959) Punj

OBJECTS AND REASONS

See under section 46.

Sub-section (3), cl. (xxi). "The Committee consider that when the Regional Transport Authority wants to vary the conditions of a permit or attach further conditions to a permit, it should give notice of not less than one month to the permit holder. The change has accordingly been made in the proposed section 48 (3) (xxi). Similar changes have been made in sections 51 and 56." —J. C. R.

2121+1953 Trav-Co 74 (76) [AIR V 40 C 26] : ILR (1953) Trav-Co 234.

[2] The prohibition in proviso to S. 48 to issue permit for a route not specified in application is intended not for a part of the route applied for but for a totally different route, because in the former case all interested persons get an opportunity to object. Sub-section 48 (1) also allows the grant of a permit in modification of the application. 1959 Tripura 35 (37, 38) [AIR V 48 C 14].

[3] Rule 83 framed under the Rajasthan Motor Vehicles Act permits the Regional Transport Authority to modify the terms of the application for permits to ply transport buses in a reasonable degree and in such a case the application is to be deemed to be an application for the permit in the form granted. There is thus ample power in the Regional Transport Authority to consolidate the two routes for which applications were made and which were overlapping up to a certain point and to consider the application for the two routes as for one and the same route and to grant permit accordingly. 1955 Raj 14 (16) [AIR V 42 C 6] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 127 (DB). (Case decided before the amendment of S. 48 in 1956.)

6. Use of vehicle for specified route or area.—Sub-section (2).—[1] In a case decided before the amendment of the Act in 1956 it was held that cl. (d) (11) (a) of the section as it stood then was held to impose only a reasonable restriction, which was in the interests of the public, on the right of a person to carry on the business of running bus transport and therefore by virtue of Art. 19 (6) of the Constitution did not become invalid as offending the provisions of cl. (1) (g) of that Article. Clause (d) (11) (a) of the old section is substantially sub-section (2) in the present section and hence the constitutionality of sub-section (2) also is immune from a similar challenge. 1951 All 257 (271) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All 269 (DB).

7. Sub-section (3) — General.—[1] The section which confers power on the R. T. A. to issue a permit in respect of a particular stage carriage or a particular service of stage carriages does not offend Art. 19 of the Constitution. 1951 All 257 (271) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All 269 (DB). (Note — Although this case was decided before the amendment of the Act in 1956 it appears to be still good law because cl. (b) of the section as it stood then has now become sub-section (3) in the substituted S. 48.) * 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB). (In this case which was decided before the amendment of the Act it was held that the provisions of cl. (b) were in the interests of the public and therefore valid under Art. 19 of the Constitution.)

[2] Classification of stage carriages as tourist buses and as stage carriages on the basis of the year of manufacture with a view to ensure their reliability and efficiency is reasonable and permissible under Art. 14. 1959 J & K 141 (144) [AIR V 46 C 59].

8. Conditions of permit.—[1] Sections 47 and 48 of the Act clearly indicate that the statutory powers to issue permits with certain conditions for stage carriages are not meant for the benefit and protection of the permit holders, but they are meant for the benefit of the general public. The dominant purpose of the Act in enacting these provisions is the benefit of the public and not of the permit holders. If in actually granting permits the Regional Transport Authority has taken into consideration such matters as the benefit to permit-holders and adjusts the grant of the permits to different claimants on different routes, then any such benefit arising out of such adjustment is not a benefit accruing in consequence of statutory provisions upon which a right of action can be founded but it is, if at all it can be described as a benefit, a benefit allowed as a measure of expediency or convenience by the authority concerned. 1958 Punj 318 (322) [AIR V 45 C 88] : ILR (1958) Punj 141 (DB).

[2] The delegation by the R. T. B. of its power under the section in regard to the attachment of conditions must be deemed to amount to a delegation also of the powers under any rule framed under the Act and dealing with the same matter. 1955 N U C (Trav-Co) 5080 [AIR V 42].

[3] The condition relating to the use of a stage carriage only on a specified route, which the R. T. A. is obliged under sub-section (2) to attach to every stage carriage permit, is as much a condition of the permit as any which it has discretion to attach to the permit under sub-section (3). The fact that it is not included in the conditions of the permit to be attached under sub-section (3) does not make any material difference. ('60) 1960-2 Andh W R 91 (93) (DB) * 1957 Raj 312 (317) [(S) AIR V 44 C 116] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 806 (FB). (Case decided under S. 48 before its amendment. [See however 1957 Cal 444 (445) [(S) A I R V 44 C 121]. (Case decided before amendment of section — The route is not a condition of the permit. The condition is that the holder of the permit will operate on a particular route or routes and on no other.)]

[4] Under S. 48 as it stood before the amendment and as it stands after the amendment the approved time-table itself is not a condition. Under the present sub-section (3) it is the adherence to the time-table which is the condition. Clause (iii) of the sub-section no doubt implies that time-tables are to be approved but it does not enjoin the time-table itself as a condition of the permit. 1960 Ker 359 (360) [AIR V 47 C 168] : I L R (1960) Ker 1239 * 1959 Pat 580 (581) [A I R V 46 C 164] (DB) * 1958 Ker 341 (343, 344) [A I R V 45 C 122] * 1958 Ker 339 (341) [A I R V 45 C 121] * 1952 Mad 545 (548) [A I R V 39] : I L R (1952) Mad 595 (DB). (Case decided under S. 48 before its amendment.)

[But see 1960 Ker 111 (113) [A I R V 47 C 52] : I L R (1960) Ker 172. (After the amendment of the Act in 1956 fixation of timings is a condition of the permit.) * 1959 Andh Pra 429 (431) [A I R V 46 C 122] (DB)].

[5] A time-table and a strict adherence to it are necessary in the interest of the travelling public for whose benefit stage carriages are allowed to ply. 1958 All 575 (577) [AIR V 45 C 144] : 1958 Cri L Jour 984 (DB).

[6] It is open for the Regional Transport Authority to incorporate a condition that there should be no overloading. But the mere mention of the number of passengers' seats in the permit of a vehicle does not amount to a condition of the permit, breach of which would entail suspension of the permit. ('59) I L R (1959) Ker 295 (301) (DB).

[7] Where the permit not only specifies the maximum number of passengers that can be carried in the vehicle but also states that there should be no overloading then the prohibition against overloading is also a condition attached to the permit under the section. 1957 Trav-Co 141 (143) [A I R V 44 C 44] :

ILR (1956) Trav-Co 1293 (DB). (Case decided under the section before its amendment. The amendment seems not to affect this.)

[8] In a case decided before the amendment of the section it was decided that a trainee checking inspector on the bus did not fall within the meaning of the word "passenger" in cl. (d) (iv) (which seems to equate substantially with cl. (vi) of sub-s. (3) of the amended S. 48) read with the unamended R. 3 (h) of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules and hence his presence in the bus over and above the specified number of passengers allowed by the permit did not amount to a breach of a condition of the permit. 1959 Mad 439 (439) [A I R V 46 C 139] : I L R (1959) Mad 481 : 1959 Cri L Jour 1188.

[9] The fare-table mentioned in the unamended S. 48 (d) (iii) is the fare-table approved by the Regional Transport Authority and forming one of the conditions of the permit. 1944 Nag 89 (90) [A I R V 31] : I L R (1944) Nag 173 : 45 Cri L Jour 469 (DB).

[10] In a case decided before the amendment of the Act in 1956 it was held that the power to fix rates for the stage carriages was conferred by S. 43 only on the Government and therefore where the Government had not made any rules fixing any amount as fair fares for stage carriages and also had not authorised the Regional Transport Authority to fix fares and to impose them as a condition to a permit it could not impose any such condition to the permit. 1955 Cal 59 (60) [(S) AIR V 42 C 10] : I L R (1956) 2 Cal 879.

[11] Before the amendment of the section it was decided in a case that cl. (d) (vi) only imposed a duty on the permit-holder to issue tickets when the passengers paid fares but that it did not prohibit him from carrying passengers free of charge. This decision would hold good even under the amended section because the provisions of cl. (xiv) of sub-s. (3) are substantially the same. 1958 All 575 (577) [AIR V 45 C 144] : 1958 Cri L Jour 984. (Held also that R. 81 (10) of the V. P. Motor Vehicles Rules also did not throw any such obligation on the permit-holder. All that the Rule did was to enjoin a passenger not to board a bus without a pass or a ticket.)

[12] An alteration of time-table does not fall within cl. (20) of sub-s. (3) the time-table not being a condition of the permit. 1960 Ker 359 (360) [AIR V 47 C 168] : I L R (1960) Ker 1239.

[But see 1959 Andh Pra 429 (439) [A I R V 46 C 122] (DB).]

[13] Under unamended S. 48 it was held that it was not open to an operator to alter the approved fare-table whenever he wished and claim that he has complied with the condition laid down in the permit under cl. (d) (iii) of that section by exhibiting any fare-table and observing it. 1944 Nag 89 (90) [AIR V 31] : I L R (1944) Nag 173 : 45 Cri L Jour 469 (DB).

[14] A variation in the standard rate of fares originally quoted and accepted by the Regional Transport Authority requires the sanction of the Regional Transport Authority.

STATE AMENDMENTS

SECTION 48A

ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, after section 48 insert the following section, namely,—

“48A. Power of State Transport Authority to alter conditions attached to stage carriage permits.—Any conditions attached to a stage carriage permit in pursuance of clause (d) of section 48 may, at any time, be varied or cancelled or added to by the State Transport Authority, provided that this power shall not be exercised to the prejudice of the holder of the permit without giving not less than three months' notice to him.”

— Mad. Act XX of 1948, S. 7 [21-12-1948].

Note.—This amendment was made prior to the substitution of section 48 by the Central Act C of 1956.

Section 48 — Note 8 (contd.)

A variation of the rate is a variation of a condition under R. 70, C. P. and Berar Motor Vehicles Rules. ('43) 1943 Nag L Jour 411 (411) (SB).

[15] Where the Regional Transport Authority, in the exercise of the powers conferred on it by the Rules made by the Government, to prescribe uniforms for the conductors and drivers and to make it a condition of the permit, that the permit-holder should provide such uniforms, prescribes a uniform which would make it impossible for the private transport trade to function on commercial basis, its order can be challenged on the ground that it violates the fundamental rights guaranteed by Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution. 1957 Punj 145 (146) [(S) AIR V 44 C 63]. (But the rules itself cannot be challenged as conferring an unregulated and arbitrary power on the Regional Transport Authority and as amounting to a delegation of legislative functions.)

Variation of permits

[16] The appropriate Indian authority can vary only a permit granted by an authority in India. It cannot vary a permit issued by an authority in Pondicherry. But, there is nothing to prevent the appropriate Indian authority from granting a permit to a vehicle in such a manner that together with the permit granted by the authority in Pondicherry it would be possible for an operator to run continuously from one enclave to another. 1980 Mad 231 (236) [AIR V 47 C 72].

[17] Considerations of public interest apply to varying or cancelling or adding to any condition attached to any stage carriage permit or a public carriers permit as the case may be by the State Transport Authority or by any person exercising these powers. 1959 Andh Pra 413 (419) [AIR V 46 C 117] : 1 L R (1959) Andh Pra 375 (FB).

[18] Fixing of the termini within the limits of the original permit though it may involve running of an additional distance in the same route is not an alteration of the conditions of the permit. 1958 Ker 341 (343) [AIR V 45 C 122].

[19] The alteration of a time-table does not amount to the variation of a condition of a permit and hence is not governed by cl. (xxi) of sub-s. (3) of the amended S. 48. 1960 Ker 359 (360) [AIR V 47 C 168] : 1 L R (1960) Ker 1239. (Hence even after the amendment the Secretary of the Transport Authority who had been delegated the power to regulate the timings before the amendment of the section under the rules could continue to exercise that power to alter the existing timings even after the amendment.) * 1956 Vindh Pra 44 (45) [AIR V 43 C 25]. (Case decided under the section as it stood before the amendment.) * 1952 Mad 545 (548) [AIR V 39] : 1 L R (1952) Mad 595 (DB). (Case decided before the amendment but is still good law.)

[But see 1959 Andh Pra 429 (431) [AIR V 46 C 122] (DB).]

[20] The route or area specified in the permit is a condition of the permit and hence the Regional Transport Authority has power after the amendment of S. 48 in 1956 to vary the existing route under sub-s. (3) (xxi) of the section. 1959 Andh Pra 476 (477) [AIR V 46 C 136]. (Section 48A (Madras) which conferred the power on S. T. A. cannot prevail against sub-s. (3) (xxi) which is a central enactment.)

[21] Assuming that the Secretary of the Regional Transport Authority has the power to fix the timings in aid of the permit granted by the Regional Transport Authority, he cannot so fix them as to authorise variations of the route. ('58) 1958 Ker L J 992 (993).

9. Power of review. — [1] There is no provision for a review by the Regional Transport Authority of its own order either in the Act or in the rules framed under it. Since it is well-settled that a power of review is not inherent in any authority it has also no inherent power to review except to correct its own mistake. 1957 Pat 117 (119) [AIR V 44 C 37] : 35 Pat 802 (DB) * 1960 Pat 6 (7) [AIR V 47 C 2] * 1959 Cal 543 (547) [AIR V 46 C 148]. (Regional Transport Authority fixing term and extent of permit in accordance with sub-s. (3) added to S. 58 by State amendment overlooking the fact that the provision had become nugatory as a result of the amendment of the main Act by Act 100 of 1956 — Mistake can be rectified.)

Section 48A (Andhra Pradesh) — Note 1

[1] The State Government can, in the exercise of its powers under S. 44A (Andhra Pradesh) authorise the Regional Transport Officer to exercise the powers and discharge the functions of the State Transport Authority under Ss. 48A (Andhra Pradesh) and 56A (Andhra Pradesh) of the Act. 1959 Andh Pra 413 (417) [AIR V 46 C 117] : ILR (1959)

BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, the newly inserted section 48A is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh. : —Bihar Act XXVII of 1950, S. 7 [21-7-1950].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, after section 48, the following new section shall be inserted namely :—

“48A. Issue of stage carriage permit to Government or local authorities.—Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 47 and 48, a Regional Transport Authority or the State Transport Authority shall issue the stage carriage permit applied for by or on behalf of the State Government or a local authority with the concurrence of the State Government.”

—Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 9 [23-3-1947].

PUNJAB

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Punjab, excluding the transferred territories, insert the following new section, namely,—

“48A. Power of State Transport Authority to alter conditions attached to stage carriage permits.—Any conditions attached to a stage carriage permit in pursuance of clause (d) of section 48 may, at any time, be varied, cancelled or added to by the State Transport Authority : provided that this power shall not be exercised to the prejudice of the holder of the permit without giving not less than three months' notice to him.”

—E. P. Act XXVIII of 1948, S. 6 [12-7-1948].

Note.—This amendment was made prior to the substitution of section 48 by the Central Act C of 1956.

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal the newly inserted section 48A is the same as that given under Maharashtra. —W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 10 [13-7-1951].

49. Application for contract carriage permit.

An application for a permit to use “[one or more motor vehicles as a contract carriage or carriages] (in this Chapter referred to as a contract carriage permit) shall contain the following particulars, namely :—

- (a) the type and seating capacity of the vehicle [or each of the vehicles];
- (b) the area for which the permit is required;
- (c) in the case of a motor vehicle other than a motor cab, the manner in which it is claimed that the public convenience will be served by the vehicle; and
- (d) any other particulars which may be prescribed.

[a] Substituted for “a motor vehicle as a contract carriage” by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 43 [w. e. f. 18-2-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in 1956 in sections 49 to 56.—Amendments mutatis mutandis in the case of contract carriage and public carrier permits are made similar to those made in respect of stage carriage permits (Ss. 46, 47 and 48). “One result will be that it will now be possible to issue one permit for a fleet of public carrier vehicles instead of individual permits for each vehicle. Necessary amendments to sections 52 and 53 are also being made in respect of private carriers permit.”

—S. O. R.

Section 48A (Andh Pra) — Note 1 (contd.)
Andh Pra 375 (FB) * 1959 Andh-Pra 476 (477) [AIR V 46 C 136].

[2] Subsequent to the coming into force of the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 100 of 1956 the Regional Transport Authority itself has power under S. 48 (3) (xxi) of varying the conditions of a permit. Hence a variation of the conditions made by it subsequent to the amendment of the Act cannot be condemned as beyond its powers even if the assumption, that under S. 48A as introduced by the Madras Legislature it cannot exercise such a power, is correct. If such an assumption is correct then S. 48A happens to be inconsistent with S. 48 (3) (xxi), a provision which has been inserted by the Central Legislature and as such should be declared to be void in view of Art. 254 of the Constitution. 1959 Andh-Pra 476 (477) [AIR V 46 C 136].

[3] The same conditions as would apply to the grant or refusal of a stage carriage permit must also apply in the case of its variation. Sub-section (1) of S. 47 lays down the conditions which should be taken into consideration in deciding whether to grant or refuse a stage carriage. Hence in exercising the power to vary conferred by S. 48A (Andhra Pradesh) the authority cannot act ignoring those conditions. 1957 Andh-Pra 978 (981) [AIR V 44 C 313] (DB). (Government in revision under S. 64A varying the route of the permits must take into consideration the question of public interest.)

50. Procedure of Regional Transport Authority in considering application for contract carriage permit.

A Regional Transport Authority shall, <sup>a</sup>[in considering an application for] a contract carriage permit, have regard to the extent to which additional contract carriages may be necessary or desirable in the public interest; and shall also take into consideration any representations which may then be made or which may previously have been made by persons already holding contract carriage permits in the region or by any local authority or police authority in the region to the effect that the number of contract carriages for which permits have already been granted is sufficient for or in excess of the needs of the region or any area within the region.

[a] Substituted for "in deciding whether to grant or refuse" by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 44 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

STATE AMENDMENTS

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL — In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, in section 50 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority on the issue of a direction under the Proviso to section 45".

— C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 7 [16-1-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

VIDARBHA—The amendment made in this section by the C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

*[51. Grant of contract carriage permits.

(1) Subject to the provisions of section 50, a Regional Transport Authority may, on an application made to it under section 49, grant a contract carriage permit in accordance with the application or with such modifications as it deems fit or refuse to grant such a permit :

Provided that no such permit shall be granted in respect of any area not specified in the application.

(2) The Regional Transport Authority, if it decides to grant a contract carriage permit, may, subject to any rules that may be made under this Act, attach to the permit any one or more of the following conditions, namely :

- (i) that the vehicle or vehicles shall be used only in a specified area or on a specified route or routes ;
- (ii) that except in accordance with specified conditions, no contract of hiring, other than an extension or modification of a subsisting contract, may be entered into outside the specified area ;
- (iii) the conditions subject to which goods may be carried in any contract carriage in addition to or to the exclusion of passengers ;
- (iv) that, in the case of motor cabs, specified fares or rates of fares shall be charged and a copy of the fare table shall be exhibited on the vehicle ;

Section 50 — Note 1

[1] Section 50, inasmuch as it makes "representations" a fact to be taken into consideration in the granting of contract carriage permits, impliedly makes it necessary to give some sort of notice regarding an application for such permits. ('57) 61 Cal W N 590 (595, 596).

[2] As no rules have been framed under the Act prescribing the method for giving notices, any rational method such as publication on the notice board of the Regional Transport Authority or advertisement in the papers can be followed for giving the notice required under S. 50 in regard to an application for a contract carriage permit. ('57) 61 Cal W N 590 (595, 596).

[3] The State Government being neither a police authority nor a local authority cannot make any representation under the section in those capacities. It cannot make a representation even as a person already holding a permit where it is only a new applicant for the grant of a permit. 1951 Him Pra 36 (46, 47) [AIR V 38 C 11].

Section 51 — Note 1

[1] Section 51 gives to the Regional Transport Authority the power to restrict the number of contract carriages and imposes conditions on contract carriage permit. It can limit the number of contract carriages generally or contract carriages of any specified type. ('57) 61 Cal W N 590 (596).

- (v) that, in the case of vehicles other than motor cabs, specified rates of hiring not exceeding specified maxima shall be charged ;
  - (vi) that, in the case of motor cabs, a specified weight of passengers' luggage shall be carried free of charge, and that the charge, if any, for any luggage in excess thereof shall be at a specified rate ;
  - (vii) that, in the case of motor cabs, a taxi-meter shall be fitted and maintained in proper working order, if prescribed ;
  - (viii) that the Authority may, after giving notice of not less than one month,—
    - (a) vary the conditions of the permit ;
    - (b) attach to the permit further conditions ;
  - (ix) that the conditions of permit shall not be departed from save with the approval of the Authority ;
  - (x) any other conditions which may be prescribed.]

SECTION 51A

STATE AMENDMENTS

ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, after section 51 insert the following new section, namely,—

"51A. Power of State Transport Authority to alter conditions attached to contract carriage permits.—Any conditions attached to a contract carriage permit in pursuance of section 51 may, at any time, be varied, cancelled or added to by the State Transport Authority, provided that this power shall not be exercised to the prejudice of the holder of the permit without giving not less than three months' notice to him."

—Mad. Act XX of 1948, S. 8 [21-12-1948].

BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, the newly inserted section 51A is the same as that given under Andhra Pradesh.

—Bihar Act XXVII of 1950, S. 8 [21-7-1950].

MADRAS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, excluding the transferred territories, the newly inserted section 51A is the same as that given under Andhra Pradesh.

—Mad. Act XX of 1948, S. 8 [21-12-1948].

PUNJAB

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Punjab, excluding the transferred territories, the newly inserted section 51A is the same as that given under Andhra Pradesh.

—E. P. Act XXVIII of 1948, S. 7 [12-7-1948].

52. Application; for private carrier's permit.

An application for a permit to use <sup>a</sup>[one or more transport vehicles] for the carriage of goods for or in connection with a trade or business carried on by the applicant (in this Chapter referred to as a private carrier's permit) shall contain the following particulars, namely :—

- (a) the type and carrying capacity of the vehicle <sup>b</sup>[or each of the vehicles];
- (b) the nature of the goods which the applicant expects normally to carry in connection with his trade or business;

Section 51A (Andhra Pradesh and Madras) — Note 1

[1] Under S. 51A read with S. 44A the State Government can authorise the Regional Transport Officer to exercise the powers and discharge the functions of a State Transport Authority. 1959 Andh Pra 413 (417) [AIR V 46 C 117]: I L R (1959) Andh Pra 375 (FB).

- (c) the area for which the permit is required; and
 (d) any other particular which may be prescribed.

[a] Substituted for "a transport vehicle", by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1958 (C of 1958), S. 46 [w. e. f. 18-2-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid.

53. Procedure of Regional Transport Authority in considering application for a private carrier's permit.

(1) A Regional Transport Authority shall, <sup>a</sup>[in considering an application for] a private carrier's permit, have regard to the conditions of the roads to be used by the vehicle or vehicles in respect of which the application is made, and shall satisfy itself that the vehicle or vehicles for which the permit is required will not be used except in connection with the business of the applicant.

<sup>b</sup>[(1A) Subject to the provisions of sub section (1), the Regional Transport Authority may, on an application made to it under section 52, grant a private carrier's permit in accordance with the application or with such modifications as it deems fit or refuse to grant such a permit :

Provided that no such permit for any area in any other region or regions within the same <sup>a</sup>[State] shall be granted except with the approval of the <sup>a</sup>[State] Transport Authority.]

(2) The Regional Transport Authority may in granting a private carrier's permit impose conditions to be specified in the permit relating to the description of goods which may be carried, or the area in which the permit shall be valid, or the maximum laden weight and axle weights of any vehicle used <sup>c</sup>[or any other matter which may be prescribed].

(3) If the applicant is the holder of a private carrier's permit which has been suspended or has been the holder of a private carrier's permit which has been revoked, the Regional Transport Authority may <sup>d</sup>[* * *] notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) refuse the application.

[a] Substituted for "in deciding whether to grant or refuse", by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1958 (C of 1958), S. 47 [w. e. f. 18-2-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid.

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL — In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, in section 53 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" wherever they occur insert the words "or State Transport Authority on the issue of a direction under the Proviso to section 45".
 —C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 7 [16-1-1948].

Section 53 — Note 1

[1] The Regional Transport Authority can refuse an application for private carriers permits only on the grounds mentioned in S. 53. Hence the fitness of applicant being a consideration extraneous to them cannot constitute a valid ground for the refusal of the permit. 1959 Assam 106 (106) [AIR V 48 C 22].

[2] The fact that the applicant for a private carriers permit had been prosecuted for plying his vehicle after the expiry of his permit, without a fresh permit is no ground for rejecting the application when the prosecution was launched after the application had been made. 1959 Assam 106 (106) [AIR V 46 C 22].

[3] The maintenance of a log-book and the submission of its copy to the Regional Transport Authority cannot be made a condition of the permit under sub-section (2) of this section. 1959 All 205 (206) [AIR V 46 C 49] (DB). (But a permit-holder can be made to comply with this requirement by mentioning the log-book in the permit as a record which is to be maintained and the returns of which should be made to the Regional Transport Authority — AIR 1959 All 373, Reversed.)

[4] Sub-section (2) of S. 53 cannot be struck down as a provision imposing an unreasonable restriction on the freedom of trade of a permit holder. It may be that the Regional Transport Authority may in the exercise of its powers under the sub-section erroneously prohibit the permit-holder from carrying even an article which may be necessary for his business or trade but the possibility of the authority making such an error cannot render sub-section (2) itself invalid. An error if committed may only give an occasion for the permit-holder to challenge the order of the Regional Transport Authority. 1959 All 205 (206) [AIR V 46 C 49] (DB). (AIR 1959 All 373, Affirmed.)

VIDARBHA — The amendment made in this section by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

*[54. Application for public carrier's permit.

An application for a permit to use one or more motor vehicles for the carriage of goods for hire or reward (in this Chapter referred to as a public carrier's permit), shall, as far as may be, contain the following particulars, namely :—

- (a) the area or the route or routes to which the application relates;
- (b) the number of vehicles it is proposed to operate in relation to each area or route and the type and <sup>b</sup>[*] capacity of each such vehicle;
- (c) the nature of the goods it is proposed to carry;
- (d) the manner in which it is claimed that a public need will be served by the vehicle;
- (e) the arrangements intended to be made for the housing of the vehicles and for the storage and safe custody of the goods to be carried;
- (f) particulars as to whether the applicant is a co-operative society registered or deemed to have been registered under any enactment in force for the time being, or is an individual owner;
- (g) such particulars as the Regional Transport Authority may require with respect to any business as a carrier of goods for hire or reward carried on by the applicant at any time before the making of the application and of the rates charged by the applicant;
- (h) particulars of any agreement, or arrangement, affecting in any material respect the provision within the region of the Regional Transport Authority of facilities for the transport of goods for hire or reward, entered into by the applicant with any other person by whom such facilities are provided, whether within or without the region;
- (i) any other particulars which may be prescribed.]

[a] Now see section 54 (g).

*[55. Procedure in considering application for public carrier's permit.

(1) A Regional Transport Authority shall, in considering an application for a public carrier's permit, have regard to the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the interests of the public generally ;

Section 55 — Note 1

[1] Under Cl. (a) the Regional Transport Authority is entitled to take into consideration only the question of the interest of the public which are going to use the transport system and not every interest of the general public which is totally unrelated to it. Hence the Regional Transport Authority cannot act

- (b) the advantages to the public of the service to be provided and the convenience afforded to the public by the provision of such service and the saving of time likely to be effected thereby ;
- (c) the adequacy of other goods services operating or likely to operate in the near future, whether by road or other means, between the places to be served ;
- (d) the operation by the applicant of other transport services, including those in respect of which applications from him for permits are pending;
- (e) the benefit to any particular locality or localities likely to be afforded by the service ;
- (f) the condition of the roads included in the proposed area or route ;
- (g) the nature of the goods to be carried with special reference to any of a fragile or perishable nature ;
- (h) the volume of traffic and the existence of marketing centres in the proposed area or along or near the proposed route ;

and shall also take into consideration any representations made by persons already providing goods transport facilities by any means, whether by road or otherwise, in the proposed area or along or near the proposed route, or by any local authority or police authority within whose jurisdiction any part of the proposed area or route lies :

Provided that other conditions being equal, an application for a public carrier's permit from a co-operative society registered or deemed to have been registered under any enactment in force for the time being shall, as far as may be, be given preference over applications from individual owners.

(2) A Regional Transport Authority may, having regard to the matters mentioned in sub-section (1), limit the number of transport vehicles generally or of any specified type for which public carrier's permits may be granted in the region or in any specified area or on any specified route within the region.]

on the consideration that some of the applicants are refugees, or political sufferers or members of the scheduled tribes or backward hillmen and as such deserve help. That consideration, however, irresistible it may be from a political or social point of view is extraneous to the kind of the interest which is contemplated by Cl. (a). 1956 Cal 490 (495) [AIR V 43 C 142].

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, in section 55 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" wherever they occur insert the words "or the State Transport Authority".
—W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 9 [13-7-1951].

*[56. Grant of public carrier's permits.

(1) Subject to the provisions of section 55, a Regional Transport Authority may, on an application made to it under section 54, grant a public carrier's permit in accordance with the application or with such modifications as it deems fit or refuse to grant such a permit :

Provided that no such permit shall be granted in respect of any area or route not specified in the application.

(2) The Regional Transport Authority, if it decides to grant a public carrier's permit, may grant the permit for one or more goods vehicles of a specified description and may, subject to any rules that may be made under this Act, attach to the permit any one or more of the following conditions, namely :—

- (i) that the vehicle or vehicles shall be used only in a specified area, or on a specified route or routes;
- (ii) that the laden weight of any vehicle used shall not exceed a specified maximum;
- (iii) that goods of a specified nature shall not be carried;
- (iv) that goods shall be carried at specified rates;
- (v) that specified arrangement shall be made for the housing, maintenance and repair of vehicles and the storage and safe custody of the goods carried;
- (vi) that the holder of the permit shall furnish to the Regional Transport Authority such periodical returns, statistics, and other information as the State Government may, from time to time, prescribe;
- (vii) that the Regional Transport Authority may after giving notice of not less than one month,—
  - (a) vary the conditions of the permit;
  - (b) attach to the permit further conditions;
- (viii) that the conditions of the permit shall not be departed from save with the approval of the Regional Transport Authority;
- (ix) any other conditions which may be prescribed.

(3) Where there is any free zone along or contiguous to the area or route for which a public carrier's permit is granted, the Regional Transport Authority shall include in such permit, wherever possible, an authorisation to carry any goods other than those prohibited by any law for the time being in force, anywhere in that free zone.

(4) For the purposes of this section, "free zone" means such municipal limits of a town or such other area as the State Transport Authority may, subject to any rules that may be made under section 68 and having regard to the volume

[1] Under Cl. (b) of S. 56 as it stood before its amendment considerations of public interest applied to varying or cancelling or adding to any condition attached to a public carrier's permit. 1959 Andh-Pra 413 (419) [AIR V 46 C 117] : ILR (1959) Andh-Pra 375 (FB).

[2] The Registering Authority has no power to add to a permit any condition other than those which have been prescribed by the rules made by the Government in exercise of its powers under Section 68. Hence the breach of a non-prescribed condition added to the permit by the Registering Authority itself does not make the person in breach liable to punishment. 1957 J & K 9 (10) [AIR V 44 C 7] : 1957 Cri L Jour 446.

[3] By virtue of the provisions of S. 44A added to this Act, in its application to the Madras State, by the Motor Vehicles (Madras Amendment) Act, 20 of 1948, the government of that State is entitled to authorise the Regional Transport Officer to exercise the powers conferred on the State Transport Authority by S. 56A, introduced by the same amending Act, to vary, cancel or add to the conditions in a permit. 1959 Andh-Pra 413 (417) [AIR V 46 C 117] : I L R (1959) Andh-Pra 375 (FB).

STATE AMENDMENTS

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL — In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, in section 56 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" wherever they occur insert the words "or the State Transport Authority on the issue of a direction under the proviso to section 45". — C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 7 [16-1-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, in section 56 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority".

— Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 8 [23-3-1947].

VIDARBHA — The amendment made in this section by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, in section 56 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" wherever they occur insert the words "or the State Transport Authority". — W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 9 [13-7-1951].

STATE AMENDMENTS

SECTION 56A

ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, after section 56 insert the following new section, namely,—

"56A. Power of State Transport Authority to alter conditions attached to public carrier's permits. — Any conditions attached to a public carrier's permit in pursuance of clause (b) of section 56 may, at any time, be varied, cancelled or added to by the State Transport Authority, provided that this power shall not be exercised to the prejudice of the holder of the permit without giving not less than three months' notice to him."

— Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 9 [21-12-1948].

NOTE. — This amendment was made prior to the substitution of section 56 by the Central Act C of 1956. Now see sub-section (2) of section 56 of the principal Act.

BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, the newly inserted section 56A is substantially the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh. — Bihar Act XXVII of 1950, S. 9 [21-7-1950].

MADRAS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, excluding the transferred territories, the newly inserted section 56A is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

— Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 9 [21-12-1948].

PUNJAB

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Punjab, excluding the transferred territories, the newly inserted section 56A is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

— E. P. Act XXVIII of 1948, S. 8. [12-7-1948].

57. Procedure in applying for and granting permits.

(1) An application for a contract carriage permit or a private carrier's permit may be made at any time.

(2) An application for a stage carriage permit or a public carrier's permit shall be made not less than six weeks before the date on which it is desired

SECTION 57 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.
2. Applications for permits under sub-s. (2).
3. Publication of applications and notice — Sub-s. (3).
4. Consideration of representations — Sub-s. (4).
5. Hearing of objectors — Sub-s. (5).

6. Representations in the case of contract carriage permits — Sub-s. (6).

7. Reasons for refusal — Sub-s. (7).

8. Variation of conditions — Sub-s. (8).

1. Scope. — [1] The right of a person to make an application for the grant of a permit is neither transferable nor heritable. 1957 All 471 (472) [AIR V 44 C 148] (DB). (Hence on that the permit shall take effect, or, if the Regional Transport Authority appoints dates for the receipt of such applications, on such dates.

(3) On receipt of an application for a stage carriage permit or a public carrier's permit, the Regional Transport Authority shall make the application available for inspection at the office of the Authority and shall publish the application or the substance thereof in the prescribed manner together with a notice of the date before which representations in connection therewith may be submitted and the date, not being less than thirty days from such publication, on which, and the time and place at which, the application and any representations, received will be considered:

*[Provided that, if the grant of any permit in accordance with the application or with modifications would have the effect of increasing the number of vehicles operating in the region, or in any area or on any route within the region, under the class of permits to which the application relates, beyond the limit fixed in that behalf under sub-section (3) of section 47 or sub-section (2) of section 55, as the case may be, the Regional Transport Authority may summarily refuse the application without following the procedure laid down in this sub-section.]

(4) No representation in connection with an application referred to in sub-section (3) shall be considered by the Regional Transport Authority unless it is made in writing before the appointed date and unless a copy thereof is furnished simultaneously to the applicant by the person making such representation.

(5) When any representation such as is referred to in sub-section (3) is made, the Regional Transport Authority shall dispose of the application at a public hearing at which the applicant and the person making the representation shall have an opportunity of being heard either in person or by a duly authorised representative.

Section 57 — Note 1 (contd.)

the death of an applicant during the pendency of his appeal against the refusal to grant a permit his heir cannot claim to be brought on record and allowed to continue the appeal as the appellant.)

[2] The procedure laid down in S. 57 must be followed by the transport authority when dealing with applications for permits. If that authority either grants a permit or refuses a permit without following the procedure laid down in S. 57, it would be a case of material irregularity and the order for granting or refusing permit will be liable to be set aside by appellate authority on an appeal. 1945 Cal 260 (263) [AIR V 32] : I L R (1944) 1 Cal 631 (DB)*1960 Manipur 36 (40) [AIR V 47 C 10]*1959 Tripura 35 (37) [A I R V 46 C 14]. (Permit granted without following procedure laid down in S. 57 — Though the grantee himself alleges it to be a temporary permit and the R. T. A. has informed him subsequently that it is a temporary permit neither the resolution granting the permit nor the application on which it is granted warranting that position — Held that the permit was one beyond the jurisdiction of the R. T. A.)*1952 Nag 353 (355) [AIR V 39] : I L R (1953) Nag 110 (DB). (Granting of permit for a limited period in a case not covered by S. 62 and without the enquiry contemplated by S. 57 is irregular.)

[3] The Transport authorities can be directed by a writ of mandamus to consider and dispose of the applications for permits according to law where they take no action on them even in spite of the requests of the applicants. 1953 Raj 1 (3, 4) [AIR V 40 C 1] : I L R (1952) 2 Raj 265 (DB).

[See also 1952 All 437 (439) [A I R V 39] : I L R (1952) 1 All 159. (Applications for renewal of permits should be disposed of according to the procedure in S. 58 (2). It is wrong to tie them up with the applications for new permits received under sub-s. (2) of S. 57 and delay their disposal as that amounts to dilatory tactics. Applicants for renewal have a case under such circumstances for the issue of a writ of mandamus directing the R. T. A. to dispose the applications according to law.)]

[4] Where in view of the contemplated nationalisation of a route the R. T. A. has treated an application for permanent permit as one for temporary permit and has disposed of it also it cannot be said that the application would still continue to be available for consideration and disposal, when, as a result of the subsequent decision of the Government not to nationalise the route, vacancies for permanent permits on the route are thrown open. 1959 Pat 393 (394) [A I R V 46 C 109] (DB).

2. Applications for permits under sub-s. (2). — [1] Where a scheme has not been prepared and published under S. 68C the State Transport Undertaking is competent to apply for a permit along with other applicants under S. 57 (2). 1960 Pat 506 (507) [AIR V 47 C 167] (DB).

(6) When any representation has been made by the persons or authorities referred to in section 50 to the effect that the number of contract carriages for which permits have already been granted in any region or any area within a region is sufficient for or in excess of the needs of the region or of such area, whether such representation is made in connection with a particular application for the grant of a contract carriage permit or otherwise, the Regional Transport Authority may take any such steps as it considers appropriate for the hearing of the representation in the presence of any persons likely to be affected thereby.

(7) When a Regional Transport Authority refuses an application for a permit of any kind, it shall give to the applicant in writing its reasons for the refusal.

[(8) An application to vary the conditions of any permit, other than a temporary permit, by the inclusion of a new route or routes or a new area or, in the case of a stage carriage permit, by increasing the number of services above the specified maximum, or in the case of a contract carriage permit or a public carrier's permit, by increasing the number of vehicles covered by the permit, shall be treated as an application for the grant of a new permit :

Provided that it shall not be necessary so to treat an application made by the holder of a stage carriage permit who provides the only service on any route or in any area to increase the frequency of the service so provided, without any increase in the number of vehicles.

Section 57 — Note 2 (contd.)

[2] An omission to make an application for the grant of a permit on the prescribed form amounts only to a breach of the rules which does not render the permit granted invalid. 1959 Tripura 35 (38) [AIR V 46 C 14].

[3] The omission to mention in an application made under the first part of sub-s. (2) the date from which the permit is desired does not invalidate the application. In view of the provisions of the sub-section a presumption arises in such cases that the applicant is desirous of obtaining a permit which would take effect on the expiry of six weeks from the date of his application. Thus there is a clear specification of the date by implication. 1959 All 253 (255) [AIR V 46 C 70] (DB).

[4] Applications for permits made within the proper time allowed by the earlier part of sub-s. (2) must be disposed of by the R. T. A. without any undue delay and as promptly as possible. There can be no valid justification for delaying the disposal of these applications on the ground that the route has not yet been advertised under the latter part of the sub-section and that they will be disposed of only if and after it is so advertised. 1956 Assam 6 (7) [AIR V 43 C 4] (DB) + 1952 All 437 (444) [AIR V 39] : ILR (1952) 1 All 159 (DB). (The R. T. A. in such cases can be directed by a writ of mandamus to consider the applications and dispose them of in accordance with the provisions of the Act as are applicable and are valid.)

[5] Sub-section (2) applies even to applications for issue of permits made by a State Transport Authority under S. 68F (1). Thus where the R. T. A. has not appointed any date for making an application the State Transport Authority must apply before six weeks from the date on which the permit is desired and unless it has done so no permit can be validly granted to it, rejecting the applications for renewals of the existing permits. 1960 S C 350 (352) [AIR V 47 C 58]; 1960-2 S C R 130.

[6] The period specified by sub-s. (2) applies also to applications for renewals of permits and therefore any rule framed under the Act which increases that period in the case of applications for renewals must fail as being ultra vires. 1957 Ker 187 (188) [(S) AIR V 44 C 94].

[7] The Regional Transport Authority can call for applications in anticipation of a road being made a public road and open for buses to ply although so long as the road has not been made public it has no power to grant a permit. 1959 Mys 72 (75) [AIR V 46 C 28] : ILR (1958) Mys 472 (DB).

[8] The second part of sub-s. (2) has reference only to applications for new permits and therefore the R. T. A. is not required to observe the procedure laid down by the sub-section in dealing with the applications for the renewal of permits. The procedure to be followed in their cases is the one prescribed by S. 58 (2). 1952 All 437 (440) [AIR V 39] : ILR (1952) 1 All 159 (DB).

[9] A permit granted to the State Transport Authority on an application not made in compliance with sub-s. (2) will not be set aside at the instance of a person, who, being not a displaced operator, is not at all prejudiced by the grant. 1960 Pat 575 (582) [AIR V 47 C 198] (DB).

3. Publication of applications and notice

—Sub-s. (3) — [1] The provisions of S. 57 (3) are not merely directory but are mandatory, and the publication of the application or its substance as required by sub-section (3) of S. 57 is ordinarily, a condition precedent to the exercise of its jurisdiction by the Regional Transport Authority under sub-section (5) of that section. 1959 Mys 62 (65) [AIR V 46 C 26] : ILR (1958) Mys 500 (DB) + 1953 Raj 1 (2) [AIR V 40 C 1] : ILR (1952) 2 Raj 265 (DB).

(9) A Regional Transport Authority may, before such date as may be specified by it in this behalf, replace any stage carriage permit, contract carriage permit or public carrier's permit granted by it before the said date by a fresh permit conforming to the provisions of section 48 or section 51 or section 56, as the case may be, and the fresh permit shall be valid for the same route or routes or the same area for which the replaced permit was valid :

Provided that no condition other than a condition which was already attached to the replaced permit or which could have been attached thereto under the law in force when that permit was granted shall be attached to the fresh permit except with the consent in writing of the holder of the permit.

(10) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 58, a permit issued under the provisions of sub-section (9) shall be effective without renewal for the remainder of the period during which the replaced permit would have been so effective.]

[a] Added by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 51 [w.e.f. 16.2.1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Proviso to sub-section (3) — This Proviso "is intended to enable the Regional Transport Authorities to reject an application for permit summarily in cases where the full number of vehicles required to serve a particular route or area, etc., has already been reached".

Sub-sections (8) to (10) — These sub-sections are "necessary, now that permits are to be drawn in a different form and power is given to vary the condition, so as to prevent such variation without the completion of the formalities necessary to safeguard the interest of other operators. Provision to enable a change from the old to the new form of permit during the currency of existing permits is necessary. Restrictions to safeguard the interests of the permit-holders have been included."

— S. O. R.

Section 57 — Note 3 (contd.)

[2] Since no time has been prescribed by sub-s. (3) for the publication of applications it should be done within a reasonable time. 1953 Raj 1 (2) [AIR V 40 C 1] : ILR (1952) 2 Raj 265 (DB). (A delay of six months cannot be said to be reasonable.) *1959 Pat 393 (394) [AIR V 46 C 109] (DB). (Lapse of five years is not a reasonable time.)

[3] On the language of sub-s. (3), as it reads, it is no doubt possible to say that the R. T. A. is not bound to allow a period of thirty days after the publication of the application and notice for filing representations but can fix any prior date even as the last date for that purpose. Even so a date so fixed by it cannot prevail where the rules framed under the Act have prescribed clearly a period of thirty days for making representations and therefore the refusal of the R. T. A. in such a case to hear the parties on the ground that their representations were not received by it before the date fixed by it in the notification would be illegal. 1960 Ker 85 (86) [AIR V 47 C 38].

[4] An omission to mention in the notification under sub-s. (3), which is otherwise in accordance with its provisions, the date, time and place of hearing amounts merely to an irregularity which will not lead to the failure of the proceedings unless a failure of justice has been occasioned by it. No such failure can be said to have been occasioned where the R. T. A. later on, has intimated those particulars individually to the applicants as well as the persons who had submitted representations. 1960 Mys 33 (39) [AIR V 47 C 7] (DB).

[5] The intention of the legislature is that the date, time and place should be notified and not that it should be done in the same notification issued under sub-s. (3). Even if the authority notifies these particulars subsequently it can be held that there is substantial compliance with the provisions of the section. 1960 Manipur 36 (39) [AIR V 47 C 10].

[6] The R.T.A. has no jurisdiction to dispose of an application within thirty days of its publication in the Gazette and grant a permit. A permit where it had been so granted is illegal. 1957 All 254 (255) [(S) AIR V 44 C 73] (DB). (Misc. Writ. No. 83 of 1955, D/- 12-7-55 (All), Overruled.)

[7] The rejection of an application for permit before the expiry of the thirty days from the date of publication of the application does not offend the provisions of sub-s. (3). The provisions which are mandatory so far as the interests of the objectors are concerned are in no way contravened by such an order because in passing such an order it necessarily means that the R. T. A., has considered all the good points that can be urged in favour of the objectors. 1960 Raj 63 (64, 65) [AIR V 47 C 15] : ILR (1960) 10 Raj 279 (FB).

[8] The procedure prescribed by sub-s. (3) has to be followed in dealing with an application for the renewal of a permit also. Thus, it is obligatory on the part of the authority to cause those applications to be published and invite representations in the same manner as in the case of applications for permits. 1959 Mys 17 (19) [AIR V 46 C 5] : ILR (1958) Mys 421 (DB).

[9] The procedure prescribed by S. 57 need not be followed with regard to the grant of temporary permits. 1959 Pat 111 (112) [AIR V 46 C 26] (DB). (Hence failure of a party to prefer objection to the grant of such a per-

STATE AMENDMENTS

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh in sub-sections (2), (3), (4), (5) and (7) of section 57 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" wherever they occur insert the words "or the State Transport Authority on the issue of a direction under the Proviso to section 45".

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 7 [16-1-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, in sub-sections (2), (3), (4), (5) and (7) of section 7 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority".

—Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 8 [23-3-1947].

VIDARBHA—The amendment made in this section by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

ORISSA

In its application to the State of Orissa, in section 57 —

- (a) in sub-section (2) after the words "shall be made" insert the words in the case of State Transport Service not less than two weeks and in other cases";
- (b) in sub-section (3) after the words "and the date" insert the words "not being less than ten days in the case of an application by the State Transport Service and in other cases".

—Orissa Act I of 1949, S. 5.<sup>a</sup>

[a] For the date of commencement of this amendment in different districts of the State of Orissa and the consequences that follow on such commencement, see foot-note 'a' given under clause (29B) of section 2 : State Amendment — Orissa.

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, in sub-sections (2), (3), (4), (5) and (7) of section 57 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" wherever they occur insert the words "or the State Transport Authority".

—W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 9 [13-7-1951].

mit would not make his appeal under S. 64 (f) incompetent.) *1959 Raj 119 (120) [AIR V 48 C 45] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 144 (DB). (A person who has orally objected to the grant of a temporary permit can also maintain an appeal.)

4. Consideration of representations — Sub-s. (4). — [1] Provisions of sub-s. (4) are mandatory and hence the R. T. A., cannot grant a permit before considering the representations which have been made. 1953 Trav-Co 74 (76) [AIR V 40 C 26] : ILR (1953) Trav-Co 234.

[2] The Regional Transport Authority can consider only such objections against an applicant as are set out in a representation submitted in writing in accordance with the provisions of S. 57. 1956 Madh-B 231 (235) [AIR V 43 C 90] (DB). (Objection for grant of permit to a person not taken before R.T.A.—The Appellate authority cannot consider such an objection.)

[3] A person who does not make his representation within the time specified in sub-s. (3) is not entitled to be heard at the time of hearing of the application for permit. 1953 Nag 150 (151) [AIR V 40 C 51] : ILR (1953) Nag 675 (DB) * (57) 1957 Ker L T 629 (632, 633). (Party not filing representations in time becomes disentitled to any notice of appeal also.) *1955 Mad 660 (661) [(S) AIR 42 C 210] : ILR (1956) Mad 498 (DB). (Hence he is also not entitled to a notice or hearing in the revision preferred against the order of the R. T. A., because he cannot be considered to be a party to the proceedings.)

[4] Section 57 (4) prohibits a Regional Transport Authority from considering representations received after the appointed date. 1959 Andh-Pra 321 (325) [AIR V 46 C 93] : ILR (1959) Andh-Pra 54 (DB).

[5] In an appeal under cl. (a) of S. 64 by the person whose application for a permit has been rejected the appellate authority is fully competent to consider the question whether the permit had been wrongly refused to the appellant and granted to another and for that purpose also any objection of the nature specified under Cl. (f) of that section even though the appellant had not taken that objection before the Regional Transport Authority in the manner provided by S. 57. 1959 Assam 183 (187) [AIR V 46 C 40] : ILR (1957) 9 Assam 206 (DB).

[6] Sub-section (4) has the effect of only debarring a person whose permit is affected by the proposed variation of the permit of another from making representations before the Regional Transport Authority when he has failed to prefer his objections to the variation within the time permitted by law as laid down in sub-s. (5) read with sub-s. (3). It has not the effect, whether before or after the amendment of the Act in 1956, of depriving the right of such a person to appeal under cl. (b) of S. 64 on the ground of his non-compliance with those sub-sections. 1959 Raj 41 (43) [AIR V 46 C 12] : ILR (1956) 8 Raj 1112 (DB).

[7] The jurisdiction of the appellate authority to entertain an appeal under cl. (f) of S. 64 at the instance of a person depends on that person having made his grievance in a representation or objection in the form and manner prescribed by this section. Where the appellant is not so qualified his appeal cannot be entertained however hard his case may be. 1953 Vindh-Pra 41 (42) [AIR V 40 C 21] * 1951 Orissa 81 (84) [AIR V 38 C 26] (DB).

[8] The proper time for the persons interested in the matter for making representations against the grant of a permit is when the application has been published by the Regional Transport Authority as required by S. 57. That is the only opportunity which has been allowed to them under the law for making representation. They have no right of being heard by the appellate authority. 1959 Raj 121 (123) [AIR V 46 C 46] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 120 (DB).

[9] Sub-section (4) which requires representations to be in writing does not apply to the representations of existing operators which are made under S. 47 (1). Hence they do not lose their right of appeal under cl. (f) of S. 64 because of their not having objected to the grant of the permit in writing in accordance with sub-s. (4) of this section. (55) ILR (1955) Trav-Co 52 (64). (The sub-section applies only to the representations made by private individuals in response to the notification published under sub-s. (3).)

[10] A person who does not oppose the application for a permit by filing objections under sub-s. (3) cannot appeal against the order granting the permit. Hence he cannot also be aggrieved if the appellate order reverses the order of the Regional Transport Authority refusing a permit and grants one to the applicant. That being so he is not entitled to challenge the appellate order by an application under Art. 226 of the Constitution. 1952 Trav-Co 443 (444) [AIR V 39].

[11] The omission of an applicant to take objections to the rival applications will not debar him from seeking remedy under Art. 226 of the Constitution where no orders have been passed by the Regional Transport Authority on his application. His omission can only debar him from challenging the validity of the permits granted to the rival applicants. 1953 Raj 1 (3) [AIR V 40 C 1] : ILR (1952) 2 Raj 265 (DB).

[12] The mere fact that the Regional Transport Authority heard an objector who did not file his representations within time is not sufficient to condemn its order refusing the renewal of a permit which had in fact been passed without taking notice of those belated representations. 1957 Pat 732 (734) [AIR V 44 C 219] (DB).

[13] The requirement of furnishing a copy of the application is with respect to an application for a permit, and need not necessarily apply to an objection in respect of the variation of the conditions of the permit. 1956 Raj 125 (126) [S] AIR V 43 C 38] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 86 (DB).

5. Hearing of objectors — Sub-s. (5). —

[1] The failure of the Regional Transport Authority to give a hearing as required by sub-s. (5) to the person who has made representations invalidates its entire proceedings. (54) Madh-B L J 1954 H C R 91 (96) (DB).

[2] The provisions of sub-s. (5) are mandatory. Hence the transport authority in granting permits cannot act in a manner which has the effect of depriving the intending objectors an opportunity to state their objection and be heard in support of them. If it does so the granting of the permits would be arbitrary and against the provisions of law. 1960 Manipur 36 (40) [AIR V 47 C 10]. (Notice of meeting not given—Meeting held before last date fixed for receipt of representations — Consequently no representations considered or objector heard — Order granting permits cannot be sustained.)

6. Representations in the case of contract carriage permits—Sub-s. (6). — [1] The provision relating to the hearing of a representation against the grant of renewal of a contract carriage permit contained in sub-section (6) is mandatory. 1951 Him-Pra 36 (46) [AIR V 38 C 11] + (57) 61 Cal W N 590 (596).

7. Reasons for refusal — Sub-s. (7). — [1] The Regional Transport Authority functions as a quasi-judicial body when dealing with the grant or refusal to grant permits and hence its order should ex facie show reasons for making it in a succinct form. 1957 Raj 237 (239) [AIR V 44 C 90] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 545 (DB) + 1959 Mys 72 (73) [AIR V 46 C 28] : ILR (1958) Mys 472 (DB). (Issue of permits — Reasons must be clearly stated in such a manner which would enable the appellate Court to canvass its correctness.) + 1953 Mad 59 (60) [AIR V 40 C 19]. (Regional Transport Authority when issuing a permit should clearly state its reasons for doing so, so that an appellate authority may be in a position to canvass those reasons.)

[2] The R. T. A. selecting some out of the applications for granting permits must give the reasons which weighed with it for preferring those applications over the others. That there was no necessity for additional bus service over and above the permits sanctioned on the route is no such reason. 1955 N U C (Trav-Co) 2564 [AIR V 42].

[3] Failure on the part of the Regional Transport Authority to give to an applicant for permit reasons for refusal thereof in accordance with S. 57 (7), Motor Vehicles Act and consequent rejection of the application are prima facie arbitrary. 1953 Orissa 235 (236) [AIR V 40 C 65] (DB). (The High Court can interfere and issue writ against the decisions of Statutory Tribunals like R. T. A and S. T. A when such decisions disclose a violation of provisions of the Act.)

[4] The reasons for refusal for permit must not be too vague and inadequate. 1956 Cal 490 (495) [AIR V 43 C 142]. (Refusal on the ground that in the considered opinion of the R. T. A the applicant was not found deserving is too vague.)

[5] Where the reasons for refusing the applications for permit are given by the R. T. A. in a rolled up manner in respect of a group of applications and the individual cases are not dealt with separately, there is a non-compliance of S. 57 (7). 1957 Cal 638 (643) [S] AIR V 44 C 165] : ILR (1958) 1 Cal 466. (Failure to give reasons for each individual case hampers him in the matter of preferring appeal because he would not be in a position to know which particular reason was applied to him.)

[6] Reasons which are based on considerations not mentioned under S. 47 cannot

Duration and renewal of permits.

<sup>a</sup>[(1) (a) A stage carriage permit or a contract carriage permit other than a temporary permit issued under section 62 shall be effective without renewal for such period, not less than three years and not more than five years, as the Regional Transport Authority may specify in the permit.

(b) A private carrier's permit or a public carrier's permit other than a temporary permit issued under section 62 shall be effective without renewal for a period of five years.]

(2) A permit may be renewed on an application made and disposed of as if it were an application for a permit :

<sup>b</sup>[Provided that the application for the renewal of a permit shall be made, —

(a) in the case of a stage carriage permit or a public carrier's permit, not less than sixty days before the date of its expiry ; and

(b) in any other case, not less than thirty days before the date of its expiry ;]

Providing <sup>b</sup>[further] that, other conditions being equal, an application for renewal shall be given preference over new applications for permits.

Section 57 — Note 7 (co. td.)

justify the refusal of a stage carriage permit. Thus a refusal on the ground of the decision of the Government to nationalise the motor transport is not sustainable. 1954 Assam 212 (217) [AIR V 41 C 61] ; ILR (1955) 7 Assam 7 * 1956 Pat 73 (80) [(S) AIR V 43 C 20 (DB)].

[7] Where reasons are given by the Road Traffic Board in the order refusing an application for permit the fact that the order could with advantage have been written in a more detailed and elaborate fashion is no reason to hold that it does not comply with the provisions of sub-s. (7) of S. 57. 1957 Trav-Co 254 (255) [AIR V 44 C 95].

[8] The failure of the R. T. A. to give reasons for the refusal of a permit is a defect which can be set right by the appellate authority in its own order. 1960 Andh Pra 371 (2) (373) [AIR V 47 C 121]. (Hence the appellate order which has set right the defect cannot be set aside on the ground of the defect in the order of the R. T. A.)

[9] The word "order" is loosely used in Rule 4-37 (3) of the Punjab Motor Vehicles Rules, 1949, for the reasons for the refusal referred to in sub-s. (7) of this section. That rule requires copies of the orders against which appeals can lie under S. 64 should be given to the parties by the R. T. A. A mere hearing by the parties when the order is being dictated would not amount to a receipt of the order or reasons for the refusal within the meaning of that rule. ('49) 28 Lah L Tim 1 (2) (East Punj).

8. Variation of conditions—Sub-s. (8).—

[1] It is true that S. 57 does not apply to temporary permits but the procedure prescribed by it cannot be deviated from when what is sought to be done amounts not to the allowing of a deviation of the route in a temporary permit but in a regular permit. Thus where after regularising a temporary permit the authority allows a deviation of the route mentioned in the regular permit issued after such regularisation and enters the same on it without following the procedure mentioned in the section it must be held that it has not been validly done. 1959 Punj 638 (642) [AIR V 46 C 203] ; ILR (1959) Punj 2121.

[2] A temporary variation of the conditions of a permit allowed without following the procedure prescribed by S. 57 is illegal not only on that ground but also because there is no provision in the Act for allowing such a variation. 1960 Ker 239 (240) [AIR V 47 C 116]. (Order allowing temporary variation of route.)

[3] An application for refixation of the starting and terminal points is not an application for varying the conditions of the permit by inclusion of a new route or routes or a new area within the meaning of clause (8). Even if the order granting such an application results in the increase of the frequency of the service it will be amply protected by the proviso to that sub-section. 1958 Ker 339 (340) [AIR V 45 C 121].

[4] Grant of permit to carry on bus service between two points — Transport Authority curtailing distance temporarily till repair of road—It is modification of permit which can be effected without going into formalities requisite for issue of fresh permit. 1955 N U C (Trav-Co) 5102 [AIR V 42].

SECTION 58 — SYNOPSIS

1. Duration of permits.

2. "Without renewal."

3. Renewal of permits.

1. Duration of permits. — [1] A permit though issued for a period of less than three years would be valid for a period of three years. 1959 Cal 543 (548) [AIR V 46 C 148]. [See however 1952 Madh B 128 (129) [AIR V 39]. (Case decided before the amendment of the section—Permit issued for one year cannot remain in force for a period of 3 years under S. 58 of the Act as extended to Madhya Bharat.)]

[2] Section 58 does not permit an interpretation to be placed on it by which a temporary permit, wrongly issued by the R. T. A. in the absence of any justification under S. 62, could be treated as a regular

<sup>b</sup>[(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in the '[first] proviso to sub-section (2), the Regional Transport Authority may entertain an application for the renewal of a permit after the last date specified in the said proviso for the making of such an application, if the application is made not more than fifteen days after the said last date and is accompanied by the prescribed fee.]

[a] Substituted for the original sub-section (1), by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 52 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid. [c] Inserted by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1960 (LVIII of 1960), S. 3 and Sch. II [26-12-1960].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Section 58 (1) has been amended by some State Governments. In order to supersede such State enactments and make section 58 (1) applicable in all the States, it is necessary to re-enact that sub-section . "

—S. O. R.

STATE AMENDMENTS

[Note.—The amendments made in section 58 by the State Legislatures are given below. In the light of the new sub-section (1) in place of the former sub-section (1) of section 58, it is doubtful whether the amendments made in sub-section (1) by the State Legislatures continue to be valid. See the observation produced under the heading "Objects and Reasons" above.]

ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, in sub-section (1) of section 58 omit the words "not less than three years and not more than five years" and the Proviso. —Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 10 [21-12-1948].

BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, to section 58 add the following sub-section, namely,—

"(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the State Government may, by order, direct the State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority to limit to any period which shall be less than the minimum fixed in the said sub-section, the period of validity of permits or class of permits in respect of transport vehicles or class of transport vehicles used in areas or on routes or portions thereof specified in a notification under sub-section (1) of section 66A."

—Bihar Act XXVII of 1950, S. 10 [21-7-1950].

Section 58 — Note 1 (contd.)

permit, ignoring the fact that the provisions of the Act relating to the issue of such permits have not been complied with. Hence, it is also not possible to hold that the permit would remain valid without renewal for a period of three years under the provisions of the section. 1951 All 257 (262) [AIR V 38 C 51] : 1 L R (1951) 1 All 269 (FB) * 1953 Assam 74 (76) [AIR V 40 C 31] : 1 L R (1952) 4 Assam 9 (DB). (Temporary permit not justified by S. 62 can only be set aside—They cannot be treated as permits having a duration of three years under S. 58.)

[But see 1945 Cal 260 (263) [AIR V 32] : 1 L R (1944) 1 Cal 631 (DB). (Case decided before the amendment of sub-section (1) but not affected by the amendment—Permit neither a temporary permit under S. 62 nor one issued after following the procedure prescribed by S. 57—Still it is not void but would remain valid until it is revoked—As such it would attract the provisions of para. 1 of the section.)]

[3] The fact that the Chairman of the State Transport Authority by an order allowed the permit-holders to ply their buses on the routes during the course of the proceedings started by them with respect to certain serious allegations against the Regional Transport Authority who had refused to renew their permits by the Regional Transport Authority does not mean that the permit-holders were merely temporary permit-holders. 1954 Assam 219 (222) [AIR V 41 C 62] : 1 L R (1955) 7 Assam 23 (DB).

[4] The renewal of a permit falling within clause (a) of sub-section (1) should be made for a duration of not less than three years and not more than five years and the R. T. A. has no discretion in the matter. Clause (a) of sub-section (1) applies to the cases of grants of permits as well as renewals of them. 1960 S C 321 (326) [AIR V 47 C 55] : 1960-2 S C R 146 * 1951 Him Pra 36 (45) [AIR V 38 C 11].

2. "Without renewal." — [1] The phrase 'without renewal' in S. 58 shows that the Legislature had in contemplation cases where the competent transport authority had in fact issued permits for a fixed period and that period was less than three years. 1945 Cal 260 (263) [AIR V 32] : 1 L R (1944) 1 Cal 631 (DB).

3. Renewal of permits. — [1] In the case of applications for the renewal of old permits appointment of dates for their receipt under the latter part of sub-s. (2) of S. 57 is not necessary. Old applicants must be presumed to know the dates on which their permits are to expire and therefore to be in a position to apply within the time statutorily prescribed for making applications for permits. 1952 All 437 (440) [AIR V 39] : 1 L R (1952) 1 All 159.

[2] Any rule framed by the Government under the Act which enlarges the period prescribed by sub-s. (2) for making an application for renewal of a permit is ultra vires and in-

MAHAKOSHAL.—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, in section 58—

(a) in sub-section (1) after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority on the issue of a direction under the Proviso to section 45";

(b) after sub-section (2) add the following sub-section, namely,—

"(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the State Government may order a Regional Transport Authority to limit the period for which any permit or class of permits is issued to any period less than the minimum specified in the Act."

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, Ss. 7 and 8. [16-1-1948.]

MADRAS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, excluding the transferred territories, section 58 is amended; the amendment made is the same as given under Andhra Pradesh.

—Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 10. [21-12-1948.]

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, in section 58—

(a) after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority";

(b) after sub-section (2) add the following sub-section, namely,—

"(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) above, the State Government may order a Regional Transport Authority or the State Transport Authority to limit the period for which any permit or class of permits is issued to any period less than the minimum prescribed in the Act." —Bom. VIDARBHA.—The amendments made in section 58 by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh apply to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

MYSORE

In its application to the whole of the Mysore area, to section 58 add the following sub-section, namely,—

"(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the State Government may order a Regional Transport Authority or the State Transport Authority to limit the period to which any permit or class of permits is issued to any period less than three years."

[4] A renewed permit amounts in effect to a new permit granted for a fresh period replacing the old one. Hence a suspension of the old permit ordered for the breach of one of its conditions cannot be enforced against the renewed permit. 1957 Andh Pra 470 (471, 472) [AIR V 44 C 149] (DB).

[Permit-holder has no absolute right to renewal at old rates—Renewal at rate below prescribed minimum —

Permit-holder cannot accept permit and repudiate the rate.)

[6] An application for renewal of a stage carriage permit along a particular route will generally have to survive the competition along with other applicants. All that the applicant for renewal can claim is a preference over others, if other conditions are equal. 1957 Andh Pra 470 (471, 472) [AIR V 44 C 149] (DB). (Overruled by AIR 1957 S C 489 on another point.) + 1959 Mys 17 (20) [AIR V 46 C 5] : 1 L R (1958) Mys 421.

[7] The provisions of sub-section (2) regarding the renewal of permits, being procedural, would apply as they stand amended to applications made before such amendment but still pending for disposal. Hence even though an applicant would have been entitled to a renewal as the sole applicant under sub-section (2) as it stood at the time of his making the application he would not continue to be so entitled even after the amendment when there are other applicants also. 1957 Orissa 121 (124) [AIR V 44 C 38] : 1 L R (1957) Cut 117 (DB).

[8] Since an application for the renewal of a permit has to be treated on the same basis as an original application for a permit the provisions of S. 47 (1) would govern such an application also. Hence the R. T. A. can take into account any representations made by any person, body or association interested in road transport facilities in disposing of the application. 1956 Madh B 175 (176) [AIR V

ORISSA

In its application to the State of Orissa, in section 58—

(a) for sub-section (1) substitute the following sub-section, namely,—

“(1) A permit other than a temporary permit issued under section 62 shall normally be effective without renewal, for such period, not less than three years and not more than five years, as the Regional Transport Authority may specify in the permit :—

Provided that if the Regional Transport Authority is satisfied that an existing or a prospective State Transport Service can or is going to be extended to any route or area on the permit within a period of three years from the date on which the permit is to be effective, the permit shall be for such shorter period as the Regional Transport Authority may consider suitable in order to avoid conflict with the prospective extension of such State Transport Service.”

(b) In the Proviso to sub-section (2) after the word ‘permits’ insert the words “by parties other than a State Transport Service”. —Orissa Act I of 1949, S. 6.<sup>a</sup>

[a] For the date of commencement of this amendment in different districts of the State of Orissa and the consequences that follow on such commencement, see foot-note ‘a’ given under clause (29B) of section 2 : State Amendment — Orissa.

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, in section 58—

(a) in sub-section (1) after the words “Regional Transport Authority” wherever they occur insert the words “or the State Transport Authority” ;

(b) after sub-section (2) add the following, namely,—

“(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the State Government may order a Regional Transport Authority or the State Transport Authority to limit the period for which any permit or class of permits is issued to any period less than the minimum prescribed in this Act.”

—W. B. Act XIX of 1951, Ss. 9 and 11. [13-7-1951.]

Section 58 — Note 3 (contd.)

43 C 74] (DB) * 1955 Sau 57 (59) [(S) AIR V 42 C 22] (DB).

[9] A Regional Transport Authority cannot refuse a stage carriage permit or its renewal on the ground of a State monopoly or on the ground that on some future date the State Government may run their own service. 1956 Pat 73 (80) [(S) A I R V 43 C 20] (DB) * 1951 Him Pra 36 (47) [AIR V 38 C 11].

[10] The R. T. A. is in the nature of a quasi-judicial body and in acting as such it has to have some proof of the conviction of the applicant before it can refuse a renewal of his permit on that ground. 1958 All 30 (31, 32) [A I R V 45 C 10]. (Hence a refusal on the basis of police reports of such convictions is not justified.)

[11] A permit granted without following the procedure prescribed by S. 57 can at best be regarded only as an irregular permit and not as a permanent one and hence the refusal by the R.T.A. to renew such a permit infringes no legal right of the holder thereof. 1952 Nag 353 (355) [AIR V 39]; ILR (1953) Nag 110 (DB).

[12] A refusal to renew the permit of an applicant on the ground of his convictions cannot be said to be discriminatory solely on the ground that the R. T. A. had in other cases granted permits to persons with four or five convictions. The decision in each case must depend on the facts of that particular case. 1958 All 30 (32) [AIR V 45 C 10]. (But where the renewal had been refused on non-existent convictions and challans the High Court would quash the order of the R. T. A. and direct it to dispose of the application according to law.)

[13] The provisions of S. 43 read with S. 58 and S. 58A (inserted by the C. P. and Berar Act, 3 of 1948) which empower the State Government to place restrictions on the plying of public buses, to confine the use of public highways for running buses to only such persons as have been granted permits and to cancel or refuse permits are clearly saved by cl. (6) of Art. 19 of the Constitution. Hence the refusal of the R. T. A. to renew certain permits in accordance with the directions issued by the Government cannot be said to violate the right of the permit-holders given to them by Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution. 1952 Nag 353 (354) [A I R V 39]; I L R (1953) Nag 110 (DB).

[14] A refusal on the part of the Regional Transport Authority to renew a permit under the Act to a person who has been deliberately and habitually defaulting in payment of taxes cannot be said to be not a reasonable restriction on the right of that person under Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution in the interest of the public. 1955 Mad 205 (206) [(S) A I R V 42 C 51] (DB).

[15] Application for renewal of permit heard by R. T. A. and judgment reserved — Subsequent change in constitution of R. T. A. — Judgment delivered by new R. T. A. after receipt of enquiry report but without giving fresh hearing, is nullity. 1960 Pat 333 (338) [AIR V 47 C 118] (DB).

Validity of renewal permits.

[16] The validity of the renewed permit depends on the validity of the original permit and consequently a Court is entitled to decide the question whether the permit was rightly granted or not even after the expiry of the period of the permit. 1957 Andh Pra 739 (743) [AIR V 44 C 233].

[17] When an application for renewal is made, the illegality of a permit is a matter to be taken into consideration by the R. T. A. 1957 All 254 (256) [(S) A I R V 44 C 73].

SECTION 58A MADHYA PRADESH

STATE AMENDMENTS

MAHAKOSHAL—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, after section 58 insert the following section, namely,—

"58A. Grant of permit to State Government, local authority, etc.—Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the State Government may by order direct any Regional Transport Authority or the State Transport Authority to grant a stage carriage permit to the State Government or any undertaking in which the State Government is financially interested or a permit-holder whose permit has been cancelled under section 43 or any local authority specified in the order."

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 9. [16-1-1948.]

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, after section 58 insert the following section, namely,—

"58A. Grant of permit to local authority.—Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the State Government may by order direct any Regional Transport Authority or the State Transport Authority to grant a stage carriage permit to the State Government or any local authority specified in the order."

—Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 11. [23-3-1947.]

VIDARBHA.—The newly inserted section 58A by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, the newly inserted section 58A is the same as the one given under Maharashtra. —W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 12. [13-7-1951.]

59. General conditions attaching to all permits.

(1) Save as provided in section 61, a permit shall not be transferable from one person to another except with the permission of the transport authority

Section 58 — Note 3 (contd.)

(S. T. A. in appeal holding certain permits illegal but without interfering with their operation directing R. T. A. not to renew them —R. T. A. is bound by such direction.)

[18] When the grant of a permit is set aside by a higher authority the renewal thereof also stands automatically set aside and does not continue to subsist for the period for which it was renewed. 1957 S C 489 (492) [(S) AIR V 44 C 74] : 1957 S C R 663. (AIR 1957 Andh Pra 470, Overruled.) * 1958 Mad 143 (144) [AIR V 43 C 74] (DB).

[19] Renewal of permit, subject to implied condition that the renewal should stand cancelled if the right of the appellant to the original permit was negated by the Court, does not render it inoperative. 1957 S C 489 (494) [(S) AIR V 44 C 74] : 1957 S C R 663.

Remedy against refusal to renew.

[20] A person who is aggrieved by the refusal to renew a permit can file an appeal under S. 64 (e). 1956 Vindh Pra 38 (39) [AIR V 43 C 20].

[21] Where an application for renewal of permit for buses is disposed of without following the procedure laid down by Ss. 47 (1) and 57 (3) and the applicant has been given no opportunity of being heard under S. 57 (5) and the application is disposed of by reference to extraneous and illegal matters, the applicant's sole and correct remedy is that provided by S. 45 of the Specific Relief Act. 1948 Mad 400 (409) [AIR V 35 C 197] (DB).

[22] When the renewal of a permit was not refused on the ground of previous conviction for violating rules of the permit but those convictions were only the basis for the opinion of the appellate authority that it was not in the public interest to renew the permit and the material on which the appellate authority came to this view was relevant to the subject on which the authority had to form its view it is not for the High Court in the exercise of its jurisdiction under Art. 226 of the Constitution to sit in judgment and hold whether that view was right or wrong. 1955 N U C (All) 3540 [AIR V 42].

[23] Where the R. T. A. renewed the permit under S. 58 (2) for a period of one year, and in a writ petition the order regarding the period is held to be illegal, it is open to the Supreme Court to sever the illegal part of the order from the legal part and quash the illegal part and issue a direction in the nature of mandamus requiring the authority to carry out the duty laid on it by S. 58 (1) (a) read with S. 58 (2) in granting the renewal. 1960 SC 321 (327) [AIR V 47 C 55] : 1960-2 SCR 146.

Section 58-A (Madhya Pradesh)—Note 1

[1] Under S. 43 read with S. 58 and S. 58-A as inserted by C. P. and Berar Act, 3 of 1948 it is open to the State Government to place restrictions on the plying of buses, to confine the use of public highways for running public buses to only such persons as have been granted permits under the Act and to cancel or refuse to renew permits held by an operator or class of operators and these provisions have been clearly saved by clause (6) of Art. 19 of the Constitution. 1952 Nag 353 (354) [AIR V 39] : 1 L R (1953) Nag 110. (Hence the refusal of the R. T. A. to renew the permit does not violate the fundamental rights of a permit-holder.)

Section 59 — Note 1

[1] A partnership in respect of a lorry business which involves a transfer of a permit will which granted the permit and shall not without such permission operate to confer on any person to whom a vehicle covered by the permit is transferred any right to use that vehicle in the manner authorised by the permit.

(2) The holder of a permit may, with the permission of the authority by which the permit was granted, replace by another vehicle of the same nature and capacity any vehicle covered by the permit.

(3) The following shall be conditions of every permit—

- (a) that the vehicle or vehicles to which the permit relates are at all times so maintained as to comply with the requirements of Chapter V and the rules made thereunder;
- (b) that the vehicle or vehicles to which the permit relates are not driven at a speed exceeding the speed lawful under this Act;
- (c) that any prohibition or restriction imposed and any maximum or minimum fares or freights fixed by notification made under section 43 or observed in connection with any vehicle or vehicles to which the permit relates;
- (d) that the vehicle or vehicles to which the permit relates are not driven in contravention of the provisions of section 72;
- (e) that the provisions of this Act limiting the hours of work of drivers are observed in connection with any vehicle or vehicles to which the permit relates; and
- (f) that the provisions of Chapter VIII so far as they apply to the holder of the permit are observed.

STATE AMENDMENTS

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL — In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, in clause (c) of sub-section (3) of section 59 for the words "or minimum" substitute the words "minimum or specified." —C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 10 [16-1-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

VIDARBHA — The amendment made in section 59 (3) (c) by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

Section 59 — Note 1 (contd.)

be illegal and void, as sub-section 1 expressly prohibits transfer of a permit except with the permission of the Transport Authority. 1957 Mad 620 (620) [AIR V 44 C 185] (DB).

[2] The mere purchase of a bus even with the good will of the business does not entitle the transferee to use the bus in accordance with the permit which covers it at the time of the sale. In order to enable the transferee to use the bus under the permit, the permit itself must be transferred to him with the consent of the Transport Authority. (155) ILR (1955) Madh B 211 (217) (DB).

[3] Where the transfer of a permit is in contravention of sub-sec. (1) of this section, the law continues to treat the transferor as the holder of a permit in spite of the transfer and hence the transferor will not be disentitled to an order under sub-sec. (2) read with rule 63 of the U. P. Motor Vehicles Rules granting him permission to replace the vehicle covered by the permit in question. Therefore, the fact that the transferor made his application for permission concealing the fact of the transfer cannot entitle the Transport Authority to refuse permission under the sub-section. 1960 All 247 (251, 252) [AIR V 47 C 58].

[4] Where at the time of amendment of a permit by replacement of vehicle the permit-holder concealed its partnership with a third person with regard to the replaced vehicle, it cannot be said that the permit-holder obtained a permit by fraud or misrepresentation within the meaning of S. 60 (1) (d) and therefore an order cancelling such permit under S. 60 (1) (d) by R. T. A. would be bad in law. 1960 All 435 (436) [AIR V 47 C 108] (DB)* 1960 All 247 (251, 252) [AIR V 47 C 58].

[5] The permit-holder cannot claim an extension of the period of his permit on the ground that it has been amended to give effect to the replacement of the vehicle in accordance with the provisions of sub-s. (2) of this section. An amendment under the sub-section does not bring into existence a new permit. 1960 All 435 (436) [AIR V 47 C 108] (DB).

[6] There is no inconsistency between sub-section (2) of this section and R. 75 of the Bengal Motor Vehicles Rules. That rule merely adds to or supplements the provisions of the sub-section. Hence the rule is not invalid as being ultra vires the powers of the rule-making authority under S. 68. (157) 81 Cal W N 590 (598).

[7] An order varying the conditions which attach to a permit generally under S. 59 is appealable under S. 64. 1957 Raj 312 (317) (S) [AIR V 44 C 116] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 806 (FB).

[59A. General form of permits.

Every permit other than a temporary permit issued under section 62 shall consist of two parts, Part A of which shall be complete in itself and shall contain all the necessary particulars of the permit and the conditions attached thereto, and Part B of which shall be a summary of the permit containing such particulars as may be prescribed; and where a permit covers more than one vehicle, there shall be issued to the holder of the permit as many copies of Part B as there are vehicles authorised by the permit to be in operation at any one time.]

[a] Inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 53 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"At present, the form of permits is left to be regulated by rules made by the State Governments. In order to ensure uniformity, it is desirable to lay down a general provision for the guidance of the States in this matter. It has, therefore, been proposed that every regular permit shall consist of two parts, part 'A' being the complete document in respect of the vehicles for which a permit is sought and part 'B' being a summary for display on each vehicle."

—S. O. R.

60. Cancellation and suspension of permits.

(1) The transport authority which granted a permit may cancel the permit or may suspend it for such period as it thinks fit—

- (a) on the breach of any condition specified in sub-section (3) of section 59, or of any condition contained in the permit; or
- (b) if the holder of the permit uses or causes or allows a vehicle to be used in any manner not authorised by the permit, or
- (c) if the holder of the permit ceases to [own] the vehicle or vehicles covered by the permit, or

SECTION 60 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.
2. Authority granting permit can alone suspend or cancel it.
3. Cancellation of permits.
4. Opportunity to explain.
5. Suspension of permits.
6. Compounding contraventions.
7. Order under section can be delivered orally.

1. Scope.—[1] Section 60 and S. 123 are designed for different purposes and there is no conflict between them. It is always open to the authorities to take departmental action under S. 60 for a contravention of conditions of a permit or to prosecute the permit-holder under S. 123. ('57) 1957-2 Andh W R 296 (298) + 1955 Andh 277 (278) [A I R V 42 C 99] (DB).

[2] Action under the section against a permit-holder for the contravention of the conditions of the permit involves only the exercise of departmental control and not a punishment for an offence. Therefore the permit holder cannot claim the benefits of the exception provided under S. 94 of the Penal Code against such action. ('57) 1957-2 Andh W R 296 (298).

2. Authority granting permit can alone suspend or cancel it.—[1] In the case of a permit granted by the appellate authority in appeal under S. 64 the Regional Transport Authority from whose order the appeal was filed is competent to cancel the permit under sub-section (1), when necessity arises for it.

1957 Raj 114 (115) [A I R V 44 C 45] : ILR (1956) 8 Raj 1057 (DB).

[2] There is no real basis for holding that S. 60 is a special provision and that R. 134-A (xi) should be construed as a general provision regulating the jurisdiction to cancel or suspend permits. S. 60 of the Act is the only provision in the Act itself, which provides for the exercise of the power to suspend or cancel a permit. It is that power that can be delegated under S. 44 (5) of the Act. It is that power that can be delegated to the Regional Transport Officer under R. 134-A (xi). If the delegation is valid, it is that power, subject to the conditions and limitations imposed by rule 134-A (xi), that vests in the Regional Transport Officer, and that vesting is valid. 1957 Mad 387 (391, 392) [(S) A I R V 44 C 118] : ILR (1957) Mad 461 + 1958 Ker 109. (110) [A I R V 45 C 43] : ILR (1958) Ker 59 (DB).

[But see 1957 Andh Pra 1027 (1031) [(S) A I R V 44 C 332] : ILR (1957) Andh Pra 643 (FB) + 1956 Andh 232 (234) [A I R V 43 C 65] (DB). (This case must be taken to have been implicitly overruled on another point in A I R 1957 S C 489.)]

[3] The Assam State Road Transport Act, 1954 having received the sanction of the President before it was put into operation, the provisions of Ss. 13 & 14 which empowered the State Government to cancel the permit notwithstanding the provisions of S. 60 are valid. 1957 Assam 139 (142) [(S) A I R V 44 C 35] : ILR (1957) 9 Assam 479 (DB).

3. Cancellation of permits.—[1] The R. T. A has no power under the law to cancel the permits granted by it except in accord-

- (d) if the holder of the permit has obtained the permit by fraud or misrepresentation ; <sup>b</sup>[or]
<sup>b</sup>[(e) if the holder of the permit, not being a private carrier's permit, fails without reasonable cause to use the vehicle or vehicles for the purposes for which the permit was granted ; or
 (f) if the holder of the permit acquires the citizenship of any foreign country :]

Provided that no permit shall be cancelled unless an opportunity has been given to the holder of the permit to <sup>c</sup>[furnish] his explanation.

<sup>b</sup>[(1A) The transport authority which granted a permit may, after giving the holder thereof an opportunity to furnish his explanation, reduce either permanently or for such period as it thinks fit, the number of vehicles or the route or area covered by the permit on any of the grounds mentioned in sub-section (1).]

(2) Where a transport authority cancels or suspends a permit <sup>b</sup>[or reduces the number of vehicles or the routes or area covered by a permit], it shall give to the holder in writing its reasons for <sup>d</sup>[the action taken].

<sup>b</sup>[(3) Where a permit is liable to be cancelled or suspended under clause (a) or clause (b) or clause (e) of sub-section (1) and the transport authority is of opinion that having regard to the circumstances of the case, it would not be necessary or expedient so to cancel or suspend the permit if the holder of the permit agrees to pay a certain sum of money, then, notwithstanding anything ance with this section. Where the conditions specified by the section do not exist it cannot compel the operators to surrender their permits. 1955 Raj 14 (16) [AIR V 42 C 8] : I L R (1955) 5 Raj 127 (DB).

[2] Section 60 will apply and its conditions must be complied with only where a valid permit has to be cancelled. A permit which was void ab initio can be treated by the R. T. B. as invalid and of no value and no question of compliance with S. 60 can arise at all in such a case. 1954 Trav-Co 140 (141) [AIR V 41 C 49] (DB).

[3] There is no cancellation of a permit under S. 60 where the permit-holder is asked to surrender the permit on the appellate authority setting aside the order by which it had been granted. 1957 Cal 638 (645) [(S) AIR V 44 C 165] : ILR (1958) 1 Cal 486.

[4] Where a temporary permit to ply a bus during the pendency of appeal was granted to one of the applicants and the appellate authority decided in favour of another and granted him a permit, the provisions of S. 60 are not attracted. 1959 Assam 171 (172) [AIR V 46 C 37] (DB).

[5] The transport authority suspending a permit for the breach of a condition would not thereby be prevented from subsequently cancelling the permit where in the light of the subsequent events it feels that an order more drastic in character is called for. 1957 Ker 35 (36, 37) [AIR V 44 C 22].

[6] The fact that a prosecution is pending against a permit-holder on the allegation of his having contravened a condition of his permit cannot warrant the R. T. A. to draw an inference adverse to him and cancel his permit for the breach of that condition. 1958 All 30 (31) [AIR V 45 C 10].

[7] A permit can be cancelled even though a condition of the permit is broken by the conductor or other agent of the owner with or without his knowledge or even contrary to his instructions. 1957 Andh Pra 882 (885) [AIR V 44 C 271] : I L R (1956) Andh 591 (DB) * 1956 Mad 678 (679) [AIR V 43 C 214] : ILR (1957) Mad 732. (Breach of condition against overloading.)

[See ('59) 1959-2 Andh W R 407 (411) (DB). (Suit for partition of joint family property—Defendant claiming certain buses standing in his name to be his individual property—Court appointing him as receiver because he was the permit-holder—Appointment objected to as wrong on the ground that he was only the representative of the joint family and his holding of permits had nothing to do with ownership—Held, objection was not convincing because the Motor Vehicles Act envisaged granting of permits only to the owner and holding him responsible as the permit-holder for any violation of the conditions of the permit.)]

[8] The R. T. A. can validly cancel a permit when it is proved to its satisfaction that the condition against overloading had been contravened. The manner in which it obtained information regarding the contravention of a condition does not affect its jurisdiction to deal with the matter. 1956 Mad 678 (678) [AIR V 43 C 214] : ILR (1957) Mad 732.

[9] A permit can be cancelled for fraud under this section even though the fraud had been practised only on agent of the Transport Authority or its office or subordinate and not directly on the authority itself. 1957 Raj 167 (168, 169, 170) [AIR V 44 C 66] : I L R (1956) 6 Raj 445 (DB).

[10] The failure to disclose that the vehicle for which permit is sought is the subject-matter of a partnership between the applicant and a third party does not amount to a fraud contained in sub-section (1), the transport authority may, instead of cancelling or suspending the permit, as the case may be, recover from the holder of the permit the sum of money agreed upon.]

[a] Substituted for "possess", by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 54 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid. [c] Substituted for "submit," ibid. [d] Substituted for "revocation or suspension", ibid.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in 1956. — "At present, when a permit-holder fails to use the vehicle for the purpose for which the permit was granted, his permit cannot be cancelled under section 60. The amendment in sub-section (1) makes the necessary provision and also confer on the Transport Authority the power of cancelling a permit if the permit-holder acquires citizenship of any foreign country. The amendment [by insertion of sub-section (1A)] will enable the Transport Authority to impose the lesser penalty of reducing the number of vehicles or routes covered by a permit for breach of any of its conditions, instead of cancelling it . . . . The amendment [by insertion of sub-section (3)] authorises a Transport Authority to compound the penalty of cancellation or suspension of permit under sub-section (1) of section 60 against a cash penalty, if the holder of the permit agrees to such a course."

—S. O. R.

SECTION 60A PUNJAB

STATE AMENDMENT

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Punjab, excluding the transferred territories, after section 60 insert the following section, namely,—

"60A. Power to cancel permits held by evacuees. — The Transport Authority which granted a permit or the State Transport Authority may cancel the permit if the holder of the permit or, if the permit is held jointly or by a company or any other association of individuals, any such joint holders or members of the association or share-holders in the company, as the case may be, leaves, or has since the 1st day of March 1947, left, the State of Punjab for a place outside India, on account of civil disturbances, or the fear of such disturbances or the partition of the country."—E. P. Act XXVIII of 1948, S. 9 [12-7-1948].

Section 60 — Note 3 (contd.)

or misrepresentation in the obtaining of the permit within the meaning of sub-s. (1) (d). Hence the permit cannot be cancelled on the ground of such non-disclosure. 1960 All 435 (436) [AIR V 47 C 108] (DB). (Affirming AIR 1960 All 247.)

[11] The fact that there are people who may be needy and who when compared with some of the applicants for the permit may be preferable, by itself is no ground for cancelling the permit granted to some of the applicants by the Regional Transport Authority. 1960 Assam 100 (107) [AIR V 47 C 28] (DB).

[12] The High Court in writ proceeding will not go into the sufficiency of the evidence supporting an order cancelling a permit which had also been confirmed by the appellate authority. 1955 N U C (All) 2743 [AIR V 42.]

[13] The proper remedy of an unsuccessful applicant seeking the cancellation of a permit granted to another on the ground that he had obtained it by misrepresentation is by way of an application to be made to the R. T. A. under S. 60. The High Court will not issue a writ under Art. 226 to quash the order granting that permit. 1959 Madh Pra 320 (321) [AIR V 46 C 107] (DB).

[14] A finding that a permit was obtained by fraud and misrepresentation amounts to an error of law apparent on the face of the record where it is not only unsupported by any evidence but it is also contrary to such evidence as there is. Hence the order of the R. T. A. cancelling the permit on the basis of that finding can be quashed by a writ of certiorari. 1953 All 641 (643) [AIR V 40 C 319] : ILR (1954) 2 All 402 (DB).

4 Opportunity to explain.—[1] Section 60 does not require that the authorities concerned should record any evidence. All that the proviso to sub-s (1) of S 60 requires is that, before a permit is cancelled, the holder of the permit should be given an opportunity to furnish his explanation. The person proceeded against has no right to insist that his witnesses should be examined when he is being proceeded against for a transgression of any of the matters enumerated in sub-s (1) of S 60, he has much less reason to complain when he neither produces nor offers to produce his witness. 1959 Mad 531 (532) [AIR V 46 C 170] : ILR (1959) Mad 901 : 1959 Cri L Jour 1443

[2] The S. T. A. remanding a case to the R. T. A. and further directing for the order of the R. T. A. curtailing the route to be kept in abeyance till the reconsideration of the case by the R. T. A. has jurisdiction also to direct the permit-holder to continue to ply the buses on the original route as mentioned in the permit until the reconsideration of the case by the R. T. A. It is true that the direction may involve him in proceedings under S 60 if he does not comply with it but on that ground it cannot be said that it has prejudiced him. If any such proceedings are started against him then he is entitled under the proviso to sub-s (1) to submit his explanation in such proceedings before the R. T. A. 1956 Raj 125 (126) [(5) AIR V 43 C 38] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 86 (DB)

[3] Proviso to S 60 (1) cannot apply where the permits are not cancelled but only suspended. 1957 Trav-Co 141 (144) [AIR V 44 C 44] : ILR (1956) Trav-Co 1293 (DB).

Section 60 (contd.)

5. Suspension of permits. — [1] The power to suspend a permit for the breach of a condition specified in the permit does not depend upon the compliance or non-compliance with administrative instruction issued by the Government under S. 43A added to this Act by the Madras Act 20 of 1948. Such Instructions cannot override the discretionary power conferred upon the authority by S. 60. 1957 Andh Pra 882 (886) [A I R V 44 C 271] : I L R (1956) Andh 591 (DB). (Hence the non-compliance with G. O. No. 2771 dated 31-7-52 issued by the Andhra Government prescribing the manner of checking a bus for overloading does not invalidate the order of the R. T. A. suspending a permit when overloading had been established aliunde by other unimpeachable evidence.)

[2] The R. T. A. can validly suspend a permit on being satisfied that the condition against overloading had been contravened. Its jurisdiction to deal with the matter will not in any way be affected by the manner in which it obtained information of the contravention. 1956 Mad 678 (678) [A I R V 43 C 214] * 1957 Trav-Co 141 (145) [A I R V 44 C 44] : ILR (1956) Trav-Co 1293 (DB).

[3] Where there is a permit for a stage carriage to ply only on a particular route and the owner of the carriage uses it for a trip on another route, it is a breach of the condition of the permit and the Regional Transport Authority has power to suspend the permit under S. 60 (1). 1955 Andh 277 (278) [A I R V 42 C 99] (DB).

[4] The permit of a transport vehicle cannot be suspended under sub-s. (1) (a) or (b) for not holding a certificate of fitness as required under S. 38 when the vehicle was checked. 1959 All 489 (491, 492) [A I R V 46 C 125].

[5] There being no duty imposed by S. 48 and Rule 81 of U. P. Motor Vehicles Rules upon a permit-holder not to carry passengers free of charge, the fact that the permit-holder carried his employees without any charge and without issuing tickets to them would not amount to violation of S. 48 and R. 81. The permit cannot be suspended on this ground. 1958 All 575 (577) [A I R V 45 C 144] : 1958 Cri L Jour 984 (DB).

[6] When carriage of mails has been made a condition of permit in accordance with R. 57A of C. P. and Berar Motor Vehicles Rules, the liability of the permit-holder to carry the mails does not arise till the rates and conditions are fixed by the R. T. A. Therefore unless the rates are fixed the refusal by the permit-holder to carry mails would not justify suspension of permit. (53) I L R (1953) Nag 461 (465) (DB).

[7] Permit cannot be suspended merely because permit-holders are a partnership firm and partners have fallen out amongst themselves. 1955 N U C (Cal) 2885 [A I R V 42].

[8] Where the Criminal Court discharges or acquits the permit-holder of an offence on the ground that he did not commit it the Regional Transport Authority cannot ignore those findings and suspend the permit for that very same offence. 1952 Mad 853 (855) [A I R

V 39] : ILR (1952) Mad 632 : 1953 Cri L Jour 8 (DB).

[9] The acquittal of the conductor of a bus from a charge of overloading, not on merits but on technical grounds, will not stand in the way of the Transport Authority suspending the permit where it is satisfied that there had been such overloading. 1955 Mad 176 (176) [(S) A I R V 42 C 44] : I L R (1955) Mad 1035 : 1955 Cri L Jour 356 (DB).

[10] An order of the R. T. A. suspending a permit on the ground that the permit-holder has contravened two of its conditions cannot be sustained where it is found that in respect of one of the conditions there was no such contravention at all. 1958 All 575 (578) [A I R V 45 C 144] : 1958 Cri L Jour 984 (DB).

[11] A suspension order which is stayed during the pendency of the appeal can be given effect to after the disposal of the appeal, subject to the decision therein. It does not become infructuous and unenforceable because of the expiry of the date fixed in the order for the commencement of the punishment before the decision in the appeal and the failure of the appellate order to contain any fresh direction as to the date of such commencement. The effect of the stay is to vacate from the order of suspension the direction relating to the date and the dismissal of the appeal leaves the punishment without any direction as to the date of its commencement. 1958 Ker 109 (110) [A I R V 45 C 43] : I L R (1958) Ker 59 (DB) * 1957 Ker 142 (143) [A I R V 44 C 76]. (Stay of suspension order pending appeal — High Court will not restrain by a writ of prohibition the transport authority from giving effect to order of suspension after removal of stay.)

[12] Section 60 confers on the Transport Authority a duty to exercise its discretion in cancelling or suspending a permit, having regard to the facts of each case. If the Authority suspends a permit and it cannot be said that in doing so they had not discharged their duty or had acted without jurisdiction or unreasonably, the High Court will not interfere with that order in a writ petition merely because it is of the view that a mere warning would have sufficed in the case. The Court will interfere only if the discretion had been exercised mala fide or capriciously or by taking into consideration extraneous circumstances. 1957 Andh Pra 882 (885) [A I R V 44 C 271] : ILR (1956) Andh 591 (DB).

[13] Where the R. T. A. rejected the statements made before it by certain respectable witnesses without giving any reasons for the rejection and without even recording those statements and suspended a permit for overloading relying on the police report it was held that the R. T. A. erred in giving its judgment relying on that report alone and therefore its order should be quashed by a writ of certiorari. 1957 And Pra 608 (609) [A I R V 44 C 202].

6. Compounding contraventions. —

[1] Rule 84 of the Assam Motor Vehicles Rules permits the Transport Authorities to allow a permit-holder to retain his permit, which has

61. Transfer of permit on death of holder.

(1) Where the holder of a permit dies, the person succeeding to the possession of the vehicles covered by the permit may, for a period of three months, use the permit as if it had been granted to himself :

Provided that such person has, within thirty days of the death of the holder, informed the transport authority which granted the permit of the death of the holder and of his own intention to use the permit :

Provided further that no permit shall be so used after the date on which it would have ceased to be effective without renewal in the hands of the deceased holder.

(2) The transport authority may, on application made to it within three months of the death of the holder of a permit, transfer the permit to the person succeeding to the possession of the vehicles covered by the permit.

SECTION 61A*STATE AMENDMENT*BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, after section 61 insert the following section, namely,—

"61A. Transfer of permit to a joint stock company.—Notwithstanding anything contained in section 59 or 61, the holder of a permit may, without the permission of any transport authority, transfer his permit to a joint stock company referred to in subsection (1) of section 66A."

—Bih. Act XXVII of 1950, S. 11 [21-7-1950].

62. Temporary permits.

*[* * *] A Regional Transport Authority may [* * *] without following the procedure laid down in section 57, grant permits, to be effective for a limited period not in any case to exceed four months, to authorise the use of a transport vehicle temporarily—

(a) for the conveyance of passengers on special occasions such as to and from fairs and religious gatherings, or

(b) for the purposes of a seasonal business, or

(c) to meet a particular temporary need, "or]

*[(d) pending decision on an application for the renewal of a permit,] and may attach to any such permit any condition it thinks fit :

Section 60 — Note 6 (contd.)

become liable to cancellation or suspension under Cl. (b), on the payment of the composition fee assessed by them. So long as a party does not challenge that rule as ultra vires, he cannot object to the imposition of fine as composition fee and claim that the violation of the rules or conditions can be dealt with only by a prosecution launched under chapter 9 of the Act. 1954 Assam 155 (156) : [AIR V 41 C 47] : 1954 Cri L Jour 1180 (DB).

7. Order under section can be delivered orally. — [1] There is nothing in the Motor Vehicles Act or the rules framed thereunder making provision for the delivery of the appellate orders. All that S. 60 (2) requires is that the Transport Authority which cancels or suspends a permit shall give to the holder in writing its reasons for doing so. Neither R. 73 nor S. 60 (2) prohibits the Appellate Authority from delivering the order orally and recording the reasons subsequently. 1958 Madh Pra 9 (10) [A I R V 45 C 8] * 1957 Nag 102 (104) [AIR V 44 C 37].

Section 61 — Note 1

[1] A mere application for permit confers no right on the applicant which is either heritable or transferable. 1957 All 471 (472) [AIR V 44 C 148]. (Applicant dying pending his appeal against the refusal of permit to him. Son has no claim for being substituted in the appeal.)

SECTION 62—SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.
2. Temporary need.
3. Successive grants of temporary permits.
4. Proviso (1).
5. Remedies of person aggrieved by the grant of permit.

1. Scope.—[1] The power of issuing permits under S. 62 is not an uncontrolled or unrestricted one. Inasmuch as the section has excluded the applicability of S. 57 only and not of Ss. 55 and 56 the power is intended by the legislature to be used on the basis indicated by those two sections. 1959 Punj 1 (8) [AIR V 46 C 1] : ILR (1958) Punj 1590 (FB).

[2] It is open to the R. T. A. to grant a temporary permit only for one of the reasons enumerated in the section and practice of granting them for reasons other than the specified ones is clearly irregular. 1951 All 257 (288) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All

[Provided that a temporary permit under this section shall, in no case, be granted in respect of any route or area specified in an application for the grant of a new permit under section 46 or section 54 during the pendency of the application :

Provided further that a temporary permit under this section shall, in no case, be granted more than once in respect of any route or area specified in an application for the renewal of a permit during the pendency of such application for renewal.]

d[* * * * *].
[a] The brackets and figure "(1)" were omitted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1942 (XX of 1942), S. 14 [3-4-1942]. [b] The words "at its discretion, and" were omitted, ibid, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 55 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957]. [c] Inserted, ibid. [d] Sub-section (2) was omitted by Act XX of 1942, S. 14 [3-4-1942].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in 1956.—The new sub-clause (d) provides that a temporary permit may also be granted pending the decision on an application for the renewal of a permit, which is sometimes subject to delay. The Provisos added to the section will have the effect of overriding the amendments made by the State Governments to section 62 of the Act.

—S. O. R.

STATE AMENDMENTS

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL.—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the Madhya Pradesh, in section 62 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority on the issue of a direction under the Proviso to section 45".

—C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 7 [16-1-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, in section 62 after the words "Regional Transport Authority" insert the words "or the State Transport Authority".

—Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 12 [23-3-1947].

VIDARBHA.—The amendment made in section 62 by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

Section 62 — Note 1 (contd.)

269 (FB)* 1959 Mys 226 (227) [A I R V 46 C 90] : ILR (1958) Mys 895* 1948 Mad 400 (402) [AIR V 35 C 197] (DB).

[3] A temporary permit granted by the authority, without applying its mind to the question whether one or the other of the circumstances mentioned in the section is present, on an application which is not in the prescribed form, and which also does not state any reason for the grant of the permit, cannot be sustained. 1959 Mys 226 (227) [AIR V 46 C 90] : ILR (1958) Mys 895.

[4] A disregard of the provisions of S. 57 can be justified under S. 62 only where the application itself had been made for the grant of a temporary permit. If the application is not for such a permit the authority cannot invoke S. 62 to avoid the procedure laid down in S. 57 even for granting a temporary permit on that application. 1959 Tripura 35 (37) [AIR V 46 C 14]* 1948 Mad 400 (408) [A I R V 35 C 197] (DB). (Applications for renewal summarily refused without following the procedure under S. 57 and temporary permits granted to applicant — Held the procedure adopted was wrongful and illegal.)

[5] The fact that the permits granted under S. 62 will be effective for a limited period cannot mean that they are not permits as defined in S. 2 (20). The section does not provide for any new kind of permits which have not been provided for in the previous sections. Hence the State Transport Commissioner who has been authorised to exercise the powers of a R. T. A. and grant public carriers' permits can issue such permits permanently as well as for a temporary period. 1959 Punj 1 (7) [AIR V 46 C 1] : ILR (1958) Punj 1590 (FB).

[6] When the R. T. A. invites applications specifically for the issue of temporary permits under S. 62 of the Act, there is no obligation upon it to treat any application as an application under S. 58 of the Act. 1953 Assam 74 (76) [AIR V 40 C 31] : ILR (1952) 4 Assam 9 (DB).

2. Temporary need. — [1] Temporary need, contemplated by sub-s. (c) of S. 62 cannot be that of the owner to whom the stage carriage permit has been granted or of bus owners similarly situated, but of the travelling public. 1957 Trav-Co 255 (256) [AIR V 44 C 96]* 1954 Raj 33 (34) [AIR V 41 C 14] : ILR (1953) 3 Raj 215 (DB). (The demand of the bus owners to ply more of their buses is not a demand of the public and hence cannot come under the scope of S. 62.)* 1948 Mad 400 (408) [AIR V 35 C 197] (DB). (Case decided before the amendment of section—Nationalisation of bus transport — Government unable to secure buses immediately directing the summary refusal of applications for renewals and issue of temporary permits — Issue of temporary permits was held to be solely in the interest of the Government inasmuch as it was done to avoid public criticism which would otherwise have emanated due to the absence of transport facilities.)

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, the amendment made in section 62 is the same as that made in Maharashtra. —W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 13 (i) [13-7-1951].

Note.—The following are the additional amendments made in section 62 by the State Governments. It seems that the Provisos added to the section by the Central Act C of 1956 have the effect of overriding these amendments (see the extract reproduced above from the Statement of Objects and Reasons). These amendments are, however, given for information.

ANDHRA PRADESH

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, after clause (c) of section 62 add the following, namely,—

"or

- (d) in such circumstances as may, in the opinion of such Authority, justify the grants of such permits," —Mad. Act XX of 1948, S. 11 [21-12-1948].

BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, the amendment made in section 62 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh. —Bih. Act XXVII of 1950, S. 12 [21-7-1950].

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL.—In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the State of Madhya Pradesh, after clause (c) of section 62 add the following, namely,—

"or

- (d) pending decision on an application for the grant or renewal of a permit," —C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948, S. 11 [16-1-1948].

MADRAS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, excluding the transferred territories, the amendment made in section 62 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

—Mad Act XX of 1948, S. 11 [21-12-1948].

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay and Vidarbha areas of the State of Maharashtra the amendment made in section 62 is the same as the one given under Madhya Pradesh.

—Bom. Act VII of 1947, S. 12 [23-3-1947].

PUNJAB

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Punjab, excluding the transferred territories, the amendment made in section 62 is the same as the one given under Andhra Pradesh.

—E. P. Act XXVIII of 1948, S. 10 [12-7-1948].

WEST BENGAL

In its application to the State of West Bengal, the amendment made in section 62 is the same as the one given under Madhya Pradesh.

—W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 13 (ii) [13-7-1951].

Section 62 — Note 2 (contd.)

[2] 'A temporary need' to fall within clause (c) must be 'a particular need.' 1952 Nag 353 (355) [AIR V 39]; ILR (1953) Nag 110.

[3] A shortage in the necessary number of vehicles on a route can create a temporary need until a regular permit could be granted by the R. T. A. after going through the procedure laid down under S. 57. In such a case the R. T. A. can provide for the temporary need by granting temporary permits. (1957) ILR (1957) 7 Raj 727 (734)* 1957 Raj 162 (163) [AIR V 44 C 63]; ILR (1958) 6 Raj 1053 (DB). (Shortage in vehicles plying on a route due to cancellation of permanent permit—R. T. A. can grant temporary permits successively till a regular permit can be granted after observing necessary formalities—But that power can be exercised only for that purpose and not to avoid a compliance with the provisions of S. 57—AIR 1954 Raj 33 and AIR 1954 Raj 78, Explained and Hel. on.)

[See also 1954 Raj 33 (34) [AIR V 41 C 14]; I L R (1953) 3 Raj 215 (DB). (There may be a shortage in the number of buses plying on a route but it cannot be said that the R. T. A. had acted on the existence of that circumstance unless it had applied its mind to that in granting temporary permit.)]

[4] When it is really a permanent need to have a permanent bus service on a particular route, the grant of temporary permit is without jurisdiction, more so, when no application for renewal of a permit is pending. 1959 Mys 114 (115) [AIR V 48 C 45] (DB).

[5] Where the need for the issue of permanent permit for plying motor service on the route was admitted, issue of a temporary permit until the issue of permanent permit and the finalisation of the scheme under Chap. IV-A, does not amount to issue of a temporary permit 'to meet a particular temporary need' within the meaning of cl. (c) of S. 62 and is therefore illegal. 1958 Ker 144 (146) [AIR V 45 C 56]; ILR (1958) Ker 381 (DB).

[See also 1948 Mad 400 (408) [AIR V 35 C 197] (DB). (Application for renewal of permits—Government intending to ply its own buses for hire granting temporary permit to applicant until such time when it could secure buses—Held the grant of the temporary permit was improper if having been done solely for the benefit of the Government.)]

Section 62 — Note 2 (contd.)

[But see 1953 Assam 74 (76) [AIR V 40 C 31] : ILR (1952) 4 Assam 9 (DB). (Temporary permits can be granted pending nationalisation of the Motor Transport which is delayed by inability of the Government to provide immediately transport. Such a situation can amount to a "temporary need" under cl. (c).)]

[6] When the additional passenger buses are to regularly ply on certain routes, it can rightly be inferred that the need proved to the satisfaction of the Transport Authority is of a permanent nature and not a temporary one. An order of the trial Court for the issue of temporary permits only in such a case would be in direct contravention of S. 62 and will be liable to be set aside. 1956 Bhopal 49 (52) [AIR V 43 C 26] * 1954 Raj 33 (34) [AIR V 41 C 14] : ILR (1953) 3 Raj 215 (DB). (The fact there is more traffic on the routes than could be met by the stage carriages of existing permit-holders cannot be said to be temporary in its character.)

[7] A permanent need cannot become a temporary one within the meaning of S. 62 merely because an order granting a permit has been set aside or its operation stayed in other proceedings. 1960 Ker 239 (240) [AIR V 47 C 116] * (58) 1958 Ker L T 1034 (1035) * 1957 Trav-Co 255 (256) [AIR V 44 C 96].

3. Successive grants of temporary permits.—[1] The section authorises the grant of temporary permit co-terminous with the temporary need and not extending beyond the cessation or satisfaction of that need. 1957 Trav-Co 288 (289) [AIR V 44 C 115].

[2] A temporary need may be of a duration of four months or less or even of a duration longer than four months. 1957 Ker 13 (14) [AIR V 44 C 7].

[3] Temporary permits can be issued one after another so long as the temporary need persists and provided they are not issued for more than four months on each time. The fact that the total period of the two permits so issued exceed four months does not invalidate the second permit. 1957 Raj 162 (163) [AIR V 44 C 63] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 1053 (DB). (The words "in any case" mean "at any one time" and not "in any circumstances.") * 1957 Ker 13 (14) [AIR V 44 C 7].

[4] An order granting a temporary permit for an indefinite period is not legal. 1957 Raj 162 (163) [AIR V 44 C 63] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 1053 (DB).

4. Proviso (1).—[1] The main object of the first proviso to S. 62 is to prevent nepotism and undue favour to one of the applicants to the disadvantage of other applicants. Hence the restriction contained in it cannot be regarded as unreasonable. 1959 Pat 248 (249) [AIR V 46 C 66] : 38 Pat 281.

[2] The provisions of the first proviso to section 62 are mandatory, and the Regional Transport Authority has no power to grant temporary permits in any case during the pendency of the application for the grant of new permits under S. 46 or S. 54. 1959 Pat 248 (249) [AIR V 46 C 66] : 38 Pat 281.

[3] For the applicability of Proviso to S. 62, it must be established that the applications for the grant of new permits under S. 46 were pending at the time the temporary permits were granted. 1958 Ker 140 (141) [AIR V 45 C 54].

[4] Pendency is the state or condition of being undecided and the pendency of the applications should end with their determination by the Regional Transport Authority. The words 'during the pendency of the application' in proviso to S. 62 cannot include any period of time subsequent to the disposal of the application by the Regional Transport Authority. 1958 Ker 140 (142) [AIR V 45 C 54].

[5] For the applicability of the proviso to S. 62, the application should be pending before the R. T. A., and not in appeal before the Appellate Authority. Therefore, where the R. T. A. is satisfied that there should be additional facilities for the convenience of the public during the disposal of the appeal before the State Transport Appellate Tribunal against the order of the R. T. A., granting permanent permit, the grant of temporary permit by R. T. A., under S. 62 (d) during that period is justified. 1959 Ker 398 (400) [AIR V 46 C 143].

63. Validation of permits for use outside region in which granted.

(1) Except as may be otherwise prescribed, a permit granted by the Regional Transport Authority of any one region shall not be valid in any other region, unless the permit has been countersigned by the Regional Transport Authority of that other region, and a permit granted in any one State shall not be valid in any other State unless countersigned by the State Transport Authority of that other State or by the Regional Transport Authority concerned :

*[Provided that a private carrier's permit, granted by the Regional Transport Authority of any one region with the approval of the State Transport Authority, for any area in any other region or regions within the same State shall be valid in that area without the counter-signature of the Regional Transport Authority of the other region or of each of the other regions concerned.]

(2) A Regional Transport Authority when countersigning the permit may attach to the permit any condition which it might have imposed if it had granted the permit, and may likewise vary any condition attached to the permit by the Authority by which the permit was granted.

(3) The provisions of this Chapter relating to the grant, revocation and suspension of permits shall apply to the grant, revocation and suspension of counter-signatures of permits:

*[Provided that it shall not be necessary to follow the procedure laid down in section 57 for the grant of counter-signatures of permits, where the permits granted in any one State are required to be counter-signed by the State Transport Authority of another State or by the Regional Transport Authority concerned as a result of any agreement arrived at between the States.]

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), a Regional Transport Authority of one region may issue a temporary permit under a Court of appeal and interfere with the permit granted by the R. T. A.)

Section 63 — Note 1

[1] Section 63 does give power to the R.T.B. to grant permits for routes outside the State or to vary the conditions of an existing permit so as to permit the running of buses outside the State. 1960 Ker 18 (21) [AIR V 47 C 7].

[2] An inter-regional route can be established only in accordance with the provisions of S. 63 or by a decision of a joint conference held under the Bengal Motor Vehicles Rules. The appellate sub-committee of a State Transport Authority has no power to inaugurate or establish an inter-regional route either under the Act or under the Bengal Motor Vehicles Rules. 1957 Cal 188 (189) [AIR V 44 C 58]. (Hence an order of the sub-committee directing the Regional Transport Authorities to issue permits in an inter-regional route was set aside.)

[3] Under S. 63, the countersigning Regional Authority has jurisdiction to reduce the validity of the period of licence so far as his region is concerned. 1955 N U C (Raj) 5740 [AIR V 42].

[4] The law requires a Regional Transport Authority to consider each case upon its merits before he affixes his counter signature to a permit under this section. The counter-signatures are not to be made as a purely formal affair. 1960 All 228 (229) [AIR V 47 C 49].

[5] The system of counter-signatures of one

State on permits issued by another State could only work if the two States had already agreed to treat a particular route as a joint route and a part of the said route lay in one State and the other part lay in the other State. Hence a Regional Transport Authority is justified in refusing to counter-sign a permit where the route in question has not been made a joint route by agreement between the two States. 1960 Punj 181 (182) [AIR V 47 C 63].

[6] A permit granted by the Regional Transport Authority of one region and which has not been counter-signed by the Regional Transport Authority of another region in accordance with the requirements of this section is not a valid permit in the latter region. Therefore neither the increased fee under R. 55 of the U. P. Motor Vehicles Rules of 1940 can be required on that permit on the basis of its being an inter-regional permit nor the permit-holder compelled under R. 31A to pay such fee. 1960 All 228 (229, 230) [AIR V 47 C 49].

[7] Section 63 of the Motor Vehicles Act in terms applies to all Regional Transport Authorities without qualification and any person who is aggrieved by the refusal of a State Regional Transport Authority to countersign a permit under that section has got a right of appeal to the State Transport Appellate Tribunal under S. 64 of the Act. Where such a right of appeal exists, the State Transport Authority cannot entertain a revision under S. 64A of the Act in regard to a refusal of a Regional Transport Authority to countersign a permit. ('58) 1958-2 Mad L Jour 800 (804).

clause (a) or clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 62 to be valid in another region or State with the concurrence, given generally or for the particular occasion, of the Regional Transport Authority of that other region or of the State Transport Authority of that other State, as the case may be.

<sup>a</sup>[(5) A State Government may, by rules made under section 68, specify the conditions subject to which a document issued by a competent authority in the State of Jammu and Kashmir authorising the use of a motor vehicle as a transport vehicle may be deemed for the purposes of sub-section (1) to be a permit granted under this Chapter in the State.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), but subject to any rules that may be made under this Act, the Regional Transport Authority of any one region may, for the convenience of the public, grant a special permit in relation to a public service vehicle for carrying a passenger or passengers for hire or reward under a contract, express or implied, for the use of the vehicle as a whole without stopping to pick up or set down along the line of route passengers not included in the contract, and in every case where such special permit is granted, the Regional Transport Authority shall assign to the vehicle, for display thereon, a special distinguishing mark in the form and manner specified by the Central Government and such special permit shall be valid in any other region or State without the counter-signature of the Regional Transport Authority of the other region or of the State Transport Authority of the other State, as the case may be.]

[a] Inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 56 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Amendments made in 1956.—Sub-section (1), Proviso — “Under the existing provisions, the owner of a private carrier has to obtain a permit from a Regional Transport Authority if he plies the vehicles in another region. In States in which the administrative districts constitute regions for the purposes of the Act, this involves obtaining counter-signature even for moving from one district to another. This means a considerable restriction on the private carrier. The object of these provisions was to ensure road-rail co-ordination and the prevention of deterioration of road system. In principle, there is no great justification for denying to the private lorry owner the freedom that is enjoyed by the owner of a private motor car. It is, therefore, proposed to provide that a permit issued by a Regional Transport Authority, with the approval of the State Transport Authority, for a private carrier shall be valid throughout that State.” The Proviso to sub-section (1) makes the necessary provision.

Sub-section (3), Proviso—“Under the existing provisions, the procedure prescribed for the grant of a permit has to be gone through even for obtaining counter-signature of permits originally granted in a neighbouring State. This is unnecessary and hampers the free flow of inter-State traffic. Counter-signature of permits granted in a State as a result of reciprocal agreement arrived at between two States should be only a formality.” The proviso to sub-section (3) makes provision in this behalf.

Sub-section (5) — There is at present no provision in section 63 whereby permits issued by the Government of Jammu and Kashmir can be accepted as valid in India. [Sub-section (5)] makes such a provision and is mainly designed to facilitate reciprocal arrangements for regular services and/or occasional visits of buses used as contract carriages and motor cabs between places in India and the State of Jammu and Kashmir.”

Sub-section (6) — This sub-section “is intended for the convenience of the public, who wish to travel unhampered from one State to another.”

MADHYA PRADESH

MAHAKOSHAL — In its application to the Mahakoshal region of the Madhya Pradesh, after sub-section (4) of section 63 insert the following sub-section, namely,—

“(5) In regard to permits of the class and for the region specified in the notification issued under the Proviso to section 45, the powers conferred on a Regional Transport Authority by sub-sections (1) to (4) shall be exercised by the State Transport Authority to the exclusion of any Regional Transport Authority.”

MAHARASHTRA

VIDARBHA — The amendment made in section 63 by C. P. & Berar Act III of 1948 and given under Madhya Pradesh applies to the Vidarbha area of the State of Maharashtra.

*[63A. Inter-State Transport Commission.

(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, constitute an Inter-State Transport Commission consisting of a Chairman and such other members, not being less than two, as it thinks fit to appoint for the purpose of developing, co-ordinating and regulating the operation of transport vehicles in respect of any area or route common to two or more States (hereinafter referred to as inter-State region) and performing such other functions as may be prescribed under section 63C.

(2) The commission shall perform throughout an inter-State region all or such of the following functions as it may be authorised to do by the Central Government by notification in the Official Gazette, namely :—

- (a) to prepare schemes for the development, co-ordination or regulation of the operation of transport vehicles and in particular of goods vehicles in an inter-State region;
- (b) to settle all disputes and decide all matters on which differences of opinion arise in connection with the development, co-ordination or regulation of the operation of transport vehicles in an inter-State region;
- (c) to issue directions to the State Transport Authorities or Regional Transport Authorities interested regarding the grant, revocation and suspension of permits and of counter-signatures of permits for the operation of transport vehicles in respect of any route or area common to two or more States;
- (d) to grant, revoke or suspend any permit or countersign any permit for the operation of any transport vehicle in respect of such route or area common to two or more States as may be specified in this behalf by the Central Government;
- (e) to perform such other functions as may be prescribed by the Central Government under section 63C.

(3) For the purpose of assisting the Commission in the performance of its functions in relation to any area or route common to two or more States, the Commission shall associate with itself for such purposes as may be determined by rules made under section 63C, a representative of each of the Governments interested, who shall be chosen by the Government concerned; and a person so associated shall have the right to take part in the discussions relevant to that purpose, but shall not have a right to vote at a meeting of the Commission and shall not be a member of the Commission for any other purpose.

(4) Where the Commission, in the exercise and discharge of its powers and functions under clause (c) of sub-section (2), issues directions to any State Transport Authority or Regional Transport Authority interested, the State Transport Authority or the Regional Transport Authority, as the case may be, shall give effect to, and be guided by, such directions.

(5) Where, by a notification issued by the Central Government, the Commission is authorised to perform the functions specified in clause (d) of sub-section (2) in respect of any route or area common to two or more States, then, on the issue of such a notification—

- (a) the Regional Transport Authorities or State Transport Authorities interested shall cease to exercise and discharge any powers and functions in respect of such route or area;
- (b) the powers and functions of the Regional Transport Authorities and State Transport Authorities interested in respect of such route or area shall be exercised and discharged by the Commission; and any permit granted or countersigned by the Commission for any such route or area shall be valid for that route or area, notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter;

- (c) subject to any rules that may be made under section 63C, the provisions of this Chapter relating to the grant, revocation and suspension of permits and of counter-signatures of permits by a State Transport Authority or Regional Transport Authority shall, as far as may be, apply to the grant, revocation and suspension of permits and of counter-signatures of permits by the Commission;
- (d) any permit granted in respect of any such route or area before the issue of the notification shall, notwithstanding such issue, continue to be effective for the period specified in the permit and shall be deemed to have been granted by the Commission under this section as if this section were in force on the day on which the permit was granted.
- (6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude the State Transport Authority or any Regional Transport Authority in a State from exercising and discharging its powers and functions in respect of any route or area in the inter-State region which lies wholly within that State.
- (7) For the purposes of this section the expression "Governments interested", "State Transport Authorities interested" or "Regional Transport Authorities interested", in relation to the Commission, means the Governments of such States, such State Transport Authorities or such Regional Transport Authorities, as the case may be, as are likely to be interested in, or affected by the functioning of the Commission under this section.]

[a] Sections 63-A, 63-B and 63-C were inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 57 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"At present there is no proper regulation of inter-State operation of transport vehicles. Section 63 provides that a permit granted in one State shall not be valid in another State unless counter-signed. Though some of the State Governments have entered into mutual agreements permitting the operation of a specified number of vehicles on inter-State routes, there are several routes relating to which no agreement exists. On many of such inter-State routes, passengers and goods have to be transferred to other vehicles at inter-State borders. The negotiation for inter-State agreements in this matter have been of a prolonged character and, in many cases, inconclusive. In the public interest, it has become necessary to set up some agencies controlled by the Central Government to regulate the inter-State operation of transport vehicles . . ."

— S. O. R.

"The Committee consider that instead of two separate authorities, namely, the inter-State Transport Authority and the Central Transport Authority, there need be only one authority, namely, an Inter-State Transport Commission appointed by the Central Government for the purpose of developing, co-ordinating and regulating the operation of transport vehicles in respect of areas or routes common to two or more States. The Committee consider that such a Commission should be empowered to associate with itself representatives of the concerned State Governments as and when necessary. The Committee also feel that the Commission should be empowered to delegate its powers and functions to the Chairman or any member thereof."

— J. C. R.

*[63B. Delegation of powers, etc.

(1) The Commission may, by general or special order in writing, delegate to the Chairman or any other member, subject to such conditions and limitations, if any, as may be specified in the order, such of its powers and functions under sub-section (2) of section 63A as it may deem necessary for the efficient discharge of its functions.

(2) All orders, decisions and other instruments issued by the Commission shall be authenticated by the signature of the Chairman or any other member or any officer of the Commission authorised by the Commission in this behalf.]

*[63C. Power of Central Government to make rules.

The Central Government may make rules to provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the period of appointment and the terms of appointment of the members of the Commission, the manner of filling vacancies among members, the conduct of business by the Commission and the reports to be furnished by it ;

- (b) the powers and functions of the Commission ;
- (c) the purposes for which representatives of the State Governments may be associated with the Commission under sub-section (3) of section 63A ;
- (d) the form and manner in which an application for a permit or counter-signature of a permit may be made ;
- (e) the fees, if any, to be levied by the Commission ;
- (f) the procedure to be followed in considering an application for a permit or counter-signature of a permit ;
- (g) the grant of a permit and the counter-signature of a permit and the conditions which may be attached to a permit ;
- (h) the authority to which, the time within which and the manner in which, an appeal against the decision of the Commission may be preferred ;
- (i) any other matter which has to be, or may be, prescribed.]

64. Appeals.

Any person—

- (b) aggrieved by the revocation or suspension of the permit or by any variation of the conditions thereof, or

SECTION 64 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.
2. Revision of orders not appealable under section—Madras amendment.
3. Prescribed authority.
4. Appeals under cl. (a).
5. Appeals under cl. (b).
6. Appeals under cl. (c).
7. Appeals under cl. (f).
8. Opportunity of being heard.
9. Procedure in appeals.
10. Limitation.
11. Remedies against appellate orders.

1. Scope. — [1] It is not competent to the civil Court to determine whether the permits issued are good permits or not. That question can only be determined by the appellate tribunal, the prescribed authority mentioned in S. 64. 1945 Cal 260 (263, 264) [AIR V 32] : ILR (1944) 1 Cal 631 (DB).

[2] An order of the Regional Transport Authority refusing a permit cannot be challenged by a proceeding for a writ of certiorari under Art. 226. The proper remedy is an appeal under this section and therefore 'the application which is made without having recourse to that remedy must be dismissed in limine. 1955 Mad 205 (206) [(S) AIR V 42 C 51] (DB) + 1956 Raj 65 (67) [(S) AIR V 43 C 24] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 110 (DB).

[3] Where an appeal is pending before the Appellate tribunal and the subject-matter of the appeal is within the jurisdiction of that tribunal the High Court will refuse, on an application under Art. 226 of the Constitution, to interpose its decision on a point which is under consideration in the appeal and grant relief to the parties. 1958 Raj 165 (166) [AIR V 45 C 53] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 1025 (DB).

[4] Where a party would be considerably prejudiced if he were to prefer an appeal under this section and wait for the decision, he can seek relief from the order of the Regional Transport Authority through an application to the High Court under Art. 226 of the Constitution. In such a case the appeal being not an adequate remedy cannot bar the application on the ground of the availability of an alternative remedy. 1956 All 594 (596) [AIR V 43 C 197].

[5] Where the transport authorities have granted permits without complying with the procedure laid down by Ss. 57 and 47 the persons who have been refused permits can seek relief under Art. 226 of the Constitution even without filing appeals under this section. 1960 Manipur 36 (40, 43) [AIR V 47 C 10].

[6] An applicant for permit, whose appeal against the order of the Regional Transport Authority refusing him the permit has been dismissed, cannot challenge the order of the Regional Transport Authority by an application under Art. 226 of the Constitution. After the appeal he can challenge only the order of the appellate authority. 1957 Cal 638 (643, 644) [(S) AIR V 44 C 165] : ILR (1958) 1 Cal 486.

[7] An appeal against an order of the Regional Transport Authority rejecting an application for review of its original order does not lie because the Regional Transport Authority has no power to review its orders. Nor could the appeal against the order rejecting the review be treated as an appeal against

- (c) aggrieved by the refusal to transfer the permit to the person succeeding on the death of the holder of a permit, or
  - (d) aggrieved by the refusal of the State or a Regional Transport Authority to countersign a permit, or by any condition attached to such countersignature, or
  - (e) aggrieved by the refusal of renewal of a permit, or
  - (f) being a local authority or police authority or an association which, or a person providing transport facilities who, having opposed the grant of a permit, is aggrieved by the grant thereof or by any condition attached thereto, or
  - *[(g) aggrieved by the refusal to grant permission under sub-section (1), or sub-section (2) of section 59, or
  - (h) aggrieved by a reduction under sub-section (14) of section 60 in the number of vehicles or routes or area covered by a permit, or
  - (i) aggrieved by any other order which may be prescribed,]
- may, within the prescribed time and in the prescribed manner, appeal to the prescribed authority who shall give such person and the original authority an opportunity of being heard.

[a] Substituted for clause (g), by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 58 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Clauses (g), (h) and (i) — The amendment in section 64 is intended to remedy an apparent omission to provide for an appeal against the refusal to allow transfer of a permit under section 59 (1) or replacement of a vehicle under section 59 (2) . . . . . Provision for appeals against orders not already covered is also necessary." —S. O. R.

Section 64 — Note 1 (contd.)

the original order itself where on the date on which it was filed an appeal against the original order had already become time-barred. 1957 Pat 117 (119, 120) [AIR V 44 C 37] : 35 Pat 802 (DB).

[8] The appellate sub-committee of a State Transport Authority hearing appeals under the section cannot establish or create inter-regional routes. Inter-regional routes can be established only in accordance with the provisions of S. 63 or according to the rules framed in that behalf by the Regional Transport Authorities themselves. 1957 Cal 186 (189) [AIR V 44 C 58].

2. Revision of orders not appealable under section — Madras amendment. — [1] Under sub-s. (2) added to this section revisional power vests in the authority appointed to hear appeals automatically on such appointment. It does not require the conferment of that power by the State Government. 1958 Ker 19 (22) [AIR V 45 C 7].

[2] Sub-section (2) added to this section by Madras Act 39 of 1954 is not repugnant to S. 64A inserted newly into the Act by the Central Act 100 of 1956. Hence it is not void under Art. 254 (1) of the Constitution. 1958 Ker 19 (21) [AIR V 45 C 7].

3. Prescribed authority.—[1] An appellate board presided over by a person who was not appointed to it either under the Rules framed by the government or by any notification published in the official Gazette under S. 44 of the Act is not a validly constituted appellate authority. Therefore any decision given by it in an appeal would stand vitiated by a total lack of jurisdiction. 1953 Raj 193

(197) [AIR V 40 C 68] : ILR (1953) 3 Raj 13 (DB).

[2] Rule 80 of the Madhya Bharat Motor Vehicle Rules, 1949, disqualifies a person who has financial interest in a transport undertaking from being made a member of the appellate authority. 1952 Madh-B 128 (129) [AIR V 39] (DB).

[3] An amendment of the Rules under the Act effecting a change in the forum of appeal cannot, unless it has been expressly made retrospective in its operation, oust the jurisdiction of the existing forum over pending appeals and confer jurisdiction on the new forum to hear and decide them. (1955) 59 Cal W N 256 (259).

4. Appeals under cl. (a).—[1] A non-applicant for permit has no locus standi under cl. (a) to appeal against an order of the Regional Transport Authority granting a permit to another. 1959 Pat 393 (395) [AIR V 46 C 109] (DB).

[2] No appeal lies under cl. (a) against an order granting a temporary permit. 1958 Ker 19 (22) [AIR V 45 C 7].

[3] The appeal against the refusal to grant a permit abates on the death of the appellant and the appellant's son has no claim to be substituted in his place as the appellant. 1957 All 471 (472) [AIR V 44 C 148] (DB).

Appeal relating to conditions

[4] Clause (a) of S. 64 applies only to cases where by reason of the existence of a condition attached to a permit the grantee of the permit was aggrieved by that condition at the time of the grant of the permit. It is not a grievance which accrued or which arose subsequent to the grant of the permit, that can be agitated in an

STATE AMENDMENTS

MADRAS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, excluding the transferred territories, section 64 shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section and after sub-section (1) so renumbered add the following sub-section, namely,—

“(2) The authority prescribed under sub-section (1) for the purpose of hearing appeals may, either of its own motion or on application made to it, call for the records of any Regional Transport Authority or the State Transport Authority, as the case may be, for the purpose of satisfying itself as to the legality, regularity or propriety of any order made by such Transport Authority against which no appeal is provided for under sub-section (1), and after examining such records, pass such orders in reference thereto as it thinks fit.”

—Madras Act XXXIX of 1954, S. 3.

MAHARASHTRA

In its application to Bombay area of the State of Maharashtra, in section 64 (g) after the words, “Regional Transport Authority” wherever they occur the words “or the Provincial Transport Authority” shall be inserted.

—Bom. Acts VII of 1947, S. 8 [23-3-1947] and XXI of 1954, S. 3 & Sch II.

[Note — After the substitution of the new cl. (g) by the Central Act C of 1958, there is no scope left in that clause to incorporate the above amendment.]

PUNJAB

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Punjab, excluding the transferred territories, after cl. (g) of section 64 insert the following clauses, namely,—

“(gg) aggrieved by an order of the State Transport Commissioner or Deputy State Transport Commissioner or any officer subordinate to them in exercise and discharge of such powers and functions with which they have been specifically authorised under section 44A.”

—Punj Act XXXI of 1955, S. 2 [27-12-1955].

“(h) Government may ask the Appellate Authority prescribed under the rules framed under this section to forward for its consideration any of the appeals decided by the Appellate Authority and may alter, revise, cancel or uphold any such orders.”

—E. P. Act XXVIII of 1948, S. 11 [12-7-1948].

appeal. 1953 Mad 321 (322, 323) [A I R V 40 C 109] (DB) + 1959 Mys 12 (13) [A I R V 46 C 3] : ILR (1958) Mys 175 (DB). (Refusal to alter condition of permit — No appeal lies under cl. (a).)

[5] The time fixed by the R. T. A. at the time of granting a permit for a stage carriage is not a condition of the permit and hence there is no right of appeal under S. 64 against the order fixing the time. 1959 Pat 580 (582) [AIR V 46 C 164] (DB).

Refusal to grant a permit

[6] The grant of a permit to one of the several applicants for the same amounts to a refusal of the permit to the other applicants. Hence those applicants have a right to appeal under the section as aggrieved persons even though no express order refusing the permit to them had been made by the Transport Authority. 1959 S C 851 (852, 853) [AIR V 46 C 117].

[7] An order renewing a permit on a route on which there is scope for granting a single permit only amounts to a refusal of the same to another applicant for the permit and hence is appealable at the instance of the unsuccessful applicant. 1955 Mad 386 (387) [(S) AIR V 42 C 103] : I L R (1956) Mad 24 (DB). (Hence the appellate authority commits an error relating to its jurisdiction in rejecting the appeal as not maintainable by holding that it is one against an order of renewal.)

[8] An omission on the part of the R. T. A. to pass any order at all on the application for a permit does not tantamount to a rejection of the application and hence no question of the applicant having a right to appeal under S. 64 can arise at all in the case. 1953 Raj 1

(3) [A I R V 40 C 1] : I L R (1952) 2 Raj 265 (DB). (In such circumstances there is no bar to the issue of a writ in the nature of a mandamus to the R. T. A. directing it to deal with the application in accordance with the law.)

[9] Where the R. T. A. before which there were pending applications for permit ordered the advertisement of the route to invite fresh applications and it was apparent from its order that its intention was to consider both applications together it was held that it was not a case of refusal of permits and hence there was no scope for an appeal under S. 64. 1960 Raj 105 (117) [A I R V 47 C 27] : I L R (1959) 9 Raj 869 (DB). (Hence the appellate authority commits a serious illegality relating to the exercise of its jurisdiction in hearing the appeal. Its order therefore is liable to be quashed by a writ of certiorari.)

[10] An intimation given by the R. T. A. to the applicants in advance, without considering their applications on merit, that it would not issue any but temporary permits and that those too would be liable to cancellation when the State is in a position to run its own buses does not amount to an order of refusal under the Act and therefore the applicants have no remedy by way of appeal under S. 64 against that decision. 1951 All 257 (264, 265) [AIR V 38 C 51] : ILR (1951) 1 All 269 (FB).

[11] The refusal to entertain an application for a permit on the ground that it is not in the proper form does not amount to an order refusing to grant a permit which is appealable under cl. (a). 1960 Mys 72 (72) [AIR V 47 C 17] (DB).

Powers of appellate authority in appeal under cl. (a) — Cancellation of permits.

[12] In an appeal under cl. (a) the appellate authority has jurisdiction to set aside the orders of the R. T. A. granting permits to others as incidental to the relief granted to the appellant, whose application was in the opinion of the appellate authority improperly rejected. The appellate authority will have such jurisdiction irrespective of the fact that the appellant who had not filed any representation under S. 57 (3) does not come within the purview of cl. (f) of this section. 1960 Mys 11 (13) [AIR V 47 C 2] : ILR (1958) Mys 589 (DB) * 1959 Assam 171 (173) [AIR V 46 C 37] (DB) * 1956 Ajmer 41 (45) [AIR V 43 C 51].

[13] An appeal by an applicant against an order granting the permit to a rival applicant in preference to him is competent under clause (a). In such a case the appellant cannot be denied relief on the ground that he had not put in objections against the application of the competing applicant, at the time of the grant. That fact which would be material if the appeal is under cl. (f) has no relevance at all in appeals under the other clauses. Clause (f) is an independent provision which neither affects the right of appeal under the other clauses nor restricts the power of the appellate tribunal in granting all proper reliefs in those appeals. 1959 S C 851 (854) [AIR V 46 C 117]. (Observations in AIR 1955 Raj 19, not approved.) * 1953 Mad 1 (3) [AIR V 40 C 1] : ILR (1953) Mad 367 (DB).

[14] The appellate authority necessarily possesses all powers to give the relief to which the appellant should be found entitled. If in order to give relief to the appellant it is necessary to cancel the permits granted to the respondents, it may do so, but it has no power to cancel the permit irrespective of the fact whether it is necessary to grant relief to the appellant or not and direct the R. T. A. to fill up the vacancy by inviting fresh applications. 1960 Assam 100 (103) [AIR V 47 C 28] (DB).

[15] In an appeal by an applicant whose application for permit is refused the Appellate Authority has to decide the matter judicially, whether on the materials on record, the respondent to appeal should not be entitled to the grant of a permit, he having an order of the Regional Transport Authority in his favour. And if the authority is inclined to cancel the permit of the respondent, then the suitability or otherwise of the claimants could not be judged unless the case of each claimant or grantee has been considered by the Appellate Authority. And the Appellate Authority in disposing of the appeal, is bound to take into consideration all these factors and then determine the appeal, as a quasi-judicial body should do. Its failure to do so will result in a decision which may not be in accordance with law and may be in excess of its jurisdiction. 1959 Assam 183 (188) [AIR V 46 C 40] : ILR (1957) 9 Assam 206 (DB).

[16] The appellate authority in dealing with an appeal against the refusal of permits is not restricted to the minutes of the proceedings of R. T. A. for ascertaining the reasons for the refusal. It is true that the minutes of the proceedings constitutes the primary document where one should look for these reasons but at the same time there is nothing to prevent the R. T. A. from supplementing the minutes by giving reasons in individual cases in the communications addressed to the applicants. Where it has done so the appellate authority has to consider not only the minutes of the proceedings but also the reason given in such individual communications. 1956 Cal 490 (493) [AIR V 43 C 142].

[17] In an appeal under cl. (a) the appellate authority can act only on the matters and objections which are on record having been brought on it at the time when the permit was granted by the R. T. A. It is not entitled to go outside the record and act on assumptions contrary to the facts on the record. 1956 Madh B 231 (235) [AIR V 43 C 90] (DB) * 1955 Raj 19 (25, 26) [AIR V 42 C 8] : ILR (1953) 3 Raj 931 (DB). (Appeal under cl. (a) — Permit granted can be cancelled only on such objections which had been raised before the R. T. A.—The fact that the objectors have themselves not appealed does not prevent the appellate authority from taking those objections into consideration.)

[18] Where there is a competent appeal before it the appellate authority may take into its consideration all those objections which were urged and the materials which were placed before the R. T. A. in deciding whether or not the permit should be granted to the appellant even though those grounds of objection may not be those which were taken by the appellant himself. 1959 Assam 183 (186, 187) [AIR V 46 C 40] : ILR (1957) 9 Assam 206 (DB). (Hence in an appeal under cl. (a) an objection of the nature specified by cl. (b) can be validly considered.) * 1955 Raj 19 (25, 26) [AIR V 42 C 8] : ILR (1953) 3 Raj 931 (DB) * 1954 Assam 17 (18) [AIR V 41 C 3] (DB) * 1953 Mad 1 (3) [AIR V 40 C 1] : ILR (1953) Mad 367 (DB).

Power to grant additional permit

[19] In an appeal under clause (a) the appellate authority has power to finally dispose it off by granting an additional permit to the appellant. There is no necessity for the authority remanding the case to the Regional Transport authority so that the R. T. A. may grant the permit after observing afresh the provisions of S. 57. 1958 Punj 465 (466) [AIR V 45 C 136] : ILR (1957) Punj 1151 (DB).

[20] On an appeal against an order refusing the grant of a permit the appellate authority can issue a permit to the appellant notwithstanding the fact that the issue of the same would cause the number of permits on the route to increase beyond the maximum limit fixed for that route by the R. T. A. 1952 Trav-Co 443 (444) [AIR V 39]. (The notification of the R. T. A. limiting the number does not have the force of law and therefore cannot constitute a bar on the powers of the appellate authority even if it has not been cancelled or withdrawn.) * 1959 Raj 121 (122) [AIR V 46 C 46] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 120 (DB). (Notice to existing operators of the proposal to increase the number need not be given.) * 1957 Raj 99

(101) [AIR V 44 C 39] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 333 (DB). (But the appellate authority can increase the number only subject to the same principles which govern the R. T. A. in the matter. It cannot act arbitrarily.)

[21] The very fact that the appellate Authority has been empowered under S. 64 to hear appeals against the refusal of permit or grant of permit empowers it to take into consideration all the factors which may go in support of the grant of the permit or refusal of the permit. Whether there is any scope for increase or decrease in the number of permits to be granted being only one of such factors it would be futile therefore to contend that it cannot go behind the opinion of the R. T. A. on the question and reach a contrary decision. (58) ILR (1958) 8 Raj 792 (797).

Power to grant temporary permit.

[22] In the appeal against the order refusing to grant a permanent permit the appellate authority has no jurisdiction or power to grant a temporary permit to the appellant. 1960 Pat 238 (240) [AIR V 47 C 80] (DB).

Variation of conditions

5. Appeals under cl. (b).—[1] Any person aggrieved by any variation of the conditions of a permit can appeal under cl. (b). That clause does not restrict the right of appeal to the permit-holder. 1956 Raj 125 (126) [(S) AIR V 45 C 38] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 86 (DB).

[But see 1952 Mad 545 (548) [AIR V 39] : ILR (1952) Mad 595 (DB). (AIR 1952 Mad 276. Reversed.)]

[2] The right of appeal conferred by cl. (b) is not confined to the particular permit-holder the conditions of whose permit have been varied. A rival permit-holder who is already providing transport facilities in or near the very area and who is affected by the variation has also a right to appeal under that clause. 1957 Raj 312 (315, 316) [(S) AIR V 44 C 116] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 806 (FB). (AIR 1956 Raj 65 held to have expressed itself very widely in stating that the right of appeal under cl. (b) is restricted to the permit-holder only.)

[But see 1960 Ker 18 (23, 24) [AIR V 47 C 7].

[3] Any person who is adversely affected and aggrieved by the variation in another's permit, such as by the inclusion of a route or area, has a right to appeal under cl. (b) even though he has not raised any objections before the R. T. A. 1959 Raj 41 (43) [AIR V 46 C 12] : ILR (1958) 8 Raj 1112 (DB). (If an objection under S. 57 had been raised that would give him right of appeal under cl. (f) also.)

[4] Clause (b), in spite of its very wide language, cannot be construed as conferring a right of appeal on an indeterminate body of persons as the inhabitants of a locality who are catered by a bus service on the ground of any variation of the conditions of a permit about which they are aggrieved. 1957 Raj 312 (315, 317) [(S) AIR V 44 C 116] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 806 (FB). (A I R 1956 Raj 65, Approved.) * 1956 Raj 65 (66) [(S) A I R V 43 C 24] : I L R (1956) 6 Raj 110 (DB).

[5] Under S. 48 as it stood before its amendment in 1956 the route specified on the permit was undoubtedly a condition of that permit and a variation of that route gave rise to an appeal under this section. That right of appeal after it had accrued cannot be taken away by a subsequent change in the law. Hence even if the assumption is correct, that as a result of the amendment in S. 48, by which cl. (d) (ii) (a) has been made into sub-s. (2), it is no longer possible to consider the route as a condition and its variation as capable of giving rise to an appeal, a right of appeal which had already accrued and become vested by a variation taking place before the amendment will not be affected by that change. 1957 Raj 312 (318) [(S) AIR V 44 C 116] : ILR (1957) 7 Raj 806 (FB).

[6] An order permitting the replacement of a vehicle covered by a contract carriage permit by a vehicle of different nature or capacity is not an order varying the conditions of a permit and is therefore not appealable under S. 64. (57) 61 Cal W N 590 (599).

[7] The time fixed by the R. T. A. at the time of the permit is not one of the conditions of the permit and hence a subsequent change of that timing does not amount to the variation of a condition which would attract the application of cl. (b) of S. 64. 1952 Mad 545 (548) [AIR V 39] : I L R (1952) Mad 595 (DB) * 1956 Vindh Pra 44 (45) [A I R V 43 C 25].

[8] No appeal lies against an order refusing to vary the conditions of a permit. 1957 Cal 444 (446) [AIR V 44 C 121]. (Hence order of the appellate authority directing the R. T. A. to allow the variation is without jurisdiction.) * 1959 Andh Pra 413 (419) [AIR V 46 C 117] : ILR (1959) Andh Pra 375 (FB). (Refusal to vary the route.) * 1959 Mys 12 (13) [AIR V 46 C 3] : ILR (1958) Mys 175. (Clause (b) clearly indicates that the legislature did not intend to confer a right of appeal against a refusal to vary conditions of a permit.) * (59) ILR (1959) 9 Raj 570 (571, 572). (Appeal did not lie even before the amendment of the Act against an order refusing to vary the route although the route was a condition of the permit then.) * 1953 Mad 321 (323) [A I R V 40 C 109] (DB). (The right does not arise by implication also.) * (43) 1943 Nag L Jour 411 (411) (SB).

Suspension of permits

[9] An appeal by the rival permit-holders against an order suspending a permit on the ground that suspension is not a sufficient punishment does not lie. In such a case the rival permit-holders have no right of appeal at all because they can in no manner claim to be aggrieved by the order within the meaning of S. 64. 1958 Raj 51 (51) [AIR V 45 C 15] : ILR (1958) 8 Raj 25 (DB).

[10] The appellate authority has no power under the section to enhance a penalty meted out to a permit-holder by the R. T. A. Hence it cannot cancel the permit which has only been suspended by the R. T. A. 1958 Raj 51 (51) [AIR V 45 C 15] : I L R (1958) 8 Raj 25 (DB).

[11] An order of suspension of permit for a specified period, stayed during the pendency of the appeal, does not become infructuous because of the expiry of that period during the stay. Since the effect of the stay is to merely suspend its operation the permit would stand suspended for the full period after the stay is cancelled consequent on the dismissal of the appeal. 1957 Ker 142 (143) [AIR V 44 C 78].

6. Appeals under cl. (e). — [1] A right of appeal under cl. (e) can arise in favour of an applicant for the renewal of his permit only if his application had been refused by the transport authority by an order passed in accordance with sub-s. (7) of S. 57. Where the transport authority without considering the applications as required by the Act and without passing an order in the above manner merely intimates its decision not to renew permits in view of nationalization of transport undertaken by the Government no question of the applicants preferring any appeal under S. 64 can arise at all. 1951 Him Pra 36 (40) [AIR V 38 C 11]. (Hence their application under Art. 226 cannot be confronted by the objection of an alternate remedy being open.)

7. Appeals under cl. (f). — [1] A person who provided transport facilities and opposed before the R. T. A. the grant of a permit would be entitled to appeal under cl. (f) even though he had not applied for a permit to himself. 1953 Mad 1 (3) [AIR V 40 C 1] : ILR (1953) Mad 367 (DB).

[2] The fact that a person provides transport facilities cannot by itself confer on him the right to appeal under cl. (f) against the grant of a permit. It is in addition necessary that he should have opposed the grant of the permit itself. Thus where he had opposed only the variation of an existing permit of the applicant and not the issue of the new permit to him he has no right to appeal against the issue of the new permit. 1960 Ker 18 (21) [AIR V 47 C 7] * 1957 Mys 19 (20) [AIR V 44 C 13] : ILR (1956) Mys 400 (DB).

[3] Assuming that a panchayat is a local authority envisaged in cl. (f) it can appeal against the grant of a permit only if it had opposed the grant before the R. T. A. 1956 Raj 65 (66) [(S) AIR V 43 C 24] : ILR (1956) 6 Raj 110 (DB).

[4] A person may have a right of appeal under cl. (f) even though he had opposed the grant of the permit before the R. T. A. only formally and not by a representation in writing as required by sub-ss. (2) and (3) of S. 57. 1953 Mad 1 (3) [AIR V 40 C 1] : ILR (1953) Mad 367 (DB) * 1960 Mys 11 (14) [AIR V 47 C 2] : ILR (1958) Mys 589 (DB). (Oral opposition is sufficient to confer a right of appeal under cl. (f).) * 1959 Pat 111 (112) [AIR V 46 C 26] (DB) * 1959 Raj 119 (120) [AIR V 46 C 45] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 144 (DB). (Foundation for appeal under cl. (f) can be laid by raising oral objections to the grant of a temporary permit before the R. T. A.) * ('55) ILR (1955) Trav-Co 52 (65).

[But see 1956 Ajmer 41 (43) [AIR V 43 C 31] * 1953 Vindh Pra 41 (42) [AIR V 40 C 21]. (The appellate authority has no inherent powers to condone the omission and give relief to the appellant.) * 1952 Trav-Co 443 (444) [AIR V 39]. (Case decided under cl. (c) of S. 60 of the Travancore Motor Vehicles Act corresponding to cl. (f) of S. 64 of this Act.) * 1951 Orissa 81 (84) [AIR V 38 C 26] (DB). (Order setting aside grant on an appeal by person who filed a belated objection under S. 57 (4) is without jurisdiction. The representation constitutes no opposition at all.)

[5] The opposition contemplated by cl. (f) as a condition precedent to the exercise of a right of appeal is not the representation contemplated by sub-s. (4) of S. 57. Hence in a case where there is a single permit to be granted the opposition of one rival applicant to the grant of the permit to another is implied and that itself is sufficient to give the unsuccessful applicant a right of appeal. 1959 Assam 171 (173) [AIR V 46 C 37] (DB).

[6] The right of appeal conferred by cl. (f) is available even against the grant of a temporary permit. Hence a rival permit-holder who has opposed the grant of such a permit and is aggrieved by the order of the R. T. A. granting it is entitled to appeal against the order under that clause. 1958 Raj 176 (179) [AIR V 45 C 58] : ILR (1958) 8 Raj 624 (DB). (Application of the clause does not depend on the question whether the appellant was a person who was entitled to oppose the grant i.e. to say as an existing operator.) * 1959 Raj 119 (120) [AIR V 46 C 45] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 144 (DB).

[But see 1958 Ker 19 (22) [AIR V 45 C 7].]

[7] The appellate authority has to take into its consideration even the representation of a temporary permit-holder which had been made by him at the time when the permit was granted by the R. T. A. 1957 Punj 35 (37) [AIR V 44 C 13] : ILR (1957) Punj 315.

[8] Under cl. (f) not only a person who is aggrieved by an order granting a permit but also one who is aggrieved by a renewal can appeal. 1956 Pat 437 (439) [AIR V 43 C 105] : 34 Pat 429 (DB).

[But see 1959 Mys 17 (18) [AIR V 46 C 5] : ILR (1958) Mys 421 (DB). (Hence no appeal lies at the instance of the person who opposed the renewal.) * 1956 Vindh-Pra 38 (39) [AIR V 43 C 20]. (A right of appeal being a substantive right has to be expressly conferred by the statute and cannot be inferred. Section 64 has not conferred a right in the case of a renewal and such a right cannot be inferred from S. 58 (2) which requires that an application for renewal should be treated as an application for permit for procedural purposes.)]

[9] After the Act has been amended in 1958 the fixation of timings, at the time of the grant of the permit, is a condition to the permit and such a condition attached to a permit is appealable under cl. (f) of S. 64 by a person coming within the ambit of that clause. 1960 Ker 111 (113) [AIR V 47 C 52] : ILR (1960) Ker 172.

[10] The fact that an association is an unregistered one does not disqualify it from preferring an appeal under cl. (f). 1951 Cal

[11] The "association" referred to in the section need not necessarily be an incorporated one. 1957 Cal 444 (446) [(S) AIR V 44 C 121].

8. Opportunity of being heard.—[1] A decision given by an appellate authority without hearing the appellant is in violation of the principles of natural justice and against the express provisions of this section. 1956 Vindh-Pra 44 (45) [AIR V 43 C 25]. (Such an order was quashed in this case by a writ of certiorari.) * (55) ILR (1955) Trav-Co 52 (67). (Dismissal of appeal for non-appearance of appellant—No notice of hearing given to appellant—Dismissal null and void.)

[2] The appellate authority cannot dismiss an appeal under the section without giving a hearing to the appellant even though under a rule framed under the Act the authority may be construed to possess such a power. The provisions of the section are mandatory and any rule which is in derogation of the section cannot prevail over it. 1959 Tripura 35 (37) [AIR V 46 C 14].

[3] The opportunity which S. 64 requires to be given to an appellant is a reasonable opportunity of presenting his case. Hence where the appellant was not given an opportunity to look into a police report used by the appellate authority and contradict the matters therein which were prejudicial to his case it cannot be said that he had the opportunity to which he was entitled under the section. (57) 61 Cal W N 779 (787, 788).

[4] There is nothing in the Act which enjoins on the appellate authority the duty to give an oral hearing to a person who invokes its appellate jurisdiction. All that it has to do as a quasi-judicial tribunal is to give sufficient opportunity to the person who approaches it for the exercise of its jurisdiction to state his case. Thus where the appellant has stated all his grounds of objection to the original order in his appeal petition it cannot be said that the order made thereon by the appellate authority is vitiated as contravening the principles of natural justice merely because the appellant was not orally heard by the authority. (58) 1958 Andh L T 627 (632). (ibid., that there is no duty to hear personally under the Motor Vehicles Rules also.)

[5] It is true that S. 64 does not expressly provide for any notice being given to any person other than the appellant and the Transport Authority, but the moment it is intended to affect the right of any third person by any order made in the appeal, a duty arises according to the principles of natural justice to give notice to the persons affected. 1953 Cal 587 (587) [AIR V 40 C 221] * 1954 Assam 17 (17, 18) [AIR V 41 C 3] (DB).

[6] The appellate authority has a judicial function to perform under S. 64. The fact that the section does not expressly require that the person to whom a permit had been granted should be heard if his permit is to be cancelled does not affect its obligation to observe the principles of natural justice and give him a hearing before cancelling the permit. 1953 Assam 157 (158) [AIR V 40 C 88] : ILR (1953) 5 Assam 163. (An order passed without such hearing is in excess of its jurisdiction and hence can be quashed by a writ of certiorari.) * 1960 Raj 201 (204, 205) [AIR V 47 C 49] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 1167 (DB). (The fact that those persons had some knowledge of the appeal filed against them or about the date of hearing does not dispense with the necessity to issue a notice to them.) * (58) ILR (1958) 8 Raj 792 (796) (DB) * 1957 Punj 35 (37) [AIR V 44 C 13] : ILR (1957) Punj 315 * 1956 Ajmer 41 (46) [AIR V 43 C 31].

[7] Where pending an appeal by another against the cancellation of his permit a person is granted a permit subject to the condition that it would stand cancelled if the appeal of the other succeeded has no right to be heard in that appeal in support of the order of cancellation. Such a person being not a party to the proceedings in which the permit of the other person was cancelled cannot be said to be a person interested in the appeal within the meaning of R. 73 (b) of the Motor Vehicles Rules framed under the Act. (60) 1960 Jab L Jour 958 (961) (DB). (The condition attached being a condition subsequent was within the power of the authority to lay down in the permit.)

[8] Where in an appeal under Cl. (a) the appellate authority grants a permit to the appellant without cancelling any permit already granted to others its order cannot be condemned as one which has been passed in contravention of the principles of natural justice merely because those other grantees of permits have not been heard before the order was passed. 1958 Punj 465 (466) [AIR V 45 C 136] : ILR (1957) Punj 1131 (DB).

[9] Besides the parties interested in the grant of stage carriage permits or those interested against it the police authority of the locality is also entitled to be heard at the appellate stage. 1957 S C 232 (236) [(S) AIR V 44 C 32] : 1957 SCR 98.

[10] A party who has been heard before an order was passed by the R.T.A., is a necessary party to the appeal in which that order is attacked. 1960 Punj 142 (144, 145) [AIR V 47 C 46] : ILR (1959) Punj 2108.

[11] A respondent in an appeal has a right to be heard by the appellate authority by virtue of R. 73 of the Madhya Pradesh Motor Vehicles Rules even though this section itself has conferred no such right on him. 1957 S C 232 (236) [(S) AIR V 44 C 32] : 1957 SCR 98.

[12] Though the appellate authority has heard and decided an appeal before the expiry of the period of notice prescribed by the Rules its decision will not be rendered invalid where the parties have not raised any objection before it on that score. judicial body and hence the person aggrieved by the renewal has been given the right to adduce evidence before that authority and be heard by it. 1955 NUC (All) 3540 [AIR V 42].

9. Procedure in appeals.—[1] The appellate authority under the Act cannot be equated with Courts of law. It is not bound to adopt the procedure followed in Courts of law in all cases but can regulate its own procedure. 1957 Andh Pra 830 (831) [(S) AIR V 44 C 252].

[2] The jurisdiction of the appellate authority to entertain an appeal under the section will not be affected by the omission of the appellant to file a certified copy of the order appealed against. It is open to the authority to condone the omission since the requirement as to the filing of certified copy is only a procedural matter. 1956 Ajmer 41 (43) [AIR V 43 C 31].

[3] The appellate authority under this Act does not administer justice as a Court of law although in deciding the cases it has to act judicially. Therefore the fact that the Court of law in certain circumstances will have to adjourn a case on the principle of natural justice, even suo motu, does not mean that the appellate authority under this Act also should, in similar circumstances, act in the same manner and adjourn the case even in the absence of a prayer from the parties. 1957 S C 232 (237) [(S) AIR V 44 C 32] : 1957 S C R 98. (Appellate tribunal reading out before the parties report of police called for under S. 47—Parties neither objecting to its use nor asking for adjournment on the ground of surprise or for producing materials to controvert the report—Tribunal does not act wrongly in using the report straightway without adjourning the case.)

[4] The appellate authority functions as a quasi-judicial body when it deals with the grant or a refusal to grant permits. Hence its order which proceeds to set aside the order of the R. T. A. should ex facie show in a succinct manner the reasons which have induced it to pass the order. 1957 Raj 237 (239) [AIR V 44 C 90] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 545 (DB).

[5] An appellate authority which acts judicially in hearing an appeal under the section must give its reasons for its decision and those reasons must show that the authority had applied its mind to the questions on its hand. 1952 Mad 276 (279, 280) [AIR V 39] : 1952 Cri L Jour 616.

[6] An appellate authority should confine its determination to the materials on the record and deal with the points raised by the appellant. 1960 Assam 100 (103) [AIR V 47 C 28] (DB).

[7] The appellate authority cannot go into new factors which were never presented to the R. T. A., either of its own accord or even at the request of parties and decide the appeal on that basis. 1959 Assam 183 (188) [AIR V 46 C 40] : ILR (1957) 9 Assam 208 (DB).

[8] The appellate authority in determining appeals cannot take into consideration matters which are extraneous to the object and purpose of the Act. 1960 Assam 100 (103) [AIR V 47 C 28] (DB).

[9] An appellate authority does not function as a Court of facts and therefore its order is not vitiated because some of the considerations on which it is based are not relevant considerations under the Act. 1959 Punj 473 (475) [AIR V 46 C 143] : ILR (1959) Punj 1644. (Appellate authority relying on a promise made by the Government to one of the applicants as one of the reasons for preferring him.)

[10] Although there is no specific provision as to the powers of the appellate authority under the Act it is implied in the provisions for appeal that it has power to set aside the order of the Regional Transport Authority and grant a relief claimed. 1957 Raj 237 (239) [AIR V 44 C 90] : ILR (1955) 5 Raj 545 (DB).

[11] The powers of the appellate authority in disposing of an appeal under this section is not defined in the Act. Hence, where the appellate authority, not wishing to disturb the operation of a permit which it found had not been validly granted, allowed the permit holder to ply his bus for the unexpired period and contended itself by declaring the permit to be null and void forthwith and also directing the Regional Transport Authority not to treat it as a valid permit for purposes of renewal it was held that there was nothing illegal or even improper in the direction given to the R. T. A. 1957 All 254 (256) [(S) AIR V 44 C 73] (DB).

[12] The Government to which power has been given by the legislature to prescribe the appellate authority, the manner in which that authority should be constituted and also to make rules for the conduct of business by such body can validly make a rule fixing the quorum and also authorising the chairman to conduct the meeting without the quorum. 1960 Andh Pra 288 (270) [AIR V 47 C 82] (DB).

[13] The Government can validly make a rule under S. 68 authorising the authority prescribed by it to hear and dispose of appeals under this section to delegate its power to grant or refuse interim stay. Although the power to grant interim stay is ancillary and incidental to the power to hear and dispose of appeals conferred by the Act the rule authorising its delegation is not invalid because the Act itself has empowered the authority to delegate its powers in accordance with the rules made by the Government. 1957 Andh Pra 830 (831) [(S) AIR V 44 C 252.]

Remand

[14] An appellate authority disposing of an appeal under S. 64 has the power to remand, it being ancillary and incidental to the power to dispose of an appeal. 1959 Andh Pra 321 (323) [AIR V 46 C 93] : ILR (1959) Andh Pra 54 (DB) * ('58) 1958 Andh L T 627 (830). (Absence of express provisions in the Act or the Rules is immaterial.) * 1956 Ajmer 41 (45) [AIR V 43 C 31]. (Power to remand is inherent in the appellate authority.)

Section 64 — Note 9 (contd.)

Review

[15] The appellate authority becomes functus officio after deciding an appeal except for the purpose of correcting the clerical errors or its own mistakes in the decision. It has no power to review the decision at the instance and for the benefit of a party inasmuch as the statute has not conferred any such jurisdiction on it expressly. (54) 1954 Ker L Tim 899 (901).

[16] Though the appellate authority has no power to review or revise its previous orders there is nothing to prohibit it from clarifying the meaning of those orders. 1959 Pat 111 (112) [AIR V 46 C 26] (DB).

10. Limitation. — [1] Although the memorandum of an appeal under this section had been put into transmission through post before the expiry of the period of limitation prescribed by the Rules for presentation of appeals the appeal cannot be considered to have been presented within time when it actually reached the hands of the appellate authority only after the expiry of the prescribed period. 1959 Mad 386 (387) [AIR V 46 C 121] : ILR (1959) Mad 705.

[2] Where the rules provide that an appeal under the section has to be filed by attaching a certified copy of the order to the memorandum of appeal within a specified period from the date of the "receipt of the order" time will not begin to run from the date when the order was dictated by the Regional Transport Authority even though in the presence of the parties. (49) 28 Lah L Tim 1 (2).

[3] Where the Regional Transport Authority passed in review an order granting a permanent permit in the place of the conditional permit which it had granted originally and it was the passing of the order on review and not the original one which aggrieved the appellant and created the occasion for an appeal it was held that the prescribed period of limitation began to run only from the date of the order in review and not from the date of original order of the Regional Transport Authority. 1960 Pat 6 (8) [AIR V 47 C 2] (DB).

[4] The appellate authority has no jurisdiction to extend or abridge the period of limitation prescribed by the Rules for filing appeals under the section. 1957 Pat 117 (120, 121) [AIR V 44 C 37] : 35 Pat 802 (DB). (Section 5 of the Limitation Act does not apply to the proceedings under the Act.)

Writs against appellate orders

[1] The Appellate Tribunal under Motor Vehicles Act is a judicial authority subject to the High Court's judicial supervision, and amenable to its guidance and correction. 1953 Vindh-Pra 41 (42) [AIR V 40 C 21].

[2] Though an appellate authority hearing an appeal under this Act is not a Court as ordinarily understood an order passed by it after hearing the parties and deciding between a proposal and an opposition is a judicial order and hence a writ of certiorari can be issued against the order. 1951 Orissa 81

(84) [AIR V 38 C 26] (DB) + 1953 Raj 193 (198) [AIR V 40 C 68] : ILR (1955) 3 Raj 13 (DB).

[3] An order passed by the appellate authority cancelling the permit granted by the Regional Transport Authority can be interfered with by the High Court in a proceeding under Art. 226 of the Constitution. 1952 Madh-B 128 (129) [AIR V 39].

[4] An order of the appellate authority passed on an incompetent appeal by a person not entitled to appeal under this section can be quashed by the High Court by a writ of certiorari. 1948 Mad 454 (456) [AIR V 35 C 219] : 11 L R (1949) Mad 194 (10) + 1960 Raj 105 (117) [AIR V 47 C 27] : ILR (1959) 9 Raj 869 (DB) + 1959 Pat 580 (582) [AIR V 46 C 164] (DB). (Order passed in an incompetent appeal cannot be deemed valid by treating it as one passed in revision under S. 64A by some fiction of law.)

[5] An order giving relief to an appellant in respect of a matter not covered by the appeal and to the detriment of a person not a party to the appeal is one without jurisdiction. Such an order can be quashed by the High Court by a writ of certiorari. 1952 Mad 39 (39, 40) [AIR V 39] : ILR (1952) Mad 306.

[6] In the proceedings under Art. 226 the High Court cannot act as a Court of appeal and examine the correctness of the order of the appellate authority by going into the evidence which was before that authority. 1959 Punj 473 (474) [AIR V 46 C 143] : ILR (1959) Punj 1644 + 1953 Pat 75 (77) [AIR V 40 C 22] : 32 Pat 43 (DB).

[7] An order of the appellate authority cannot be interfered with by a writ of certiorari on the ground of any inconsistency in the argument with respect to the various points decided by it. Such an inconsistency cannot be said to be an error of law apparent on the face of the record. 1955 Raj 19 (26) [AIR V 42 C 8] : ILR (1953) 3 Raj 931 (DB).

[8] Reading this section with R. 108 framed under the Rajasthan Motor Vehicles Ordinance it is obvious that the appellate authority has the widest power and has jurisdiction to determine questions of limitation and locus standi and therefore its decision cannot be interfered with by a writ of certiorari even though it may be wrong. 1955 Raj 19 (24) [AIR V 42 C 8] : ILR (1953) 3 Raj 931 (DB).

[9] The fact that a stay is ordered pending the revision to the Government or a writ petition to the High Court against an appellate order setting aside the permit to A and directing the issue of the permit to B does not entitle A to the permit. The stay order has not the effect of automatically reversing the appellate order in question. 1956 Mad 143 (144) [AIR V 43 C 37] (DB).

Revision under State amendments.

[10] Under cl. (h) added to this section by the East Punjab Act, 28 of 1948 the Government has unlettered powers to alter, revise, cancel or uphold the orders of the appellate authority. 1959 Punj 638 (642) [AIR V 46 C 203] : ILR (1959) Punj 2121.

[11] An appeal rejected as incompetent is nonetheless an appeal decided by the appellate *[64A. Revision.

The State Transport Authority may, either on its own motion or on an application made to it, call for the record of any case in which an order has been made by a Regional Transport Authority and in which no appeal lies, and if it appears to the State Transport Authority that the order made by the Regional Transport Authority is improper or illegal, the State Transport Authority may pass such order in relation to the case as it deems fit :

Provided that the State Transport Authority shall not entertain any application from a person aggrieved by an order of a Regional Transport Authority, unless the application is made within thirty days from the date of the order :

Provided further that the State Transport Authority shall not pass an order under this section prejudicial to any person without giving him a reasonable opportunity of being heard.]

[a] Inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 59. [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

Section 64 — Note 11 (contd.)

authority and hence the Government is entitled to exercise in regard to that decision the powers conferred on it under cl. (h) added to the section by the Punjab Act, 28 of 1948. 1959 Punj 638 (642) [AIR V 46 C 203] : I L R (1959) Punj 2121.

[12] A party who has been heard by the R. T. A. before an order was passed has the right to approach the Government under cl. (h) as an aggrieved party when the appellate authority sets aside that order in an appeal to which he has not been made a party. 1960 Punj 142 (145) [AIR V 47 C 46] : I L R (1959) Punj 2108.

[13] Under cl. (h) added to the section by East Punjab Act, 28 of 1948 the Government has power to act even suo motu and hence for the purpose of its exercising the power it is absolutely immaterial as to how the matter has been brought up before it. 1960 Punj 142 (145) [AIR V 47 C 46] : I L R (1959) Punj 2108.

[14] Clause (h) added to the section by East Punjab Act, 28 of 1948 does not confer an unregulated and arbitrary power on the Government to alter, cancel etc., an order passed by an appellate authority and hence it is not unconstitutional. The power conferred by the clause is limited to interference only if the order is considered to be illegal, or improper or unreasonable and therefore a finding to that effect by the Government is necessary to enable it to exercise the power. 1960 Punj 142 (145) [AIR V 47 C 46] : I L R (1959) Punj 2108.

[15] The High Court in a proceeding under Art. 226 will not interfere on merits, with the order of the Government passed under cl. (h). 1960 Punj 142 (145) [AIR V 47 C 46] : I L R (1959) Punj 2108.

[16] The State Government has power under S. 64A, added to this Act by the Motor Vehicles (Madras Amendment) Act, 20 of 1948, to interfere with an order made by the appropriate authority under this section where it is satisfied that it is an illegal, irregular or improper order. 1958 S C 463 (467) [(S) AIR V 43 C 80] : 1956 S C R 256.

[17] An appellate order which is good cannot be interfered with in revision under S. 64A (Madras) on the ground of any error in the original order of the R. T. A. which is capable of being rectified by the appellate authority.

1960 Andh Pra 371 (2) (373) [AIR V 47 C 121]. (Fact that R. T. A.'s order did not contain reasons cannot vitiate the appellate order also where it has remedied that defect.)

Second appeal

[18] No second appeal lies against an order passed in an appeal under this section. 1960 Pat 537 (538) [AIR V 47 C 181]. (Rules 70 and 71 of the Bihar Motor Vehicles Rules make a provision for dealing with appeals against original orders of the State Transport Authority and the Regional Transport Authority. Rule 70 cannot be construed as conferring a right of further appeal against an order passed by the State Transport Authority in the exercise of its appellate powers.) *1953 Nag 150 (151) [AIR V 40 C 51] : I L R (1953) Nag 675.

[19] Section 64 does not contemplate a second appeal from an appellate order and hence a rule which provides for such an appeal is invalid as being ultra vires the section. (54) I L R (1954) Trav-Co 771 (776) (DB) *1957 Mys 7 (8) [AIR V 44 C 4] : I L R (1956) Mys 231 (DB). (Rule 276 framed by the Mysore Government is therefore not valid.)

[20] The rule making authority constituted under S. 68 has no power to lay down by rules and confer a right of appeal not recognised or granted by S. 64. 1953 Mad 321 (325) [AIR V 40 C 109] (DB).

[21] Under S. 64 as it stands amended in the Mysore State an order passed in appeal is open to a second appeal to the Board of revenue. 1959 Mys 23 (25) [AIR V 46 C 7] : I L R (1958) Mys 127 (DB). (Fixation of timings of buses — State Transport Authority has the original jurisdiction in the matter — R. T. A. fixing time—State Transport Authority cannot deal with the question as an appellate authority.)

Section 64A — Note 1

[1] There is no repugnancy between S. 64A inserted by the Central Act 100 of 1956 and sub-s. (2) which has been added to S. 64 by the Madras State Legislature. Therefore the latter provision has not become void under Art. 254 of the Constitution. 1958 Ker 19 (21) [AIR V 45 C 7]. (It is quite possible for the tribunal appointed under S. 64 and the State

SECTION 64A ANDHRA PRADESH

STATE AMENDMENTS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Andhra Pradesh, excluding the transferred territories, after section 64 the following section was inserted, namely,—

“64A. Revision. — The State Government may, of its own motion or on application made to it, call for the records of any order passed or proceeding taken under this Chapter by any authority or officer subordinate to it, for the purpose of satisfying itself as to the legality, regularity or propriety of such order or proceeding and after examining such records, may pass such order in reference thereto as it thinks fit.”

—Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 12. [21-12-1948].

Section 64A — Note 1 (contd.)

Transport Authority to function concurrently as revisional authorities, the former over the R. T. A. as well as the State Transport Authority and the latter over R. T. A. only. Hence the test of harmonious co-existence and simultaneous obedience is satisfied.)

[2] There is nothing in S. 64A that either expressly or impliedly discloses an intention to be a complete or exclusive provision for revision against the orders of a Regional Transport Authority. The Act does not say that the revisional jurisdiction is to be exercised only by the State Transport Authority or give any indication that no other remedy than an appeal under S. 64 or a revision under S. 64A is open to an aggrieved party. 1958 Ker 19 (21) [AIR V 45 C 7].

[3] Section 64A does not provide a specific legal remedy which would bar a certiorari. 1959 Mys 17 (19) [AIR V 46 C 5] : ILR (1958) Mys 421 (DB). (The section only deals with the power of the S. T. A. to interfere with an order of the R. T. A. and not with the rights of the party who is affected by the order. A party may approach the Authority but not as a matter of right. Nor has he any right to a remedy because the Authority may refuse him a remedy under the section.)

[4] The fact that the aggrieved party may seek remedy under S. 64A may be taken into consideration by the High Court in deciding whether it should exercise its discretion under Art. 226 of the Constitution to quash the order of the R. T. A. by a writ of certiorari. 1959 Ker 398 (399) [AIR V 46 C 143].

[5] The Court in the exercise of its power of certiorari cannot interfere with an order made by the State Transport Authority under this section merely because it is of the opinion that the view taken by that Authority regarding the legality, regularity or the propriety of the order of the R. T. A. is erroneous. 1958 Ker 341 (344) [AIR V 45 C 122]. (The satisfaction which is required on the part of the S. T. A. is only a subjective satisfaction and not an objective one.)

[6] A vague and ambiguous notice which does not disclose the case against the party who is called upon to show cause is a violation of the second proviso to S. 64A and the proceedings initiated by such notice should be quashed. 1959 All 495 (498) [AIR V 46 C 126].

[7] Under S. 64-A, limitation for revision against the order of the Regional Transport Authority to the State Transport Authority begins from the date the aggrieved party has notice of the order of the Regional Transport Authority and not from the date the order is made. 1960 Mys 141 (142) [AIR V 47 C 36] (DB).

[8] An order passed by the Appeal board of the State Transport Authority can by no fiction of law be held to be an order passed by it in revision under this section. 1959 Pat 580 (582) [AIR V 46 C 164].

[9] Timings fixed and attached to the permit constitute a condition of the permit and as such is appealable under cl. (f) of S. 64. Hence no revision under this section can be preferred against the grant of timing treating it as if it constituted a separate order. 1960 Ker 111 (113) [AIR V 47 C 52] : ILR (1960) Ker 172.

Section 64A (Andhra Pradesh) — Note 1

[Note. — The cases decided under S. 64A (Madras) which has been now repealed in the State of Madras by Madras Act 39 of 1954 have been included in this note as the section in the State of Andhra Pradesh is the same as was in Madras—Ed.]

[1] Section 64A inserted into the Act by the State legislature of Madras is constitutionally valid provision. It was not only within the competence of the State legislature to enact the provision but the provision itself is a reasonable one as it is in keeping with the entire scheme of the Act concerning transport vehicles and control of road transport. 1956 S C 463 (468) [(S) AIR V 43 C 80] : 1956 S C R 256.

[2] Section 64A, in spite of its wide language, does not clothe the government with a naked and arbitrary power and thereby render the right guaranteed by Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution illusory. Hence the section cannot be condemned as unconstitutional. 1953 Mad 279 (293) [AIR V 40 C 102] : ILR (1953) Mad 304 (DB). (The section confers a judicial power and that power however wide it may be cannot be held to be arbitrary. Moreover, the power conferred being one to review the orders passed by subordinate authorities in judicial proceedings it would also be reasonable to hold that it is subject to the limitations as those which apply to the powers of the subordinate authorities. If that is so the Act itself has sufficiently defined the extent of the powers of the subordinate authorities and therefore the Government has no arbitrary power under S. 64A.)

[3] The Government acting under S. 64A exercises judicial powers. It is therefore a tribunal and as such amenable to the superintendence of the High Court under Art. 227 of the Constitution. 1957 Andh-Pra 739 (743) [AIR V 44 C 233].

Section 64A (Andh Pra) — Note 1 (contd.)

[4] The Government cannot exercise its revisional powers in an arbitrary, wanton or a mala fide manner. 1952 Mad 300 (304) [A I R V 39] (DB).

[5] An order of the Government which sets aside an order of an inferior tribunal on a bare statement that it is illegal, irregular or improper cannot amount to a judicial disposal of the revision petition. In order to constitute a proper disposal the order must ex facie state succinctly the reasons therefor. 1952 Mad 276 (280) [AIR V 39] : 1952 Cri L Jour 616. (It is the elementary duty of a tribunal which has been given power to act judicially and pass orders affecting the rights of parties to state in the order reasons which would show that it had applied its mind to the case.)

[6] A petition under Art. 226 to quash an order of the Regional Transport Authority asking to renew a permit should be dismissed in limine where the petitioner who has an adequate remedy by way of appeal and revision under Ss. 64 and 64A respectively did not avail himself of them. 1955 Mad 205 (206) [(S) AIR V 42 C 51] (DB).

[7] A Court exercising the power of certiorari cannot intervene merely because it is of opinion that the State Government has taken an erroneous view as to the legality, regularity or propriety of an order in the proceedings under this section. 1956 S C 463 (467) [(S) AIR V 43 C 80; 1956 S C R 256. (The satisfaction of the State Government on the question is merely an expression of its opinion and not the determination of a fact upon which depends its jurisdiction to exercise its powers under S. 64A.) * 1957 Andh-Pra 55 (57) [AIR V 44 C 25] : ILR (1956) Andh 726 (DB). (An order may be neither illegal nor irregular but still it can be set aside as improper. Where it is so set aside the Court will not interfere because it is of different opinion. Thus where the appellate authority cancelled the permit to A and granted it to B and the Government in revision set aside that order, cancelled B's permit and restored the permit of A after giving due consideration to the matter the Court will not investigate under Art. 226 of the Constitution into the relative merits of those orders and interfere with the Government's order on its own view on the question. 1957 Mad 623 (626, 627) [(S) AIR V 44 C 188] (DB) * 1956 Andh 217 (221) [AIR V 43 C 61] : ILR (1956) Andh 712 (DB).

[8] An appellate order wrongly dismissing an appeal as incompetent and the revisional order of the government confirming that appellate order should both be quashed by a writ of certiorari on the ground of having committed an error which related to jurisdiction. 1955 Mad 386 (387) [(S) AIR V 42 C 103] : ILR (1956) Mad 24 (DB).

[9] Where an order passed in revision under this section is quashed by a writ of certiorari on a ground which does not deal with merits the Government is bound to take up the revision application and hear the same. 1952 Mad 605 (606) [AIR V 39] : ILR (1952) Mad 351 (DB).

[10] The State Government in exercise of its revisional power under S. 64A can remand the case to the Regional Transport Authority for disposal even though the revision preferred before it was from the order of the appellate authority. 1959 Andh Pra 321 (324) [AIR V 46 C 93] : ILR (1959) Andh Pra 54 (DB). (The revisional power conferred on the Government under S. 64A is analogous to the jurisdiction vested in the High Court under S. 115, Civil P. C. The power of the Government under the section as to the mode of the disposal is not subject to any limitation.)

[11] The Regional Transport Authority dealing with an application for mutual transfer of permits has jurisdiction to decide the matter when there is a dispute between the parties as to the existence of a true agreement which is necessary to support the application. Where that authority dismissed the application on the ground that it has no such jurisdiction the State Government dealing with the matter in revision should itself go into that matter and give a finding or direct the Regional Transport Authority to consider that question. An order disposing of the revision in any other way cannot be supported. 1957 Andh Pra 978 (981) [AIR V 44 C 313] (DB).

[12] The Government cannot treat a revision petition as an application made to them for variation of a permit and dispose of it as such in the first instance. The Government has no power either under the Act or the Rules to deal originally with an application for variation. 1958 Mad 236 (239) [A I R V 45 C 72] (DB).

[13] The State Government in its revisional jurisdiction under this section cannot pass an order which the original authority, whose order it is revising, had no jurisdiction to pass. 1960 S C 1191 (1194) [AIR V 47 C 208]. (The State Government can no doubt set aside an order which had been passed without jurisdiction but it cannot substitute for that order its own order directing the variation of the conditions of a permit.)

[14] An order of the Government which purports to confirm, modify or substitute an order of the subordinate authority, which was without jurisdiction, is void. 1958 Mad 236 (239) [AIR V 45 C 72] (DB). (But the invalidity of the original order cannot affect the validity of the order in revision when it merely sets aside the original order.)

[15] The Government cannot set aside in revision an appellate order because of any defect in the original order where the defect is one which can be set right by the appellate authority and has in fact been so set right in its order. 1960 Andh Pra 371 (2) (373) [A I R V 47 C 121]. (Refusal to grant permit—Order of R. T. A not stating reasons—Appellate order rectifying defect—Latter order cannot be set aside on the ground of defect in R. T. A's order.)

[16] An order which the government has power to pass in revision will not be vitiated by the fact that the order does not state that the revisional powers of the Government had been invoked or that they are passing the order in exercise of such revisional powers. 1955 Mad 660 (662) [(S) A I R V 42 C 210] : ILR (1956) Mad 498 (DB).

BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, after section 64 the following section was inserted, namely,—

“64A. Power of State Government to call for records.—The State Government may, on application made to it in this behalf, within thirty days of the passing of the order in the course of any proceedings taken under this Chapter by any authority or officer call for the records of such proceedings, and after examining such records pass such orders as it thinks fit.”

—Bihar Act XXVII of 1950, S. 13. [21-7-1950].

Section 64A (Andh Pra) — Note 1 (contd.)

[17] The fact that the Government in interfering with an improper order has described it as an irregular order does not vitiate its order. (56) ILR (1956) Andh 319 (324).

[18] The power of the Government under the section can be exercised by it even in a case where an appeal lies. 1959 Andh Pra 413 (419) [A I R V 46 C 117] : 11 L R (1959) Andh Pra 375 (FB). (In this respect S. 64A differs from S. 115, Civil P. C., which expressly limits the power of the High Court under that section to cases in which no appeal lies.)

[19] The Government cannot set aside the order of a subordinate Tribunal by taking into consideration facts which were brought to its notice for the first time. The power of the Government under this section is limited by its express provisions which require it to satisfy itself as to the legality, regularity or propriety of an order solely from the records of the subordinate Tribunals. 1957 Andh Pra 383 (384) [A I R V 44 C 123] (DB).

[20] It is open to the Government exercising revisional powers under this section to take into its consideration, for the first time, any of the matters mentioned under S. 47, even though they had not been taken into account by the R. T. A. 1952 Mad 300 (305) [A I R V 39] : 11 L R (1952) Mad 698 (DB).

[21] An operator or a person interested who did not file his representations under S. 57 (3) within the time prescribed is not entitled to any notice before the order passed under that section is interfered with by the revisional authority. 1955 Mad 600 (661, 662) [(S) A I R V 42 C 210] : 11 L R (1956) Mad 498 (DB).

[22] An order passed by the State Government under S. 64A falls within the meaning of the expression “executive action” in Art. 166 of the Constitution because that expression in that Article is comprehensive enough to include even orders which emerge after and embody the results of a judicial or quasi-judicial disposal by the Government. 1957 Mad 48 (51) [(S) A I R V 44 C 20] : 11 L R (1957) Mad 115 (DB). (An order noted on the file by the minister does not dispose of the revision. The section requires an order of the State Government in the sense in which the Constitution understands that expression. The minister’s order does not amount to an order of the Government in that sense.)

Section 64A (Bihar) — Note 1

[1] There is no repugnancy between S. 64A introduced by the Bihar Act and S. 64A inserted by the Central Act 100 of 1956. Hence the introduction of the latter provision has not resulted in the repeal of the former one. 1960 Pat 537 (539) [A I R V 47 C 181] (DB). (The two sections do not provide for the same remedy by two different authorities. They on the other hand apply to different classes of cases.)

[2] Section 64A as inserted by the Bihar Amendment Act, 27 of 1950 does not create an unreasonable restriction on the right guaranteed to the citizens under Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution. It is not therefore constitutionally void or ultra vires. 1957 Pat 340 (345) [(S) A I R V 44 C 107] (DB). (The section cannot be said to confer an arbitrary or unguided power to the State because it empowers the State to make an order as it thinks fit. The section being a part of the entire scheme for granting permits has to be read in the context of the other sections in the Act. When it is so read it becomes clear that the State Government has to exercise the power in a regulated manner and on the principles laid down in the Act.)

[3] Section 64A provides a machinery for revisional jurisdiction to revise all orders passed under the Motor Vehicles Act by any authority or officer subordinate to it. It, in substance, gives a residuary power to the State to see that no injustice is done to any citizen in the matter of his enjoying the right of freedom of trade granted to him in Art. 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution. Therefore, there is no substance in the contention that S. 64A enacted by the Bihar Legislature provides a second appellate Authority for hearing the application filed under the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939. 1957 Pat 340 (349) [(S) A I R V 44 C 107] (DB). (Hence the Government need not adopt the procedure of an appeal in disposing of the revision.)

[4] Where an application in revision against the order of the State Transport Authority is filed before the Transport Minister of the State the application as well as the order of the minister must be deemed to have been made under S. 64A (Bihar) only even though the application has stated erroneously that it had been made under S. 64A inserted by the Central Act 100 of 1956. 1960 Pat 537 (538) [A I R V 47 C 181] (DB).

[5] The Government has power under S. 64A to grant a permit to revision petitioner without cancelling any other permit. The fact that the permit so granted is in excess of the vacancies originally advertised by the R. T. A. does not render the order one falling beyond the scope of the revision brought before the Government. 1957 Pat 340 (348) [(S) A I R V 44 C 107] (DB).

[6] The power conferred by S. 64A (Bihar) being a quasi-judicial power has to be exercised in accordance with the principles of natural justice even though the section itself does not lay down any provision for a notice or an opportunity of hearing to be given to

MADRAS

In its application to the pre-reorganised State of Madras, excluding the transferred territories, section 64A newly inserted after section 64 was the same as that given under Andhra Pradesh.

—Madras Act XX of 1948, S. 12 [21-12-1948].

NOTE.—But by section 4 of Madras Act XXXIX of 1954 published in the Official Gazette of the State dated 2-2-1955, section 64A is omitted. This Madras Act XXXIX of 1954 is brought into force on and from 1-1-1956 by a notification as directed by section 1 (2) of that Act—See A. I. R. 1957 Mad. 48 (49, 50).

65. Restriction of hours of work of drivers.

(1) No person shall cause or allow any person who is employed by him for the purpose of driving a transport vehicle or who is subject to his control for such purpose to work—

(a) for more than five hours before he has had an interval of rest of at least half an hour ; or

(b) for more than nine hours in one day ; or

(c) for more than fifty-four hours in the week.

(2) The <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may by rule made under section 68 grant such exemptions from the provisions of sub-section (1) as it thinks fit, to meet cases of emergency or of delays by reason of circumstances which could not be foreseen.

(3) The <sup>A</sup>[State Government] <sup>A</sup>[or, if authorized in this behalf by the <sup>A</sup>[State Government] by rules made under section 68, the <sup>A</sup>[State] or a Regional Transport Authority] may require persons employing any persons whose work is subject to any of the provisions of sub-section (1) to fix beforehand the hours of work of such persons so as to conform with those provisions, and may provide for the recording of the hours so fixed.

Section 64A (Bihar) — Note 1 (contd.)
the parties concerned in the matter. 1957 Pat 340 (345) [(S) AIR V 44 C 107] (DB). (Appellate authority cancelling permit granted in favour of K and granting to R—Government in revision restoring the permit of K and cancelling permit of R—Absence of notice to R renders the order invalid.)

[7] Though the Government acting under this section is bound to give the person against whom it proposes to pass an order an opportunity of defending himself or of showing cause against that order it is not bound to give him a personal hearing or a hearing through a lawyer in every case. 1956 Pat 437 (439) [A I R V 43 C 105] : 34 Pat 429 (DB). (Question whether the omission to give a personal hearing violates the principles of natural justice depends on the particular facts of each case.)

[8] An order passed by the Government under S. 64A granting a permit to the applicant does not become invalid because no notice of the proceedings was given to another person who already holds a permit to ply buses on the same road. The latter has no right to be heard in the proceedings so long as the permit issued to him is not affected by the order passed. 1957 Pat 340 (347) [(S) A I R V 44 C 107] (DB).

[9] Section 12 (2) of the Limitation Act applies to the period of limitation prescribed by S. 64A (Bihar), of the Motor Vehicles Act and hence the period of limitation for preferring a revision against an appellate order which was not pronounced in Court but was only communicated to the parties would commence to run not from the date of the order but from the date of its communication only. 1960 Pat 212 (212, 213) [AIR V 47 C 72] (DB).

[10] The period of limitation prescribed by S. 64A applies only to the filing of the application. It does not require the Government also to call for records and pass order within that period. 1957 Pat 340 (348) [(S) AIR V 44 C 107] (DB).

Section 64A (Madras) (Repealed)

1. Effect of repeal. — [1] After the Motor Vehicles (Madras Amendment) Act, 59 of 1954, which repealed S. 64A, came into force on 1-1-1956 in accordance with the notification issued by the Government under S. 1 (2) of the amendment the power under S. 64A ceased to be available to the government even for the purpose of dealing with the pending revision cases. 1957 Mad 48 (50) [(S) AIR V 44 C 20] : ILR (1957) Mad 115 (DB).

[2] Under S. 64A the authority empowered to act is the State Government and the manner in which it should act is by passing an order. An order can be called an order of the State Government only when it satisfies the requirements of the Constitution and an order noted by the minister on the file would not amount to an order of the State Government in that sense. Hence in spite of such a noting on the file before 1-1-1956 the revision should be regarded as pending on that date and therefore an order issued by the Government after that date is one without jurisdiction. 1957 Mad 48 (59) [(S) AIR V 44 C 20] : ILR (1957) Mad 115 (DB).

(4) No person shall work or shall cause or allow any other person to work outside the hours fixed or recorded for the work of such persons in compliance with any rule made under sub-section (3).

(5) The State Government may prescribe the circumstances under which any period during which the driver of a vehicle although not engaged in work is required to remain on or near the vehicle may be deemed to be an interval for rest within the meaning of sub-section (1).

[a] Inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1942 (XX of 1942), S. 15 [3-4-1942].

66. Voidance of contracts restrictive of liability.

Any contract for the conveyance of a passenger in a stage carriage or contract carriage, in respect of which a permit has been issued under this Chapter, shall, so far as it purports to negative or restrict the liability of any person in respect of any claim made against that person in respect of the death of, or bodily injury to, the passenger while being carried in, entering or alighting from the vehicle, or purports to impose any conditions with respect to the enforcement of any such liability, be void.

STATE AMENDMENT

SECTIONS 66A and 66B

BIHAR

In its application to the State of Bihar, after section 66 insert the following sections, namely,—

“66A. Power of State Government in respect of certain routes.—(1) The State Government may, by notification, declare that a joint stock company in which the Central Government or the State Government or both have controlling interest will engage in the business of road transport either throughout the State or in such areas therein or on such routes or portions thereof as may be specified in the notification.

Explanation.—The power conferred by this sub-section may be exercised from time to time, as occasion requires.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the State Government may, by notification,—

- (i) direct the appropriate Transport Authority that permits in respect of such areas or routes or portions thereof as may be specified in the notification may be granted to a joint stock company referred to in sub-section (1); and
- (ii) cancel any permit, or reduce the number of vehicles or routes covered by any permit, granted under the Act or class of such permits either generally or in any area specified in the notification :

Provided that no such notification cancelling any permit shall be issued before the expiry of a period of three months from the date of a notification declaring its intention to do so :

Provided further that when any such permit has been cancelled, the holder of the permit shall be entitled to such compensation as may be provided in the rules.

(3) The State Government may, by notification, prescribe that any provision of this Chapter and any rule made thereunder shall not apply, or shall apply with such modifications as it may consider necessary, to a permit granted or to a permit cancelled under sub-section (2).

“66B. Bar to suit or proceedings.—No order or direction issued under section 43A and no order made by any Transport Authority in pursuance of a notification issued under sub-section (2) of section 66A shall be called in question in any Court and no suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against the State Government or any Transport Authority for damages caused or likely to be caused by anything in good faith done or intended to be done by or under the provisions of the said sections.”

—Bihar Act XXVII of 1950, S. 14 [21-7-1950].

67. Power to make rules as to stage carriages and contract carriages.

(1) A <sup>a</sup>[State Government] may make rules to regulate, in respect of stage carriages and contract carriages,—

(b) the conduct of passengers in such vehicles.

Section 67 — Note 1

[1] The Regional Transport Authority has no power to fix the rates of fares in respect of stage carriages under the law as it stands at present. It can have such power only if the Act is amended or such a power is prescribed by Rules made by the State Government empowering it to impose it as a condition of the permits issued to stage carriage owners. 1955 Cal 59 (61) [(S) AIR V 42 C 10] : 1 L R (1956) 2 Cal 870.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing provision, such rules may—

- (a) authorise the removal from such vehicle of any person infringing the rules by the driver or conductor of the vehicle, or, on the request of the driver or conductor, or any passenger, by any police officer;
- (b) require a passenger who is reasonably suspected by the driver or conductor of contravening the rules to give his name and address to a police officer or to the driver or conductor on demand;
- (c) require a passenger to declare, if so requested by the driver or conductor, the journey he intends to take or has taken in the vehicle and to pay the fare for the whole of such journey and to accept any ticket provided therefor;
- (d) require, on demand being made for the purpose by the driver or conductor or other person authorised by the owner of the vehicle, production during the journey and surrender at the end of the journey by the holder thereof of any ticket issued to him;
- (e) require a passenger, if so requested by the driver or conductor, to leave the vehicle on the completion of the journey the fare for which he has paid;
- (f) require the surrender by the holder thereof on the expiry of the period for which it is issued of a ticket issued to him;
- <sup>b</sup>[(ff) require a passenger to abstain from doing anything which is likely to obstruct or interfere with the working of the vehicle or to cause damage to any part of the vehicle or its equipment or to cause injury or discomfort to any other passenger;
- (fff) require a passenger not to smoke in any vehicle on which a notice prohibiting smoking is exhibited;]
- (g) require the maintenance of complaint books in stage carriages and prescribe the conditions under which passengers can record any complaints in the same.

[a] Clause (a) was omitted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 60 [w. e. f. 1-8-1957]. [b] Inserted, ibid [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

68. Power to make rules for the purposes of this Chapter.

(1) A <sup>A</sup>[State Government] may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Chapter.

Section 68 — Note 1

[1] The validity of S. 68 which confers an extensive rule making power on the State Government cannot be challenged as constituting an excessive or unconstitutional delegation of legislative functions by the legislature. 1957 Mad 387 (390) [(S) AIR V 44 C 118] : ILR (1957) Mad 461 (DB).

[2] A rule made by the Government cannot be struck down as ultra vires its powers under the section on the ground that it relates to a matter not enumerated under sub-s. (2). Sub-section (2) does not exhaust the scope of sub-s. (1). Its only effect is that with reference to the items included therein it is not necessary to examine further whether they come within the scope of the general provision in sub-s. (1). 1956 Mad 349 (350) [(S) AIR V 43 C 107] : ILR (1956) Mad 1272 * 1960 All 209 (210) [AIR V 47 C 42]. (Rule 60 of the U. P. Motor Vehicles Rules is covered by the rule making power conferred by sub-s. (1) even though it relates to a matter not falling under items enumerated under sub-s. (2).) * (157) 61 Cal W N 590 (597).

[3] A rule made by the Government which has reference to the purpose for which the Act had been enacted cannot be said to be in excess of the rule making power of the Government. 1958 Madh-Pra 193 (195) [AIR V 45 C 66] : ILR (1957) Madh-Pra 117 (DB). (Rule 49 of the C. P. and Berar Motor Vehicles Rules 1940 is therefore not ultra vires.) * 1960 All 209 (210) [AIR V 47 C 42]. (Rule 60 of the U. P. Motor Vehicles Rules is directed towards the effective carrying out of the purpose of sub-s. (2) of S. 58) * 1957 Mad 387 (391) [(S) AIR V 44 C 118] : ILR (1957) Mad 461 (DB). (Rule 134A of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules carries into effect the provisions of S. 44 (5) of the Act.) * 1957 Punj 145 (146) [AIR V 44 C 63]. (Case decided before the amendment of the section by deletion of Cl. (f)—Rule 420 (c) of the Punjab Motor Vehicles Rules framed under that clause was held to be valid because it carried out the purpose of the Act.) * 1956 Andh-Pra 232 (233) [AIR V 43 C 65] (DB) * 1956 Mad 349 (351) [(S) AIR V 43 C 107] : ILR (1956) Mad 1272. (Rule 160B of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules which authorises the

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, rules under this section may be made with respect to all or any of the following matters, namely :—

(a) the period of appointment and the terms of appointment of and the conduct of business by Regional and <sup>A</sup>[State] Transport Authorities and the reports to be furnished by them ;

Section 68 — Note 1 (contd.)

R.T.A., to fix rates for carriage of mails by buses carries into effect the provisions of S. 47 (1) (a) and hence is not ultra vires.)

[4] Rule 268 of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules is one framed under the plenary rule making power referred to in sub-s. (1) and is within the scope of the powers conferred by the section. 1953 S C 79 (82) [AIR V 40 C 22]; 1953 SCR 290. (The fixing or alteration of bus stands is not foreign to the purpose of Chapter IV to carry out which the Government has plenary powers under the section to make rules.)

[5] The power conferred by S. 68, to make rules, is solely for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the Act and it must therefore follow that the rules can be used only for the same purpose. A rule must not be made or used to obstruct and prevent those provisions from being operative. 1948 Mad 400 (407) [AIR V 35 C 197] (DB). (Hence it must be held that R. 150 of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules is not within the rule making power under S. 68 and is therefore invalid and ultra vires.)

[6] The State Government cannot issue executive orders which in effect modify the provisions of the Act regarding grant of permits by Transport Authorities where no scheme under Chapter IV has been submitted to it by the State Transport Authority and has been approved by it. Hence the Kerala State Government had acted in excess of its powers in framing R. 6 by which it has disallowed the private bus services from overlapping State Transport Services for more than four miles. (1957) 1957 Ker L T 975 (976, 977).

[7] The transport authority has no power under the Act to make rules having the force of law. 1955 NUC (Tra-Co) 3475 [AIR V 42]. (In this case it was held, therefore that a notification issued by the Transport authority under R. 162 of the Travancore Motor Vehicles Rules imposing a limit upon the number of permits that may be granted for a route did not prevent the authority from receiving applications for permits even in excess of such number.)

[See also 1957 J & K 9 (10) [AIR V 44 C 7] : 1957 Cri L Jour 446 (DB). (Case decided before amendment of Act—Under S. 68 Government alone can make rules under S. 56—Registering authority not authorised by rules framed by Government to impose restrictions under S. 56 (b) (iv) — Registering authority restricting vehicles carrying railway goods and mail from carrying trade goods—Held the permit-holder cannot be convicted under S. 123 for a contravention of the restrictions.)]

[8] The Regional Transport Authority has no power to fix the rates in respect of the State carriages under the Motor Vehicles Act.

1955 Cal 59 (61) [(S) AIR V 42 C 10] : ILR (1956) 2 Cal 879.

[9] The Madras Motor Vehicles Rules, 1940, made by the Governor at a time when he had taken over the powers of the executive Government by a proclamation under the Government of India Act, 1935, were laws in force before the commencement of the Constitution and therefore will continue in force even after the Constitution until altered by a competent authority. 1956 Andh Pra 129 (132) [(S) AIR V 43 C 45] (DB).

Sub-section (2) (a)—Rules to enable delegation of functions

[10] Reading S. 68 along with S. 44 (5), it is clear that the Government has power to make the rules enabling the Regional Transport Authority to delegate its power to renew a permit under Ss. 58 and 63 to its secretary. 1959 Mys 17 (20) [AIR V 48 C 5] : ILR (1958) Mys 421 (DB).

[11] Rule 140A (v) (3) of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules, which empowers the Central Board to delegate to its secretary the power to grant or refuse interim stay pending appeal is not invalid. 1957 Andh Pra 830 (830, 831) [(S) AIR V 44 C 252].

[12] Under Rule 146 the certificate of registration of a motor vehicle for which permit to ply the vehicle on a particular route is to be granted has to be produced within a month of the sanction or such longer period as may be notified. Where, therefore, the Transport Authority has delegated authority to its Secretary to issue the permit, should the certificate of registration be produced within the notified period of three months from the date of sanction, the permit endorsed and issued by the Secretary two years thereafter is void and of no effect. 1953 Trav-Co 392 (393) [AIR V 40 C 155].

[13] Section 60 of the Act being a special provision governing suspension of a permit by an authority who issued it, overrides the general rule (R. 134-A (xi)) empowering a subordinate to cancel a permit issued even by a superior officer. 1956 Andh-Pra 232 (234) [AIR V 43 C 65] (DB). (Hence the order of the secretary suspending, under R. 134-A (xi) of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules, a permit granted by the Regional Transport Authority is illegal.) * 1957 Andh-Pra 1027 (1031) [(S) AIR V 44 C 332] : ILR (1957) Andh-Pra 643 (FB). (The secretary to whom the power to cancel or suspend a permit is delegated cannot, therefore, by reason of R. 134-A (xi), validly cancel or suspend a permit issued by the Transport Authority.)

[But see 1957 Mad 387 (389, 390) [(S) AIR V 44 C 118] : ILR (1957) Mad 461 (DB).]

[14] The Government has no power under S. 68 read with S. 44 to make a rule directly delegating the functions of the transport

- (b) the conduct and hearing of appeals that may be preferred under this Chapter, <sup>a</sup>[the fees to be paid in respect of such appeals and the refund of such fees ;]
- (c) the forms to be used for the purposes of this Chapter, including the forms of permits ;
- (d) the issue of copies of permits in place of permits <sup>b</sup>[lost, destroyed or mutilated] ;
- (e) the documents, plates and marks to be carried by transport vehicles, the manner in which they are to be carried and the languages in which any such documents are to be expressed ;
- <sup>c</sup>[(f) * * * * *]
- <sup>d</sup>[(g) the fees to be paid in respect of applications for permits, duplicate permits and plates ;]
- <sup>a</sup>[(gg) the exemption of prescribed persons or prescribed classes of persons from payment of all or any or any portion of the fees payable under this Chapter ;]
- (h) the custody, production and cancellation on revocation or expiration of permits, and the return of permits which have become void or have been revoked ;
- <sup>e</sup>[(hh) the conditions subject to which, and the extent to which, a permit granted in another State shall be valid in the State without counter-signature ;]
- <sup>f</sup>[(i) the conditions subject to which, and the extent to which, a permit granted in one region shall be valid in another region within the State without counter-signature ;]
- (ii) the conditions to be attached to permits for the purpose of giving effect to any agreement such as is referred to in clause (iv) of sub-section (1) of section 43 ;]
- (j) the authorities to whom, the time within which and the manner in which appeals may be made ;
- (k) the construction and fittings of, and the equipment to be carried by stage and contract carriages, whether generally or in specified areas ;
- (l) the determination of the number of passengers a stage or contract carriage is adapted to carry and the number which may be carried ;
- (m) the conditions subject to which goods may be carried on stage and contract carriages partly or wholly in lieu of passengers ; authorities. Under these provisions it can only frame rules to enable those authorities themselves to delegate their functions. 1953 Assam 199 (200) [A I R V 40 C 81] : 11 L R (1953) 5 Assam 282 (DB). (Hence the note added by the Governor to cl. (c) of R. 84 of the Assam Motor Vehicles Rules was in excess of the rule making powers of the Government.)

Sub-s. (2) (b).

[15] It is not competent for the State Government to make a rule under the section to create a new right of appeal not recognised by S. 64. 1953 Mad 321 (324) [A I R V 40 C 109] (DB). (Hence a right of appeal against a refusal to vary the condition of a permit cannot be inferred even impliedly from R. 208 of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules. Because that Rule has applied the procedure prescribed for dealing with applications for grant of permit to applications for variation of conditions it cannot be said that the refusal to vary the conditions amounts to a refusal of permit and therefore is appealable under S. 64.)

Sub-s. (2) (c).

[16] The mere fact that a rule made under sub-s. (2) (c) to prescribe a form for applications for permits has mentioned additional particulars and provided columns in the form for them cannot give them the status of particulars prescribed by rules under the Act. 1960 Mys 33 (36) [A I R V 47 C 7] (DB). (Rule 156 of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules merely prescribes the application form and the particulars mentioned by it but not falling under S. 48 cannot be regarded as particulars referred to in S. 546 (f).)

Sub-s. (2) (j).

[17] Rule 144, framed by the Madras Government under S. 68, which fixes the quorum of the appellate authority, read with R. 147, is not ultra vires the power of the Government to frame rules under S. 68. (158) 1958 Andh L T 1074 (1076) + 1960 Andh-Pra 268 (270, 271) [A I R V 47 C 82] (DB).

- (n) the safe custody and disposal of property left in a stage or contract carriage ;
- (o) [regulating the painting or marking of transport vehicles and the display of advertising matter thereon, and in particular prohibiting the painting or marking of transport vehicles] in such colour or manner as to induce any person to believe that the vehicle is used for the transport of mails ;
- (p) the conveyance in stage or contract carriages of corpses or persons suffering from any infectious or contagious disease or goods likely to cause discomfort or injury to passengers and the inspection and disinfection of such carriages, if used for such purposes ;
- (q) the provision of taxi meters on motor cabs requiring approval or standard types of taxi meters to be used and examining, testing and sealing taxi meters ;
- (r) prohibiting the picking up or setting down of passengers by stage or contract carriages at specified places or in specified areas or at places other than duly notified stands or halting places and requiring the driver of a stage carriage to stop and remain stationary for a reasonable time when so required by a passenger desiring to board or alight from the vehicle at a notified halting place ;
- [(s) the requirements which shall be complied with in the construction or use of any duly notified stand or halting place, including the provision of adequate equipment and facilities for the convenience of all users thereof, the fees, if any, which may be charged for the use of such facilities, the records which shall be maintained at such stands or places, the staff to be employed thereat, and the duties and conduct of such staff, and generally for maintaining such stands and places in a serviceable and clean condition ;
- (ss) the regulation of motor-cab ranks ;]
- (t) requiring the owners of transport vehicles to notify any change of address or to report the failure of or damage to any vehicles used for the conveyance of passengers for hire or reward ;
- [(u) authorising specified persons to enter at all reasonable times and inspect all premises used by permit holders for the purposes of their business ;]
- (u) requiring the person in charge of a stage carriage to carry any person tendering the legal or customary fare ;
- (v) the conditions under which and the types of containers or vehicles in which animals or birds may be carried and the seasons during which animals or birds may or may not be carried ;
- 1[(w) the licensing of and the regulation of the conduct of agents or canvassers who engage in the sale of tickets for travel by public service vehicles or otherwise solicit custom for such vehicles ;]
- [(ww) the licensing of agents engaged in the business of collecting, forwarding and distributing of goods carried by public carriers ;]

Sub-s. (2) (r).

[18] The expression 'duly notified stand' in sub-s. (2) (r) is not defined in the Act but it is reasonable to presume that it must be one notified by the Transport authority and none other. 1953 S C 79 (82) [A I R V 40 C 22] : 1953 S C R 290. (The provisions of S. 270, Madras Municipalities Act do not affect the power of the transport authority to regulate traffic control or impose restrictions upon the licence of any stand and there is also no warrant for the presumption that the notified stand must be one which has been notified by the Municipality.)

[19] Rule 288 of the Madras Motor Vehicles Rules is not repugnant to Art. 19 (1) (g). So also an order passed under that rule which prohibits the use of a bus stand only by buses plying on out-station journeys and not entirely by all buses including those engaged in town service does not offend that provision. 1953 S C 79 (82) [A I R V 40 C 22] : 1953 S C R 290. (The restriction would no doubt diminish the income of the owner of the stand but that cannot be a reason for holding that there is an infringement of Art. 19 (1) (g). The restriction being one placed in view of public convenience is reasonable and valid.)

- (x) the inspection of transport vehicles and their contents and of the permits relating to them ;
- (y) the carriage of persons other than the driver in goods vehicles ;
- *[(yy) the specification of the municipal limits of a town or of any other area as a free zone within which goods may, subject to the prescribed conditions, be carried anywhere by a motor vehicle covered by a public carrier's permit ;]
- (z) the records to be maintained and the returns to be furnished by the owners of transport vehicles ; and
- (za) any other matter which is to be or may be prescribed.

—W. B. Act XIX of 1951, S. 14 [13-7-1951].

Section 68 — Note 1 (contd.)

Sub-s. (2) (z-a).

[20] Clause (za) of sub-s. (2) which says that a rule may be made with respect to any other matter which is to be or may be prescribed shows the existence of residuary power vested in the rule making authority. 1953 S C 79 (82) [AIR V 40 C 22] : 1953 S C R 290.

SECTION 68A UTTAR PRADESH

STATE AMENDMENT

In its application to the State of Uttar Pradesh, after section 68 insert the following section, namely:—

"68A. Powers of State Government in respect of certain routes.—(1) If, for better organization of motor transport, it is, in the opinion of the State Government, necessary or expedient to do so, it may, notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct the appropriate Transport Authority in respect of such route or part of route in Uttar Pradesh as may be specified therein—

- (a) that such permits as may be specified therein may be granted to a joint stock company;
- (b) that any permit or class of permit be cancelled; and
- (c) that no application for the grant of a new permit or for the renewal of any permit and no appeal from any person aggrieved by the cancellation of a permit under clause (b) shall be entertained or heard or decided by any Transport Authority.

(2) No order made or deemed to be made by any Transport Authority in pursuance of a direction given under sub-section (1) shall be called in question in any Court and no suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against the State Government or any Transport Authority for any damages caused or likely to be caused by anything in good faith done or intended to be done by or under this section.

(3) The State Government may by notification in the Official Gazette prescribe that any provision of sections 42 to 68 and any rule made thereunder shall not apply or shall apply with such modification as it may consider necessary to a permit granted or to be granted under clause (a) of sub-section (1) or to a permit cancelled under clause (b) of sub-section (1)."

—U. P. Act XI of 1948, S. 3 [21-2-1948].

CHAPTER IVA*

OBJECTS AND REASONS

[NOTE. — "The Motor Vehicles Act, in its present form, contains no provisions to facilitate the introduction or expansion of nationalised transport services. Some States have either amended the Act with local effect only, or promoted separate legislation to implement their schemes of nationalisation of road transport. It is, however, desirable to have a uniform law throughout the country in this respect. It is, therefore, proposed to insert a new Chapter IVA, consisting of nine sections [namely, sections 68A to 68-I], to deal with the grant of monopoly permits to State transport undertakings and to cover other ancillary matters. The new Chapter contains provisions for payment of compensation at a minimum specified rate for cancellation of permits or modification of the terms thereof. No provision has been proposed for the acquisition of assets by the State transport undertakings or the payment of compensation therefor and the question has been left entirely to the State Government."

—S. O. R.]

Chapter IV-A — Note I

[1] Chapter IV-A is not merely regulatory of the procedure for carrying on business of road transport by the State; it enables the State Transport undertaking, subject to the provisions of the scheme, to exclude private operators and to acquire a monopoly, partial or complete, in carrying on transport business in a notified area or on notified routes. 1960 S C 1073 (1078) [AIR V 47 C 193].

[2] Chapter IV-A had been competently enacted by the Parliament under entry 21 read with entry 35 of the Concurrent List in the Constitution. The plea that the Parliament had no power to enact it, based on the phraseology used in Art. 19 (6) of the Constitution to the effect that the State intending to carry on the trade or business must itself enact the law, is unsustainable. The expression "State" in Art. 12 of the Constitution includes the Government and Parliament of India as well as the Government and Legislature of each of the States. Under Entry 21 the Parliament being competent to legislate for creating commercial or trading monopolies there is nothing in the Constitution which deprives it of the power to create a commercial or trading monopoly in the constituent States. 1960 S C 1073 (1078) [AIR V 47 C 193] + 1959 Andh-Pra 292 (298) [AIR V 46 C 87] : ILR (1958) Andh-Pra 437 (DB).

[3] Chapter IV-A is not a colourable legislation which in fraud of Art. 31 of the Constitution enables the State to take a transfer of ownership without providing for compensation for the property transferred under the guise of cancellation of the permit. The cancellation of a permit and the granting of a permit to the State does not even involve a transfer of the permit from the one to the other and much less the transfer of any property that is to say the business or undertaking, of the former to the latter. In fact the entire assets of the business are left with the permit holder himself. Under Art. 31 of the Constitution no compensation need be provided where there is no transfer of ownership or right to possession of any property to the State and hence Chapter IV-A cannot be said to infringe that Article. 1959 S C 308 (317, 318) [AIR V 46 C 43] : 1959 Supp 1 S C R 319 + 1959 Andh-Pra 292 (298) [AIR V 46 C 87] : ILR (1958) Andh-Pra 437 (DB).

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO STATE TRANSPORT UNDERTAKINGS

68A. Definitions.

In this Chapter, unless the context otherwise requires,—

- (a) "road transport service" means a service of motor vehicles carrying passengers or goods or both by road for hire or reward ;
- (b) "State transport undertaking" means any undertaking providing road transport service, where such undertaking is carried on by,—
  - (i) the Central Government or a State Government ;
  - (ii) any Road Transport Corporation established under section 3 of the Road Transport Corporations Act, 1950 ;
  - (iii) the Delhi Road Transport Authority established under section 3 of the Delhi Road Transport Authority Act, 1950 ;
  - (iv) any municipality or any corporation or company owned or controlled by the State Government.

[a] Chapter IVA, containing sections 68A to 68-1* was inserted by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1956 (C of 1956), S. 62 [w. e. f. 16-2-1957].

STATE AMENDMENT

HYDERABAD

In its application to the Hyderabad areas of the States of Andhra Pradesh and Bombay (now Maharashtra), after Chapter IV of the Act insert the following Chapter, namely,—

"CHAPTER IV-A

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO STATE TRANSPORT UNDERTAKINGS

Section 68A is the same as in the Central Act above, except cl. (b) which is as follows :

"(b) "State transport undertaking" means the Road Transport Department of the State providing road transport service."—Hyd. Act XLV of 1956, S. 4 [5-10-1956.]

68B. Chapter IVA to override Chapter IV and other laws.

The provisions of this Chapter and the rules and orders made thereunder shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in Chapter IV of this Act or in any other law for the time being in force or in any instrument having effect by virtue of any such law.

STATE AMENDMENT

HYDERABAD

In its application to the Hyderabad areas in the States of Andhra Pradesh and Bombay (now Maharashtra), section 68B is the same as in the Central Act given above.—Hyd. Act XLV of 1956 [5-10-1956].

Section 68A — Note 1

[1] The State Transport Department of the Hyderabad State which came into being under Chapter IV-A inserted in the Central Act in its application to the State of Hyderabad by the Motor Vehicles (Hyderabad Amendment) Act of 1956 and which on the reorganisation of States became the Road Transport Department Andhra Pradesh State is clearly a State Transport undertaking under the Central Act inasmuch as it falls within the definition of a State Transport undertaking contained in Chapter IV-A of that Act. 1959 S C 308 (318, 319) [AIR V 46 C 43] : 1959 Supp 1 S C R 319 + 1959 Andh-Pra 292 (300) [AIR V 46 C 87] : ILR (1958) Andh-Pra 437 (DB). (Apparent difference in the definitions in the two Acts is not sufficient to impute different connotations.)

1959 Andh Pra 292 (300) [AIR V 46 C 87] : ILR (1958) Andh Pra 437 (DB). (The section has not the effect of cutting down or abridging a right to make further legislation. The only effect of the section is that if any legislation contains an inconsistent provision a question will arise to be decided viz. which of the two should prevail. Hence, it is not repugnant to Art. 372. Nor does it offend Arts. 245 and 246 because it does not delegate any legislative power of repeal to a subordinate authority or even repeal any provision of law.)

[2] The provisions in Chapter IV-A are, as the heading would indicate, only additional provisions which relate to State Transport Undertaking, and are not the only ones which apply to such undertakings. S. 68-B clearly supports this conclusion. As S. 68-B makes it clear the provisions of Chapter IV and also any other law for the time being in force are kept intact, but they are over-ridden in their application to State Transport undertaking only to the extent of inconsistency between them and the provisions of Chapter IV-A.

Section 68B — Note 1

[1] Section 68B is neither repugnant to Art. 372 nor to Arts. 245 and 246 of the Constitution and is therefore not unconstitutional.

68C. Preparation and publication of scheme of road transport service of a State transport undertaking.

Where any State transport undertaking is of opinion that for the purpose of providing an efficient, adequate, economical and properly co-ordinated road transport service, it is necessary in the public interest that road transport services in general or any particular class of such service in relation to any area or route or portion thereof should be run and operated by the State transport undertaking whether to the exclusion, complete or partial, of other persons or otherwise, the State transport undertaking may prepare a scheme giving particulars of the nature of the services proposed to be rendered, the area or route proposed to be covered and such other particulars respecting thereto as may be prescribed, and shall cause every such scheme to be published in the Official Gazette and also in such other manner as the State Government may direct.

STATE AMENDMENT*HYDERABAD

In its application to the Hyderabad areas in the States of Andhra Pradesh and Bombay (now Maharashtra), section 68C is as follows namely, —

"68C. Preparation and publication of scheme of road transport service of a State Transport Undertaking. — Whenever the State Transport Undertaking is of opinion that, it is necessary in the public interest that road transport service in general or any particular class of such service in relation to any area or route or portion thereof should be run and operated by the State Transport Undertaking whether to the exclusion complete or partial of other persons or otherwise, they may prepare a scheme giving particulars of the nature, of the services proposed to be rendered, the area or route proposed to be covered and such other particulars respecting thereto as may be prescribed and shall cause every such scheme to be published in the Official Gazette and also in such other manner as the Government may direct" — Hyd. Act XLV of 1956, S. 4 [5-10-1956].

1960 Bom 278 (282) [AIR V 47 C 80] : ILR (1960) Bom 87 (DB).

[3] It is open to the State Transport Authority to apply for permits under Chapter IV, along with other operators, for routes in respect of which no scheme has been prepared and published under Chapter IV-A. The right of that authority to do so has not been taken away by Chapter IV-A either expressly or impliedly. 1960 Pat 506 (507) [AIR V 47 C 167] (DB).

Section 68C — Note 1
